Folks are asking, "When do we get our Park Directories?" The park office was notified that we could expect them here in 10 days and the time is up today. So all we can say is that you that are having them mailed will surely get them the last of the first week of August, if they get their right away.

Received a nice letter from Ethel Mc Connell and will quote some, "We talked and talked to Adolph Bolto yesterday. His gas tank stuck and the car hit an abutment. Mr. Bolto was badly injured and died. Mrs. Bolto is coming along fine, except for the pain in the hip that he had operated on. Bill is walking better, not using his cane. The weather here is very changeable in Detroit 59-67 degrees or down in the 60's. We plan to return to Florida September 15, then October 15 we go to Japan for a month."

Deeday, Marquerite and Karon Deedrick and Mother Dolly returned from their trip to Virginia on Sunday night.

We welcome Joe and Virginia Jensen of Clementon, N.J. at 4 Vista Drive. They are here for a month's vacation. They are the parents of Gerry Arensi of 206 Linda Drive, Jensen Beach.

Mrs. Phil (Marie) Dionne of Almond and Sixth was taken to M.M. Hospital today July 25 following a heart attack at 7 a.m. She died Friday July 26 at 6:45 a.m.

Her survivors include her devoted husband, Phil; to whom she has been married 33 years, one son, Alfred Thees and wife Julia and their twins, Mrs. Maria Betty Fagaro and Alfred Thees and five great grandchildren.

Maria has a brother and two sisters in Germany. The sisters spent some time here in our park visiting her two years ago.

Thes viewings were Sunday afternoon and night and Funeral services were Monday July 29 at 11:00 a.m. in the Aycock Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. Donald E. Johnson of Jensen Beach Community Church officiating. Interment was in All Saints Cemetary of Jensen Beach.

Dorin Kane and wife came Sunday and took his parents Phil and Treva Kane of 6th and Broad, home with them for a few days on the west coast of Florida.

David Betham, the only only son of our Wally and the late Leona was married Sat. July 20 to Laurie Foster the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Foster of Stuart at St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Dorothy Geebee and Frank Beal visited Dorothy's sister-in-law and husband at Venice last Thursday.

Dr. Thomas Moore was better and able to go to their northern home but expects to wait until he returns for his operation by one our local excellent surgeons. I am told by a bridge playing friend of his. His address is Dr. Thomas Moore, Gillingham Drive, Bradford N.H. 03221.

I have been unable to contact Archie Faille but he must be getting along fine. I have seen him during his driving his car and he looks like he gaining weight. I wouldn't think of saying, getting fat.

Harvey and Vivian Hill of 20 S.W. 7th Ave. and Lapeer Mich. celebrated their wedding anniversary of fifeteen years on Sunday July 28 at their daughter's home at a familly dinner. The couple have one daughter, four sons, 25 grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Harvey writes: "We first came to O.B. in 1961 and are looking forwad to returning in the middle of October of 1974. Due to our health conditions we were unable to hold open house which we had planned however any Ocean Breesers are to call it in our vicinity." Sincerely Harvey and Vivian Hill.

Mollie Butterfield was really happy when the oldest of her two sons, Kurt and wife Ruth, drove up from Miami on Sunday afternoon to see her and sister Gertrude McKay. They thought our flowers were so pretty. Kurt was attending the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks National Convention in Miami. He had been elected in May to exalted ruler of Elks in his hometown lodge of Weymouth, Mass.

Carol Chapman and brother George Reeves returned Thursday from a five weeks trip visiting relatives in England and Scotland. George said, "We were so tired of wet, cool weather. Anyway its not too cool here, even though its raining.

Eric Springman of Fort Lauderdale, is visiting his father Fritz and Bunny Bunny has been taking him fishing, to the beach and hunting for shells.

Ocean Breeze News Notes

BY LETA KEITH

It was a double ring ceremony. A reception was held in St. Mary's Parish Hall. For their honeymoon they are backpacking on the Appalachian Trail, starting in the Carolinas. After returning this young couple will reside in Hobe Sound, where David is a surveyor with Rogers and Associates. Laurie was a June graduate of Martin County High School and hopes to pursue a nursing career.

Dick and Doris Reed left Monday for their old home town Findlay, Ohio, in their travel trailer. Before their return they expect to spend some time in Torch Lake, Michigan, Pigeon Forge, Tenn. and Flat Rock, N.C. They will certainly be missed since their little home is usually parked on Lil Bit Lane. Two months will seem a long time to pet Herman the heron, too!

Speaking of celebrations, Frances Scranton of Almond really knew she had had a birthday, but she won't tell us which one. On Sunday, July 21, at 4 p.m., son Jack and wife Claire packed her up and took her to home of their friends Lesa and Erma Knifter who were celebrating for birthdays as well as the birthdays of Frances. They had a lovely dinner and plenty of cake. Then on Monday, son Jack and wife Claire entertained in their home Mother Frances. She received several lovely gifts. On August 3 they are taking her to New York for a month's vacation. She will be visiting her daughter-in-law while she there.

Paul and Florence Tyre left Wednesday for Covington, Va., to spend a month visiting Paul's brother and three nieces.

John Fagan writes to John Martin on a Grand Ole Opry card, "I fell two weeks ago and sprained my back, but I'm alright now. I left Tennessee July 20 and I'm in Pennsylvania now visiting my grandson."

Speaking of John's, John Leybeck writes, "Having a good time in Tenn. Ate dinner Tuesday eve at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. LeBon. We played cards until mid-nightnight. Hope to see Opry Sunday."

Irvin and I will be taking Frank and Sallie Von Halle to West Palm Beach, Thursday, August 1. After dinner, they will get aboard the Am Track for Indianapolis. They will spend a large part of their vacation in Ohio with relatives and friends, then uppes N.Y. with daughter Dorothy family and friends.

Violet Wing is leaving on her trip on August 4. She says she is in no hurry to get to her sons in Wayne, N.J., but I'll wager that if she stays three months, as she has planned, that she will be in a hurry to get back, when it starts getting cold. Violet's only son Raymond Knepper and wife will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary October 16. The her oldest grandson, Thomas is to be married on October 20. Violet expects to stop at different places and visit with other relatives and friends before arriving in New Jersey.

Gladys M. Shaw of N. Miami spent a long week end with her Aunt Eva Donaldson.

Mrs. Richard (Jackie) Pinskey and Kyle called on Sallie and Frank Von Halle Thursday afternoon.

Received a nice letter from Mrs. Karl (Bessie) Theil of Indianapolis and she said that they had been in the nursery business 38 years and that they had worked three times as hard as they should have because of bad weather. They sent a nice check for our ambulance fund to honor the memory of Agnes Howchin McLarty and Leona Betham.

Received a letter from Martha Sheehy While she and Ed were in Wisconsin, enjoying their four children and 18 grandchildren, they were taken to a nice supper club to enjoy lobster. At 11:30 p.m. a waitress came in with a suprise honoring their 45th wedding anniversary.

Pat Lincoln of Vista has had a friend visiting her, Marge Warren of Delray. They had met in Nepal where Mount Everest is.

Departed: July 4, Warner and Sophia Johnson and Sophia Thompson; July 7, Al and Avis Colby; July 8, John Fager, Eva Ekstrom; July 15, Ray and Mary Stiles; July 18, Ken and Gwen Puelling; July 17, Urband Ruby Masson; July 18, Clinton and Eunice King; July 20, Richard and Doris Reed, Louis and Agnes Babin and Nancy Roulier.

Stuart National Bank takes top honors

MIRROR

BY DONNIE WILKIE

JENSEN BEACH–The Stuart National Bank, led by a tenacious hitting attack smashed their way through Sub-district 1 playoffs last week, held at Langford Park in Jensen Beach.

"We played good ball, hit well, and we were consistant," said SNB manager Dennis Rinaldi.

Stuart National had to fight their way through almost every game. But in the end, it was a sensational power hitting team like Ron Kammel, David Stout, Rick Rowe and Billy Williams that pulled SNB through.

Their great power was shown in their 8-4 win over King's Inn of Stuart, and their tremendous desire to win was exhibited in their 20-17 quarter-final squeaker over Moody's Tie-Beam.

Edna Moody's was the surprise of the tournament, commented Rinaldi. "Nobody knew about them and they hit the ball extremely well. In fact, I don't know where they're from."

For Surplus Stock Outlet, the runner-up, it didn't matter. They had gotten what they had been after for three years – a district berth. Despite a 22-13 loss to the Bank in the finals, Ray Kerce was a happy man. Kerce, the manager of Surplus, thought the game was unfortunate because both teams had achieved their goal.

The most exciting game of the tournament came in the semi-finals. Surplus overcame a Moody's lead to defeat the underdogs 14-7. The excitement came in the sixth inning when Surplus exploded for six runs.

In that inning, Surplus hit the ball all over the place and took a 10-5 lead.

Then after Moody's made it 10-6, Surplus' Herb Trowbridge teed off on one to left field to make the score 13-6. Then after Kerce singled, Chuck Hemingter doubled to right to make it 14-6.

Despite a home run for Jerry Fredricks, Surplus won, 14-7. That game eliminated Moody's, and left it up to Surplus and Stuart National Bank to play next in the Labor Day tournament in St. Petersburg. That tourney will include some 96 teams. Riley said he would have chosen his MVP as pitcher Chuck Telaa. "He hit the ball well, he pitched very good, and he fielded very good. And above all, he did it the whole tournament."

Billy Williams and David Stout led the tournament in homers with eight each, while Moody's Eddie Lowe had seven.

Well, for Stuart National Bank and Surplus Stock Outlet, it's on to the District Tournament.

CLEAN UP- Efforts to straighten up a muddy field were useless at the Men's Slow Pitch Softball Tournament last Sunday after a heavy rain. Before the work crew finished the rains came back and the games were cancelled. The tourney finally began again Monday night, with rain again but the players continued anyway. The final game won by the Stuart National Bank finished at 1 a.m. Tuesday morning. The tourney began last Wednesday.

Court of Honor held

JENSEN BEACH—A Court of Honor was held July 24 by Troop 815 which is sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church of North River Shores.

Merit badges were presented to Gary Lambert and David Onufrey, first aid; Bob Pulliam, swimming and communications; Steve Pulliam, fishing; Brad Lambert, first aid and coin collecting; and Chuck Van Dien, first aid and basketry.

Other awards were presented to David Onufrey, received a tenderfoot award; and Chuck Van Dien received a second class award and a family living award. Mrs. C. W. Van Dien was pinned by her son Chuck with the Mothers Second Class pin.

Skill awards were presented to Alec Connolly, family living, and Bob Pulliam, swimming.

Scoutmaster Ron Giersdorf, unit commissioner Richard Grant and W D Connolly, chairman, officiated at the court.

Corn Baked Corn on the Cob
Remove husks and silk from 6 medium-sized ears corn. In a bowl combine 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, 2 clove garlic (minced or mashed), 1 teaspoon grated onion, 1 teaspoon steaks flavored salt and dash pepper. Spread each ear with mayonnaise mixture; then wrap tightly in foil. Bake in a 325° oven for about 30 minutes, or until tender.

Barbecued Corn on the Cob
Bring a large covered kettle with 1½ tablespoons salt to a boil. Remove husks and silk from 6 medium-sized ears of corn. Place each ear on a sheet of heavy foil. Pour about 1 tablespoon of the butter mixture over each. Wrap securely and place on the barbecue grids for about 15 minutes, turning several times.

Corn Grilled with Bacon
Cook whole corn as in recipe first only about 2 minutes. Spiral 1 or 2 thin slices bacon around each ear, fastening it at each end with wooden picks. Grill over charcoal or in the broiler until bacon is crisp and brown, turning frequently.

Also, had a note from Alice Reeder, saying that she and Walter enjoyed a Fourth of July weekend picnic and reunion with friends while on a camping trip in the Poconos. They have had so much rain and cool weather at their home in New Jersey, that Walter was ready to head for Florida, but it has warmed up now, and they are going ahead with plans for the yard sale in August.

Their son is returning to Norfolk, Virginia, from a six months tour of sea duty, and of course, they are going to be there when his ship docks.

Alice also said that her mother, Mrs Grace Stetser, and her uncle and aunt, Harry and Alice Eastlack, are fine and sent greetings to all their friends and neighbors in our Park.

LOCKING UP--Entering the St. Lucie locks was a first time experience for many the Port St. Lucie Yacht Club members who attended the boat-a-cade and luncheon at the Seminole Inn in Indiantown. Fleet Captain Bill Holzapfel shepherded his flock through the locks in good order

Club Boat-a-cades to Indiantown

PORT ST. LUCIE--Eighty-nine Port St. Lucie Yacht Club members attended the boat-a-cade and luncheon at the Seminole Inn in Indiantown Saturday, July 20.

Although only 12 boats made the trip through the locks, many members came by auto, stopping at the locks to witness the locks operation. Fourteen craft started out, but two broke down and had to return to home base.

Ralph and Mary Conley were chairmen of the event, assisted by Mr and Mrs. Vernon Forrar, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Eddy, and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Nason.

After docking at the Indiantown Marina, the group was bussed to the Inn, where they enjoyed a buffet lunch and dancing. The 50-50 was won by Mike Reed and John Casey.

The day ended by Bill Frazier having to be towed home. He was encountered paddling his way back after engine trouble, and said that he was sure glad to be towed or he would still be paddling.

Another boat-a-cade is being planned for September.

Grand jury to get probe info

JENSEN BEACH--Charges of shoddy construction practices and possible payoffs will be taken to the grand jury by State Attorney Robert Stone said Monday.

Assistant State Attorney Bruce Colton conducted a preliminary investigation into complaints on building practices in the county for the past few weeks. He questioned 19 persons, including persons in county government and the building industry.

Colson said that taking the probe information to the grand jury does not mean that the state will seek any indictments against any individuals.

The investigation by the state attorney's office began after Commissioner Ed Gluckler wrote a letter to Circuit Court Judge C. Pfeiffer Trowbridge requesting the probe.

Water district study proposed

STUART--Martin County Commissioner Ed Gluckler said Monday that he will propose that the county contribute $15,000 toward a $60,000 study which would be conducted by the U.S. Geological Survey.

The study would hope to determine to keep fresh water supply along the coast when interior water is shifted to make the wetlands suitable for habitation.

The Pal-Mar Water Management District, about 31,000 acres in south-center part of the county, and north Palm Beach County, has plans for making the district habitable.

Contributions toward the study are also expected from the Pal-Mar District and from the federal government, Gluckler said.

Harry Rodiad, the U.S. Geological Survey hydrologist, said the south central area of the county holds fresh water up to a height of about 25 feet above sea level.

Rodis said the fresh water exerts pressure against the intrusion of salt water from the ocean.

Last May commissioners agreed to join the state in a settlement that sought control excavations of canals in Pal-Mar District.

Gluckler said that in a meeting with district representatives that certain stipulations were wanted by the district that he felt were concessions that the county could not grant.

The commissioner pointed out that the district wants issuance of all permits whether granted by the county or not and the district wants zoning that would be expedited plats and would be received and approved almost without question.

A district attorney is expected to be in Stuart and confer with County Attorney Steve Calvert on the county's position on permits and water management policies, Gluckler reported.

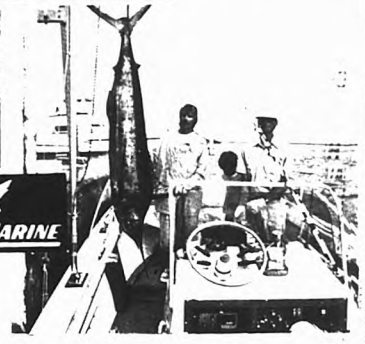
In the world of sportfishing...

ONE NAME STANDS ABOVE ALL OTHERS.



MAKO MARINE

From the beginning, Mako Marine has built their boats with one overriding objective. That objective is to maintain the finest quality workmanship possible in every Mako built. Mako owners are serious fishermen who fish hard and long. They put such their boats like no other boatmen. Their boats must stand up and they do. That's why today Mako is the world's largest builder of center console fishing boats. This leadership has been achieved and maintained simply because today's Makos are built with the same quality control, the same careful workmanship, the same pride as the first Mako years ago.

Pavilions and grill kickoff $250,000 expansion

PORT ST. LUCIE--The CESA expansion will soon be evident to residents within a few days providing the summer rains let up.

"Within the week, the proposed $250,000 expansion program will get underway with the construction of four pavilions and a barbecue grill at the CESA complex," said Dick Londin, president of the association.

The decision was made to start work on the picnic area mainly because of the Labor Day barbecue.

"We would like to have the chicken barbecue on our own grounds, and to do that we had to build the grill," Londin said.

Since the picnic area was included in the expansion program, the architect laid out the plans so the work on the pavilions could be completed at the same time.

Heinie Deldouiles and Joe Lessovage will spearhead the project.

Londin said that with any luck at all, the picnic area could wind up costing CESA practically nothing.

"We are hoping to get one or five of the local contractors to donate the pavilions," he added.

Yacht Club plans dinner dance

PORT ST. LUCIE--Plans for the upcoming midsummer dinner dance were announced at the Port St. Lucie Yacht Club meeting on July 23.

It will be held at the Stuart Elks Club on Friday, August 23. A happy hour from 6 to 7 will precede a buffet including roast beef, chicken, ham, and all the trimmings at 7 p.m. Joe Roberts Band will play for dancing from 8 to midnight.

Tickets are available for members and guests from the committee: Jack LaFrance, James and Helen Kearney, George and Mary Lindberg, Vernon and Ann Lundstrom, Walt and Kate Miller, and club treasurer Lela Holzapfel. Cutoff date for tickets is August 16. It is suggested ladies wear long or short gowns and jackets for the men.

Guests at the meeting, which featured a wine punch party, were Larry and Edith Huber, prospective members, and Gordon and Mildred Long.

New members initiated into the Yacht Club by the welcoming committee and officers were Tom and Ann Franoline from Westhersfield, Conn.; Gene and Vera Abbott, from Arlington, Va.; Joseph and Louise Call from Westchester, N.Y.; and Dewey and Joy Lindsey from Cedar Rapids, Ia. Corsages were presented to the ladies.

Host and hostesses for the meeting were Mike and Lee Reeb, Edie Rogers, Theo and Howard Bickford, Viola Conley, Helen Beckman, Vi Metzger and Mary Sheehan, chairman.

Don Peterson and Mike Reeb were 50-50 winners.

Jim Thomas, Port St. Lucie Public Safety Director, will be featured guest speaker at the August 27 meeting.

Bingo nets more than $250

ORT ST. LUCIE--A turn-away crowd ingo players flocked to the CESA ing Saturday night for the first party. The Sold-Out sign went up d, as the response exceeded the st expectations of Bingo Bandyke, man.

ple began arriving before 6:30 coming from all over the area. It estimated that only 15 per cent were from the Port St. Lucie area.

There were twenty prize winners, including the $100 jackpot winner. A total of $415 was paid out in prizes. Profit to CESA was a little over $250.

Bandyke had hoped for "maybe 75 players and a profit of $100," and he was flabbergasted at the turnout.

Next session will be at 2 p.m. Friday, with games each week on Friday afternoon and Saturday evening.

Matthews and Ewing win weekend doubles at Lanes

JENSEN BEACH--Irene Matthews and Bill Ewing may have gotten a slow start in the weekend scratch doubles tournament, but in the end they were winners by 67 pins over Maureen Casey and Roy Talley.

Irene, from Stuart, and Bill, from Jensen Beach, picked up the first place prize of $175 on the strength of a come-from-behind 1126. Talley and Mrs. Casey, both of Stuart, jumped off to a lead when they rolled 225 and 213 respectively. By the third game, Mrs. Matthews had rolled a 225, and with Ewing's high game of 209, they held a 22 pin advantage. The Talley/Casey team rolled a 1059 and won $90.

Out of the money payoffs went to Judy Kealey, Stuart, for a 201 game, and Fort Pierce's Roy Whitaker for his 245.

The weekend event continues at the Jensen Lanes, with squads at 2 and 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Teams can reenter as often as they wish, but cash only once with the same partner.

Gang celebrates birthday

PORT ST. LUCIE--The Friday Night Gang was out in force last Friday night help celebrate Cedric Bera's birthday number 39. The usual birthday song was sung by a special Quartette after which each songstress was rewarded, or we might say Bera was rewarded with a sound peck.

To celebrate the occasion, host Bera took the night off, persuading Fran Lee to call the first half and Ann Boman the second.

During intermission, the Gang was treated to brownies and cupcakes furnished by Frances Bernota, Ann Boman, Fran Lee and Natalie Deible.

The merchandise certificate was won by Charles Conley.

The Gang Snooper recorded several guests at the Mardis Gras on July 5. They were Doris Testa from Cortland, Ohio; Josephine Perritt from Struthers, Ohio; Mrs. Thomas Dippoetro and Mrs. John Dippoetro from Dearborn, Mich., all visiting Mrs. Philomeno Lopertido, and Mrs. and Mr. Lary Schoolcraft from Dubuque, Iowa, visiting the Fondells.

On Friday, July 12, the Snooper registered another good report. Visitors were: Carl Larson from Washington, D.C., visiting Frank Schaums; Erma Kirby from White Plains, Md., visiting Celia Kirby; and visiting Snooper Frances Bernota, himself from Laurel Hollow, Long Island, N.Y. Mr. and Mrs. K. Young, J. Jeffrey and Kimberly Young.

Merchandis certificate winners were Gladys Clarke on July 5 and on July 12, Mary Marsh.

Kim Nelson of River Park, visiting the Friday Nite Gang as a guest of Karen Conrad on July 19, hit the jackpot as she shared the main prize with regular Al Zell.

The Gang Snooper came up with the following visitors: Mary Ann Hayes, from Pompano Beach, visiting the Koenigs, and visiting their grandparents, the Earl Campbells from White Plains, Georgia were the Batson boys, Thomas, Bryan and Gregory.

Drains overflow with rain cause pain

BY ALICE HICKEY

PORT ST. LUCIE--As the rains continue, so do the drainage problems in Port St. Lucie.

"We have two baths in our house and can't use either of them", voiced one resident.

Another commented, "it has been one thing using our cars to visit the next door neighbor, but bailing septic tank effluent out of our bedrooms is going a little too far."

Other reports indicate residents are using pails and plastic bags to dispose of the human wastes.

The complaints have been reported to the Port St. Lucie City Council by Clyde Blunt, president of the Port St. Lucie Homeowners, to Robert Seeley, GDC's general manager and to the county authorities.

All the residents seem to get in return is a brush off" said Frank Rose.

Affected residents in the area are forming a committee to seek some kind of a solution to the ever increasing drainage problems.

According to Rose, the only alternative is to seek legal authority and if necessary go directly to the state for some type of relief action.

"If General Development refuses to help, the committee will have no alternative but to seek aid through the State of Florida. Something has got to be done," he added.

Rose spoke of the mini sewer system as being a big hust. For those residents that are hooked up, everything is fine, but GDC discourages additional hookups by charging a $600 fee.

"In my opinion, that fee is to discourage additional hookups because the system isn't sufficient to handle the number of homes in the area," he said.

"To my knowledge all you get for that price is a small electric pump, which could be purchased for less than $200, and the line from the septic tank to the pump in the street. If every house in the area did hook up, I don't believe the system could handle the load," Rose concluded.

"I am very much concerned about the problems in that area," Seeley said.

I do question the significance of the legal obligation the company has, but, by golly, this is our community and we certainly do have a genuine concern in seeing that the residents don't have these problems," he added.

When asked if there hadn't been instances where the septic tanks were installed incorrectly, Seeley said, "I can't believe that that is wrong, but I think the problem is manifold in several different areas of responsibility."

He went on to point out that the condition of the ground, with the hardpan being so close to the surface, was to be considered.

"I am equally certain there has got to be some malfunctioning tanks because of the manner of installation," he continued.

He also said that the saturation of the ground because of the excessive amount of rainfall in a concentrated area has also contributed to the problem.

Just in what proportions each of these things have contributed to the overall problem is unknown," Seeley concluded.

Tuesday Seeley met with local engineering and land development officials for a tour of the area.

"We are indeed hopeful of coming up with an answer," Seeley said.

Handguns

COG discuss major issues

PORT ST. LUCIE—Although the future of the savannas continued to head the list of priorities when the Council of Governments (COG) met last week, other issues of importance were also aired.

Fort Pierce Mayor Chuck Padrick, Jr. suggested the City of Stuart, Martin and St. Lucie counties consider the adoption of an ordinance which would govern the sale of handguns.

"I am not in favor of strict gun control and that is not the purpose of the ordinance," Padrick said. "While we can't stop a man from buying a gun, I do feel that some method of control is needed in order to keep guns out of the hands of kids."

Padrick pointed out that the city has received many complaints from residents regarding the freedom of purchase of such weapons.

Our ordinance requires the would-be purchaser to complete an application form in triplicate, one of each which goes forth to the police department, and establishes a three-day waiting period before the permit is issued," the mayor said.

Without matching legislation on the part of our neighboring governments, a Fort Pierce resident can get around our ordinance simply by stepping 15-feet outside the city limits," Padrick said.

While the mayor urged the two counties and the City of Stuart to consider such and ordinance, he pointed out that the City of Port St. Lucie had no gun vendors and felt that such an ordinance was needless.

While Stuart mayor Robert Hall said his city did not have hand-gun problems that Fort Pierce encountered, Padrick answered, "You will Robert, your city is growing."

Martin County Commissioner Turner Powers, who represented Dr. Ed Geary at the meeting, said that Martin County is against, but tried to get the sheriff to assume the responsibility of issuing permits, but found the only restrictions that could be imposed were those imposed by the state.

Powers told members of the COG that he would send each a copy of the Fort Pierce ordinance for their considerations of adoption.

Turner Powers solicited the cooperation of St. Lucie County in establishing a new population density along the county's common boundaries.

"I do not attend to suggest to St. Lucie County," Powers said, "I do, however, ask the consideration of your board on the impact of high density will have on Martin County facilities.

"Increasing to the roads of Martin County are being inadequate, and the limitations in providing ambulance service and fire protection, Powers said this is where he felt the COG would be distinct advantage to all.

"Through the COG meetings we will be better able to understand each other's ordinances as they relate to zoning changes, their problem areas, and without a doubt, be in the position to come up with a constructive solution. We must look for the mechanisms to bring our governments closer together," he added.

Powers instanced the southern part of Martin County as an example of cooperation.

Martin County maintains a lower density down there because we are dependent on our southern neighbors for services. There is no way, at the present time, we can furnish our people down there with adequate emergency services," Powers said.

Addressing St. Lucie County Commissioner Ed Enns, Powers said, "We are asking that your board work with us on areas that are adjacent. We ask that you think about these services before you increase your densities and consider the impact on Martin County."

Enns said that although he thought Martin County density figures were a bit low, he had resolved in his mind that perhaps some changes may be necessary. He also suggested that perhaps a solution would be through the District of Regional Impact.

Think that a regional plan insight might be beneficial to both," Enns said.

In other business Mayor Padrick endorsed the proposal by Judge Alto Adams to establish a law enforcement school in or near the Fort Pierce area.

Padrick tabbed this as being a worthwhile proposal and urged the support of the COG members.

Relative to the water on Hutchinson Island, Stuart Mayor Robert Hall said his city is interested in working with both St. Lucie and Martin County to serve the island.

Southern gulf Utilities, who purchases the water from Stuart, now services the island.

Martin County is currently negotiating to buy Southern Gulf.

Local environmentalist, Dr. Walter Stokes told the members of COG that Ken Alvarez, Department of Natural Resources (DNR) completed his survey of the savannas.

The complete report was returned to DNR headquarters in Tallahassee for evaluation by a special state committee to see if the marshland will qualify for a state program to protect the area.

Republicans to meet August 1

PORT ST. LUCIE--The Port St. Lucie Republican Club will meet in regular monthly session at the Cesa building at 7:30 p.m. August 1.

Cynthia De Rooy, president of the St. Lucie County Council on Aging, will be the guest speaker.

President Claude E. Grizzell will preside and refreshments will be served after the meeting.

WELCOME BACK--Mr. and Mrs. Larry Strobel are greeted enthusiastically by their cruisemates as they rejoin the group in Freeport. Having missed the boat in Nassau they flew to Freeport.

Dr. Stokes says

Savannas report is expected in 60 days

JENSEN BEACH-A report on the state survey of the south savannas is expected within 60 days, Dr. Walter Stokes said Tuesday.

"We are marking time until we get the report from Tallahassee," the chairman of the Save the Savannas Committee said.

Dr. Stokes and Ken Alvarez of the State Department of Natural Resources toured the savannas by boat last week.

Alvarez certainly was impressed with the savannas," Dr. Stokes said, "but he could not commit himself as to whether or not the savannas would be eligible for a state program.

"We are competing with 250 applications for a share in the $240 million program," he noted.

"However, we are among the top applications," he noted.

The report from the state would indicate whether or not the funds would be available for purchase or lease of the savannas.

Dr. Stokes seemed to doubt that the land could be purchased or leased by the state since General Development Corp., which owns a large tract of the savannas, or Universal Adams (UA), also a large land holder, would want to "sell or lease to the state."

The savannas expert pointed out that the two large land owners might lease to a local governing agency.

Local control -- by Martin and St. Lucie Counties and Port St. Lucie -- was recommended by the committee which Dr. Stokes heads, but Martin County Commission wants state control.

"If the state won't purchase or lease the land," Dr. Stokes said, "then we proceed with setting up a local governing agency. We need to have a local bill prepared to present to the legislature by March of 1975."

Noting the recent heavy rains, Dr. Stokes said that he visited the savannas Tuesday, "and the water is higher than I've seen for several years."

But he noted that too much water is being lost at too rapid a pace.

"Water is running under a bridge on U.S. 1, and much is coming out of the savannas. We need structures to retain water in Warner Creek during the dry season and existing ditches in the savannas should be cleaned out to help retain the water."

During a recent meeting of the Council of Governments (COG) Dr. Stokes pointed out that General Development Corporation plans to dredge a canal running from north to south, using the fill to make the Greenbelt Parkway, is one of the best things that can happen to the savannas. The canal will allow the free flow of water, while the roadway will serve as a dike separating the wetlands from the uplands.

Stokes suggested at this point that both Martin and St. Lucie Counties combine their efforts to complete the dredging process in the future as a permanent solution for the preservation of the savannas.

"This I know can not be done immediately," Stokes said, "but I do hope it will be considered."

As a temporary interim solution, Dr. Stokes recommended that county crews move in and clean out the existing waterways.

According to Stokes, Universal Adams has completed negotiations for the purchase of the three pieces of property they needed to provide access to their planned development Twin Rivers on Plantation, without going across the savannas wetlands.

It is also my understanding the firm will take immediate steps to restoring the savannas in that area by dredging out the causeway they started last year," Stokes concluded.

The Universal Adams causeway was stopped last year by the Department of Pollution Control.

PSL to have Lions Club

PORT ST. LUCIE—A new Lion's Club known as the Port St. Lucie Lion's Club is being formed.

The charter will open as of Friday, August 2, and members accepted during the period of 31 days from that date will be on the charter.

Lions and ex-Lions living in Port St. Lucie and River Park, who would like to get active in Lionism may call Bill Stroud at 878-2546.

Blood pressure clinic

PORT ST. LUCIE- Dr. and Mrs. Hoyt Taylor will be taking blood pressures on Thursday, August 1, according to Mrs. Russell Decker, chairman of the Blood Pressure Clinic.

Memberships in the blood bank will be taken at the same time, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

At last week's clinic, 26 came for blood pressures and 24 signed up for the blood bank. A one dollar fee provides life time membership in the blood bank.

Saints' halos are slipping

PORT ST. LUCIE- The Saints and Sinners Summer Shuffleboard League was finally able to play on Tuesday, July 16, after being rained out for two weeks.

The rest did not improve the Saints performance as they were trounced by the Sinners 8 to 1. The halos continue to slip as the league now stands at Sinners, 38, Saints, 23.

Barbara Outwater, a shuffleboard members, presented an interesting 35 minute program of slides and commentary on Canada following tournament play on July 30. Refreshments were served and donations collected were earmarked to help pay off the remainder due on the sun shelters recently erected.

Hospital bond gains momentum

PORT ST. LUCIE--As the ground work continues, the $10 million hospital bond issue scheduled for the November referendum gains momentum.

Joe Corso, public relations man for the Fort Pierce Memorial Hospital, is continuing his efforts to educate the public.

"With the passage of this bond issue," Corso said, "the hospital will belong to the people of St. Lucie County."

He emphasizes the fact that it will not become a part of the political football. It will not be run by the county commissioners.

Instead, there would be one representative on the governing board from each of the six districts in the county, one at large from south of Midway Road and one at large from the northern boundary of the city limits north. The tenth member, Corso said, will automatically be the chief of staff.

Even though last year the hospital bond issue was turned down at the polls, the voters from the south county areas and the City of Port St. Lucie supported it overwhelmingly.

Pointing out the difference from last year's bond issue, Corso explained this year it would cost the taxpayer only 1 mill in lieu of the 2 mills asked for last year. He also said that last year the referendum was for a separate taxing district, while this year it will come under the St. Lucie County 10 mill cap.

"Over and above that," he added, "all percent of the hospital taxes will be paid by big businesses in this county."

Folks are asking, "When do we get our Park Directories?" This park office was notified that we could expect them here in 10 days and the time is up today. So all we can say is that you that are having them mailed will surely get them the last of the first week of August, if they get there right away.

Received a nice letter from Ethel McDowell and will quote some, "We finished moving to Adolph Bolin yesterday. He has been laid stuck and the car hit an abutment. Mr. Bolin was badly injured and died. Mr. Bolin is coming along fine, except for the pain in the hip that he had operated on. Bill is walking better, not using his cane. The weather here is very changeable in Detroit 80-97 degrees or down in the 60's. We plan to return to Florida September 15, then October 15 we go to Japan for a month."

Deedsy, Marquerite and Karon Deedrick, and Mother Dolly returned from their trip to Virginia on Sunday night.

We welcome Joe and Virginia Jensen of Clemenston, N.J. at 4 Vista Drive. They are here for a month's vacation. They are the parents of Gerry Arew of 308 Linda Drive, Jensen Beach.

Mrs. Phil (Marsa) Dionne of Almond and Seth was taken to St. M. Hospital raday, July 25 following a heart attack at 2 a.m. She died Friday July 26 at 9:15 a.m.

Her survivors include her devoted husband, Phil, to whom she has been married 23 years, one son, Alfred Theos and wife Julia and their twins, Mrs. Maria Betty Figaro and Alfred Theos and five great grandchildren.

Maria has a brother and two sisters in Germany. The sisters spent some time here in our park visiting her two years ago.

Their viewings were Sunday afternoon and night and Funeral services were Monday, July 29 at 11:00 a.m. in the Ayrock Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. Donald E. Johnson of Jensen Beach Community Church officiating. Interment was in All Saints Cemetary of Jensen Beach.

Dorin Kane and wife came Sunday and took his parents Phil and Treva Kane of 6th and Broad, home with them for a few days on the west coast of Florida.

David Betham, the only only son of our Wally and the late Leona was married Sat. July 20 to Laurie Foster, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Foster of Stuart at St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

It was a double ring ceremony. A reception was held in St. Mary's Parish Hall. For their honeymoon they are backpacking on the Appalachian Trail, starting in the Carolinas. After returning the young couple will reside in Hobe Sound where David is a surveyor with Rogers and Associates. Laurie was a June graduate of Martin County High School and hopes to pursue a nursing career.

Dick and Doris Reed left Monday for their old home town Findlay, Ohio in their travel trailer. Before their return they expect to spend some time in Torch Lake, Michigan, Pigeon Forge, Tenn., and Flat Rock, N.C. They will certainly be missed since their little home is usually parked on Lil Bit Lane. Two months will seem a long time to pet Herman the heron too!

Speaking of celebrations, Frances Scranton of Almond really knew she had had a birthday, but she won't tell us which one. On Sunday, July 21, at 4 p.m., son Jack and wife Claire pached her up and took her to home of their friends Less and Erma Knifler who were celebrating for birthdays as well as the birthdays of Frances. They had a lovely dinner and plenty of cake. Then on Monday son Jack and wife Claire entertained at their home Mother Frances. She received several lovely gifts. On August 3 they are taking her to New York for a month's vacation. She will be visiting her daughter-in-law while she there.

Dorothy Geeben and Frank Beal visited Dorothy's sister-in-law and husband at Venice last Thursday.

Dr. Thomas Moore was better and able to go to their northern home but expects to wait until he returns for his operation by one our local excellent surgeons. I am told by a bridge playing friend of his. His address is Dr. Thomas Moore, Gillingham Drive, Bradford, N.H. 03221.

I have been unable to contact Archie Faille but he must be getting along fine. I have seen him during his driving his car and he looks like he gaining weight. I wouldn't think of saying getting fat. Harvey and Vivian Hill of 20 S.W. 7th Ave. and Lapeer, Mich. celebrated their wedding anniversary of fifteen years on Sunday, July 28 at their daughter's home at a family dinner. The couple have one daughter, four sons, 26 grandchildren, and five great grandchildren. Harvey writes: "We first came to O.B. in 1951 and are looking forward to returning in the middle of October of 1974. Due to our health conditions we were unable to hold open house when we had planned, however any Ocean Breezers are to call if in our vicinity. Sincerely, Harvey and Vivian Hill."

Mollie Butterfield was really happy when the oldest of her two sons, Kurt and wife Ruth, drove up from Miami on Sunday afternoon to see her and sister Gertrude McKay. They thought our flowers were so pretty. Kurt was attending the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks National Convention in Miami. He had been elected in May to exalted ruler of Elks in his hometown lodge of Weymouth, Mass.

Carol Chapman and brother George Reeves returned Thursday from a five weeks trip visiting relatives in England and Scotland. George said, "We were so tired of wet, cool weather." Anyway, its not too cool here, even though its raining.

Eric Springman of Fort Lauderdale is visiting his father Fritz and Bunny. Bunny has been taking him fishing, to the beach and hunting for shells.

Paul and Florence Tyre left Wednesday for Covington, Va., to spend a month visiting Paul's brother and three nieces.

John Fagan writes to John Martin on a Grand Ole Opry card, "I left two weeks ago and sprained my back, but I'm alright now. I left Tennessee July 20 and I'm in Pennsylvania now visiting my grandson."

Speaking of John's, John Leyberk writes, "Having a good time in Reno. Ate dinner Tuesday eve at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. LeRoy. We played cards until mid-nightnight. Hope to see Opry Sunday."

Irvin and I will be taking Frank and Sallie Von Halle to West Palm Beach Thursday, August 1. After dinner, they will get aboard the Am Track for Indianapolis. They will spend a large part of their vacation in Ohio with relatives and friends, then upper N.Y. with daughter Dorothy, family and friends.

Violet Wing is leaving on bus trip on August 4. She says she is in no hurry to get to her sons in Wayne, N.J. but I'll wager that if she stays three months as she has planned that she will be in a hurry to get back, when it starts getting cold. Violet's only son Raymond Knepper and wife will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary October 16. The her oldest grandson, Thomas is to be married on October 20. Violet expects to stop at different places and visit with other relatives and friends before arriving in New Jersey.

Gladys M. Shaw of N. Miami spent a long week end with her Aunt Eva Donaldson.

Mrs. Richard (Jackie) Pinskey and Kyle called on Sallie and Frank Von Halle Thursday afternoon.

Received a nice letter from Mrs. Karl Bessie Theil of Indianapolis and she said that they had been in the nursery business 38 years and that they had worked three times as hard as they should have because of bad weather. They sent a nice check for our ambulance fund to honor the memory of Agnes Howerton McLarty and Leona Betham.

Received a letter from Martha Sheehy while she and Ed were in Wisconsin, enjoying their four children and 15 grandchildren, they were taken to a nice supper club to enjoy lobster. At 11:30 p.m. a waitress came in with a suprise honoring their 45th wedding anniversary.

Pat Lincoln of Vista has had a friend visiting her, Marge Warren of Delray. They had met in Nepal where Mount Everest is.

Departed July 4, Warner and Sophia Johnson and Sophia Thompson. July 7, Al and Avis Colby. July 8, John Fager, Eva Ekstrom. July 15, Ray and Mary Stiles. July 16, Ken and Gwen Fuelling. July 17, Orland Ruby Mawson. July 19, Clinton and Eunice King. July 29, Richard and Doris Reed, Louis and Agnes Babin and Nancy Roubet.

Wilkie recommends

Chamber by-laws changes approved

JENSEN BEACH - Changes in the constitution and by-laws of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce were approved by the board of directors Monday night.

A meeting of the chamber membership will be held in September to vote on changes.

Don Wilkie, chairman of a committee which re-wrote some of the articles in the constitution and by-laws, presented his proposals to the directors.

Most of the articles changes are in the election procedures - selecting officers and directors at general membership meetings instead of mailing out ballots to chamber members.

Proposals in Article III of the by-laws include:

1. The Board of Directors shall be composed of the president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary, three one-year directors and three two-year directors, and the immediate past president.

All directors now are elected for one-year terms.

2. At the October board of directors meeting, the president shall appoint subject to confirmation by the board, a nominating committee of three members. This committee shall obtain the consent of each nominee to stand for office.

3. During the month of November, a general meeting will be called for the purpose of electing officers and directors for the forthcoming fiscal year. In the written announcement of this meeting, the report of the nominating committee will be included.

4. The nominating committee will make a verbal report at the general session, and additional nominations may be made from the floor. Election of any contested nominees will be conducted by secret ballot.

5. Officers and directors elected at the November meeting will be installed at the annual December general membership meeting, and their terms will begin January 1.

Other changes approved were in the language of some articles, deleting some words and adding others.

Also in Article V, the change was in the make up of the Executive Committee, and it will be composed of the president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary and the past president.

The purpose of the Executive Committee, according to Wilkie is to take urgent action when necessary and report all decisions taken at the next regular meeting of the directors.

Wilkie pointed out that because of the lack of interest in the elections in the past, it was thought that having general membership meetings for election of officers and directors more interest would be generated.

There would be no changes in the number of directors, but there would be a carryover of directors who would be familiar with chamber operation. At present, only the president is retained on the board for another year.

Kiwanis plans golf benefit at Mariner Sands September 14

JENSEN BEACH—Mariner Sands Golf Club will be the site of the 1974 Jensen Beach Kiwanis Club's annual golf tournament, it was announced this week by Dick Campbell, chairman.

The tournament will be limited to fifty tournamers.

"We think golfers will be pleased with this new and exciting golf course, and are receiving the full cooperation of the staff of Mariner Sands in this program," Campbell said.

Proceeds of the tournament will be used in the youth activities fund of the Kiwanis Club, most of which centers around activities at Langford Park.

Tickets and starting times are available from the Kiwanis Club members, or from Dick Campbell at The Jensen Beach Mirror.

Voters sign-up for primaries

JENSEN BEACH—A last minute surge of voter registration indicates a lot of interest in the September primary, Supervisor of Elections Mrs. Sandra Randolph said.

Mrs. Randolph said that more than 100 persons registered on Friday and Saturday, July 26-27, before the registration books were closed for the Sept. 10 primary.

Total registration for July was 647, she observed.

Registered voters in Martin County totals 22,171 - 11,897 Democrats and 10,127 Republicans, 984 Independent and 263 other parties.

This compares with the total registration in the fall of 1972 of 19,475 - 12,821 Democrats, 7,685 Republicans, 780 Independents and 248 other parties.

Noting that some 900 names were removed from the voting list during 1973, Mrs. Randolph said that more than 1,000 persons have been registered in the past two years.

Locally, county commission races appear to hold the most interest, as voters with incumbent Ed Glueckler being opposed by Gerald O'Brien in the District 3 primary. Clay Lambeth, former mayor of Sewall's Point, Democrat has filed for that seat.

In the District 4 Democratic primary incumbent Dr. Ed Geary is opposed by Mario Hurchalla.

On the Republican side in the District 4 race five are seeking their party's nomination, including Frederick A. Humbertstone, Joan Jefferson, Edward Harvey, Dr. Ralph Frick and Thomas E. Ladley.

$21,260 New JB fire truck arrives

JENSEN BEACH - A new piece of fire fighting equipment has been added to the Jensen Beach Fire Department.

The new fire truck arrived last Saturday, August 4 and Fire Chief Randolph Spinney and some of his volunteer fire fighters received instructions on how to operate the modern equipment from James A. VanDurmen.

VanDurmen, fire chief of Blue Island, Ill., delivered the truck to Jensen Beach from W.S. Darley Co. of Melrose Park, Ill.

"We took the truck to a Sewall's Point hydrant and received instructions," Chief Spinney said.

"The new truck is a 750 gallon per minute midship pump, and it has a fog connection which will put out more fire with much less water than the regular pumps," the chief said.

"The truck cost $21,260.96 delivered, and this is at least $10,000 less than any new truck purchased for trucks in any other fire department in the county," Chief Spinney said.

Most of the equipment of the Jensen Beach Fire Department is new, having been purchased in the 1960's. With the addition of the new truck, the department now has six fire trucks.

The chief said that the six truck have a total water capacity of 4,450 gallons.

"We have 20 volunteer firemen," the chief said.

"We would like to thank the people of Jensen Beach, Town of Ocean Breeze Park, the town of Sewall's Point, Hutchinson Island, East Beau Rivage and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evinrude for their contributions that enabled us to purchase the truck," Chief Spinney said.

"Come in today and see your new fire truck," he invited.

Nergard wants curb on legislation

JENSEN BEACH—Early considera[tion] of major bills in the legislative session is the goal of State Rep. Chuck Nergard.

"We had about 800 bill in the last two weeks of the 1974 session," Rep. Nergard observed.

"During the last few days we had bills and amendments going back and forth between the two houses," he said.

The legislator who represents the Jensen Beach area in the House noted that the public disclosure bill "was going back and forth the last few days and when it passed I doubt if wome of the persons working on it knew what was in the bill."

"And the educational finance bill wasn't voted on until nearly 11 p.m. on the final day of the session," the Port St. Lucie Republican recalled. "I still don't have a copy of the legislation."

Rep. Nergard said that the appropriations bill usually is one of the last bills considered and "it's either vote for it or go into an extended session."

He pointed out, however, that he voted against the appropriations bill because he thought it was inflationary.

The legislator, who is seeking his fifth two-year term, and is unopposed, said he would like to see major bills given priority early in the session.

"I would like to see all bills at least 72 hours before taking them up," he said.

"When the legislature opens next year, I would like to see some of the things that last few days curtailed."

"I don't think the people of Florida want all the laws we try to place on them," Nergard said.

"I don't have any objections to local bills being considered at the end of the session, since they don't have state-wide effect."

New program at FIT

JENSEN BEACH—Dean Ernest E. Tesley has announced that a few openings are still available for students wishing to enter the newly established program in medical technology which will begin on the Jensen Beach campus in the fall quarter.

Students completing the first two years of the program will receive an associate of science degree and be eligible to apply for the Florida State Medical Technician's License. Graduates of the two year program who have a high scholastic standing will then be eligible to continue for two more academic years toward a bachelor of medical technology degree and State licensure as a medical technologist.

One of the unusual features of the new program is the establishment of a simulated clinical laboratory on the campus containing the latest automated equipment where the students will supplement their academic work with practical experience in a setting identical to the hospital and commercial laboratories of local area hospitals.

Those interested should contact Florida Institute of Technology 1-534-[illegible] for further information.

..TESTING EQUIPMENT—Tony Rojt sends the first stream of water from the new fire truck of the Jensen Beach Fire Department as other fire fighters look on. The $21,260.96 truck, paid for by donations, arrived last Sunday.

GOP candidate drops out

STUART - A Republican candidate for Martin County Commission District 4 has withdrawn from the September 10 primary.

Palm City veterinarian Dr. Ralph F. Hyatt, citing party unity as his reason for dropping out of the race, said the Republican Party's chances of winning the commission seat would be greater if there were fewer candidates.

Republican candidates left in the crowded District 4 race are Frederick A. Humbertstone, Joan Jefferson, Edward Harvey and Thomas Ladley.

They are seeking the commission seat now held by Dr. Edward Geary, Democrat, who is opposed by Mario Hurchalla.

Hendry named

JENSEN BEACH—Al Hendry, 231 Skyline Drive, Jensen Beach, has been appointed to the Martin County Planning Board for District 1, Jensen Beach, representative.

County Commissioner Rosa Philbrick made the appointment which will remain in effect for the next two years.

Hendry, secretary treasurer of Tri County Gas, replaces Doug Snider on the board. Snider moved out of the area, according to Philbrick.

Mirror 'phone power' seminar is a success

JENSEN BEACH—Twenty local businessmen took part in the first Mirror Phone Power Seminar Friday at Frances Langford's Outrigger Resort, an all day class that was termed "a success" by Mirror publisher Dick Campbell.

Sponsored by Southern Bell Telephone Marketing, the Outrigger, and The Mirror, the event outlined modern methods of using the telephone in sales programs.

Bankers, real estate salesmen, engineers and others began the seminar at 8:30 a.m. and worked on courses all day, ending the seminar with a certificate presentation at 4:30 p.m. The seminar was conducted by Edward F. Bayne, phone power specialist with the new Southern Bell Marketing Division in Ft. Lauderdale.

Lake water into canal

STUART—Discharge of water from Lake Okeechobee through St. Lucie Canal started July 30, in order to lower the sharply rising lake, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers announced.

The seven floodgates at first were opened to a height of six inches and then increased to one-foot.

Prior to opening the canal for discharge purpose, water was released to save conservation areas, and through the Caloosahatchee River to the Gulf.

Heavy rains during the last month caused Lake Okeechobee to take a sharp rise above its safe regulation level.

The level of the lake was 15 feet above mean sea level last week, a level six inches above what is considered safe for the area during the hurricane season.

Engineers point out that inflow of water into the lake is greater than the outflow and lowering water levels on the 730-square mile lake is an extremely slow process.

Registration starts at Middle School

JENSEN BEACH—Registration for new students entering Stuart Middle School started this week and will continue through August 26.

Registration will be in the guidance and counseling offices at the school, East Ocean Boulevard from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

New students must have a certificate of immunization and must be able to prove they are Martin County residents.

Inlet work bids received

JENSEN BEACH—A Tampa firm was the apparent low bidder for maintenance dredging of the St. Lucie Inlet, and awarding of the contract is expected in about a week.

Hendry Corp. submitted a bid of $348,128, and it was above the U.S. Corps of Engineers estimate. The Corps estimated the cost to be $305,000.

Other bidders were: Trans-State Dredging of Fort Pierce, $366,800; Parkhill-Goodloe Dredging of Jacksonville, $381,240; and Continental Dredging, address unknown, $396,840.

If you already have a Bank Americard Account at a First Bancshares Bank, you may already be qualified for a Gold Eagle Account.

6. Automatic Savings.
If you like, we'll automatically add to your savings account from your checking account. Any amount you tell us. And Daily Interest Savings Accounts pay a generous 5% annually, compounded quarterly.

7. No Service Charge for Travelers Checks.
If you do any traveling, this service can save you a lot. How much? $1 per $100.

8. No Service Charge for Cashier's Checks or Money Orders.
Request as many as you like. We're happy to accommodate you.

9. Notary Public Service.
We'll notarize papers and documents for you free, any time.

10. Special Consumer Loans.
When you have a Gold Eagle Account, you get special preferred rates on consumer loans, and you can even get a loan that lets you skip a monthly payment if you want to.

11. Free Will File.
Have your Florida will placed on file in the Trust Department of a First Bancshares Bank after you designate the bank in a fiduciary capacity. You do have a Florida will, don't you? You should, you know.

12. Free Christmas Club Payment.
Put 50¢ to $20 a week in a Christmas Club Account and the 50th payment is on us.

The Gold Eagle Account is something special. So instead of giving you a gold plate when you qualify, we give you a Medallion designed and minted especially for our Banks. It's your identification. Only Gold Eagle Account customers get them. And only we offer the Gold Eagle Account.

Mail to:

Maintain $5,000 or more in a Daily Interest Savings Account and we'll give you a Gold Eagle Account free.

V.F.W. news

BY CHUCK BENDER

Post 10086 was saddened by the recent loss of two members: Comrade Morris "Bart" Stevenson and Sister Phyllis Barnett. Bart was ofiac in the V.A. Hospital in Miami the last two years, but never gave up being an active member of our post. To Bart's son in the service and his daughter who lives in Florida we extend our deepest regrets.

The V.F.W. Auxiliary conducted a service in memory of Phyllis Ramsey at the Aycock Funeral Home on July 28. Burial was at All Saint's Cemetary. Sincere sympathy is extended to her family from the members of Maurice K. Langford V.F.W. Post 10086 and its Auxiliary. May her soul rest in peace.

I would like to take this time to thank all of the members who worked so hard getting our Post home ready to host the "School of Instruction" for District 11 and I. And a special thanks to the kitchen committee who did such a marvelous job feeding the enormous crowd that attended.

State Commander Jack Pettit asked me to thank everyone for a fantastic job.

Our own State Jr. Vice Commander Cecil Bradford has been very busy since taking office. He has been to Tulsa, Oklahoma, for the Southern Conference School of Instruction. As soon as he got back, he had to be in Ocala for a Council of Administration meeting. With barely time enough to catch his breath, it was off on the trail again.

He and State Sr. Vice Hal Schultz went to Gainesville for a meeting of districts 6 and 17, the following day to St. Petersburg for districts 8 and 13, then last weekend, off to Fort Lauderdale for districts 5 and 15, and to Cape Coral for districts 10 and 13.

Next in line for Branford will be district meetings as other parts of the state. Besides being a state officer in the V.F.W., Cecil is a good ambassador for Jensen Beach.

This weekend we will have State Commander Jack Pettit back in our area again, attending the 30th anniversary of Fort Pierce Post 3084.

This Saturday we will honor our Bronco League championship team. Starting at 1 p.m., we have a treat in store for all the boys who did such a great job this past season. We hope that all the players will be able to attend.

The Sons of V.F.W. will hold their meeting this Saturday at 2 p.m.

Thanks to Commander Dick Neeson and the American Legion for the use of their building for our Auxiliary meeting last weekend.

Service officers report

BY GEORGE HODGE

The Ohio Vietnam Veterans' Bonus Commission has announced that on 5-30-74, the Sinking Fund Commission approved a resolution for the sale of bonds to provide funds for payment of the Vietnam Veterans' Bonus. Although a 90-day period is normally required for the transaction on sale of bonds, efforts are being made to expediate the availibility of funds to about June 1st. Based on preliminary planning, the Ohio Bonus Commission expects to make distribution of application forms before the end of May.

They also expect to process over one-half million applications from Vietnam veterans, many of whom live outside of Ohio. If any Service Officer is contacted by a veteran from Ohio, inquiring about the Ohio bonus, such veteran may request an application form by writing to the Ohio Vietnam Veterans' Bonus Commission, Hartman Theatre Building, 79 E. State Street, Columbus, Ohio, 43215.

VFW COMMANDERS—State VFW commander Jack Pettit, right, of Bunnell, visited the Jensen Beach VFW Post 10086 last Saturday, August 3, along with the other state officials. Welcoming the state leader is Post commander Chuck Bender.

A petition to organize was devised as local men moved to form the Jensen Beach Kiwanis Club.

A crowd of 600 persons heard Mozart, Strauss and Dvorak played by the London Symphony at the St. Lucie Country Club.

June Rice was pictured talking, talking, talking to the large crowd who waited in vain for a turtle to come up from the sea.

Rotunda threatened to sue the U.S. Corps of Engineers, claiming the Corps was responsible for holding up drainage of the Rotunda development.

Inveterate "shufflers" Ruth Phelps, Ella Lee, and Len and Mary Smith were pictured at play on the Ocean Breeze shuffleboard courts.

Randolph and Martha Spinney were vacationing in Canada and reported 62 degree weather. Their card said "Br-r-r-r!"

Vince Bocchino was pictured at ceremonies honoring him as the "New Vince Boccchino Field" was opened at Langford Park. Making the name official, County Commission Chairman Bill Hussey read a resolution from the commission which stated that the new field as well as the fantastic progress of Langford Park was "made possible by the hard work and dedication of Boccchino."

Main Market celebrated opening after newly renovated store with a Great Opening Sale on August 6,7,8. Wide Grade A fryers were 29 cents a pound and milk at 88 cents per GALLON was a feature of the sale.

A full-page opinion, reprinted from the Congressional Record, set forth Senator George Smathers ideas on the 1964 Civil Rights Acts, as the Mirror pursued to cover both sides of controversial matters.

The first annual Mirror Cooking Contest was enthusiastically received as more than 500 attended.

A resolution from the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce was sent to Rep. Bill Owens asking that the new Jensen Beach bridge be named the "Frank A. Wacha Bridge."

1964-65 $1,650,000 county budget was adopted by Martin County Commission.

A tract of Hutchinson Island land, consisting of 450' ocean to river was sold for $135,000 cash.

The Jensen Beach Mirror installed an electronic type-setting machine which automatically set justified columns, doing away with the formerly manual process.

T.M. Ervin, executive director of the Sunshine Turnpike, was pictured handing a $1000 check to Bob Batterman, president of the Martin County Retarded Children's Assoc. The money came from the Wishing Well at the Palm Beach rest station.

Letter to the editor

To the Editor:

Enclosed is a check for my subscription renewal to The Mirror. Congratulations on winning more awards in the recent newspaper competition.

Thought you might be interested in knowing that an article on Capt. Adams 100th birthday was in the Stars and Stripes in Germany. There was also a question on a German television game program on Capt. Adams with his picture shown on the screen while the question was being asked of the contestants. So Jensen Beach is becoming know internationally.

Looking forward to getting my next issues. Keep up the good work.

Sincerely,

First National has it!

Great Savings Plans

First National's Certificates of Deposit are the really wide range savings plan with excellent interest earnings paid on a quarterly basis. With a minimum $1000.00 you can earn:
5 3/4% per annum for 90 days to one year
6% per annum for one year to 2½ years
6 3/4% per annum for 2½ years
Rates on CD's of $100,000 or more are negotiated.

And First National puts your monies to work for you round the clock with compounded daily interest on regular savings accounts at 5% per annum. Interest is paid quarterly.

Federal Regulation permits full or partial withdrawals from time Certificates of Deposit before maturity, provided the rate of interest is reduced to the regular savings rate currently, 5%, and three months interest is forfeited.

Checking Accounts

Make it easy on yourself with a First National personal checking account. Regular checking accounts are free to those over 60, retired, regardless of age, handicapped or disabled persons, civic, fraternal organizations and churches. Many checkbook styles and covers are available.

Check-Save

First National will automatically deduct an amount you specify from your checking account and deposit it into your savings account every month with Check-Save service. Check-Save is our way of making regular savings easy and convenient for you. (There is no service charge for Check-Save.)

24 Hour Banking

At First National you can bank 24 hours a day with Pat, our personal automatic teller. All you need is a First National Master Charge Photo Card or a Pat card to:
- Make cash withdrawals from your Master Charge Account, your checking account or your savings account up to $100 in a 24 hour period.
- Make deposits to your checking or savings accounts.
- Transfer funds from checking to savings, savings to checking or Master Charge to checking.
- Make a loan payment by deducting from checking or savings accounts, or by depositing actual cash or check.
- Pat provides you with an instant receipt on all transactions.

We Have It

We have all the services, knowledge and desire needed to be a real help in all your banking requirements. First National also offers expert and highly professional trust services and investment counseling. All of these services, plus many more, have combined to make the bank that grew up with Martin County a truly complete, quick and convenient place to handle all your banking affairs. Sun Banks new All-In-One® Account. Because all of you asked for it*.

You asked to have your checks accepted without a hassle.

Even where nobody knows you.

With an All-In-One Account your Sun Bank check (up to $100) will be accepted for merchandise or services by hundreds of stores across Florida. And, of course, at any Sun Bank.

You asked for a way to get cash when the banks are closed.

In case you remembered at midnight that you forgot to get enough cash for the next day.

With an All-In-One Account you can get cash from your checking account at any Sun Bank 24 automatic teller across Florida.

Or you can perform 10 other banking transactions at your Sun Bank any time of the day or night, 365 days a year.

You asked for lower finance charges on installment loans.

So you can save money when you borrow money.

With an All-In-One Account you can get a 10% discount on the regular finance charges on any standard consumer installment loan, except student and/or Simple Interest Loans.

You asked for a loan you could write yourself.

Because when you want to borrow money you don't want to come down to the bank and fill out a lot of forms.

With an All-In-One Account you can become your own banker by simply writing a check up to your credit limit, and you've got your loan.

You asked for a way to keep your checks from bouncing.

Because you're human and sometimes make mistakes.

With an All-In-One Account you can't bounce a check because you're always covered (in $100 increments) up to your credit limit.

You asked for a way to buy without paying cash.

With All-In-One, depending on which Sun Bank you bank with, you get a Master Charge card or BankAmericard, if you want one.

You asked to write a pile of checks without paying a pile of charges.

With an All-In-One Account you can write as many or as few checks as you wish, at no extra cost. And no minimum balance required.

You asked not to be charged for personalized checks.

An All-In-One Account gives you all the specially-designed All-In-One checks you need at no additional cost. Other styles are also available, if you prefer.

You asked for a way to help you save.

Because you know you should start saving.

With All-In-One, if you don't already have a regular savings account, we'll open one for you, put in the first dollar, and show you how to keep saving.

You asked us to make it easier to have U.S. Government checks deposited automatically.

To help prevent theft and fraud.

Sun Banks continue to encourage the automatic deposit of U.S. Government payroll, Social Security, active and retired military pay and other Federal Government checks.

With an All-In-One Account we'll cut the red tape, handle the annoying paperwork and automatically deposit the check to your checking or savings account.

You asked for banking services designed to fit your needs—not ours.

Services you could really use—like 24 hour banking, a way to have your checks easily accepted and unlimited check writing.

You also asked for lower finance charges on installment loans, no charge for personalized checks, plus a lot of other useful services.

And you asked that it not cost you an arm and a leg.

In other words, you asked for the most complete, most convenient bank account in all of Florida.

The All-In-One Preferred Account is everything you asked for. For only $2.00 a month.

At Sun Banks we give you what you ask for. All-In-One proves it.

MAIL THIS COUPON TO THE NEAREST SUN BANK LISTED BELOW.

Please send me the application for Sun Banks All-In-One Preferred Account.

No more bingo until October.

No, the directories did not arrive last Monday. The first delay was due to lost proofs, but they sure should be here anytime now.

At this writing, Luther and Mary Weeks are looking forward to the arrival of her sister Louise and husband Glen Benoit of Key West for a few days. Oh yes, less I forget, one of the main guests is their 80-pound boxer, Spike.

Ruby Wren wrote my neighbor Therese Wittnebert that she had had a nasty fall, flat on her face on the cement. She states "Of course, it had to be my right hand on which all the knuckles were gouged, two shiners, and many facial abrasions. Luckily, I did not have my glasses on. I have several cuts inside my mouth, quite painful, but I heal quickly, so I'll be as good as new almost."

George, Lynn and Kelly Cavanaugh of Satellite Beach, spent last week with the Gene Hokes. They enjoyed comparing Ruth and Gene's latest three-day trip of two weeks ago to the one they all made to the Bahamas two years ago, when the Jack Tar Hotel burned so badly that they all had to leave the day after arriving.

The Hokes said that their recent trip was very restful and enjoyable. The hotel has been rebuilt modern and very pretty.

A paddle boat tour took them out on the reefs where the water is 40 feet deep, but so clear that one can see the coral and marine life on the bottom. Several young fellows dived off the boat and brought back large starfish for souvenirs.

Of course, Ruth took her camera so you can probably expect a picture show soon.

Glad to receive a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fusco from Hendersonville, N. C., and to hear that Louise's broken ankle is doing real well. I quote from Guy's message to his shuffling friends. "I took third place in draw doubles consolation, then I came back to take first place in the mens single in the "B" division. Will see you in October."

How about this for a miracle? Bob Robinson took Tess to Stuart to her doctor who said, "Rush her to St. Mary's Hospital." She was in intensive care two days, a pacemaker was implanted, and she was taken to another hospital for observation and check up. Within a week I stopped by and she greeted me there at home, weak, of course, but doing remarkably well.

Our sincere apologies to Harvey and Vivian Hill of 20 SW Seventh Avenue here and Lancer, Michigan, who celebrated their FIFTIETH wedding anniversary on Sunday, July 28, instead of fifteenth, as printed.

We are thankful to Irene Coates for the notice of the death of Stanley Filkins on July 27, at the age of 86. He leaves to mourn their loss his wife Axie, one daughter, Mrs. Verna Velte of Sylvan Lake, and one son, Lyle D. Filkins of Ann Arbor. Mr. Filkins was a member of the Pontiac Unity Church, Michigan State University Alumni, Oakland County Engineering Society, Michigan Railroad Club, and retired over 17 years ago as Oakland County Deputy Drain Commissioner.

Anyone that was ever around Stanley much, loved him. He and Axie spent many winters here. Our sincere sympathy to his family.

Robbie and Ida Robinson of Fort Lauderdale have purchased the corner home at Broad and Fourth Ave. Robbie is a crane operator at St. Lucie Drainage Canal.

Fred and Bernice Malish took Mary Cassady to the airport Sunday. Mary flew to Baltimore to visit her nephew.

Erema Sackett was taken to Martin Memorial Hospital last Friday. Her husband Vic says she is resting nicely in the Hospital Annex, waiting for x-rays and tests.

ABCA meets Thursday

STUART — The monthly meeting of Animal Birth Control Association of Martin County will be held Thursday, August 8 at 8 p.m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Stuart.

Progress reports will be given on spay neuter programs for dogs and cats in the area as well as humane animal education, according to Mrs. Dorothy Butler, president.

A report will also be given on the new Animal Attic Thrift Shop sponsored by the organization to raise funds for animal birth control projects.

All persons interested in animal welfare are invited to attend.

For the Week of August 11-17

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Allow time to pursue your creative and artistic interests. Attend to the details of bookkeeping, accounts and bank records. Romance is on your menu too. Guard against impulsive speech or angry replies.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Accept changes at work pleasantly. Catch up on routine detail tasks. Take notes on important information instead of trusting your memory. A short trip is possible. A social affair brings you a new friend.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20)—Review the project carefully before presenting it to a higher up. Be concise and direct in your writings. Keep a curb on your temper; don't be sarcastic. Keep your cool during hectic activity periods.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22)—You're in high gear now. Launch projects. See those in high positions your magnetism is high. Be patient in the face of problems with mate or partner. Accept your own responsibility in the relationship.

LEO (July 23 to August 22)—You can attain your personal ambitions but don't ride rough shod over others. Be diplomatic and give an associate a feeling of importance, too. You are persuasive and can launch a new difficult project now.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22)—The help you give a friend at this time will make a tremendous difference in their future life. Let creative ideas germinate in your mind while you attend to more practical matters. Don't daydream.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22)—Il convenient. This is a good time for your vacation. Social life is active; you are in demand. You could hear of business opportunities now. Finish up all uncompleted tasks to be free for new beginnings coming up.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21)—You can get your breath now after recent hectic activity. Work in the background to accomplish the most. Enjoy your improved optimistic outlook on life. Curb independent attitudes with mate or partner.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21)—Assume your share of entertainment expense. You want to get out and about places of amusement and it costs money. An offer which makes possible the achievement of goals could come to you now.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—A serious, long-term commitment or partnership or marriage is forming now. Capricorns may decide to buy a home or real estate, build an addition to present home. Career is accented too.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Your social contacts now do not appear very rewarding—and are ultraconservative. Think carefully before lending money. You are emotionally oversensitive now and disappointments loom unrealistically large.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Business and profession are favored. Think in terms of service, honesty and lasting values. Have time by yourself to recoup energies. Clean up all tasks hanging fire and clear the desks for later action.

Your emotional, mental and physical cycles can be predicted so that you know which are your opportunity days, and which are your critical days. Biorythm cycles are figured on the basis of your birth date for information, write: Your Horoscope Guide, Copley News Service, in care of this paper.

FIT MANSION—A $50,000 grant has been approved for the renovation of the old Leach mansion at Florida Institute of Technology, Jensen Beach campus. Kresge Foundation of Troy, Mich., made the grant, and terms of the gift require that it be matched by other contributions. FITofficials plan a community drive to raise matching funds. The mansion, which commands an impressive view of Indian River, will be converted into a modern student center.

Artists of the month

JENSEN BEACH—Art Associates of Martin County exhibits for August will feature as Artists of the Month: Anne Callan, Al Termini, Faustena Fradd and Kay Ruppert.

Callan was born in Ireland and spent her early years in New York City. She now lives in Port St. Lucie, where she has her own studio. She studied at Queens College in N.Y., the Greenwich Village Workshop for Artists and Indian River Community College. She has traveled extensively and often attended sit-in classes in other countries to get the feel of their cultures. She has won many awards and had one-woman shows throughout Florida and New York. Her work is sought by collectors and a number of her paintings are owned by other artists. Her large, impressionistic canvasses are bold and imaginative in both color and subject matter.

Termini, vice-president of Art Associates, is a retired design draftsman who lives in Jensen Beach. He has a large collection of best of show and first place ribbons, has won a trophy and cash prizes. His "Sea Light" won a first place at the 1974 Martin County Fair. He paints six days a week in an effort to master his craft and reach his goal of national recognition. The ten paintings he is showing are evidence of his style development. "Salerno Fisheries" is traditional realist, while his new works, "Jupiter Lighthouse" and "House of Refuge" are cubist-realist. Termini's work, whatever the style, always projects a special quality of serenity.

Fradd is a resident of Port St. Lucie, where she originated the St. Lucie Country Club Art Workshop, was its first president and taught classes there for two years. She began her art studies in 1955 in Naples, Italy and one of her famous teachers was Commendatore, painter laureate under Emperor Victor Emmanuel. In this country she has studied with Turnbill for portraiture, Carlson for still-life and Preizer for watercolor. She won several firsts and seconds in New Jersey exhibits. Her "Portrait of a Siamese Man" won a first at the Martin County Fair. In the current show, she is hanging mostly floral still-lifes. She is definitely a realistic painter and her work is controlled and precise. As a departure from her usual style, she is showing her newest work, "Chrysanthemums."

Ruppert lives at Seagate, is a Pink Lady at Martin Memorial Hospital where she works in the gift shop. Many of the gifts are those she has made. Her ceramics have won ribbons at the Martin County Fair. She also taught ceramics in her Miami studio. She began painting in 1960, when she studied with Viola Stevenson at North Miami High, but she is mostly self-taught. She is currently showing her landscapes and flowers, but has included one of her favorites, a special portrait of a friend.

Gates to lecture on transcendental meditation

JENSEN BEACH—Steven Gates will give free introductory lectures on Transcendental Meditation at 8:00 p.m. on August 7 and 8, at the Harry Hoke Community Room on Commercial Street in Jensen Beach.

Transcendental Meditation, or TM, is a scientifically verified technique for gaining deep rest and unfolding full mental potential, according to Gates, who has been teaching TM for three and a half years in California and Hawaii. He is currently coordinating the West Palm Beach center for TM, and will discuss the latest scientific research completed at various institutions all over the world.

The public is invited. For further information, call 287-5668.

JENSEN BEACH Competition for the $175 first-place prize in the Jensen Lane's scratch doubles tournament was closer than ever Sunday, with Etta and Tony Rojt winning by 22 pins.

The Rojts combined for a 1092 to edge Fran Scanlon and Dan Arguimbau who finished with a 1070. They won the $75 second-prize payoff.

Five dollar winners for the highest games out-of money where Tom Casner with a 227 and Irene Matthews with a 221.

Shifts on Saturday and Sunday are a 2 and 4 p.m.

The Jensen Lanes Moonlight Tourney on Thursday was a sellout, and Casey recommended early signup for the increasingly popular event which pays cash for tumbling certain pins in certain sets.

Football registration is slated for Aug. 17

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Optimist are preparing for their third season of football in the Martin County Junior Football League.

To be eligible to play the boys must be born in the years 1959, 1960, 1961 for the Junior Division and in 1962, 1963 or 1964 for the Junior Division. The maximum weight with equipment is 130 lbs. for the Junior Division and 160 lbs. for the Senior Division. In addition, the boys must live South of Midway Road and North of the Martin - St. Lucie County line.

There will be one team in each division with 35 boys on each team. Registration is on the first come first serve basis. The first registration will be held Saturday August 17 at 9:00 a.m. at Sportsman Park. Registration will remain open at each practice after that until the Jamboree game or until the teams are full.

A parent or guardian must accompany each boy to the registration and must produce a birth certificate unless the boy played last year. The birth certificate will be kept for approximately 2 weeks for checking by the Martin County Junior Football League Player Agent. A like workout in shorts will be held at the 1st registration.

The registration fee will be $25 for one boy, $35 for two boys in the same family and $40 for three boys. No refunds will be made except in the case of illness or injury prior to the first game. For this fee, the boy will receive a free physical examination, insurance and all necessary equipment except shoes and practice jersey. The registration fee is payable upon registration.

The Martin COunty Junior Football League will consist of teams from Palm City, Stuart, Jensen Beach, Port St. Lucie, Indian Town and Port Salerno. Each team will play one game a week and all games will be played on Saturday evenings.

The Optimist hope to have lights installed on their new field in time for play this season. If not, they will play at Jensen Beach's Langford Park.

Veteran coaches Ken Johnson, Chuck Heinnold and Chuck Nergard are returning to coach the Junior Division while Dick Coffee and Dick Roullo will try to repeat last years success with the Senior Division.

Dr. Jack Webb will provide free physical examinations at 9 a.m., Sunday morning, August 25 at the CESA building on Prima Vista Boulevard, in Port St. Lucie.

Boys not having their physical at this time will have to get the physical at his own expense.

Tindreau wins at gang

PORT ST. LUCIE—Arthur and Yvon Tindreau attended last week's session of the Friday Nite Gang for the first time in a couple of years and took home the first prize merchandise certificate.

Rec. Cedric Bess announced the resignation of Dave Gessner as recreation director at the Marina to accept the position as executive director of the St. Lucie YMCA.

He went on to explain that what is now the Friday Nite Gang was the first organized effort of the Marina under the name of Game Night, and Gessner was the host. Later, this program, as were many others was taken over and continued by various organizations and clubs of the community.

Bess said he hopes the Gessners will be able to attend the next Gang session for a parting party. Whether they will be able to make it or not, Bess, for the gang, wishes to "take this means of thanking Dave for the courtesy and assistance he has rendered over the many years he has been here, and to wish him all the luck in the world in his new position."

Saints and Sinners rained out again

PORT ST. LUCIE—Once again the Saints and Sinners summer league was rained out on Tuesday evening. The Saints were shuffling in true professional style and rumors were rife around the courts that they would be the victors that night. However, their efforts went down the drain when the rains came.

Barbara Outwater's slides and commentary on a trailer caravan in the Canadian Rockies was appreciated by all. An unusual aspect of the show was that it was all seen and experienced through the eyes of her dog "Missy". Donations amounted to more than $40 which was applied toward the balance due on the court shelters.

On Thursday night the loyal Petticoat League players turned out in full force only to be rained out after the first game. Leone Hett, publicity chairman, says "Do not be disheartened - y'all turn out next week."

Players are reminded that roll call on Tuesdays for Saints and Sinners at 6:00 p.m. and play begins promptly at 6:30. Thursday night roll call for the Petticoaters is 6:15, play to start at 6:30.

New members are welcome and accepted at any time.

Rains slows golf tournament

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Port St. Lucie Women's Golf Assn. have renamed their "July Tournament" the "Summer Tournament." They hope to get it off the ground in August. This will be a handicap tournament with a qualifying round for positions.

Because of course renovations and the rain, only two weekly tournaments were held during the month of July.

On July 16, the total score on Par 3's and Par 5's was the play with the following winners. First Flight had Kay Boaz low with 33; Edie McDaniel, Ruby Johnson and Elsie Evans with 35 and Sylvia Barmell had 36.

Second Flight had a tie for first with Angie Lobrutto and Betty Grills with 30, followed by Addie Hannum with 33 and Alice Jensen and Irene Helmer both with 34.

Charme Bramley starred in Third Flight with 32. Dorina Tanner, Doris Harvey and Donna Conk each had 33. Gladys VanHulle, Nell Ortlepp and Elfrieda Wochatz also tied with 34.

Fourth Flight was topped by Lil O'Beirne with 30, followed by Esther Wilcox and Jean Doscher with 37 and Lou Zinter finished with 38.

Fifth Flight was won by Bea Jahn with 32, second place by Betty Preston and Betty McDonnel had a 33. Because of the heat, 18 players had to drop out.

A Scotch Foursome was played on July 23, with ½ combined handicaps. Helene Collins and Alice Hanna were low with 72. Clara Woodruff and Mary Jane Gates were close behind with 73½ and they were chased by Fran Victor and Kleese Evans only ½ point behind with a 74.

Dorina Tanner and Marge McChesney had a 75. Marge had to play partners with two gals that day: only a threesome showed up.

Wilma Leary and Kay Boaz came through with a 75½, while Betty Preston and Charme Bramley finished with a 76.

Tied at 77½ were Ruby Johnson and Audrey Docos and Lil O'Beirne and Cora Rudock. At 78 were the teams of Addie Hannum and Betty Grills and Helen Porteous and Flora Kimmel.

William Sauer is home on leave

PORT SAINT LUCIE—ETN3 William H. Sauer, USN, of 214 Solar Avenue, Port St. Lucie is currently home on leave until August 16, 1974. He joined the Navy under the provisions of the Delayed Enlistment and Advanced Electronics Program in March of 1973 and went on active duty last August.

Upon completion of basic training, he reported to the Guided Missiles Schools, Dam Neck, Virginia Beach, Virginia, for Polaris Electronics fundamental school. He was automatically advanced to Electronic Technician 3rd Class last February which is a feature of the AEF Program. In May, he graduated and reported to Basic Enlisted Submarine School at New London, Connecticut, where he learned fundamentals on submarine technology and terminology. He finished last month.

His next assignment will be to the Naval Submarine Training Center Pearl Harbor for Missile Technician School. Upon successful completion of this school, he will be a Missile Technician 3rd Class and will be ultimately working on submarines associated with Polaris-Poseidon missiles.

July top $1 million mark

PORT ST. LUCIE—According to the figures obtained through the office of the building inspector, construction permits topped the $1 million mark for the month of July.

Accounting for $300,000 of that total was one commercial permit issued on July 30 to Florida Power and Light for the construction of a new service center. The new center will be built on a ten acre tract located in the Industrial Park area.

There were 36 residential permits issued during the month for a total of $731,128.

Permits were issued for eleven additions totaling $36,035.

Construction figures for the first seven months total $7,019,628. Last year, for the same period, the permits issued surpassed the $11 million mark.

PSL resident joins Navy

PORT ST. LUCIE—Richard Anthony Boehm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Boehm of Aldea Court, Port St. Lucie, has enlisted in the U.S. Navy. Richard enlisted in the two year Navy Reserve Program for training as a Boiler Technician. He is now attending 8 weeks of Recruit Training at Orlando. Upon completion of boot camp, Richard will be attending 9 weeks of school at Great Lakes, Ill. prior to going on to Great Lakes he will have up to 14 days leave.

PORT ST. LUCIE—Airman Peter M. Taffner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Taffner, 133 W. Prima Vista Blvd., Port St. Lucie, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base.

Taffner has completed basic training at Air Training Command's Lackland AFB, Texas.

VOL. 1 NO. 22 AUGUST 7, 1974 10¢

CLEANUP—Dave Gessner spent a busy week cleaning out his desk and tying up any loose ends at the port St. Lucie Marina. Gessner has resigned as recreation director in Port St. Lucie to accept an appointment with Indian Riverland YMCA as executive director. Gessner will assume his new duties Aug. 12.

After 15 years

Gessner resigns to accept YMCA position

PORT ST. LUCIE—After fifteen years as recreational director for General Development Corporation in Port St. Lucie Dave Gessner will resign to accept an appointment with the Indian Riverland YMCA in Fort Pierce. His resignation will become effective August 9.

Gessner, in accepting the appointment as executive director, will replace Miguel Pat Harris, who resigned in June to take a position with the Savannah (Ga.) YMCA.

"I will leave here with mixed emotions," Gessner said. "After all, I've been in the same office and on the same job for that many years, you make a lot of friends. I have enjoyed working with the people here in the community and I will miss them."

Coming to Port St. Lucie in 1959 with his wife and four children, Gessner was not only responsible for setting up the recreational programs in the area but was instrumental in the organization of many clubs.

Being somewhat reluctant to take credit where credit is due, Gessner was quick to point out that he had a lot of help during these years.

"No one could accomplish these things alone," he said.

Looking back, Gessner recalled some of the key programs to get underway were the little league, the teen club, men's basketball, tee ball, and the organization of the swimming teams.

"Now that time the Port St. Lucie Optimist Club has taken over the boys activities and are doing a tremendous job," he said.

The angles club and the Friday night bingo sessions were also among the starters in the community. Gessner called these bingo games for several years until Cedric Benz, the Friday Night host took over.

"The only organization in full swing at that time was the Rio Linda Garden Club," he said.

Another of Gessner's recollections from the early days spent at the Port St. Lucie Marina were the alligator catches. Anglers of all ages would seek his assistance in releasing the unwanted catches.

"You know when the marina was first opened, there were many gators in the waters here. The anglers would cast out a lure and it was not uncommon at all for an 8-inch gator to latch on to it," he said. "With the increased activity in the area, the gators have moved to the more protected river spots."

Aside from his duties as recreation director, Gessner also served as vice-mayor of the City of Port St. Lucie from 1964 to 1967.

"Dave Gessner's years of experience in effectively administering a successful recreation program and his familiarity with this area and its people will be a tremendous benefit to the YMCA and the people it serves," said the executive board of the YMCA in naming Gessner to the post.

The new executive director will assume his duties on August 2.

Gessner is a native of Reading, Pa. and a graduate of Catawba College in Salisbury, N.C. Mrs. Gessner is a teacher in the public school system. They reside in Port St. Lucie.

Controversial roads okay

PORT ST. LUCIE—A rosy picture of progress on the new Port St. Lucie Elementary School was forthcoming Tuesday when the county commissioners agreed to accept the soil cement roads offered by General Development Corporation.

There had been some question as to whether the county would accept the controversial soil cement roads as offered by the developer. When completed, GDC will turn the roads over to the county for maintainance.

Two streets were involved are: Irving Street, which would extend north from Prima Vista Boulevard between the Spartamans Park and the Lutheran Church; and Marion Street which would serve as the east-west access off Irving and in front of the new school.

Although the county commission agreed to approve the soil cement in this particular instance, they said that it is substandard to the presently required lime-rock base roads.

However, a critical shortage and problems in getting lime-rock cited by both the commissioners and GDC which would stall the opening of the school in January because the roads couldn't be built in time.

School Supt. D.R. Seelinger and the developer argued that there wouldn't be excess traffic on the roads to the school, while they agreed that soil-cement roads stand up best under heavy traffic.

Commissioners stressed that a variance to General Development on the soil cement should not be considered an invitation to other developers to come in with proposals to build roads with bases unacceptable under the county road building policies.

Even though the excessive rain in the area has caused some delays in the construction of the school, Seelinger is optimistic about the progress.

"So far we have not lost too much time," he said. "The steel work is progressing and the general contractor for the second phase has moved on the site.

"We have utilized the rainy weather to get things organized. As a matter of fact we have warehoused much of the second phase contractors materials for him so that with a break in the weather everything will be set to move ahead immediately," Seelinger added.

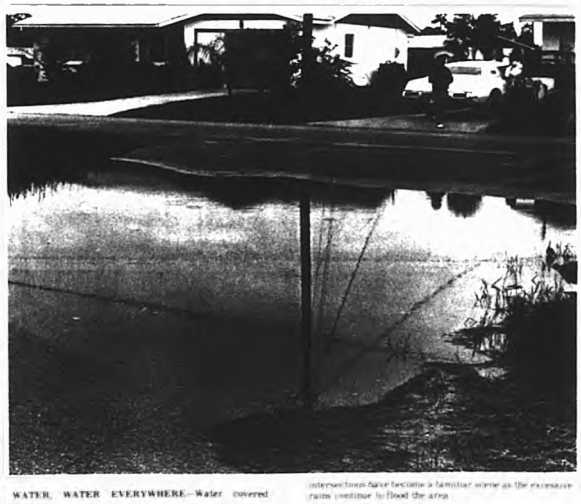
He also pointed out that they are moving ahead establishing the new school.

Victor Blackmet, the principal will have his office temporarily located at the dan McCarty Middle School.

The children will be assigned to various schools throughout the county with their teachers. They will attend the White City Elementary, Dan McCarty Middle, St. Lucie Middle and some will be housed at the Fort Pierce Elementary.

When the building is completed, hopefully in January, it will be just a matter of picking up and moving into the new buildings, Seelinger said.

St. Lucie County Schools will open August 26 and the schedules will be released probably within the next week to ten days.



WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE—Water covered intersections have become a familiar scene as the excessive rains continue to flood the area.

GDC takes GDV control

PORT ST. LUCIE—General Development Corporation has announced the incorporation of GDV Financial Corporation as a wholly-owned subsidiary to underwrite, process and fund mortgages for homebuyers in the firm's communities and throughout Florida.

Louis E. Fischer, president and chief executive officer of General Development, said GDV Financial Corporation will be headed by Lawrence W. Farmer, president and chief executive officer. Louis H. Perkin will serve as executive vice president.

"GDV Financial will be primarily involved with first mortgages as a key service designed to meet the demands of increased sales of homes, condominium apartments and mobile homes," Fischer said, "creating a new profit center in our recently established Financial Services Division."

The financial subsidiary will be a full service mortgage banker handling every stage from initial application through closing. GDV Financial will service mortgages for institutional investors, savings and loan associations, savings banks, commercial banks and others.

Prior to joining GDV Financial, Farmer was president of Rexford National Corporation, the mortgage banking division of The Lurie Group of Beverly Hills, California. Previously, he was vice president of the mortgage division of the United California Bank in San Francisco.

Perkin comes to the new company from Levitt and Sons, Inc. of New York where he was vice president in charge of mortgage financing. With more than 25 years of experience, he has participated directly in the financing and placement of mortgage loans both residential and commercial in excess of $1 billion.

There are currently more than 50 financial institutions engaged in mortgage lending in the areas of General Development's communities.

The establishment of this service will assure the continuity for home buyers throughout the state at competitive rates, Fischer said, and provide home buyers with firm commitment on mortgage interest rates at the time of purchase rather than being subject to changes and increases before closing.

Prima Vista to be improved

PORT ST. LUCIE—General Development Corporation officials met with the St. Lucie County Commission on Tuesday to formulate plans for improvement of Prima Vista Boulevard, at an estimated cost of $3 million, which would include four-laning the road.

As soon as the city-wide traffic engineering study, now in progress, is completed, General Development will consider moving with the county on the project, according to General Manager Robert Smiley and other General Development officials.

The county has already accepted responsibility for maintenance of a bridge running from U.S. 1, and General Development is attempting to get the county to take over the maintenance of the whole road.

As a preliminary step, General Development will immediately initiate improvements on the road from Units 4-10 including placing rip-rap under the bridge, replacing broken sidewalk, repairing embankment; repairing damaged guard rails on bridge, and reconstruction of two bridges.

Other improvements planned include installing storm water inlets at pavement, placing or lengthening outfall drainage pipes, four foot walks on the side of the road, and replacing concrete spillways.

Included in the $2 million figure in addition to four-laning, are an eight foot bicycle path alongside the road and a five-foot concrete sidewalk on the south side. Costs of pavement construction, right-of-way acquisition, and curb & gutter construction were listed in the estimate by County Engineer Andrew Heiseth.

FP & L's $300,000 center starts

PORT ST. LUCIE—Construction is expected to start immediately on the $300,000 FP&L service center in Port St. Lucie.

The new facility will be situated on a 10-acre tract located in the Industrial Park. The center will provide storage for equipment and a headquarters for directing the various construction and maintenance crews.

The contract has been awarded to the Miami firm of Baumgartner Construction for an amount in excess of $300,000, according to Pete Litaker, district supervisor for FP&L.

"The new center will service the area north of the Roosevelt Bridge and allow us to increase our services in the Port St. Lucie area," said Litaker. "The center is needed to handle the population growth between service centers located on Stuart and Fort Pierce."

Litaker said the one story CBS structure would be built on the inside perimeter of the property, leaving a 50 foot strip of natural growth surrounding the building.

"We ended up with not enough natural foliage around the construction site so it will be necessary to add trees in order to provide adequate screening," Litaker added.

The 10 acre tract, which was bordered on three sides by the City of Port St. Lucie, was annexed by the city at the request of FP&L in March.

The tentative completion date for the construction of the new facility has been stated for March, 1975. Operations at the new center will begin with approximately 50 men.

GDC revenues at 1973 levels

PORT ST. LUCIE—General Development Corporation has reported that total revenues and earnings per share for the first six months of 1974 continued on the level attained in 1973.

Total revenues for the period ending June 30 were $80,696,000 versus $80,897,000 for 1973.

Earnings per share were 58 cents in 1974, equalling the year ago period. New income was $5,481,000 in 1974 compared with $5,911,000 for the 1973 period. Average shared outstanding, assuming full dilution, were 9,456,127 in 1974 against 10,258,336 a year earlier.

Louis E. Fischer, president and chief executive officer, announced that while revenues from homesite sales declined because of general economic and industry conditions, this was an offset by increase in revenues from sales of residential housing, commercial operations, bulk land and interest income on contracts receivable.

Second quarter revenues totaled $38,239,000 against $43,412,000 in 1973. Net income was $3,585,000 for the three month period, compared with $2,831,000 in 1973. Earnings per share were 38 cents for the second quarter of both years.

YARD-OF-THE-MONTH—The yard of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Guzuick, 510 S.E. Anchor Lane, was selected by the Rio Linda Garden Club as the August yard-of-the-month. The beautifully landscaped yard reflects the interest of the owners. "I cant understand how people can put so much money into buying a nice house and neglect the yard," Guzick said.

Ruby Wren wrote my neighbor Therese Wittnebert that she had had a nasty fall, flat on her face on the cement. She states "Of course, it had to be my right hand, on which all the knuckles were gouged, two shiners, and many facial abrasions. Luckily I did not have my glasses on. I have several cuts inside my mouth, quite painful, but I heal quickly, so I'll be as good as new, almost."

George, Lynn and Kelly Cavanaugh of Satellite Beach, spent last week with the Gene Hokes. They enjoyed comparing Ruth and Gene's latest three-day trip of two weeks ago to the one they all made to the Bahamas two years ago when the Jack Tar Hotel burned so badly that they all had to leave the day after arriving.

The Hokes said that their recent trip was very restful and enjoyable. The hotel has been rebuilt modern and very pretty.

A paddle boat tour took them out on the reefs where the water is 40 feet deep, but so clear that one can see the coral and marine life on the bottom. Several young fellows dived off the boat and brought back large starfish for souvenirs.

Of course, Ruth took her camera so you can probably expect a picture show soon.

Glad to receive a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fusco from Hendersonville, N. C., and to hear that Louise's broken ankle is doing real well. I quote from Guy's message to his shuffling friends, "I took third place in draw doubles consolation, then I came back to take first place in the mens single in the "B" division. Will see you in October."

How about this for a miracle? Bob Robinson took Tess to Stuart to her doctor who said, "Rush her to St. Mary's Hospital." She was in intensive care two days, a pacemaker was implanted, and she was taken to another hospital for observation and check up. Within a week I stopped by and she greeted me there at home week of course but doing remarkably well.

hilbrick seeks illage rollback

ENSEN BEACH—A millage roll- and a trimmed capital outlay ...t is the goal of Martin County ...missioner Ross Philbrick. ... list of things have got to be ... the District 1 commissioner ...

...rning to the capital improve- ...n budget presented Monday by ...inistrator Jack Nobel which ...luded $750,000 for a new administra- ...building. Philbrick said, "I don't ...ve we need to budget it all this ...

...And I think we can build it for ...n less than that figure, and have ...ything the voters can be proud of." ...ilbrick questioned some of the ...ems requested in some depart- ...s, especially the building and ...ning departments.

...e said he wanted to see qualified ...ilding inspectors receive higher pay. ...e said there should be some new ...s in the building department."

...n the commissioner said he ...ld be willing to take a "hard look" at some of ...e contract services in the planning ...partment.

sland zoning is rejected

ENSEN BEACH—By a 3-2 vote, ...rtin County Commission last week ...ected a proposal which would have ...ited development on Hutchinson ...land to one unit per acre. ...mmissioners defeated rezoning the ...d into the new coastal residential ...ne which would require the ...mission's permission to build ...thing but single-family residences ...the island.

...pproved, the measure would have ...anged the 10-year old land use zoning ...the island.

...e change had been recommended ...the consulting firm of Peat, ...rwick Mitchell and Co., after a ...prehensive study that began last ...ember.

...e new measure would have sharply ...ited island land speculation by ...ting land use to single family ...ellences in one area, and all ...artment and commercial develop- ...ments would have to go through a complicated review process.

Commissioners Ross Philbrick and John Kiernen opposed the measure when it was previously proposed, voted against the measure again.

Commissioner Ed Glucker and Timer Powers who favored the measure when it was proposed previously voted for it again.

However, Commission Chairman Dr. Edward Geary, who voted for the measure the last time it came up, voted against the measure this time.

"We need less controls," Dr. Geary said.

Dr. Geary said the new zoning would have resulted in "Too much control."

Commissioners are expected to take another look at county planning at a work session Aug. 21.

Dr. Geary gives island views

ENSEN BEACH—Concern over the ...ment of Hutchinson Island was ...ssed by Martin County Commis- ...Chairman Dr. Geary.

"I believe it (the island) should be ...loped in a manner that will assure ...mum public welcome access, so ...e and our children will always ...w what the ocean looks like," Dr. ...ary told the members of the Martin ...unty Builders Association.

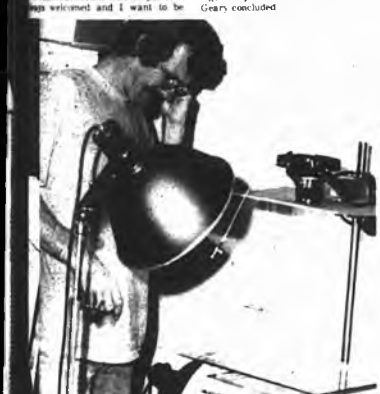
...e is very concerned with the ...e of development on Hutchinson ...land, for of the 22 miles of ocean from ...rtin County, only the six miles of ...e 30 Hutchinson Island has the ...ic "welcomed sign out," the ...mission chairman told the associa- ...n members Tuesday night at ...anda Inn.

"I want to be certain that the public is ...ays welcomed and I want to be certain that the hard work of the save our beaches committee to acquire access is not set aside by no trespassing signs," he continued.

Dr. Geary noted that if the people don't believe this can happen, they should visit Jupiter Island and see how much of the ocean is opened to the general public.

"Just north of Bridge Road on Jupiter Island the federal government owns 900 feet of ocean front that is leased to the Florida State Park Board. This Sunday take your family for a picnic lunch to this publicly owned land and see how public it is.

"I don't think we should zone Hutchinson Island for the exclusive use of the rich. I believe it should be developed in a manner that will assure a general public welcomed access," Dr. Geary concluded.



PROBLEM AREA—Staff members at the Environmental Studies Center are producing audiovisual materials with their own cameras and some makeshift equipment. Staffer Dennis Clark is doing a little head scratching in his small work area.

"Inflation is taking its toll as many ...ers have increased from 10 to 30 ...t over last year," Jay Jarrett ...d.

...e to the rapid increase in ...ation cost, the center director is ...g a call for donations in materials ...volunteer help.

"We need audiovisual materials and ...ment," Jarrett said. "Also, we need ...p to help with line drawings."

...Staff members use their own ...eras, and they have built equipment for producing audiovisual products, according to the director.

Jarrett points out that the $146,054 budget is mostly for salaries and fixed expenditures.

"About 90 percent of the budget is for salaries and other necessary expenditures," he said. "Only $8,000 is for materials."

The need for children games was noted by Jarrett. "The children use the games mostly during lunch break," he said.

Two boats have been donated to the center for use in studying the Indian River area, and the visual aids have aided in helping the children to study their environment, according to Jarrett.

Community Federal planning December opening in Jensen

JENSEN BEACH—The Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Washington, D.C. granted Community Federal Savings and Loan Association permission to establish a "limited" branch office in Jensen Beach. The approval came July 17, 1974.

The office will be located at 1170 N.E. Commercial Boulevard, (currently 405 Commercial Street). This is the south west corner of Savanna Road and Commercial.

According to Robert F. Crowell, president of Community Federal Savings, the office will open for business in late December or early January, 1975.

In granting the "limited" branch office facility to Community Federal, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board stipulated that it be limited to 4 full-time employees and that a capital investment of not more than $285,000.00 for the property, building and equipment be extended.

A substantial business already exists in the Jensen Beach area, according to Crowell. The latest figures he has available indicated Community Federal has in excess of $14.6 million in savings deposits paying from 5¼ percent to 7½ percent a year.

In addition Community Federal has made mortgage loans in the area that now total more than $16.5 million.

In contrast to the figures that existed at the time of application, which was July, 1973, a substantial growth has occurred. The application figures indicated about $10.2 million in savings deposits and $12.3 million in mortgage loans for an increase of $4.6 million in savings and $4.2 million in mortgage loans for thus slightly more than one-year period.

SPADE WORK—Shovel in hand, Commissioner Ross Philbrick, left, digs a hole for a tree to be planted on Commercial Street. Philbrick, after he had turned it down, was the first order of business as County Commissioner Ross Philbrick welcomed the announcement that Community Federal Savings and Loan would open in Jensen Beach. At left is Bob Cromwell, president of Community Federal.

Tree removal insures road improvement

JENSEN BEACH—If it is allowed to grow, the giant ficus tree at Commercial Street and South Savanna Road could be a beauty. But it has been a thorn in the side of the improvement of South Savanna Road. From Commercial Street to the south end of Legion Heights.

All that is changing with the announcement that Community Federal Savings & Loan Association will be opening an office on the southwest corner of the intersection, and plans to move the tree to a site where it can spread to grow.

One of the first acts of Robert Cromwell, president of Community Federal, in announcing the approval to establish such an office, was to get together with County Commissioner Ross Philbrick to make arrangements to move the tree.

Richard Newson, commander of Jensen Beach American Legion Post 126, told The Mirror the post would be happy to have the tree installed in the Legion Park at the rear of Legion post home. It will offer shade for the many social activities of the post in the outdoor picnic area.

The tree will be moved as a part of the landscaping program of Community Federal's new building.

The removal of the tree will also help in the repaving improvement of the road, planned by the county before the end of the year.

Philbrick said that the county plans to repave the road at a cost of about $10,000 while working with the state for the ultimate rebuilding of the entire road. Rights of way are being acquired for the state. An additional ten feet of right-of-way is needed to meet state standards of eighty feet for the project.

Philbrick praised Community Federal for its "community pride and good neighbor policy in donating and moving the tree."

2,827 registered voters in Precinct 1

JENSEN BEACH—Martin County Precinct 1 Jensen Beach has a total of 2,827 registered voters, more than any other precinct in the county.

Supervisor of Elections Mrs. Sandra Randolph has released the breakdown of voter registration by precincts.

In Precinct 1 there are 1,452 registered Democrats, 1,196 Republicans, 130 independents and 49 other parties.

Other precincts in County Commission District 1 include:

Precinct 2 - North River Shores area - 701 Republicans, 527 Democrats, 56 independents, 24 other parties for a total of 1,308.

Precinct 14 (Ocean Breeze Park) 173 Republicans, 115 Democrats, 6 independents, 10 other parties.

Precinct 15 (Rio) 324 Republicans, 310 Democrats, 21 independents and 6 other parties.

Democrats have an edge on Republicans, 11,697 to 10,123, and there are 964 registered independents with 389 registered in other parties for a total of 23,171.

Those totals compare to 1973 registration figures of 10,802 Democrats, 7,685 Republicans, 740 independents and 248 other parties for a 19,475 total registration.

The voting locations in District 1 include Langford Park fieldhouse for Precinct 1, Presbyterian Church for Precinct 2, Ocean Breeze Community Hall for Precinct 14, and Rio Civic Center for Precinct 15.

Kiwanis nominates officers for 1975

JENSEN BEACH—Dr. Richard Q. Penick has been nominated to serve as president of the Jensen Beach Kiwanis Club for 1975, according to a report by E.F. Warrheim, chairman of the nominating committee.

Penick will replace Bob Mayer as president.

Nominated as vice president was Jack Scranton. Neil MacMillan was named secretary and Chin Chew Get was named treasurer.

The election will be a formality with an installation banquet to be held in the fall.

FAMILIAR SCENE—Mothers with their children at school offices are a familiar scene these days as preparations are proceeding toward the first day of school, which is August 26 at Jensen Beach Elementary School. Checking on registration are Mrs. Robert Elder, of 63 Myrtle Ave. Jensen Beach with her two children Brandie, 6, who will be in the first grade and Robbie, 10, who will be in the fifth grade. Providing the information is Mrs. E.R. Rathgeber, school clerk.

Schools will begin Thursday in county

JENSEN BEACH—Another school year in Martin County will get under way this week, and there will be in-service programs and an airplane ride for teachers before the children's classes begin.

The year begins Thursday, August 15 at Martin County High School when School Supt. James Navitsky talks to the assembled teachers.

Elementary school teachers will gather Aug. 20 at Jensen Beach Elementary School, according to Principal Dale Clark.

And Clark said that other worksessions will be held before Jensen Beach Elementary students report Aug. 26.

"We expect about 600 students in kindergarten through grade five," Clark said.

Some 80 new county teachers will take an airplane ride over the county on Saturday, Aug. 17.

Of the 27 teachers for Jensen Beach Elementary, there will be only one new teacher this year, it was reported.

Because the sixth grade was moved from Jensen Beach Elementary to Stuart Middle School, the school has four fewer teachers.

With the approximately 600 students, Jensen Beach will open to near capacity, but school official said "we'll have some breathing room."

Classes at the high school, which will be on double session, will begin Aug. 19, and classes at the middle and elementary schools begin Aug. 20.

CHAIRMEN—Vince Bocchino, president of the Jensen Beach Optimist Club, confer with committee chairment recently at the Langford Park Club house. Committee chairment appointed are: Dave Deci, community service; John Clyde, membership; L.D. Kirkpatrick, program director; Pete Howanitz, youth activities; Russ Hughes, uniforms and sports equipement; Charles Areni, registration; Dick Johnson, insurance; and Bob Moussou, publicity.

Optimists announce football registration

JENSEN BEACH—The Optimists Club of Jensen Beach announced today that registration for Jensen Beach boys who wish to play football will be held this Saturday, August 17, and the following Saturday, August 24, at Langford Park Recreation Hall from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Boys born in 1958-60-61 will play in the upper division (weight limit 140 lbs.)

Boys born in 1962-63-64 will play in the lower division (weight limit 130 lbs.)

Each boy must bring his Birth Certificate as proof of age. Registration fee is $15.00.

Practice begins August 19th.

Letters to the editor

DEAR DR. GEARY,

Now that you have decided to run for commissioner for a second term, I feel you should make an appraisal of the social and economic conditions that are now affecting the people of Martin County.

In view of the firm grip the Ecology movement has on certain segments of all county government, it is doubtful much effort will be made to bring the following information to either your attention or the public's, especially just before election time.

The socialistic-type changes that have been brought about in the name of ecology during the past year and a half, have not come cheaply and have now reached the point where real hardships are being felt by many.

As an official representing the Democratic Party, the party traditionally the champion of the WORKING MAN, You should pause and reflect on the results of the actions of the present county commission and some of the county staff.

I have carefully checked into and can provide verification on all of the following facts: (Based on comparative periods 1972-1974)

1 Crime is up
2 Unemployment is up
3 Food stamp sales up almost 100 percent
4 Repossession of autos, appliances etc. up
5 Foreclosures up
6 Welfare up
7 Business failures up
8 Property and land values are falling
9 Rental units are standing empty.

One does not need to be an Einstein to see that the price of ecology as it is being put forth in this county is expensive in terms of social and economic problems to say nothing of the financial costs that ultimately come back to each of us in the form of increased taxes.

It is a well known fact that the financially well-off (who are heavily represented in the ecology group) and the chronically poor are not particularly affected by these conditions. It is the people in the middle, the working man and the business man, the real backbones of the community who are being hurt.

A small but very vocal portion of the retired persons in the county selfishly do not want any more growth. They forget that most of them prior to their retirement, had families to support, kids to raise and get through school and savings to put aside so They could retire comfortably. Stopping growth has not solved out problems, it has created them.

Many of us in the construction business were here years before most of these people arrived. Some of those who squawk the loudest are among the most recent to reach the scene.

It seem strange these people do not realize that the construction business is to Florida what the automotive industry is to Michigan. If either goes into a depression ALL other local business suffers, be it a restaurant, furniture store, appliance shop, real estate man or the fellow who sells pots and pans. The net result ends up snowballing into more unemployment and more depression.

Now. There are those who will jump up at this point and claim that these are not just local problems but also nationwide. This may be true to some degree. Those of our county government who are quick to try and rationalize our problems with the above thinking are suffering from deep guilt feeling and do not want to admit they may have been the real cause of what is happening here. No one in his right mind can deny that many projects in this county were, and are still being held back from materializing by the existing county government. This has been accomplished by denial, delay, cut backs in legally established densities or any other hare-brained excuse they could come up with to keep a project from getting under way. Most of the projects at the time they were presented had the advantage of ample mortgage money at rates much lower than today's ridiculous highs. There is no point in going into depth over the tremendous increase in building material costs as a result of the fuel shortage. It is sufficient to say projects that could have started a year earlier are now having to pay through the nose.

One would think the above mentioned actions would be enough to slow building down. But no! The planning and zoning department forces absurd and unrealistic demands on developers. Some so unrealistic they leave no doubt the demands were the products of juvenile minds that have never had to cope with the realities of life. But for the actions of the present commission and staffs, Martin County could well be today the brightest spot in Florida's economy instead of the darkest.

As a Democrat, I am strongly supporting you in the primary election. I have seen your opponent in action and the one thing we no Not need is Another dictator who is married to the ecology movement.

I feel sure most of the people of this county believe in the basic concepts of our American system, such as freedom of enterprise and rights of possession. Tamper with these rights and we will be on the road to communism or worse.

I am not an anti-ecologist as I can prove by various projects I have been involved in since first coming to this county in 1953, but I do object to the 'steam roller' tactics ecologists are using to gain their objectives.

Remember sir, you are a Democrat. We need to get back to the Jeffersonian Principles on which our party was founded.

Very truly yours,
Barclay M. Ivanoff

Blood bank is established

STUART—A new blood bank account has been established at Martin Memorial Hospital to help meet the specific requirements of local cancer patients.

Mrs. August Malfregeot, chairwoman of the blood bank account for the Martin County unit of the American Cancer Society, says there is an immediate need for sixty pints of blood. She explains that the normal cost to a patient for a pint of blood is about $35. The cost is reduced to $10 per pint on blood made available through the account.

The establishment of the account means that the local cancer society need no longer be dependent on larger metropolitan areas if an adequate supply can be accumulated locally.

Each pint donated and credited to the American Cancer Society represents a pint that can be released by the local unit to a cancer patient. Each credit lasts indefinitely until used. However, Mrs. Malfregeot anticipates the demand to exceed the supply. Donors are urged to contact the blood bank soon and be sure to mention that the blood is to be credited to the cancer society.

Blood may be donated at Martin Memorial Hospital Mondays from 12 noon to 8 p.m., and Tuesdays from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Further information is available by calling the local cancer unit at 287-7487.

Rural route mail delivery extended

JENSEN BEACH—A liberalization of rules that will bring mail delivery service for the first time to more than 100,000 rural families has been approved by Postmaster General E.T. Klassen, Postmaster Harold Saltzer said today.

The new rules will benefit families served by rural routes out of the Jensen Beach Post Office, Saltzer said.

"Under previous criteria, the Postmaster said, "rural delivery extension could be made only if at least one family was benefited for every seven-tenths of a mile a rural carrier had to go to serve to box and return to his normal line of travel.

"But the Postmaster General has increased the acceptable route variance to a mile, thereby enabling us to provide home delivery to many additional families."

Postmaster Saltzer said the rule change was a further indication of the Postmaster General's "deep concern that we provide good mail service to all our customers."

Adult classes registration

MARTIN COUNTY—Adults of Martin County have their choice of more than fifty courses offered by the Adult Education Department, Martin County Public Schools, at six school locations in the county.

The classes will be conducted at Martin County High School, Jensen Beach Elementary School, Murray Middle School (Port Salerno), Jduantown Middle School, Stuart Middle School, and Murray Annex, beginning the week of September 3.

Registration will take place at each of these schools from seven to nine p.m. Tuesdaym Wednesday, and Thursdaym September 3 through September 5.

Courses to be offered include:

Adult Basic Education which is designed for adults with less than eight years of schooling. Instruction is provided in reading, writing, arithmetic, civic and consumer information. Instruction is highly individualized to meet the differing needs of each adult student. There is no registration fee for this course which is offered as a community service.

Adult High School Diploma Programs in which a diploma may be awarded as a result of credits earned in class and-or by testing.

The Credit Program is designed for students 16 years of age or older who are legally separated from a regular school program.

In the Credit Program, credits are earned by attending class and satisfactorily completing course requirements in English, Mathematics, Science, Social Studies, and eight electives chosen from academic, business, vocational, or enrichment courses.

Adults eighteen years of age or older who have been out of school six or more months may enroll in the High School Equivalency (GED) Program.

In the GED Program, "brush-up" courses in English, Literature, Social Studies, Mathematics, and Science prepare asults to take a state test in these subjects. Students passing the state tests receive a high school diploma from the State Department of Public Instruction.

Business Education Courses offered by the Adult Education Department include ABC Notehand, Gregg Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Typing, and Key Punch.

English as a Second Language is offered for adults who know little or now English.

A variety of enrichment and cultural courses, ranging from art, and gourmet cooking, to psychology and photography, are available.

Driver Education, Health and Safety Education, First Aid and Medical Self-Help are amoung the many community service courses offered.

A course in Florida Real Estate License Law is offered at Martin County High School.

For adults who like to work with their hands, courses in auto mechanics (including Powder Puff Mechanics for Women), radio and TV repair, woodworking, general shop and sewing are conducted.

Health Occupations Courses include a nurse aide course offered in cooperation with Martin Memorial Hospital, ward clerk, and medical terminology.

Registration fee for classes held at a school campus range from $1.50 per subject each semester for high school credit courses to $2.00 per course for most enrichment courses. Driver Education, gourmet cooking, and a number of other courses require a higher fee.

Students are required to furnish all materials and textbooks.

Information about these and othe adult education classes may be obtained by calling 287-1600 weekdays.

STUART—The Community Services Division of Indian River Community College is presently presenting a beginners drawing class being held at the Roseman Site in Stuart. The class meets every Thursday from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and is instructed by Ms. Trudy Burns. There is no fee for this course.

V.F.W. news

BY CHUCK BENDER

Post 10066 was happy to have another visit from State Commander Jack Petit, who consented to come help us honor our little league Bronco Champions.

At awards ceremonies, the ball players were presented with arm patches along with a picture of the team. The team manager, Pete Bowzic, was awarded a desk set fashioned like a baseball glove. A party followed the awards.

Again we say thanked boys, you did a terrific job.

The Sons of the V F W will meet on September 7. Commander William Banks said attendance at the last meeting was down because of vacations. He expects the boys will all be back for the September meeting.

With vacation time coming to a close we will concentrate on membership once again. We did a good job this past year. Now we have to carry on to prove it wasn't a fluke. The State has set our quota at 310 and we would like to accomplish this by Veteran's Day. As you probably know all members that pay their 75 dues by Veteran's Day are Early Birds. This also includes new members, so let's really get with and show them that it can be done.

As I have stated previously, if every member brings one new member we could easily double our membership.

We have received word that the membership dues will go up one dollar. Because of the rise in prices throughout the country, the national organization needs the increase. It will however be voted on at the national convention. "Early Birds" will miss the dollar increase.

The next meeting will be on Thursday August 15 at 8 p.m.

The auxiliary will hold their meeting August 21 at 8 p.m.

Lloyd Baker has scheduled a meeting of district Cootie officers for Sunday August 18 at 2 p.m. He says the refreshments are on him. I think he said barbequed ribs.

SERVICE OFFICERS REPORT
BY GEORGE HODGE

Montana has become the 16th state to approve payment of a bonus to veterans with Vietnam Era service.

In general, payments of this bonus will be made as follows:

1. Payment will be made to those veterans having served in Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, Thailand and the adjacent waters. The service dates to be eligible are from 1-1-61 to 5-31-73.

2. Each resident of Montana who was in military service at any time during the Vietnam was, and during part or all of the period of such service was in the Vietnam area, will be granted the sum of $18.75 for each month and major fraction of a month of such service in the Vietnam area.

3. Any serviceman who, while on active duty in the Vietnam area during the Vietnam war, suffered disease or injury from any cause and in line of duty, and is hospitalized therefore by any of the militars forces, shall be deemed to have been in militars service in the Vietnam area as long as he shall be, or was, continuously hospitalized.

4. Any serviceman who was taken prisoner by the enemy in the Vietnam area, and who was classified by the Department of Defense as a prisoner of war, shall be deemed to have been in militars service in the Vietnam area as long as he shall be, or was, continuously so classified. Each such prisoner of war shall be paid not less than $750.

5. A person who has received a gratuity, bonus or similar payment for militars service in Vietnam from any other state, shall be paid by the State of Montana only the excess, if any, in over and above the amount he receives, or is entitled to receive, from such other state.

6. No payment shall be made to any person who has been dishonorable discharged from militars service and has not been restored by proper authorities to an honorable status, or to any person still in service who is in a dishonorable status and has not been restored by proper authorities to an honorable status.

VA RAsies Mileage Rate for Beneficiaries—A two-cent a mile raise in travel expenses for beneficiaries went into effect June 1, 1974 the Veterans Administration has announced.

Increasing the travel rate from the previous six-cents a mile to eight, is expected to cost $1 million for each penny of the trained mileage. This means more than $2 million a year for beneficiary travel. The lower rate had been in effect since October 1968.

Auxiliary card party

JENSEN BEACH—Barracks 854 WWI Veterans Auxiliary reported a good turnout for their August 7 card party.

The special prize was won by Edna Ives. Door prize winners were Edna Ives, Edith Snook, Margaret Tracy, Ruth Staton, Julia Callahan and Nancy Wright.

There will be another card party on Thursday, September 12, at Sangford Park with Julia Callahan serving as chairwoman.

The public is invited.

25th anniversary in Hawaii

JENSEN BEACH—Mr and Mrs Ray McKenzie of 734 Media St., Jensen Beach, will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary August 21st, with a 2 weeks trip in Hawaii. 650 attend

GDC employees enjoy fun filled weekend

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Hilton Resort was a beehive of activity as General Development employees gathers to take part in Employee Weekend.

Over 650 attended the annual affair sponsored by GDC for the firm's Miami employees and their families, according to Robert Seeley, general manager of Port St. Lucie.

The agenda offered something for everyone. Activities included everything from tennis tournaments, golfing, swimming, ping pong, and biking to just plain relaxing under the towering palms bordering the pool.

The evenings were highlighted with dining, dancing and included a Las Vegas night.

MMM-GOOD—That is exactly what ice-cold watermelon is on a hot day a group of children participating in a contest. Pictured above are the children of GDC Miami employees attending the annual employee weekend at the St. Lucie Hilton. Over 650 attended.

YOUNG ARTIST—Tracy Perez is well on her way to becoming a budding young artist at the Lutheran Vacation Bible School in Port St. Lucie. There were 160 four children enrolled in the [illegible] session.

PSL bible school... just for kids

THIS IS ALL YOU DO—Terri Cappiello seems to be showing Amy Horner just how easy it is to stay inside the lines. Both children are attending the Lutheran Vacation Bible school.

ATTENTIVE GROUP—Donnie Miller, Jeffery Engledow and A.J. Boustead are three very attentive boys—at least while they are attending the Lutheran Vacation Bible School in Port St. Lucie.

CONCENTRATED—There could be little doubt in anyone's mind that Todd Charest was engrossed as he listens to his teacher. Todd is attending the Lutheran Vacation bible school.

$22 million increase in property valuation

PORT ST. LUCIE—Although there has been a big increase in property valuation the residents of this south county community can expect the millage to remain the same.

According to Franklin Beardsley who heads the city finance committee the St. Lucie Tax Assessors Office indicates the gross taxable value for 1974 is $96,683,960. The figure represents an increase of $22 million over the previous year's figure of $74,124,730.

James Bass, St. Lucie County Tax Assessor told the finance committee that an assessed millage of 3.042 would generate the same amount of money which the city collected in ad valorem taxes in 1973.

Even though the millage has not yet been established it is expected to remain at the 13 assessment.

When we made the first assessment to the residents of the city it was at 3.1 mills a figure we have never changed Beardsley said. I see no reason for change next for probably the next five or six years.

Beardsley emphasized the need to build a surplus pointing out several reserves which the city hopes to include in the new budget.

A reserve is needed for the construction of a new city hall which one day we are going to have to build he said.

Other reserve items which Beardsley mentioned were the new fire station the cost of the reserve vehicle estimated at $25,000 mosquito control for the city and eventual street maintenance.

The finance committee agrees that it is better to build up a surplus by maintaining the 13 millage rather than to have to hit the population with a 10 mill cap in the future, he said.

The finance committee is working with rough figures only and there is nothing definite at this point, Beardsley added.

The completed budget will most likely be presented at the first council meeting in September. Should there be any tremendous objection, and the council feels it should be changed, the committee will consider those changes at that time.

The final budget will then be passed on the second meeting in September.

The new fiscal year will start October 1.

Gang Snooper has easy night

PORT ST. LUCIE—At last week's session of the Florida Note Gang, the Snooper could come up with only one culprit and one lovebird. Sally Arditrim, Brooklyn, N.Y., guest of the Hedricks was the visitor.

Jim Walters originally from Akron, Ohio, was the welcome first timer.

Annette Allison was the lucky winner of the mere hairline certificate.

The regard for farewell parts for the Lewsters didn't come off because Dave Jones getting ready to move to a new job was unable to attend.

Voting strength moving south

PORT ST. LUCIE—Voting power in St. Lucie County is shifting to the south end as the Port St. Lucie area and south Hutchinson Island develops, there will be more cloud from electors in Precincts 11 A, B and C.

And on Hutchinson Island, Supervisor of Elections James Brooks has established a brand new precinct, No. 15, and there already are 206 registered voters—133 Republicans, 29 Democrats and 22 independents.

Voters in the new precinct will vote at Holiday Inn Recreation Hall.

Brooks has released the latest voter list, and in the south county area the totals include:

Precinct 11, Walton Community Hall 163 Republicans, 163 Democrats, 11 independents for a 341 total.

Precinct 11A, Port St. Lucie Marina, North Port St. Lucie—1,479 Republicans, 1,306 Democrats, 183 independents for a total of 2,968.

Precinct 11B Spanish Lakes Recreation Center—377 Republicans, 318 Democrats, 36 independents for a total of 731.

The second largest precinct in St. Lucie County is No. 10 with 2,833 registered voters with Precinct 7 third largest with 2,195.

It is interesting to note that both precincts No. 7 and 10 are in south Fort Pierce—No. 7 at 2011 South 13th Street at Trinity Lutheran Church and No. 10 on South Fourth (U.S. No. 1) Street at the American Legion Hall.

The largest precinct, of course, is No. 11A with 2,968 which is in south county at the North Port St. Lucie Marina.

There are 26,886 registered voters in St. Lucie County—18,228 Democrats and 7,581 Republicans and 887 independents.

Republicans, however, are in the majority in the south county precincts.

Some folks say to me, "More folks vacationed this year, didn't they?" The next person will say, "Not as many went north this year, did they?" Let me say, many are not staying away as long as formerly.

Ocean Breeze News Notes

BY LETA KEITH

334-4366 6 Vista Drive

Imagine my surprise when I saw headlines in the Sunday paper "Mackinac Gasless Island." A local law forbids automobiles. Everyone gets around by horse-drawn taxi, bicycle or shank's mare. There are two drive-in restaurants one caters to bicycle riders the other to horse-drawn vehicles. The State Road 185 rings Mackinac Island (like can get there by taking a 30 minute ferryboat ride or by driving over the world's longest suspension bridge which was opened to traffic in November, 1957. Mackinac Island must be a nice place to visit, with the clean fresh air and no mosquitoes, but it wouldn't be a good place for me to live with eight fudge factories.

I received a lovely letter from Alfred Pape. "This is to thank you for your personal note regarding the death of my wife Harriette. Your note gave my address which resulted in much sympathizing mail and some money. The money has been donated to the American Cancer Society as a memoriam to Harriette. It was a revelation to learn that we had so many friends in and outside of the park who cared. I have been greatly comforted and appreciate everything that was done. Sincerely, Al Pape."

Excerpts from a letter to Gene and Ruth from Ernie and Marion Curwen of Franklin, N.C.

"Lots goes on around here, like O B P. Never a dull moment. And you know what? If something happens at one end of the park, it's known at the other end, before one can say 'Rumor, rumor, what's the truth of it all?'"

The Burks, Claude and Peggy are fine. Peggy has her bridge and Claude has his garden and berry picking. Myers, Tess and Ted, ex-O B P ers are just great. Tess square dances at every chance and Ted repairs this and that in his workshop. We haven't seen the Muldoons, Toni and Tom, since early June, as my Marion says. Never agin on that rocky, lumpy, gravel road to their cottage by the gurglin' brook. The Fifields drop by often, both just as chipper as ever. Joe and Ruth Reed got a new all electric 12 X 60 American Mobile Home and put it on a lot in our section. They just came in yesterday so are not set up yet.

The other day we took a jaunt over to Hendersonville to see Pappy Snyder. Of course he was out as usual, eat 'n' run that's Pappy! But we did have a swell visit with Veronica. She gave us the $5 tour of the park. We found most of the Ocean Breezers. The Sheehy's, Ed and Martha. Martha's shufflin' day and night to win many trophies. I'm not so good at remembering names but we said hello to Gene Fisher, the Barretts, Fuscos, Winnie and husband, even the preacher of the mock funeral that Ruth got so well on movies. Saw 'em all."

We have two dances a week here on Wednesday and Saturday nights, dancing both square and round. Last Thursday, young Ernie got on his Galapagos Islands, Incas of Machu Picchu and Arazon Jungle slide show. Folks said it was mighty fine.

I must add, "Hurry back, Ernie and Marion. We miss y'all so."

Orie and Nellie Schaubach of Crewe, Va. have four home-made Japanese beetle traps which they say have been "extremely successful" in ridding their lot of the pesky bugs. The trap consists of a plastic gallon milk jug inserted into a 46 ounce coffee jar. In the top of the milk container some granular beetle bait is held between two pieces of screen wire. This bait draws the beetles into the milk container which has cut out sides and they drop into the coffee jar and can't get out. At regular intervals the jars are emptied into a bucket of kerosene which kills the bugs. The Schaubachs report that the baited traps have been highly effective and if enough of the traps were erected in the area it would greatly improve the Japanese beetle problem.

1 package (3 oz.) instant cream cheese (use dairy sour cream)
confectioners' sugar
½ teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
2 cups sweetened sliced strawberries, about 1½ pints whole

1. Soften cream cheese in small bowl; then beat until fluffy. Stir in sour cream, sugar and pumpkin pie spice until well blended.
2. Spoon alternate layers of cream cheese mixture and strawberries into six parfait or juice glasses, dividing evenly. Garnish each with a tsp. cream cheese mixture, if you like.

Rummage Sale this Sunday

JENSEN BEACH—Thousands of items have been gathered at the Langford Park Recreation Building for a "Giant Rummage Sale" next Sunday, August 18, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club of Stuart.

Proceed from the sale will go toward community projects undertaken by the woman's club, and for maintenance of the park and athletic equipment for ball teams of the Jensen Beach Cubs Association, according to Verna Zorr, publicity chairman.

LEVITY—Kermit Tucker assisted in sizing up rummage merchandise, but couldn't help hamming it up a little for a Mirror camera.

NIGHTY-NIGHT—With most of the material prepared for the Junior Woman's Club benefit rummage sale this Sunday, Dick Price decided that it was time to go night night, modeling this bedtime attire.

Singles sweeper

JENSEN BEACH—The change of format from doubles to singles in last weekend's action at the Jensen Lanes was A-OK with Herb Krammer.

The Stuart concrete contractor bowled out a weekend with games of 229-198-191 for a 206 pins over his average in the new event. He picked up the guaranteed first place prize of $100.

Steve Horton with a combo of 173-162-213 finished with a 548 and his 95 pin margin over his average netted him $90. Bob Antos surpassed his 163 average by 82 pins to win the third spot. His set was a 217-173-181—571.

The ladies stepped into the spotlight with fourth place going to Maureen Casey who topped her 153 average by 72 pins. Mrs. Casey recorded games of 213-145-173 for a 531 block.

Tied for fifth were Cheryl Hulick and Irene Mathews. Cheryl rolled a 500 with a high game of 187 and Irene a 530 with a 193 her top singleton. Both were 62 pins over.

High scratch set out of the money for the women was a 502 by Delores Poenessa and Tom Casner hit a 595 to win the men's $10 prize.

Jensen Lanes Owner-Manager Len Casey, buoyed by the larger turnout said the "Singles-over-your-average" action will continue on Saturdays and Sundays with shifts at 2 and 4 p.m.

DPC moves

Septic tank problems are referred to state

PORT ST LUCIE Relief is in sight for those residents in the north Port St Lucie area who have been plagued with septic tank problems due to poor drainage and excessive rains

The wheels started spinning when a group of affected residents filed affidavits with the State Department of Pollution Control

Within the past week over twenty notarized affidavits have been filed with the DPC after residents complained of the "no-action policy" on the part of the developer, General Development Corporation

Paul Closer, acting director of the regional office of DPC said, "We (DPC) are right in the middle of this two fold problem"

He explained that the inoperative septic tanks were the responsibility of the Health Department while the improper drainage is under the jurisdiction of DPC

It is a chain reaction drain fields flood out due to the improper drainage of surface water and as a result the septic tanks back up

According to Closer General Development Corporation intends to cooperate with the requests of DPC

"I have been assured by Louis Mendez, manager of Utilities Engineering with General Development Utilities, that an effort is being made to have these people on to the mini-sewer system"

Closer pointed out however that in as much as the mini-sewer system was put in on a very small basis, DPC has requested specs

These specs will be gone over very thoroughly by DPC engineers to make sure the whole mini-system is not just a slapdash. It is his belief the system will be found to be in order and I do not expect any problems, but it will take a few weeks," he said

"I think GDC will go ahead with the mini-system work

Once the DPC engineers okay the mini-sewer specs Closer is confident GDC will move right along with the mini-system work He does not anticipate the necessity of court action at this time

"GDC is now in the process of expanding the North Port plant to two million gallons The plant now has a capacity of 200,000 gallons Work on this expansion is to start immediately

As soon as the plant expansion has been completed," Closer said, "we will expect GDC to commit themselves to sewering certain areas At that time we will ask for a time schedule on that phase

As to the charges for the individual homeowner to hook up to the system, Closer said, "That is not my ball game and it is not up to me to say, but in a log of those places GDC is obligated to provide utilities and I would suspect they will have to fulfill that obligation

Closer described the mini-sewer system as being a two compartment septic tank with a small pump which pumps the effluent to the sewer plant.

"The mini-system is a temporary thing but certainly should provide an immediate relief to the drainage problems in the area," he said

As the second step, Closer concluded, we would like to get GDC to commit themselves to hooking the main sewer lines in these areas

A group of concerned residents in the North Port area headed by Frank Rose turned to the Department of Pollution Control as a last resort when it was apparent GDC would not discuss the matter

All the residents seemed to get was a brush off by GDC officials Rose said

According to Rose after the affected residents had organized he placed a call to Robert Seeley, GDC's Port St Lucie general manager to request a meeting

When Mr Seeley did not return the call it could only be assumed he did not want to meet with our group At that point we had no other alternative but to turn to DPC Rose said

Lions Club is organized

PORT ST LUCIE It could truthfully be said that the Port St Lucie Lions Club got off to a roaring start

Organized just two weeks ago, the club has an initial membership of 27, and is expected to be one of the most active clubs in the Port St Lucie area

Bill Strout has been elected as the club's first president

"We are extremely pleased with the number of members and their interest" Strout said

Other officers elected to serve are Ron Stutz, secretary, and Frank Tallant, treasurer

The first meeting of the newly organized club was held at the home of Strout, 812 Ash Street

Although we do not have a regulare meeting place at this time," Strout said "we have an application before the CESA board requesting a room at the community center complex

The group will meet on the first and third Wednesdays at 6:30 p.m. Those interested in joining should contact Strout, 878-3546

Montessori Pre-school opens September 3

PORT ST LUCIE—The PSL Methodist Church announced the addition of a Montessori pre-school to their 1974-75 Christian program

The school will meet a vital need in our community, said Reverend P. Dean Rowe, Pastor. "There is no other pre-school accepting children under age 5 in our community

The Methodist school will accept children 3½ years of age. Any child regardless of race, color, or creed, may apply, but the enrollment will be limited to 30.

We are fortunate to have Mrs. John (Barbara) Martin to direct the school. Mrs. Martin lives at 308 Camino Ct. with her daughter, Beth - 8, and son, John - 5. "We are members of our church," Rowe said.

Mrs. Martin presently teaches the kindergarten class on Sunday mornings and serves as our Family Life coordinator. She has a degree in Home Economics from the University of Miami and has had nine years experience in Christian education.

"She worked in the pre-school department at two former churches in Miami, Florida, and comes highly recommended," stated Brown.

Mrs. D. Jason Hawke and Mrs. Janice Soroda both certified Montessori pre-school teachers from Fort Pierce, will also be on the staff for the school year which will begin Sept. 3.

Mrs. Hawke attended Stetson University and the New England Conservatory of Music where she received Applied and Church Music degrees. She previously was affiliated with two Montessori schools in New York City and Vero Beach. For the past two years she has been head teacher at the Wee Wisdom Montessori School of Fort Pierce.

Mrs. Soroda has a degree in English from Sacramento State College. She attended the past year as an assistant teacher at the Wee Wisdom Montessori School in Fort Pierce. She is presently employed as an instructor in Child Guidance Services at I.R.C.C.

All three teachers have completed requirements for the Montessori Pre-School Training Course taught by Dr. Elizabeth Caspari, general Director of Education of the Montessori Institute of Florida," said Brown.

Mrs. Martin in explaining the system said, "The Montessori method of education is the means for reaching our children, to guide each child toward developing his fullest potential. One of the special features of the Montessori school is that each child receives his instruction individually and each is allowed to progress at his own rate. The slow child is not forced, nor is the gifted child held back.

"There will be a complete set of Montessori pre-school teaching materials available at the school. These teaching materials cover five basic areas of learning - motor education, sensorial education, language development, early preparation of the mathematical mind and liberation of the spirit.

Mrs. Martin and Brown both expressed appreciation to the church's planning committee who helped to start the school.

Serving on the committee were: Vaughn Lewis, Chairman of Education; C.H. Pickinger, Chairman of Finance; Roy Black, Chairman of Trustees; Mrs. Joe Ada; Haines, President of United Methodist Women; Church School Teachers, Mrs. Frank Ann Watts, Infants and toddlers; Mrs. "Skip" (Linda) Heckendorn, Nursery; and Miss Sheryl Higbee, Elementary 1-2.

PORT ST. LUCIE. The first football registration will be held Saturday, August 17, at 9:00 a.m. at Sportsmen Park. Registration, which will be on a first-come-first-serve basis, will remain open through the afternoon and evening until the teams are full.

Boys who reside in the area south of Edwards Road and north of the Martin-St Lucie County line are eligible to participate. The Senior Division will be made up of boys born in the years 1960 and 1961. The Junior Division is for boys born in 1962, 1963, 1964. Maximum weights with equipment have been set for the divisions: 130 pounds for the Juniors, 150 pounds for the Seniors.

There will be one team for each division with 35 boys on each team. Registration fee is $25 for one boy, $35 for two boys in the same family, and $40 for three boys. Fees cover a free physical examination, insurance, and necessary equipment except for shoes and practice jerseys.

The free physicals will be given at 9 a.m. Sunday, August 25 at the CESA building. Boys not having their physicals at this time will have to get one at their own expense.

A parent or guardian must accompany each boy to the registration, and birth certificates will be required unless the boy played last year. A light workout in shorts will be held at the first registration.

The optimists are hoping to have lights installed on their new field in time for this season's play. If not, they will play at Jensen Beach's Langford Park.

Schools are assigned for PSL children

PORT ST. LUCIE—Due to the delay in construction of the new elementary school, Port St. Lucie children will find their schedules to be a little more than somewhat varied this year.

According to school Supt. Dr. K. Seelinger, the children with their teachers will be assigned to various schools throughout the county until January when it is hoped the new Port St. Lucie Elementary School will be completed.

On August 26 the Port St. Lucie students will report to the following schools:

Kindergarten and first graders will be assigned to White City Elementary, White City.

Second graders will report to the east wing of Fort Pierce Elementary, Delaware Avenue, Fort Pierce.

Third and fourth grade students will be assigned to the St. Lucie Middle School, South 13th Ave.

Fifth graders and Victor Blackmer, the principal, will be stationed at the Dan McCarty Middle School, Mississippi Ave.

Daily school sessions will commence at 8 a.m. and end at 2:30 p.m. for all grades from Kindergarten through the eighth.

Central High School will have split sessions. 9th graders will attend from 7:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

The tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades will be in session from 7:30 a.m. til 12:30 p.m.

School bus routes will be explained in detail in the next issue of the Mirror.

Labor Day plans announced

PORT ST. LUCIE—Plans for the Labor Day Festivities to be held at the Port St. Lucie Marina are going forward.

Starting at 10 a.m. there will be a bake sale, white elephant sale, and a raffle table for special gifts.

The pool will be open all day to everyone, courtesy of General Development.

Bingo, with money prizes, will begin at 2:00 p.m. Approximately 50 special prizes will be given away during the bingo game to lucky gasoline stub holders. It will be necessary to be present to win special prizes.

A years supply of gasoline—500 gallons—will go to the luckiest gasoline stub holder. Gasoline tickets will be on sale all day, or may be purchased in advance.

The complete Chicken Barbeque dinner will be served beginning at 4:30 p.m. and running until everyone has been served. Remeber - "No Ticky, No Chicky."

V.F.W. news

BY CHUCK BENDER

Post 10066 was happy to have another visit from State Commander Jack Petit. Petit consented to come help us honor our little league Bronco Champions.

At awards ceremonies, the ball players were presented with arm patches along with a picture of the team. The team manager, Pete Rosantiz, was awarded a desk set fashioned like a baseball glove. A party followed the awards.

Again we say thanked boys, you did a terrific job!

The Sons of the V.F.W. will meet on September 7. Commander William Banks said attendance at the last meeting was down because of vacations. He expects the boys will all be back for the September meeting.

With vacation time coming to a close, we will concentrate on membership once again. We did a good job this past year. Now we have to carry on to prove it wasn't a fluke. The State has set our quota at 310, and we would like to accomplish this by Veteran's Day. As you probably know, all members that pay their 75 dues by Veteran's Day are "Early Birds." This also includes new members, so let's really get with and show them that it can be done.

As I have stated previously, if every member brings one new member, we could easily double our membership.

We have received word that the membership dues will go up one dollar. Because of the rise in prices throughout the country, the national organization needs the increase. It will however, be voted on at the national convention. "Early Birds" will save the dollar increase.

The next regular meeting will be Thursday, August 15, at 8 p.m.

The auxiliary will hold their meeting August 21, at 8 p.m.

Lloyd Baker has scheduled a meeting of district "Coolie" officers for Sunday, August 18, at 2 p.m. He says the refreshments are on him. I think he said barbequed ribs.

SERVICE OFFICERS REPORT BY GEORGE HODGE

Montana has become the 16th state to approve payment of a bonus to veterans with Vietnam Era service.

In general, payments of this bonus will be made as follows:

1. Payment will be made to those veterans having served in Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, Thailand and the adjacent waters. The service dates to be eligible are from 11-61 to 3-31-73.

2. Each resident of Montana who was in military service at any time during the Vietnam was, and during part or all of the period of such service was in the Vietnam area, will be granted the sum of $18.75 for each month and major fraction of a month of such service in the Vietnam area.

3. Any serviceman who, while on active duty in the Vietnam area during the Vietnam war, suffered disease or injury from any cause, and in line of duty, and is hospitalized therefore by any of the military forces, shall be deemed to have been in military service in the Vietnam area as long as he shall be or was continuously hospitalized.

4. Any serviceman who was taken prisoner by the enemy in the Vietnam area, and who was classified by the Department of Defense as a prisoner of war, shall be deemed to have been in military service in the Vietnam area as long as he shall be or was continuously so classified. Each such prisoner of war shall be paid not less than $750.

5. A person who has received a gratuity, bonus or similar payment for military service in Vietnam from any other state, shall be paid by the State of Montana only the excess, if any, in over and above the amount he receives, or is entitled to receive, from such other state.

6. No payment shall be made to any person who has been dishonorable discharged from military service and has not been restored by proper authorities to an honorable status, or to any person still in service who is in a dishonorable status and has not been restored by proper authorities to an honorable status.

VA Raises Mileage Rate for Beneficiaries—A two-cent a mile raise in travel expenses for beneficiaries went into effect June 1, 1974 the Veterans Administration has announced.

Increasing the travel rate from the previous six-cents a mile to eight, is expected to cost $1 million for each penny of the trained mileage. This means more than $2 million a year for beneficiary travel. The lower rate had been in effect since October 1968.

Auxiliary card party

JENSEN BEACH—Barracks 854 WWI Veterans Auxiliary reported a good turnout for their August 7 card party.

The special prize was won by Edna Ives. Door prize winners were Edna Ives, Edith Snook, Margaret Tracy, Ruth Staton, Julia Callahan and Nancy Wright.

There will be another card party on Thursday, September 12, at Langford Park, with Julia Callahan serving as chairwoman.

The public is invited.

25th anniversary in Hawaii

JENSEN BEACH—Mr. and Mrs. Ray McKenzie of 734 Media St., Jensen Beach, will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary August 21st, with a 2-week trip in Hawaii. The McKenzies have lived in Jensen Beach for 17 years and have owned and operated Mac's Market for the past 14 years. They have one daughter, Mrs. Shirley Milton, and a son, Ronald McKenzie, with one granddaughter.

Duplicate bridge

JENSEN BEACH—On Monday August 5, there were ten tables in play with an average of 108 for North-South and 108 for East-West.

Rallies, picnics

Campaign '74 has it all

BY CHARLES CATES

JENSEN BEACH-Political campaigns usually include rallies, picnics and a whole lot of handshaking.

The 1974 campaign has it all, and then some, including a court battle on a candidate's eligibility.

If the demand for absentee ballots is any indication of voter interest in the Sept. 10 primary, then there will be a record vote.

Supervisor of Elections Mrs. Sandra Randolph, said Tuesday that her office had issued 192 absentee ballots, and has requests for 150 absentee ballot applications.

We started issuing the ballots last Thursday, Aug. 15, and the deadline for receiving absentee ballots is Sept. 9, the day before the primary," Mrs. Randolph said.

Mrs. Randolph said that probably one reason for the unusual number of requests is the fact that one candidate is running a remainder on his campaign literature that absentee ballots can be obtained from her office.

In the 1972 primary," Mrs. Randolph noted, "there were 183 absentee ballots counted for Democratic candidates, 92 Republican candidates and 122 for non-partisan judicial."

Candidates have been expressing their views on a variety of subjects at rallies, including dumping of Lake Okeechobee water through the St. Lucie Canal, controlling growth on Hutchinson Island, etc.

Some state-wide candidates have come through the county on Sandefur King tours, and others will follow before Sept. 10.

The Republican Party in Martin County is going to sponsor a picnic Saturday, Aug. 24 on the Jensen Beach Causeway, beginning at 1 p.m., and all the local candidates are expected to be there, for breaking of bread and handshaking among friends.

Also, candidate for governor Jerry Thomas is expected to attend the rally sponsored by the Republican Women's Club and Executive Committee. Secretary of State candidate James Sebesta of Tampa, Terrance in Hillsboro County is slated to be at the rally.

Residents planning to attend are asked to bring their own lunches and the picnic is open to the public.

In the county's 11 unopposed county commissioner candidates' Republican vs. Ed Lambeth Democrat.

Gluckler lined up against Lambeth and the Martin County commissioner saying his right to a face-to-face battle with Lambeth, including Lambeth's refusal to debate Gluckler on certain state laws, when he failed to appear at Mayor of Sewall's Point, a non-partisan judicial.

Japanese students visited county

JENSEN BEACH--Students from Japan toured Martin County last Friday, visiting the House of Refuge and Elliott Museum and other sites.

And then the five students, part of the Lions Club student exchange program, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jennings, of Indian River Drive, to discuss the program with two girls who visited Japan two years ago as part of the program.

Mrs. Linda Grimes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jennings, and Nellie More, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck More of Ft. Pierce visited Japan living with three different families during their visit two years ago.

The Japanese students, all college age, have been living with area families for the past five weeks. They are Kumiko Yumoto, Tokyo; Sonoe Matsui, Kyoto; Keiko Sato, Sendai; Kenichi Nagaoka, Takasaki; and Shigeyuki Takahasi, Chiba.

The exchange student program started in 1971, More said. We sponsored five students that year and were host for eight.

We are going to expand our program in 1975, and sponsor six students from each division and host about 20 students.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS: The Lions Club sponsors a student exchange program with Japan, and this past week five students from Japan visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jennings on Indian River Drive. Seated, from left, are Nellie More, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck More of Fort Pierce who took part in the program two years ago. Kumiko Yumoto, Sonoe Matsui and Keiko Sato. Gravel on lot cuts grass

JENSEN BEACH Cutting grass is a chore, and even a riding mower won't ease the pain during the rainy season. Grass grows faster than hair on the back of your neck.

There is one way to check grass growth and that is pave the lot and let cars park on it.

Norris Tilton owns the lot on Commercial Street just west of Jensen Beach Bank. Tilton says he is tired of the grass growing so he is placing some gravel on the lot and provide for some more parking.

NEW TEACHERS: Joining the staff at Jensen Beach Elementary School are these two new teachers, Ralph Clark and Laura Alcott. A native of Martin County, Clark will be physical education and dance instructor, and Laura Alcott will be speech consultant for superior activities instructor.

Savanna Road work is near

JENSEN BEACH Improving South Savanna Road is not too far away, according to County Commissioner Russ Philbrick.

Philbrick noted that the county has received a $7,000 bid for resurfacing about a half mile of the road.

And the state is apparently moving ahead with permanent work on the road.

Philbrick said that if the county does the work it would be a temporary resurfacing project like the recapping of the Jensen Beach Causeway Road.

However, if the state takes over it would widen the road, provide drainage and improve the intersection at Commercial Street, according to the commissioner.

We are holding off on taking any action until we see what the state does, Philbrick said.

He pointed out that a right-of-way was still needed on the east side of Savanna Road.

If the state doesn't take some action in the near future the county will move ahead with the project. "I hope the county can do a good repair job," Philbrick said.

ING UP—The addition at Martin Memorial Hospital is well under way, and when construction is completed there will be more rooms to take care of the patients. A bond issue is being used to finance construction

Ten years ago in The Mirror

Pictured on Page 1 were Mirror coloring contest winners 6-year-old Kathleen Wheeler and 10-year-old Ricky Christensen.

The walls were going up on the new Jensen Beach Community Church sanctuary. Hopes were that the building would be completed in time for the approaching winter season.

Expected Martin County school enrollment for 1964-65 was 4000 students.

"Sails All Over the Place" headed the August 20, 1964 Fishing Report.

Following like action by the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce, the Martin County Commission voted to send a resolution to Rep. Bill Owens asking that the new Jensen Beach bridge be named the Frank A. Wacha Bridge.

JBCC to increase staff

JENSEN BEACH-Jensen Beach Community Church looks toward meeting the religious-social needs in this rapidly growing area. The plant enlargement of community rooms and dialogue rooms has been completed. Recently the official board, chaired by Dr. James Harrell, gave unanimous approval to increase the church staff. The senior pastor, Don Johnson, was empowered to select a committee, prepare a job description, enlist candidates for the position of Minister of Education.

This added function covers concern for Christian education at all age levels, from cradle to retirees. Every facet of the church and community life is included from Day Care Center, Church School, youth groups, younger adults, parents, senior citizens—all phases of religious education is contemplated through teaching, conferences, seminars, home study groups.

At the close of worship service on Sunday, August 25, a social hour is scheduled in the church Fellowship Hall. This event is to introduce Rev. William Kincaid and wife, Tami. They are at present serving a pastorate in Illinois, but indicate interest in the local opening. They plan to visit in this community for a week to survey living conditions, population and church facilities. At the same time it offers the members of the church an opportunity to become acquainted with the Kincaids.

All members and friends are cordially invited to meet and greet the Kincaids, in this mutually exploratory visit.

Wacha heads campaign

JENSEN BEACH-Former Senate President Mallory E. Horne has announced that Frank Wacha will serve as chairman of his campaign for the U.S. Senate in Martin County.

Wacha has been active in many civic and governmental matters in Martin County. He was County Commissioner for 12 years, and 7 of those years he was the Chairman of the County Commission.

"I am real enthused about our candidate, because of his conservative views," stated Wacha when asked the reason he was willing to actively campaign for Senator Horne.

"Frank Wacha's knowledge of the problems of Stuart and Martin County will be invaluable to our campaign, as will his organizational ability and his interest in helping us respond effectively to the needs of the people in his home area," stated Horne.

"The involvement of the citizens such as Frank Wacha will help us restore public confidence in government, an absolute necessity if our government is to be responsive to the people," concluded Horne.

Betty Nagy gave us this lovely part of their trip to Europe. They live in the southeast section of Paris, 15 miles from the St. Michael's area, commonly called the Latin Areas. Their hotel was directly across the street from their daughter and son-in-law's home. The building was built in 1892. It seems with European buildings, age is only a state of time.

They lived like middle class Frenchmen for 12 days, having a favorite cafe outside on the sidewalk with sandwiches and beer, wine and bottled mineral water. The first week they hired a car but left the driving to their daughter Patty. She, like the Frenchmen, is totally insane when possessed by the thrill of driving. Art refused to subject his life to such a strain and rode in the back seat which was not exactly a safe position. But Betty did try her luck driving and she only got one horn! Frenchmen do not blow their horns unless you really do a bad boo-boo, so Betty did pretty well.

The prime reason for the trip was to be with and live like Patty and Alex, who, in two years, have become really "French." With such seasoned guides, they visited areas where they were the only two tourists. Of course, they had to take in the tourist traps also all Americans do.

They left Paris to spend three days in London, taking an all day tour of London via bus, then returning to what they wanted to see. London, like Paris, has a perfect super subway system, so getting around was no problem.

But alas, time ran out, so they are saving the countryside for another day. A very enjoyable trip, but they are still glad to be home.

went home to Ohio to visit, and are now on a trip to Maine to see their grand niece in summer stock, and to enjoy a family reunion before returning to Ohio. They will be in the park around the middle of October.

Weekenders were Wilber and Mary Porter on Lot 309, and the Cahills of Lot 511. The Cahills will be leaving Monday, August 26, to take their daughter Cindy to College in Hamden, Conn.

Dorothy and Fred Ebner of Lot 174 are back. Both look good. Dot feels well and looks it. We are all happy that everything turned out good for Dot.

Herman Faucett of Lot 491 is in the hospital recovering nicely from an operation. He will be home this week, which is good news.

Dick and June Groves of Lot 315 are in Germany, their means of transportation - a new motorcycle. Enjoying the food and beer.

Ruth and Maurice Quinn of Lot 302 are in the park for a week with two of their grandsons.

Betty and Stanley Merrill of Lot 368 are spending their vacation in the park.

Martha and Leonard Williams of Lot 444 are vacationing in Ohio.

James and Jean Falls of Lot 508 were in the park long enough to say hello and goodbye after returning from their vacation up north. Very tired, after resting a night, they went on in their home farther south.

I have a report to make. Esther a waterspout or devil wind came in from the Indian River on Saturday, August 17, over the Venture Out trailers and mobile homes and pool.

Lasting about three to five minutes, it came over J. Bicknell's trailer on Lot 100, turning the awning over the top of their trailer about 60 feet from us, and tossing the awning pipes about.

One of the pipes reached us and impaled the lower center of our trailer and bent on reaching the tire. Luckily no one was outside. From the inside, we thought damage had been done to our roof.

There was no other damage in the park. Venture Out did not fare so well as three or four awnings were dislodged, pool chairs were blown about, and one umbrella bent with the very strong winds.

A warm welcome to new owners Russell and Pauline Wells from Smethport, Pa. They have purchased Lot 120 from Norman and Lois Markham. They are friends of Fred and Eleanor Greenough and now will be neighbors.

Happy Birthday Wishes to: Gordon St Louis on August 22, Sandy Crawford August 23, and Erma St. Louis on August 29.

Helen Allison of Lot 227 had her niece Heartha Del Hose visiting with her. Part of the visit was spent on a five day cruise to the Bahamas and other ports. Helen is the park's most traveled person. I do believe soon there won't be any more new places to go. Heartha returned to San Antonio on Tuesday, August 20. Do come back to visit us soon.

Heard from Kay Stephenson. Seems she will finally get back here to see us. I hope so, we all love and miss her.

Georgianna and Charles Ray of Lot 139 are back in the park for a short stay.

Art and Betty Nagy's son Skip is working with a trio on a cruise ship to South America for four weeks. Skip is a drummer and loves every bit of this engagement.

Muriel and Herb Martin of Lot 347 are leaving Friday, August 23, for Witchita Falls, Texas. They are delivering her car to their daughter Kathleen, who is taking her basic training at the air force base there. They will return by plane. Sounds interesting.

Marie and Archie Bright of Lot 513 took a trip back to their former home state, Kansas. Leaving there, they are now on their way to visit their son and family in Connecticut before returning to the park.

Learning to play Jai-Alai from your seat is a whole lot easier than learning to play it on the court.

All it takes is a little luck, a few bucks and a good set of lungs to cheer on the winner.

It shouldn't take you more than one game to understand what's happening. (It's a lot like handball. Only 100 times faster and much more exciting.)

It's a sure bet you never watched anything more fantastic.

And whether you win a Perfecta, Quiniela, Big Q or Double the thrill is always the same. Unbeatable.

Come out and try Jai-Alai. If you're looking for the time of your life, you can't lose.

Council gets office space

JENSEN BEACH-Offices for Martin County Council on Aging will be located at 204 South Dixie Highway in Stuart.

The council had sought space from both Martin County and the City of Stuart, but county officials said they could not find space to spare in the courthouse and the city officials rejected the group's bid for space at the police station.

Council officers are looking for desks and other office equipment donations.

Mini-sewer system expansion underway

MIXING MORTAR——Finding water to mix the mortar for the installation of a mini-sewer system was not difficult for this GDU employee. Surface water has been the main cause of the inoperative septic tanks in the north Port St. Lucie area.

HOLDING TANK——This holding tank with pump is installed just off from the main septic tank. When the water reaches a certain level, the pump forces the treated effluent through a PVC pipe line to the main sewer plant. The holding tank eliminates the need for costly drain fields and eliminates health hazards of effluent draining into the ground. For the average family of four, the pump would operate seven minutes in 24 hours to discharge the effluent to the sewage treatment plant.

TIE—IN——GDU employees lay the last of the PVC pipe connecting the pump and holding tank to the main 4-inch pipeline which carries the treated effluent to the sewage plant. The first home to be connected during this second phase of the hook-ups to the mini-system in Port St. Lucie belongs to W.G. Spears, 429 Lamon Lane.

INSPECTION—Jack Cook, local foreman for General Development Utilities, inspects the electrical outlet which was installed to operate the pump for the mini-sewer system hookup at the residence of W.G. Spears, 429 Lamon Lane. The Spears residence was one of the first to be connected to the system following a barrage of complaints by residents plagued with septic tank problems.

SIGNING UP——Richard Lieberth looks on as Mrs. Roger Hollett completes the football registration form for her son Larry. Football registration will continue through August 24.

FOR DUSCUSSION——Anna Heinold, Chet Sams and Charles Heinold discuss the upcoming football program with Dick Lieberth last Saturday morning at Sportsman's Park. Thirty-four boys signed up during the morning. Registration will continue through next Saturday.

Football registration is off to a good start

PHOTOS BY ALICE HICKEY

ANOTHER SEASON——Vikings coach Ken Johnson was on hand last Saturday morning as thirty-four boys registered for the football teams. Johnson seemed as eager as the players to get the season underway.

HELP——It took a helping hand from his wife for Charles Heinold to complete some of the information needed to register their son Chuck for the football team.

Lake discharge lowered

ST. LUCIE—Discharge of water through the St. Lucie locks has been lowered from 6,800 cubic feet per second to 3,000 cubic feet a second, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers announced.

A corps spokesman said that the reduction is taking place because the level of Lake Okeechobee is falling. However water is still being discharged through the Caloosahatchee River to the Gulf and south to agricultural canals.

Lake level last week was 15.27 feet above mean sea level, still several inches above the level the corps considers safe for this time of the year.

During hurricane season the corps keeps the level of the lake low enough to prevent flooding.

Fishing's pretty good

JENSEN BEACH—The Snook Nook fishing report for the week shows quite a number of fishermen and quite a few good catches.

On August 16, Lionel Lusardi caught two snook in the surf. The next day, Adrian Lusardi caught one snook, and this recordation was followed by the following note: "Dad (Nice Guy) still trying."

Dewey Richardson, up from Miami, had a good day Saturday. He had a 30 lb. 3 oz. jewfish and 4 snook at 32 lb. 5 oz., 24 lb. 11 oz., 21 lb. 6 oz. and 15 pounds even.

Also on Saturday, Jr. Dishman caught 6 snook, released 2. The keepers weighed 22, 19, 17 and 16½ pounds.

Nine year old Mike Prenetta also had a good day, catching 10 crooker, 6 whiting, 1 spot, and nine year old Courtland Brock, fishing the north fork of the St. Lucie River, had an 8½ lb. bass.

Other catches recorded during the week were: E.E. Roberts, 30 whiting; Al Kroll, 1 blue; Frank Morgan, 1 trout; Paul Albert, 1 trout; W.W. Thompson, 1 snook; Elmer McCartney, 1 snook; Bob Milstaf, 1 snook; Duke Beal, 1 drum; Stan Eppinicott, 1 snook; and Dan Tetzlaff found Jacks plentiful.

Ed Curtis had 4 trout; Col. F.G. Risser, 1 snook; Founder T. Hilliard, 10 trout; E. Lasman, 1 flounder; H.F. Robinson, 3 trout; Ray Straight, 3 trout; Jake Macava, 3 Spanish mackerel; Bill Herring, 1 trout; Joseph Apfelbeck, 22 sheepshead; Dr. Ruvin, staying at ORA, one 15 lb. albacore.

Obituaries

PORT ST. LUCIE-Wallace B. Leyda, 67, of 3118 Overbrook Drive, Port St. Lucie, died Thursday, August 15 at Fort Pierce Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Leyda was a native of Pennsylvania and moved to this area four years ago from Shelby, Ohio, where he was employed by the Ohio Steel Tube Company as a metallurgical engineer.

He was a member of the 32nd Degree Scottish Rite and the Alkoran Shrine Temple of Cleveland, Ohio.

Survivors include his wife, Virginia, Port St. Lucie; two sons, Dr. Richard Leyda, Bloomington, Indiana, and Dr. W. David Leyda, Kokomo, Indiana; four sisters, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were under the direction of the Harold J. Marshall Funeral Home, Elwood City, Pa. Interment was in Locust Grove Cemetery, Beaver County, Pa. Local arrangements were under the direction of the Aycock Funeral Home, Jensen Beach.

SUNRISE--All is quiet, peaceful, and mill pond still in the Indian River as the fantastic dawn offers a contrast between what we feel of that quiet, and the stirring power of nature on the far distant horizon.

Gang celebrates

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Friday Nite Gang was treated to the unexpected last week as friends of Hostess Marie Benz decided to celebrate her 39th birthday a week early. They brought in gobs of cupcakes and brownies to be consumed during the coffee break.

Not to be outdone Host Cedric Benz foregoing a special quartette sang the birthday song solo to his good wife. The Gang joined in on the second verse to Ed Brutecki who was also celebrating his 39th birthday.

The Gang Snooper had an easy night registering only one visitor, Gail Jones from West Palm Beach visiting the Barlows. The Snooper also reported as first timers Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rutecki originally from Buffalo, New York.

Earl Campbell won the main prize a merchandise certificate.

PENNY'S CORNER
Country Fried Chicken
Nothing Quite Equals Crispy Brown Fried Chicken Frequently ... and Here's How Makes 6 to 8 Servings
2 Broiler-Fryers (about 2 pounds each), cut into serving size pieces
½ cup unsifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon pepper
2 cup bacon drippings
2 cloves of garlic, peeled
1 bay leaf
Mrs. Tracy's recipe follows:
1 Wash and dry chicken pieces. Shake a few at a time, in mixture of flour, salt, paprika and pepper in paper bag to coat well.
2 Heat bacon drippings with whole cloves of garlic and bay leaf in electric skillet, following manufacturer's directions for hot chicken.
3 Place chicken in single layer in hot drippings. Do not crowd as pieces should have enough room to brown without touching each other. Cook slowly, turning once or twice to brown both sides. It will take about 30 minutes.
4 Return all chicken to skillet, cover, cook slowly 20 minutes, or until tender. Uncover, cook 5 minutes longer to crisp coating. Remove chicken to heated platter, keep hot while making gravy.
Mrs. Green — Top skillet and pour off all drippings except 3 tbsp. leaving crusty brown bits in skillet. Be sure to remove cloves of garlic and bay leaf. Return 3 tablespoons drippings to skillet, blend in 3 tablespoons flour, cook, stirring all the time, just until mixture bubbles. Stir in 1 cup water and 1 cup milk slowly, continue cooking and stirring, scraping brown bits from bottom and sides of skillet, until gravy thickens and boils 1 minute. Season to taste with salt. Makes about 2 cups.

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19 — Also Aries Ascendant) — Get down to business and work on a project left "hanging fire." Listen to intuition but don't go off on unproductive tangents. Be generous with praise for a loyal employee or co-worker. Be tactful in business dealings.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20 — Also Taurus Ascendant) — Good time to take your vacation if possible. Indulge in pleasurable and cultural pursuits. Possibility of finding a future business partner. Favorable time to undertake a self-help or do-it-yourself program.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 20 — Also Gemini Ascendant) — Now is the time to renovate, redecorate and beautify your home, making it a family project. Pressures start to build and are best handled by reaching decisions promptly as problems arise or else confusion results.

CANCER: (June 21 to July 22 — Also Cancer Ascendant) — Carry on with routine things carried over from last week. Assume a cooperative role and let others "carry the ball." Vitality may be low, so see to it that you get plenty of rest. An old romance may return.

LEO: (July 23 to Aug. 22 — Also Leo Ascendant) — Entertainment of a cultural nature is favored now. Your relationship with a financial advisor is best kept on a platonic level. Use your intuition in regard to a big project. Finances appear to be improving — slowly.

VIRGO: (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 — Also Virgo Ascendant) — Don't display in actions your inner emotional turmoil. A new romantic involvement appears up-coming. This is not a good cycle to invest money. Listen to your own common sense instead of another's enthusiasm.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 — Also Libra Ascendant) — Direct your energies to working "behind the scenes" just now. Over-optimism may cloud your judgment, so be very realistic and investigate all the facts. Use your artistic abilities in a realistic way.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 — Also Scorpio Ascendant) — Get "out and about" now with friends — socialize. Evaluate your financial picture for progress made thus far. Make plans and set goals. Work on long-range projects that require a careful, detailed approach.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 — Also Sagittarius Ascendant) — Curb tendency to be too outspoken — don't be critical of others. Transportation could be a temporary problem. Guard health. Eat and drink only fresh, uncontaminated foodstuffs. Curb temper.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 — Also Capricorn Ascendant) — Listen carefully to your inner intuitions and trust them implicitly. Take another long, hard practical look at a project you are considering — some things appear unclear. Read the "fine print" carefully.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 — Also Aquarius Ascendant) — Your approach is serious and your concern should be with practical matters. Good time to set up systematic and organized methods of operation. Your high standards and integrity will pay off for you now.

PISCES: (Feb. 19 to March 20 — Also Pisces Ascendant) — Work on projects already in progress. Care for friendships, associations which have proved reliable in the past. Legal matters and journeys are favored. Hints of professional opportunities may come now.

THE PORT ST. LUCIE
MIRROR
VOL. 5 NO. 34 AUGUST 21, 1974 10¢

AT WORK—The new GDC recreation manager was hard at work when Mirror photographer stopped in for a picture. Rodney (Ronny) Loperfido and his duties at the at the Port St. Lucie Marina last Friday.

County-wide

Ambulance service plan accepted

PORT ST. LUCIE—In what could be considered a surprise move the St. Lucie County Commission voted Tuesday to accept the proposal from Universal Ambulance to provide county-wide ambulance service.

Just last Friday the ambulance service review board voted 4-3 to recommend that the county commission award a new ambulance contract to a volunteer group rather than renew the Universal contract.

Don White, representing the Port St. Lucie Presidents Council said he was indeed pleased with the county's decision.

The proposal as accepted by the commission specified the ambulance service be subsidized by the county to the tune of $4,950 per month and also provides the mileage charge of $1.25 per mile from the county line to out of county hospitals to eliminated.

Bob Morgan, who heads the volunteer group, voiced his objection to the county commission stating that the county did not have all the necessary facts before reaching their decision. He then asked for and was granted permission to appear at a September 16 work session to further discuss the matter.

Meanwhile the ambulance decision is not yet completely finalized.

Since the Fort Pierce City Commission had previously endorsed the volunteer ambulance group, the Universal Ambulance proposal will have to be returned to the city commission for their approval.

While the contract will be between the county and the ambulance service, the city picks up portion of the annual tab through their ad valorem taxes.

Those who voted in favor of the Universal contract?

St. Lucie County Commissioners voting in favor of the Universal proposal were Ed Knox, Edward Green and George Price.

Mel Ash opposed the move and John Parks was not present.

Cedric Benz, who heads the Presidents Council immediately sent a letter of appreciation to the commissioners for recognizing the needs and wants of the Port St. Lucie area.

City Post Office receives praise

PORT ST. LUCIE—Although there has been an occasional problem Fort Pierce Postmaster William Lubeck praised the work being done at the Port St. Lucie sub-station.

They are doing a real fine job for us and we do not anticipate any changes in the delivery services offered, Lubeck said.

Lubeck's remarks followed reports that the main post office might discontinue the delivery of certified mail and packages to the temporary facility located in the Port St. Lucie City Hall.

These articles are delivered to the residents but if there is no one there for a signature, the postman places a note in the box and leaves the article at the city hall sub-station.

There have been a few instances when our carriers were bogged down with excessive mail and arrived at the sub-station after the 4 p.m. closing time. In this event, the carrier must return the certified mail and packages to the main branch," Lubeck said. "When the patron goes to the sub-station the following morning to pick up the article, of course it is not there. The patron must then make the trip to the main branch to pick up the item.

Receiving two complaints in one week Lubeck admitted had caused some concern.

These incidents however, have been very spotty and such a case is an exception not a rule, he said.

Lubeck went on to explain that such instances had not been through the fault of the sub-station.

We should get the mail down there before the 4 p.m. closing, and we are making every possible effort to do so, he concluded.

Jury probes

Commissioners, staff having 'day in court'

JENSEN BEACH--Martin County commissioners and staff members are "having their day in court."

First, commissioners are being sued by developer Lawrence Timon who is objecting to a ruling by commissioners last October which denied an industrial project near Port Salerno.

Second, county officials are appearing before the Grand Jury in a probe of construction controls and the possibility of criminal acts associated with the building boom.

Third, more subpoenas have been issued in the probe by a state attorney's office investigating allegations of misconduct by county commissioners in granting applications to developers in exchange for contributions to volunteer fire departments.

The zoning issue brought by Timon is expected to go to court this week. One commissioner said they may be called to court from their commission meeting today, Wednesday.

If the suit is not heard this week, it is expected to be delayed until the September trial period. Timon contends that the commission didn't have the right to deny a zoning change and eliminate the industrial site.

Residents of the area protested the zoning as did the school system. Supt. James Navitsky sent a letter to the commission protesting the project because it was to be near the Port Salerno Elementary School.

In the Grand Jury probe under way this week, no witnesses were heard Monday, but County Administrator Jack Noble, engineer Ken Ferrari and building department director Harold Glass agreed to meet with the jurors Tuesday.

The jury probe began from a letter written by County Commissioner Ed Gluckler to Circuit Court Judge C. Pfeiffer Trowbridge asking for an investigation, saying that damage to some buildings during a storm was a result of "shoddy construction."

Assistant State Atty. Bruce Colton has been investigating complaints on the building practices for the last two months.

In the probe of alleged misconduct by county commissioners, subpoenas were issued to attorneys Evans Crary, Jr., Larry Buchanan, Walter Meginnis and Dale Anderson. Also subpoenoed last week were land surveyor W.W. White, Fred Taylor of Dutcher Higginbotham, Mayer and Bass real estate investors and William Creech, also a real estate developer.

When the state attorney's office started the probe back in June, other developers and county officials were called.

Gov. Reubin Askew named Glen Darty of Bartow to conduct the charges of misconduct by commissioners after Commission Chairman Dr. Ed Geary requested an outside investigation.

Allegations that the commission mishandled impact fees turned into charges of "extortion" against the commissioners some weeks ago.

Lambeth files answer to charge

JENSEN BEACH-The attorney for Martin County Commission candidate Ray Lambeth has filed suit in Circuit Court asking dismissal of a suit which attempts to bar his name from the November election ballot.

The suit was filed by incumbent Commissioner Ed Gluckler, challenging Lambeth's right to be a candidate.

Lambeth, a Democrat and former mayor of Sewall's Point, is a candidate for the District 2 seat on the commission.

Gluckler, a Republican and candidate for reelection to the District 2 seat, filed suit early in August claiming that Lambeth failed to resign his post as mayor 10 days before he became a commission candidate, a state requirement.

West Palm Beach Attorney Robert Montgomery filed the response to Gluckler's suit last Thursday and claimed that his client had resigned at the time of his qualifying and the court must take judicial note that the position of mayor and town commissioner was without remuneration.

Montgomery's motion further states, "The mayor arrives at his post by appointment of the commission. Therefore, the complaint for an injunction is a sham and is designed for purpose other than the orderly administration of justice."

It is also noted in the motion to dismiss that Gluckler "has no standing to take this action."

Gluckler is not yet eligible for the general election, but the suit alleges that Lambeth's candidacy deprives him of his right to a fair election.

Gluckler faces Jerry O'Brien in the Sept. 10 primary.

Lambeth is the lone Democrat in the district 2 race.

No date has been set for a hearing on the dismissal motion.

Budget work almost completed

JENSEN BEACH-Taxing District A, Jensen Beach, budget is expected to be completed by next week, Martin County Commissioner Ross Philbrick said Tuesday.

"The millage won't go up," the District 1 commissioner stated.

The present millage for the district is 1.2.

Philbrick has pointed out that there could be a millage rollback if an additional deputy was not added to the area. However, he pointed out that people in the district have indicated they want more police, protection and additional street lights.

He has indicated that these items could be added without additional millage.

Meanwhile, Commissioner Tiner Powers, the county finance committee chairman, has indicated that the new budget for fiscal year 1974-75 should be ready within the next few days.

Although no general report has been made by the committee on its recommended budget, they anticipate 30 per cent increase from property tax along with other increases from state and federal sources, would mean a total county budget of about $6.8 million.

Several weeks ago commissioners had a proposal of $2 million for a capital improvement program, and a total budget figure of about $8 million.

However, the budget was still subject to extensive trimming.

Powers said that he and the committee will continue daily to complete details on the budget.

Bus funds okay

JENSEN BEACH-Tentative approval for a $8,000 public bus system for Martin County has been given by the State Department of Transportation (DOT).

The grant would be used to determine the number of buses needed and the routes they will serve, and would be made by consultants for the county.

An earlier study, Phase One, made by Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co. produced statistics indicating that about 500 persons in the county would use public buses.

Phase Two will help the County Commission determine when and if the system will become a reality. Results of the study is expected to help the county to decide if a county bus system is needed.

The study, a prerequisite for state or federal funding for a public transportation system, is expected to take about three months.

Vikings picnic, practice for Leif Erikson landing

JENSEN BEACH--Unused muscles got a good working out Sunday as local Sons of Norway members gathered on the Jensen Beach Causeway to try out a newly fiberglassed Viking sailing boat and held a Gulfstream Lodge picnic.

Young crewmen got a taste of team rowing in the "ottering" (eight oarsmen) as they practiced for the annual boat races planned for Leif Erikson Day at the Jensen Beach Causeway on October 6.

With the event just over five weeks away, local members of the Sons of Norway are feverishly working to prepare the program for the spectacular, which will feature dancing and pageants commemorating the landing of Leif Erikson in America in 1002 A.D.

Members of the eight lodges of Sons of Norway in Florida, and members from throughout the United States gather on the causeway for two days of celebration. The first day, October 5, is reserved for S + N activities, and will be headquartered at St. Lucie Hilton Inn.

Sunday, October 6, is the public day, with the causeway decorated with Norwegian trappings and colorful Scandanavian flags. Norwegians will be dressed in native "bunads" (costumes), and dancing folk dances to original Norwegian music.

A concert by a military band is planned, and there will be various game and souvenir booths set up. One of the features is the famed Norwegian open-face sandwiches.

During the afternoon, Viking boats race with sail and oarsmen. There are three such boats, with crews from Orlando, Ft. Lauderdale and Jensen Beach-Ft. Pierce competing for the top honors.

All boats are over 100 years old, and all have been brought from Norway, refurbished and made seaworthy. Their bright, striped sails add to the color of the pageantry and dancing of the day.

General chairman of the event is Joan Lein, working with co-chairman Lynn Nelson.

BEAUTY IN BOW--Pretty Kimberly Ann Spetz is shown in the bow of a Viking boat that was at the Jensen Beach Causeway Sunday afternoon during the picnic of the Sons of Norway, Gulfstream Lodge No. 514. She is the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spetz of Stuart, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spetz, 108 N. Skyline Drive, Jensen Beach.

Chamber meeting September 9

JENSEN BEACH-Members of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce will vote on changes in the constitution and by-laws at a 7 p.m. meeting Sept. 9. The meeting will be held at the chamber building on Commercial street. A meeting of the board of directors will follow the general membership session.

At the Aug. 5 meeting of the directors, proposed changes in the by-laws and constitution were approved.

Most of the articles changed are in the election procedures--selecting officers and directors at a general membership meeting instead of mailing out ballots to chamber members.

A committee headed by Don Wilkie suggested the changes which were approved by the directors.

Another change that will be voted on by the members include selecting of a president, vice president, treasurer, secretary, three one-year directors and three two-year directors, and the immediate past president serves on the board.

At present, all directors are elected for one-year terms.

Coot Bay lake proposed

JENSEN BEACH--Developers of Coot Bay on Hutchinson Island propose digging a 24-foot lake on about 30 acres of land, and have offered to establish a special fund with Martin County to assure maintenance.

The special fund would cover the operating cost of a proposed pumping system for the lake, a representative of the development said.

The Water Management Advisory Board raised some objections to a deep lake, pointing out that it might not be maintained and could become stagnant.

If a special fund would be established to assure maintenance, Bill Maddox, a Coot Bay representative, told commissioners.

Coot Bay developers intend to use fill from the lake to build up the site of the subdivision, and would eliminate the need to haul fill into the development.

Traffic signal survey is asked

JENSEN BEACH-The State Department of Transportation (DOT) will be asked to make a traffic count on A1A at the Jensen Beach Causeway, County Commissioner Ross Philbrick said.

Philbrick said that the survey is the first step toward installation of a traffic signal.

"There is a lot of north-south traffic on A1A" Philbrick said. "And since A1A is a state road, the state would pay for the signal."

Estimated cost of a signal at the intersection is between $15,000 and $20,000.

Blood bank closed Labor Day

STUART--The Martin County Blood Bank will be closed Monday, Labor Day, and will be open again Tuesday, September 3 from noon until 8 p.m.

PAVILION SIGN—The "Sons of Norway" sign is placed on a Jensen Beach Causeway pavilion by George Lewis letting passing motorists know that the members of Gulfstream Lodge No. 514 is having a picnic. The picnic was held last Sunday at noon, and the members enjoyed food, refreshment and watermelon.

BOAT BOW—Pictured under the Viking bow are members of the Sons of Norway, Gulfstream Lodge No 514. Members of the lodge had a picnic last Sunday on the Jensen Beach causeway, and Ruth Sundin was chairman of the event. Also doing some of the work were Knut Bigseith, center, and George Lewis.

Insurance money is returned

TALLAHASSEE-Insurance Commissioner-Treasurer Thomas D. O'Malley says that the Fort Pierce Service Office recovered $282,000 for citizens of Indian River, Martin, Okeechobee and St. Lucie counties who appealed to the Department for help with their insurance problems during the 1973-74 fiscal period.

O'Malley said that final reports from the 21 service offices show that $9.6 million was returned state-wide totaling $26.2 million during the past three and a half years.

In this four county area, he said, $56,000 was returned as a result of complaints about fire and casualty coverages including automobile insurance; $23,000 dealt with accident and health insurance, $202,000 with life insurance, and $1,800 miscellaneous complaints.

O'Malley also said that over $315,000 was refunded state-wide to an additional 13,000 policyholders because of property and casualty company rate examinations by Department rating analysts.

Snakes alive, close the door

JENSEN BEACH-The first day of school has its pleasurable moments for harried housewives, but Blanche Redit, 1241 South Indian River Drive, found her new release from the kids a bit troublesome.

Once the children were on their way to school, Mrs. Redit planned a swim at the beach. As she walked out the door, she was met by a cottonmouth moccasin coiled by the door.

Hissss, said the snake.

Mrs. Redit backed away.

In walked the snake.

Mrs. Redit couldn't get her dogs to leave the house to the snake so she called the Sheriff's Department. No one came.

Concerned with the dogs and snake being in the same house, Mrs. Redit called the Humane Society in Ft. Pierce. Within twenty minutes, Richard L. Heureux and Jim Lawrence arrived with a cage and equipment and found the snake coiled behind a chest in a bedroom.

Once the snake was gone, Mrs. Redit breathed a sigh of relief.

"I still don't know how much I appreciate the work of those fine young men," she told The Mirror.

She didn't get to go swimming.

Tax reps exam deadline Aug.31

JACKSONVILLE-A. J. O'Donnell, Jr., IRS district director for Florida reminds interested Floridians that August 31 is the deadline for applying for this year's Special Enrollment Examination.

The Special Enrollment Examination will be held on September 23 and 24 for accountants and others who wish to qualify to represent taxpayers at all levels before the Internal Revenue Service. The examination will be given in Jacksonville, Miami, Orlando and Tampa.

Tax practitioners who are not certified public accounts or attorneys must demonstrate their technical competence before they can represent clients before the IRS. This right to practice is governed by technical and ethical standards set by the Treasury Department.

Prospective applicants can obtain application Form 2587 at IRS offices. Completed applications, accompanied by a fee of $23.00 payable to the Internal Revenue Service, should be sent to Director, Audit Division, Internal Revenue Service, Washington, D.C. 20224. Attention: CP:A:C:M:SEE.

Martin County Writer's group resumes meetings

STUART-Martin County Writer's Group will resume meetings September 4. The group meets at 10:00 a.m. on the first and third Wednesdays of each month at the Community Room of First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart. It is hoped many of the members will have returned from their summer travels by then.

June Smith, who taught poetry in Fort Lauderdale for several years and has won many state and national awards, will continue her poetry lessons.

The third Wednesday is devoted to reading and criticism of prose. Some members have been published, some are still trying, and there are scenes, short stories and features in various stages of completion.

One member, Ann Galloway, is enrolled in the Creative Writing Course at Indian River Community College. She says if the group displays enough interest, her instructor will come to Stuart, so any person interested in any form of writing is invited to attend the meetings which are very informal.

For further information, call Ethel Hurst at 334-2180, or Marian Gauger at 334-0446.

University women slate meeting

JENSEN BEACH-The first meeting of the season for the American Association of University Women, AAUW, will be held Thursday, Aug. 29, at 1:30 p.m. at the home of the president, Helen Wells, 93 El Mar, Beach Club Colony.

Mrs. Wells has returned from a visit to AAUW headquarters in Washington, D.C.

The fact remains, however, that we must turn our attention to the real cause of inflation and successfully deal with it or face the spectre of a continued upward spiral and the very real threat of depression, liquidation and institutional failures.

We cannot tolerate the risk of this eventuality. Serious consideration must be given to changing the Savings and Loan regulations to permit them to be true intermediaries matching their borrowing terms (duration of loan and interest) with their lending terms. This can be done, simply, by permitting Savings and Loans to negotiate time deposits which more nearly match their mortgage roll-overs and by permitting them greater elasticity in their interest rates at both ends of their intermediation. I would think that deposit and loan interest rates should be allowed to fluctuate with changes in the cost of living.

These changes would go a long way toward stabilizing one of the most important elements of our economy. If the Federal Reserve Board were then to adopt a tight monetary policy inflation could be stopped.

Any serious battle against inflation is going to cause economic dislocations but this is a cost of inflation which cannot be circumvented. By attacking the problem now that cost will not grow higher. By permitting free economic forces to determine spending priorities the economy will not be burdened by unnecessary frills. The choices are not easy, but the longer we wait, the greater will be the inflation and the worse will be the inevitable crash.

At your proposed rate of 8 per cent annual inflation, it will take slightly less than 9 years to double the cost of everything and thus cut the present sagging value of the dollar in half.

It seems to me that the cost of this brand of aspirin is too high.

With best wishes and warm personal regards I am

Sincerely,
L. A. "Skip" Bafalis

To the Editor:

Local Politics are beginning to be the main subject now until November and there will of course be charges and counter-chargers. Some of the charges already heard have been rather ridiculous and even petty. However I have observed one political maneuver that is certainly misleading and may even be illegal. This concerns campaign signs appealing for the Re-election of David Harper as County Judge. When was he first elected? I remember when he was appointed to office a short while back but cannot recall any election held that put him in this important position. If it is not illegal to present oneself as being elected, when in fact that it was by appointment to office, it is certainly unethical in my opinion to do so.

Sincerely,
Jack E. Davis

To The Editor and County Commissioner Ed Gluckler:

I, Joe Mosley of Mosley & Son Construction am sick and tired of your popping off and standing off and blowing off as stated in the Stuart News Wednesday 8 14 74 and addressed to the Martin County Builders Association. The next time you lump Mosley and Son Construction with all other builders contractors and developers in your statement as doing shoddy work I will not sit idly by and allow you to slander our good name. During our 28 years in Martin County Mosley and Son Construction has built a reputation of quality work, honesty and integrity. I do not appreciate a Commissioner who would make such a general classification. It shows a sign of prejudice and jealousy. I don't know who made you an authority on what constitutes excessive profits are you jealous of anyone who makes more than expenses? For your information and I am not ashamed for the public to know our net profit has been about 6 per cent. I don't see how anyone can call this excessive as you can make more than that on Certificates of Deposit.

I ask you Ed Gluckler would you sell your Cedar Pointe Condominium unit, and your Fisherman's Village duplex for 6 per cent profit? If I disliked condominiums and other buildings as you seem to, I would give what property I have back to the Indians so that it could revert back to its natural state.

As for fighting the Commissioners I think you have the cart before the horse. Since the present Commissioners took office, it has become harder and harder, takes longer and longer to obtain a building permit, and acceptance of any development, rezoning, or hearing before the planning board. The updating of any of these items is a necessity. Neither the Commissioners nor any department of the County associated with building or development) ever notify anyone of the many changes you make. These changes should be mailed to all interested parties at no cost as it is our tax dollars that pay for the materials and salaries.

I am also tired of you referring to any property west of the turnpike as in the boondocks and not suitable for building. I think this statement shows how small your mind is. I live in Tropical Estates, which is a part of Tropical Farms area that I think is as nice as any other part of Martin County. Tropical Estates is 8 miles or approximately 10 minutes from Stuart. Maybe you haven't traveled much further than past the end of your nose.

I challenge you to name the developers and builders whom you feel are guilty of shoddy construction. If you do not, then I suggest you stop polluting the air we are all concerned with.

Joe Mosley

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) - Also Gemini Ascendant) - Your professional standing and public image is accented now. A step forward may have some strings attached. Take time to rethink current projects and study. A phase seems to be ending; new starts upcoming.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) - Also Cancer Ascendant) - Travel, legal matters or publishing projects are accented now. Guard health; don't overdo. Control emotional display. View with suspicion deals that seem too good to be true, because they probably are.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) - Also Leo Ascendant) - Control your emotions. Resist displays of temperament. Investigate inside yourself in a quiet, meditative way; your feelings of restlessness. Finances appear to concern you, but money matters should improve now.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) - Also Virgo Ascendant) - You appear concerned about coworkers, pets and children now. Much that you do benefits them greatly. Good time to study and train yourself in something you've always wanted to do but couldn't until now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) - Also Libra Ascendant) - As business affairs become less time consuming, give time and attention to mate and close friends. Sharpen up present skills; learn new ones now. Follow your own instincts rather than the advice of friends.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) - Also Scorpio Ascendant) - Social activities increase and you appear to be behind the scenes doing the planning. Your romantic life is emphasized in a favorable way. Legal matters and the signing of contracts is favored also.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) - Also Sagittarius Ascendant) - Friends and neighbors are helpful now as you expand mentally. Study vocabulary and literary things. Achievements coming now increase your feeling of personal worth; you prove a new skill to yourself.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) - Also Capricorn Ascendant) - Good time for practical plans to improve your home. Make agreements. New ideas, buying and selling, launching promotions all are favored now. Listen to advice from partners who appear realistic.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) - Also Aquarius Ascendant) - Valuable information can come to you through personal contacts. Decisions must be made which affect the entire future. Use logic. Questionable deals involving partnerships should be sidestepped.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20) - Also Pisces Ascendant) - Resist tendency to be overly aggressive; be cautious and conservative. When the spotlight hits you, keep your head out of the clouds and your feet on the ground. Anything speculative is not advisable now.

UA to cross savannas, provides impact study

BY DICK CAMPBELL AND ALICE HICKEY

PORT ST. LUCIE—Causeways and ... where needed and where asked ... authorities will be used by Universal ... Adams to reach the planned Green Belt ... highway of General Development ... Corporation, it was revealed Tuesday ... presenting a massive regional impact ...

study to the city council of Port St. Lucie. Robert Amann, UA's local manager, said that the Twin Baryan Plantation project would not use Walton Road or Indian River Drive for access to the property, but would rather go west to join the proposed GDC highway that skirts the west side of the Jensen Savannas.

"We still have maintained the integrity we started out with that Indian River Drive should be a scenic road and not loaded with traffic," Amman said, adding that the access would be from the west "connecting directly to Port St. Lucie via the parkway system through the GDC Mid-Port area."

Bob Seeley, general manager of Port St. Lucie, told The Mirror later that the parkway route had not yet been settled and while admitting that "it looks like that is where it will go," said that no determination by the company (GDC) had been made yet.

Efforts to buy land for access from Walton Road, as suggested by the courts, failed when property owners asked as high as $100,000 per acre for their land. The westerly route is the only route left to the company according to Amann.

A study is underway by both Universal Adams and the State of Florida as to the hydrology and engineering aspects.

We (US) will abide by their decision as to which is the correct way to cross the savannas to produce the least disturbance environmentally and hydrologically," Amann told the council. "If they say we bridge bridge we will do."

Universal Adams proposal is to have their main entrance routed out across the savannas on the high ground area and come out somewhere in the vicinity of GDC's Industrial Park at Mid-Port, Seeley said.

That is conditional upon getting approvals from U.S. which have not been received yet. It is also conditioned upon the report of the traffic consultants and at this time they seem to indicate that is a pretty good way to go," he concluded.

Amann told the council that copies of the impact statement have been submitted to the South and Central Florida Flood Control, the South Florida Regional Planning Council and to the Department of Administration in Tallahassee.

According to Amann, the South Florida Regional Planning Council has ten days to review the impact statement. Should this statement be considered incomplete, UA will have ten days to furnish the balance of the information.

The Regional Planning Council will then have a 70-day process time in which to absorb the information feed it into the computer that will tie-in this with the entire information they have for Martin, St. Lucie and Indian River Counties.

The city will be notified of the public hearing and will receive recommendations from the Planning Council as to whether or not the application should be approved, modified or denied.

Chamber annual meet September 25

PORT ST. LUCIE—Dr. Donald B. Dunlop a nationally known leader in the field of environmental planning, will be the guest speaker at the September 25th Annual Meeting of the Fort Pierce-St. Lucie County Chamber of Commerce according to an announcement today by C of C President Richard Stebbins.

Dr. Dunlop a former scientific advisor to the U.S. Department of Interior is Florida Power & Light Company's vice president of Environmental Planning and Research.

"We are extremely pleased to have Dr. Dunlop as our guest speaker," said Stebbins. "We feel his remarks will be of great interest to all St. Lucie County residents as the doctor is well qualified to speak on such topics as the future impact of environmental research on business development, the soaring cost of energy, and the FP&L's Nuclear Power Plant being constructed on Hutchinson Island."

Tickets for the Annual Meeting, to be held at the Port St. Lucie Hilton, can be ordered by telephoning the Chamber office at 461-2746.

During the forthcoming meeting, Stebbins will turn over the officer's gavel to the Chamber's in-coming president, local attorney Michael Jeffries.

The organization's new president-elect Richard Hellstrom, and in-coming treasurer Don Raffy, will also be installed at that meeting along with several new directors.

Other business at the meeting will include the presentation of the Chamber's annual report on activity for the 1972-74 fiscal year and the awarding of the prestigious "President's Award."

We feel our up-coming annual meeting will be an extremely interesting one and we hope every member will plan to attend," concluded Stebbins.

OMC board changes

MILWAUKEE-The Directors of Outboard Marine, at their meeting on August 7, announced the election of William C. Scott, 62, to fill the position of vice chairman of the board, and Charles D. Strang, 53, to president and general manager. Scott had held the presidency since 1959. Strang has been with OMC since 1966 and has been director of marine engineering, Group Vice President-Marine Products, an OMC director and, since January, executive vice president-marine group.

Ralph S. Evinrude, Chairman of the Board, stated that the position of vice chairman of OMC has remained vacant since 1963 and the elevation of Scott is in recognition of the need to fill that post in order to provide more executive time devoted to forward planning and policy matters.

Mr. Strang has spent the past twenty three years as an engineering and operating executive in the marine field. Evinrude said, "and has demonstrated exceptional leadership qualities."

In-fighting

Pamphlet probe is part of campaign

JENSEN BEACH-With the Sept. 10 primary only a few days away, the political in-fighting is getting tougher.

The latest in the campaign '74 political merry go round is request for a state attorney's probe of a campaign letter.

Complaints of election law violations have been filed with the state attorney's office by two county commission candidates - Gerald O'Brien and Ed Harvey.

The two Republican candidates have asked Assistant State Attorney Bruck Colton to investigate the source of political circulars distributed to Cedar Pointe condominium apartment residents.

The charge that the group which put out the pamphlet, Friends to Re-elect Ed Gluckler, is in violation of state campaign statutes because neither the name of the chairman or secretary of the group appeared on the pamphlet.

The pamphlet urges Cedar Pointe Republicans to vote for Gluckler in the District 2 primary and for Joan Jefferson in the District 4 primary.

Also, the literature charges that "certain developers and their satellite builders, subcontractors and suppliers have chosen a candidate to oppose Gluckler in the Republican primary whom they will support with financial contributions and probably a last-minute blitz campaign including a great many statements of doubtful veracity."

Gluckler says he has no knowledge of the existence of the friends committee.

Meanwhile, Republican candidates gathered on Jensen Beach Causeway last Saturday for some handshaking and talking - each had three minutes to tell his story.

The Republican Women's Club and Executive Committee sponsored the rally.

And on the court scene, Democrat candidate Clay Lambeth last week asked the Circuit Court to dismiss a suit which attempts to bar his name from the November election ballot.

The former Sewall's Point mayor is a candidate for the District 2 County Commission seat now held by Gluckler, Republican.

Gluckler alleged in the suit filed Aug. 9 that Lambeth did not resign as mayor 10 days before he became a candidate - a state requirement.

In his answer to the charge, Lambeth contends that the Sewall's Point mayor serves without remuneration and that the mayor is appointed by the town commissioners.

With the charges in court and request for a state attorney's probe and letters to editors, the September primary with all its in-fighting among candidates of the same party may be a better show than the November election when the two parties go at each other.

The interest is growing daily, and the request for absentee ballots points up that fact.

The supervisor of elections office reported Tuesday that 410 absentee ballots had been delivered and of that number 300 went to Republicans.

Obituaries

JENSEN BEACH-Frank G. Mainz, 83, of 300 Jeannette Avenue, Jensen Beach, passed away Monday, August 26, in the Stuart Convalescent Center after a brief illness. He moved to Jensen Beach about eight years ago.

He was a member of the Jensen Beach Community Church.

His survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Dale Lorenz of Woodstock, Ill., Mrs. Lucille Painter of Lake Geneva, Fla.; one sister, Mrs. O. Larsen of Casper, Wy.; two step-daughters, Mrs. John Mach of Guala, Calif. and Mrs. John Roman, Stuart; four grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held in the Jensen Beach Community Church at 10 a.m. Thursday, August 29, with the Reverend Norman G. Kehrli, assistant pastor, officiating. Entombment will be in Hillcrest Memorial Gardens Mausoleum, Fort Pierce.

Friends may call at John's Funeral Home Chapel, Stuart, on Wednesday from 7-9 p.m. Should friends desire, contributions may be sent to the Cancer Fund.

Jensen Elementary start is 'beautiful'

JENSEN BEACH—Jensen Beach Elementary School opened Monday for the 1974-75 year, and the first day was described by the principal as "just beautiful."

"We had 617 students the first day and 628 on Tuesday," Dale Clark said. "We should hit 650 after the Labor Day holiday."

The Savanna Road school had an enrollment of 758 the first day of 1973, but the school lost the sixth grade last year.

"We had some breathing room because we don't have the sixth grade," Clark said. "Our capacity is about 870 students and we should be okay until about January."

Enrollment in all the schools increases during the winter months in Martin County.

School Supt. James Navitsky said the opening classes in elementary and middle schools went more smoothly than ever.

"It's probably because the high school started last week and that was one less thing to worry about," Navitsky said.

Enrollment in all county schools is expected to be over the 8,000 mark after Labor Day.

At Martin County High School, where 2,338 ninth through 12th graders were expected to attend classes this year, there were about 2,350 students in class Monday.

THE PORT ST. LUCIE
MIRROR
VOL. 5 NO. 35 AUGUST 29, 1974 10¢

Seeley is named to bank board

PORT ST. LUCIE—Clement A. Seeley, Jr., president of the Port St. Lucie Bank, announced the election of Robert L. Seeley to the Board of Directors.

Seeley is assistant vice president of Port St. Lucie Development Corporation and general manager of the Port St. Lucie Bank.

A lawyer by profession, he received his degrees at the University of Illinois, Stetson University of Florida where the honorary Juris Doctor was conferred upon him.

Following a military career in the Air Force, Seeley engaged in the practice of law until 1961 when he joined General Development Corporation.

He is a member of the American Bar Association, the Florida Bar, Dade County Bar, St. Lucie County Bar and a former director of the Miami Board of Realtors.

Seeley, who resides with his wife and children in Port St. Lucie, enjoys tennis and sailing when time permits.

Bike safety program Saturday

PORT ST. LUCIE—Registration for the Bicycle Safety Program being conducted in Port St. Lucie starts Saturday at the Marina, hours 9-12 and registration will continue for the next four Saturdays.

The number, name, make, type and a complete description of the bicycle will be put on record with the owner's name, address and phone number. This will help locate stolen bikes and get them back to their owners.

Members of the Board of Directors of the Port St. Lucie Homeowners Association handle the registrations.

The Port St. Lucie program is in accordance with the Governor's Highway Safety Commission. All participants will receive a membership card and decal and pamphlet outlining the Bicycle Safety rules.

"Bicycle riders don't get stung" the police states and registered bicycles are less apt to be stolen and lost.

REQUESTS ANNEXATION—Evans Crary, Jr. submitted a petition for the annexation of a 16-acre tract located west of Pruitt Road into the City of Port St. Lucie. Crary represents a Milwaukee, Wisc. developer. Greg Zielenski. The proposed townhouse project will include 168 two bedroom units.

16 acres involved

Developer requests property annexation

PORT ST. LUCIE—The City Council agreed Tuesday to precede with preliminary steps for the annexation and rezoning of a sixteen-acre tract lying west of Pruitt Road.

Evans Crary, Jr. presented the petition for annexation and rezoning to the city on behalf of Greg Zielenski, a Milwaukee, Wisc. developer.

Known temporarily as Kitching Cove, the proposed townhouse development will include two and three story buildings not to exceed 33 feet in height.

The price range for the 168 two bedroom units will range from $50,000 to $65,000 per unit.

The sixteen-acre tract is bounded on the east by Pruitt Road on the south by Mitchell Street and on the north by Griffith. Of the sixteen acres involved, 1.8 acres is a mangrove area and will remain in its natural state, according to Crary.

Water and sewage facilities would be handled within the development until such services are available through the city.

The project will also include recreational facilities and a clubhouse and allowances have been provided for bike paths, although there have been no specifics provided for the type surface at this time.

Mayor Larry Kimmel questioned Crary on the amount of traffic that would be generated by such a development.

"I have heard reports from high priced traffic consultants which indicated each apartment chased on a Hutchinson Island survey would generate 9 trips per day," Kimmel said. Although I find this difficult to believe, it is my understanding that both Martin and St. Lucie Counties received such a figure."

Crary, who admitted he had been confronted with such a figure, particularly from Martin County officials, said the problem lies in the definition of a trip.

"It seems to me that most of the traffic consultants define a trip in a peculiar way," Crary said. "They say if you leave home and go to the grocery that is a trip. If you then leave the grocery and go to the bakery, that is another trip, and if you should stop by the drug store on the way back home, that constitutes another trip.

"By this time you get so emersed in such tremendous calculations and statistical matter that you will find a relatively small project, according to the consultants, can conceivably generate more traffic than exists from 800 to 900 apartments out on East Ocean Boulevard in Stuart," he added.

Crary pointed out that no developer wants to invest in a project that does not have suitable access roads.

"In this area I would expect that the city and the developer would enter into meaningful negotiations regarding the access road or roads," Crary concluded.

City Attorney Rupert Smith is instructed to provide with the necessary steps for notifying the proprietors within 500 feet of the area to be annexed, advertise the public hearing and the rezoning of that portion to be developed.

Crary was unable to quote the cost of the proposed project, but did say it was the intention of the developer to start construction as soon as the petition and preliminary permits were approved.

...y clerk ...signs

PORT ST. LUCIE—The City Council ... accepted the resignation of ... Mitler as city clerk.

Mrs. Mitler, who resignation will become effective Sept. 6, has been employed by the city since May, 1973.

Mayor Harold Nortley will temporarily assume the clerk's duties until a decision is made.

Mrs. Mitler gave no reason for her resignation.

PSL marathon bridge will start

PORT ST. LUCIE—Mrs. Paul Sheehan, President of P.S.L. Welcome Wagon Club has announced that the first Marathon Bridge Group will start Monday, Sept. 9th, following the regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Walter Kraimel is in charge of details relative to the Marathon.

Members not playing in the Bridge Group may stay at the Marina until 3:30 and play card games of their choice and are reminded to bring a sandwich.

Mrs. Joseph Cocco, Public Relations for Fort Pierce Memorial Hospital will be speaker at the Welcome Wagon meeting which starts at 11 a.m.

Klett will address anglers

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Port St. Lucie Anglers Club will meet Tuesday, Sept. 3 at the Marina on Prima Vista Blvd. at 7:30 p.m.

Jack Klett of the Snook Nook will be the guest speaker following the regular business meeting. Klett will talk on the art of surf fishing and will display the various types of equipment used for surf fishing.

Junior anglers still have until September 30th to enter their catch in the Port St. Lucie Anglers Club Junior Fishing Contest. This contest is open to any youth 15 years old and under who are bonafide residents of the Port St. Lucie Road Park area.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the Marina or the Fire Station on Prima Vista Blvd.

Prizes will be awarded at the Junior Awards night at the Marina on October 15, 1974.

The Anglers Club is looking forward to additional interesting programs throughout the fall.

Bob Brunton club president briefly outlined the fall activities.

Included will be the Oct. 6 cookout at the marina, the fishing clinic which will commence Oct. 19, and contest awards night has been scheduled for Dec. 17.

Italian and American Civic Club organizing

PORT ST. LUCIE—In 1958 seven members of Italian extraction who resided on Vero Beach got together and started what is now the Italian-American Civic Association. Subsequent meetings were held in various locations for a period of 13 years, until they were able to erect a building for their meetings and social affairs.

At this time, there are a number of residents in Port St. Lucie interested in forming a similar club.

This club, however, offers a new and wide attraction for it is open to all residents of the Port St. Lucie area regardless of their extraction. Therefore it shall be recognized as the Italian and American Civic Club of Port St. Lucie, intended as a special club, not for profit, but as a debating or literary society and benevolent association to promote the united effort toward peace, charity and equity.

Membership is offered to all individuals of good moral repute and 21 years of age or over who are interested in the promotion of such a club.

The parties interested in forming this club would like to share the experience and extend their invitation to all who care to see such a club initiated in this area.

Not desiring to wait 13 years for a clubhouse, committees have been formed to search for the best location and property suitable for a building where future meetings will be held and social affairs presented. In the meantime meetings have been held in private homes.

The next meeting will be held at the North Port Marina off Prima Vista Blvd. at 8 p.m. on August 28 (tonight).

For further information call Rosalye Sapiro at 878-4711 or Gertrude Aviles 878-3361.

BEAUTY IN BOW—Pretty Kimberly Ann Spetz is shown in the bow of a Viking boat that was at the Jensen Beach Causeway Sunday afternoon during the picnic of the Sons of Norway, Gulfstream Lodge No. 514. She is the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spetz of Stuart, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spetz, 108 N. Skyline Drive, Jensen Beach.

...ikings picnic, practice ...or Leif Erikson landing

...BEACH—Unused muscles ... working out Sunday as local ... of Norway members gathered on ... Beach Causeway to try out a ... refitted Viking sailing boat ... a Gulfstream Lodge picnic.

... crewmen got a taste of team ... in the "otttering" (slight ... to) as they practiced for the ... races planned for Leif ... Day at the Jensen Beach ... on October 6.

... the event just over five weeks ... local members of the Sons of ... are feverishly working to ... the program for the spectacu... which will feature dancing and pageants commemorating the landing of Leif Erikson in America in 1003 A.D.

Members of the eight lodges of Sons of Norway in Florida, and members from throughout the United States gather on the causeway for two days of celebration. The first day, October 5, is reserved for S+N activities, and will be headquartered at St. Lucie Hilton Inn.

Sunday, October 6, is the public day, with the causeway decorated with Norwegian trappings and colorful Scandanavian flags. Norwegians will be dressed in native "bunads" (costumes), and dancing, folk dances to original Norwegian music.

A concert by a military band is planned, and there will be various game and souvenir booths set up. One of the features is the famed Norwegian open-face sandwiches.

During the afternoon, Viking boats race with sail and oarsmen. There are three such boats, with crews from Orlando, Ft. Lauderdale and Jensen Beach-Ft. Pierce competing for the top honors.

All boats are over 100 years old, and all have been brought from Norway, refurbished and made seaworthy. Their bright, striped sails add to the color of the pageantry, and dancing of the day.

General chairman of the event is Joan Lein, working with co-chairman Lynn Nelson.

HARVEY HUMBERSTONE JEFFERSON LADLEY GEARY HURCHELLA GLUCKLER O'BRIEN

Voters face critical choices in primary contests on Tuesday

BY DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH—If the primary election is any guide, the November election will be a real battle as both political parties find themselves enmeshed in the hottest political battle in Martin County since 1960.

The voters have distinct choices in each primary fight, with even incumbents finding themselves opposed in their own party.

In the District Two county commission race, incumbent Republican Ed Gluckler seeks to continue to hold the cap on growth with tight county ordinances and points to his efforts to bring low cost transportation to the county's senior citizens as a plus, and has his power based in the county's Conservation Alliance.

Gluckler is challenged in his own party by Gerald O'Brien, local auto dealer who has developed the theme that "people run the government, not government running the people." O'Brien proposes sensible controlled growth, and says Gluckler has a conflict of interest by being executive secretary of the Martin County Taxpayer's Association.

The winner of the battle will be opposed in the general election by former Sewall's Point Mayor Clay Lambeth, democrat.

The District Four race is a free-for all with six candidates vying for Dr. Ed Geary's seat on the commission. Again, it is the conservation builder battle that looms.

Incumbent Dr. Ed Geary, democrat, is opposed in the primary by Maggy Hurchella, conservationist. Geary has made points in the past month by voting for Hutchinson Island development planning at one-unit per acre with reservations, and then voting against its implementation. He has taken up the bridge to Jupiter Island as opening up five miles of beaches, and asked for a maximum ten unit density throughout Martin County.

Geary's campaign is frustrating to Mrs. Hurchella, who says Geary is inconsistant on his vote on Hutchinson Island, and says that the county should put down what developers can and cannot do. She is backed by the Conservation Alliance members and is highly respected on her field, having served on the water management board and the county charter committee.

On the Republican side of the free-for-all, four candidates are competing to meet the winner of the Geary Hurchella campaign.

Ed Harvey, former head of the Martin County Builder's Association, plays down the builder-conservation battle, relying on accessibility to the public, a marriage of ecology and construction, and opening the doors to better and more responsive government.

Julian Jefferson has rolled on the middle of the road stance in the conservation-builder battle, objecting to confiscatory county ordinances and fighting for conservation oriented projects. She talks of reining in erosion from the issues and campaigns on a businesslike approach to county government.

Fred Humberstone is about the only candidate who swings with both fists at the county's negative philosophy, talks of offering the alternative to the militant conservationist and demands that individual property rights be protected, while placing emphasis on solving current problems.

Tom Ladley is a neophyte to politics who stresses a businesslike approach to county government and supports use of local expertise in planning.

The only other local battle is between Judge Harold Harper and Mary Clarke for county judge. Harper is seeking election to the post he was appointed to under the new constitution, saying that he has upgraded the court and will continue to do so.

Clarke has pointed to reforms needed in court procedures and is seeking to oust Harper with a vigorous campaign.

In state battles, voters will be asked to select candidates for governor, the supreme court, one U.S. senate seat, secretary of state, comptroller, treasurer and education commissioner. Two senate seats are up.

The primary election is next Tuesday, September 10. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

55 machines, 40 percent expected to cast ballots

JENSEN BEACH—There are more than 23,000 registered voters in Martin County, and about 40 per cent of that total are expected to cast ballots in Tuesday's Sept. 10 primaries.

Supervisor of Elections Mrs. Sandra Randolph reported that last Friday, 875 absentee ballots had been issued.

She also said that 55 voting machines would be at the precincts six at Jensen Beach precinct, which is the largest.

There are 2,827 registered voters in Precinct 1: 1,452 Democrats, 1,196 Republicans, 130 independents and 49 other parties.

Voting in Precinct 1 will be at Langford Park Recreation Building.

Voting will be from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

In other Jensen Beach area precincts the voting places and number of voters include:

Precinct 2, North River Shores, voting at the Presbyterian Church, 1,308 registered voters, 701 Republicans, 537 Democrats, 56 independents and 24 other parties.

Precinct 10, Sewall's Point, voting at Town Hall, 483 registered voters, 289 Republicans, 166 Democrats, 20 independents and nine other parties.

Precinct 14, Ocean Breeze Park, voting at Community Hall, 304 registered voters, 173 Republicans, 113 Democrats, six independents and 10 other parties.

Precinct 15, Rio, voting at Civic Center, 661 registered voters, 324 Republicans, 310 Democrats, 21 independents and six other parties.

loney in budget for bike trail

EN BEACH—Money for a bike Jensen Beach will be included in 76 road and bridge fund budget, ng to County Commissioner Philbrick.

ck Jensen Beach area mmer said $25,000 would be d in the new budget.

than $7,000 was spent this year paths in other districts.

first segment of bike trails in Beach as proposed by the Bike ittee would extend from Tropical development north to the entrance of Leilani Heights Subdivision and then to Jensen Beach Elementary School property.

Philbrick said that right-of way gifts and permission to cross a private railroad crossing would be needed to get from SR 723, Savanna Road, to Langford Park.

In a recent State Cabinet meeting, a resolution was introduced by Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner calling for the Department of Transportation DOT, to consider bike trails as an integral part of all future road widening and construction.

Conner's resolution unanimously approved by the cabinet, asked DOT to pursue efforts to obtain federal funds to embark on a comprehensive program of bike trails.

Florida is one of 24 states recently notified by the federal highway administration that it is eligible to spend up to $2 million of its federal gas tax receipts in 1974-75 on bike trails.

Philbrick estimates the cost of a bike trail at $12,000 per mile.

The first segment along Savanna Road is about a half mile.

We need to get people to schools, shopping areas and recreation areas on bike trails, Philbrick said.

SIGNAL PETITION—A petition urging a traffic signal at Commercial Street and Savanna Road is being circulated in the community by the Jensen Beach Elementary School PTA members. Mary Kibler, left, signs the petition being passed in the community by Betty Aderhold, PTA treasurer.

Petitions seek traffic signal

JENSEN BEACH—Petitions are being circulated in the Jensen Beach area by the Jensen Beach Elementary School PTA seeking a traffic signal at Commercial Street and Savanna Road.

"We have more than 400 signatures on the petitions," Mrs. Barbara Hendry, PTA president, said.

"We have petitions at businesses, offices, Ocean Breeze Park office and the school," Mrs. Hendry said.

"We will present the petitions to the County Commission at the Sept. 11 commission meeting," she added.

"For the safety of our children," the petition states, "as well as the community, we the undersigned urgently request a traffic light at the intersection of Commercial Street and Savanna Road."

PTA members noted at a recent meeting that a traffic light at the intersection, a main school crossing for many children walking and riding bikes to school, has been in the "talking stage" for more than a year.

Also, PTA members have been concerned since school opened last week that deputies have not been at the intersection regularly.

Annual IW fishing tourney

JENSEN BEACH—The annual fishing tournament for boys and girls will be held Sept. 28 from 9 a.m. to noon on the Jensen Beach Causeway.

It will be the third fishing contest sponsored by the Martin County Chapter Izaak Walton League.

There will be prizes in a wide variety of categories: first fish caught, most fish, biggest fish, etc.

Boys and girls up to age 15 are eligible to take part in the tournament, and no registration is necessary. They must bring their own rod and reel, the spokesman said.

Pulpit is donated to Union Baptist

JENSEN BEACH—In special services Sunday at 3 p.m. a pulpit was donated to the Union Baptist Church in memory of Columbus C. Coleman, a long time deacon of the church.

The pulpit was given to the church on County Line Road, by All Saints Cemetery Association.

Coleman, who died July 12 at his home in Stuart, was a caretaker at the cemetery for over 25 years.

The small plaque on the pulpit stated "In memory of Columbus Coleman, Sr. deacon 1872-1974."

Gerald Williamson, president of All Saints Cemetery Association, made the presentation to church pastor the Rev. Lee Anderson, and Father Frank Alvarez, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church gave the dedication sermon.

Coleman was born March 20, 1872 in Pelham, Ga., and moved to Jensen Beach in 1922. He was a farmer and gardener on Hutchinson Island before becoming caretaker at the cemetery.

A long time Mason, and given a key in his home in 1970 by Masonic Lodge No. 155 of Fort Pierce.

PULPIT DEDICATION—A pulpit was donated to the Union Baptist Church last Sunday in memory of Columbus Coleman, church deacon and long time caretaker at All Saints Cemetery. The pulpit was donated by the Cemetery Association. Gerald Williamson, right, association president, made the presentation to church pastor the Rev. Lee Anderson. Others taking part in the ceremony include Father Frank Alvarez, rector of All Saints Episcopal, left, and from left, Carn Mills, Annie MacKey, Frankie Silcox, Catherine Coleman, Bobbie Lee Anderson, Columbus Coleman, Jr. and Henrietta Coleman.

Tax roll news

Property assessments increases expected

JENSEN BEACH--The 1974 Martin County tax roll, which will show a "substantial increase in assessed value over the 1973 values," is expected to be completed by Nov. 1, according to E. F. Schnurbusch, tax assessor.

Schnurbusch said that in some cases the initial sampling of the 1974 assessments reflect increases over 1973, and explained that the greatest percentages of increases will be in waterfront properties and in the suburban and ranchette-type communities located closest to the urban areas.

He said property owners may expect increases averaging about 33 per cent.

"The tax roll will comply with the most recent Florida statutes as well as the directives of the state of Florida Department of Revenue," Schnurbusch said.

"County assessors are required by law to present their tax rolls to the State Department of Revenue for their approval," he said.

Schnurbusch pointed out that state statutes requires that all properties be assessed at market value for the tax roll to receive approval by the Department of Revenue.

"In prior years real estate was normally assessed at a value which was substantially less than market value," the tax assessor said. "Therefore, the assessed values used for computing individual taxes this year in most cases will be substantially higher."

He gave two reasons for the increases, including

1. To reflect the drastic increases in sales prices.

2. To present assessed values to comply with the state requirements of market value.

He anticipates that the notices of assessed values will be mailed to the Martin County property owners shortly after Oct. 1, and about 10 days will then be scheduled for individual discussions with property owners concerning their assessments if they so desire.

The Tax Equalization Board is expected to convene the latter part of October.

While Schnurbusch anticipates a substantial increase in assessed values over the 1973 values, he also noted that taxes are a direct result of the millage rate determined by the various taxing bodies.

He noted that it is his responsibility to present a tax roll which is equitable, each parcel to the other, and further that a tax roll is presented that is symbolic of market value.

Schnurbusch expressed a strong desire that the taxing bodies exert every possible consideration to reduce the millage rate in order to prevent oppressive taxes in the face of his effort to present a tax roll which complies to the state statutes.

Judge rules for rezoning

STUART--Circuit Judge C. Pfeiffer Trowbridge has ruled that Martin County commissioners must permit a rezoning change for a 133-acre tract along U.S. 1.

Developer Lawrence Timon in his suit against the county asked the court to rule that he is entitled to use his property for business and industry.

Timon's property is located between U.S. 1 and the Florida East Coast Railway south of a newly developing industrial area.

During the three-day trial, testimony from the county staff indicated that they approved of the project and recommended the site, but commissioners were opposed to the location.

Residents in nearby Hidden Garbor and Yacht and Country Club of Stuart opposed the project during public hearings last October.

In his ruling, Judge Trowbridge said that the rezoning must be permitted and any zoning more restrictive than the M-2, which is light industry, is violation of constitutional rights.

Holiday Outlines

By Ruth Bowes
334-4946

Wellington and Isabel Kennedy of lot 9 are enroute for an extended tour of England, Scotland and Denmark. They will return around Christmas time.

Helen Allison of lot 227 is making some of the men sit up and take notice!! On Saturday, August 31, she came home from fishing on the Jensen Causeway bridge with a fine catch of trout, grouper and three large grunts - big enough to filet, I hear.

Al Sell's mother-in-law Rose Ritzler was in and out of the hospital over a six week's period. Happy to say she is home now, and was able to visit the park over the holiday.

A cook-out, one of many over the weekend, was held on the Nagy's acre. Guests were the Sells; Kirkpatricks, who cooked the steaks; Mrs. Stanley, a school principal in Fort Lauderdale; daughter Lisa; parents Mr. and Mrs. Dendert; and Helen Allison. A good time was enjoyed by all.

Weekend visitors of owners' were: D. Fosters, lot 415; J. Lothians, lot 449; R. Bafs, lot 434; Faukner, lot 389; Henderson, lot 260; and T. Stieler and son of lot 345.

Frank and Arletta Wehlege of lot 417 were guests of Dale and Lois Foster of lot 415 for a pork barbecue.

The cable installation in the north end is completed and several owners have signed up and are now enjoying the service. Those wanting cable in the south end should contact Martin County Cable Co., 909 S. Federal Hwy., Stuart 2000.

Bill and Elly Harrison of lot 182 entertained their son Bruce, his wife Yolanda and grandson Mark over the holiday.

Frank and Arletta Wehlege are sporting a new maroon car these days.

Also noticed an Ohio license on a car parked at the Nagy's. Seems that Art is trying it out for his mother.

Tom Stieler and son Tom, Jr. of lot 345 came in to get their trailer ready for their return in October. While here, they were dinner guests of Ed and Evelyn Adam of lot 346.

Archie and Marie Bright of lot 513 have returned to the park after a long vacation. Very happy to be back, I hear.

We also hear that Glenn and Carolyn Schilling will be leaving Cape Cod October 1st to return to the park. They can hardly wait to get back." We all will be happy to have them back.

The staff for Precinct 15, located in the Holiday Out recreation hall, will go to Fort Pierce on Thursday, Sept. 5, for instructions to be given by James Brooks, St. Lucie County Supervisor of Elections.

Harman Fawcett is the special deputy. Maureen Holmes is clerk. Mary Schmidt, Ruth Bowes and Irene Fawcett are inspectors. Precinct 15 will serve all of Hutchinson Island in St. Lucie County.

Mary Cammack is leaving on her vacation. We do wish her lots of fun and enjoyment, and a good rest.

Wedding Anniversary congratulations are extended to: Betty and Bob Liddell, September 3; Chuck and Chum Allsel, September 9.

Happy birthday to: Seva Burgan, 80 years young on September 8; Gladys Kirkpatrick, September 11.

Business education courses planned

STUART--Adults who are interested in taking business education courses may select from a variety of offerings at Martin County High School, Stuart, and at Indiantown Middle School, Indiantown.

Courses include beginning, advanced, and personal typewriting, bookkeeping, key punch, Gregg shorthand, and ABC Notehand.

Registration for these and other adult education courses will take place at Martin County High School, SR No. 76, Stuart, and Indiantown Middle School, West Farm Road, Indiantown, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings, September 3-5.

Registration fee for each course is $3.00, with a textbook or material charge which varies according to the subject.

According to Henry A. Childers, Director of Adult Education for Martin County Public Schools, it is important for adults to register and plan to attend sessions regularly. "These are skills subjects which require practice, repetition and reinforcement. This is why we urge adults to enroll early, preferably at the outset of the course. In this way, they will have opportunities for sufficient practice so that proficiency in the subject may be attained."

For additional information about these and other adult education offerings, please call 287-6400 weekdays between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Students landscape two public beach access strips

Photos by Dennis Doyle

JENSEN BEACH—Twenty Martin County High School seniors came to the rescue of the "Save Our Beaches" Landscaping Committee Tues morning, armed with shovels, hoes, fertilizer, peat moss and many cans of insect repellent to plant approximately 150 shrubs and trees at "Tiger Shores" and "Virginia Forrest" public beach access strips.

According to Scott Fletcher, executive vice-chairman of the "Save Our Beaches" project and a member of the Landscaping Committee, it was decided several weeks ago that two model strips must be completed before the end of the 1974 rainy season.

The entire landscaping was to have been completed by now, but was delayed for several unexpected reasons, he said.

Fred Stresau of Stresau, Smith and Steward is the acting chairman of the Development and Landscaping committee while Maggy Hurchalla is on a three month leave of absence. He has secured all trees and shrubs in cans at less than wholesale prices and county trucks hauled them to the two beach strips.

Fletcher called high school principle Terrance Horrigan ten days ago explaining the need for some helping hands and muscle and has received the help of twenty students until the project is completed.

The students are under the supervision of Tom Humphry who is in charge of student activities and Bart Cook who is from Stresau's firm.

Praising the students Fletcher said, "It's a big job to properly landscape a public beach strip but thanks again to our students it will be done."

Landscaping for the balance of the eight strips will be started at the beginning of the rainy season in May 1975. This will complete the "Save Our Beaches" campaign which started on October 1, 1973.

Those present to applaud the students and other volunteers were Superintendent James Navitsky, High School Principle Terrance Horrigan, County Commissioners vice-chairman Ross Philbrick and Ed Gluckler. Also present were members of the Executive and Landscaping Committee Scott Fletcher, Ed Behrens, vice chairman in charge of finances, Exec. Conlon, secretary and Peter Jefferson, volunteer activities chairman.

WORKERS—Martin County High School seniors turned out to help plant trees and shrubs at "Tiger Shores" and "Virginia Forrest" Tuesday morning on Hutchinson Island. The project is under the direction of the Landscaping Committee of the "Save Our Beaches" campaign. Those present to applaud the students kneeling above are Ed Behrens, Ed Gluckler, Terrance Horrigan, Scott Fletcher, Ross Philbrick, Peter Jefferson, Bart Cook and James Navitsky.

D & M News Notes

MILDRED STINNETT
334-4486

We were happy to welcome back Mr. and Mrs. Ritenour from their trip to Pennsylvania and Ohio. They certainly got around. In Bridgeville, Athens City, New Castle and Erie in Pennsylvania and Youngstown, Ohio. In June they attended the West Family Reunion. (Mrs. Ritenour's family) and in August the Ritenour Family Reunion.

Their son Thomas of Evans City, Pennsylvania, drove down with them and stayed four days before flying back.

Emil Twest called me Friday night to report a FISHNAPING! Seems that Marvin Wininger and "Doc" Pruske were fishing from the bridge when one of them pulled in a big, fat, snook which was laid on the deck while fresh bait was placed on their hooks. A man came along, picked up the fish and walked away.

They cast their lines again, then Marvin asked his fishing companion why he had given away such a nice, big snook, and was told that "Doc" thought Marvin had given it away, while Marvin told "Doc" he thought "Doc" had given it away.

We know there is a Lindberg Law dealing with kidnaping, but FISHNAPING?

The Bill Murphys of New Jersey have been visiting in the home of Mrs. Murphy's mother, Stella Dobrowolski, while Stella is away on vacation, and have been enjoying the beaches and fishing.

The McBrair clan has been augmented by the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. John McBrair, and the return of David and Eilene McBrair from an extended trip visiting friends and relatives in Michigan, the Wendts in ReWa, Canada, and David's son who also lives in Canada.

Adrian Snyder celebrated his birthday which occurred on the 28th in great style on the 25th, one day before. His daughter, Mrs. Warren Barber of Long Island, New York, arranged with friends to take Adrian to lunch at the St. Lucie Hilton. Last year, when Adrian came home after a similar lunch, he found his friends and neighbors gathered to surprise him, so this year he turned the tables by entertaining them with a bounteous and delicious feast. Jack Stinnett presided over the barbeque, and Adrian saw to it that the dishes on the buffet table on the screened porch were kept full. It was a most enjoyable time, and now we are looking forward to Adrian's next birthday.

Saturday courses are planned

FORT PIERCE—A number of new courses will be given on Saturdays at Indian River Community College when the fall semester begins on Sept. 9. The three credit hour course offerings include Ecology 101, Man and the Environment; Russian 101: Literature and Civilization; Children's Literature; and Afro-American Studies. These courses will be held each Saturday morning from 8 a.m. until 11:30 a.m.

The ecology course will survey the basic principles, procedures, and implications of ecology, and discussions will be given to the topic: historical development in human ecology, present day ecological aspects of man, and the implications for the future.

The Russian course analyses grammar and teaches the fundamentals of reading and writing the language.

In the children's literature course the art of storytelling and oral reading will be stressed as vehicles for bringing literature to children.

Instructional materials for the Afro-American studies course include films, panels, recordings and newspaper articles on the black in America.

For further information and registration, contact the Guidance Department of Indian River Community College at 464-3000 in Ft. Pierce. Stuart residents call 287-2008 and Vero Beach residents call 567-7132.

Homemakers

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Port St. Lucie Homemaker's Club will hold its first meeting of the season on Thursday, Sept. 12 at 1 p.m. at the Marina, and thereafter, on the second Thursday of every month.

Mr. Corso of the Ft. Pierce Memorial Hospital will be the guest speaker.

In addition to the regular members, an invitation is extended to all residents of the Port St. Lucie community to come out and get acquainted with the club and its activities.

PSL homemakers start

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Beautiful Waters Homemakers Club will open the new season with a program of clothing construction and fashion forecast.

The first meeting of the season will be held at 1 p.m., Sept. 12, in the CESA Building on Prima Vista Blvd.

All members are urged to attend in an effort to establish a correct membership list.

Mrs. Betty Jones, Mrs. Millie Green and Mrs. Helen Eberle are the program chairmen.

New members are welcome.

V.F.W. news

BY CHUCK BENDER

...that vacation time is over, it is ...ne for us to put our noses to the ...stone and work on membership. ...ave a quota of 310 to make this ...e let's go out and get the job done ...as soon as possible

...ur have said many times in the past if every member would go out and recruit one member, we could double our membership, and, really, this is not too much to ask. We have a wonderful organization, so let's get behind it and push.

We have top representation with our own Cecil Branford as State Jr. Vice Commander and Ray Prentice, another good member, now serving as District 11 Commander. It's only right we get behind our leaders and show them we can do the job. I would like to see every member be an "early bird" this year.

Wednesday, Sept. 4 — today! — the auxiliary will hold their regular meeting Thursday, Sept. 5, the V.F.W. will hold its regular meeting. Saturday, Sept. 7, the Sons of the V.F.W. will hold their meeting at 3 p.m.

Sunday, Sept. 22, we will have an old fashioned jam session featuring the "big band sound." More on that later.

DIRECTIONS FOR VOTING ON THE VOTING MACHINE AT A PRIMARY ELECTION

1st. Move the Red Handle of the Curtain Lever to the right as far as it will go and leave it there. (This will close the curtain around you and unlock the machine for voting)

2nd. Turn down pointer over name of each candidate that you wish to vote, from this position to this position AND LEAVE IT THERE.

3rd. After arranging your ticket, LEAVE THE POINTER TURNED DOWN IN THE VOTING POSITION; move the "Red Handle" to the left as far as it will go and leave it there. This will automatically register a vote for each of the candidates for whom you voted and at the same time will turn back the voting pointers and open the curtain.

REMEMBER—That no votes are registered until the "Red Handle" is moved to the left to open the curtain. Therefore as long as the curtain is closed you can change your vote as many times as you desire by simply turning back the pointer over the name of the candidate for whom you do not wish to vote and turning down the pointer over the name of the candidate for whom you do wish to vote. The machine will not allow you to vote for more than the proper number of candidates.

Dear Martin Countians:

I wish my schedule allowed me the time to personally meet and discuss with you my candidacy for County Judge.

My candidacy was born at the urgings of knowledgeable citizens who were not pleased with the demeanor and ability of my opponent.

Therefore, I hope you will take the time to inquire of your friends in the courthouse about this judgeship race and my candidacy, and when you do there should be no doubt about voting for Marc Cianca for County Judge on Sept. 10th.

Sincerely yours,
Marc Cianca

Sports officiating is college course

FORT PIERCE–For the first time Indian River Community College is offering a course entitled Sports Officiating to begin Fall Semester. Sports Officiating is a three-credit course and meets Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 8 a.m.

The course is designed for students majoring in physical education individuals desiring to become baseball, basketball, or football officials, and those persons who would like to become more familiar with the rules and regulations of these major sports. The content of the course consists of the study of the official's manual, the rules book, and the case book for each of the major sports—baseball, basketball, and football.

Along with classroom work, students will be required to do laboratory work in the college's intramural sports league in the form of officiating at football and basketball intramural games.

The course will be taught by Michael Leatherwood, assistant professor and head basketball coach. Local sports officials will serve as guest lecturers.

Registration for the Fall 1974 Semester is now in progress at IRCC. Classes begin September 5.

Dog training set

FORT PIERCE–A dog obedience course will begin at 7 p.m. Sept. 18 at the Indian River Memorial Amphitheater on North Indian River Drive.

Sponsored by the Recreation Department, the program will offer kindergarten puppy and people training, basic obedience training and intermediate and advanced training.

"COMMON SENSE" from JOAN JEFFERSON

Question: In the present controversy over the growth of Martin County, where do you stand? Pro-builder or pro-conservationist?

Mr. J. E. H. Jensen Beach

Answer: I do not believe that there is a controversy over the growth of Martin County. The majority of the citizens of our county have made it very clear that they do not want to to grow into an urban sprawl and they have requested their Commissioners to determine a method to control the growth of the county.

There is a controversy, however, regarding how the growth of Martin County should occur. Unfortunately, the County Commission has rushed through some ordinances that may be illegal or, at best, are unnecessary. After four years, three consultant planning firms and hundreds of thousands of dollars, we find ourselves with a plan for Hutchinson Island that is forcing development at a time when the economic climate and softness in the sales market would normally restrict building. This, I suggest, shows a lack of "common sense".

My fifteen years of accounting and business management experience, combined with my deep environmental concern and knowledge, provides me with the ability to look at both sides of the builder vs environmentalist argument. This is undoubtably why I am the only Republican candidate to have received the endorsement of the Martin County Conservation Alliance and of several leading members of the construction industry.

The problems facing Martin County are not new to me. I have studied them thoroughly and know that I am qualified to contribute to their solutions by basing my decisions on facts rather than suppositions.

ALDER JENKINS GREEN

Growth-conservation parks elections

PT. ST. LUCIE—There is little doubt the hottest issue in the primary election in St. Lucie will be growth versus conservation.

Democratic candidates are in their party's nomination for the election in November. One will be settled with the primary as the Republican opposition will be race incumbent county commissioner E.E. Green faces the vigorous challenge from R.E. "Pete" Pierce roofing contractor who is running on a platform of common experience, planned growth and advocates seeking light industry to increase jobs. He also is a strong advocate for support an additional bridge across the Indian River, beach renourishment and has attacked waste in government calling for reduced taxes. He is the need for medical facilities in the area.

Pierce and Jenkins are joined by Mrs. Power in taking the "planned growth with conservation" line in campaigning. Power faces county commissioner-conservationist leader Marjorie Silver Alder in the Democratic primary to see who will face incumbent Commissioner Ed Enns.

If there is a choice it is offered in this race.

Mrs. Alder advocates controlled growth, impact fees on new residents, and preservation of natural resources and access to beaches. The long-time conservationist has a record of achievement in that field.

Power ties his hopes for the primary to a business approach to government with light industry leading the way to lower welfare costs and full employment in the area. He wants to see another bridge to Hutchinson Island, construction of feeder roads and says he wants to represent the southern part of St. Lucie County on the commission.

Behind all the campaigning rises the spectre of Ashland Oil's major development of Ft. Pierce as a deep-water port base for an oil refinery, the creation of a new city west of Ft. Pierce, and the related light industries that will cluster around such a refinery. Commissioners in the next four years will be asked to decide whether such a development might occur.

Zoning requested

City considers medical facility

PORT ST. LUCIE—It is entirely possible that within a period of sixty days a new doctor will be practicing within the Port St. Lucie area.

A request for spot zoning at 230 Sagamore Street was submitted to the City Council during last Tuesday's meeting on behalf of Dr. Lazaro R. Compeito Jr. by Councilman Vaughn Lewis.

The temporary re-zoning would allow Dr. Compeito to practice from a private residence.

The city attorney has the papers now and I am hopeful we can act on it before the next meeting, Wednesday, Sept. 11," said Mayor Larry Kimmel.

In recognizing the urgent need for additional doctors in the area, Kimmel did say the city does not expect any objection to the request.

It will take 45 to 60 days before conclusive action can be taken on the part of the city, Kimmel added.

While pointing out the city's opposition to spot zoning, Kimmel preferred the term "special exception" be applied.

Although the city is opposed to spot zoning they do have a provision for special exceptions if the building is classified as a public use facility, City Attorney Rupert Smith said.

A maximum two-year period will be applied to the zoning exception.

Within this two-year period, I am hopeful a medical facility or professional building will be made available in the area," the mayor added.

The matter will be advertised and a public hearing held before the official conclusion of action.

Board meeting date is changed

PORT ST. LUCIE—According to CESA President Dick Lundin, the board of directors will meet Sept. 9 at 7:30 p.m. instead of Sept. 5 as previously scheduled.

No reason was given for the change in the September meeting dates.

New voting precinct for primary

PORT ST. LUCIE—A new voting precinct has been established in the fast growing southern part of St. Lucie County, and there are 256 registered voters in Precinct 15.

Voting in the south Hutchinson Island precinct in the Sept. 10 primary will be at Holiday Inn Recreation Hall, according to Supervisor of Election James Brooks.

Brooks said that from the demand of absentee ballots, there will be a "light turnout" for the primary.

We have issued just over 100 absentee ballots," Brooks said. This compares to over 1,100 ballots issued in the 1972 primary.

There are 26,666 registered voters in St. Lucie County, according to Brooks.

Voting locations in the Port St. Lucie area include:

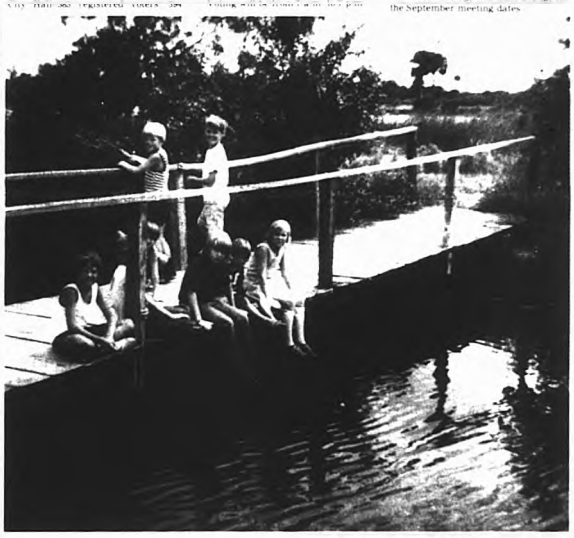
Precinct 11, Walton, voting at Walton Community Hall. 441 registered voters, 163 Republicans and 163 Democrats, 15 Independents.

Precinct 11A, North Port St. Lucie, voting Port St. Lucie Marina. 2,968 registered voters, 1,429 Republicans, 846 Democrats and 183 Independents.

Precinct 11B, Spanish Lakes, voting at the Community Center. 251 registered voters, 127 Republicans, 118 Democrats and 36 Independents.

Precinct 11C, Port St. Lucie, voting at City Hall and registered voters. [illegible] Republicans, 447 Democrats and 34 Independents.

Voting will be from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.



FISHING CONTESTANTS—One of the many activities enjoyed by Cub Scout Pack 499 during the annual family picnic day was the fishing contest. Picnic Island was reserved at the Savanna Recreation Park on Midway Road for the Sunday afternoon get together.

HUMOR—Although one might guess the topic is politics, Dr. C.E. Grizzell, president of the Port St. Lucie Republican Club, enjoys a friendly discussion with Bill Morse at the Labor Day festivities.

Chereton completes AF course

PORT ST. LUCIE—Airman Richard S. Chereton, son of Mrs. Margie M. Chereton of 201 SW Dabney Drive, Port St. Lucie, has graduated at Keesler AFB, Miss., from the U.S. Air Force radar repairman course conducted by the Air Training Command.

The airman, who was trained to operate and repair aircraft control and warning radar equipment, is being assigned to La Junta, Colo. for duty with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

Airman Chereton, a 1968 graduate of Miami's Beach High School, attended Miami-Dade Junior College.

Sergeant to address Republican Club

PORT ST. LUCIE—State Rep. Charles [illegible] of Port St. Lucie will address a meeting of the PSL Republican Club Thursday, Sept. 4 at 7:30 p.m. at the CESA Building on Prima Vista Blvd.

Sergeant will discuss mandatory tax rate rollback legislation in a special session for St. Lucie, Indian River and Martin Counties.

Theft increase expected

Bicycle registration beginning

PORT ST. LUCIE—Due to the long holiday weekend, the bicycle registration program got off to a lagging start last Saturday at the Port St. Lucie Marina on Prima Vista Blvd.

The program, instigated by Councilman Kenneth Thompson and Safety Director Jim Thomas, is designed to cut down on the number of potential thefts in the area, and to speed up the return of the stolen bicycles to their owners.

With the mid-term opening of the new Port St. Lucie Elementary School, an increase in thefts is anticipated by law enforcement officials.

For a fee of fifty cents the owner of any bike may have all the vehicle details set down in a central register which is available at all times to law enforcement officers. This central register will include the serial number of the bike, the type of bars, wheels, brakes and color plus the owner's name and address.

No proof of purchase is required.

Bikes may be registered at the Port St. Lucie City Hall weekdays from 9-12 a.m. and 1-4 p.m.

The Port St. Lucie Marina facility on Prima Vista will be open for registration for three consecutive Saturdays, Sept. 7, 14, and 21, for the convenience of those residents in Spanish Lakes, River Park and North Port St. Lucie.

Registration at the marina facility is being handled by volunteers from the Port St. Lucie Homeowners Association.

Bike owners only need to register once and the details become a permanent record.

Provision is made in the records for the sale of a machine.

Lions Club to meet at CESA

PORT ST. LUCIE—The newly organized Port St. Lucie Lions Club will meet tonight, Wednesday, at the CESA Building on Prima Vista Blvd. at 6:30.

According to President Bill Stroul, the club will continue to hold meetings at the CESA Building on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

A catered dinner will be served at all future meetings.

Pack 499 picnic

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Savanna Recreational Park was the place where the action was last Sunday when the local Cub Scout Pack held the annual family picnic.

With the attendance over fifty, Cubmaster Tom Hillegas termed the event as being a highly successful one.

City Council to meet Wednesday

PORT ST. LUCIE—Due to the conflict with the Sept. 10 political primary election, the Port St. Lucie City Council will hold its next regular meeting at the City Hall on Wednesday, Sept. 11.

Episcopal School opens

PORT ST. LUCIE—Holy Faith Episcopal Church of Port St. Lucie announced plans for a church school for the fall season.

According to Rev. Pioner, classes will be provided for all ages, pre-school through junior high. Sunday mornings at 9 a.m. in the fellowship hall.

Classes begin Sunday, Sept. 15.

All parents having children to enroll in church school are asked to meet Sept. 8 in the Parish Hall at 9 a.m.

Petticoat group to wind up season

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Port St. Lucie Petticoat Shuffleboard Group will close the summer season as they hit the courts in final play on Thursday, Sept. 12 at 6:30 p.m.

Trophies will be awarded to the winners at a luncheon to be held on Sept. 19, 12 noon, at the North Port Marina.

Arrangements for the luncheon are being planned by a committee consisting of Pearl Troutman, Mary Lindberg, Helen Ruzicka and Nina Bergamini.

CESA bingo

PORT ST. LUCIE—One of the most popular past times in the area are the bingo games at CESA.

Under the new fall schedule, players have the opportunity of playing twice a week, Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. or Saturday nights at 7:45.

ATTACKED CHICK—Chicken that is, Carson Meyer, area chairman for IRCC, leaves the Port St. Lucie Marina with a stack of barbecued chicken last Monday during the Labor Day festivities.

Business education courses planned

STUART--Adults who are interested in taking business education courses may select from a variety of offerings at Martin County High School, Stuart, and at Indiantown Middle School, Indiantown.

Courses include beginning, advanced, and personal typewriting, bookkeeping, key punch, Gregg shorthand, and ABC Notehand.

Registration for these and other adult education courses will take place at Martin County High School, SR No. 76, Stuart, and Indiantown Middle School, West Farm Road, Indiantown, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings, September 3-5.

Registration fee for each course is $2.00, with a textbook or material charge which varies according to the subject.

According to Henry A. Childers, Director of Adult Education for Martin County Public Schools, it is important for adults to register and plan to attend sessions regularly. "These are skills subjects which require practice, repetition and reinforcement. This is why we urge adults to enroll early, preferably at the outset of the course. In this way, they will have opportunities for sufficient practice so that proficiency in the subject may be attained."

For additional information about these and other adult education offerings, please call 287-4400 weekdays between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Gluckler-Hurchalla win primary

JENSEN BEACH—In hotly contested Martin County primary races Tuesday, incumbent Commissioner Dr. Edward Geary lost but Democratic party nomination to Maggy Hurchalla, but on the Republican party side of the ticket incumbent Commissioner Ed Gluckler easily defeated his opponent Gerald O'Brien.

But in the other Republican party District 4 County Commission, there apparently will be a runoff in the Oct. 1 primary.

In unofficial voting, Edward Harvey and Joan Jefferson led in the four person race with Frederick Humberstone third and Thomas Ladley fourth.

There are some 700 Republican absentee ballots to be counted at today's Wednesday's official canvass of ballots and more than 100 Democratic party absentee ballots to be counted.

In another close county race, Marc A. Vianco and David Harper were separated by only a few votes in the nonpartisan county judge's race.

In big Precinct 1, Jensen Beach, more than 1,000 persons cast their ballots and gave Dr. Geary a narrow margin over Mrs. Hurchalla while Gluckler posted a big margin over O'Brien.

In Jensen Beach precinct the state trend was followed in the governor's race and the Republican party senate race, giving Gov. Reuben Askew a big vote and in the senate race Jack Eckerd got a two-to-one margin over Paul Hawkins.

Jensen Beach voters also gave Richard Pettigrew the margin over Richard Stone and Bill Gunter in the Democratic party primary for U.S. Senate.

In the Democratic party District 4 race, the unofficial total of all 18 precincts, Mrs. Hurchalla polled 1,997 votes to Dr. Geary's 1,757.

In the District 2 primary, Republican party incumbent Commissioner Gluckler polled an unofficial 1,757 votes.

The unofficial total in the Republican party District 4 race, Harvey was the apparent unofficial leader, polling 1,249 votes to Mrs. Jefferson's 1,124, followed by Humberstone with 628 and Landley with 546.

The absentee ballots could change the county judge's outcome with Vianco polling 2,136 unofficial votes to Harper's 2,522.

Supervisor of Elections Mrs. Sandra Randolph said that 8,023 voted in the primary, about a 35 percent turnout.

Mrs. Randolph had predicted a 40 percent or more turnout since there had been so much interest in the county commission races.

Pettigrew led the 11 man race in the Democratic U.S. Senate primary polling an unofficial 886 votes with Stone a close second with 808, followed by Gunter with 664.

In the U.S. Senate race on the Republican ticket, Eckerd polled 2,283 unofficial tallies to Mrs. Hawkins' 1,006.

CHECKING MACHINE. Martin County Supervisor of Elections Mrs. Sandra Randolph checks one of the voting machines at Precinct 1, Langford Park in Jensen Beach, early Tuesday morning. Some of the machines had gone out of order, posted briefly, before they were repaired.

Chamber approves first budget

JENSEN BEACH—For the first time in history, the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce has a budget.

At Monday night's meeting, the directors approved a $6,848.84 budget.

While the budget is below anticipated needs, the budget committee headed by Mrs. Virginia Van Dien recommended that membership dues not be raised.

"There is so much going up," Mrs. Van Dien said, but the committee recommends that dues not be increased."

The committee recommended some projects be undertaken to raise money to make up deficits in the budget.

However, directors pointed out that the chamber not depend on proceeds from the Fishing Guide to make up any deficit in the budget.

To raise funds, the committee suggested that the chamber hold a golf tournament, have a July Fourth food sales function on the Jensen Beach Causeway on Labor Day, and have a boat raffle.

Income from the present membership is $5,450 based on 148 sustaining memberships at $35 and 37 contributing $10.

The committee recommends a membership drive for 1975.

Items in the budget include:

Salaries $3,450.56; Utilities, Florida Power and Light $540; $45 monthly; and Southern Bell $306; $30 monthly;

Printing and publications, including letterheads, envelopes, statements etc. $450; building maintenance $500; insurance about $400.

Special events, Halloween and Christmas $250; petty cash $240.

The committee recommended that the president appoint a newsletter committee from membership to edit, mimeograph and mail out each month; and that the president appoint a welfare (benevolence) chairman.

Chamber changes director terms

JENSEN BEACH—The need for more Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce members was pointed out by John Myers at Monday night's general membership meeting.

"Where the president have to get on the telephone and call directors so we can have a quorum," Heyburn said.

Myers made his pitch for more action at the meeting called for the purpose to consider changes in the charter constitution and by-laws that directors had approved at the last meeting.

But by meeting opened shortly after 8 p.m. there were 11 persons present. Four more came to the meeting before 8 p.m.

The report first proposed election of five one-year and five two-year directors, changing from the three one-year and three two-year directors voted by the board last month.

All directors are now elected for one-year terms.

It was also noted by Heyburn, a member of the board, that "directors have an interest in doing things for the chamber." "There are not enough people to help out," he said.

"We have to get people outside the board to participate," Don Wilkie countered.

"Maybe we are not involving enough people outside the board," Wilkie said.

The members finally settled on selecting seven one-year directors and three two-year directors.

As it now stands, the board of directors will be composed of the president, vice president, treasurer, secretary, seven one-year directors, three two-year directors, and the immediate past president.

All other changes approved by the directors were approved by the membership.

Most changes are in the election procedures, selecting officers and directors at general membership meetings instead of mailing out ballots to chamber members.

A nominating committee will be appointed at the October meeting of the directors and officers and directors will be elected in November. Installation will be made in December.

NO LINE. The usual long line of voters at Langford Park Fieldhouse, Precinct 1, was not there when this picture was made Tuesday morning. These voters wait their turn at the door of the Fieldhouse.

Navy band at Leif Erikson celebration

JENSEN BEACH—A final planning session will be held Sunday, Sept. 15, by the Leif Erikson Day Committee at the St. Lucie Hilton Convention Hall at 4 p.m.

"This will be our final planning session for the Leif Erikson Day festivities, Oct. 4-6," Joan Thurman, said.

Members of the eight lodges of Sons of Norway in Florida, and members from around the United States will gather on the Jensen Beach Causeway for two days of celebration.

The first days of the celebration are reserved for S/N activities, and will be headquartered at the St. Lucie Hilton Inn.

Sunday, Oct. 6, is the public day, with the causeway decorated with Norwegian trappings. One of the features this year will be the U.S. Navy Band.

Another feature of the day is Viking boat races with sail and oarsmen.

Mariner Sands is site of Kiwanis tourney

Jensen Beach—The annual Jensen Beach Kiwanis Club golf tournament will be held Saturday, September 14 at the Mariner Sands Golf Club.

The tournament will be limited to 96 foursomes, Dick Campbell, chairman, said.

"We think golfers will be pleased with this new and exciting golf course, and are receiving the full cooperation of the staff of Mariner Sands in this program," Campbell said.

Proceeds of the tournament will be used in the youth activities of the club most of which centers around activities at Langford Park.

Golfers will begin swinging at the little white ball early in the morning and continue throughout the day.

Tickets for this benefit tournament is $15 per person, according to Campbell.

ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. John Miner, Jensen Beach, were feted at a reception given in honor of the 25th Wedding Anniversary by their daughter, Mrs. Michael (Raeleen) Currier of Colrain, Mass. Friends and relatives gathered at the Jensen Beach Community Church Fellowship Hall last Saturday for the affair. Out of town guests included Mr. Miner's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Don Miner of Colrain. The Miners, Jack and Louella, were married September 4, 1949, in Colrain.

County OKs temporary budget

JENSEN BEACH—A temporary and tentative 1974-75 budget of $6.9 million was adopted last week by the Martin County Commission.

County Commission finance committee chairman Tinker Powers said that the new budget proposal is only temporary and tentative because the commission hasn't received the tax roll for this year.

The temporary budget must be reviewed and approved in order to pay the county's bills from the start of the new fiscal year Oct. 1 to the time a final budget is approved, Powers said.

Powers said the county will roll back the millage to insure that a 10 percent increase does not occur and said the county may be able to add funds to the budget depending upon the actual valuation figure.

A public hearing on the latest budget proposal is set for Sept. 18.

LITTER ART—Litterers have taken a new tack in Jensen Beach, decorating a tree along the Jensen Cutoff Road (SR707A) with their beer cans. The Litterbug's idea of art includes littering, and killing the buds on the branches of this small pine.

Chamber supports light bid

JENSEN BEACH. The campaign to have a traffic signal installed at Indianatic Street and Savanna Road received support Monday night from the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce directors.

The directors voted to support the Jensen Beach Elementary School PTA's drive to get the county to install a signal at the intersection used by many children going to the school.

A delegation of PTA members, headed by Mrs. Barbara Hendry, the organization president, was to appear today, Wednesday before the County Commission urging installation of the traffic signal.

"We have 500 signatures on petitions that we will give the commissioners," Mrs. Hendrys said Tuesday.

Petitions urging the erection of the signal have been passed by PTA members in the community for the past few days.

Chamber directors voted their support of the PTA's campaign but said they wanted South Savanna Road repaved before the light is installed.

Commissioner Rosa Philbrick said Tuesday that if the state is not going to move on the project widening and repaving, that the county would recap the road.

A decision on the road improvement, about a $7,000 project, is expected to be made at today's meeting, according to Philbrick.

Philbrick and Mrs. Hendry both noted that deputies have been absent from the busy intersection two days last week.

PTA members were upset at the opening of school when deputies were not at their post during opening and closing of school hours.

All Saints plans 75th anniversary

...EN BEACH–The 75th Anniver... ...committee of All Saints Episcopal ...ch of Jensen Beach has announced ...the Right Reverend Paul Reeves, ...ngo Bishop of the Diocese of ...ch, Savannah, will be the guest ...r at the anniversary banquet to ...held IT on Thursday, November ...

Master of Ceremonies for the banquet will be William F. Crary of Stuart, a life-long resident of the area.

The Rev. Francis C. Gray, Jr., Rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Melbourne, Florida, will also be a special guest. Father Gray is the great-grandson of Bishop William Crane Gray, who consecrated the church building of All Saints as part of the missionary district of Florida in the year 1886.

Plans are progressing on other activities to be held throughout the month of November to celebrate the 75th year of the consecration of the first church in Jensen Beach. Many special people will be honored at the various events which will include, in addition to the banquet several special church services, an old-timers party, a children's party, a barbecue and a concert.

A complete history of the church and the surrounding area is being compiled and will be presented in an Anniversary Book.

PLANNERS–All Saints Episcopal Church in Jensen Beach will be celebrating its 75th anniversary soon. Planning for the celebration are members of the planning committee: Peggy Chase, Mary Martin, Alice Barnwell, Nellie Cook, Sylvia Kessler and Sandra Makris. Standing, left to right are Wallace Fletcher, Father Alvarez, Melvin Swensen, and Daniel Lepore.

Grand jury makes building report

JENSEN BEACH–The Martin County Grand Jury has reported that Assistant State Attorney Bruce Colton has found no evidence of kickback to county building inspectors and the jury "felt further efforts on its part would be nonproductive."

In its report last week to Circuit Judge C. Pfeiffer Trowbridge, the jury gave first consideration to the claim that gratuities and kickbacks were given to building inspectors.

The jury report said previous to the Grand Jury inquiry, Colton had conducted a thorough investigation of these inspectors as well as witnesses under oath.

Colton found no evidence to support the claim. In view of the foregoing investigation, the Grand Jury felt further efforts on its part would be non-productive.

The jury however criticized the Building Department for laxity in enforcing building codes and for poor administrative practices, and recommended that the County Commission:

Establish a better line of communication between department heads, assuring that necessary releases and approvals from zoning and engineering departments are on record in the Building Department before a certificate of occupancy is issued.

Expedite the preparation of organizational charts and job specifications for these departments which define the job responsibilities of department heads as well as those of all individual employees under their supervision.

Clarify building code provisions on standards of workmanship defining acceptable limits of error.

Expedite the updating of the building code and provide for the inclusion of air conditioning and heating code.

County officials say they agree with the jury's recommendations for tightening procedures for the Building Department and will begin taking steps to implement the recommendations.

New pool bids planned

STUART–Martin County purchasing agent Paul Penrod will ask the County Commission to approve new bidding for the public swimming pool.

Bids for the pool, which would be constructed at Martin County High School, were received last week and were more than $300,000, almost double the amount budgeted.

The commissioner has pledged $100,000 toward the construction cost and the Stuart Kiwanis Club has pledged $100,000.

Planners for the project decided not to reduce the proposed olympic size of the pool but to make changes in the buildings and locker shower facilities.

Separate contracts also will be offered on the pool and the buildings which previously were bid as a single project.

Detective bureau is reorganized

STUART–A veteran law enforcement officer has been named as temporary head of the reorganized Martin County Sheriff's Department Detective Bureau.

Sheriff James Hall said Russell Cummings is replacing one of three detectives who left the Sheriff's Department last week.

The sheriff recently fired former detectives John Davis and Gene Hutson and former chief detective Herschel Thompson resigned.

The sheriff said that the trio left the department in a dispute over procedures.

Hall said Davis and Hutson to look for a job somewhere else, but the sheriff said he did not tell Thompson to resign. All three men came to Martin County from the St. Lucie County Sheriff's Department.

Cummings worked as both a deputy and a detective under former sheriffs Ros Baker and Robert Crowder. He left the county for a short time to work in Sumter County, and in July of last year returned as a road deputy under Hall.

Job placement program at MCHS

STUART–Martin County High School has initiated a job placement program for students who are interested in exploring the practical experience of "on the job training". The program is part of a national trend for career education.

Presently there are eight programs at MCHS: Four Work Experience Programs (WEP); two Diversified Cooperative Training programs (DCT); one Distributive Education program (DE); and one Cooperative Business Education program (CBE). The work experience programs are designed for freshmen and sophomore students who are experiencing financial difficulties and would probably have to withdraw from school if they were not afforded the opportunity to engage in part-time work.

The DCT, CBE and DE programs are designed for students who are juniors or seniors in high school (sixteen years of age or older and are employed on jobs that will give realistic "on the job training" of their choice. The programs are an integral part of the high school curriculum, utilizing the business and industrial establishment of the community as training agencies. The general philosophy is based on the specific need and that is providing effective "on the job" training correlated with related and supplemental classroom instructions.

The employment services were expanded at the high school last year to include those students who were not enrolled in regular "on the job training" programs. Approximately 500 part-time jobs were obtained for students who were enrolled in regular academic work or block vocational programs. Many of the students employed were hired permanently at the end of the school year and other students worked and used the money to help defray regular school expenses, and towards financing their college careers. Many businesses were relieved during the height of the tourist season because of utilization of the student man power at the high school.

Students are being trained in radio-tv, masonry, carpentry, auto mechanics, childcare, fashion design, foods and nutrition, marine engines, clerical secretarial practice, drafting, and many other technical areas that would make them prime prospects for part-time employment.

Students are available for employment regardless of the nature of the work. We hope that every young man or young lady at MCHS will be given the opportunity to find a part-time job if they are desirous of working. The only way that we will be able to accomplish this goal is with cooperation from businesses and industries in the county.

Letters to the editor

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Executive and Landscaping Committees of the "Save Our Beaches" campaign, I want to express our deep appreciation for the excellent full page spread Dennis Doyle created on behalf of our Martin County high school students.

This spread was really a superb piece of photo journalism and is without a doubt the most impressive single newspaper contribution we have received to date. I have ordered copies to send to Governor Askew and the members of his cabinet who have shown interest in our campaign since its conception. As you will remember, the campaign was officially brought into being in August 1972 and the actual fund-raising campaign started with church services on October 1, that same year.

Your cooperation and imagination deserves both praise and admiration.

Sincerely,
Scott Fletcher
Executive Vice-chairman

Tract sold for $3.7 million

JENSEN BEACH—An 873-acre parcel land near Walton Road and on the east side of U. S. 1 has been sold for about $3.7 million, it has been reported.

The property, about one-half mile north of the Walton Road, extends back to the Savannas.

Called by a multi-farmer, the property is almost directly west of the property being developed by Universal Atlantic.

The property has about 4,775 foot frontage on U. S. 1, and the price per acre is about $4,200.

A spokesman for the real estate firm which handled the transaction said the property will not be developed in the near future.

Extension requested for new fire station

PORT ST. LUCIE—The city council, last Friday, submitted a request to the fire board for a 60-day extension on the completion date of the south county fire station being constructed on Port St. Lucie Blvd.

The contractor asked the city for an extension when recent heavy rains caused construction setbacks, according to Mayor Larry Kimmel.

The city turned the matter over to the fire board requesting the completion date be set back to November 15, Kimmel said.

This will make the final decision be added.

The city is required for the extension followed a meeting between county members, the fire district and contractor head at the City Hall last Friday to determine when the new fire station could be completed.

The meeting seemed to have a good effect on the completion, the mayor said. "Since then he worked Saturday, Sunday and they are getting up over the water tower. I'm afraid it's ahead of schedule."

They seem to be making great progress now.

At one time we were about six days behind the schedule, but dragging work on the part of the contractor helped us which up somewhat," Kimmel said.

The station was originally scheduled to be opened by the end of the month.

The mayor said there will be another meeting of officials of the fire district and the contractor (not Williams, he says how much of a delay is warranted.

If has been not been predicted by the mayor that the new station would not be completed before the end of the year.

The south county substation was approved by the fire board earlier this year after considerable argument.

The council turned the fire district the money to construct the building and then offered to donate a certain vehicle. The station will be manned by two annual employees.

The substation will eventually replace the Manatee station on Selvitz Road.

Another unit, the present operation is also to be manned by annual personnel. Another station is planned in White City and in Port St. Lucie before the end of the year with Lakewood Park getting a station next.

Choir begins second year

PORT ST. LUCIE—Holy Faith Episcopal Church, Port St. Lucie, recently held a week-long Choir Day Camp for the Choristers, a choir composed of boys and girls in grades 2-8.

Mrs. Wayne Posner, director of the Choristers, was in charge of the program, assisted by Mrs. Earle Vivian, church organist, and Miss Tracy Raulerson, who helped with refreshments and lunch.

Twelve boys and girls participated.

The program began each morning at 9:30 with 15 minutes of fun songs to warm up on. The on to more serious subjects, a brief study of the liturgy to help the Choristers participate in the church service, an introduction to four of the anthems for this year, some basic music theory, and a chance to review the service music and learn some new hymns.

Lunch and an hour of arts and crafts brought the program to a conclusion at 1:30. On Friday, a cook-out and swimming party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeLee ended the week.

To reinforce the music theory lessons, Mrs. Posner devised games using the concepts taught. For example, one game was a board game in which the Choristers were the playing pieces and the board was a huge eighth note outlined on the floor.

Each player in turn was shown one of a stack of cards. If the card had notes on it, he moved forward the number of beats shown. If it had a rest on it, he had to move backwards the correct number of beats. If he landed on an occupied space, the other player was bumped off and had to start over.

Mrs. Posner plans to submit the games to the Choristers Guild, a national organization for choir directors and workers with children's choirs of which she is a member, for possible publication.

If accepted the games would be sent by the Choristers Guild to choirs and choir directors all over the United States for use as part of their program of music education.

Enrollment in the Choristers at Holy Faith is open to all interested children in grades 2-8. Parents may call the church office for further information.

Choristers rehearse on Wednesdays from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

New hostess for Wagon

PORT ST. LUCIE—Mrs. Jeannie Eggart has completed a course of training in New Orleans, La. preparing her for the position of Port Pierce's Welcome Wagon hostess.

Mrs. Eggart resides at 118 Arroso Blvd. and is one of 8,000 Welcome Wagon hostesses who make more than a million calls annually on families in more than 4,000 cities throughout the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico and the United Kingdom.

UMW meet September 18

PORT ST. LUCIE—The United Methodist Women of Port St. Lucie will hold their first meeting of the fall season Sept. 18 at 1 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the church on Prima Vista Blvd.

The affair will be a dessert-luncheon. All women of the church are invited.

Plans are underway for the annual bazaar scheduled for Nov. 1.

The Executive Board meeting will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Ada Haines, Sept. 14 at 1:30 p.m.

All Bazaar committee chairpersons are asked to meet with the executive board at that time.

Jr. Anglers Club contest nears end

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Port St. Lucie Vikings's 1st Junior fishing contest for youths 12 years and under is nearing an end. Entries will be received until September 30.

Twenty three entries have been received in the current fishing contest for members. This contest runs to November 30.

New members received at the Sept. 1 meeting were Jim and Betty Hall, Sandy and Sandy Peterson, Claude Price, Jr., Hughes Bronnger, and Robert and Rosemarie Hardies.

Living in ...

LEILANI Heights

BY JACKIE SHAW
Tele. 334-3530

Sincere congratulations to Phyllis and Ken Smith who became grandparents for the first time on September 8th. Their son, Mark and daughter-in-law Donna became the proud parents of an eight pound, twelve ounce baby girl, named Lynette Jennifer.

Patti Smith left for her last year in college on August 22 at Potsdam University, New York. Phyllis accompanied her on the trip to New York and enjoyed visiting her parents, her other children and friends for a week.

Belated birthday greetings go to Yvette Shaffer on August 24.

Happy birthday also to Brenda Reed on September 2nd.

This week we go to the G.A. Construction model home and meet Candace Candy. Just who works part time as receptionist there. Candy is the pretty and extroverted daughter of the developer of Leilani Heights. She is quite knowledgeable and enthusiastic about her position.

Candy is married to Andrew (known as "A.J.") Justi and he is employed at Tropic Furniture in Stuart. They have a handsome, blonde three year old son, Carl.

The Justi's live in Golden Gate, Stuart. A. J. hails from Detroit, Michigan, and Candy was born and raised in Stuart as was her mother before her.

As for pets, they have a German Shepherd named "Lady Shanen" and own a horse called "Hot Stuff" which Candy has had for ten years. She loves to ride him, and does so whenever she gets the chance.

Candy's interests lie in cooking and, would you believe, just completed a ten week course in "Belly Dancing" and is not about to start a course in "Karate".

She and "A.J." love Florida's way of living.

Best Wishes go to Candy who celebrated her birthday on September 1st.

Baha'i Faith confers on global unity

ST. LOUIS, MO.–Among more than 10,000 members of the Baha'i Faith from the United States and dozens of foreign countries gathered here August 29 - September 1, were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Svenson, Mrs. Estelle Johnson, Ms. Joan Cook and Ms. Dicy Pine, all of Martin County.

The purpose of the four day conference was to launch the American phase of the global teaching plan developed by the Universal House of Justice the foremost administrative body of the Baha'i Faith.

The Baha'i Faith, an independent world religion, began in Iran in 1844 and today has millions of followers in over 70,000 localities in more than 300 countries and territories throughout the world.

It's founder, Baha'u'llah, stressed the oneness of God, of religion, and of the human race.

Shorthand course is offered

FORT PIERCE–A continuing Education course in Beginning Shorthand is being offered at Indian River Community College on Tuesday and Thursday from 7-8:30 p.m. in Room B-107.

Students will learn the principles of Gregg Shorthand by reading and writing rapidly and accurately and will develop and improve their spelling, vocabulary, punctuation, grammar, and typing style.

The registration fee is $6, and September 18 is the last day to register for this popular class.

DEBORAH M. HARPER TO WED JOHN R. SPADES. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Harper announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter Deborah to John R. Spades, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Spades of Stuart. The ceremony will be performed at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Stuart on October 11 at 7 p.m. All friends are invited. Both are 1971 graduates of Martin County High School.

JBWA welcomes new members

JENSEN BEACH--Veronica Cleary and Eva Clark Lee were welcomed as new members of the Jensen Beach Womans Association at a recent meeting.

Jennie Escott, one of the first presidents of the group, is celebrating her 94th birthday and warm greetings were extended to her by the group.

The committee appointed for the purpose reported that a new kitchen range has been purchased and will soon be installed, and they are checking on flooring for the kitchen.

The date for the next dessert-card party is September 16.

On October 25, the Association plans a dinner and cards in the evening. Husbands are invited.

Hilda Costello says, "Be sure to bring the husbands ... it will be a nice evening."

For information and reservations call Hilda Costello at 334-1038 or Irene Hunter 334-0859.

Teen dance nets $300

JENSEN BEACH--Mrs. Daryl Marsteller, secretary of the Indian River Chapter of the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation, announced that the Teen Dance for grades 6-10 held at the Stuart Youth Center last Friday night was a huge success.

Over 300 young people danced to and enjoyed the music of the "T. C. McGees" group, who donated most of their fee for the dance.

Over $300 was raised by the event. All proceeds go to Diabetes Research.

Among raffle winners were: Mrs. Susan Smith, Tony George, and Susan Rathgaber.

The Jensen Beach Winn Dixie Kwik Chek store was most generous with the donation of Chek soft drinks. Others who contributed were: Lil Saints, Pic & Pay, Coca Cola Bottling Co., and Jensen Beverage.

Chaperones were: Mr. and Mrs. Larry Caskey of the Youth Center, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Nethers, Mr. and Mrs. E. Rathgaber, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Zglinicki.

THE PORT ST. LUCIE
MIRROR
VOL. 3, NO. 37 SEPTEMBER 11, 1974 10¢

Gift kicks off Lions treasury

PORT ST. LUCIE–A gift of $25 from an anonymous donor has started the treasury for the newly organized Port St. Lucie Lions Club, according to Bill Strout, president.

The club will meet on the first and third Wednesdays of each month in the CESA building at 6:15 sharp.

A dinner will be catered at each meeting by various groups in the area.

Any club or organization interested in catering should contact Strout, 878-3548.

"I am happy to report that our club will be assisting the Fort Pierce Lions with their pancake breakfast this Sunday at the Elks Club," Strout said.

Green-Alder top vote getters

PORT ST. LUCIE–The lackluster campaign in both political parties brought a groundswell of apathy to the polls Tuesday, as only 24 percent of the registered voters turned out to cheer on their candidates.

R.E. Greene, incumbent county commissioner, outdistanced R.E. Jenkins, challenger from his own Democratic party, 2818 to 1971, winning the election in the primary, having no Republican opposition.

In the hotly contested District Four race, Marjorie Silver Alder won the right to face incumbent Republican Ed Enns in the November general election, defeating George Power, 2324 to 1987. Power campaigned on his Port St. Lucie residence, while Alder campaigned on a conservation platform.

A. Gerald Weatherington with a total of 1622 votes led the Democratic race for School Board District 3, followed by Jeff Furst with 1566 votes, while Gordon C. Schuster received 1,056.

With incomplete south county returns for the District 5 School Board candidates Sam Gaines had a good margin over Jack Gore.

In state elections Governor Reuben Askew maintained an overwhelming lead over his Democratic opponent Tom Adams.

South County Republican voters supported Jack Eckerd three to one over Paula Hawkins, following the state wide trend.

Due to the late returns in St. Lucie County and The Mirror's 9 p.m. deadline, the above results are unofficial.

EARLY VOTERS–Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott were among the early morning voters casting their ballots in the City Hall, Precinct 11C Tuesday. Mrs. Lynn Kilgore, poll worker, assists the Scotts in the verification of their registration. The first ballot cast in the Country Club area was that of Mayor Larry Kimmel at 7 a.m.

White blasts Mirror or political actions

BY ALICE HICKEY

RT ST. LUCIE–It was only the ught, thinking of one board ber that prevented the Port St. ie Park Homeowners Assoc. board of directors from going on e with their endorsement of a ts candidate last Friday.

ough for the objection voiced by Reading, the board was ready to ay their non-partisan position to ow the incumbent District 2 County missioner R.E. Green.

ough endorsement in the Port St. Mirror, the city's only hometown paper, was the target of a ere attack by the homeowner's ion directors.

Rita who headed the attack, ned the Mirror as an ocrats paper with nothing more a post office drop in Port St.

ditting Mirror Publisher Dick ed for his unqualified endorse- While suggested the board make an immediate letter of endorsement to the present commission and also urged board members to get out and work for the re-election of the District 2 commissioner.

"I don't know what influence the Mirror endorsement will even carry in this area, but I urge each of you to get out and work for Green," White said.

"It has taken six or seven years to eliminate the gap between the county commission and Port St. Lucie and if the opponent should be elected we will have all this damn work to do over again," he added.

White pointed to the ambulance situation, the locally stationed rescue unit, traffic signals, bike paths and roads as areas of cooperation between the present commissioners and this south county community.

Fred Johnston, who also serves on the Fort Pierce Memorial Hospital Board, followed through by making White's suggestion for the political endorsement a motion.

At this point, it was Reading who strongly suggested the board reconsider any such motion.

Although quick to say that he did not favor the Mirror endorsement, Reading did suggest the board submit a letter of appreciation to the St. Lucie County Commission for their cooperation rather than a political endorsement.

Pointing out the homeowners association as a non-partisan organization representing over 750 residents in the community, Reading said, "I fail to see how this board can go on record as endorsing any one political candidate without endorsing an entire slate."

"I fear such action on the part of this board would subject the entire association to criticism."

While White questioned that the good might outweigh the bad in this particular instance, Johnston withdrew his motion.

The board then unanimously agreed to forward the letter of appreciation to the commissioners.

GDC expands Port Labelle facility

RT ST. LUCIE–General Develop- Corporation announced it will construction immediately on remaining for this new town being ilt by the Florida based ami builder.

n E. Fowler, president and chief ive officer of General Develop- said the first phase of the new g program will be a modern ry club complex and marina ex.

preservation of amenities ded "A Day in Port LaBelle" h, which was attended by over ilies and guests from Glades and ty counties.

LaBelle, subject of an intensive ed planning program, is located 0 acres along the Caloosahat- River in Central Southwest da, 16 miles east of Fort Myers on 1 Road 80 in Hendry and Glades ties.

nstruction has been under way for t than a year on the initial 9-mile area. The 18-hole ntry Oaks golf course has completed along with water and sewage treatment facilities. Approximately 50 homes are occupied or in various stages of construction. Present is being built is Holiday Park, a permanent mobile home community and a soon to be completed 26 acre nine foot deep marina basin cutting in excess of a quarter million dollars.

Initially, the country club amenities will consist of a 100 seat restaurant, two hard surface tennis courts and a large outdoor swimming pool.

The marina will contain a dock master's building complete with office, crew's lounge and laundry facilities. In addition the first dock providing 25 slips for boats up to 25 feet in length will be installed along with fueling services.

The buildings will be of contemporary design but rustic in appearance through the extensive use of exterior wood walls and shake roofs. Provisions have been made for future expansion of the restaurant to include a lounge and seating for 200 persons. Additional structures to be built as required are a permanent golf pro shop, racquet club, ship's store, dock expansion and a motel.

Field event planned

PORT ST. LUCIE–Registration for the annual punt, pass and kick competition is under way, and deadline for signing up is Oct. 4 at 5 p.m.

The annual event is sponsored by the Fort Pierce-St. Lucie County Recreation Department in conjunction with the Sunrise Motor Co.

Registration is at the company on North Federal Highway.

A punt, pass and kick clinic will be held Sept. 28 at 9 a.m. at Lawnwood Park.

Junior Women meet tonight

PORT ST. LUCIE–The regular monthly meeting of the St. Lucie Junior Women's Club will be held tonight (Wednesday) at 8 p.m. in the North Port St. Lucie Marina on Prima Vista Boulevard.

Over twenty five attended a recent coffee given for prospective members at the home of Mrs. Gary Ament in Fort Pierce.

The club membership is open to all women in the county between the ages of 18 and 40.

Anyone desiring additional information regarding membership should contact Mrs. David Simonson, 878-3035.

Opinions on Nixon's pardon.

"I don't think much of it. If you are guilty you should be reprimanded. He is a man of high intelligence and he should have been open and above board about everything, no exception." John Regan

"I think it was very undemocratic. He hasn't been proven guilty yet, so why pardon him? One thing I do know is that the pardon has cost President Ford my vote when the time comes." C.D. Kirby

"Nixon did a lot of good. I agree with President Ford, he should have received the pardon." Emma Gagg

"I feel the president is doing what he has to do, I suppose. There is not much I can do about it as an individual." Alan Bagamery

"I think it was an act of mercy. I agree with President Ford." Dr. C.E. Grizzell

"Well, to be honest, I am for the pardon." Ethel Nickelsen

"I say let Nixon go. Forget it, but I do hope the new president does a better job." Mary Lack

"I was very happy to hear about the pardon. It was the best thing that could happen. While the economic problems in the country mount, the politicians are only interested in cutting each others throats. I am getting sick and tired of hearing it all. He (Nixon) ran the government as he saw fit." Abe Wolf

"I have mixed feelings about this. He (Nixon) did end a war and brought the boys home. He has admitted he did wrong. How can I even begin to judge the situation?" Jay Cowell

WATER RUNS FREE—One day last week the water pump on Jensen Beach Causeway broke down, and the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce received about 25 complaint calls during the day. Soon the good Jensen Beach water was flowing and Marty Davern of Spanish Lakes like many other area residents filled their water jugs.

Runoff Oct. 1

Harvey vs. Jefferson in second primary

JENSEN BEACH—The more than 600 absentee ballots counted at last Wednesday's, Sept. 11, official vote canvass failed to change any results in the Tuesday primaries.

Martin County Supervisor of Elections, Mrs. Sandra Randolph, said the official vote was 7,653 machine votes and 607 absentee ballots.

One County Commission race was not decided in the Tuesday primary and voters must go to the polls again Oct. 1.

In the Republican contest for District 4 Commission seat, Ed Harvey led the ticket with 1,374 votes and Joan Jefferson was second in the four person race with 1,236 tallies. The race must be decided in the Oct. 1 runoff.

The two other candidates in the District 4 race were Fred Humberstone with 869 votes and Thomas Ladley with 442 votes.

County Judge David Harper received 90% absentee votes to widen his lead over Attorney Marc Cianca with Harper receiving a total of 2,992 votes to Cianca's 2,818.

In the Republican race for District 2, incumbent Ed Gluckler rolled to a one-sided win over Gerald O'Brien, 2,807 votes to 1,413.

Incumbent Commission Chairman Dr. Ed Geary lost the Democratic Party's nomination to Maggy Hurchalla. The official vote was 1,990 for Mrs. Hurchalla to Geary's 1,706.

County voters also endorsed Gov. Reubin Askew's bid for re-election giving him 2,681 votes to 498 for Ben Hill Griffin, who ran second on the county voting. Tom Adams was a close third with 477 and Norman was fourth with only 120.

Richard Pettigrew led the voting in the Democratic race for U.S. Senate but failed to make the runoff. Pettigrew got 915 votes. However, Bill Gunter, 681 votes, and Dick Stone, 831, will be in the runoff, with the winner facing Republican Jack Eckerd in the November general election.

Eckerd received 2,865 votes to Paula Hawkins' 1,273 in the Republican U.S. Senate nomination.

In the Democratic Secretary of State races, Bruce Smathers led the ticket with 1,465 votes followed by Don Pride with 614 and Beverly Dozier got 593.

Fred Dickinson was the county's top choice in the comptroller race, receiving 1,601 votes to Gerald Lewis' 1,192.

Thomas O'Malley got 2,223 votes in the state treasurer race, leading the ticket with Jack Shreve a distant second, with 511.

Ralph Turlington was way out front with 1,123 votes in the commission of education race with Sheila King way back with 648 votes.

In the state senate races, Democratic Party Harry Johnston received 1,552 votes to Michael Small's 1,069, and Don Childers got 1,781 tallies with Donald Walker receiving 686.

On the Republican side, state senate Tom Johnson received 7,491 to 1,028 for M.A. Cogler.

In the state treasurer race, Republican Jeffrey Latham received 2,323 votes to Gene Tubbs' 991.

Fishing contest is for kids

JENSEN BEACH—The fishing contest on Jensen Beach Causeway will be held from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, Sept. 28.

The free contest, with $300 in prizes, is for boys and girls, and is sponsored by the Martin County Chapter of the Izaak Walton League.

Everyone who catches a fish will get a prize, a spokesman for the club said.

The young fishermen must bring their own tackle and bait, but no spears, handlines or nets will be permitted.

Prizes include gift certificates, fishing lures, tackle boxes, water skis etc.

Prizes will be given in a variety of categories, including first fish caught, largest fish in different categories, most fish, etc.

Savanna road is signed

JENSEN BEACH—Temporary improvements in South Savanna Road will be completed within 40 days, according to Martin County Commissioner Ross Philbrick.

Philbrick said he signed a contract with Dickerson Inc. of Stuart for the $7,000 project of about a half-mile stretch of road south from Commercial Street intersection.

"The project will include leveling and resurfacing," Philbrick said. "It will be the same type job that was done to the Jensen Beach Causeway."

Plans for temporary filling of depressions in the road with money coming out of the county road and bridge fund were considered at last week's session of the County Commission.

However, Philbrick said that since work is expected to start soon, the temporary patching job won't be necessary.

It also was noted to the commissioners that the state plans widening and resurfacing the road next year. The earliest date for the work by the state would be in June, and it could be later because of some right of ways must be acquired.

ADD THREE HOURS FOR BRIDGE

Top Viking plans to attend

JENSEN BEACH—Members of six lodges of the Sons of Norway (S.N.) in Florida gathered last weekend at the St. Lucie Hilton to finalize plans for Leif Erikson Day, to be held in Jensen Beach on October 5 and 6, and learned that Jan Hendrickson, National Supreme Director of S.N. will attend the celebration.

Members of lodges in Ft. Myers, Miami, Ft. Lauderdale, Jacksonville, Orlando and the local host lodge, Jensen Beach Ft. Pierce, met to outline the two day festival. Over 500 members from throughout the United States will be on hand to commemorate the landing of Leif Erikson in America in 1002 A.D.

The first day, October 5, is the S.N. day with members gathering at the St. Lucie Hilton Inn for social activities that will include a dinner dance, featuring Carl Greco's Orchestra in the convention hall. Activities for the younger members center around the sailboats, golf course and tennis courts.

Sunday, October 6, is the public day when the S.N. members wear their colorful Bunads (native costumes) to the Jensen Beach Causeway for an afternoon of celebration.

The now famous pageant, re-enacting the landing, will be held with Vikings and Indians following the historical landing to the letter, wearing locally made costumes that are authentic in design.

The actual landing will be from three 100 year old Norwegian boats that are carried for its three lodges. The boats were brought to the United States by ship, and even the oars are authentic.

Scandanavian Air Service brings replacement oars from Norway when active oarsmen break them in competition racing.

This year the United States Navy Band will give a concert, and the authentic Norseman Trio will play Scandanavian music for public dancing.

There will be booths selling souvenirs from Norway.

VIKINGS MEET—Members of six lodges of the Sons of Norway met last weekend at the St. Lucie Hilton Inn to discuss plans for Leif Erikson Day. Discussing these plans are Joan Lein, Leif Erikson Day chairman and Bjarne Eskeick, third district vice president of Sons of Norway.

Dangerous intersection to get signal this week

JENSEN BEACH—Jensen Beach Elementary School PTA members, armed with petitions bearing more than 600 signatures, went to the Martin County Commission Wednesday, Sept. 11, urging installation of a traffic signal at the Commercial Street and Savanna Road intersection.

"It's a dangerous intersection," PTA President Mrs. Barbara Hendry told the commissioners.

Commissioners agreed and ordered the signal and warning lights placed on either side of the intersection.

Workers of Signal Company Construction were at the busy crossroads, a main intersection for children going to the elementary school Sunday, Sept. 15, getting the "hardware in place."

"We should have complete signalization of the intersection by this week," Don Copeland of the Jupiter-based company said.

"I'm very happy that we are finally getting the signals," Mrs. Hendry said Monday when learning that work had started.

At the commission meeting, Mrs. Hendry noted that it had been more than a year since the problem first was made known to county officials.

She also pointed out that when school started this fall, the crossing guard supplied by the Sheriff's Department wasn't always present.

PTA member Mrs. Betty Aderholt also told commissioners about the dangerous intersection. She said that she won't let her son ride his bicycle or walk to the school because sometimes a pedestrian can't safely cross Commercial Street for a quarter-hour at a time.

Morgan Sprott of the Sheriff's Department said that the danger of the crossing is compounded by glare on the windshields of the eastbound traffic because the sun comes up at the time children go to school.

INSTALLS CONTROLS—Don Copeland of Signal Construction Company of Jupiter installs traffic controls on a pole at the intersection of Commercial Street and Savanna Road.

City offers to buy GDC common stock

PORT ST. LUCIE—An offer to purchase the remaining outstanding shares of General Development Corporation common stock has been made by City Investing Company, majority stockholder with 59 per cent of GDC stock, or 5.4 million shares.

The merger, accepted in principle by GDC's board of directors, calls for issuance of one share of City Series B preferred stock for each four shares of GDC common stock.

There are approximately 3.8 million shares outstanding of GDC common, which would call for an issuance of approximately 950,000 shares of City's stock.

ER PROBLEM—Directors of the Jensen Beach Chamber f Commerce have been attempting to get the old fishing er on the Jensen Beach Causeway renovated. The old pier has been taking a battering from the Indian River and man, and chamber director Joan Betsch is shown at one of the many dangerous sections.

School night for scouting will be Tuesday

STUART–The Annual School Night of Scouting will be held at nine local junior and elementary schools beginning at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, September

School Night for Scouting is an opportunity in the neighborhood school for boys to become cub scouts or boy scouts. Local Cub Packs and Scout Troops will be represented at schools to explain scouting and accept into scouting interested boys. All boys who would like to learn about scouting should attend with their parents.

Boys 8 to 10 in the elementary schools should visit the school they normally attend where neighborhood packs will be represented. Boys 11 through 14 should visit the middle school they normally attend where local troops will be represented.

Following are the troops and packs which will be at each school: Stuart Middle School-Troops 800, 803, 811, 815, and 888. Jensen Beach Elementary School-Packs 801 and 815.

Martial arts' offered by Stuart Rec

STUART–As a part of the Martial Arts course being offered by the Stuart Recreation Department, Kung-Fu is being taught by David Medows, a third degree black belt and an experienced teacher.

The Martial Arts class, which started last week, will meet on Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7:00 p.m. at the Stuart Youth Center.

The course is open to persons 15 years of age and over. Shorts, tee shirt, and tennis shoes are required apparel. There is no fee.

For information, call Stuart Youth Center at 287-2500.

PSL pinochle organizes

PORT ST. LUCIE–Friendship and rivalries were renewed when the Port St. Lucie Pinochle Club met in organizational meeting at CESA last Sunday evening.

Officers continued in office for the coming year were: President Fred Siddons; Vice President Jim Landis and Peggy Siddons, Secretary-treasurer.

It was voted to play on each Sunday evening at 7 p.m. at the CESA Building and to welcome all area players.

Navigators to be honored

JENSEN BEACH–Ceremonies recognizing members who have attained the coveted grade of navigator will be featured at the dinner meeting of the St. Lucie River Power Squadron.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 19, at the Howard Johnson Motor Lodge, according to Woodrow W. Dunlop, commander.

The grade of navigator is the premier distinction awarded for educational achievement by the national organization, United States Power Squadrons, of which the St. Lucie group is a unit.

To qualify for it, the candidate must first gain the successive ranks of seamanship, advanced piloting and junior navigator.

STUART–There will be a workshop meeting of the Planning and Zoning Commissioners on September 23 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the Commission Meeting Room in the Martin County Courthouse.

Optimist Club meeting tonight

BY DONNIE WILKIE

JENSEN BEACH–The September general meeting of the Optimist Club of Jensen Beach will take place tonight (Wednesday) at the Langford Park Field House, according to publicity director Bob Mousseau.

A distinguished representative from Florida Power & Light Company will be the guest speaker. He will discuss the pros and cons of the building of the new nuclear reactor on Hutchinson Island.

All members of the club are encouraged to come as well as men interested in becoming members.

Conflict of interest charged

STUART–An alleged conflict of interest charge by a Martin County resident against County Commissioner Ed Gluckler is being investigated by Assistant State Attorney Bruce Colton.

The resident complained of a possible conflict of interest in Gluckler's vote to approve a rate increase for Martin County Cable TV.

The alleged conflict centers on Gluckler's writing of news for a radio station which is carried on Channel 13 on the local cable system.

Gluckler is owner of Martin County Press Service, and he says he supplies the radio station with news on a client basis.

Car repair program scheduled

STUART–A program on care and simple repair of cars or "what every woman should know about a car" will be held at the Lyci M. Johnson Agricultural Center Tuesday, Sept. 24 from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

A. M. Pettis, associate engineer of the Florida Cooperative Extension Service will be the instructor.

Participants should bring a sack lunch.

Party elects group leaders

JENSEN BEACH–Committees have been elected to promote activities and candidates according to Mrs. Marder St. Clair, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee in Martin County.

Committee chairmen include John Marr and Allen Moore, co-chairmen for the campaign committee; Mrs. Pat Kenney, committee on locations of meetings and rallies; Gilbert Miller, committee on civic communications and William Swift, committee candidate coordinator.

Mrs. St. Clair said that four members were added to the committee by election including precinct 7, Ken Mylar; precinct 8, William Stewart; precinct 10, Clay Lambeth and Joanne Langberg.

Area scouts participate in public speaking contest

STUART–Eagle Scout David Hall and Explorer Alan Higbee will represent Martin County in the Annual Boy Scout Public Speaking Contest to be held September 21 in Lake Park.

There are two divisions for the contest; one for Scouts, and one for Explorers. Hall and Higbee were chosen Sailfish District (Martin County) representatives to compete in the Gulf Stream Council contest. Hall will compete against other Scouts, and Higbee against other Explorers from the seven-county Gulf Stream Council area extending from Indian River County to Palm Beach County and including Okeechobee County and the eastern portions of Glades and Hendry counties.

Hall, son of Mr. & Mrs. Robert Hall of Jensen Beach, is a member of Troop 811, sponsored by American Legion Post 126 in Jensen Beach. He has been in scouting since 1968 and advanced to Eagle Scout in December 1973.

Higbee, son of Mrs. Ethnel Higbee of Palm City, is an Explorer with the Martin County Sheriff's Department Junior Deputies Post 627. He has been in scouting since 1971 when he joined the Sea Explorer Post in Stuart and has been a member of the Junior Deputies Post for the past year.

The theme for the Public Speaking Contest, sponsored by the Reader's Digest Association, is Be Prepared For Life. Be Fit. Be Safe. The emphasis is on a program of fitness and safety that will provide for the conservation of human resources.

All participants will receive certificates, and winners of the Gulf Stream Council competition will receive trophies. Regional winners will receive engraved plaques and national winners will receive scholarship awards. National first place Scouts and Explorers will receive $2,500 scholarship awards, second place $750 each, third place $450 each, fourth place $350 each, fifth place $250 each and sixth place $200 each.

Airport service is announced

JENSEN BEACH–A limousine service to the West Palm Beach Airport has been started, according to Anthony Morella, owner of Indian River Airport Limousine Service, Inc.

He said the service will serve Martin, St. Lucie and Indian River counties on a daily basis, but reservations for the 11-passenger van must be made at the area travel agencies.

The schedule for the area includes stops at Home Port Inn in the North Port St. Lucie Shopping Center at 10:10 a.m., 10:30 a.m. at the Jensen Beach Travel Agency on Commercial Street.

At the Ocean East Mall, Bambi Restaurant at 10:45 a.m., and at 11 a.m. at the Holiday Inn in Stuart.

Body found in St. Lucie River

JENSEN BEACH–The search for 28-year-old Thomas Miller of Rio ended Thursday, Sept. 12 when Martin County sheriff's deputies pulled his body from the St. Lucie River near the Florida East Coast Railroad trestle.

Miller, an auto parts clerk, had been missing since he and a companion were swimming Monday.

The sheriff's department ordered an autopsy, and a spokesman at the Department said an autopsy was ordered as a routine investigation procedure.

Contractors meet is scheduled

JENSEN BEACH–The Florida East Coast Chapter Associated General Contractors of America, Inc. has announced that Walter L. Revell, Florida's secretary of transportation, will be the guest speaker at the chapter's monthly dinner meeting to be held Thursday, September 26 at the Holiday Inn Century Village.

The chapter's president, George T. Elmore said that Revell will present the latest plans of the state's transportation department relative to the construction industry.

A social hour will begin at 6:30 with dinner at 7.

The Florida East Coast Chapter services Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River and Okeechobee counties.

Elisa Thompson honored by Junior Women

STUART—Elisa Jane Thompson winner of the Junior Women's Club of Stuart scholarship was honored Monday night, September 9 at the club's first regular meeting of the season.

Miss Thompson is a 1974 graduate of Martin County High School. She will be attending Florida Technological University in Orlando where she will major in medical technology. Having recently taken part in the College Level Exemption Program (CLEP) she will start on his fall as a sopomore.

The club's Education Department presented her with a thesaurus and members showered her with items she will need for school. Also honored was her mother, Mrs. John Sprunger.

Junior Jewel for September was Sandra Brown, so named by President Linda Talbot, for her work on the political rally.

Mrs. Kathy Meyers was welcomed as a member. She transferred from the Hilton Manor Club.

Mrs. Karen Cargill was reinstated as an active member.

Guests and prospective members in attendance were: Pat Smith, Vivian Parant, Edan Carter, Kathy Green, Bonnie Larson, Jean Gormley, Kathy Stout and Susan West.

Olga Robinson, Christmas parade chairman, reported that there will be some exciting new additions to the parade this year. The parade will be held on Saturday, December 14, 6:00 p.m. Mrs. Robinson is hoping that many of the flats will be illuminated, adding to the glamour of a night parade.

Members enjoyed getting together again after their "restful" summer—the "restful" summer which consisted of a party for the children participating in the summer reading program at the library, a rummage sale, volunteer work at the Open Door School, and a successful political rally."

Introduction to 'TM' is offered

JENSEN BEACH—The public is invited to an introductory lecture on Transcendental Meditation (TM) on Monday, September 23 at 8:00 p.m. in the Harry Hoke Community Room, Jensen Beach.

TM, a simple and natural technique for genuine deep rest and spontaneously unfolding mental potential was introduced over sixteen years ago by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi. Now, practitioners of the technique number more than 400,000 in the United States alone.

One reason cited for the interest in TM is the real results enjoyed by those who practice the technique. More important to many people, however, is the science of creative intelligence—verification of which has come about in the last five years.

Research completed at such institutions as Harvard Medical School and Stanford Research Institute have shown that during the practice of TM, the individual spontaneously and naturally achieves a state of deep rest and relaxation while mentally, he remains awake and alert.

The latest psychological and physiological research studies will be discussed by trained teachers of TM at the September 23rd meeting.

Cake decorating

STUART—The Stuart Recreation Department is announcing the continuation of its cake decorating program.

The course will be taught by Gina Hall, a teacher with the Martin County schools and an experienced cake decorator.

The program will begin on Thursday, September 26 at 7:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. at the Stuart Youth Center on North Dugan Drive. It will continue for eight weeks.

The class will be limited to 15 people. The entire nine hour of instruction is $10 for eight lessons.

For the convenience of the class complete cake decorating kits may be purchased at the Stuart Youth Center for $2.98.

For information call the Stuart Youth Center at 287-2366.

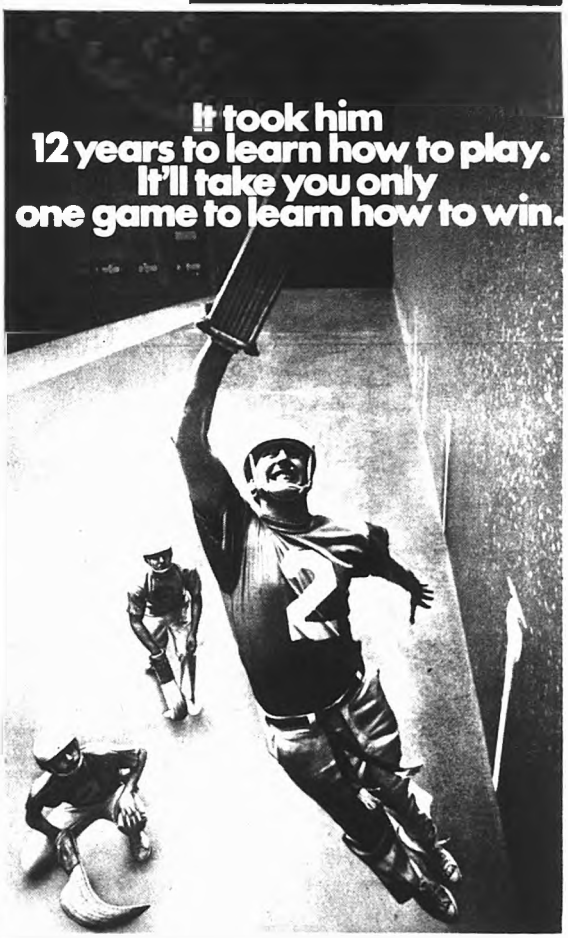
It took him 12 years to learn how to play. It'll take you only one game to learn how to win.



Learning to play Jai Alai from your seat is a whole lot easier than learning to play it on the court.

All it takes is a little luck, a few bucks and a good set of lungs to cheer on the winner.

It shouldn't take you more than one game to understand what's happening. It's a lot like hand ball. Only 100 times faster and much more exciting.

It's a sure bet you never watched anything more fantastic.

And whether you win a Perfecta, Quiniela, Big Q, or Double the thrill is always the same. Unbeatable.

Come out and try Jai Alai. If your're looking for the time of your life, you can't lose.

Schad, Dragseth, DeStefano card wins in Kiwanis tourney

JENSEN BEACH–Stuart golfers dominated play in the 1974 Jensen Kiwanis Golf Tournament Saturday with Chuck Schad victorious with a 69 on the Calloway followed by Jim Dragseth 70 and Frank DeStefano 71.

Dragseth also won the longest drive contest with a near 300 yard poke on the long sixteenth fairway.

In two other contests Jim Schmeyer was closest to the pin on three par number eight a 185 yard hole and Tom Bohde was closest on the 145 yard twelfth hole.

The event drew 165 golfers to participate in the fund raising golf tournament on the little-played, but magnificent Mariner Sands golf course. Golf pro Carmen Ceo turned over the facilities of the club to the Jensen Kiwanis Club for the tournament to benefit the club's youth activities fund.

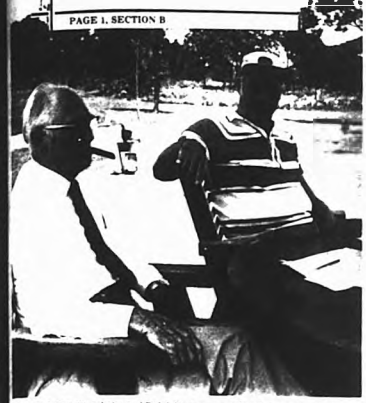
"It was the smoothest tournament we have ever had," said chairman Dick Campbell. He cited the hard work of Ceo's crew of assistant pro George Persido, Tom Choy and Chas Parkhurst in keeping carts and players ready for starters E.C. Wareheim and Ralph Norkin.

Potential problems with availability of carts were overcome with the donation of ten carts from St. Lucie Hilton Country Club and a donation of $250 from the Ralph Evinrudes of Jensen Beach to permit rental of 25 clubman cars.

The course was beautiful a real challenge," said assistant tournament chairman Jack Scranton.

The first foursome teed off at 7:32 a.m. and the players continued through the day until the final foursome completed the course just after six p.m.

Special contests on the eighth and twelfth holes were conducted by Ann Bacon, June Rice, Becky Woodruff and Martha Bacon. The ladies will be guests of the Kiwanis Club at installation banquet ceremonies at Frances Langford's Outrigger Restaurant on October 4.



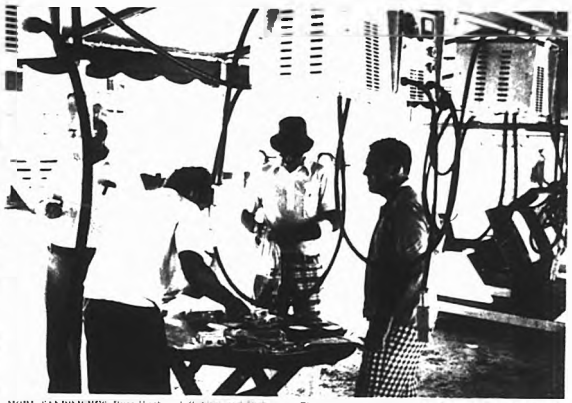
STARTERS–E.C. Wareheim and Ralph Norkin were official starters for the 1974 Jensen Beach Kiwanis Golf Tournament at Mariner Sands.

PUTTING–Clarence Rydell lines up a putt as his foursome checks out the lie of her own balls in the Jensen Kiwanis tournament Saturday.

Pendletons welcome baby boy

JENSEN BEACH–Brian Richard Pendleton son of Major and Mrs. Richard Pendleton was born September 2nd at Martin Memorial Hospital.

Major and Mrs. Pendleton have been staying with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Theodore F. Pendleton, Jensen Beach. The major is presently stationed in Homestead.



MORE SANDWICHES–Russ Hughes, Jeff Allen and Dick Hunecke prepare sandwiches for hungry golfers at the Jensen Beach Kiwanis Club golf tournament last Saturday.

The members of the Jensen Optimist Club handled the concession for the golf tournament with proceeds going to the Langford Park youth activities fund.

WITH MUSTARD–Russ Hughes kept the golf tournament players happy serving cold drinks, coffee and sandwiches during the hot afternoon Saturday as 165 golfers participated in the Jensen Kiwanis benefit outings. Hughes was one of many Jensen Optimists working on the tournament.

Monthly card parties planned by Catholic Women

PORT ST. LUCIE–The Port St. Lucie Catholic Women's Club is planning bi-weekly dessert card parties on the second Tuesday of each month.

The next party will be at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 8 in the parish hall on Peacock Vista Blvd.

Tickets are available at the door.

All women of the area are invited to attend the parties, according to Mrs. Tulino, club publicity chairman.

Women's golf invitational

PORT ST. LUCIE–Ann Merz, Jean Wendt, Bea King and Mary Ann Loverday with 13 under par took first places in the Port St. Lucie Women's Golf Association's Martin County Stuart's & I.T. Invitational held September 10th on the Sands Course.

The play for the day was a Best of two balls of the foursome with full handicaps as they fall, event.

In second place with 13 under were Jean Doscher, Shirley Reed, Olgan Rennard and Edna Pickinger. Close behind were Helene Collins, Mimi LaMont, Edna Penn and Alice Hanna taking third place with 12 under.

Fourth place, with 11 under, went to Rita DeStefano, Rody McDaniels, Helen Osborne and Irene Chapman.

The foursome of Irene Heimer, D.J. Lightfield, Jerry Harper and Ruby Johnson took fifth place with 10 under.

Closest to the Pin on the 16th hole was won by Jerry Harper, guest from Stuart Yacht and Country Club and Ruby Johnson, member of Port St. Lucie.

Suiter is elected veep

PORT ST LUCIE Jack D Suiter was elected vice president of the newly created commercial properties division of General Development Corporation. The announcement was made by Louis E Fischer president and chief executive officer.

Formerly director of industrial and special properties, Suiter will be responsible for the commercial and industrial development of corporate properties. He will direct every phase of activity from construction through lease or sale stages for the new profit center.

The Commercial Division will be expanded to analyze and market corporate holdings including commercial, industrial, multi-family and bulk surplus land. Suiter will oversee new ventures in Florida and explore projects outside the state.

Fischer stated, "Our communities have grown according to plan and have reached another plateau of maturity. Community leaders have indicated in our meetings the residents' needs and we feel that planned commercial expansion can meet their expectations. Added commercial and industrial development is not only desirable but economically feasible for the company."

Suiter a native of Ohio, is a long-time resident of South Florida and a graduate with a BBA degree from the University of Miami. He joined General Development in 1969 and has over fifteen years of industrial development experience. A past director of the American and Florida Industrial Development Councils and past president of the Southern Chapter he is a licensed Certified Industrial Developer.

An active sailing enthusiast, he is past commodore of the Coconut Grove Sailing Club and a member of the Coral Reef Yacht Club. He and his wife are residents of Coral Gables.

The company has developed three major industrial parks with the largest containing over 1,000,000 sq. ft. of industrial space providing over 3,300 jobs for area residents. Five major commercial centers and numerous satellite operations are company operated. There are more than 500 commercial and industrial facilities in the company's communities.

General Development has over 18 years of community building experience and is presently developing seven new communities throughout Florida including Port Charlotte, Port St. Lucie, Port Malabar and Port LaBelle. Its Florida communities encompass 235,000 acres and are home for more than 45,000 residents.

WELCOME SIGNS–A committee of Coconut Park-North River Shores Property Owners Association, Inc., has erected welcoming signs at all the entrances to the subdivision. The committee includes Tom Burrows, Pat Kenny, Sue Rizzolo and Ron Beckey.

HIGH ROUGH–The rough was rough, and the fairways [illegible], but some golfers in the Jensen Kiwanis golf tournament found they had trouble keeping on the fairways and had to make close to water shots, like this one, to keep their game going. The tournament drew 165 entries Saturday.

Jensen teams look impressive in football jamboree

BY DONNIE WILKIE

STUART– A large crowd and some great football highlighted the annual Junior Football League jamboree at Long Field last Saturday night.

Jensen Beach's teams made reasonable showings, considering that this was their first game. Altogether, the teams scored 19 points, allowed only 8, and made sensational defensive showings.

The lower division Barracudas played a brilliant quarter on defense, but it was a sputtering offense that eventually haunted them.

Port Salerno's explosive offense drove the football all the way down to the 3 yard line and it looked like the Jensen Beach defense was not better than last year when they gave up a total of 116 points in seven games.

But fnobody told Jensen's defense what was supposed to happen because the Panthers couldn't make it in. And, when the Jensen offense got the ball, they ended up on the short end.

On the first play, quarterback Ken Salter was tackled in his own end zone for a safety on what seemed to be a misplay in the backfield. So Port Salerno took a 2-0 victory as that was the only score of the game.

Indiantown's lower division Thunderbirds paced by Wayne Perkins' breakaway runs overcame Palm City's Dolphins 7-0 in an exciting game. Perkins galloped 55 yards for the only score of the game.

Meanwhile, Port St. Lucie's Vikings of the lower division came from behind to outdistance Stuart's Packers, 13-7 in the evening's third quarter.

In the upper division games, Stuart, Jensen Beach, and a tie highlighted the night's activities.

Indiantown's upper division Thunderbirds couldn't get it together as they tied with Port St. Lucie, 0-0. The game featured many bombs that were almost touchdowns, but none of them were successful.

Jensen Beach looked unstoppable in the evening's second quarter as they romped over Palm City's Dolphins 18-0.

Ron Kirkpatrick and Bobby Bibbee led the Barracudas to their win, while Ricky Bright engineered drive after drive from the devastating wishbone offense.

Early in the quarter, it was Kirkpatrick, with his surprising speed, who broke the game open with runs of 46 and 16 yards. Later, it was Bobby Bibbee who provided the explosiveness, as he added a stupendous touchdown run of 80 yards and an exciting touchdown catch of 30 yards. Steve Poux got the other score as he crashed in from 5 yards out.

But, it was a different story later as the Razorbacks couldn't score in a 6-0 loss to Stuart. It was a terrible game, as John Driscoll threw an interception and Ricky Bright fumbled, both leading to disaster.

The Stuart touchdown came about after the interception, and the last chance for the Razorbacks went by the boards where Bright fumbled at the Stuart 41 yard line.

This week the regular season will get under way at Port Salerno, Pt. St. Lucie, and Indiantown.

The feature event will be at Indiantown, where our Razorbacks and Barracudas will take on the upper and lower division Thunderbirds, respectively.

Meanwhile, both Stuart teams will be at Pt St Lucie, and Palm City's lower division Dolphins will take on the Panthers at Port Salerno.

HOW THE BALL BOUNCED

Jamboree Results (Lower Division): Port Salerno 2, Jensen Beach 0; Port St Lucie 13, Stuart 7; Indiantown 7, Palm City 0; (Upper Division) Indiantown 0, Pt St. Lucie; Jensen Beach 19, Palm City 0; Stuart 6, Jensen Beach 0.

RAZORBACK STATS

Rushing-Kirkpatrick 5-73, Bibbee, 5-62, Poux, 8-16; Bright 1-(-2). Passing-Bright, 2-4 for 48 yards, 1 touchdown. Driscoll, 1-3 for 30 yards, 1 interception. Receiving-Bright, 1-30, Pollard, 1-18, Bibbee 1-30. Kicking-Bright, 1 P.A.T. out of 3 attempted. Punting-Bright 1-47.0.

Hospital plans course

STUART–Martin Memorial Hospital is offering a course in Basic Electrocardiography for interested persons in the medical professions, starting this week.

The course, sponsored by the In-Service Education Department of Martin Memorial, is open to all registered nurses, licensed practical nurses, student nurses, and emergency medical technicians. Students need not be employed by Martin Memorial. The course will be taught by Mrs. Marian Wilkie, R.N., head nurse of the Intensive Care Unit at the hospital, with some assistance from physicians specializing in cardiology and internal medicine.

Students may attend either of two classes, one meeting Wednesday from 12:30 to 3 p.m. and the other Friday from 7:30 to 10 p.m. in the trailer conference room at Martin Memorial. Classes will meet for the first time this week.

Interested persons may contact Mrs. Ophe Pantejo, R.N., Director of In-Service Education at Martin Memorial Hospital, 287-5200, extension 240. There is no fee for the course.

Ocean Breeze News Notes

BY LETA KEITH

334-4366 6 Vista Drive

My recuperation from surgery still has roughly slow. But I haven't been forgotten and still appreciate all those cards from far and near.

The following are portions of an interesting letter from the Curwens, which shared by Ruth and Gene

"Say now those nice newsy letters are just great. Maybe you can get a 'vacation ticket' to the Bahamas and come over to the mainland to work for a while. Well, anyway, we have finally finished up here in frigid New England and arrived drippin' wet. I guess I should say how damp, dreary and dreadful it was and the weather in Franklin (it was the first thing I gripped about every time I got). Therefore, you'd think it would be the same wouldn't bother too much. But I sure did.

"We left Franklin on Labor Day weekend and had to in order to meet our boat and stuff up in New Hampshire by a certain date). It was regular monsoon weather for our shove-off. However it only got worse as we went until we could hardly see our way before our face in the pea-soup fog. Anyway, we just had a couple of days of driving gunk before the skies let go with a SWISH SWISH monotonously went the windshield wiper trying to make the best of a bad situation. Two days of "Traffic! What traffic? I-81 and US 11 hardly ans more than US 1 to Fort Pierce on a Tuesday afternoon in July. So that was a pleasant surprise. Also, the 55 mph speed limit was well observed by most folks.

"It rained all day, and then it really rained all night. Ask my Marion, who was made be prepared for plenty of cleaning. The rear window leaked. The defroster leak. Right down Marion's back. Young Ernie was up in it all morn in the midnight hours rigging up buckets and cloths which Marion reluctantly agreed to share the bed with her.

"That brings us to this darn chilly New Hampshire with its somewhat cooler weather. Although Lake Winnipesaukee is a jim dandy spot for a vacation, I sure doesn't have much to offer the kind of chipper ancients who are used to having something doing every minute at Ocean Breeze or Pine Ridge. We can take a walk down to the beach and look at wet rocks, or we can walk a mile to a Gifty-Shoppee and look at all kinds of junk, or an last resort, TV.

"So we're just making time until we can get back to some 'Prancing-A.

"They well have fun over in the Bahamas and we'll take a look at those pictures that Gene won't have this year. Our best regards to both. Ernie and Curwen.

Mrs. Carter arrived Sunday after visiting in Pennsylvania home. He has taken care of his belongings into the house on Mango and Sixth that purchased from Al Tomaszewski.

Mrs. Colby left Ocean Breze on August 26 after having traveled 13 states, Mexico and Canada Saskatchewan, Canada reports. "We visited our daughter her husband, and new granddaughter in Alburquerque, Mexico. While there we rode on one of the world's largest tramways to the top of a 10,000 foot mountain in the Sandia Range and dined in a fabulous restaurant two miles up in the sky. We attended a theater in the round in a tent there and saw the hilarious play 'I'll Never Too Late.'

"Our last stop was in Green Valley, Arizona, twenty-two miles south of Tuscon, where we visited my cousin. He showed us the sights of the area, a copper mine, a Spanish mission, the Arizona-Sonora Desert Zoo (which was written up in the September issue of the Reader's Digest). Tombstone with its historic O.K. Corral and Boot Hill, and took us to Mexico.

"For two weeks we were with our daughter and her husband in Lakewood California. While there, we toured the Queen Mary in Long Beach, went to See World in San Diego, and saw much of the Los Angeles area, including a trip through the San Fernando Valley.

"On our return trip, we visited Las Vegas (the less said the better), Zion and Bryce Canyons, and Salt Lake City where we toured Temple Square with a visit to the Tabernacle. We visited Glacier National Park where it took us four hours to cross (a 51 miles because of the narrow road with its numerous hair pin curves.

"We then headed for Canada, where we visited Banff Lake Louise and Jasper. Truly, the Canadian Rockies are majestic with their towering height huge glaciers, some three hundred feet thick, and the famous Columbian ice fields.

"We next visited in Elkhorn, Wisc with Mary and John Wall, former residents of Ocean Breeze. They are just as active as ever and took us all around their area, a delightful place with its many lakes and prosperous farms. They both want to be remembered to their many Ocean Breeze friends.

"Crossing Lake Michigan by ferry, we went to Sanford, Mich. for a delightful visit with Gen and Sam Kozlow who are on Lake Sanford in an attractive cottage under large oak trees.

"We took the auto train from Louisville, Ky. to Sanford, Fla. which saved over 800 miles of driving in our 4000 mile trip.

A card from Myrl Huntington September 9. "This is the first warm day I have seen up here. Plenty of rainy days. Brother John and I flew to Massachusetts by car to Maine, then to Connecticut back by car to Mass. Then, one more week before Jim and I fly back to West Palm Beach, Bye, Myrl.

Ruth and Gene Hoke spent another three days in the Bahamas last week. Instead of their usual two week trip to Maine, they decided this year to visit West End a few days at a time. Ruth says it is an easy jaunt. They leave the car at the West Palm Beach airport, and fly over in 30 minutes since it is only 90 miles from W. Palm. They come home rested and relaxed. From the weather reports from the north, it was a wise decision.

A news note sent in by Al and Jean Tomaszewski from their Rehoboth neighbors, Stan and Florence Hughson of Flint, Michigan.

"We are enjoying a pleasant visit from our OBR friends George and Evelyn Leffon of No. 1 Myrtle. They arrived here in Flint last Thursday. We visited Charlie and Mattie Patterson as well as Harvey and Vivian Hill in Lapeer, Mich.

"We had Karl and Lila Ehrmann over for dinner Friday evening, after which we all played pinochle (guess who won?)

"We leave Monday, September 9, for a trip north to Mackinaw Bridge, Upper Peninsula, Sault Ste. Marie, Locks and other points of interest which George and Evelyn have never seen.

"We plan to return to the park the first week in October and George and Evelyn the first week in Nov. Sincerely, Stan and Florence."

Spanish Lakes News Notes

by Peg Evarts

A pair of cranes, and we are told there are two pair, was sighted on the golf course recently. They stand five feet tall, and are gray brown in color, with bright red crops. These birds are considered a rare species, possibly Sandhill Cranes. We would like to know more about them. If anyone knows of their history and habitats, we welcome the information and will publish such information for all to share.

New flags have been placed on the greens in the golf course. A high fence has been constructed for the tennis courts. "Thru Street" signs are posted in certain streets which connect with Mediterranean Blvd. This information is cited for bicycle riders attention at this time because the evenings are shorter now. If your bikes are not equipped with lights or reflectors, it's a good idea to be heading home before it gets too dark.

Doris Wendt tells us that Golden Anniversaries were recently celebrated by Marie and Al Lamphert and Louise and Fred Stewart. Blessings on these two couples. We all join in Happy Anniversary to you.

Spanish Lakes Homemakers Association having membership of 96 ladies is one of six units of St. Lucie County Homemakers, a national organization, exists to learn and share knowledge on homemaking and crafts. Spanish Lakes unit invites all ladies who are homeworkers to join them this season with fellowship and accomplishments.

Rehearsals are under way for the Spanish Lakes Chorus. Lorenda Hill director advises that 48 singers comprises the entire group. Presently there are openings for 5 altos, 5 tenors and 2 basses. Rehearsals are held Monday evenings at 6:30 p.m. with additional rehearsals beginning in November. The Christmas Concert, the first of the season, will be given on Sunday, December 15th and Monday, December 16th in the auditorium.

WE MAKE IT is the title of a special article we plan to write periodically in this column. The first of the series is about some special stationery.

Ronnie Barnett, signing her work Ronaldo (originals uses crate paper. She makes beautifully personalized letter paper and note cards. Using water colors, Ronnie decorates the quality paper or original designs incorporating currently popular mushrooms, or frogs and even your personal crest if so desired. You can contact Ronnie at 878-2882 if you would like some of this unusual stationery.

WORLD WIDE REFERRAL SERVICE

THE PORT ST. LUCIE
MIRROR
VOL. 5, NO. 38, SEPTEMBER 18, 1974 10¢

FACES–New faces seen at Port St. Lucie City Hall are, on the left, Esther Moreau who joined the staff as secretary to City Government, and Donna Baggan, City Hall secretary.

New faces at PSL City Hall

PORT ST LUCIE–As you look around Port St. Lucie all sorts of things are changing. From new roads under construction to new faces at City Hall.

Public Donna Baggan, 24, began her first day at her new position as secretary at City Hall.

She came here from her last job at the Treasure County Planning and Zoning Department in Stuart. Mrs. Baggan will assume the duties of Mrs. Debra Mettler who resigned September 6.

Mrs. Baggan originally came to Florida from Princeton, New Jersey, and lives with her husband, Robert, on Lakehurst Drive, North Port.

Asked how she liked her new job Mrs. Baggan declined as it was her first day on the job, but she did say it's easier working closer to home.

Another new face at City Hall is Esther Moreau, 19, who joined the staff as a secretary to City Government June 10. Also from New Jersey originally, Mrs. Moreau came to Port St. Lucie from Fort Lauderdale.

She lives with her husband, Dennis, on Salida Circle in Florida Pines, North Port St. Lucie.

New management to Hilton

PORT ST LUCIE–Changes continue in the management of General Development Corporation properties. The revised management of the St Lucie Hilton Inn was announced by Robert Teitz, general manager of Port St Lucie.

Mr. Teitz is principal in Inter Island Vacation Industries, Inc. which has been named resort general manager by GDC President Lou Dorfman.

Teitz is moving from manager of the Treasure Island Inn at Great Exuma Bahamas as a part of a management consultant service offered by IVI in conjunct with GDC. The initial contract, according to Seeley, is for four years.

Teitz specializes in hotel-resort restaurant management and consultant services, hotel sales and marketing and management consultant services. He is a Florida corporation.

"There is a broad base of community involvement and support we have not yet reached in this area," Seeley said, "and we hope that Mr. Teitz will be able to provide the leadership to reach the people on the community level as well as streamline the operations of this wonderful resort."

Teitz assumes the position formerly held by Bob Bartholomew.

esa to raise IRCC rent

BY DENNIS DOYLE

PORT ST LUCIE–The CESA board of directors unanimously agreed to accept a revised rental agreement with the Indian River Community College for the use of the CESA facility at its Mondays meeting.

The new increase will go into effect Jan. 1 for the college, which currently conducts an estimated 14-15 classes a week for Port St. Lucie residents.

Under the former agreement, the college paid a monthly fee. The new rate proposed by IRCC president Dr. Joseph Friese will be based on the number and length of classes each day.

Funds from the increase will go into effect Jan. 1 for the college, which currently conducts an estimated 14-15 classes a week for Port St. Lucie residents.

Under the former agreement, the college paid a monthly fee. The new rate proposed by IRCC president Dr. Joseph Friese will be based on the number and length of classes each day.

The only other financial support CESA receives is the amount paid by local clubs using the meeting rooms and special events it sponsors.

In an effort to raise money, CESA sponsored benefit fish on Labor Day and barrels, broiler event, due to lack of community support.

In other discussions, the board revealed it wants to get residents interested in CESA. Working in that direction, a committee was formed to seek out one representative from each local organization to make a trip to Port Charlotte and see how its CESA is operated.

An estimated 100 persons are expected to take the tour.

The board also announced a monthly CESA newsletter is currently in the makings in an effort to keep residents informed about the organization.

nt, pass egistration derway

PORT ST LUCIE–Registration for the Punt, Pass and Kick competition continues to roll in, according to Tom Long, supervisor of recreation in St. Lucie County Parks for registration on Friday.

The competition is open to any youngster between the ages 8 thru 13, who can punt, pass or kick a football–or would like to.

Participants will compete only against others their own age, and there is no limit to the number entered in the competition. Each participant will compete in all three events.

Participants, accompanied by a parent or guardian, may register at Sunrise Theatre Company, 1680 North Federal Highway, in Port Pierce.

The program is co-sponsored by the Port St. Lucie County Recreation Board.

For more information call Tom Long.

City Investing offering preferred for GDC stock

PORT ST LUCIE–An offer to purchase the remaining outstanding shares of General Development Corporation common stock has been made by City Investing Company, majority stockholder with 59 per cent of GDC stock or 5.4 million shares.

The merger, accepted in principle by GDC's board of directors, calls for issuance of one share of City Series B preferred stock for each four shares of GDC common stock.

There are approximately 1.8 million shares outstanding of GDC common stock which would call for an issuance of approximately 950,000 shares of City's stock.

The Board of GDC plans to seek counsel of an independent banker to evaluate the fairness of the proposal.

Council receives record budget

PORT ST LUCIE–Action on a record $469,550 budget will be taken by the Port St. Lucie City Council at its first meeting on October 1.

The proposed budget was presented to the Council by Vice Mayor Franklin Beardsley, last Wednesday.

Beardsley pointed out that the finance committee had been working diligently on the budget. He said that the proposed expenditures are increased just as the expected receipts.

Work on the 1974-75 budget started last July when a $133,000 police budget was presented, an increase of 25 per cent over the present figure.

The city contracts with the St. Lucie County Sheriff's Department for police protection within the city.

Beardsley, the finance officer, noted that some day the city will need its own police department.

The proposed budget includes $25,000 for the hiring of a full-time public safety director.

Increases in construction next year is expected to add about $60,000 to the city's revenue according to the finance officer.

The city has been notified by the county tax assessor's office that the city would be collecting more taxes this year unless it lowered its millage one-half of one-tenth of a mill. Under the 3.1 mills presently levied by the city, collections would be a few thousand dollars higher than last year.

City Attorney Rupert Smith advised the city that failure to lower this millage by the small per cent would constitute a rise in taxes collected and require a public hearing.

Smith said state statute 2.068 which is the law fixing millage requires the hearing. He noted however, the law does not prevent the city from incorporating into the public hearing and that the advertisement of increase is by law and does not mean an increase in the amount of taxes paid by residents.

The proposed budget will be studied by the council for action on October.

Presidents Council meets Thursday

PORT ST. LUCIE–The Presidents Council of Port St. Lucie will hold its regular monthly meeting at the CESA Building on Thursday, September 19 at 2:00 p.m.

Cedric C. Benz, president of the group, will preside.

It is hoped that the heads of all Port St. Lucie organizations as well as the new organizations will be present or send a representative, Benz stated. Matters of importance to all the groups will be discussed.

Durham to address PSL Lions

PORT ST LUCIE–John Durham will be the featured speaker at the Port St. Lucie Lions Club dinner meeting Wednesday, tonight at the CESA Building.

Durham is a noted scholar of Indian culture and mores as well as being an artist. He will speak on Early Florida and Its Indians.

PSL man enlists

PORT ST. LUCIE–George Jeffrey Knapp, son of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Knapp of Port St. Lucie, has enlisted in the U.S. Navy.

Knapp is currently attending recruit training at Orlando for nine weeks. Upon completion of boot camp, he will be granted up to 14 days leave.

One county runoff, October 1

PORT ST LUCIE–A runoff to decide the Democratic challenger for School Board District 3 seat will be held Oct. 1 between incumbent Gerald Weatherington and challenger Jeff Furst, according to St. Lucie County Supervisor of Elections James Brooks.

Brooks said there will be some statewide races on the ballot but predicted another low interest election. Only 29 per cent of the voters went to the polls in the Sept. 10 primary.

Absentee ballots 311 were counted the day after the primary and Brooks said they failed to change the primary standings.

Official tallies in the county races include County Commission, District 2 P.E. Green 2,860, R.E. Brooks 2,004.

County commission, District 4 Marjorie Silver Adler, defeated George Power, 2,264 to 2,034.

School Board, District 3 Jeff Furst, 3,380, Gordon Schuster, 1,085, Gerald Weatherington, 1,858, District 5 Samuel Gaines, 3,063 to Jack Gore, 1,776.

STRONG MEET–Members of six lodges of the Sons of Norway met last weekend at the St. Lucie Hilton Inn to discuss plans for Leif Erikson Day. Left tonight are Norman Sabo, Zone 8 representative from Ft. Myers; Joan Lee Leif Erikson Day chairman; and Bjarne Eskevik, Area District vice president of Sons of Norway.

Top Viking plans to attend Leif Erikson Day festivities

JENSEN BEACH–Members of six lodges of the Sons of Norway in Florida gathered last weekend at the St. Lucie Hilton to finalize plans for Leif Erikson Day in Jensen Beach on October 5 and it was learned that Jan Hendrickson, National Supreme Director, and S/N will attend the celebration.

Members of lodges in Ft. Myers, Miami, Ft. Lauderdale, Jacksonville, Orlando and the local host lodge Jensen Beach-Ft. Pierce met to outline the big day festival where 300 members from throughout the United States will be on hand to commemorate the landing of Leif Erikson on American in 1002 A.D.

The first day, October 5 is the S/N day with members gathering at the St. Lucie Hilton Inn for social activities that will include a dinner-dance featuring Carl Iverson's Orchestra in the convention hall. Activities for the younger members center around the ballroom, golf course and tennis courts.

Sunday, October 6 is the public day when the S/N members wear their colorful Scandia native costumes, to the Jensen Beach Causeway for an afternoon of celebration.

The now famous pageant, re-enacting the landing, will be held with Vikings and Indians following the historical landing to the letter, wearing locally made costumes that are authentic in design.

The actual landing will be from three 100-year-old Norwegian boats that are rarred by three lodges. The boats were brought to the United States by ship, and even the oars are authentic. Scandinavian Air Service brings replacement oars from Norway where active oarsmen break them in competition racing.

This year the United States Navy Band will give a concert and the authentic Norseman Trio will play Scandinavian music for public dancing.

There will be booths selling souvenirs from Norway, sandwiches, and locally made Norwegian handicrafts.

One highlight of the day is the race between using S/N members for the Florida Cup. The young crews sail and row the six man boats on a prepared course.

Juan Lee and Lynn Nelson are co-chairmen of the day. The local president is George Lewis, designer of the Viking costumes.

Fund raising list recommendations

PORT ST LUCIE–Recommendations for a fund raising campaign were given to the CESA board of directors at its last meeting.

Dilement A. Bramley Jr. chairman of the Associations Finance Committee, cautioned directors not to embark on any campaign to raise funds without first meeting some requirements suggested by the committee.

Bramley said that the committee felt that it would not be prudent for CESA to commit itself above $50,000 without meeting some conditions, including:

1. The board make immediate plans to collect a portion of the present goal of $200,000.

2. The committee recommends that the directors not appoint a campaign committee for the fund drive as it would be too cumbersom. A manager or chairman of the fund should be appointed.

3. A professional public relations man should be obtained to aid in the publicizing of the campaign. However, it is not necessary to have to go to the expense of hiring a full-time person or an agency since there must be someone in the community with experience who might come forward and lend his expertise.

4. The directors should not announce or decide on any date for the start of the building fund campaign until all the recommendations are accepted and 100 per cent of the needed volunteers have been enlisted.

Bramley said that the association could make use of approximately $30,000 of $50,000 in short term treasury notes maturing this month as well as an estimated $30,000 of $25,000 of pledges as yet not collected.

The finance committee's recommendations as well as those of the fund raising committee and the building committee are now under consideration by the directors.

Elisa Thompson honored by Junior Women

STUART—Elisa Jane Thompson, winner of the Junior Women's Club of Stuart scholarship, was honored Monday night, September 9, at the club's first regular meeting of the season.

Miss Thompson is a 1974 graduate of Martin County High School. She will be attending Florida Technological University in Orlando where she will major in medical technology. Having recently taken part in the College Level Exemption Program (CLEP), she will start this fall as a sophomore.

The club's Education Department presented her with a thesaurus and members showered her with items she will need for school. Also honored was her mother, Mrs. John Sprunger.

Junior Jewel for September was Sandra Brown, so named by President Linda Talbot for her work on the political rally.

Mrs. Kathy Meyers was welcomed as a member. She transferred from the Hilton Manor Club.

Mrs. Karen Cargill was reinstated as an active member.

Guests and prospective members in attendance were: Pat Smith, Vivian Parant, Edan Carrier, Kathy Green, Bonnie Larson, Jean Gormley, Kathy Stout, and Susan West.

Olga Robinson, Christmas parade chairman, reported that there will be some exciting new additions to the parade this year. The parade will be held on Saturday, December 14, 6:00 p.m. Mrs. Robinson is hoping that many of the flats will be illuminated, adding to the glamour of a night parade.

Members enjoyed getting together again after their "restful" summer—the "restful" summer which consisted of a party for the children participating in the summer reading program at the library, a rummage sale, volunteer work at the Open Door School, and a successful political rally!

Introduction to 'TM' is offered

JENSEN BEACH—The public is invited to an introductory lecture on Transcendental Meditation (TM) on Monday, September 23 at 8:00 p.m. in the Harry Hoke Community Room, Jensen Beach.

TM, a simple and natural technique for genuine deep rest and spontaneous, unfolding mental potential, was introduced over sixteen years ago by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi. Now practitioners of the technique number more than 600,000 in the United States alone.

One reason cited for the interest in TM is the real results enjoyed by those who practice the technique. More important to many people, however, is the science of creative intelligence, verification of which has come about in the last five years.

Research completed at such institutions as Harvard Medical School and Stanford Research Institute have shown that during the practice of TM, the individual spontaneously and naturally achieves a state of deep rest and relaxation while mentally he remains awake and alert.

The latest psychological and physiological research studies will be discussed by trained teachers of TM at the September 23rd meeting.

Cake decorating

STUART—The Stuart Recreation Department is announcing the continuation of its cake decorating program.

The course will be taught by Gena Hall, a teacher with the Martin County Schools and an experienced cake decorator.

The program will begin on Thursday, September 19 at 7:00 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. at the Stuart Youth Center on North Flagler Drive. It will continue for eight weeks.

The class will be limited to 15 people so register now. Cost of instruction is $10 for eight lessons.

For the convenience of the class, complete cake decorating kits may be purchased at the Stuart Youth Center for $2.00.

For information call the Stuart Youth Center at 287-2500.

VOL. 15, NO 29, SEPTEMBER 25, 1974 10¢

SCHOOL CROSSING–Jensen Beach Elementary School PTA secretary and publicity chairman Mrs. Richard Grant and her two children Dick, 6, and Sarah, 4, are happy to have the new traffic signals and school crossing signs at the commercial and Savanna intersection. The PTA got more than 600 signatures on petitions urging the County Commission to install signals and commissioners to take action.

One GOP local race, October 10

JENSEN BEACH–Except for a you drop out of the race squabble there has not been any controversy on the Martin County political scene since the Sept 10 primary.

Since neither Ed Harvey or Joan Jefferson dropped out of the race Republican voters will pick the one which will oppose Maggy Hurchalla in the November election.

Republicans will make the selection in the Tuesday Oct 1 runoff primary.

It is the only local race, but Democrats will go to the polls to select their party nominees in the U.S. Senate race between Bill Gunter and Dick Stone and three state races.

In the Secretary of State runoff Beverly Dozier faces Bruce Smathers. Dori Dubbers is opposed by John Jordon in the State Senate District 28 race, and Fred Dickenson is opposed to Gerald Lewis.

Since the Sept 10 primary it has been reported from time to time that Mrs. Jefferson urged Harvey to drop out of the race. However Mrs. Jefferson, whose husband is an architect, claims that while the absentee ballots were being counted that if it were not for loyalty to his supporters he would drop out of the race.

Harvey a builder led the ticket in the primary with Mrs. Jefferson second. There were two others in the race for District 4 County Commission.

The winner Tuesday will face Mrs. Hurchalla who defeated incumbent Commission Chairman Dr. Ed Geary.

Total registration for the primary is more than 23,100, but the absentee voter interest in the runoff is not as active as it had been for the Sept. 10 primary.

The supervisor of elections' office reported that only 54 absentee ballots have been requested for the runoff, 41 Republicans and 13 Democrats. In the first primary more than 600 absentee ballots were sent out.

700 students

FIT opens third year

JENSEN BEACH–Jensen Beach campus of Florida Institute of Technology begins its third year this week with an anticipated enrollment of 700 about 100 more students than were on campus last fall.

After a faculty meeting Tuesday morning Sept 24 Dean Ernest Tenny welcomed new and transfer students Wednesday in the college auditorium.

The Wednesday schedule also included a description of academic areas and introductions of faculty and staff by Peter Navarretta, director of student affairs.

The 700 enrollment figure includes the graduate program, night classes, real estate classes and other programs extending to Navarretta.

He also noted that while the dormitories will house 413 students, many of the junior and senior students are eligible to live off campus.

Navarretta said that the college has 53 full time faculty members, plus, or an increase of eight over last year.

There are many activities scheduled for the students before all classes begin on Oct 1.

There will be club meetings, sessions with department heads, social gatherings at Stadium Courtyard, a picnic scheduled for Saturday, Sept 28.

A welcome night is planned at the cafeteria Thursday, Sept 26 at 8 p.m. and a barbecue at the pool at 4 p.m. Saturday, Sept 28.

While FIT's School of Marine and Environmental Technology is only beginning its third year in Jensen Beach college officials noted that many programs are expanding, and a new class will begin.

Dean Teates noted that the first class in medical technology will begin this fall.

The dean noted that one of the unusual features of the new program is the establishment of a simulated clinical laboratory on the campus containing the latest automated equipment where students will supplement their academic work with practical experience.

Summer programs also are held in marine and environmental studies. High school and college age students attended seminars at Grand Cayman. Students spent time at FIT campus and completed the courses at Grand Cayman.

BUSY TIME–At a busy time at Florida Institute of Technology in Jensen Beach Dr. Debbie Harris (exceptional and sci-fi board) spends her FIT opens its third year of operation this week.

Dennis Doyle is named photo editor of The Mirror

JENSEN BEACH–P Dennis Doyle has been named photo editor of The three newspapers. It was announced by Richard E. Campbell, editor who has been associated with The since his college days at St College in 1968, when he assisted publication of college stories and . He worked part-time, assist[ing] in the photo department and the mail room.

Since then Doyle's photography has been a regular production of The Mirror and in 1971 won second place for "Best News Picture" in the Florida Press Association better newspapers contest.

His treatment of news and feature photographs has steadily improved and we feel it is time to let him expand into areas of feature photography that will add to the quality of The Mirror, Campbell said.

Doyle was editor of the first newspaper produced by St. Joseph College in 1968 and produced the first yearbook for that college in 1969. He wrote "St. Joseph College News," a column for The Mirror.

A member of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce and the Martin County Taxpayers Association, Doyle lives at 2000 SE Fairmont Street, Stuart.

He was born in Jersey City, N.J. and worked for the Bergen County Record for three years before coming to Florida to attend college.

Planner's ouster comes to vote

STUART–A move to demote Martin County planner failed by one vote at last week's County Commission meeting.

Commissioner Chairman Ed Geary suggested that Leonard, who has been director of planning for two years, be demoted to the post of environmental planner.

Commissioner John Kiernan said that Leonard doesn't have the rapport to work with the public and said that he had complaints to the effect that Leonard is rude.

Fort Pierce/Hutchinson Island council of Commissioners Roger Howers, Ross Philbrick and others will seek out the various complaints that have been registered against Leonard and the Planning Department.

Dr. Geary said the committee expects to review Leonard's activities within the next two weeks.

He has been functioning as a department head, Dr. Geary said.

Commissioner Philbrick also expressed dissatisfaction with the county planning but called for more study before action is taken.

Dr. Geary and Kiernan voted for immediate demotion and the other commissioners voted against it.

The subject is to be discussed again at a special meeting Oct. 8.

Leonard presently earns about $13,000 but in the new budget he has requested $17,000. The new post of environmental [illegible] would pay $12,000.

Under the new budget the Planning Department has $150,000 earmarked.

Re-call petition is a rumor

JENSEN BEACH–The rumor floating around the communists and Martin County courthouse that a recall petition against Commissioner Ross Philbrick is nothing but a rumor.

If anyone has a petition or is thinking of circulating a petition recalling a Martin county official their time could be better used by going to the polls on election day.

State Rep. Chuck Nergard who represents the Jensen Beach area said Tuesday that the last session of the legislature passed a recall bill which is effective Oct. 1.

However the bill only applies to municipalities and charter county governments according to Nergard.

This does not apply to Martin County.

The recall petition rumor started last week when an unidentified person asked a county official about procedures for recalling a county official.

Commissioner Philbrick is on vacation and could not be reached for comment on the petition rumor.

New budget gets temporary ok

JENSEN BEACH–A temporary $6 million budget which included $4.9 million and $1.1 million has been adopted by Martin County Commission and will go into effect Oct. 1.

But the budget will be in effect only until the tax roll for this year is completed and a permanent budget is drawn up and adopted.

The tax roll is late this year because of a reassessment project that did not get under way until last year.

The budget also has $750,000 for St. Lucie Inlet improvement.

Commission Chairman Dr. Ed Geary's proposal to remove inlet funds from the budget was voted down by other commissioners. The Chairman doubted that the project would become a reality until the 1977 or 1978 budget.

Commission Chairman Dr. Ed Geary's proposal to remove inlet funds from the budget was voted down by other commissioners. The Chairman doubted that the project would become a reality until the 1977 or 1978 budget.

Dr. Geary recommended deleting the inlet money completely or reducing it by $100,000 with that amount going toward the library and community pool projects.

Last year the county raised $464,000 toward its $1.2 million share of the hoped for $5 million federal inlet improvement project.

The county is adding $268,000 to its inlet improvement fund in the new budget.

Commissioner John Kiernan recommended that interest earned on the inlet fund be set aside for a library extension and community pool, about $100,000.

Commissioner Timer Powers agreed with Kiernan, but noted that the inlet money probably will have to be diverted temporarily to county operations late this year because the tax roll is not ready. He noted that the tax bills will go out late, and the county will have to pay for its operations late this year from this year's cash carryover.

Major budget increases over last year [illegible] toward the Sheriff's Department [illegible] Health Department and Mosquito Control Department and the county rescue equipment.

[illegible] Fletcher, executive vice [illegible] of the "Save Our Beaches" [illegible] and Ed Behrens, both [illegible] of the landscaping committee [illegible] would have to do the watering [illegible] until the rains came.

[illegible] learned last week that the Jensen Beach Fire Department conducts volunteer field fire drills twice a month. He contacted Chief Spinney explained his problem and the Chief agreed to hold the next fire drill on both strips. This was done on Tuesday, September 24.

The volunteers brought one large truck and one water truck for the drill and performed their duties as though they were fighting brush fires on the strips, giving the thirsty plants a good soaking.

Fletcher said this final watering completed the three week project and that by now all the plants should be sufficiently well rooted to take care of themselves.

Fishing pier is repaired

JENSEN BEACH–Temporary repairs have been made to the Jensen Beach Causeway fishing pier, according to the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce.

A two-man committee of Frank Pierce and Roland Simes were appointed to inspect the pier and make recommendations for repairs.

They reported that lumber has been ordered, and permanent repairs will be made in the near future.

SAVANNA SURFACE–Savanna Road, from Commercial Street to Silver Maple Street, got a nice, new, smooth surface Tuesday. Dickerson, Inc. of Stuart, did the $7,000 resurfacing and leveling of the half-mile stretch of road for Martin County. A contract for the project was signed just a few days ago.

Martin County, PB Gardens play hotly contested opener

T DONNIE WILKIE

STUART–Five seconds to go. The score's tied 6-6 and you're on your own 11 yard line. Your team's ranked number 8 in the state of Florida.

What do you call? Should you throw a sideline pass to stop the clock, and then go for it all? should you try a draw and hope for the best? Maybe you should throw the long pass. Or should you simply let the clock run out and settle for the tie?

This was the problem facing Palm Beach Gardens quarterback Mike Shirey at Long Field Friday night. He made the call: a pass, and it turned into disaster.

The Martin County running attack paced the Tigers in the game. Carl Thomas and Eddie Jones were the runners who kept the Tigers in the game, and they deserve a lot of credit.

At the end of three quarters, there was no score. But then Palm Beach Gardens broke through with a four-play, 75 yard scoring drive that ended with a 53 yard scoring pass from Shirey to Bruce Bivins, brother of last year's high school sensation Dano Bivins. It was at this juncture that the Gardens band began to play taps for Martin County.

But all was not lost for the Tigers. They took the ball at their own 33, and marched downfield on eight plays for 67 yards and a touchdown. The score came on a one yard plunge by Carl Thomas. But the extra point went astray and the score was knotted at six each with 7:30 to go in the game.

The score stayed the same until the situation mentioned earlier. With 5 seconds left, the Tigers' Thomas, Gary Graham, and Gary Houston tackled quarterback Shirey in the end zone for a safety. The capacity crowd went absolutely berserk when it happened, and many fans were stunned in disbelief.

For the Tigers, it's on to Twin Lakes this Friday. A win there could put them in the state ratings.

Pine Cones

BY BOB RAMSEY

how this-after about three of the summer doldrums, heat, and palmetto bugs, Pinelake Village finally came to life with a meeting on September 5th to lay the groundwork for a social program in what begins to look like one of the fastest growing mobile home parks in the area.

With Gene Gray presiding at what turned out to be a wonderful turnout of residents, an outline was drawn, with suggestions drawn from the membership of the Social Group. While it may have looked as though everyone would sit on their hands for awhile, it took about two minutes for the ship to hit the sand and then things really got rolling. The result being the birth of a very comprehensive program for the Fall and Winter seasons, even up to Christmas and New Years' parties and on into 1975.

While the scheduling is by no way complete, we try to show some of the activities which will be taking place in our new rec hall of which we are all so proud, such as: shuffleboard, bingo, all types of crafts, pot lucks, Bible study, round dancing and special events planned especially for weekends. While this may seem to be old hat to some, it is within the "Special Events" department, where a combined effort on the part of everyone in the park will bring out the best in all the residents. From a casual observation, you can deduce that these dames are itching to get at decorations and party layout, so don't be surprised if the crush at the doors and the demands for tickets will require stretchers and smelling salts before it is over. We are relatively small now, but Oh Boy, are we growing! The units are moving in every day, and this poor soul will take the plunge and predict that spaces will be at a premium this time next year. No bets, just prediction.

Now a thus for a first (I hope)—Sometime during the month of November, a full fledged pool tournament will be held with participants being drawn not only from the hot shots already in the park, but those defected to the North during the hot months. It has been agreed that if they all return on or about October 15th, they will be given a blanket amnesty provided they grab hold of some of the work as soon as they hit the gate. All pool "hustlers" keep out!

This column is anxious to have any and all social notes which may be dropped off at Lot No. 46 or given to Rachael La Cluyse to be passed on. It is suggested that they be gathered at any of the coffee klatches that are now going on.

To roughly bring things up to date as an example: Rita and Bob Palmer no sooner got settled in the park when they faced a big wedding of their son who was married during the weekend, will honeymoon in Virginia, and then go to a permanent Army assignment in Hawaii. What a way to go!

Helen and John R. Davis of Riverdale, Md., visited Mary Grau during the past week. Helen is Mary Grau's sister. They had a family reunion at the rec hall Sunday, Sept. 8th. Included were: Helen and Kevin McKillop, daughter and son-in-law of Mary, and their children, Ann Marie, Donna, Kevin Jr., Linda and Mark. Also present were Mrs. M. Ruth Fullerton and her son Ken.

So, keep those telephone calls and cards coming in. We need them all. To everyone in the area in the market for what Pinelake Village has to offer, an invitation to look us over is extended. Ask for Dennis. He will be glad to show you around.

A special note of thanks to Sharon Tiltoe for a very difficult job she did in trying to report the news when about the only thing that was going on was the bull frogs talking at the ducks on the lake. Oh yes, we have ducks, too. Come look at them. See you next time—

Universal light and truth basics tonight

JENSEN BEACH—The Temple of Living Universal Light and Truth is starting basic teaching of God, Man and Being tonight, September 25, at 7 p.m. in the Harry Hoke Memorial Room Jensen Beach.

Teaching the course will be the Reverend Doctor Gae

D & M News Notes

MILDRED STINNETT

We extend a greating Welcome Home to Nina and Cecil McWilliams. Lucy and Babe Adamson, Darlene and Herman Patnaude, and Mrs. Tweedt. The McWilliams and Adamsons travelled together visiting many interesting places on their way down from the North.

The Patnaudes were happy to be with some of their children, and with Juanita and Bob Brouillette, Darlene's sister and brother-in-law, in Momence, Illinois.

Mrs. Tweedt, who has been caring for her ill mother received from Enid her husband and their extraordinary bird, Pepper, a hearty welcome. Now, when Pepper says, "Alice, clean up this cage," Alice will be there to oblige.

Lois and Don, Jane and Marvin Wininger recently hosted another Wininger brother, Dennis and his wife Ruth, then their friends Lee and Lavonne Wilder and their daughter Vicki, all of whom are from Paoli, Indiana. Vicki made good use of Jane's three-wheel bike, and accompanied some of our nocturnal walkers around the park.

Agnes and Art Surrency have acquired a shiny new carport and their car looks quite at home in it already.

Hosea Lindsey will celebrate her 80th birthday on September 24, and all and sundry wish her continued good health and happiness.

By the time you read this column, Nettie Keeler will have returned from a very active and fun-filled summer visiting her sons, her sister who lives in upper New York state, and many friends in various other states.

Elfriede Wininger had a birthday September 15, and her husband Noble took her out for a big steak dinner. They had also hoped to celebrate by accepting delivery of their new double-wide mobile home, but Fate decreed otherwise. The one-day delay only served to whet their anticipation, and they looked forward to seeing it placed on the lot formerly occupied by the Palms.

Esther and George Grindles flew down from Newark, New Jersey on the 19th, and were glad to be home after an absence of a month. They visited with their daughter and son-in-law, Marion and Harry Morris in Lakewood, and attended the marriage of their granddaughter who is now Mrs. Joseph Tilone. Esther reports that the wedding was as lovely as the bride and that a reception for 100 guests was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall after the ceremony, and everybody had a ball.

SL shufflers

tart season

PORT ST. LUCIE—Al McDonnell, president of the Port St. Lucie Shuffleboard Club called the first monthly meeting of the season to order, stating that he was well pleased with the fine turnout. The meeting was held at the North Port Marina on September 17.

Entertainment director Judd Reading announced that a Ladies Singles tournament will be held October 7-10 and a Mens Singles Tournament October 24-25-26. He stressed the possibility of having at least 32 entries for a successful tournament. Trophies will be awarded for 1, 2, 3, and 4th place. Entry fee is 75 cents per person. Players are urged to sign up when the sheets are posted.

Members were reminded that the Inland River League and East Coast Central League play will begin the day after Thanksgiving. Participants will be selected by the tournament director from practice for these two leagues will be held each Tuesday afternoon after October 8. Ralph Conley was appointed director for the East Coast Central league.

Darts and Sinners League has three more nights of play. In order to be eligible to participate in the luncheon or dinner hosted by the losing contingent, it was announced that 5 games of completed play would be necessary. Art Peterson was appointed chairman for the affair, date to be announced later.

A suggestion was made that a "Fun night of Shuffling" be started. No prizes, no matter! Just fun, and an opportunity to get to know the members of the club and improve one's game at the same time.

Dale Keating, with an assist from Al Peterson will start class instruction sometime in October. Members were reminded that instructions are for all, not for beginners only.

The following committee chairmen gave reports: Mary Conley, Petticoat League; Marie Reading, telephone; Al Wells, equipment; Bob Cousino, maintenance; Blanche Roberts, sunshine; Bert Feller, membership. Chairman reported 149 members including six new members: Evelyn and Howard Smith, Grace and Sol Sinnar, Johanna and Morris Stern.

Chuck Reitz announced that he would host a "Pickle and Pancake Breakfast" for the club sometime in November, with all proceeds going into the club's depleted treasury. His offer was gratefully accepted.

Cable t.v. studio construction starts

JENSEN BEACH—With the traditional ground breaking ceremonies, construction started last week on Perry Cable Television's new one-story Spanish-style office and studio facilities north of Britt Road and south of Jensen Beach Cutoff Road.

Martin County and Port St. Lucie City Council joined company officials Thursday, Sept. 19, for the ground breaking.

Cost of the facilities, not including electrical equipment, is approximately $200,000.

The 8,000 square foot building is expected to be completed in early 1975, according to Rollin Ankeny, manager of Martin County Cable Co., Inc. The company is a division of Perry Cable Television Companies.

Located on the company's 13-acre tower site, the facilities will serve southern St. Lucie, Martin and northern Palm Beach counties.

"By placing our personnel and transmitting equipment in a single location at its main receiving and processing point," Ankeny said, "this will give cable subscribers both improved quality and additional cable service."

"It will be a general headquarters for everything from management to engineering," Ankeny said.

About 30 persons will be employed by the company.

Cable viewers in Martin and St. Lucie counties receive channels 2, 4, 5, 7, 10, 12, 23 and 34, and receive local weather, stock market, financial news and sports.

Port St. Lucie Mayor Larry Kimmel, Stuart Mayor Robert Hall, Martin County Commissioner Ed Gluckler and Glenn Sutton, Southern Bell manager, attended the ground breaking ceremonies.

Representing the company were John Perry, vice president; Chuck Locke, general manager of Perry Cable Co. and Ankeny.

Rinaldis win junior tennis champions

PORT ST. LUCIE. The winners were Rinaldis both boys and girl, as the Rinaldis dynasty in tennis continued to become established at the St. Lucie Hilton.

Dennis Rinaldi showed the results of a summer of tennis camp by defeating Mark Moore 6-3, 6-0 to take the title of the St. Lucie Hilton Junior Club Championship.

His sister Tina Rinaldi, defeated top seeded Brenda Grossnickle, 5-7, 6-1, 7-5 in one of the hardest fought matches in the entire tournament.

In semi-finals, Dennis Rinaldi won by default, and Tina defeated Tami Griffin easily, 6-0, 6-1. Brenda defeated Kaki Abell, 6-4, 6-4 in her semi-final.

WINNERS—Receiving awards for winning various phases of the Jensen Beach Kiwanis Club golf tournament recently are Jim Schmoyer and Jim Dragseth, shown with Jack Scranton and Leonard Smith, co-chairmen of the tourney. Not present for the awards were Frank DeStefano, Chuck Schad and Tom Rhode.

All it takes is a little luck, a few bucks and a good set of lungs.

It really doesn't take much to have the time of your life at Jai Alai.

And it doesn't take much to learn how to play. Give yourself about ten minutes (the average length of a game, and you'll know what all the shouting's about.

Now with all that experience behind you, you'll be ready to play a Perfecta, Big Q, Quiniela, or Double.

And no matter which one you win the thrill will always be the same. Unbeatable.

So come out and try Jai Alai. With all that fun and excitement going on, how can you lose?

Jensen FIT is planning $2.7 million expansion

BY DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH—Five new buildings to keep up with growing FIT in Jensen Beach are part of a $2.7 million expansion fund raising drive by Florida Institute of Technology, according to an announcement this morning in Melbourne.

The development program for the campuses of FIT Melbourne Ft. Pierce and Jensen Beach will seek a total of $6,290,825, according to Dr. Jerome P. Keuper, president.

The Jensen Beach part of the plan seeks another dormitory for students costing $1.5 million and a conversion of the Leach Mansion to a student center costing $101,500 for the 1974-76 period.

The growth of FIT in Jensen Beach has strained housing facilities for students and faculty with 500 students expected to be attending the school this year up from 450 last year. Dean Tim Teasley has indicated a projection of 1,500 students by 1980.

Development of marine science buildings costing $100,000 by 1976-78, and completion of a gymnasium for $350,000 by 1978 are the next phase of the plan, and the last phase indicates doubling the size of the Ralph Evinrude Science Building by 1980 costing $675,000.

As the announcement of expansion was made, James Lyons, vice chairman of the board of trustees and chairman of the trustee building committee announced two major gifts that have been applied to the program.

$50,000 has been donated by the Kresge Foundation, Troy, Michigan, to be applied to the $100,000 renovation of the Leach Mansion in Jensen Beach, and the Edyth Bush Charitable Foundation of Orlando started off the million dollar engineering building at Melbourne with a $375,000 grant.

Dr. Kruper said that the building program was devised because "despite FIT's rapid growth into the second largest private university in Florida we felt that we must assess objectively where we are now and where we wanted to be and should be by 1980." This development program is the result of that intensive study.

The program calls for four new buildings on the Melbourne Campus and at Ft. Pierce for a total of $3,160,000 and five new buildings on the Jensen Beach Campus for a total $2,726,500.

We now have three Ph.D. programs on the Melbourne Campus," said Dr. Keuper. "By 1980 we will have eight. Annual research expenditures will rise from $800,000 today to $4,500,000 in 1980. Full time students now number 2,700. On both campuses they will top out at a total 4,000 by 1980. Our present plant value of $13,900,000 will climb to $26,700,000 and our annual operating budget of $10,500,000 will reach $22,800,000.

"FIT's main mission always has been and will continue to be to provide excellent educational programs to highly qualified students exclusively in the fields of science and engineering. The greatest mistake any college or university can make," commented Dr. Keuper, "is to try and be all things to all people. FIT's great success has been its specialize and to concentrate its resources in areas we feel to be of the utmost importance to the technological needs of our society and our country."

In announcing the development program, Chairman Lyons stressed that FIT would solicit individuals, corporations and foundations for the funds necessary to provide for the construction needs. Being a private, independent university without tax support, FIT must count on its support from private sources. The grants from the Kresge and Bush Foundations are convincing enough that these fine organizations have faith in FIT and its future. We are confident we can validate this faith.

Student Center gift is tied to matching funds

MELBOURNE—FIT's The Kresge Foundation of Troy, Michigan has approved a grant of $50,000 to Florida Institute of Technology, according to a recent announcement made by Dr. Jerome P. Keuper, President of FIT.

Terms of the Kresge Foundation award require that it be matched by other contributed funds so that the total amount will be sufficient to convert an existing large residential structure on FIT's Jensen Beach campus into a modern student center.

The Jensen Beach campus was acquired by FIT in 1972 to serve as a base for the School of Marine and Environmental Technology with the primary mission of educating persons, mainly technologists in the field of oceanography and marine science technology and marine electronic technology. This program has now been expanded to include a four-year program leading to the degree of Bachelor of Technology in Oceanographic Technology and Environmental Technology.

Commenting on receiving the award, Dr. Keuper said, "This grant from the Kresge Foundation presents a magnificent opportunity and challenge to Florida Institute of Technology. It will be possible for us to make a major improvement on our Jensen Beach campus and provide our students there with a facility they have been missing and so badly need."

WEST PALM BEACH–Solozabal, last season's win leader with 115 games, returns to the West Palm Beach Jai-Alai sports theatre October 3rd. Solozabal, who has been playing Jai-Alai in San Sebastian, Spain this summer, looks forward to another winning season. When Solozabal returns, he brings with him his wife and two children.

Airman completes basic training

SAN ANTONIO–Airman Gerry M. Gryner, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Gryner of 217 N. Indian River Drive, Jensen Beach, has been assigned to Chanute AFB, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

The airman has been assigned to the Technical Training Center at Chanute for specialized training in aircraft maintenance.

Airman Gryner attended Martin County High School.

Ceramic classes are planned

STUART–Indian River Community College is again offering ceramic classes this fall for all interested persons. Classes will be held on Mondays from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. There will also be a class on Tuesdays from 6 to 10 p.m.

These classes will be held at the Roschman Site of IRCC located on U.S. 1 South of Stuart.

Charlotte Henderson is the instructor for these Community Service classes, and are free of charge to anyone sixteen years of age and older.

Animal Attic needs help

STUART–The Animal Attic, Animal Birth Control's thrift shop located at 918 So. Dixie Highway, Stuart, needs help.

The shop is open Wednesday, Thursday and Friday each week from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The "Attic" is the primary fund-raising project for the ABC Spay-Neuter and Humane Education program. Re-salable articles are welcome, but what is most needed right now is volunteer help.

For information and pickup service, call 283-4137 or 287-0570.

Dens 4 and 6 of Cub Scout Pack 802, Port Salerno, last week collected and delivered to the Attic a truckload of salable items and $17.67 in cash. The boys expressed satisfaction with this worthy service project.

Each Friday, humane education films are showed in Martin County schools under the direction of Clare Taibl. The films are designed not only to deal with pets (dogs and cats) but also include information about endangered species.

German-American Club will resume

STUART–The German-American Club of Stuart will resume its monthly picnics starting Saturday, September 28th. The covered dish picnic will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. in Langford Park, Jensen Beach. Coffee will be furnished, but one's personal choice of cold drinks will have to be brought.

All German-American Club members and their friends are most cordially invited to attend. For any questions or suggestions regarding what to bring, please contact Mrs. Grace A. Warren, 283-1023, secretary.

Plant class is offered

FORT PIERCE--Indian River Community College is offering a class entitled "Plants of Florida" through November 18 from 7-9:30 p.m. in Room S204 on the main campus in Fort Pierce on Monday evenings. The class will run for nine consecutive weeks and will consist of lectures, discussion, and colored slides of the plants being studied. On Saturdays there will be field trips to hammocks, fields, nurseries, and gardens to experience first hand a wide spectrum of the plants of this area.

The class will be instructed by Arthur Catlin, who has had five years experience as a Camp Naturalist in the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania. He has studied Florida plants for eight years and has taught this class three years.

Ten named to Sears fashion board

FORT PIERCE--Ten girls, recently named to Sears Fashion Board, were officially introduced at a luncheon at the St. Lucie Hilton Country Club last Thursday.

The Fashion Board, comprised mostly of high school girls are chosen annually on the basis of poise, charm, and ability, to project their personalities into community affairs, according to Cynthia Bryant, who will be directing a new "Discovery Class" for Sears in Vero Beach.

The new Board members are:

Mary Austgen, 17, and Valerie Parmalee, 16, students at John Carroll High School.

Sherry Lopes, 17, and Lani Strickland, 17, who both attend Indian River Community College.

Ionia Jefferson 17, Mary Krolicki 17, Sharon Butler 16, and Renee Bryant, 18, students at Fort Pierce Central.

Cindy Herndon, 16, a student at Palm Vista Christian School.

Kristy Zimmerman, 16, a student at Vero Beach High School.

Among activities planned for the year will be projects to raise $2,000 for the Sickle Cell Foundation and area mental health work, staging fashion shows, and conducting sales.

Hosts for the event were Ray Knipe, Sears general manager, and his wife, Joe Lawyer, public relations director, Polly Batista, fashion coordinator, Harold Raskin, merchandise manager and his wife, and Miss Bryant.

Orchid Society resumes meetings

STUART--The Martin County Orchid Society will resume meetings for the season on Thursday, September 26, 8:00 p.m. at the Agricultural Center.

There will be a color slide program entitled "Dendrobiums for the Beginner" from the library of the American Orchid Society.

A display table, door prizes and refreshments will round out the evening. Visitors are welcome.

I AM A SICK AMERICAN...

THERE ARE THOSE WHO CLAIM OURS IS A "SICK" SOCIETY, THAT OUR COUNTRY IS SICK; OUR GOVERNMENT IS SICK; THAT WE ARE SICK. WELL, MAYBE THEY'RE RIGHT. I SUBMIT THAT I'M SICK . . . AND MAYBE YOU ARE, TOO. I AM SICK OF HAVING POLICEMEN RIDICULED AND CALLED "PIGS" WHILE COP KILLERS ARE HAILED AS SOME KIND OF FOLK HERO.

I AM SICK OF BEING TOLD THAT RELIGION IS THE OPIATE OF THE PEOPLE, BUT MARIJUANA SHOULD BE LEGALIZED.

I AM SICK OF COMMENTATORS AND COLUMNISTS CANONIZING ANARCHISTS, REVOLUTIONARIES AND CRIMINAL RAPISTS, BUT CONDEMNING LAW ENFORCEMENT WHEN SUCH CRIMINALS ARE BROUGHT TO JUSTICE.

I AM SICK OF BEING TOLD THAT PORNOGRAPHY IS THE RIGHT OF THE FREE PRESS, BUT FREEDOM OF THE PRESS DOES NOT INCLUDE BEING ABLE TO READ THE BIBLE ON SCHOOL GROUNDS.

I AM SICK OF PAYING MORE AND MORE TAXES TO BUILD SCHOOLS WHILE I SEE SOME FACULTY MEMBERS ENCOURAGING STUDENTS EITHER TO TEAR THEM DOWN OR BURN THEM.

I AM SICK OF SUPREME COURT DECISIONS WHICH TURN CRIMINALS LOOSE ON SOCIETY — WHILE OTHER DECISIONS TRY TO TAKE AWAY MY MEANS OF PROTECTING MY HOME AND FAMILY.

I AM SICK OF POT-SMOKING ENTERTAINERS DELUGING ME WITH THEIR CONDEMNATION OF MY MORAL STANDARDS ON LATE-NIGHT TELEVISION.

I AM SICK OF BEING TOLD THAT POLICEMEN ARE MAD DOGS WHO SHOULD NOT HAVE GUNS — BUT THAT CRIMINALS WHO USE GUNS TO ROB, MAIM AND MURDER SHOULD BE UNDERSTOOD AND HELPED BACK TO SOCIETY.

I AM SICK OF BEING TOLD IT IS WRONG TO USE NAPALM TO END A WAR OVERSEAS — BUT IF IT'S A MOLOTOV COCKTAIL OR A BOMB AT HOME, I MUST UNDERSTAND THE PROVOCATIONS.

I AM SICK OF NOT BEING ABLE TO TAKE MY FAMILY TO A MOVIE UNLESS I WANT TO HAVE THEM EXPOSED TO NUDITY, HOMOSEXUALITY AND THE GLORIFICATION OF NARCOTICS.

I AM SICK OF RIOTS, PROTESTS, DEMONSTRATIONS, CONFRONTATIONS, AND THE OTHER MOB TEMPER TANTRUMS OF PEOPLE INTELLECTUALLY INCAPABLE OF WORKING WITHIN THE SYSTEM.

I AM SICK OF HEARING THE SAME PHRASES, THE SAME SLICK SLOGANS, THE CRIES OF PEOPLE WHO MUST CHANT THE SAME THING LIKE ZOMBIES BECAUSE THEY HAVEN'T THE CAPACITY FOR VERBALIZING THOUGHT.

I AM SICK OF THOSE WHO SAY I OWE THEM THIS OR THAT BECAUSE OF THE SINS OF MY FOREFATHERS — WHEN I HAVE LOOKED DOWN BOTH ENDS OF A GUN BARREL TO DEFEND THEIR RIGHTS, THEIR LIBERTIES AND THEIR FAMILIES.

I AM SICK OF CYNICAL ATTITUDES TOWARD PATRIOTISM. I AM SICK OF POLITICIANS WITH NO BACKBONE.

I AM SICK OF PERMISSIVENESS.

I AM SICK OF THE DIRTY, THE FOUL-MOUTHED, THE UNWASHED.

I AM SICK OF THE DECLINE OF PERSONAL HONESTY, PERSONAL INTEGRITY AND HUMAN SINCERITY.

MOST OF ALL, THOUGH, I AM SICK OF BEING TOLD I'M SICK. I'M SICK OF BEING TOLD MY COUNTRY IS SICK — WHEN WE HAVE THE GREATEST NATION THAT MAN HAS EVER BROUGHT FORTH ON THE FACE OF THE EARTH. FULLY FIFTY PER CENT OF THE PEOPLE ON EARTH WOULD WILLINGLY TRADE PLACES WITH THE MOST DEPRIVED, THE MOST UNDERPRIVILEGED AMONG US.

YES, I MAY BE SICK, BUT IF I AM ONLY SICK, I CAN GET WELL. I CAN ALSO HELP MY SOCIETY GET WELL — AND HELP MY COUNTRY GET WELL.

TAKE NOTE, ALL OF YOU . . . YOU WILL NOT FIND ME THROWING A ROCK OR A BOMB; YOU WILL NOT FIND ME UNDER A PLACARD; YOU WILL NOT SEE ME TAKE TO THE STREETS; YOU WILL NOT FIND ME RANTING TO WILD-EYED MOBS.

BUT YOU WILL FIND ME AT WORK, PAYING TAXES, SERVING IN THE COMMUNITY WHERE I LIVE. YOU WILL ALSO FIND ME EXPRESSING MY ANGER AND INDIGNATION TO ELECTED OFFICIALS.

YOU WILL FIND ME SPEAKING OUT IN SUPPORT OF THOSE OFFICIALS, INSTITUTIONS AND PERSONALITIES WHO CONTRIBUTE TO THE ELEVATION OF SOCIETY AND NOT ITS DESTRUCTION. YOU WILL FIND ME CONTRIBUTING MY TIME, MONEY AND PERSONAL INFLUENCE TO HELPING CHURCHES, HOSPITALS, CHARITIES AND OTHER ESTABLISHMENTS WHICH HAVE SHOWN THE TRUE SPIRIT OF THIS COUNTRY'S DETERMINATION TO EASE PAIN, SUFFERING, ELIMINATE HUNGER AND GENERATE BROTHERHOOD.

BUT, MOST OF ALL, YOU'LL FIND ME AT THE POLLING PLACE. THERE — IF YOU LISTEN — YOU CAN HEAR THE THUNDER OF THE COMMON MAN. THERE, ALL OF US CAN CAST OUR VOTE — FOR AN AMERICA WHERE PEOPLE CAN WALK THE STREETS WITHOUT FEAR.

SWEARING IN CEREMONY–Bernard Rubin assumed the position of city clerk and administrator following the administration of the oath of office by City Attorney Rupert Smith Tuesday. Rubin brings many years of administrative experience to his newly acquired position.

Rubin sworn in as City Clerk

PORT ST. LUCIE–Bernard Rubin took the oath of office last Tuesday, becoming became the new Port St. Lucie City Clerk.

Following the swearing-in ceremony administered by City Attorney Rupert Smith, Mayor Larry Kimmel expressed pleasure at the appointment.

"I feel we are indeed fortunate to get Mr. Rubin join us here at the city," Kimmel said. "He brings with him many years of administrative experience and is quite capable of handling the dual positions of clerk and administrator."

Rubin, 52, has been a resident of Fort Pierce since 1928, moving here from Ohio.

He is a graduate of the University of Florida with a B.S. degree in business administration, completed courses at the Indian River Community College in junior college and real estate principles.

In addition, he has also completed two courses in real estate appraisal given by the International Association of Assessing Officers.

From 1947-75 he managed the family department store, Rubin's, served as director of Neighborhood Youth Corps in this area.

Rubin also owned and operated a retail dry cleaning and laundry business in Deerfield Beach and has served as deputy tax assessor with the Martin County Tax Assessor's office.

Active in civic affairs, Rubin is a past president of Fort Pierce Jaycees and Lions Club, served as treasurer of St. Pierre Memorial Hospital for two years and chairman of the board for two years.

He was chairman of the city bi-racial committee, served on the city planning and zoning board and was Mayor of Fort Pierce from 1967-68.

Rubin served in WWII and the Korean war with the U.S. Navy. Holder of the Presidential Unit Citation and Navy Commendation Medal, he was discharged as a Lt. Cmdr.

The Rubins have two sons, Mike, director of youth activities, YMHA, in Brunswick, N.J., and Bill, a senior at the University of Florida.

Mayor Kimmel explained the position of city clerk will take on a new dimension with the hiring of Bernard Rubin.

"In addition to city clerk he will also be city administrator," said Kimmel. "He will have a myriad of duties in this capacity which will include establishing an accounting department in the city. Our accounting is presently done by an outside firm. We hope to save the city money with the establishment of our own department, no longer having to contract those services.

He will also administer the city's pension plan and establish personnel records and files.

As city clerk, the new appointee is charged with preparing and keeping current a city zoning map; registering all deeds filed in the city; signing all occupational licenses; and attesting to all city ordinances passed by the council.

Runoff Oct. 1

One county race to be decided

PORT ST. LUCIE–Republican and independent voters can stay home for the Oct. 1 primary runoff since they don't have any candidates on the ballot.

And judging from the voter turnout for the Sept. 10 primary, about 24 percent of the registered voters cast ballots, not many Democrats will go to the polls next Tuesday.

There is only St. Lucie County race to be decided in the Democratic Party runoff primary, and that is for District 3 School Board.

Incumbent Gerald Weatherington led the ticket in the Sept. 10 primary but Jeff Furst was a close second. The race will be decided next Tuesday.

The third man in the District 3 School Board primary was Gordan C. Schuster.

Schuster got a good vote in the south county precincts, but finished about 600 votes behind Weatherington. He led in three of the four south county precincts. He and Weatherington tied in precinct no. 13.

The other Democratic Party races to be decided Tuesday include:

U.S. Senate: Bill Gunter vs. Dick Stone.

Secretary of State: Beverly Dozier vs. Bruce Smathers.

State Comptroller: Fred. Bud Dickinson vs. Gerald Lewis.

State Senate District 28: Dunn Sisters vs. John Jordan.

Millage hearing Thursday

PORT ST. LUCIE–A public hearing to retain the 3.1 millage by the City of Port St. Lucie has been scheduled for 6 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 26 at the City Hall.

The city was notified by the county tax assessor's office that the city would be collecting more taxes this year unless it lowered its millage one-half of one-tenth of a mill. Under the 3.1 mills presently levied by the city, collections would be $3,500 higher than last year.

The city was advised by its attorney, Rupert Smith that failure to lower this millage by the small per cent would constitute a rise in taxes and require a public hearing.

Smith noted according to state statue 200.065 which is the law fixing millage requires the hearing. He said, however, the law does not prevent the city from incorporating into the public hearing, and that the advertisement of increase in by law and does not mean an increase in the amount of taxes paid by residents.

According to Mayor Larry Kimmel, "Ninety-nine and eight tenths percent of the city residents will see no tax increase, unless their property has been reassessed."

The council approved the final reading of the 1974-75 budget Tuesday. It is expected to be adopted at the first meeting in October.

Holy Faith celebrates tenth anniversary

PORT ST. LUCIE–Holy Faith Episcopal Church will celebrate their tenth anniversary of their first service according to Rev. W. Craig Power.

Anniversary plans will include a week of special activities beginning with the celebration of the Eucharist Sunday, Sept. 29 at 10 a.m.

The Rt. Rev. Henry I. Louttit, retired Episcopal Bishop of the diocese of South Florida will deliver the sermon at this service.

On Sunday, Oct. 6 at the 10 a.m. Eucharist the Rt. Rev. William H. Folwell, Bishop of Central Florida will make his annual visitation to the Holy Faith Parish.

Other activities for the anniversary celebration will include a corporate communion honoring pioneer families at 11 a.m. Monday, Sept. 30.

Tuesday, October 1, Father and Mrs. Power will host an open house and morning coffee at the Cozy Cottage 7704 South U.S. 1, in Port St. Lucie.

Evensong will be held Wednesday, Oct. 2, at 6 p.m. followed by a potluck supper honoring pioneer families at 6:30 p.m.

On Thursday, the tenth anniversary dessert and card party will be held at the Port St. Lucie Marina from 1 to 4 p.m.

Holy Communion and healing services will be held Friday, Oct. 4 at 9:30 a.m.

Masons will meet on Oct. 2

PORT ST. LUCIE–The local Masonic Club will hold their regular first Wednesday of the month meeting at the North Port Marina on Oct. 2 at 8 p.m.

Following the regular business session there will be the usual refreshments and program of entertainment.

Council adopts signatures

PORT ST. LUCIE–A resolution to adopt authorized signatures on the City's checking account with First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart was accepted Tuesday at the Port St. Lucie City Council meeting.

Under the resolution, two authorized signatures from either Mayor Larry Kimmel, Vice Mayor Frank Beardsley, City Clerk Bernard Rubin or City Treasurer Kenneth Thompson will be acceptable on the checks.

Corso speaks to homemakers

PORT ST. LUCIE–Joseph Corso, PR Director of the Fort Pierce Memorial Hospital was the guest speaker at the first meeting of the Port St. Lucie Homemakers Club on September 12.

He spoke on the proposed plans for a new hospital for Fort Pierce.

Kay Crattage, Ann Sanderson and Helen Rubicka served home baked cakes to members and guests before the business meeting.

The next monthly meeting of the club is scheduled for October 10 at 1:00 p.m. at the Marina.

Dennis Doyle is named photo editor of The Mirror

JENSEN BEACH–F. Dennis Doyle, has been named photo editor of The Mirror Newspapers, it was announced today by Richard E. Campbell, editor.

Doyle has been associated with The Mirror since his college days at St. Joseph College in 1968, when he assisted in the publication of college stories and pictures. He worked part time assisting in the photo department and the mail room.

Since then, Doyle's photographs has been a staple in production of The Mirror, and in 1971 was second place for "Best News Picture" in the Florida Press Association better newspapers contest.

His treatment of news and feature photography has steadily improved, and we feel it is time to let him expand into areas of feature photography that will add to the quality of The Mirror," Campbell said.

Doyle was editor of the first newspaper produced by St. Joseph College in 1967-68, and produced the first yearbook for that college in 1969. He wrote "St. Joseph College News" a column for The Mirror.

A member of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce, and the Martin County Taxpayers Association, Doyle lives at 3200 SE Fairmont Street, Stuart.

He was born in Jersey City, N.J. and worked for the Bergen County Record for three years before coming to Florida to attend college.

Promise now, pay later

PORT ST. LUCIE–Although the Little League has the promise of a $1,000 contribution from the City Council, it will be January before they receive the money.

Vice-Mayor Frank Beardsley, chairman of the city finance committee, pointed out the 1974-75 budget was "indeed a tight one."

"Even though the $1,000 has been included in the new budget," Beardsley said, "the finance committee requested the check be issued after January 1."

500 Vikings expected

Leif Erikson Day is Sunday

JENSEN BEACH—The square sails of the Viking ships will be seen on the Indian River this Sunday as the 14th annual celebration of Leif Erikson Day is conducted by the Sons of Norway of Florida.

Over 500 S-N members are expected to be on hand for the celebration, which will include a pageant commemorating the landing of Leif Erikson in America in 1002 AD. The pageant is produced by and features members of Sons of Norway lodges.

Host to the public event is the Leif Erikson Day Committee, with chairman Joan Lien handling arrangements.

The members will have the St. Lucie Hilton Inn as their base of operations, though many are staying in the Jensen Beach area. A dinner-dance is planned for Saturday night at the Hilton, with a Scandanavian band to play, along with the Carl Greco Trio.

On Sunday the celebration will begin at noon.

The U. S. Navy Band from Orlando, 32 pieces will give a concert, and the pageant will be held, with three 100-year old Norwegian boats used to carry the Vikings to the shore.

In the pageant, the Vikings land, have a battle with indians and leave with wounded and dead.

There will be native dances and a race between the three boats.

Crews from Ft. Lauderdale, Orlando and Jensen Beach-Ft. Pierce will compete for sailing rowing honors in the six-man boats. In the past two years Ft. Lauderdale and Jensen-Ft. Pierce have won.

Throughout the afternoon, a barbeque dinner will be served, with tickets on sale on the causeway "while they last."

Norwegian-Americans will wear colorful "bunads" (native costumes) that are representative of the region they come from in the old country.

A complete color section on Leif Erikson Day is included in this issue of The Mirror.

NAVY BAND TO PLAY—The United States Navy Band from Orlando will be the featured concert orchestra on stage at Jensen Beach Causeway Sunday, assisting in the Leif Erikson Day celebration. The band is directed by Lt. J.G. Dan Clemens, and contains 32 pieces.

Gluckler said that the committee is looking for private donations for the proposed island sewer system.

Engineers from the Gainesville firm told council members that if a regional system does not become a reality, a $5,000-gallon treatment plant could be built near Florida Institute of Technology to serve the town and the college.

A deep well injection system similar to the city of Stuart would be more expensive initially, but would be cheaper in the long run than an advanced waste treatment facility discharging effluent into the river, engineers told town officials.

Cost according to the engineers, would be about $2.5 million and it would be for a forced main collection system to carry the town's sewage to a regional plant.

A town councilman noted that the cost of a waste water system is much more than the town could afford now or in the foreseeable future.

Commissioner Gluckler, a resident of Sewall's Point noted that the system could possibly include Sewall's Point and the island.

Reed is speaker

STUART—Speaker for the Oct. 11 dinner meeting of the Martin County Izaak Walton League will be Nathaniel Reed, under secretary of the U.S. Department of Interior.

League president George Ewing said the dinner will be held at the Elks Club with the social hour beginning at 6 p.m. followed by dinner at 7 p.m.

Reservations will be limited to 240 persons, Ewing said.

Intersection work is set

JENSEN BEACH—Work to improve the intersection at Poor Bob's Restaurant, Jensen Beach Causeway and Indian River Drive-in is expected to get underway in the near future.

Martin County purchasing agent Paul Penrod said Tuesday that Dickerson, Inc. of Stuart has a $12,250 contract for the work.

Plans for improving the intersection and east to the causeway relief span include resurfacing with curbs and gutters and catch basins.

The drainage facilities had to be included in the project of the additional layer of asphalt on the intersection would have run storm water into the restaurant, according to officials.

Penrod said turning lanes would be added to the intersection center lane for left turning vehicles and right lane for northbound traffic.

Panning-zoning meeting is tonight

STUART—Martin County's Planning and Zoning Commission meets tonight, October 2, at 7:30 in the conference room at the County Courthouse.

The meeting concerns the U.S. 1 Corridor Land Use study.

Chief gives fire prevention notes

JENSEN BEACH—Things that burn is the theme of Fire Prevention Week Oct. 6-12 and Jensen Beach Fire Chief Randolph Spinney said purchase of a five-pound dry chemical fire extinguisher would be a good investment during the week.

"You can save yourself many a dollar with a fire extinguisher," the chief said.

A five-pound dry chemical fire extinguisher costs about $25 and it will knock down any kind of fire.

The chief said that a dry chemical fire extinguisher in a home, trailer or car will extinguish electrical wire fires, gas or grease fires.

One of the best features of the dry chemical extinguisher is that you won't have any water damage, Chief Spinney observed.

Sometimes water causes more damage than the fire, he said.

With a small dry chemical extinguisher in the home a person can knock down a fire before he can go to the telephone and call the fire department, the chief pointed out.

The annual Fire Prevention Week is under the sponsorship of the National Fire Protection Association. A resolution adopting the things that burn theme was adopted by the 1974 National PTA Convention.

In the resolution, it was pointed out that many things youngsters and adults use are flammable including camping fabrics, tents and other camping materials.

The resolution urges PTA members to ask merchants to sell only those camping fabrics that are flame retardant.

In observance of Fire Prevention Week, Chief Spinney said that some of the department's fire fighting equipment would be at Jensen Beach Elementary School.

Young artists to exhibit

JENSEN BEACH—Members of the Saturday morning art class at the Elliott Museum will have an exhibition of their work in the Art Gallery for two weeks beginning Sunday, Oct. 6.

Mrs. Madeleine Rebeiser, who has conducted the children's class for the past three years, and Mrs. Janet Hutchinson, director of the Martin County Historical Society, invite the public to attend the Sunday afternoon reception from 3 to 5 when the young artists, from six to seventeen years old, will be present.

Refreshments will be served.

CHIEF RECOMMENDS—Jensen Beach Fire Chief Randolph Spinney holds a five-pound dry chemical fire extinguisher. The chief said this small piece of equipment can "knock down a fire" before a person can make a call to the fire department.

Carey wins

Herbert Carey of Jensen Beach, sailing the 23-foot sloop Tara, won the September race for cruising and one-design sailboats sponsored by the St. Lucie Sailing Club on the North Fork of the St. Lucie River last Saturday afternoon.

Carey's victory was on the basis of elapsed time over the eight-mile course. Elapsed time was recorded as a basis for establishing handicaps.

Second was Mel Freese of Stuart, in the 23-foot Irwin, Pelican. Finishing third, fourth and fifth, in order were: Ken Wright, Stuart, in Tuppence; and Irwin 25-foot Ben Church, Stuart, in Gem; a 21-foot sloop and attorney Jim Butler, Stuart, in Ms. Boo, a 22-foot O'Day.

The Sailing Club formed last Spring sponsors bi-weekly races for class boats. Hobies, Sunfish and Lasers on Sunday afternoons in the Indian River just south of the Stuart Causeway. A schedule of racing and cruising is also planned for larger cruising boats and day sailers.

The club currently has applications for [illegible] Additional applications are welcome. More participation by owners of Sunfish, Hobies and Lasers in the class boat races is particularly desired, according to Don McLean, the present commodore.

L. & E. Corporation operates Frances Langford's Outrigger Resort, the Evinrude estate and groves.

Ed Lawrence, who designed and created the Outrigger Restaurant in 1961, and has since been general manager, was named consultant to L & E Corporation.

Ruth Penning, secretary to Ralph Evinrude, was named office manager of L & E Corp.

The new positions and personnel were announced at a meeting of department heads of the corporation Monday.

Holley has been assistant manager of the Outrigger Resort for almost a year, and lives with his wife and two children in North River Shores. He has many years of restaurant experience, and most recently operated the Holley Inn in Bloomingdale, New Jersey. He was the personal choice of Lawrence to succeed him as general manager.

Lawrence created the Outrigger at the request of Mrs. Evinrude. He was the designer of the Don the Beachcomber's Restaurants in Chicago and Palm Springs, and is recognized as one of the foremost authorities on polynesian restaurants in America.

Chamber visitors are on increase

JENSEN BEACH-While September is a "bad month" for Chambers of Commerce, visitors at the Jensen Beach chamber on Commercial Street had a big increase over September of 1973, the executive director reported Tuesday.

"We had 234 visitors last month, or office traffic," Mrs. Helen Richardson said. "This compares with 108 visitors last September."

Mrs. Richardson pointed out, however, that there has been a decrease in the number of letters from people asking about rentals for the winter season.

A majority of letters the chamber receives are inquiries about rentals and properties, she said.

In September of 1973, the chamber received 124 letters compared to 82 this past month.

"The fuel shortage hurt us last year," Mrs. Richardson observed, "but I don't think it will be a factor in this year's season."

She noted that while the chamber has not received as many inquiries, she expects the area to have another good winter season.

The new chamber building was completed last December, and the six-month report by Mrs. Richardson shows the increase in visitors to the Commercial Street location.

For the first six months, 2,185 persons came into the office compared to 1,576 in 1973.

Many telephone calls she received 1,439 the first six months of this year.

MMH auxiliary plans bazaar

STUART-The Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary bazaar will be held this year on December 14 at the Stuart Woman's Club building in Stuart.

STUART-A single change was reported in the Sailfish Club summer tournament last week, a 20 pound 2 ounce triple tail caught by Richard Kraft, Stuart, in the St. Lucie River.

Trout plentiful

JENSEN BEACH-Trout fishermen had it pretty good last week judging from the Snook Nook report.

Duck White had 27 trout, 1 grouper, 1 blue for the week. Ed Wagner, fishing by himself, had 8 trout and with Bill Wagner 10 trout and with Don Zotta 3 trout.

Pete Peterson and Stan Lippincott brought in 32 trout during the week. Other trout catches recorded were:

Carl Barker 2, George Cole 3, George Carpenter 15 along with a snook and a jack, Ed Funk 1, Bill Holloway, Floyd Gillem and Roy Greenwald 4 trout 1 snook, Ollie Schrode 2 trout.

Clyde Barfield caught a 27 pound snook on Sunday. Denise Newman had 1 snapper. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Smith, 6 blues and a sand perch. Bill Zahnel 2 blues and a small pompano. Bob McCord 1 snook, John Dinn 1 snook, Ed Curtis, 1 grouper, Joan Wright 2 blues, 30 sand perch. Rusa Bolton and Father Alvarez 3 snook, 3 tarpon 2 snapper.

Rush Sarigan and Dick Hoso, trolling the South Fork on Saturday landed 14 snook, 1 tarpon and a jack.

There was some activity outside as Mike Kirkhart landed a 7 foot 4 inch sail. Dave Stone had one 12 pound king. Captain Ed Jones, Bob Capps and Jack Rivet brought in 3 dolphin, 1 king, 1 wahoo.

Seven-year old Jay Jane went fishing Monday and landed a grouper and 4 snapper.

Rick Swieter promoted at First National of Stuart

STUART—David B. Irons, President of the First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart has announced the promotion of Rick Swieter to Credit Manager.

Mr Swieter, a native of Grafton, West Virginia and now living in Port St. Lucie, graduated from the University of Nebraska and began work at the bank in August of 1972.

He is a graduate of First National's Management Training Program and holds the basic certificate from the American Institute of Banking. Swieter serves as the bank's Representative to the Martin County Builders Association.

Birthday groups are growing

WASHINGTON—The number of officially recognized Bicentennial Communities around the nation reached 1,499 as of September 16 as the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration (ARBA) approved 198 new applications during the previous month.

Macomb County, Michigan became the first county to have every one of its governmental entities officially recognized as a Bicentennial Community. The county has 12 cities, 12 townships and 3 villages.

The aim of the Bicentennial Communities Program is to encourage communities of all sizes and political subdivision structure to help plan and carry out projects and events which, taken together, will be the major portion of the nation's Bicentennial commemoration.

The program is endorsed by the Conference of Mayors, League of Cities, and the National Association of Counties.

DOT issues warning

JENSEN BEACH—Florida's Department of Transportation, through its Utility Coordinating Council, has warned all state utility firms and agencies that use of herbicides on state maintained roadsides is prohibited.

Compensation will be sought for any damages to shrubbery or trees caused by herbicide use by utility companies. The basis for compensation will be the National Shade Industry computations which determine the value of a tree according to diameter, height, age and variety. All commonly planted shade trees, including pines, can be valued from these computations.

Utility companies must have a permit to locate their lines and poles on state-owned right of way. This permit requires preservation of roadside plant and tree growth.

Bike fatalities ahead of '73

TALLAHASSEE—Florida Bicycle fatalities for the first eight months of this year and running 10 per cent ahead of 1973.

According to traffic records compiled by the Florida Highway Patrol, 59 bicyclists have perished in traffic accidents this year, compared to 49 for the same period last year. A total of 81 cyclists lost their lives in the state during 1973.

The Governor's Highway Safety Commission said most of the riders failed to ARRIVE ALIVE because their two wheel vehicles were not easily seen by motorists.

During hours of daylight, a Commission spokesman said the best accident prevention device a bicyclist can use is a bright colored flag flying from a high mast - similar to an automobile antenna - that may be purchased at most bike shops and substantially increase the distance that a cyclist may be seen by motor vehicle operators.

He warned that Florida Law requires bicycles to have reflectors attached to the rear and a headlight visible from 500 feet, if it is to be ridden in the hours of darkness.

Bicyclists are governed by the same rules of the road as autos and must be ridden on the extreme right hand side of the roadway, in the same direction as other traffic. They must also give hand and arm signals to warn others of their desire and intentions to turn.

The old sounds of big bands come to life with a dance club

BY DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH—"Most people think that they are going to be pressured into buying dance lessons or something, and they're really surprised when they find they're not," said Howard.

The Starlite Bleu Dance Club has gotten off to a slow start, but each week is improving, as more and more residents of Jensen Beach learn about good, old dancing, without the general atmosphere of a night club.

The founders are a well known dance team, Susan and Howard. Both have worked the Miami Beach club circuit, and were featured acts on the cruise ships that traveled out of Miami.

They have taken a large building at the "Crossroads" and made it into one of the largest dance floors in this area. With an expensive sound system they have opened a dance club that will offer all the music of the thirties, forties and fifties for people who remember how to dance.

"We aren't competition for the night clubs. We don't serve liquor. We just want a place that people can come and dance. Our quadraphonic sound is the best that can be played, and we have all the big band sounds that anyone remembers," Howard said.

As for the lessons, "well, if someone wants to learn how to dance any kind of step, they can just ask us and we'll set up an appointment. But we're not pushing anyone."

Susan likes to teach children, and is working on building a dance class for the youngsters, featuring tap, ballet and modern jazz.

"This is what we want to do," Howard says. He is proud of the new dance club, and is excited about the future.

"Some people drive up, peek in the window, and see what is going on, and then they come in and dance. It's healthy and a good bit of fun for everyone. It's something to do, and we are even signing up annual memberships so that the people don't have to pay each time they come," he said.

HOWARD AND SUSAN—A popular dance team has come to Jensen Beach, opening the Starlite Bleu Dance Club at the "crossroads" on SR 707.

Fishing contest draws record crowd

BY DENNIS DOYLE

JENSEN BEACH-The fish were jumping, the reels spinning and the sun shining for over 250 youngsters participating in the annual Izaak Walton League fishing contest last Saturday morning at the Jensen Beach Causeway.

The contest, which received the largest turnout in the history of the event, caught officials short of prizes promised to each contestant catching a fish. However no one went away empty-handed.

Besides the major prizes, 150 smaller prizes were given out quickly to those catching fish. Two hundred registered, which sent quick thinking officials running to their own tackle boxes for the additional prizes.

The free contest, billed as "everyone catching a fish gets a prize", had $300 worth of prizes for the boys and girls.

The big winners included a tie for the most fish between Brian Porkey and Jeff Cummings, who each caught 30 fish. The boys flipped a coin to see who got first pick of a prize.

The only trout caught in the contest was by Richard Evans. His prize winning catch weighed in at 2½ lbs.

The most unusual fish was caught by Mary Holewinki. Her stingray weighed 14 lbs. 3 oz.

Tommy Lukat won for the largest sheephead weighing 4¼ lbs. Greg Tiemann with a 1½ lb. mangrove snapper, Kenny Schneck with a 1 lb. lady fish and Dennis Domansky with a 13 oz. lady fish.

Robert Snyder won for his 2 lb. 2 oz. jack grevalle and Mark Shumann for his 2 lb. flounder. Tim Dargis walked away with two cases of soft drinks for getting the first catch of the day.

Father to help ordain son

STUART-Herbert Bruner will help to ordain his son Jeff in an ordination and installation of deacons service at the North Stuart Baptist Church at 11 a.m. on Sunday, October 6.

Bruner senior has been an active deacon since the church was organized, and Jeff was one of four recently elected to be active deacons.

Along with Bruner, who is a teacher at Martin County High School, Sam Farrow, Michael Crook and Charles Schad will be installed.

Farrow, a local construction man, has been a deacon in another church and will be installed as an active deacon in the North Stuart congregation.

Crook is an accountant with the Frank Wacha firm in Stuart.

Schad is vice president and chief loan officer at the First National Bank of Stuart.

Reverend Robert E. Lee, pastor of the church, will preach on "The Authority of the Church" and lead in the ordination service. All ordained deacons of the church will assist in the service.

At 7:30 Sunday evening, the newly ordained and installed deacons will assist in serving the elements of the Lord's Supper.

Art group to meet

STUART-Art Associates of Martin County will have its first fall meeting on Friday, Oct. 4 at 2:30 p.m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart.

Plans will be discussed and finalized for the Gallery Group One art exhibition preview to be held for members at the Stuart National Bank on Friday, Oct. 11 from 5 to 7 p.m.

The program for the meeting will be presented by Rey Bunker who will conduct a slide and commentary show entitled "The Origins of Modern Art." Included will be analytical notes on composition and color.

Bunker will be assisted by Mahlon Cline who will demonstrate compositional techniques and color intricacies.

Pine Cones

BY BOB RAMSEY

Am still trying to catch up on the doings at Pine Lake Village, so lets see what we have here. If the news is old, folks, please be patient and it will become current.

Mr & Mrs Robert Roseboom and mother, Mrs Vincent, spent four weeks in upstate New York, and Virginia Beach, Va. visiting family and friends. Had an enjoyable time.

Several newcomers to Pine Lake Village as the move-in continues. Welcome to George and Bea Casper, Barney and Eleanor Means, Ruth Kline and Frank Bashwiner, Russ and Mary Jane Freese, Joe and Grace White and John and Marie Sydprisk. Get your roots down!

Jim Bricker is back out of the hospital after major surgery. No pole vaulting yet but coming along fine. Chasing nurses is not considered therapy.

Joe and Grace White reported aboard after an extended visit with their son Bill and his family. How did you like the Auto-Train?

A belated welcome also to Lucille and Nick Maxim.

Stopped by the rec hall the other day and thought I had stumbled onto a trading post on the edge of the Grand Canyon. Mike Ciganic, who excels in leather craft and pottery work was conducting a class. Looked over some beautiful buckles, leather work, tools and equipment. Mike makes a good instructor and everyone attending has asked that we thank Mike for a very informative and rewarding start to this fine hobby.

Our very sincere appreciation to Mary Grau for untiring effort in accumulating newsworthy material for the column. She has been running around getting all the gossip and has her ear to the ground all the time. Good work, Mary!

To all the new troops moving into Pine Lake, please visit the rec hall and check the social calendar for regular and upcoming events and then come join us.

The welcoming committee of one, Kate Ramsey will be pounding on your door insisting on welcoming you whether you want to be welcomed or not, and carrying an updated schedule as soon as Gene Gray gets back. The Grays were called away due to an illness in the family but should show soon.

And, then there are the ducks which have blossomed into almost geese, walking around nameless. There are five (now), so what is to be done? Can't call them Bonnie and Clyde, Abbott and Costello, etc. Gotta be five. First prize will be a cluster of tail feathers if you can get close enough to pull them.

Got any old 78's, records that is. Hold on to them, we will need them later in the original or reproduced and taped. Nostalgia corner calling, so, who was Ish Kabbible? Down periscope. See you next week.

Area women are invited to party

JENSEN BEACH-All area women are invited to attend the dessert-card party to be given by the Barracks 854 WWI Veterans Auxiliary at 12:30 ThursdayOctober 10 at Langford Park.

Marcella Deiss is chairman of the event and says there will be prizes and door prizes galore.

Venture Out News Notes

By Willard Auch

A letter from Bob Messersmith tells us he is still spending as much time on the golf course as he can and is looking forward to his and Jane's returning to Venture Out.

A letter from the James Gibsons tells of their plans to joint the Old Wagonmaster Caravan to Mexico. They will go into Mexico at Nogales, Airtona about October 29th and return December 4 via Harlinger, Texas. Johnny Johnson will send them on their way from Nogales. This all means they will not arrive at Venture Out until about the first of January.

Betty Davis and friend Olive Kunz of Girard, Pa., are here now. They arrived in our downpour last Thursday. Mrs. Kunz will be returning home to prepare for a trip to Yugoslavia.

Betty talked to Jake. The cold winds were blowing and he wishes he were here. Betty hopes to stay here if Jake can arrange to come down soon.

If you have been past the Marina this past week, your attention would have been drawn to the beautiful glass enclosed houseboat, "The Study" from Baldwinsville, N.Y. It is owned by Michele and Gordon Scott who, along with their two children Mark and Tracey, are spending a year aboard traveling the Intercoastal to the Keys and . . ." They are enjoying their stay here at Venture Out and who knows, they may be back."

Received a card from Munchen, Germany, from Toad and Lucy Bowling. They have been through France, Switzerland and Austria. Now are on their way home. Hope to spend some time at Venture Out in November.

The following items are from the Venture Out Mobile Home section.

The Van Willigers are here for about a week before leaving to visit their daughter and family, the Major Gary Arndts. Major Arndt is stationed at Tirrenia, Italy. The Van Willigers will be visiting in Europe.

Kay and Dr. Bob Smyth were recent guests of Dr. Smyth's nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alber of Albany, Ga., and Kay's aunt, Mrs. Gladys Quann and cousins, Mercer Quann and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Quann of Spotsylvania, Va. They also spent some time with former neighbors in Cherry Hill, N.J.

The Airstream seemed like a "covered wagon" with Bob restricted to driving only 300 miles per day.

Stanley and Barbara Clark will be home about October 11 for a short stay.

Betty and Paul Drinkard are expected back about October 15th.

Guitar lessons beginning

STUART-The Stuart Recreation Department will continue its guitar program with new lessons beginning Tuesday, October 8th. The course will last for eight weeks consisting of eight lessons at a cost of $10 for instructions.

The class will again be taught by Kathy Gibson of Port Salerno. They will be held at the Stuart Youth Center on N. Flagler Drive. The schedule is as follows:

5:00 Youth Beginner
6:00 Intermediate
7:00 Adult Beginner

For information call Stuart Youth Center 287-2550.

Covered dish luncheon

JENSEN BEACH-Barracks 854 WWI Veterans and Auxiliary of Jensen Beach will hold a covered dish luncheon at Langford Park on Friday, October 4 at 12 o'clock noon. Members are asked to bring a covered dish and their own beverage.

Meetings will start at 1:30 p.m. All WWI Veterans and wives are invited to attend.

SAUERBRATEN
4 pounds beef for pot roast
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon ground ginger
2 cups cider vinegar
2½ cups water
2 medium onions, sliced
2 tablespoons mixed whole pickling spice
2 bay leaves
1 teaspoon peppercorns
8 whole cloves
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons fat
Flour or gingersnaps

Rub meat with salt and ginger; put in large bowl. Combine remaining ingredients except fat and flour; bring to boil and pour over meat. Cool. Cover and put in refrigerator for 3 days. Turn meat once each day. Remove meat from pickling liquid; reserve liquid. Dry meat with paper towel. Brown meat on all sides in fat in heavy kettle. Put on rack; add 1 cup reserved pickling liquid and half the onions and spices from liquid. Cover tightly and simmer slowly for 2½ hours, or until tender, adding more liquid as needed. Remove meat to hot platter. Strain liquid in pan and return to heat; strain in additional pickling liquid to make about 2 cups. Skim off excess fat. Thicken gravy with a little flour mixed with cold water or thicken with 5 crumbled gingersnaps. Serve with sliced meat, mashed potatoes, rice or potato dumplings. Makes about 8 servings.

Residential Commercial Industrial

C.I.C.'s "White Glove" Cleaning Service is a new name in the tri-county area. However, the two gentlemen who will operate the business are not new, either to the business or to the area. Guy Austin & Jack Hammer offer over 25 years combined experience to a limited clientele of finer homes & commercial properties.

Over Staff Policy

Floors
Carpets
Windows

We maintain a trained work force 25 per cent larger than that required for work done under contract.

No Cut Prices

Pressure Cleaning
Rust & Mold Removal
Lawn Maintenance

Our prices will be fair & competitive, based on accurate cost accounting for each contract. So our prices will not always be the lowest, but in the long run, they will prove to be the least expensive to our clients.

A Limited Clientele

Home Opening or Closing
Construction Clean-Up

In order to keep our promises, C.I.C. will take only as many clients, & as much work, as can be done properly, & maintain our standards. We also reserve the right to select only those clients who will understand our efforts to deliver quality workmanship, reliably performed, properly supervised & fairly priced, in a field where these standards have been difficult to find and harder to maintain.

received, with news of our friends and neighbors. The first, from Gertrude and Lowell Foster told of Gertrude having been in the hospital, in traction, because of a pinched nerve, for five days, but she should be home by now.

Esther had written to them about a good-sized snook she and Andy had caught and Lowell was properly impressed.

The second was from their neighbor Stella Dobrowolski, who was up in New Jersey visiting her two daughters and son, spending a week with each. Then yesterday I had a welcome telephone call from Stella, saying she had gotten home Wednesday evening and was resting up after all the running around, visiting, shopping and being wined and dined by her children and grand children.

The third was from Mabel Rude who has been very busy canning and preserving the goodies from their vegetable garden. She inquired about her friends and neighbors here in our park and would like to hear from them. Her address is: Rt. 3, Elm Grove, West Virginia 26003.

Thank you Esther and Andy, for sharing.

Ellfreide and Noble Wininger are now occupying their new double wide and are happy to be able to stretch out after living in their travel home.

Received word from Fran Gehris that her mother is in poor condition in a nursing home. Of course Fran and Bill visit her often and this will necessarily delay their return until the middle of October.

Chuck Collison who used to live next door to us, came over from Sebring for a short visit.

The new double-wide belonging to Dennis and Hubs Wininger arrived a few days ago and is in the process of being set-up. Dennis' son Ralph and Devon Wininger are here too and just to see that all went well, Herman came also. The elder Winingers will be coming down from Indiana soon and will winterize the home for the winter.

Spanish Lakes News Notes

BY PEG EVARTS

Sometime take a walk through the portico and past the Spa to see the lovely plantings around the new pool. The tall palms and Schefflers are growing nicely. The whole area takes on the appearance of a lovely park. As yet, we have nothing more to tell you about those grey cranes seen on the golf course. Wish we did.

Mark Tuesday nights on your calendar if you like going to the movies. The scenes on Bavaria last week were beautiful. The shows are sponsored by IRCC and are free. Note the bulletin board in the foyer for the current attraction.

If you can't come to the track, the track will come to you. Morris Kasarsky did just that Saturday night the 21st. Starter Morris held six races in the auditorium on film that is with tellers Thursa Lesieur, Kathy Williams, Bonnie Barnett, Court Fitch, Helen Hunt and Ben Hunt taking phenominal bets. As much as $300.000 went to winners with the Jesse Fordhams taking over $100.000 and Eleanor Ellis taking $62.000. Funny Money, you should know. Between the scramble to place bets and the shouting for the favorite horse, it was a noisy evening. Dancing followed. The Alles Cat and the Greek Polka as well as the Cha cha were in.

Martin County writers' group meets

STUART Members of MCWG who have been vacationing in all corners of the globe are gradually returning to headquarters in the Community Room of The First National Bank and Trust in of Stuart. The group assembles from 10-12 a.m. the first and third Wednesday of each month.

Ann Gallivan, who is taking a fiction course three mornings a week at Indian River College hopes to be able to pass on much she is learning.

Marian Gauger, after three weeks at Gulf Stream Point Martin Memorial and another month at Hong Kong Flu Sanitarium, at her home on Sky Line Drive is again thinking fiction.

Jan Wise has returned from Detroit where she spent six weeks sculpting a likeness of her mother out of good old Michigan clay.

Violet Dias presented a graphic account of the food situation in her native midwest. Tomatoes, fresh peaches, cantaloupe, green corn and all.

So welcome to Stuart and the Martin County Writers Group. If the love of writing lies dormant in your soul, crack that shell in modesty. Come see, you just might find it fun, fascinating and fulfilling. It's free and its free, too.

A new, diversified American Menu. It costs no more to lunch in Polynesian Beauty.

3 DECKER OUTRIGGER SPECIAL 2.50
A "best-seller" sandwich meal with our regular luncheon patrons. Piled high with thin turkey slices, tangy Swiss cheese and select baked ham.

DELUXE JUMBO HAMBURGER 2.00
A generous portion of top grade western beef ground daily and grilled to your order. Served on toasted, seeded bun.

DELUXE CHEESEBURGER 2.25
Take the same generous portion of the same fine meat, top it with a thick slice of melting cheddar cheese and serve it on the same toasted bun.

TURKEY 1.95
Freshly sliced from newly roasted turkeys so that every piece is juicy and fall-apart tender.

BAKED VIRGINIA HAM 1.75
Rich with the flavors that can be achieved only by starting with a properly smoked ham and baking it slow and long ... yummy!

CORNED BEEF 1.95
Take a selected lean corned beef, slice it thin and pile it high on your choice of fresh bread ... that's a great sandwich.

CHICKEN SALAD 1.75
Choice tender chicken morsels are blended with crisp celery chips, herbs, spices and then folded into a delicate dressing.

TUNA SALAD 1.75
Our same specially prepared tuna salad that is served with the luncheon is heaped on your choice of bread or rolls.

Above served with choice of potato salad, cole slaw or potato chips

500 Vikings expected

Leif Erikson Day is Sunday

JENSEN BEACH--The square sails of the Viking ships will be seen on the Indian River this Sunday as the fifth annual celebration of Leif Erikson Day is conducted by the Sons of Norway of Florida.

Over 500 S-N members are expected to be on hand for the celebration, which will include a pageant commemorating the landing of Leif Erikson in America in 1002 AD. The pageant is produced by and features members of Sons of Norway lodges.

Host to the public event is the Leif Erikson Day Committee with chairman Joan Lein handling arrangements.

The members will have the St. Lucie Hilton Inn as their base of operations, though many are staying in the Jensen Beach area. A dinner-dance is planned for Saturday night at the Hilton, with a Scandanavian band to play along with the Carl Green Trio.

On Sunday the celebration will begin at noon.

The U.S. Navy Band from Orlando, 32 pieces, will give a concert, and the pageant will be held, with three 100-year-old Norwegian boats used to carry the Vikings to the shore.

In the pageant, the Vikings land, have a battle with indians and leave with wounded and dead.

There will be native dances and a race between the three boats.

Crews from Ft. Lauderdale, Orlando and Jensen Beach-Ft. Pierce will compete for sailing rowing honors in the six man boats. In the past two years Ft. Lauderdale and Jensen-Ft. Pierce have won.

Throughout the afternoon, a barbeque dinner will be served with tickets on sale on the causeway while they last.

Norwegian-Americans will wear colorful bunads, native costumes that are representative of the region they come from in the old country.

A complete color section on Leif Erikson Day is included in this issue of The Mirror.

St. Lucie County voters supported Bruce Smathers over Beverly Dozier with a 298 vote lead.

Although early state wide returns show Bill Gunter leading in the race over Dick Stone for U.S. Senate local voters supported Stone with a 298 vote lead.

Better bingo is planned

PORT ST. LUCIE--A bigger and better Bingo game has been announced by CESA's Bingo Committee headed by Schuyler Sharpe.

Committee members Larry Hett and Don White are studying operating procedures used in various cities have come up with a format which they feel will bring about the most successful and entertaining game in this area.

Beginning Saturday, October 5, at 8 p.m. at the CESA building, the new operation will involve a total of $75 in prize money, together with reduced prices for multiple cards. The biggest take of the evening will be the Jackpot in the sum of $75.

Italian and American Civic Assoc. is growing

PORT ST. LUCIE--The newly organized Italian and American Civic Association will hold their next meeting at the North Port Marina on Sunday, Oct. 6 at 5:30 p.m.

At the last meeting, where the initial member was enrolled in the club, publicity director Gertrude Aviles reminded residents that there is still time to sign up for half price initiation fee before the charter membership list closes on Nov. 1.

Volunteer attorney Doug Lawless promised to have the association's constitution and by-laws ready for the November 1 date.

Meantime, the membership decided to hold meetings on the first and third Sundays of each month at the Marina. One of the meetings will be for business, the other a social night emphasizing eating and dancing.

Oct. 20 was decided upon as the first social of the season. The event will be open to guests as well as members.

The group also voted to have a New Year's Eve party in preference to a Christmas celebration. Gertrude Aviles, Marie Maida and Helen Gilberti were appointed as a social committee to handle details.

New office hours for city hall

PORT ST. LUCIE--City Administrator Bernard Hutto announced Tuesday the new office hours being observed by the City Hall.

Effective Oct. 1, the building department will be open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The City Hall will be open daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The hours for the post office will remain the same: 8 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

...dult-Ed program ...kes on a new look

...T. LUCIE--Adult education ... Lucie is going to have a ... look as a result of a ... agreement reached recently ... representatives of CESA and ... Community College ... President Herman A. ... office with Kathy Wockley, ... Director of Development, and ... Director Dick Lundin. CESA ... Shreiw Schreiber, CESA ... president, it was agreed upon ... to accept a proposal from ... College that will make CESA ... responsible for the ... classes in the Port ... Cultural Center beginning ... October 1.

Dr. Heise emphasized under the new arrangement that CESA will benefit financially by having an incentive system under which the College will pay on a basis of actual classroom usage instead of a flat $200 per month paid previously for the Community Center Building.

The College President pointed out that his staff had made studies of classroom usage during the past year which indicated that if the incentive system had been in effect a year ago CESA would have received slightly more than was paid under the flat rate system.

Acknowledging Lundin's concern over projected income for the three classrooms to be constructed for the College under the proposed CESA expansion program, President Heise agreed to establish higher hourly rates for the new Art Ceramics and general workshop classrooms. He said that this action would take cognizance of today's higher construction costs and concluded with:

"I feel that this new arrangement will provide the Cultural Educational and Social Association with more control of the education programs being conducted at this facility while at the same time insuring additional funding from the College for the new building. The College rational for doing this is recognition that construction costs have gone up and that the College will have to provide more than under the present system now in use."

CESA President Lundin commented that under the new arrangement CESA would have to appoint an Educational Committee with complete authority in planning, promoting, and scheduling all classes in the existing and proposed classrooms. He stated, "I will be the makeup for such a Committee ready for submission to the CESA Board of Directors at a special meeting to be called for one thirty in the afternoon on Monday, September 16."

CESA Vice President Schreiber observed: "We are delighted with this new proposal submitted by the College and after a most satisfying experience over the previous year, we are looking forward to a strengthened relationship between Indian River Community College and CESA in the months ahead. I am sure that the CESA Board of Directors will feel the same as we do."

Health help for PSL

PORT ST. LUCIE--Relief is in sight for the residents of this south county community who have been making their needs for additional doctors heard far and wide.

Lazaro Cimperic, Jr., M.D., announced today the opening of his office at 230 Sagamore Terrace, S.W. in Port St. Lucie.

Dr. Cimperic will practice general medicine.

Hours are by appointment from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday. Phone 878-3000 for appointment.

Rescue unit is delivered

PORT ST. LUCIE--The new rescue unit purchased by the city was delivered Tuesday, according to City Administrator Bernard Hutto.

The unit is presently being stored at the Central Fire Station in Fort Pierce awaiting the completion of the fire station in Port St. Lucie Boulevard.

The city agreed to purchase the rescue unit as a part of the compact agreement for the construction of the south county fire station.

The delivery price of the vehicle without equipment was $16,900, according to Chief H.M. Register of the St. Lucie County Fire Department.

The equipment, part of which has already been delivered, will be installed in the unit in Fort Pierce.

Chief Register pointed out the equipment is portable and would be installed locally.

When asked about the cost of the equipment, Chief Register was unable to give such figure, but he did say that one tool (the jaws of life) will cost approximately $4,400.

Total cost of the equipped vehicle had been estimated previously at $23,000.

A second rescue unit was also delivered at the same time to Fort Pierce which, according to Register, will be stationed on the north causeway in Station 2.

The Fort Pierce Fire Department now has a total of five rescue units in the county including the one to be stationed in Port St. Lucie.

Bike fatalities ahead of '73

TALLAHASSEE-Florida Bicycle fatalities for the first eight months of this year and running 10 per cent ahead of 1973.

According to traffic records compiled by the Florida Highway Patrol, 50 bicyclists have perished in traffic accidents this year compared to 46 for the same period last year. A total of 81 cyclists lost their lives in the state during 1973.

The Governor's Highway Safety Commission said most of the riders failed to ARRIVE ALIVE because their two-wheel vehicles were not easily seen by motorists.

During hours of daylight, a Commission spokesman said the best accident prevention device a bicyclist can use is a bright colored flag flying from a high mast similar to an automobile antenna that may be purchased at most bike shops and substantially increase the distance that a cyclist may be seen by motor vehicle operators.

He warned that Florida Law requires bicycles to have reflectors attached to the rear and a headlight visible from 500 feet if it is to be ridden in the hours of darkness.

Bicyclists are governed by the same rules of the road as autos and must be ridden in the extreme right hand side of the roadway in the same direction as other traffic. They must also give hand and arm signals to warn others of their desire and intentions to turn.

Duplicate bridge

STUART-JENSEN BEACH-Monday night, 23rd there were 8 tables in play with an average of 100 for both North-South and East-West.

East-West winners were Naomi and Laurence McKinley 1st, second Wilda Albert and Dorothy Metcalf 2nd, third Myrtle Fleming and Margaret Hamilton 3rd, fourth Gladys and John Michaelson 4th.

On Friday Sept. 20th a Howell Movement was played and in first place was Anne Mesquares and Hazel Whicker, second Dorothy Metcalf and Jack Alger, third Thelma Ritchey and Ed Yates.

Game Time is 1 p.m. Mondays and Fridays in The Harry Hall Community Room at The First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Jensen Beach.

All players are welcome and a partner is always available.

PORT ST. LUCIE-The Port St. Lucie Catholic Women's Club is giving a dessert card party on Wednesday, October 9 at 1:00 p.m. in the St. Lucie Catholic Church parish hall on Prima Vista Boulevard.

Tickets may be obtained at the door.

Table and door prizes will be awarded. All area women are cordially invited to attend.

The old sounds of big bands come to life with a dance club

BY DICE CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH—"Most people think that they are going to be pressured into buying dance lessons or something, and they're really surprised when they find they're not," said Howard.

The Starlite Bleu Dance Club has gotten off to a slow start, but each week is improving, as more and more residents of Jensen Beach learn about good, old dancing, without the general atmosphere of a night club.

The founders are a well known dance team, Susan and Howard. Both have worked the Miami Beach club circuit, and were featured acts on the cruise ships that traveled out of Miami.

They have taken a large building at the "Crossroads" and made it into one of the largest dance floors in this area. With an expensive sound system they have opened a dance club that will offer all the music of the thirties, forties and fifties for people who remember how to dance.

"We aren't competition for the night clubs. We don't serve liquor. We just want a place that people can come and dance. Our quadraphonic sound is the best that can be played, and we have all the big band sounds that anyone remembers," Howard said.

As for the lessons, "well, if someone wants to learn how to dance any kind of step, they can just ask us and we'll set up an appointment. But we're not pushing anyone."

Susan likes to teach children, and is working on building a dance class for the youngsters, featuring tap, ballet and modern jazz.

"This is what we want to do," Howard says. He is proud of the new dance club, and is excited about the future.

"Some people drive up, peek in the window, and see what is going on, and then they come in and dance. It's healthy and a good bit of fun for everyone. It's something to do, and we are even signing up annual memberships so that the people don't have to pay each time they come," he said.

HOWARD AND SUSAN—A popular dance team has come to Jensen Beach, opening the Starlite Bleu Dance Club at the "crossroads" on SR 707.

les for the annual halloween store dow picture painting contest

Windows will be assigned to the ne the week of Oct. 21.

2. Pictures are to be painted after school Tuesday, Oct. 29, and pictures are to be painted outside the window. Student should introduce himself to the merchant before beginning to paint.

3. Students must furnish their own materials: paint, brushes, wipe cloths and use poster water colors only.

4. Students should paint only as high as they can reach by standing on the ground; no ladders, boxes should be used. This is a safety measure.

5. Students must obtain their own transportation to store.

6. Parents must agree to see that the pictures are removed no later than Saturday, Nov. 2.

7. Judging will be Oct. 30.

VIKING CREW–The local Vikings were victorious Sunday in wet, rainy weather as the abbreviated Leif Erikson Day featured a race between 100-year-old "sexerings", with crews from Orlando, Ft. Lauderdale and Jensen Beach-Ft. Pierce. For the second year in a row, the Jensen Beach-Ft. Pierce crew won the sailing-rowing race with a come-from-behind effort. Handling the tiller for the crew was Rick Campbell. See story, page 9A.

Shopping mall gets okay

FOUNDATION–Martin County chief lifeguard Jack mmack, foreground, checks a post to a pavilion on Jensen 's public beach which was left without foundation after last week's strong northeaster lashed the area. Members of Cammack's lifeguard crew had a giant cleaning job to do on the beaches.

JENSEN BEACH–Conditional approval for a giant shopping mall on the west side of U.S. 1 at the Jensen Beach Cutoff Road (SR 707A) has been given to the South Florida Regional Planning Council.

The final go-ahead for the $36-million project, on about 100 acres of land is contingent on the resolving of four problem areas outlined in a report prepared by the planning council staff.

Dick Gilman, representing the Edward J. DeBartolo Corp. of Youngstown, Ohio, said he feels the issues can be resolved and the project can be underway in 1975. It is expected to take five years to complete.

DeBartolo is the same firm which built the Palm Beach Mall.

The proposed shopping center in the Jensen Beach area, about 750,000 square feet of shopping space, represents a sizable economic benefit to the Martin and St. Lucie counties area by providing a positive net fiscal impact to local governments after completion, according to the council's staff report.

Council approval Monday was made contingent on the developer resolving transportation, drainage, water and public services' facility problems.

Problem areas outlined on the report include:

1. Redesigning access to the development to eliminate potential road hazards and hinderance to the flow of traffic through the area. A parallel road, reducing the traffic exiting onto U.S. 1 was suggested. Also an increase in the amount of parking provided for customers.

2. Redesigning, if necessary, the system for providing drinkable water. The report said that the proposed system of wells is in a precarious location because the wells are near retention and evaporation ponds.

3. Provision of money or facilities for fire protection and emergency services by the developer until the Jensen Beach Fire Department and the Stuart Ambulance Service have adequate tax revenues to provide the services to the mall.

4. Changing the drainage system so that the surface and ground water qualities are protected. In addition the staff report said water treatment, water supply and storm water retention facilities should be redistributed to eliminate the threat to the quality of ground water and to conform with Martin County standards.

Proposed solutions to the four problem areas must be approved by the planning council.

Gilman said the mall is designed to serve not only the present Jensen Beach-Stuart-Port St. Lucie and Ft. Pierce areas, but also the projected 200,000 persons who will live there by 1990.

Most of the area included in the mall is to be covered by the mall is zoned for single family residential development, but a strip of land along U.S. 1 is slated for commercial use, according to Martin County officials.

Major tenants for the mall have not been announced.

County to change meet to Tuesday

JENSEN BEACH–After holding meetings on Wednesdays for the past few months, the Martin County Commission will return to its regular Tuesday meetings.

Commissioner Rose Philbrick said Tuesday that the first regular Tuesday meeting will be held Oct. 22.

Northeaster damages beach and causeway

JENSEN BEACH–For the second night October, a strong northeaster caused considerable damage to n's public beach and the Jensen Causeway.

ruction of the beach, at the south of the sea wall, was chewed away by pounding surf which was lashed by ing up to 40 miles per hours.

pine trees on the north side of causeway were uprooted, and more way was lost to the Indian River was whipped by the wind which around the area for about four

Martin County Commissioner Rose ick said Tuesday that repair on the beach would be made "like almost year."

lifeguard Jack Cammack said guard chair was lost to the ocean ver, he said the Gazebo and ay structures built during the improvement program held up.

ick said some rip-rap might be along the beach and causeway to protect the area from future rms.

oceanographers described the fourday weather as the product of a severe northeaster generated from a stationary high pressure system over Virginia combined with a low pressure area over the central Bahamas.

The strong winds drove the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers dredge operating near St. Lucie Inlet into safe harbor.

Regatta is this Sunday

STUART–The newly formed St. Lucie Sailing Club and the Intracoastal Sailing Club of Fort Pierce will hold a joint regatta this Sunday afternoon, October 13, in the Indian River just south of the Stuart Causeway.

It is anticipated that races will be held for Hobie 16's and 14's, Lasers and Sunfish, and for any other classes which are present in sufficient numbers.

Skippers should register with the committee boat prior to 1 p.m. The preparatory signal for the first race will be flown at 1:30 p.m.

All local skippers are invited to participate.

Letters to the editor

Frank Wacha attacks county budget

To the editor:

May I use your newspaper to address an open letter to the "rich taxpayers" of Martin County.

I address them as "rich taxpayers", because on September 18th, the county commissioners tentatively adopted a RECORD BREAKING budget of 8.3 million dollars, and no one seems to mind.

While those running for the county commission seats in the September primary were keeping the taxpayers' minds on a MYTHICAL fight between "growth" and "no-growth", the present commissioners were taking steps to make sure that Martin County pocketbooks and savings accounts conformed to the "no growth" philosophy.

Recent travels took me by a condominium project in Ft. Lauderdale, Playa del Sol. The building is twenty-nine stories high, with 370 apartments, and is built on 4½ acres. This amounts to 82.3 units per acre. In Vero Beach, just north of the Holiday Inn, there are two fourteen story buildings, built right on the beach, over the sand dunes.

Can this happen here? Can we in fact become another Miami Beach, or another Ft. Lauderdale? The answer to both of these questions is a big—NO!

Prior to the time I left the county board in November 1972, our Board adopted a density limit of fifteen units per acre. Even though Martin County has a limit of fifteen units per acre, most of the developments in the county are far below the limit. I can recall but two projects that are built to the limit, one on the ocean, Little Ocean Place, and the other is Cedar Point. I believe Commissioner Ed Gheckler was an early owner in both projects, so fifteen units per acre can't be all that bad.

Prior to November 1972, our Board also limited the height of buildings to four living stories, and had also adopted the coastal construction set back line to protect the ocean sand dunes. We were the first county in the State to set the line.

Now, compare the 82.2 units per acre in Ft. Lauderdale to our fifteen units per acre limit. Compare twenty-nine stories in Ft. Lauderdale and the fourteen stories in Vero Beach to our four story limit. THINK! Is growth the big issue here? Are we having an environmental crisis in Martin County? NO! The restrictions adopted prior to November 1972 are good, and are still in effect. These protective restrictions, coupled with inflation and our sick economy, have removed the "growth" issue from the 1974 scene.

The 1974 issue of concern to me, and which should be of concern to all taxpayers, is the shrinking value of the dollar. The increased cost of living, and the runaway cost of county government are the 1974 issues.

When I left office in November 1972, our Board turned over to the present commission, a budget of 4.5 million dollars to operate the 1972-73 fiscal year. The new county budget tentatively adopted on September 18th, for the fiscal year 1974-75 totaled 8.3 million dollars. YES, the cost of county government in Martin County has increased 3.7 million dollars in two short years, it almost doubled.

The 1974 tax bills will probably be higher because of a general revaluation increase in the assessed values of property, and the fact that the county commission did not give the roll back reduction in taxes that the taxpayers should have had. The board of county commissioners set the tax rate for the county budget.

Unfortunately, the taxpayers will not get their 1974 tax bill until after the November Election, they won't wake up to the fact that they have been had until it is too late.

I am writing in hopes each taxpayer will contact his present commissioner and urge him to take another look at the budget, and let him know there isn't any room in the household budget for anymore increases in the cost of living. Urge him to reduce the tentative budget. As the millage has not been set, the budget can still be reduced.

I am writing in hopes the taxpayers will act to protect their pocketbooks, even though I know people still smoke after being told, "smoking can be dangerous to your health".

I am writing to urge all to get commitments from those running for a commission seat that they will stop the runaway cost of county government.

I am writing because I am concerned.

Respectfully,
Frank A. Wacha,
Former Commissioner
Jan. 1961 to Nov. 1972

To the editor:

The "Fuel Adjustment" that is now becoming a significant part of our customers bill has been a part of FP&L's rate structure for over 25 years. Stated in understandable terms, it is a unit price per kilowatt hour (KWH) above or below a predetermined unit cost of fuel included as part of a utility's filed rate. Most of the State Public Service Commissions in the United States allow this as part of a utility's filed rates.

The purpose of allowing the fuel adjustment is to keep utilities financially solvent. Fuel - be it oil, gas, coal or nuclear - is the raw material of electricity and has been, prior to 1973, about 30 per cent of FP&L's operating expenses. Rate hearings are lengthy and expensive - not only for the utility, but also the taxpayer. Were it not for the automatic fuel adjustment, FP&L would have had to go to the PSC for rate changes each month during the past year to keep up. Consider these current percentages of fuel cost to total operating expenses: year of 1973 - 36 per cent; ½ year 1974 - 47 per cent; 2nd quarter 1974 - 50 per cent.

The fuel adjustment is computed monthly based on these factors: Average cost of fuel in inventory (which is still less than present day oil prices); combustion efficiency; system efficiency and percentage contribution of nuclear fuel. We will see a continuing rise in the fuel adjustment until the average inventory cost equals the current purchase price, now almost $12.00 per barrel.

Many customers attempt to compare fuel adjustments by percentages. Fuel adjustment is on a straight cents per KWH. Rates are on a decreasing cents per KWH as consumption increases, and commercial rates and residential rates are different, therefore a person is not comparing like items. The monthly unit charge can be obtained from a customer bill by dividing the fuel adjustment dollars by the KWH consumption, or calling the Stuart FP&L Customer Service.

The fuel adjustment is not a total pass through. As there is a two month period between purchase of fuel and application on the customer's bill, FP&L must absorb in it's operating expenses, some of the higher fuel costs. To date this amounts to over 28 million over expenses included in FP&L base rate.

In spite of what some politicians are saying, the fuel adjustment is a legal rate structure and has been for many years. The Florida Public Service Commission does continually review FP&L books and calculation of the fuel adjustment to be assured that we are billing our customers within the approved rate framework.

If I can give you any additional information, please call.

Sincerely,
Gene L. VanCuren
Manager

To the editor:

Does anybody remember the Council On Governament" (COG). Such good results were anticipated by the union of Martin and St. Lucie Counties for the purpose of deciding common problems relating to their county borders. Sad to say, COG has ground to a halt! Their last meeting publicized to take place September 28 at 8 p.m. Stuart City Hall, was either called off at the last minute or else died a natural death from the lack of food for thought! How do I know? I waited 45 minutes and nobody showed!

There are many important issues at stake to warrant the commissioners concern. These were pointed out in my letters to both boards of commissioners during the past six months.

Now that Martin County is assured of having one woman on the board perhaps women will at least be assured of a sympathetic ear. My only regret is that these two talented women, Maggy Hurchalla and Joan Jefferson are both running for the same seat. The County could use two such women on the board!

The people of Martin County will have a chance to hear these two women as well as others up for election. The American Association of University Women will sponsor a "Meet the Candidates" night on October 18, 7:30 p.m. at the Stuart Middle School (Local, State and School Board office seekers will be on hand to answer some tough questions. If for one, have a good question waiting for Jack Eckert.

Come along and join us and bring your friends.

Spooktacular is planned

JENSEN BEACH—A spooktacular is planned for Jensen Beach area children by community leaders.

Plans for the annual halloween celebration got under way last Friday when 12 representatives of organizations gathered at the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce.

The halloween celebration will be bigger and better for the children this year," Al Tomaszewski, coordinator of the event, said.

The annual costume competition at Langford Park will be held with goodies for all the spooks.

Spanish Lakes News Notes

BY PEG EVARTS

It is alarming to see water hyacinths growing in the canal parallel to Mediterranean Blvd. This pla eventually chokes the canals and interferes with proper runoff. It is hoped that the department responsible for keeping the canals clear will soon make corrections.

A monthly golf tournament has been established in Spanish Lakes. The third Saturday of each month, beginning on Oct. 16th, is designated for a park tournament. Tee-off time – 8 a.m. All resident golfers are invited to participate. Carl Wilkens, chairman, advises interested players to watch the Golf Bulletin Board for further announcements. The Fall Golf Tourney was held at Holiday Country Club on Friday, September 24th. Forty-eight players took part, with Joe Seeman taking low gross of 68 in the men's division. Eunice Sullivan took low gross of 89 in the women's division. Golf balls were donated by Art Young, Golf Pro and owner of the Holiday Country Club.

The September birthday anniversary party was another capacity crowd affair. Coffee and cakes were served. The cakes baked by our own ladies. Lee Murphy, Kathy Williams, Virginia Moody and Mary Pulyer. The birthday prize dinner for two at the Home Port Inn was taken by Joe Burke and Mr. & Mrs. G. Madison won the anniversary gift – a $10 gift certificate from Pitts Furniture Co. Music for dancing was supplied by John Borca and his rendition is accordian.

Members of the Spanish Lakes Chorus plan another white elephant and bake sale in November. We mention the sale at this early date so residents will set aside paperback books and any white elephant items they may want to donate. Proceeds will be used to purchase more music and another file cabinet.

On Sat., Oct. 19th, there will be a pool party with supper at 6 p.m. Come for a swim first, this is part of the party. Box suppers will be brought in for those who sign up or bring your own. Three gas fired barbeque pits are at poolside. If you are planning a cookout J. Barea and his corduvox will entertain during the evening.

Lenny Laden from IRCC, has begun his theatrical classes again. If you have a special talent, or just enjoy theatre, come to the auditorium on Monday afternoons at 1 p.m. Last season our own Spanish Lakes Follies put on a whopping good show – to a full house each night, then took it on the road to entertain at other mobile parks and benefit shows.

Thnis is the Bobbie Outwater, Sammy Ingris and Ing Sundberg account of their trip North in Bobbie's Airstream. First port o call was Burnsville, N.C. After a twisting, tortuous climb, in first gear, and descent, of a mountain, they arrived at Mount Wilderness Retreat, surprising SLers, Marion and Harold Brundage. Despite evening thunder, storms, they enjoyed cookouts, bonfires and garden fresh vegetables. The next port was Pendleton, Va., parking the Airstream on Bobbie's niece's lawn, a deluxe site. The highlight of the visit was a boat ride around a 9,000 acre lake formed for the VEPCO Nuclear Plant. Then it was off to visit the Charles Kinahans who are summering at Ocean Pines, Md. Their bathroom walls are the guest book, already sporting SL names including Elinor, Penny and Franklin Jolley and Barb and Burt Goodpaster. Next stop was Stratford, N.J. for a family reunion with all the Sundberg children and grandchildren. The trip back south came via the Outer Banks, N.C. with a ferry trip from Okracoke to the mainland. "It's fun to go away and it's great to be back home," they say.

Mr. & Mrs. Moody held their 25th anniversary in the Spanish Lakes Clubhouse. It was attended by 30 people and Mrs. Mary Munash, who has a beautiful voice and gave us a few songs. A good time was had by all.

Jensen Beach Garden Club to meet Oct. 16th

JENSEN BEACH–The Jensen Beach Garden Club will hold its first meeting of the 1974-75 season Oct. 16, 1 p.m. at Community Church in Jensen Beach.

The program "Florida Plants & Trees," presented by Mrs. James Hurchalla of Port Salerno, will enable garden club members to recognize and utilize Florida plants to their best advantage.

Mrs. Hurchalla, native Floridian, is well known for her lectures "Woods & Bushes" at Indian River Community College.

In Port Salerno area, Mrs. Hurchalla volunteered to establish a nature trail which is used by school children who have become interested in native plants because of workshops, nature walks and discussions led by Mrs. Hurchalla in the schools. She is also on Board of Directors for the local Environmental Studies Center in Jensen Beach.

Tea hostesses for meeting will be Mrs. Drpaer, Babcock, Mrs. Leros Blaisdell, Mrs. Lyall Bower, Mrs. Jack Best, and Mrs. Carl Schmidt.

Mrs. Harold R. Lartaud, president, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Peterkin and Mrs. William Stephenson attended a District meeting of Federated Garden Clubs in Ft. Pierce and will report to the members at this first meeting. Workshops on landscape design, flower show schools, nature centers, Wekiwa Youth Camp and horticulture were held to inform federated club members of new ideas.

Robert Link undergoing Naval training

STUART–Senior Chief Petty Officer Ellis Abrams and Petty Officer Bob Blumer of the U.S. Navy Recruiting Station, Fort Pierce announced the active duty enlistment of Robert Everett Link, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Link of 1700 Palm City Road, Stuart, Fla.

Link is currently undergoing 9 weeks of recruit training at Orlando. He enlisted last April into the Navy's Delayed Enlistment and Specific School Guanantee Programs. Upon successful completion of boot camp and up to 14 days leave, he will be assigned to Interior Communication Electrician's school, Navy IC's work on all types of dial and sound powered telephones, closed circuit TV and numerous other types of electronic apparatus.

'Messiah' rehearsals start

JENSEN BEACH–Martin County Community Chorus rehearsals of "The Messiah" will start at their first fall meeting on Monday, October 14, 7:30 p.m. at the Jensen Beach Community Church.

Plans are to present The Messiah during the Christmas season with performances scheduled for Sunday, December 15.

Don Carpp, director of the group is hoping for a large turnout at the October 14th meeting and invites all area singers to attend.

Gamble paid off for Viking crew

JENSEN BEACH–A last minute gamble on the turn of a three legged race paid off in a come-from-behind victory for the wet and bedraggled Jensen Beach-Ft. Pierce Viking crew Sunday.

Competing against Viking crews from Ft. Lauderdale and Orlando in one-hundred year old Norwegian sea ...ships, the local crew took an early lead in rowing, but had trouble on the first turn.

"We couldn't get the sail up fast enough," said Bob Campbell, Jensen ...mer.

As the crew fought the sail, the well trained Ft. Lauderdale team swept around the marker, put up its sail, and began pulling away.

Finally setting the square sail, the local crew began to catch Ft. Lauderdale. It was then that Campbell made the decision to take a gamble on the next turn.

"We dragged the sail, jerked up the ...ours early, and without trying to turn ...e rowing opposite oars to turn, just pulled as hard as we could and I pulled as hard as I could on the tiller. The boat turned and we caught them," he said excitedly.

The local crew pulled across the finish line inches ahead of the Ft. Lauderdale boat, Orlando came in third.

It was the second year in a row that the Jensen Beach-Ft. Pierce crew won the coveted "sons of Norway Leif Erikson Day" trophy, with home previously to Ft. Lauderdale.

The wind and rain through the race didn't mar the cheer of the spirit of the Sons of Norway members gathered to see the event.

All Sunday activities on the Peninsula at Jensen Beach had been cancelled due to the weather, but the hardy Viking spirit couldn't resist the challenge of the race.

Saturday the 5 November gathered at the St. Lucie Hilton Inn for a day and evening of fellowship and a dinner dance in the convention hall.

TV talker–Erik Bye, television program director of Norwegian Broadcasting Corporation, was a guest at the Sons of Norway of Leif Erikson Day celebration last weekend.

VIKINGS BATTLEGARB–John Anderson and Lynn Nelson, Jr. showed off the colorful and authentic viking headgear and weapons, along with costumes worn for the Leif Erikson Day celebration last week.

HOW TO EARN A HIGHER RATE OF INTEREST THAN ANY BANK CAN PAY!

If you keep your savings at a commercial bank, the same place where you have your checking account, you're actually earning less money than you would at First of Martin County.

Very simply, the Federal Government allows savings and loan associations, such as First of Martin County, to pay a higher rate of interest on all savings whether insured passbook accounts or certificates of deposit — than commercial banks. This means that your savings will earn more interest, day-to-day, month-to-month, year-to-year, at First of Martin County than at any bank.

In addition, you'll have the assurance that your savings will be available — whenever you need them.

What an interesting thought!

Stop in at any of our three* financial centers and learn the facts about the greater rate of interest that you could be earning, with absolute safety, today.

*Serving you soon from Indiantown and Okeechobee, too.

FP&L gives building boost

BY CHARLES SCALES
JENSEN BEACH--Florida Power and Light ... [illegible] ... residential building. The construction ... in Martin County ... up in July and ... some of the energy ... gone out of the ...

The power company is building a plant in Indiantown and from time to time on the Building Department monthly totals there is a commercial permit in the six-figure bracket for a prime contractor at the western county plant site.

Leslie Van Loren, Martin County manager for FPL, said that the Indiantown plant is expected to cost about $166 million.

Most of major construction permits should be issued by the first few months of 1975, the manager said.

Van Loren did not spell out the company is the prime contractor for the project but much of the work is being done by construction companies.

Residential construction, the backbone of the county's building industry before condominium apartments appeared on the scene, still accounts for much of the permit totals.

In September, 125 permits were issued by the Building Department for a total permit value of $1,470,327. Thirty-one residential permits were issued for a total value of $886,000. One of the non-residential permits was for construction of the Martin County public [illegible] ... $300,000.

In August, when there were 88 permits issued, construction of the permits was for $349,000, which went to 8 companies working at FPL site. Residential construction accounted for more than $300,000 of the total.

Duplex and multiple dwelling permits still play a part in the construction industry, but nothing like the monthly building permit totals of 1972.

In August of 1972 in the $4.1 million program, $1.6 million was for single and duplex construction and a year later for the same month $2.7 million was for multiple dwelling construction.

In August of this year there were two permits issued for duplex apartments for a total of $36,000. A $60,000 permit for a multiple dwelling was issued in September.

Monthly building permit totals this year total far short of the $14 to $15 million bracket compared to the $4 to $12 million the past couple of years.

May of 1974 was an exception, however as the construction industry really got a shot in the arm. FPL construction permits went way over the half million dollar mark in May and Lennox Construction got one permit of $384,875 for a multiple dwelling. And residential construction that month went to almost the $1.5 million mark.

UPROOTED TREES--More pine trees on the north side of Jensen Beach Causeway were lost last week when winds up to 60 miles an hour ripped through the area for about four days. The strong northeaster damaged the beaches and did more damage to the causeway.

Jefferson wins 11 of 18

JENSEN BEACH--Eleven of 18 precincts were won by Joan Jefferson in the second primary race as she won the Republican Party nomination for Martin County Commission District 4 seat.

Final official returns show Mrs. Jefferson won 1,469 votes (446 machine and 23 absentee-to Ed Harvey's 932 machine and 11 absentee.

Their home district, Palm City District 6, was won by Mrs. Jefferson by a 95 to 61 margin. She also won precincts in Jensen Beach, North River shores, Port Salerno, Sewall's Point, Rio, Ocean Breeze Park precinct No. 3 voting at Fire Station No. 2, precinct No. 5 voting at Redeemer Lutheran Church and No. 16 voting at Martin County Agriculture Building.

Precinct No. 5 gave Mrs. Jefferson 256 votes to Harvey's 67.

Mrs. Jefferson will be opposed by Maggie Hurchalla, Democrat in the November 5 general election. Both candidates for the District 4 seat were endorsed by the Conservation Alliance. Members of the Alliance have indicated that the group will not make any endorsement for the general election.

While there were no local runoff races on the Democratic ticket, 3,398 members of that party went to the polls to cast ballots in the U.S. Senate and state races.

In the Senate race, Martin Countians gave Bill Gunter 843 votes to Richard Stone's 757. There was the vote in Precinct 3, Jensen Beach, with both candidates getting 97 votes.

In the secretary of state race, Beverly Dozier received 797 votes to Bruce Smathers' 742.

Gerald Lewis topped incumbent Fred Dickinson in the comptroller race, 1,050 to 534.

In State Senate, District 28 race, Don Childers polled 1,008 votes to John Jordan's 425.

Harvest dinner-dance is planned

STUART–The Martin County Hospital Auxiliary is planning a Harvest Dinner Dance as their first fund raising project for the year.

It will be held at the Elks' Club on Friday, November 8. A prime rib roast of beef dinner will be served at 7 p.m. preceded by a personality adjustment hour – cocktails at 6:00 o'clock. Donations are $12.50 per person, $25.00 per couple and are tax deductible. Dress- semi-formal. Door prizes galore.

Marti Bryant, fund raising chairman, says: "Any and all donations (other than tickets) will be most gratefully accepted and are also tax deductible."

The public is invited. Since the number of tickets are limited, it is suggested reservations be made as soon as possible. Cut off date is November 1.

Reservations may be made by contacting either Marti Bryant 287-6846 or Ruth Smith 287-7685.

Real estate course at high school

STUART–Adults who are planning to take the Florida Real Estate License Examination, and persons who are involved in buying and selling real estate, are invited to enroll in the real estate license law course offered by the Adult Education Department, Martin County Public Schools.

The course, taught by Hal Olson, covers all aspects of real estate transactions. Mortgage money documentations, recording rights and liabilities are among the topics discussed.

The class meets each Monday and Thursday evening at 7 p.m. in room 49-50, Martin County High School, SR No. 76, Stuart.

To meet the needs of individuals who have expressed an interest in review and make-up sessions, Mr. Olson will also meet with interested class members, Wednesday evenings at 7 p.m. at the high school.

Fee for the course in real estate law is $15.00, which includes the text and related materials. A fee of $2.00 is charged for adults who are reviewing the course.

The new class starts Thursday, October 17 at 7 p.m. at the high school, room 49-50.

BY CHUCK BENDER

As you know Chuck arranged a very nice jam session, held Sept. 22nd, with the help of the Ladies Auxiliary, members of the VFW, and many others. Everyone there had a great time. We extend a special thank you to Wendell Windy Halverson for the wonderful music he and his gang supplied.

Well last week while Chuck was attending a State Fall Round Up in Ocala he was suddenly rushed to a local hospital for immediate surgery. Members of our Post and everyone who knows Chuck wish him a very speedy recovery. we all want him back for the next jam session to be held Oct. 20th. George will try and keep you informed.

Keep in mind our 11th District Fall Round Up to be held in Indiantown Oct. 25, 26 & 27. Fri. Sat. Sun. Y All come.

SERVICE OFFICERS REPORT
BY GEORGE M. RODGE

FUNCTIONAL LOSS OF USE OF EXTREMITIES

For many years the Veterans Administration has denied entitlement to statutory benefits such as special monthly compensation, based on the loss of use of an extremity, aid and attendance allowance, specially adapted housing, entitlement to the assistance in purchasing an automobile or any other statutory entitlement when the loss of use of such extremities was caused by a functional disturbance due to conversion hysteria as distinguished from an organic condition. The rating rationale was that a functional loss of use of an extremity without secondary structural changes was not always permanent and irreversible.

In a recent claim before the Board of Veterans Appeals, a veteran was contending entitlement to several basic statutory benefits due to the loss of use of both lower extremities, which resulted from a service-connected conversion reaction. The benefits sought had been denied on several occasions on the basis that the veteran had functional loss of use of the lower extremities and therefore, permanency of the condition could not be reasonably assured.

Following consideration by the Board of Veterans Appeals it was the opinion of its two medical advisors that the veteran had loss of use of both lower extremities on a functional basis.

JENSEN BEACH–The Ruth Circle will meet in the Fellowship Hall at Trinity United Methodist Church on October 14 at 1:15 p.m.

Hostesses are Mrs. Esther Thayer and Mrs. Ruth Tompkins.

THE MIRROR OCTOBER 9, 1974 PAGE 3B

(conversion hysteria) and that on prognosis for reversal in this particular case was practically nil.

The issue was referred to the General Counsel of the Veterans Administration for an opinion on the following question:

"Assuming that it can be actually established that this veteran has at present the loss of use of both lower extremities albeit on a functional basis (conversion hysteria) and that the prognosis for reversal is virtually nil from a medical standpoint, may the payment of either special monthly compensation under 38 USC 314, or specially adapted housing under 38 USC 801, or assistance in purchasing an automobile or other conveyance under 38 USC 1901 be authorized."

Since the opinion by the General Counsel is rather lengthy, we are citing only the salient points of his opinion.

"You suggest that the determination of the Board in this case to the effect functional loss of use of extremities does not meet the requirements for the benefits in question is in accord with continuous agency interpretation of the current and forerunner laws extending back to the War Risk Insurance Act. Our research has failed to reveal any legal opinions specifically holding that under current laws loss of use must be organic as distinguished from function al.

"proceeding now to the question of when a loss of use is permanent, attention is invited to paragraph 15 of the Schedule for Rating Disabilities (38 C.F.R. 4.15) which reads in pertinent part:

"permanent total disability will be taken to exist when the impairment is reasonably certain to continue through out the life of the disabled person.

"In view of all the foregoing, it is our opinion that:

(a) When the requisite determination of loss of use is made with regard to a particular VA benefit, it controls respecting eligibility irrespective of whether such loss is functional or organic in origin.

(b) Your submitted assumption that the prognosis for reversal is virtually nil from a medical standpoint meets the requirements of permanency applicable to entitlement to the benefits in question.

Crime is up in four-county area - Stone

...ART PIERCE—State Attorney Rob... Stone announcing an increase in ... last week said, "Since 1969 there ... been an increase of over 100 per ... of criminal felony charges filed by ... State Attorney's Office in the 19th ... Judicial Circuit which includes the ... counties of Indian River, Martin, St ... Lucie and Okeechobee. In 1969 405 ... felony criminal informations were filed ... compared to 955 in 1973 and as of ... October 1, of this year there have been ... filed. Many of these informations ... charge more than one defendant and ... include more than one count which ... an even increase the case load ... more. In 1972, the year prior to my ... taking office there were 636 felony ... informations filed, making 1973's ... increase approximately 50 per cent."

The breakdown of various counties ... for the last five years are as follows:

INDIAN RIVER: 1969, 83; 1970, 110; 1971, 110; 1972, 101; 1973, 213; and 1974 141 (to date 10-3-74). Total 758

MARTIN COUNTY: 1969, 102; 1970, 174; 1971, 344; 1972, 258; 1973, 346; 1974 328 (to date 10-3-74). Total 1,652

ST. LUCIE COUNTY: 1969, 188; 1970, 222; 1971, 227; 1972, 227; 1973, 306; 1974 215 (to date 10-3-74). Total 1,485

OKEECHOBEE COUNTY: 1969, 34; 1970, 46; 1971, 80; 1972, 50; 1973, 90; 1974, 87 (to date 10-3-74). Total 387

This increase has made it necessary that the State Attorney's office in turn increase its staff. Effective October 1, 1974 the staff is as follows:

MAIN OFFICE: 515 Indian River Drive Ft. Pierce Fla. 465-3000 State Attorney: Robert E. Stone. Chief Assistant, Administrative & Felony Division, Bruce R. Colton. Chief Assistant, Misdemeanor Division, James W. Midelis.

MARTIN COUNTY: DeHon Building, Stuart, Fla. Assistant Felony Division, Patrick W. Gillen, Jr. 283-7228. Misdemeanor & Juvenile Assistants Richard Dungey, 283-2413; William D. Anderson and Stewart Hershey.

ST. LUCIE COUNTY: 515 S. Indian River Drive, Ft. Pierce, Fla. 465-3000. Chief Trial Assistant, R.N. Koblegard, III. Felony Division, 464-6126. Assistant, Juvenile Division, Edgar A. Brown, Jr. 464-6126. Assistant, Misdemeanor Division, Stephen C. Rubino 461-6225.

INDIAN RIVER COUNTY: Rm. 211 Indian River County Courthouse, Vero Beach, Fla. 562-1001. Chief Trial Assistant, Felony Division, Miles B. Mank, II. 567-8205. Assistant, Misdemeanor Division, Burney Carter 562-1001 (Effective January 1, 1975 Trial Assistant & Criminal Intake Division, Norman Greene).

OKEECHOBEE COUNTY: Court house, Okeechobee, Florida 763-3719. Chief Assistant, Felony & Misdemeanor Division, Anthony T. Young.

INVESTIGATORS: Chief Investigator, Lem Brumley, 813-763-3719. Narcotic Division, Polygraph Examiner & Special Assignments, Robert C. Knowles. Special Investigations, Jack Sewell. Consumer Fraud & Unfair Trade Deception, Ronny Hayes.

In addition, Stone announced that Bruce H. Colton and James W. Midelis will be available to assist in trials in all four counties. Stephen Rubino and Al Brown will assist in felony trials in St. Lucie County. There will be available to law enforcement agencies on a 24-hour basis one assistant and one investigator at all times.

There are eight full time clerical employees and one part time clerical employee in the Circuit.

We are happy to announce that we have created a new division in the State Attorney's Office. Effective July 1, 1974 Mr. Ronny Hayes was hired to handle consumer fraud and unfair trade deception. The position was created in view of the Little FTC Act passed by the Florida Legislature in 1973." Stone concluded.

Wayne F. Sekerke in recruit training

JENSEN BEACH—Wayne F. Sekerke, son of Mrs. Marion A. Sekerke, of 504 5th St., Jensen Beach, has enlisted into the U.S. Navy. He qualified for the Navy's Aviation Apprenticeship program with a guaranteed initial assignment on the West Coast of the United States. Sekerke is currently undergoing 8 weeks of recruit training in Orlando and 3 additional weeks of apprentice familiarization prior to getting up to 14 days leave.

Sekerke graduated last June from Abington Heights Senior High School, a Scranton, Pa. suburb, prior to his moving to the Jensen Beach area.

FIT offering education at Patrick AFB

MELBOURNE—Florida Institute of Technology is now offering on-base educational opportunities at Patrick Air Force Base to earn a master's degree.

Courses in Contract and Procurement Management, Business Administration, Systems Management, Electrical Engineering, Computer Science and Physics are being offered.

Dr. Harry P. Weber, Dean of the FIT Graduate School, said that the school was very pleased to work with the Air Force at Patrick in the implementation and conduct of a cooperative education program leading to graduate degrees in the management field as well as engineering and science. "FIT is willing to make a long term commitment at Patrick leading to the Master of Science degree."

Bureau Gunar, Patrick Education Services Officer, announced that three graduate courses from F.I.T. Management Science Department have started.

The program provides an excellent opportunity for military personnel to obtain their education at the graduate level. In addition, all Civil Service and contractor personnel are encouraged to take advantage of this new program. Civilian graduate students in the Space Coast communities are also invited to participate.

Nobody said it was going to be easy.

The men who signed the Declaration of Independence knew the heavy responsibilities that came with independence. Each one was aware of the dangers and hardships that lay ahead, as they signed. It was not a time for sunshine patriots then. It is not a time for sunshine patriots now.

Democracy has never been, and never will be, an easy form of government to live under, because it is a government of the people. As such, it makes each of us responsible for the way the government works. If a crisis develops, if the system falters, each of us shares in the blame.

In times like this, the role of the newspaper becomes even more important to the democratic process. It is not our job to just report the news. We must reveal everything you need to know to understand the news. It is not our job to make judgments for you. We must give you all the facts you need to make the right judgments for yourself. As responsible journalists, we have an obligation to inform you – fully, accurately and honestly. As responsible citizens, you have an obligation to use that information.

Our country was born in a time of crisis. We have lived through dangerously troubled times throughout our history. If the democratic system fails, it will not be a crisis that kills it. It will be the ignorance and apathy of the people. As Thomas Paine said, "Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must undergo the fatigue of supporting it."

Kavanaugh memorial tournament announced

PORT ST. LUCIE—A Kavanaugh Memorial Golf Tournament was announced during Tuesday's meeting of the City Council.

The seventh annual Port St. Lucie Golf Tournament, which, according to Dr. Harold Nottley, will be known as the Kavanaugh Memorial Golf Tournament will be held on Nov. 11 at the Players Course starting at 8 a.m.

It will be a "shotgun" tourney featuring approximately 20 prizes for winners in various categories. All participants must have USGA approved handicaps.

Play will be limited to the first 120 applying. Entrants for the event may sign up at the Sands and Sinners gift shops. The entry fee will be the cost of the luncheon which will follow the tournament at the St. Lucie Hilton.

Dr. Nottley pointed out it was not necessary to play golf to attend the luncheon. Participants may attend either or both events. Cost of the buffet will be $5.50.

Aside from Dr. Nottley, the committee working out the details of the Kavanaugh Memorial Tourney include Walter Wilman, Jane Black, Jean Betts Grills, Bill Peacock, Robert Hanna, Mike Reed and Mayor Kenneth Cox officio.

Names of the winners in both the men's and women's divisions will be on a plaque in City Hall, both for low gross and low net.

Play will be limited to the residents in the City of Port St. Lucie or those who are members of the men's or women's golf associations.

Anglers sponsor fishing

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Port St. Lucie Anglers Club is sponsoring a series of ten classes for local anglers.

More than 60 men and women attended the first class held last Friday at the CESA building.

Bob Pelosi, Indian River Community College, was the instructor for the evening. His subject was "trout fishing."

The classes will meet from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. every Friday. This week, Oct. 11, snook fishing and tips on how to get them will be explored.

Anyone interested in fishing is welcome to attend.

Ken Bishop was the big winner at the PSL Anglers Club cookout held last Sunday at the marina. His name was drawn for the rod and reel. Fifty fifty winners were John McHugh and Ruth Dobber.

One hundred and seventy five people turned out partake of the hamburgers, hot dogs, baked beans, potato salad, cake and coffee served by special events chairman Ben Forlenza and his committee.

Forlenza and the committee were given a round of applause in recognition of a very successful event.

Gang to pancake

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Friday Nite Gang will kick off the winter season with a pancake breakfast at the North Port Marina on Nov. 3 from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m.

NEW DOCTOR—Dr. Lazaro Complerio, Jr. answered the call of this south county community when he opened his office at 230 Sagamore Terrace, N.W. Hours are by appointment from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

New doctor opens

PORT ST. LUCIE—There is little doubt that one of the most welcomed newcomers to the Port St. Lucie area is Dr. Lazaro Complerio, Jr.

Dr. Complerio opened his office at 230 Sagamore Terrace, N.W. last week.

A 1964 graduate of Southeastern University in the Philippines, the young doctor has been in the area for almost two months and is affiliated with Port Pierce Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Complerio interned in New York City and served his residency in Danberry, Conn. and Daytona Beach.

When time permits he enjoys fishing, his favorite hobby. Although he has been successful with several nice catches he admits the snook have been able to evade him.

Dr. Complerio resides in Fort Pierce.

Council postpones Cable rate action

PORT ST. LUCIE—The City Council unanimously postponed any decision on the 30 per cent increase requested by St. Lucie Cable Company.

Vice Tom Gilchrist, a representative of the local cable company appeared before the council to seek the approval for the rate increase. The request met with opposition from both the council and unhappy residents of the area.

Gilchrist said it was a simple matter of the company can not make ends meet with the $5.50 rate they are now charging.

The company has put into practice every possible management efficiency step they can, but that is simply not enough, Gilchrist said.

He pointed out the 85 percent increase on the cost of the poles they rent from Florida Power & Light and the rapid growth of the area.

"We are still serving this area based on 1969 costs and it just can't continue," he said.

"I don't think you should stay in business with the extremely poor services you provide," said Milton Riedell, one of the local residents protesting the increase.

"If you set the dollar, it is the basic service we receive," he continued as he pointed to the number of outages experienced in the area.

Cable company officials attending the meeting blamed the majority of the problems on cut cables and indicated GDC was one of the biggest offenders.

Placing part of the blame on the lack of communications, Gilchrist said, "If we could be notified when digging is going to be carried out in an area, we will be on the scene to flag the cable."

The matter will be scheduled for the next council meeting, Oct. 22. If approved, the rate will be increased to $1 per month from $5.50 to $6.50.

Aviles, Sams Swanson to Eagle

PORT ST. LUCIE—Three local scouts from Troop 499 will receive scouting's highest award when the Eagle Court of Honor is held Oct. 12 at the St. Lucie Church of IRC.

The honored trio, all from Port St. Lucie, will include Jay Aviles, Alan Sams, and Scott Swanson.

Ceremonies honoring the three young scouts will commence at 8 p.m.

Aside from the having the only three candidates for the Eagle award this month, Troop 499 has produced the only candidates for the honor in the previous 10 years.

YARD-OF-THE-MONTH—Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Anderson, 208 Ramie Lane, were honored by the Rio Lindo Garden Club when their yard was selected for the Club's yard of the month award. The beautifully landscaped yard is exclusive of the owner's interest.

BIG CATCH—Among the fine things that the City of Port St. Lucie has to offer its residents, good fishing is one of the more important items. Yvonne Dunleavy proudly displays a stringer of trout and snook taken from the savannas in less than two hours last Tuesday morning.

Social night is planned by Italian Club

PORT ST. LUCIE—A social night has been scheduled for October 20 by the Italian and American Club.

The affair, which will be open to members and their guests, will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the marina on Prima Vista Boulevard.

Highlights of the evening will be a buffet and dancing.

Mrs. Gertrude Aviles, publicity chairman for the newly organized club, indicated this would be the last opportunity for members to join at the reduced annual rates and to become charter members. The charter will be closed effective Oct. 31.

A short business meeting will precede the social event.

The new club is growing by leaps and bounds. Over eighty attended the last Sunday night session and 818 new members joined the organization.

President Tony Maida named the various committees. Included were the Sunshine Committee headed by Jenny Pacifico, the scrap book committee headed by Vickied Maatto, Barbara and Joe Biondo are in charge of the by-laws committee.

At the same time, Maida named four members to serve on the ways and means committee. They are Lucille Hanse, Eleanor Safiotti, Marie Maida and Kathryn Gelb.

One of the current projects of the club is the collection of food items for Honduras. These items are being collected by Lucille Hansen at her home located on 838 S. Ivanhoe Drive in Port St. Lucie.

Members are reminded that the election night for the permanent officers will be held November 17.

The group meets on the first and third Sundays at the Port St. Lucie Marina at 7:30 p.m.

U.M.W. to have dessert lunch

PORT ST. LUCIE—The United Methodist Women of the Port St. Lucie Methodist Church will meet at 1 p.m. Oct. 16 in the Fellowship Hall on Prima Vista Blvd. for a dessert luncheon and their regular monthly meeting.

The executive board of the U.M.W. will meet on Oct. 14 at 1 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Joseph Haines on Prima Vista.

Mrs. Haines, president of the U.M.W. has announced that the annual bazaar will be held on Nov. 1, opening at 6:30 a.m. for breakfast, continuing on to lunch until 3:30 p.m.

Everyone is invited to come. The many interesting booths will include candles as well as stained glass and crushed glass objects for sale.

Gang to help Honduras

PORT ST. LUCIE—At last Friday's session of the Friday Nite Gang, an appeal was made for donations of canned goods, clothing, and so forth, to be sent to Belize, Honduras in Central America where people are suffering from the effects of Hurricane Fifi.

The people of Port St. Lucie are urged to take part in this project. Canned goods and clothing may be brought to the North Port Marina during the week and members of the Gang are asked to bring their items on Friday night, Oct. 11. The contributions will be packed up

Householder heads Lucky Charms

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Lucky Charms 4-H Club of Port St. Lucie installed the following officers at their Oct. 3 meeting.

Lisa Householder, president; Monica Nelson, vice president; Julie Wood, secretary; Debbie Whalen, treasurer; Sandra Householder, reporter; and Beth Martin, council delegate.

Nine adult hers (former members of the county 4-H Council) acted as installing officers.

Cheryl Dudrer presented each club member with a 4-H membership card. Susie Dudrer presented the seven new members with their 4-H pins. The new members welcomed were Robin Nelson and Tammy Besser.

After the installation ceremony, President Householder held a brief business meeting, she appointed the following committees:

Kristi Cordaro, recreation leader; Caroline Chavers, song leader; Carol Bradian, devotional leader; Jeannette Bradian, telephone chairman; Helen Roche, leads recorder; and Kris Miller, clothing recorder.

Debbie Whalen, window display chairman, reported that the club is having an exhibit in the Port St. Lucie Flower Shop window during Sylvester 4-H Week, Oct. 6 to 12.

Beth Martin reported on the craft class attended by eight members conducted by Mrs. Kodi S. on Sept. 28.

She also reported that eight members attended the clothing class held at National Fabrics conducted by Mrs. Kelly Metcalf on Sept. 28.

Members voted to accept the constitution as presented by the executive committee and the program as presented by the program committee.

The meeting was held at the home of June Woodward with Carole Bradian assisting.

Yacht Club plans Halloween party

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Port St. Lucie Yacht Club is planning a Halloween party for Friday, Oct. 25 at the Stuart Elks Club.

The event will start off with a cocktail hour.

Fourteen new members were admitted and welcomed by Commodore Fred Johnston and club officers. They were Ellsworth and Ida Mae Staufenberger, Richard and Elizabeth Langdon, Gordon and Mildred Long, Jack and Jane Radcliffe, Larry and Edith Huber, Joseph and Ann Fox, and Dr. and Mrs. James Avery.

Caroline Debanic, sunshine chairman, asked that she be informed of any illnesses so that cards may be sent.

The 14th fifty drawing was handled by Will and Doris Hinchcliffe and Caroline Hannah and Richard Langdon were the winners.

Mary Sheehan was social hostess for the evening, assisted by June Johnston, Eleanor Flanagan and Ruth Adler.

HONORED—Val Bormanis was one of those honored during the fifth annual installation of officers by the Port St. Lucie Optimist Club. Outgoing president Chet Sams presented Bormanis with a plaque of appreciation for his past services as secretary-treasurer of the club.

Gamble paid off for Viking crew

JENSEN BEACH–A last minute gamble on the turn of a three-legged race paid off in a come-from-behind victory for the wet and bedraggled Jensen Beach-Ft. Pierce Viking crew Sunday.

Competing against Viking crews from Ft. Lauderdale and Orlando in one-hundred year old Norwegian sea ...erings, the local crew took an early lead in rowing, but had trouble on the first turn.

We couldn't get the sail up fast enough," said Rick Campbell, helmsman.

As the crew fought the sail, the well trained Ft. Lauderdale team swept around the marker, put up its sail, and began pulling away.

Finally setting the square sail, the local crew began to catch Ft. Lauderdale. It was then that Campbell made the decision to take a gamble on the next turn.

We dropped the sail, picked up the oars early, and, without trying to turn by rowing opposite oars to turn, just pulled as hard as we could and I pulled as hard as I could on the tiller. The boat turned, and we caught them," he said excitedly.

The local crew pulled across the finish line inches ahead of the Ft. Lauderdale boat. Orlando came in third.

It was the second year in a row that the Jensen Beach-Ft. Pierce crew won the coveted Sons of Norway Leif Erikson Day trophy, won twice previously by Ft. Lauderdale.

The wind and rain through the day didn't mar the race, or the spirit of the Sons of Norway members gathered to see the event.

All Sunday activities on the 1,000 acres at Jensen Beach had been cancelled due to the weather, but the hardy Viking spirit couldn't resist the challenge of the race.

Saturday, the Norwegians gathered at the St. Lucie Hilton Inn for a day and evening of fellowship and a dinner dance in the convention hall.

HOW TO EARN A HIGHER RATE OF INTEREST THAN ANY BANK CAN PAY!

If you keep your savings at a commercial bank, the same place where you have your checking account, you're actually earning less money than you would at First of Martin County.

Very simply, the Federal Government allows savings and loan associations, such as First of Martin County, to pay a higher rate of interest on all savings whether insured passbook accounts or certificates of deposit – than commercial banks. This means that your savings will earn more interest, day-to-day, month-to-month, year-to-year, at First of Martin County than at any bank.

In addition, you'll have the assurance that your savings will be available – whenever you need them.

What an interesting thought!

Stop in at any of our three* financial centers and learn the facts about the greater rate of interest that you could be earning, with absolute safety, today.

*Serving you soon from Indiantown and Okeechobee, too.

Chamber nominating committee is named

200 members

JENSEN BEACH-The first step toward a new leadership was taken Monday night when the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce directors elected a Nominating Committee.

And the chamber marked a milestone at the meeting when the 200th member received a membership plaque.

The Nominating Committee headed by Art Hansen will make its report to the general membership at the November meeting.

Serving with Hansen on the committee will be Buck Mauldin and Clarence Rydell.

Under the constitution and by-laws which were approved by the membership recently, the committee will make a verbal report at the November meeting and additional nominations may be presented from the floor. Election of contested nominees will be conducted by secret ballot.

Officers and directors elected in November will be installed at the December general meeting.

The board of directors will be composed of the president, treasurer, secretary, seven one-year directors and three two-year directors, and the immediate past president.

The 200th membership plaque was [illegible] H.D. Stuart, owner of Tri County Palms Service.

Chamber president Jon Chicky noted that the 200th member was a milestone of the chamber, and that a membership drive started the first of the year. He said that new members were added through the efforts of individual members.

At the September meeting, the Budget Committee recommended a membership drive in 1975. And at that meeting, the committee said that the membership dues remain the same for 1975: $35 for sustaining memberships and members contributing $10.

The change in the constitution and by-laws, motels in election procedures, were approved at a general membership meeting recently.

One change was in election of two-year directors.

NOMINATING COMMITTEE-A three-man Nominating Committee was selected at Monday's meeting of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce board of directors. From left are Clarence Rydell, Art Hansen, chairman, and Buck Mauldin. The committee will report at November's general membership meeting.

Mrs. Mary Kilner, chairman of the event, said more than 25 Jensen Beach Elementary School students have agreed to take part in the contest.

And more than 20 merchants have agreed to take part.

The painting will begin after school on Oct. 28, said according to Mrs. Kilner, students should introduce himself to the merchant before beginning to paint.

Poster water colors should be used and students should paint only as high as they can reach by standing on the ground; no ladders, boxes should be used.

Pictures should be removed by Saturday, Nov. 2, and judging will be [illegible]

Pool bids received

JENSEN BEACH-An Orlando firm is the apparent low bidder for the community swimming pool and a Stuart company is the apparent successful bidder for supporting facilities.

Overcraft, Inc. submitted a bid of $179,830 for the pool and Joe Moales and Son Construction bid $96,293 for showers and dressing rooms.

The county has $250,000 for the pool project which will be located at Martin County High School campus.

It was the second time that bids have been received for the pool. First bids were rejected because they were over the amount budgeted for the project.

INVITATION-Mrs. Virginia Van Dien holds a invitation which was sent out Tuesday to persons who donated to construction of the new chamber building. A reception for the building donors will be held at the chamber building.

Savannas letter plan announced

JENSEN BEACH-A letter writing campaign urging the state to purchase the Savannas has been announced.

State Rep. Chuck Nergard said that people in the area who are interested in preserving the Savannas should write to Harmon Shields, director of the Department of Natural Resources, telling the [illegible] how important it is for the Savannas to be preserved in a natural state.

Rep. Nergard, who attended a Tallahassee meeting recently when the Inter Agency Planning Committee rated the Savannas as No. 1 in state areas to be considered for protective purchase, said "people and organizations should write Shields and tell him of their concern for saving the Savannas."

Both Rep. Nergard and Commissioner Ross Philbrick pointed out to the local committee that one of the important [illegible] saving the wetlands was that the area receives its drinking water from the Savannas.

Persons should send their [illegible] the Savannas letters to Harmon Shields, director of Natural Resources, Larson Building, Tallahassee.

REPAIR—After a northeaster ripped away at the ... beach (also, beach, Martin County crews started ... filling in the damaged beach. High tides and stiff winds eroded away the beach on the south end of the seawall.

Beach repair is under way

JENSEN BEACH—Emergency beach repair work is under way and action to prevent further erosion to Jensen Beach Causeways has been promised by Martin County engineer Ken Ferrari.

Ferrari estimated damages to the public areas by the recent northeaster at $40,000, including $10,000 to the causeways.

The engineer said he has instructed county employees to lay concrete posts on the eroded causeways to halt further erosion.

More pine trees were uprooted during the last northeaster and the north side of the causeways was further eroded.

Martin County came out with less damage than last year, Ferrari said. He noted that sod was restored to the Jensen Beach public beach and he said that the existing seawall on the beach should be extended across in front of the parking lot.

Sand was eroded from the south end of the seawall, but most of the sand has been replaced by county crews.

Hypnosis helps people, is not a 'black art'

JENSEN BEACH–John Coppock didn't hide his irritation when a questioner said, "Make him act like a chicken." He opened his speech with the comment that hypnosis doesn't make a person do anything against his will and making a person act like a chicken is "just plain foolishness."

The head of Ethical Hypnosis in Fl[illegible] Coppock has taken a professional approach to hypnosis, and says that much of his time has been in reassuring people that hypnosis is not a black art.

When the American Medical Association approved the use of hypnosis in 1958, and Florida became the first state to pass a law regulating hypnosis in treatment, a great stride was made in public understanding of the art, according to Coppock.

He usually works with physicians on referrals, and has used suggestion to ease pain of dentistry or childbirth. He mentioned many maladies that have been eased by use of hypnosis.

Based on the word "to sleep," Coppock said that the word itself is wrong, and added that no one sleeps while in hypnosis.

The term should be suggestion, he said.

He illustrated his presentation with stories about businessmen who have learned self hypnosis to learn to relax, and said that tension, anxiety and fears go when a person can learn to relax.

Three to five minutes of self hypnosis is worth an hour nap, he said.

Coppock works with law enforcement authorities to relax persons who might be witnesses, and with lawyers to learn whether or not a person is telling the truth.

We can't make them tell the truth but we can tell if they are lying.

He told of a rape victim who forgot the license number of the auto of her attacker, but remembered the license number, the make and color of the car and clearly described the attacker when hypnosis was used.

Saying that "any and all human activities can be helped," Coppock said that classes of people who wanted to quit smoking by hypnosis were eighty percent effective.

SPEAKER–John Coppock, head of Ethical Hypnosis, was guest speaker at the Kiwanis meeting in Jensen Beach Monday at Frances Langford's Outrigger Restaurant.

In honor of the Lion's anniversary the one-hundred and three Lions, Lionesses and guests were treated to a champagne toast provided by their host, Velma and Leona members of the Lions Club.

The group originally began when Jensen Beach members on the Stuart Lion Club formed the local group. It was sponsored by Stuart.

Looking back in the past Walker recalled, "I remember Christmas at my home with our good friend Harry Heritage, now deceased, who was at that time Stuart Lion."

"First the Lion's Club could find about anything to raise funds, rodeo, barbecue, auctions and now the most successful Sunday morning pancake breakfasts."

Most important is how the Lion's assist the needy in projects near the area.

This year the Lion's plan the slate to begin a Lion Club for youths 12-17 years old. The club is not active any longer but other clubs in Florida still sponsor such organizations for youths 12-18 years old.

The civic group has sponsored numerous foreign exchange students from Denmark to Japan bringing them right into their homes.

They sponsor a Pony league baseball team, a Leader Dog Program for the blind, an eye bank where members and the general public can get their eyes and eye examinations.

They have the distinction for being the club in district 15-D with the greatest donations for the blind.

More recently Lions began assisting those who needed and cared advice and guidance.

Locally the new have started Lion Quiz-O, greeting cardsat meetings, auctions, raffles, Lion's parties and games for youngsters at Halloween and the Fourth of July.

Initiation is anticipated in the following.

The first banquet roast Sunday, January 26, 1954 in which twenty years ago cost $2.50 per person. Monday's roast beef dinner cost $3.50 per couple or $1.75 each, which is considered a reasonable price nowadays.

Glenn Hower is a SOMET success

BY TIM DONOVAN

F I T -Glenn Hower who graduated from SOMET in June 1974 with an Associate of Science Degree in Oceanographic Technology visited the school last week and told of his new job

Glenn is employed by the State University System Institute of Oceanography SUSIO in St Petersburg There he is classified as Marine Technician II

He is the engineer and mate on the research ship Bellows and some of his duties include maintenance of oceanographic equipment data reduction Towing dredging coring underwater photographs and hydro carbon sniffing

He travels to Pensacola Mobile Tallahassee and soon his travels will include Mexico and the Bahamas Much of Glenn's work centers around offshore oil drilling

Officially a staff member of the University of South Florida he has all staff benefits among those part time

During Glenn's two years at SOMET he was active in research projects such as the artificial reef He worked as often as possible with scientists and others in research The association with these people on these projects proved extremely valuable when he began seeking employment

Glenn had been accepted for employment before graduation and reported for work the day after commencement

Plans are underway says Glenn for a Mariculture Center in St Petersburg that may offer employment prospects for upcoming SOMET graduates This center will be funded by the Gulf Oil Corporation and other private groups

Glenn has offered this word of advice for students Don't use all your time on books and beer Get out and get active on projects in the field You'll make a lot of friends and contacts who will be helpful when you graduate

Eridieri who spearheaded the S O M E T offense and constantly dazzled opponents with his expertise at ball handling took control from around twenty yards out He then proceeded to elude the defense with some of his very best moves before he directed the ball past the opposing goaltender

The ball ended up in favor of S O M E T

Miami-Dade's only score came five minutes into the second half when they were given a penalty kick in front of the goal

S O M E T's second and final goal came twenty minutes into the second half when they imbibed yet another beautiful play

It developed much like the first S O M E T scene with the ball was passed to the right side and under the control of halfback Dario Clark

Clark moved the ball to the corner of the field before launching a kick once more to confusing the opposing goalie

For the last remainder of play Miami-Dade tried desperately to tie the game Each time they attacked they were turned back by the tough S O M E T defense The defense led by goalie Kris Vendenberg playing splendidly all his life time game preserved the lead to the final whistle

The soccer team is coached by Peter Navarette and has been progressing hard for about a month now and looks forward to a very successful season

The team logged about six hours daily in the intense heat A week before the game they cut the practices to once in the six days a week

They dropped their first game to an experienced Stetson team also losing their starting goalie to injury

The S O M E T team with only five returning players matured fast and was really up for the Miami Dade game

This year's schedule includes ten games plus two tournaments which have only top notch teams

The S O M E T soccer team looks like a powerful machine that will most likely improve on its 11 record

The next two games are Sat 10/19/74 against F I T Melbourne and Wed 10-23-74 against Miami-Dade Both are away games Remember the soccer team is well worth your support

Mighty fine music

BY JOHN D HINCKLEY

A type of music that has been growing in popularity in the past couple of years and that always finds an important part in the music field is what we might call country rock It's mostly electrified country folk music

Also example of this is the early Byrds music and the right and lovely feeling I could unroll one song

Well there is a band that has been playing it this for a couple of years called Pure Prairie League and they bring the same feeling Poco did only doubled They have two albums out on RCA Pure Prairie League Lsp 4656 and Bustin' Out Lsp 4709 Have the covers of the albums got so fine that I would like to put them on these pure green walls one of them being by Norman Rockwell

As all the instrumentals on this lp all are extremely unknown but their music does not sound as though they should be Craig Fuller and George Powell's guitar work is flawless and tight but still has a full joyous feeling that'll get your feet moving and time

The lyrics of their songs have a lot to say I'm sure but the music itself gets you going so good that you'll find it hard to concentrate on the words Even if you're not listening to the words the sound of the vocal harmonies are a high in themselves

Pure Prairie League not being known all over their albums are pretty hard to find but the Phoenix a record in Stuart has a couple of copies

The Phoenix also has tickets for the Eagles concert on Oct 27 in W Palm Beach

Science concerns

Destroy intelligence

BY DOUG ZINN
SKIP HUDSON & BOB GRABEN

F I T It is thought that many people do not know the difference between purpose and a dolphin Refer to the illustrations below As one can see there is a distinct disparity

Porpoises are air breathing mammals which must make periodic trips to the surface periodically to breathe The porpoise is a mammal the dolphin is a fish

Probably the best example of a porpoise is the television attraction Flipper Although he is often called a dolphin he is quite different from the dolphin fish The latter being a sport fish sought by many fishermen

The title of this article bears the name Electro Intelligence which is self explanatory At the present time there is a bill before the U S Senate to propose the selling of all porpoise to people for $5 allowing the killing of the porpoise

The proposal is to benefit tuna fishermen

The tuna fishermen believe the porpoise scares away the schools of tuna The destruction of the porpoise will mean possible extinction of this intelligent creature

This mammal has a high order of communication and social system Scientists today are coming so close to breaking the language barrier between porpoise and man This research might prove highly beneficial Extinguishing of this intelligent creature would mean an end to this research

One cannot understand why the tuna industries would want to kill this mammal These porpoises are sometimes beneficial to this business When porpoises are spotted frolicking on the ocean surface it can mean that schools of tuna are cruising beneath them

An interview with Edwin [illegible] Brown department head of Biological Sciences at Florida Institute of Technology proved very beneficial Brown has done extensive research with the porpoise He is totally against the bill

According to Brown he may eventually be able to talk to the porpoise

...D OF BEING CHASED—Cheri (Meg Raney) tells Virgil (Roger Conant) ...had enough! "Bus Stop", Act II. Curtain time at the Barn Theater is 8:30 p.m.

"Bus Stop" at The Barn

...ART—The Martin County Play-...ers opened their current season at the ...Theater with "Bus Stop", William ...y's romantic comedy hit.

...Bus Stop ... the story of a cowboy ...the romantic methods of a ...ering bu... in exuberant pursuit of ...arcastic waiting girl.

...der the direction of Hank ...ebler, the cast includes many new ...s and talents as well as some that ...be familiar to Barn Theater ...ers in the past.

...Johnson plays the appealing ...ger Elma to perfection. ...y Nelson as the proprietor of ...y's Cafe is a natural.

Bob Carruthers makes Will the sheriff, western but likeable.

Cheri, the girl who is chased is very well cast in Meg Raney.

George McNulty becomes a capable Carl, the bus driver.

Richard Carr transforms into an amiably drunk Dr. Lyman.

Bo, the blustering bull-headed cowboy is handled admirable by Darby Conant and Roger Conant plays his sidekick, Virgil.

Seven performances are scheduled, extending over two more weekends, October 18, 19 & 20, and 25 & 26. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Reservations recommended, call 287-0676.

Sinnott, dePool and Hodges are Regatta winners

STUART—Dick Sinnott of Fort Pierce, Ed dePool of Stuart, and Larry Hodges of Fort Pierce took first place in their respective classes in the joint regatta of the St. Lucie Sailing Club and the Intracoastal Sailing Club held last Sunday in the Indian River.

Sinnott led the Hobie 16's. Second in that class was Bill Reich, Stuart, followed by Jim Hargraves of Vero Beach.

Following dePool in the Hobie 14's were John Hennon and Dennis Clark, both of Stuart.

Kyle Hodges, of Fort Pierre, took second place to his father in the Sunfish class. Third was Mike Greene of Jensen Beach.

The standings were determined by the results of three races for each class sailed over the windy Stuart course.

The St. Lucie Sailing Club runs races for Hobies, Sunfish and Lasers on alternate Sundays just off the Stuart Causeway. It also sponsors races and cruises for larger cruising boats and day sailers.

DISCUSSING—Carl (George McNulty) and Will (Bob Carruthers) discuss bus passengers while an oblivious Dr. Lyman (Richard Carr) is ignored, a scene from Act I of "Bus Stop" playing at the Barn Theater, E. Ocean Boulevard, Stuart.

FIT's soccer team kicks off

MELBOURNE—Florida Institute of Technology's varsity soccer team kicks off the '74 schedule on October 17 against Stetson University. The game is scheduled for 7 p.m. under the lights at Deland.

FIT's new soccer coach, Nick Pahiyannakis, welcomed back ten lettermen and several outstanding new men on the official opening of practice, October 1. The 1974 eleven game schedule shows five contests at home with six played away from Melbourne.

Despite the loss of several key players from last year's club, Director of Athletics, Art Loche, looks for an improved team. This club has a lot of talent and under their new coach, should have an even chance in every game they play. I look for a big year although we are starting late due to the late return of the student body. Fall classes began October 1.

Coach Pahiyannakis angled out several potential stars among the new men. Freshmen Cesar Rohen, Jorge Molina, Craig Pomeroy, David Rollins, Manoucheher Kaviani, Scott Sauve and Jorge Hustamante all have an excellent chance to make the starting eleven, with due respect to the ten returning lettermen. Another standout, said the coach, is Sophomore Derrejo Williams who didn't come out for soccer last year.

Radiation lecture is scheduled

FORT PIERCE—The Indian River Community College Department of Radiologic Technology has arranged for a special lecture to be presented on Thursday, October 31, from 9:10 to 11:20 a.m. in the Indian River Room of the Kobelgard Student Union. The topic of this special lecture will be Radiation Protection.

The guest speaker is Clyde F. Pearce, R.T. ARRT, ASRT Associate Director of Education at Bethesda Memorial Hospital, Boynton Beach, Fla. Pearce is well versed in the subject of radiation protection. He has served for a number of years as Chairman of the Radiation Protection Committee of the Florida Society of Radiologic Technologists. He has also given several work shops and has presented seminars on radiation protection.

Robinsons wed 49 years

JENSEN BEACH—Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson of 136 Rustic Lane, Jensen Beach, were married 49 years ago Saturday, October 19.

Formerly of Chicago, Ill., they moved here two years ago, when Robinson retired from the telephone company.

The Robinsons will be dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Podesta and Mr. and Mrs. Nino, also of Jensen Beach, at the St. Lucie Hilton Counties Club in honor of the occasion.

All Saints Guild plans party

JENSEN BEACH—All Saints Guild will have a dessert card party on Thursday, October 24 at 1:00 p.m. at All Saints Episcopal Church, Jensen Beach.

For reservations call 334-1290.

V.F.W. news

BY CHUCK RENDER

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my many friends and comrades for the many cards and flowers I received while in the hospital. Believe me, it was a big lift, especially since I was so far from home.

A special thanks to George Hodge who kept the column going during my absence. Many times in the past I have had to turn to George for help and he has always come through in great form.

This Sunday, October 20, we will have a repeat performance of the great Jam Session held last month. If you were unable to attend the last session, I'm sure you've heard what a great success it was.

Windy Halverson promised me he would bring back the musicians who were with us last time—plus more. Remember, these are pros who put on a fine show. Last time they started at 4 o'clock and were still going at 10 p.m. Everyone had a great time.

Membership is coming in slowly. Let me remind you that the dues go up the first of the year. Get your dues in now and save a dollar.

As I have often said, membership is the backbone of any organization. Now that we are building, we need a larger membership. If every member were to bring in one new member, we would double our roll and find room for new members.

Weekend after next, October 25-27, the 13th District Roundup will be held in Indiantown.

This is a family fun weekend. All games, serve and fun for all. Last year the district gave away 50 trophies, many of which were won by Post 166 members.

The Indiantown folks promise to have lots of room for campers, trailers, and tents, and expect to have a large turnout. Get there early and have a great time. The ladies there have a great menu all ready for hearty appetites.

The Auxiliary will meet Wednesday, October 16 at 8 p.m. tonight.

The VFW will meet Thursday, October 17 at 8 p.m.

Saturday as we will have a work up detail to get ready for Sunday's Jam Session. Come and help.

[illegible]-OF-TIDE—Mrs. Aviles was unable to hold back the tears of gratitude as [illegible] accompanied by her son John at the reception following the Eagle Scout [illegible] held last Saturday night at the Indian River Community College [illegible] son of Mr. and Mrs. John Aviles, was one of three Port St. Lucie [illegible] to receive the Eagle Award, scouting highest honor.

Three scouts win Eagle rank

PORT ST. LUCIE—Three young men reached the highest plateau in scouting last week and joined one of the most exclusive clubs in America.

John J. Aviles, Alan R. Sams and Scott C. Swanson were presented with Eagle Scout awards before a cheering, emotional group of scouting leaders, parents and young men aspiring to the award.

Less than one percent of all scouts in America have won the award, and the three scouts from the troop being so honored at the same time has set some sort of record for Port St. Lucie Troop 199.

Impressive ceremonies honoring the trio were held in the St. Lucie Room of Indian River Community College last Saturday night, Oct. 12.

Larry Moore and Charles Hallissey of Troop 76 in Riviera Beach performed the opening ceremonies.

The invocation was given by Rev. Greg Grotefend of St. Andrews Lutheran Church, sponsors of the local scout troop.

Guest speaker for the evening was J. Lennon Wright of Vero Beach.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Eagle Scout Awards. Gary Frazier made the presentation to John J. Aviles. Bill Schwinger presented the award to Alan R. Sams, and Scott C. Swanson received his award from Dave Pottorff.

Following the Eagle Charge by Charles Hallison, Spencer Walters presented the trio with several letters of recognition from government leaders.

A commendation from President Gerald Ford preceded those of Florida's Governor Askew and Congressman Skip Bafalis.

In closing ceremonies, Mrs. Sams, Mrs. Aviles and Mrs. Swanson were each presented a bouquet of roses by the Eagle Honor Guard. Those serving in the honor guard were Charles Glover, Allen Goldstein, Scott Hearing, Keith Harris, Gerald DeLoche and Ed Kirkhart.

In a surprise move, a special award was presented to Rev. Grotefend by Gary Frazier and Bill Schwinger.

Rev. Grotefend, an Eagle Scout himself and later a scout leader, gave his own Eagle Badge to a young man who made Eagle in his troop in 1942. Grotefend, scheduled to leave for the service before the badge arrived, presented his own badge to the young Eagle.

Last Saturday night, thirty years later, the badge was replaced.

Alan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Sams, 136 Banyan Drive.

Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Swanson, 120 Princess Drive.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Aviles, 141 Banyan Drive.

INTERSECTION WORK—Work to improve the Indian River Drive and Jensen Beach Causeway intersection at Poor Bob's Restaurant got under way last week. Jetcrete, Inc., of Stuart, has the $1,250 contract.

Pool bids awarded

JENSEN BEACH—Combined bids for construction of the community swimming pool were approved Tuesday morning by the Martin County Commission.

Bob of Miami and Son of Stuart and Jim Craig of Orlando totalled $221,094, according to purchasing agent Paul Penrod.

Penrod said construction is expected to start in about 30 days with completion next spring.

Bidders bid included concrete deck, swimming overhead lighting and underwater lighting. $96,293 Lou Craft's bid was $126,830. Base bid: pool construction.

Penrod and members of the pool committee have had bids under study since Oct. 11.

The county has budgeted $200,000 for the project plus half of the interest to be received from an escrow bank account for improvements of the St. Lucie Inlet. All of the money budgeted for the pool, $101,000, was raised from contributions in a drive spearheaded by the Stuart Kiwanis Club.

Clubs to meet Tuesday on Halloween planning

JENSEN BEACH—A final planning meeting for all Jensen Beach area organizations taking part in the annual Halloween celebration will be held Tuesday, Oct. 29, at 7:30 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce.

Co-chairmen of the annual Halloween celebration, Dick Neeson and Al Brunson, ask that representatives of all clubs and organizations attend the meeting.

The annual event will be at Langford Park beginning at 1:30 p.m. and the committee is planning to have goodies for the children on hallowe'en.

This year the committee plans to have a movie for the children at the park. The children will go speaking after school and then go to the park for the movie, costume parade and refreshments.

Auction and carnival at school, Langford park

JENSEN BEACH—More than 100 items, fishing equipment, rugs, lamps, gift certificates, toys, have been donated for the annual Jensen Beach Elementary School PTA auction Thursday, Oct. 24, beginning at 8 p.m. at the school.

The big auction, so big in fact, that it is being held this year as a departate event from the annual PTA sponsored hallowe'en carnival.

The hallowe'en carnival will be held Saturday, Oct. 26, at Langford Park beginning at 1 p.m. with the annual costume parade.

And the auction and carnival committee have some special gifts for the lucky ticket holders. Holders of the $1 carnival tickets may win a television set, stereo equipment, camera or even a motorcycle. And someone is going to win a trip to the Bahamas.

Co-chairmen for the Tuesday event, Jean Crowley and Jan Miller said that proceeds from the events would go the the "Right to Read" program at the school.

The state's program is intended to make teachers of all subjects more conscious of their student's reading skills. The purpose of the program is to teach teachers that whatever subject they're teaching, they're also teaching reading.

Jensen Beach Elementary and Stuart Middle School are taking part in the program.

At the carnival, there will be 14 booths, all kind of games for children and their parents, along with hot dogs, hamburgers and refreshments.

Students at the school made posters advertising the carnival and will be placed in many store windows. Winners received a silver dollar and five tickets to the carnival.

Daylight Savings Time ends Sunday

JENSEN BEACH—Set clocks back one hour on Saturday night (or on Sunday morning). The Nation moves back to standard time at two a.m. Sunday morning, ending ten months of fuel saving Daylight Savings Time.

Controversial during the winter months, Daylight Savings Time was blamed by parents of school-bound children for deaths caused by early morning accidents. Children would be going to school in the dark, and many accidents were reported nationwide.

The reversion to standard time should assist some in the lower secondary and elementary schools, but will not help the double shift high school students who leave as early as 6:30 a.m. Other students on the afternoon shift return after dark to their homes.

Church dedication ceremonies planned

JENSEN BEACH—All Saints Episcopal Church building is located on a hill overlooking the Indian River. It has been there for 75 years.

The congregation of the Jensen Beach church will observe the 25th anniversary of their church building's dedication with ceremonies beginning Nov. 1, the Feast of All Saints.

Erected in 1898, the building near SR 707 and Indian River Drive is the oldest church building in Martin County still in use, according to the Rev. Frank Alvarez, rector.

Services on All Saints Day will begin at 7:30 p.m. with the Rt. Rev. Wallace E. Conkling, retired bishop of Chicago, presiding. The Rev. Allen B. Purdom, first rector of the parish, will deliver the sermon.

Rev. Daniel Lopez and the Rev. W. Craig Bowser, pastor of Holy Faith Church in Port St. Lucie, will assist Fr. Alvarez at the Eucharist.

The only service to be held on Sunday, Nov. 3, will be at 4 p.m. in the chapel of the Florida Institute of Technology, Jensen Beach, and the anniversary banquet will be in the dining hall of FIT on Thursday, Nov. 7.

The Rt. Rev. George Paul Reeves, Bishop of Georgia, will deliver the address, and the Rev. Frank's friend, great grandson of the Rt. Rev. William Crane Gray, who consecrated the church building, will be present.

Mrs. H. H. Hanson, historian of the Hanjatrowe Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, is preparing a history of the oldest church still being used in Martin County for the Bicentennial book of churches to be completed by the state society of the DAR.

The church site was changed in 1918 to make room for more members and a new building. Both the bell, hymnals and records. The church's bell tower was slightly damaged when it was moved, but repaired with old parts.

OLDEST CHURCH—All Saints Episcopal Church congregation will observe the 75th anniversary of their church building's dedication on Nov. 3.

Demo chairman

Candidate is pledged

JENSEN BEACH—The chairman of the Martin County Democratic Executive committee said Monday that he will back a candidate in the District 2 commission race.

Mrs. Matdee St. Clair said, "We are 100 per cent behind Clax Lambeth."

Democrat Lambeth was ruled ineligible for the District 2 race because he failed to submit his resignation as mayor of Sewall's Point 10 days before party commissioners' candidates opened.

However, Lambeth has announced that he will appeal the ruling of Circuit Judge J. Pfeiffer Trowbridge.

If Lambeth's appeal is unsuccessful, the Secretary of State's office has indicated a candidate could be named by the Democratic Executive Committee to be on the Nov. 5 ballot.

And if Lambeth's appeal is unsuccessful and a candidate is appointed, he will vie with incumbent Republican Ed Stuckler.

Gluckler brought suit against Lambeth contending that the former mayor of had not legally qualified for the race under the state's resign to run law. The law states that a public official must resign from office at least 10 days before qualifying to run for another office.

Lambeth resigned as mayor just one day before entering the County Commission race.

Meanwhile Supervisor of Elections Mrs. Sandra Randolph said Tuesday that she cannot send out absentee ballots until the issue of candidacy is resolved.

After last week's ruling by Judge Trowbridge Gluckler said the court's decision proves that the Democrats did not have a candidate and added, "how can you replace someone who wasn't a candidate in the first place."

Gluckler won the Republican nomination in the Sept. 10 primary, defeating Gerald O'Brien.

Lambeth did not have an opponent in the primary.

Twin Banyan hearing slated on January 10

PORT ST. LUCIE—Following months and months of hassel, the public hearing on the Twin Banyan Plantation development has been scheduled for Friday, January 10.

The hearing will get underway at 1:30 p.m. in the St. Lucie Hilton Convention Hall.

At that time, the South Florida Regional Planning Council will present their findings to the Port St. Lucie City Council during the Regional Impact Public Hearing.

Guy Administrator Bernard Rubin read the letter received from M. Barry Thomas, executive director of the Planning Council, which stated, in part, "this letter is to give written notice that the Twin Banyan Plantation application for Development Approval contains sufficient information for regional impact review."

"A Development of Regional Impact public hearing must be set at your next scheduled meeting and advertised at least sixty days in advance of the hearing."

The law also requires that the notice of public hearing be transmitted to the Division of State Planning and the South Florida Regional Planning Council.

Such notice will officially trigger the start of the Planning Council's fifty-day review period.

The South Florida Regional Planning Council staff report and recommendations are scheduled to be presented for official action at the regular Planning Council meeting on December 5.

Kavanaugh tourney format is changed

PORT ST. LUCIE—A change in format for the Eugene Kavanaugh Memorial Golf Tournament was announced this week.

Due to the influx of entrants, it was decided to play on two courses, according to Dr. Harold Nottley, who made the announcement. The men will play on the Sinners Course, the women on the Saints.

The tournament is scheduled to begin at 8 a.m. on November 11. Registration for the event will close on November 5. The $5.25 entry fee is for either golf or lunch, or both.

HONDURAS FOOD—Martin County High Schools canned food drive for the Honduras flood victims officially ended today. This morning students transported the food to the Mission Center in Stuart where arrangements for shipment have been made. The Olsen brothers above, were two of the students to bring in the most food. The boys stuffed their car full with damaged cans they brought from the Winn Dixie food store in Jensen Beach. Left to right are: Coleman Hodapp, Ken Olsen, Pat Emerson, Patty Turner, Keith Olsen and Jo Cooke.

Street light for Jensen

JENSEN BEACH—A street light for the west end of Sunny Acres Road (at Palmetto Street) was approved by the Martin County Commission Tuesday.

Commissioner Ross Philbrick made the request for the light for his district.

Philbrick also moved to protect money budgeted for a bike trail in his district.

Millage rollback

Seven proposed amendments are on ballot

JENSEN BEACH–There are seven proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on by Florida citizens in the Nov. 5 general election.

Rep. Chuck Nergard, who represents the Jensen Beach area, points out that in addition to the seven proposed amendments, voters in Martin and St. Lucie counties will vote on the local millage rollback bill.

The proposed millage rollback bill provides:

"Whenever property value increases, the millage must be reduced in direct proportion to the increase in assessment. The bill limits any increases in taxes not to exceed 10 per cent in any given year, and provides relief to taxpayers. The bill exempts new construction."

Proposed changes in Florida's constitution include:

Amendment 1–Extends the already existing authority of the state to issue bonds for construction of higher education facilities until the year 2025.

Amendment 2–To extend the present 2 cents gas tax to the year 2025 and to extend the purposes for which bonds may be issued and revenues may be used to all transportation facilities for which the tax is due to expire in the year 2000.

Amendment 3–To change the name of the office of tax assessor to property appraiser.

Amendment 4–To make the appointment of Game Commission members subject to Senate approval. They are now appointed by the governor. The commission's planning, personnel, purchasing and budgeting shall be provided by law.

Amendment 5–The Judicial Qualifications Commission has the jurisdiction to investigate misconduct of judges which may have occurred before their present terms of office. The commission, rather than the Supreme Court, would make its own rules, subject to veto by the legislature or by five justices of the Supreme Court, and all state agencies must provide information to the commission when requested, and the commission must make information available to the speaker of the House of Representatives or the governor when needed for consideration of impeachment or suspension.

Amendment 6–To permit laws to be passed authorizing local governments or their agencies to own, construct and operate electricity generating or transmission facilities jointly with private interests.

Amendment 7–That no person shall be discriminated against because of a physical handicap.

Fire destroys house

JENSEN BEACH–A wood frame house on West Court just north of Jensen Beach Cutoff Road, SR-707A, was destroyed by fire early Friday morning, Fire Chief Randolph Spinney said.

Spinney said the house, about 50 years old, was owned by Walter Clark of Palm Beach Gardens, and was not occupied.

He said three neighbors reported hearing an explosion and they saw the fire, but the cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Chief Spinney called deputy fire marshal Wilmer Boardman of West Palm Beach who inspected the smoldering wreckage.

"I haven't received Boardman's report," Chief Spinney said Monday. "We got the call at 5:22 a.m. Friday and had the fire knocked down in about two and a half hours," the chief said. "We had five pieces of equipment and 11 men at the scene," Spinney reported.

World Community Day is Nov. 1st

STUART—Church Women United of Martin County are sponsoring World Community Day on Friday, Nov. 1 at the First Presbyterian Church in Stuart, Rivers Shores.

The Rev. Clark Thompson, pastor of the Trinity United Methodist Church in Jensen Beach, will be the guest speaker.

Coffee at 9:30 a.m. precedes the 10 a.m. services.

Mrs. Helen Hancock is chairlady of the arrangements. All area women are invited to attend.

Ten years ago in The Mirror

Mrs. Helen Richardson was elected president of the Florida Women's Christian Fellowship of Communists (Smith Act).

Pilings for the new Jensen Beach bridge were in place and work was continuing on forms for the concrete base across the top of the pilings.

Future Reporters, headed a picture of 6th grade students from the Jensen Beach Elementary School shown touring the Mirror plant.

Frank A. Watha was named Martin County Campaign Chairman for President Lyndon Johnson.

Spessard Holland was running for re-election to the U. S. Senate.

Temperatures for the week ranged from 81 to 61 degrees with more than 4 inches of rain recorded.

A 5 pound bag of sugar was 49 cents.

Handwriting analysts conduct instruction sessions

BY DENNIS HOYLE
JENSEN BEACH—An individual's temperament, personality, emotional stability, traits and ability to learn can be determined through a deep handwriting analysis according to Toni Lalime, the featured instructor last weekend at the Florida Graphoanalysts State Convention.

Mrs. Lalime, a master handwriting analyst from Tucson, Arizona, is a former New Yorker, retired from nursing who travels the nation to state conventions for instructional learning sessions, teaching the techniques of handwriting analysis. She returned last weekend at the Sheraton Inn Resort.

"I first began the study in 1948 with the idea of using it in my retirement," Mrs. Lalime said. "Each handwriting presents a new challenge for me but I guess a good hour and a half is properly ...

Pine Cones

BY BOB RAMSEY

TRICK OR TREAT Back again after an absence of one week during which time the column has been trying to reach the natives of Pine Lake Village on a personal basis door to door, passing out notices of this and that but it is a tough way to reach the people so at the risk of being accused of having stock in the local Jensen Beach paper I would strongly recommend that if you want up to date you had better subscribe to it or pick it up at your newsstands. I went out of the publishing business when I sold my paper route back in the days when the profit was a half cent each in Philly. I let the route go for three marble aggies one live frog, and a roll of string.

Am trying to incorporate left over items with the latest doings in Pine Lake Village. If everyone is not now aware of what is happening, consult Gene Gray, our leader, who just recently returned from up North and is available for the dispensation of all things current. Hideaway for refresh on Saturday evening, October 26th, a dance will be held at the Rec. Hall at which time we shall feed the sound systems and play some of the splendid collection of records which have been accumulated from individuals in the park and every big market within a radius of 20 miles, made up of polkas, Irish reels, waltzes, you name it. Expect a nice group for this first time it...

Of course the column will keep buzzing about the spaghetti dinner coming up on Nov. 2nd. This begins to look like a sellout so please be advised, the deadline for sale of tickets is October 28th. Contact Kate Summers, Rachel Laflamme, Frances Hoffman, Terrie or Mildred Kitay for tickets and please note that all park guests are also invited. The affair will be best because no one is sad and all disappointed.

Just a note that a good time is given to opportunity of meeting people and everyone in the Park. The theme will be served up by the men of the park, so if it doesn't prove anything else it will prove an experience for the ladies. Don't go hiding your best bowls and silverware. We will need them.

A big improvement in attendance at last weeks' bingo party but more players are needed. All hands moving into Pine Lake Village are being made aware of this activity as they come through the gates now.

* * *

Just to avoid any hurt feelings welcome back again to all those returning from up north. You know who you are and besides I think we included everyone last week.

Hi Viola and Dep O'Neil were missed last week, let the column again welcome them aboard. They come to us from Holiday Out after an extended trip which took them through Michigan and most of Canada. Then there are the Hertelseens and O'Donnells. Again, welcome. Join the crowd at the affairs and each one is shaping up.

* * *

I am off at the Pass, we have to go to press. See you next week.

* * *

P.S. Forgot one item which must be included. Just wanted to extend the heartfelt appreciation of everyone in the Park to a gentleman who has worked unceasingly to collect a lot of records. Everyone, including the visitors, the locks in the lake and our dog, Gertie, thank you Kilroy, Maxim. Now, where are they? Last seen up...

Garden Club of Stuart wins award

STUART The Garden Club of Stuart was presented an award for its contribution to the Wekiwa Youth Camp at the District 19 fall meeting of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs, Inc. Mrs. James Saxton, president of the Stuart club, accepted the award.

The slogan for the meeting, which was held at the Elks Club in Fort Pierce on Oct. 9, was "Results of Being Involved."

Registration with coffee and cake preceded the opening session called to order by Mrs. August B. Conn, District 19 director.

Mrs. B.J. Benson, president of Palm Vista Circle, gave the invocation.

Mrs. Jess Elliott, member of the Pelican Garden Club, was nominated District 19 director for 1975-77.

Mrs. James J. Howell, District 19 horticulture chairman, was the guest speaker. Her topic was "Growing Plants for Exhibition."

Attending the meeting from the Stuart club were Maxine Rush, Alice Reynolds, Helen Young, Betty Wynn, Esther Jordan, Betty Hunter, Helen Kuppersmith, Helen Lovell, Minerva Dalton, Peg Sutton, Louise Shepard and Viola Wallace.

Melbourne tops Jensen 4-2

BY JAMES WRIGHT

FIT–Although Saturdays skies were full of sunshine things were not too bright for FIT Jensen Beach as they lost a tough soccer match to FIT Melbourne, 2-0.

From the beginning of play to the final whistle, the intense rivalry could be felt as both teams fought hard to win.

FIT Melbourne opened up the scoring twenty minutes into the first half. They moved the ball up the left side of the field, then passed the ball to team mate Rohon who caught the Jensen Beach goaltender going the wrong way by kicking the ball in the right side of the goal.

Melbourne scored again ten minutes later, this time Kavsaru putting the ball in the goal.

Then it was Jensen Beaches turn. Pressuring Melbourne all half, Jensen Beach finally forced the defense into making a mistake. Awarded a penalty kick, it was Jensen Beaches Riveros who kicked the ball off a Melbourne player and into the goal for their initial score.

The half ended 2-1 in favor of FIT Melbourne.

FIT Jensen Beach opened the second half showing their powerful team play by literally running through the Melbourne defense and scoring before three minutes of the half had passed. Jensen Beach blitzed the stunned Melbourne defense with Pan Eradire tallying the tying score.

But after their last score Jensen Beach made several defensive mistakes, two of which Melbourne converted into scores.

The most fatal mistake which resulted in Melbourne's go ahead score occurred five minutes into the second half. Three Melbourne players slipped behind the Jensen Beach defense with Houstamante easily putting the ball in for a score.

Trailing 3-2 Jensen Beach came close to scoring twice. Once the ball just trickled over the top of the goal. A second shot was in the goal, but the score was nullified because of an offsides violation.

Ten minutes before the final whistle Jensen Beach once more let too many opposing players around their goal. This time it was Fuentes who put in the insurance goal.

The game ended 4-2 in favor of FIT Melbourne.

FIT Jensen Beach also had a tough time of it in the University of Florida Invitational Tournament. Playing against two of the largest schools in Florida, they lost two and won one. The first game against Jacksonville was lost 5-0.

The next two games were played against the University of Florida who because of its ninety member soccer team was able to field two teams.

In the first game against the University of Fla. FIT won 2-0 with Pan Eradire scoring both goals. Against the second team FIT lost 11-1 Carlos Agustin put in the lon FIT goal.

The final three games are Wednesday (tomorrow) at Miami Dade at 3 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 26, vs. Fla. Tech at 12 p.m. and Tuesday, Oct. 29 vs. Eckerd College at 2 p.m. All three games are away.

Jensen Beach goalie Kirk Vrendenburg left tries unsuccessfully to trap the ball in front of the goal. Vrendenburg's efforts were in vain, as Melbourne's Fuentes banked in the final goal of Saturday's 4-1 soccer match between the two FIT campuses. Photo by Randy Bennett

Research seeks answer

Maine lobster in Florida?

BY BOB GRABEN
SKETCH BY DOUG ZINN

FIT–At the present time there is a project going on under the supervision of Capt. Dallemagne concerning bugs.

Dallemagne is the head of the Oceanographic Technology Department at FIT. The term bug is a colloquial usage for the word lobster.

This project was started two years ago as an ocean project by Dieter Marker with assistance from Capt. Dallemagne. They asked themselves if it was possible to maintain Maine lobsters in Florida coastal waters. From there they went further and asked if high temperature would change their behavioral patterns.

The project began from a few questions and a little intuition. They started with a few Maine lobsters and worked with them. Some died at first because they were conditioned too fast to warmer waters, while others did survive. The project continually grew with new questions and further developments.

Research has come along quite well in the past two years according to Dallemagne. At the present, the researchers are in the process of mating the male and female lobsters. Time will see if the fertile eggs will survive the warm water.

The lobsters are maintained at 24 degrees Celcius centigrade which is about 76 degrees Farenheit.

The soft shell of the eggs may not protect them against the warm waters. They may be literally cooked by increased water temperatures.

In the near future many juvenile lobsters which will be adapt to the same water found off the coast will be received. The lobsters will be divided into a number of groups. There will be a control group kept at Maine water temperature and conditions and another group kept at Florida water temperature and conditions. The other groups will be placed in containers and deposited on the bottom of Indian River. The lobsters will be left on their own to survive but under observation in these containers.

This project is one of many projects that are conducted by students under supervision each year.

A project must be completed in the second year and fourth year in order for students to acquire associate and bachelor degrees. Thought and ingenuity can produce a worth-while project, which can be an asset when students are seeking employment. Showing something that has been accomplished to an employer will show him the potential of the applicant.

Such work by Dieter Marker concerning lobsters will certainly tell more about Maine lobsters and their potential, and may lead to Maine lobsters in Florida coastal waters.

Jazz for everyone

BY JOHN HINCKLEY

FIT–Jazz. It's a type of music many of us have heard and not really understood. However, there is a jazz band that's been around for awhile that should be heard by all no matter how alien jazz might be.

The Crusaders, they used to be called the jazz crusaders, latest album, Scratch, on Blue Thumb (bts-6010) recorded live in Los Angeles is an album that anyone can get into.

This quartet not only has very good musicians but also puts a feeling of incredible emotion into its music. This record could change your mind about jazz forever. The bands music is not so completely freeform that there's no direction to it. I hear a lot of that these days.

It starts out based on solid rhythms and builds on many different tangents, but all with the same musical idea.

The second side of the album is by far the best, all the tracks flow together and with a live audience there is a complete feeling to it. The songs, Hard Times, So Far Away and Way Back Home are all well done with intelligent solos that don't lose you after 30 seconds.

The Crusaders are nothing new to the jazz world, having been together for over twenty years. The members of the band are: Wayne Henderson the very eloquent spokesman, on trombone, Wilton Felder on tenor sax, Joe Sample on keyboards and Stix Hooper on drums. Also a guitar and bass are two musicians who are every bit as good as the Crusaders themselves. Larry Carlton and Max Bennett.

All of these people are well known among other musicians in the U.S.A. and their talents can be heard on such albums as Joni Mitchells For the Roses and Arlo Guthries Hobos Lullaby. The Crusaders are a fine band for anyone to listen to no matter what their musical tastes are.

NEW CAFETERIA MANAGER–Byron DeCourseys, FIT's new cafeteria manager, came from the University of Alabama with his wife Jeanette and one daughter. The DeCourseys are planning to settle in the Jensen Beach area. Byron is replacing Skip Ballweber who resigned last week.

Student want ads

FIT–Students who have been placing ads on the dormitory bulletin boards and who have had no success selling or obtaining items of sale or need, will find this device is designed just for them.

Beginning in the next issue of the Messenger will be an exclusive column of "Student Wants."

With a weekly circulation to all students, faculty, administration and thousands of residents of Martin County, items for sale or those of need will receive special attention.

The charge for this service will be one dollar and the column will be limited to FIT students only.

Students are asked to describe the item for sale or needed, printed clearly, include the name, phone number and if residing in one of the dormitories, your room number and hall phone number.

Place this information in an envelope enclosed with one dollar, and deposit it at the business office in the Evinrude science building. The ad will be printed in the next issue of the Messenger.

The staff's hopeful that this new student service will assist in selling or obtaining items.

Lewis handles traffic

BY TIM DONAVAN

FIT–Chances are, anyone driving into the FIT campus will see an elderly gentleman by the entrance. He is not just there for looks either. Every car that is parked on the campus must first go by his station and be approved. The reason for this is the acute shortage of parking space on campus.

There few spots are reserved for faculty, staff and visitors. Students are requested to park in lots behind the dormitories.

Jim Lewis, a Port St. Lucie resident, retired from the Missouri Pacific Railroad after forty-one years of service and controls the flow of cars that enter the campus.

Jim mans his post from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Jim describes his job as "pretty monotonous" and as for time, on the job "it passes slower than any job I've ever had."

Snack Bar plan winter opening

FIT–Clifford L. Schmidt, Jr., FIT Food Service Director, advised the Messenger that the snack bar will be opened for the Winter Quarter. The snack bar will serve a limited menu and there will be pool tables, foosball and chess and checker boards.

The FIT food service will also be running a survey this week. The survey will pertain to various types of food service. Results will be posted.

Pennekamp Park was visited by F.I.T. divers

BY BOB GRABEN

FIT–"Wow, unreal! really great," were some of the remarks expressed Saturday, when 36 divers trucked down to John Pennekamp State Park to dive the coral reefs there.

It was 8 a.m. Saturday as divers were gathering outside the cafeteria. Diving gear was strewn around the bus. President Vince Zike called roll and gave last minute details as people loaded up for the long haul down Florida's east coast.

Some set out by car and jeep, the rest by the bus provided by the school.

The cars proceeded on ahead of the bus, and it was not long before the familiar red and white bus pulled in to Pennekamp State Park.

After checking in at the office the dive group was informed of the water conditions. There were some very choppy seas with 3 to 5 foot swells. That did not change the dive plan however.

After a short lunch break the divers proceeded to load aboard the boat, the 62 foot "Infante" equipped to facilitate the band of gung ho divers.

They ventured out to sea, and it was not long before they were anchored in position. A few last minute details by the crew of the "Infante" and club divemaster Bill Roche, and everyone began lining up to pile into the water.

Many of the divers were well equipped with camera gear to capture on film some of the coral and fish they might see.

At Pennekamp, taking of souvenirs is forbidden. The only exception to that rule is lobster. When in season they may be collected if they meet size requirements. A few divers brought along bug bags in hopes of catching a number of them.

The water was a relief from the heat aboard the boat. After descending down and equalizing, the splender of the coral and fish surrounded the divers.

Divers swam out and explored the coral formations. After awhile several fish followed close by in hopes of a meal. It was not long before the diver's regulators began breathing hard. The divers had to cease the coral and head back to the boat.

Forty five to sixty minutes which seemed like seconds, passed and divers were pulling back on the boat. The dive was over. After stowing away most of the gear they returned to shore.

The afternoon found the members of the Blue Water dive club engaged in conversation and enjoying dinner.

Although there were no unusual fish and visibility was poor for the reef, only 30 feet, many of the divers found it exciting and a welcome change from the diving they were accustomed to. All reported that it was a successful dive.

Crew will display shell at causeway

BY JAMES WRIGHT

FIT–Those students and faculty interested in learning more about the crew will have their chance November 2 and 3.

Coaches Bill Atwill and John Hennon will have their eight-oared shell on display at the boat show which will be held at the Jensen Beach causeway.

As an added attraction, the varsity crew will give rowing demonstrations during the two day show.

Visitors will be interested in the size, shape and construction of this unique type boat. Answers to any and all questions about crew will be answered.

Come out and see what crew is all about.

Nothing to do

KRK steps in to fill student activity void

BY STEVE DAVIS
AND DICK CAMPBELL

FIT–A major effort to provide entertainment for FIT students is now under way conducted by three entrepreneur oriented students. If successful there is no end to the activities for the trio.

Jeffery Kanterman, Robert Rose and Jerry Klein have formed KRK Productions to provide students with quality entertainment, and their first event will be called "Halloween Opening."

The party on November 1, is open to all students and faculty, and will have entertainment in a night club atmosphere held in the auditorium.

Tickets will be sold on campus ($3 at the main building).

The plan to have music, two bars, and drinks will cost a dollar, mixed and mixers sell for fifty cents," said Rose. He added that there will be door prizes given for best costume.

The first effort of the enterprenuers is across more such parties are planned, including concerts and a fair for the winter and spring quarters.

These are the events that FIT really lacks, there is so little to do for fun, Rose said. He pointed to the fact that FIT is new in Jensen Beach the community had not yet been able to establish the businesses that cater to the needs and the entertainment desires of the students.

Jerry Klein, a freshman from Uniform advisor in his first year at FIT, Rose said that the only thing a student could go was to the next county.

Softball and football are set for intramurals

BY JAMES WRIGHT

FIT–For all those interested in participating in intramurals, Mr. Skinner school athletic director has announced flag football and softball programs.

Flag football will be played Monday through Thursday at 4:15 on the athletic field. Each team must consist of a minimum of eight players.

Rosters with the names of the team, co-captain, and the teams must be handed into Mr. O'Conner as soon as possible.

Softball will be played every Tuesday night at 7 p.m., under the lights at Langford Park.

Both programs are already in progress and have been very successful in past years.

Also any students wishing to use athletic equipment can sign it out of Mr. O'Conner's office.

Water skiing club seeks membership

FIT–Should water-skiing grab you as being non-exciting and unhealthy? Stop by the next Ski-Club meeting and the members will tell you otherwise.

The Constitution for the Ski-Club has been drawn up and at press time the Student Government was considering it.

Each Sunday the skiers group meet at a specific location and set out in the boats available. FIT's boat, Boomerang II, is a hopeful prospect for future use.

$5 quarterly dues are paid in order for the club to purchase skiis, ski-vests and ropes.

Any student interested in obtaining more information can contact John Chanas, acting president, or Dave Beno.

FIT–Senior Life Saving classes started at 9:00 a.m. Saturday the 19th of October at the campus pool. The instructors for the seven week course are Robert Bredehoft and Buzz Ezrosh. Fourteen turned out for the course with students from FIT and Martin County High.

Mrs. Adelaide Thomas has returned from a very exciting trip to New Orleans for the wedding of a granddaughter, Barbara Tiseo. Mrs. Thomas daughter, Mrs. Charles Tiseo, mother of the bride, drove here from Naples, Florida, so they could go to Miami together for the plane trip. Mr. Thomas agreed to care for Mrs. Tiseo's dog while they were gone.

Barbara and her new husband, Philip Niddrie, met while both attended college in New Orleans.

The wedding was solemnized in the Memorial United Methodist Church and in Mrs. Thomas' opinion, was as beautiful as the bride. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the mother of the groom, who came down from Long Island, New York for the festivities. A reception was held after the ceremony. The newlyweds took a trip to the Grand Canyon before returning to New Orleans where the groom is an interior decorator, and the bride is a hygienist in a hospital for crippled children.

Mrs. Thomas' trip was made more joyous for her because it was a reunion with a brother, George Banks, who came from Houston with his wife, whom she had not seen for a long, long time. Another granddaughter, Toni Iannico, attended the wedding and came to the Thomas home for a two day visit before leaving for Phoenix, Arizona. The youngest granddaughter, Patty Tiseo, caught the bride's bouquet.

One of the highlights of the trip for Mrs. Thomas was a tour of the justly famous Bourbon Street section of New Orleans.

The Lee Goods came in Sunday and Nellie and Harry Stewart, former residents of our Park, surprised us by stopping in.

Jensen Beach Garden Club holds first meeting

JENSEN BEACH—Jensen Beach Garden Club held its first meeting at the Community Church in Jensen Beach. Speaking before the meeting, Mrs. James Hurchalla of Port Salerno described ixoranian growth areas such as sugar sand, hammock etc. and stressed the desirability of planting specimens compatible to their original growing medium. Using live plants as examples, Mrs. Hurchalla described characteristics both desirable and not so desirable for home grounds. Such trees as Red Bay, Paradise Satinleaf and Jacaranda make ideal small home plants which require little care after becoming established.

Presiding at the meeting, Mrs. Harold R. Tartaud announced that the Club has donated funds to Camp Wekiva which is your camp sponsored by the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs. World Gardening also a Federation project, which sends seed, fertilizer etc. to needy countries of the world, and for this year the destination is Belize or Honduras where a recent hurricane devastated the area. The State Flower Show, Feast of the Federation Show to be held in West Palm Beach April 1975 in which a Garden Clubs will be participating.

Civic projects in Jensen Beach to include beautification of a landmark known as The Arch, the construction of the county's anniversary, Mrs. William Stephenson, Ways & Means chairman with her vice-chairman, Mrs. Lewis Stoll, set the date for a chrysanthemum sale to be held at Community Center on Commercial Street on December 7. In addition to this event, the club will run a card party February 26 at the Womens Association Building in Jensen Beach to raise funds for Civic projects.

Introduced as new member was Mrs. William Ellis. Cora Mae Sprinkle and tea hostesses were Mrs. Draper Babcock chairman, Mrs. Carl Schmidt, Mrs. Don Lee and Mrs. Fred Failing.

VA-Red Cross rep at F.I.T.

JENSEN BEACH—George McCrain, Veterans Affairs Volunteer Red Cross, is in the Administration Building on the F.I.T. campus every Monday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. to discuss and assist veterans with their VA entitlements.

McCrain is a veteran and qualified to discuss and explain all of the veterans' benefits and help veterans file the necessary forms. The only requirement on the part of the veteran is to furnish a copy of his service record, DD 214.

McCrain will assist veterans with any problems with their educational awards as they apply to the Veterans Administration.

Many veterans are not aware of their VA benefits, McCrain stated, such as free dental care within one year from discharge.

Others may have disabilities they have forgotten and thus have failed to file the proper forms, he continued.

McCrain is married and a retired resident of Martin County. He may be reached when not on campus through the Martin County Red Cross chapter phone 287-2042.

Florence and George Poor, lot 26, returned to Holiday Out on Oct. 9 after spending almost a year and a half travelling and visiting three children and six grandchildren in Marin County, California. They traveled two months through the northwest and spent the month of January at Venture Out in Mesa, Arizona.

On April 6 they boarded the MS Oriental Esmeralda and spent four months visiting ports around the world. They returned to San Francisco in August.

On Sept. 16 they left to return to Holiday Out with stop-overs in Yosemite and Sequoia National Parks.

They commented, "It's good to be back and see the Park in such good condition. Welcome back from all of us."

Carl Eury, lot 5, has his sister-in-law Helen Eury and two nephews, James and Jerry, with him for a short visit. They are from Asheville, N.C.

* * *

Ralph and Margaret Huff, lot 434, have recently purchased a home in N. Carolina to use for summer vacations.

Betty Nagy, Gert Long, and Gladys Kirkpatrick are attending the Annual National State Sorority Cancer Research convention held at Orlando this year.

This group gathers money through various projects to help young men and women in training for this worthwhile cause.

After the work is done, they expect to take in Disney World before returning home.

Joan Byrne is house mother for the boys here in the park. Joan also has her Aunt Glad and Uncle John Weisse from Terre Du Lac, Mo. here for an indefinite stay.

We also hear that next Sunday Greg Sells will supply fresh rainbow trout for a get-together at the Long and Nagy compound.

A Welcome Home Party will be held Thursday, October 31, at 7 p.m. in the recreation room. So many are returning to the park, bursting with tales of summer activities to exchange with friends. Everyone, do come.

The returnees during the last week were: Liz Faust and Ellena Percy, lot 57; Donald and Joan Kincaid, lot 36; Wm. and Isabel Gordy, lot 144; Bertha and C.J. Ouelette, lot 34; Alice Perreault, lot 11; Donald Hoskin, lot 386; Carl Eury, lot 5; Thom and Marguerite Stieler and sister Dot Walling, lot 345; Fred and Stephanie Kiefaber, lot 74; Jim and Marty Lewis, lot 433; Preston and Jessie Amerman, lot 380; Al and Peg Ray, lot 175; Andrew and Josephine Pariso, lot 456; Albert and Louise Schneider, lot 537.

Visitors in the park are: Blanchette, Robert Neff, Jesse English, Frank White, David Higgins, Michael Murphy, Wm. O. Harrison, and Frank Barnett and his daughter Jane are back with us. Hopefully they will bus back in the park.

It was necessary to drain the pool to place several valves in the pool system. While it was drained, the pool was completely wire brushed and chlorine shocked. The rims around both pools were painted and all bulbs were replaced.

Lake Manor News Notes

BY SYLVIA SIMAN
334-4792

Greetings to all of you after a most enjoyable summer in Illinois and Wisconsin with relatives and friends. We are hoping your summer also was enjoyable.

Some of the things we take so much for granted in America, such as our beautiful highways, our fine foods, beautiful homes and friendly people, were enjoyed to the fullest by my cousin Borghild and her daughter Marit Gullaksen from Norway. They traveled north with us and were with us twenty-eight days. They marveled at Chicago's lovely Lake Shore Drive, having heard only gangsters and crime about Chicago. Lake Michigan was at its most beautiful, filled with sail boats as far as one could see. Another highlight for them was the tallest building in the world, the Sears building. It had just opened that week.

They also were awed at the modern facilities of pipe-line milking at our daughter's farm in Walworth, Wisc. They swam in the pool at the famous Abbey Hotel at Fontana, Wisc., also visited Three Lakes for a week. All our friends and relatives went all out to entertain them and show them places of interest.

In September, it was our pleasure to see our 17 year old grandson win a purple ribbon for his Grand Champion yearling bull. He also received a purple ribbon for shelled corn he raised last year, along with some blue ribbons, as did his two younger brothers for exhibiting heifers.

+ + +

It was so good to hear from all of you who wrote us. We are grateful for your thoughtfulness. A very special thanks to Jen Robertson who kept us well informed about our Lake Manor folks.

+ + +

Our best wishes for good health soon to Liz Krakaur, Bea Brodiss, and Bob McCourt.

Doris Martin has had the pleasure of her friends, Mr. & Mrs. Daniel Burkhardt from Buffalo, N.Y. visit her for the past week. This was their first trip to Florida and they fell in love with Jensen Beach and Lake Manor. They hope to be back permanently some day.

+ + +

Last Thursday evening we had a beautiful pot luck dinner in the hall chaired by Alex Bell assisted by Elma French and Bernie Dubuque. They arranged lovely table centers with colorful crotons and hibiscus.

+ + +

Since we weren't here in July, August, September, we are sending out belated Birthday Greetings to the following:

July 2 Marybelle Morgan; July 4 Pat Brady, Gene Krakaur and Doris Tucker; July 6 John Bollenbacher; July 24 Alice Stoddard; July 16 Ed Stuart; July 28 Bill Davenport.

August birthdays: 2nd Mildred Magoon; 8 Harry Munro and Liz Krakaur; 11 Ethel Rooney and Paul Christen; 26 Lee Tucker; 29 Sylvia Siman; 31 Elma French.

September: 2 Willard Morgan; 4 Edna Staples, Virginia Munro and Bernadette Dubuque; 6 Jerry VanCura; 14, Roz Carver; 20, Caroline Schaefer; 22, Gladys Oakes; 24, Karl Duffield.

October: 6, Charles Siman; 19, George Layton; 22, Ann Pieroni and Walter Duma; 27, Walter Emminger, and 30th, Pat Scriven.

A Most Happy Birthday to All!

Belated Happy Anniversaries as follows:

July 13, Lee and Jerry VanCura. Aug. 6, Elma and Howard French, Alice and Vern Stoddard; Aug. 8, Bill and Edna Eastman; Aug. 15, Bernie and Ken Dubuque; Aug. 29, Alex and Jack Bell.

Sept. 3, Madelene and Fred Ballanz; Sept. 4, Margaret and Karl Ehmenhirth; Virginia and Harry Munro; Sept. 16 Dot and Harry Beamer; Sept. 21 Leona and Roy Carver.

Oct. 10, Bob and Dot McCourt; Oct. 12 Mary and Walter Emminger; Oct. 25 Marie and Jim Williams.

Now let's all get back in the swing. I'll appreciate your news items. Cheers!

Sailfish tourney is set for Dec. 12-15th

STUART—The 21st Annual Light Tackle Sailfish Tournament of the Stuart Sailfish Club will be held December 12-13-14 and 15, 1974.

The emphasis on the dates was made by Tournament Chairman Tom Conlon because for many years the dates but not the days have been set. This year, the committee sought dates which would end the tournament on a Sunday.

For the first time in several years, the St. Lucie Inlet will be in top condition. A $350,000 Corps of Engineers maintenance dredging project was completed in September, and in October the Sidecasting Dredge Merritt came down to Florida from the Carolina capes to sweep the remnants of a shoal out of the way.

For the second year, the tourney will be fished in divisions called colloquially professional and amateur.

Amateurs are those who just want to have some fun, get their feet wet in competition but not be required to fish against the big guys who fish many tournaments a year.

Pros are those who do a great deal of tournament fishing and/or those who have won a major tournament.

Many former winners will be fishing this year. Miss Eleanor Hurlbut, now a resident of Sewall's Point, who beat out a six time winner last year, will be back as will Sam Evans. The last time a winner ...

Few objections heard

City approves annexation-rezone requests for Kitching Cove

PORT ST. LUCIE At a public hearing held Tuesday in the St. Lucie Hilton Convention Hall, the City Council in a four to one vote approved the annexation and rezoning of the Kitching Cove property.

City Attorney Rupert Smith was instructed to prepare the necessary ordinances which will be presented at the November 12 meeting of the Council for the first reading. Second reading will follow on Nov. 26.

The only member of the council to oppose the move was Dr. Harold Nottles.

Charles Crary, Jr. presented the request for the 22.8 acre tract lying south of Prutt Road on behalf of Greg Zielinski, a Milwaukee, Wisc. developer.

The major opposition was voiced by Robert Johnston representing the Port St. Lucie Civic League.

Johnston's objections dealt with the spot zoning rather than the multi-family or townhouse construction.

My problem and major concern is that piece meal spot zoning the city is getting involved with, Johnston said. The mayor recently appointed a planning and zoning committee and I think we who have volunteered our time should be allowed to have committee for their consideration.

Johnston urged the need for master planning for the city. People should know what to expect in a city before they move here, he said.

This is the second piece of property that has been annexed within the past 6 months, he said while pointing to the third champion ship golf course being constructed in PSL on the old Pruitt Property.

Mayor Lacey Kemmet emphasized the fact that Tuesday's action did not approve the site plans.

It could and probably will take weeks before the site plans is approved, the mayor added.

Another South Port resident also questioned the need for the 1 acre parcel to be zoned for commercial use. Johnston urged a comprehensive plan of development.

Crary, however, told the Board that he was buying these lands with the hopes that it would be a golf course community.

Although the total land area is 22.8 acres, certain acres are designated as multi-family units or single family.

The property is bounded on the east by Prutt Road on the south by Midway Road and on the north by the Fifth Fairway area, as noted on the engineering area and will encompass the natural lakes according to Crary.

The project will include two bedroom units and the developer said he will approach the second home or retiree home market, Crary said.

Water and sewage facilities would be handled within the development until such services are available through the city.

The project will also include recreational facilities and a clubhouse and allowances have been provided for bike paths, although there have been no specifics provided for the type surface at this time.

According to Crary, there will be docking facilities provided for small boats.

In an effort to preserve the acquatic life there will be boating locks, he added.

When Dr. Harold Nottles suggested a 100 wide the buffer along Prutt Road would be 125 said. Any building on the project will be a minimum of seventy feet from the property line. The buffer along Prutt Road will be eighty feet from the present road right of way.

Tuesday's public hearing was a continuation from the last hearing when homeowners on the area violently objected to the multi-family proposal offered by Intercoast Development Corporation in their Mid Port dealings.

The old structure was built of native pine and the stained glass windows symbolize the area pioneer families, including the Bakery Saints, which donated the property where the church and cemetery are located.

Fr. Alvarez noted that the Rev. Allen B. Purdue was the first rector when the mission became a full-fledged parish in 1946. Fr. Purdue will deliver the sermon at the 10:45 (important) service which will be on All Saints Day with a celebration of the Holy Eucharist at 5:30 p.m.

Interest in the local church extends beyond Martin County as noted by Hampton Dunn, a Florida author and lecturer. Dunn's historical story of All Saints Church will appear in the Tampa Tribune and Tampa Times on Nov. 3.

An anniversary banquet will be held Nov. 16 at the Florida Institute of Technology dining hall. The banquet address will be delivered by Bishop Paul Reynolds, Diocese of Georgia.

Republicans Joan Jefferson and Democrat Maggy Hurchalla are competing for the post now held by Dr. Fellwock. Mrs. Hurchalla defeated Dr. Fellwock in the primary.

A woman commissioner was appointed to the board in 1968. Paula Saunders was appointed to the commission to succeed Gayle Kirk. She replaced Brett Brunen who resigned because of ill health.

Mrs. Jefferson has emphasized her background in accounting and business management during her campaign.

And Mrs. Hurchalla charges that Mrs. Jefferson has changed her position on the Jensen Beach and growth controls for Hutchinson Island. She says she is not totally against tall structures five or more stories high.

Voting Nov. 5 will be from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. and there will not be any changes in the voting precincts.

Voting in the Jensen Beach area includes Langford Park Fieldhouse (Precinct No. 1, North River Shores area (Precinct No. 2 at the Presbyterian Church.

In Precinct No. 10, voting will be at Sewall's Point Town Hall. Precinct No. 14 voting is at Ocean Breeze Park Town Hall and at Precinct 15, voting is at Rio Civic Center.

In addition to local and state races, governor, U.S. Senate, etc., Martin County voters will cast ballots on seven constitutional amendments.

Seven amendments on November 5 ballot

JENSEN BEACH–Seven proposed constitutional amendments are on the Nov. 5 election ballot, and voters in Martin and St. Lucie counties, also will vote on the 1/2 mill stage ballard bond.

The proposed amendments are:

No. 1. To extend the authority of the state to issue bonds for university construction for another six years beyond the present June 1, 1975, expiration date of the authority.

No. 2. To change taxation, use and assessment laws for historic sites and structures.

No. 3. To change the name of tax assessor to property appraiser, which the assessor says is a more accurate description of their functions.

No. 4. To require senate confirmation of gubernatorial appointments to the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, and to require the commission to submit its budget to the legislature and to work with other state agencies on planning, personnel and management and purchasing.

No. 5. To increase the authority of the Judicial Qualifications Commission to investigate misconduct of judges.

No. 6. To allow governments and private agencies to go together to build pollution plants and power lines.

No. 7. To end personal hardships in the economy, which says no person shall be deprived of any right because of race or religion.

The proposed mileage millage will be for two mention dates.

When real property value increases, the millage must be reduced to direct proportion for the increase in assessment.

The full details are on issues on taxes which exceed 1 per cent on any given year, and provides notice to taxpayers. The bill exempts new construction.

Benefit cocktail party for House of Refuge restoration

JENSEN BEACH—The seventh annual benefit cocktail party sponsored by the Martin County Historical Society will be held Friday, November 1st from 8 to 11 p.m. in the art gallery at the Elliott Museum.

Mrs. Dennis V. Hudson, Jr., co-chairman and Mrs. William Clark, co-chairman, announced contributors include Mrs. R. H. Phillips, wife of the society's president, the Misdames James Fowler and Leonard Chiddo, Clifton S. Peters, William Clark Shepard and Malcolm E. Tarbert.

The House of Refuge Restoration Fund will be the recipient of the party's entire subscription. Tax deductible donations of $25 per person will be doubled through dollar for dollar matching funds.

The House of Refuge, which passed its 99th year on its present site is not only on the National Register of Historic Places which makes it eligible for federal matching funds, but has been placed on the State of Florida's Bicentennial list of places to see in 1976.

Further evidence of well deserved recognition for the local landmark.

Please call the society's office in the Elliott Museum, 287-4256, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. seven days a week for reservations for the outstandingly popular annual social event.

and his brilliant idea perhaps a fancy pillar with an adjoining side wall would be more practical One on each side of the road 707A and route No 1 Our only hope would be to get on the good side of the people owning land there It would also be very important to sell the idea to all of our wonderful Martin County Commissioners It could be a great asset to the future Mall

Now you enter Jensen Beach and look for the attractions We have nothing different from hundreds of other small towns elsewhere We have the Refuge House and Elliott Museum but then they are not in Jensen Beach, but a good drive from here True the Outrigger resort is different but what else do we have for families with children Many towns are constantly looking for new ideas to attract the tourist It is a long distance between Disney World and Lion Safari, a common gripe the tourists have Their kids get sort of jumps when they have to be on the road a long time A stop over in Jensen Beach not only could relieve the pressure on parents but also help in our business Our neighbor town has a childrens petting zoo quite a few children visit there and that is something

What then can we create here that would attract family tourists to our town

Since this is the Sea Turtle Capitol of the World this could be a focal point something to consider I am one of the many interested in these large Sea Turtles Monster Sea Turtles do come on our shores to lay their eggs For those who witnessed these Sea Turtles for the first time they gasp at the sight and remark It is unbelievable This is reasonable and we are fortunate that they come ashore and lay their eggs from May 15th to September 1st The start and end of thousands of people who take their vacations during the summer particularly those with children Thus the Sea Turtles come ashore during the night when all small children must go to sleep

What can you do during the day if you should stop on Jensen Beach? The Jensen Beach Environmental School is a childrens school and deals in marine life It is one of the few of this type and even more so it is outstanding for children Here they have a Museum displaying live and artificial specimens of all kind of marine life This is but one part in attractions to amuse the lil ones Since we include the Sea Turtle eggs right here at a State owned laboratory at the bottom end of the Jensen draw bridge manned by state biologist Mr Ross Witham these Turtles once born are sent to many places including our Refuge House on the Hutchinson Island

Why then can't we have a large Turtle pool in front of the school? Then have a circular parcel of land a half mile or more in front of the school. Here a concrete pool could be built on this land A ragged seawall and roof would have to be erected to prevent flying insects and other debris from polluting the water Then have pumps which bring in the salt water from the river into the school and this is a help since changing salt water would be a necessity for these small turtles I am sure Mr Ross Witham could be of great help in designing this pool They have a large parking space in back of the school Since this school I do believe is partially supported by the government the rest of the financing of this pool would have to be obtained elsewhere This could be but one attraction

The county has a parcel of land near the beach that is now only used for mosquito control This land could be utilized as a beautiful park instead Here they could grow all type of tropical trees and beautiful flowers plus a nice big playground for children and perhaps a small picnic grounds

These are but a few ideas and I am sure there could be many more among others who could make Jensen Beach a tourist attraction and a beautiful place which we could be part of and proud to live in

Thanking you I am,
Al Tomaszewski

To the editor

It is gratifying to read that Maggy Hurchalla and Joan Jefferson both are against building a tall story building on Hutchinson Island

Surely there are places the gentlemen from Miami can find to put their building Where people are not so averse to it Also where it would not tax the facilities so greatly One high rise built now would only lead to many more and add problems to our community

Mrs Arthur A Hansen

Sailfish Squares start season

JENSEN BEACH–The Sailfish Square Dance Club will have their first regular dance of the season this Friday, November 1, at 8 p.m. at Windmill Village on Route A1A north of the Jensen Beach Causeway.

Ed and Beulah Jansson will be cuing the rounds and their regular caller Jack Hoaken, will be calling the squares every Friday night.

Vice president Bill and Val Korbel will conduct a business meeting during the break.

All members are urged to be present, and guests are welcome. Any prospective dancers, or dancers who want a workshop, call 334-5446.

Audubon society offers free classes

STUART–If you are not sure if it's a pileated woodpecker or the almost extinct ivory bill, you'd better attend the free classes which start this Friday, November 1, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart.

So say members of the Martin County Audubon Society.

Ida Cantwell will teach the 12 weekly classes. She will utilize tapes, colored slides and movies, and answer questions on identification and habits of local species.

The classes are sponsored by the Community Service Program of Indian River Community College, under the direction of the Martin County Audubon Society.

Philbrick attending commission meeting

HOLLYWOOD–Vice Chairman of the Martin County Commission, Ross Philbrick is one of several hundred participants in the 45th Annual Convention of the Florida State Association of County Commissioners. The event is being held at the Diplomat Hotel in Hollywood Beach from Wednesday, Oct. 23 through Saturday, Oct. 26.

A resident of Hutchinson Island, Philbrick views the conventions as an opportunity to meet other commissioners and gather information.

In a sense, each county comprises a governmental entity, he said, but it's important to remember that we're all a part of Florida.

Philbrick is attending the convention with his wife, Lois.

Halloween costume winners

JENSEN BEACH A Halloween costume parade was held at Langford Park beginning at 1 p.m. shortly before the Jensen Beach Elementary School PTA carnival.

A team of judges picked winners in the different school grades and for a variety of categories.

Winners include:

Kindergarten: Ronnie Spradle, original; Jeff Burkey, prettiest; Jamie Talbert, funniest; Scott Nydam, story; and Daniel Lydon, scariest.

First grade: Brande Elder, original; Lea An Bustamante, prettiest; Melissa Foust, funniest; Jennifer Thurlow, story; Jason Killer, television; Michale Houn, scariest.

Second grade: Wandy Myer, original; Doreen Slockbower, prettiest; Joyce Allison, funniest; Kevin Nydam, story; Craig Arent, television; Fred West, scariest.

Third grade: Sandy Talbert, original; Cindy Rowell, prettiest; Richard Fowler, funniest; Renee Shackford, story; Leann Neild, television; Scott Reynolds, scariest.

Fourth grade: Karen Weiss, original; Leigh Ann Browning, prettiest; Bryan Evans, funniest; Ginger Britton, story; Cheri Myer, television; Mathew Kohler, scariest.

Fifth grade: Grant Samuels, original; Kim Riedman, prettiest; Jerry Gram, funniest; Michele White, story; Robbie Elder, television; and Darrel Baker, scariest.

Langford Park is site of Halloween

JENSEN BEACH There are going to be a lot of Halloween spooks at Langford Park Thursday Halloween night and they are going to parade in their costumes, eat hot dogs and see a movie.

Planners for the annual Halloween celebration expect the children to be at the big party.

Dick Neeson, one of the co-chairmen, said he expects this year's celebration to be the biggest and best of all past parties.

Neeson, commander of American Legion Post 126 in Jensen Beach, said the Halloween celebration is attracting attention of state and national Legion officials.

They are interested in our program, Neeson said.

Neeson and Al Tomaszewski have held meetings with area clubs and organizations to plan for the celebration.

Working with the co-chairmen are representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, Legion and VFW, and their auxiliaries, Rio Civic Club, Jensen Beach Fire Department, representatives from Jensen Beach Women's Democratic Club, Rotarians Club and Jaycees.

Neeson said the children should do their trick or treating after school until the Fire Department alarm sounds at 7 p.m.

The schedule of events includes the costume parade and then the judging. The judging will be by 7:30 p.m. and then refreshments will be served.

Showing of the movie is expected to start at 8 p.m.

Coffee and donuts will be served to adults, Neeson said.

Realtors declare to vote

STUART Carl Walter, president of the Stuart Board of Realtors, announced today that the Stuart Board of Realtors has unanimously declared Tuesday, Nov. 5, Election Day, as a Realtor-holiday, in accordance with the National Association of Realtors. Thirty Realtors have faith in America.

It was noted by the board of directors that "the individual voter is the backbone of good government in America. Faith in America is built on the assumption that each individual voter will keep faith with the government by exercising his vote."

Toward this end, the directors have made transportation available for all who desire to exercise this privilege.

Call 283-1746 if transportation to the polls is needed.

Halloween happening is Friday

FIT--A live band, and all the trappings of a night club will be moved into the FIT auditorium Friday night as KRK Productions present a "Halloween Happening" for students and faculty.

Hoped for door prizes include a Carribbean cruise for two with all expenses paid, and a "best costume prize" of dinner for two at Frances Langford's Outrigger Restaurant and $50.00.

Tickets for the happening at the auditorium are on sale at the library, the cafeteria and at the administration building. They are $3 per person, which includes food, live entertainment and the chance to win the cruise.

Two bars will be set up, featuring mixed drinks at 75 cents and beer at 35 cents.

If this event is successful, KRK plans other such student events to add to the entertainment value of the area.

Mineral wealth from the world's oceans

BY DOUG ZINN

FIT--As man continues to deplete terrestrial resources, he must experiment and design new ways to obtain these from other sources. One such source which man is rapidly turning to is the oceans.

Scattered throughout benthic environments of the world are potatoe shaped structures called manganese nodules. These nodules contain differing quantities of manganese, nickel, copper, iron, and various other elements.

Although this source has been discovered quite some time ago (one century), it has just been rediscovered in the last two decades in which man has concentrated on mining this benthic resource.

Manganese nodules are characterized as being myrogenous deposits. These materials are composed of species once in solution which precipitated out of precipitated out of the atmosphere into solid phase.

Temperature and gas content of the ocean as well as pressure are important factors that determine chemical reactions which may lead to the precipitation of manganese oxide nodules at the interface.

The existence of these nodules on the floor of the world's three major oceans was first detected in 1872 by the Challenger expedition (1872-1876), which was directed by Sir C. Wyville Thomson. In recent years there has been a great deal of interest in these nodules. Mainly due to the economic possibility of mining the deposits.

The shapes of ferromanganese nodules vary greatly. These forms can be thin stains and coating on marine debris and just about everything. The coating can range from several centimeters thick, to granules, to nodules the size of baseballs.

Recently there was a large formation discovered on the Blake Plateau. Here was found a continuous manganese pavement some 5000 square kilometers in area.

Nodules are relatively scarce in the Atlantic Ocean compared to the Pacific. They are especially common in red clay regions. They are formed in the deep ocean, in shallow waters, in lakes, and lakes.

The details of the structure of the nodules are interesting. At the center is commonly some foreign object or material such as a shark's tooth. Then the nodule is formed around this nucleus in a series of concentric rings, comparative to the growth rings of a tree. The alternating light and dark layers correspond to accretion zones of high and low geothite ($FeO \cdot OH$) content.

Extensive analytic results have been obtained on the chemical composition of ferromanganese concentrations. These nodules consist largely of hydrated oxides of manganese and iron.

Mineral substances common in the environment are also incorporated, and the deep-sea nodules have a distinct ability to concentrate trace elements from seawater, such as cobalt, nitrogen, zinc and lead. The composition of nodules is highly varied from place to place.

These variations are sometimes systematic and may be the result of different origins of the nodules. For example, Mid-Pacific nodules tend to have high cobalt contents (manganese-cobalt). While samples taken near Japan or off the coasts of North and South American tend to be cobalt deficient with manganese-cobalt atom ratios greater than 300.

The latter concentrations may have formed slowly from dilute Mn solutions of continental origin, whereas the former may have been precipitated rapidly from volcanic seawater.

Several years ago two Scottish oceanographers, Steve Calvert and Brian Price, showed that nodules found on sediments rich in organic matter contained much more manganese than nodules from other areas. This, they indicated, was because the organic matter causes manganese in mud to dissolve, providing a plentiful source of the element for nodules at the surface of the sediment.

Now comes the question of the origin of the nodules. The idea that organisms are involved has been enduring. The organisms do contain a noticeable amount of organic carbon, but so does just about every other solid surface in the sea. The carbon ratios are similar to those for fine grained sediments.

To a chemist the system concerning nodule formation is itself something of a puzzle. Many chemists believe the probable sequence of events is as follows:

1. Slightly alkaline sea water (pH8) rich in dissolved O_2, is saturated with Mn and Fe in solution.

2. Hydroxides of these elements precipitate and form colloidal particles. They then aggregate and settle and act as effective scavengers for trace elements.

3. Once on the sea floor, the particles are swept along until they intercept some surface, in particular conducting surfaces which can remove their charge to which they can adhere.

4. The growing nodules can concentrate further trace elements by absorption.

Some industries presently involved in the mining of these nodules are Deepsea Ventures, Howard Hughes Corp. and Ocean Science and Engineering. Probably one of the most important topics of these nodules is discovering economical methods in which to mine them. It will be interesting to the future role of manganese nodules.

CREWING - The early morning light breaks over the Indian River as four FIT crew members practice their sport. The crewmen are members of the FIT junior varsity team, rowing an eight-par shell. They begin their practice at 6:30 in the morning.

FIT loses 4-0 at Miami-Dade

BY JAMES WRIGHT

FIT--For the second consecutive game, the FIT Jensen Beach soccer team let beautiful first half plays go to waste by making numerous defensive mistakes in the second half.

This time, plays was against Miami Dade Central last Wednesday afternoon. FIT lost 4-0 in their worst loss of the season.

FIT played great the first half, keeping Dade on the defensive for most of the play. FIT's Roberto Riveros and Paul Eadie constantly bombarded the Dade goalie with shots on the goal.

The first and only score of the half, however, came to Miami Dade on one of their few offensive plays.

The first score came at 12:30 into the first half, when Dade broke out from midfield on a fast break. It was Socorro scoring from directly in front of the goal to put Dade ahead 1-0.

As the half ended, FIT led statistically, 12 shots on goal to 6. And 8 corner kicks to none by Miami Dade. But where it really counts, Miami Dade was winning 1-0.

As play started in the second half, it looked like a different ball game. FIT could gather none of the momentum it had on the first half, and Miami Dade was playing beautifully.

At 15:32 into the second half, Miami Dade started its three goal scoring spree to shut out visiting FIT.

Dade's Gantz put in this goal when the FIT goalie was pulled out of position with two many Dade players around the goal.

Socorro put in the second score of the half for Dade, and his second score of the game at 17:43. His shot went in just out of the hands of the FIT goalie.

Gantz scored the final goal of the game at 22:09 into the second half. This was also his second goal of the game.

Gantz scored from the right side of the goal, after receiving a pass from teammate Socorro. Socorro brought the ball down the left side of the field, drawing the FIT goalie out of play before passing to Gantz.

After the final score, play became lax for the remainder of the game, with neither team making any real offensive threat.

This was the second meeting of the two teams. FIT winning the first game 2-1 at home.

Last Saturday, FIT Jensen Beach dropped another game. This one to Florida Technical University, 4-1. Roberto Riveros scored the only goal for FIT on a direct penalty kick.

The soccer team's record is now 2-4.

International club

FIT--A new club has been formed at FIT S.O.M.E.T. to promote understanding and goodwill between students of foreign countries and those of the United States.

This organization, the International Friendship Club, is important since there are no cultural courses offered at FIT. It gives all students a chance to learn about other countries by associating with their citizens.

The group has many plans for this year. So far, the club has discussed having a dinner at the cafeteria featuring the cuisine of a certain country, and later having a party in the manner of that country or presenting a show on the country for all students at FIT.

As the program grows, residents of the county could be invited to dinners or shows. The club also discussed the possibility of displaying artifacts from various countries. The idea of forming a team to play the other clubs in some type of sport was also brought up.

The faculty advisor for the organization is G.H. LeMoal, who is from France and has a B.S. and an M.S. from the University of Miami.

The attendance to date has been very good. Sixteen students and one advisor representing nine foreign countries have attended the first three meetings. Of course, the club welcomes all students, both from the United States and abroad.

At the second meeting, officers were elected. Mahyar Parvaresh, from Iran, was elected president. Tran Quang, from Vietnam, was elected vice president, while Elaine Higgins, from the United States, and Jenaoma Darego, from Nigeria, were elected secretary and treasurer respectively.

Meetings for the club are held every other Monday in the college library at 8:00 p.m. The next meeting will take place on [illegible]

Music among us

BY JOHN HINCKLEY

FIT--Last Friday night I went over to see what the Hallskeller was like that had just opened. Since I have been here, I've seen all the best things that have happened on campus. It is [illegible] contrast to these stale dorms.

On the way over, I heard a band practicing in the auditorium and when I got to the bar there was one there too. This brought to mind what an important thing music is for us. We all listen to it to one degree or another and in all different kinds of places. At least every other room in this dorm has a stereo in it with a good collection of records.

Music can be a really important factor in some people's lives. I know it is in mine. Sometimes people say, Well, I only listen to Blues or Jazz. That's fine but do not let your enjoyment of music be restricted to certain categories. Enjoy it for how it sounds.

Playing an instrument can add even more to one's enjoyment of music. Whether it's just playing simple chords that are beautiful just for their sounds or successfully figuring out a song you thought you could never learn, the guitar is unique.

My guitar is one of the most important possessions that I have. I found also that my guitar is one of the best tools for getting to know people.

If you enjoy music, keep it as an important part of your life. It is a good emotional support and can serve you well.

Venture Out News Notes

By Willard Auch

The Starkeys, Brunesius Campbells and Stutzwigs have all been spending some time enjoying their beautiful Indian River lots. Views worth a million dollars!

* * *

From the Mobile Home Section we are sorry to hear that Mrs. Smythe's mother passed away.

Selma Valaro is spending a week in Miami. Hope she doesn't get lost in that big city.

Elsan and Dick Tener are due in about the first of the month.

George and Lee Chambers are just about settled in their new home at Spanish Lakes.

Continuing on with Ida and Harry Hauseman's trip:

"Wednesday on the road again, we drove past the foothills of the Atlas Mountains and across the ancient Bedouin roads to the resort of Marrakech. At night we strolled in the Place Djemaa el-F'na, a market square filled with bustling crowds, merchants, traders, hooded women and holy men.

"Thursday sightseeing in one of Morocco's oldest imperial cities featured the minaret of Koutoubia Mosque, Ben Yussef Medersa with its intricate mosaics, marble and wood carvings, the Medina Jewish Quarter and the Casbah. The remainder of the day was at our leisure.

"Friday the morning drive led us north to cosmopolitan Casablanca. Here we saw the King's Palace and El Hank Lighthouse, once a landmark for Barbary pirates. Later on we continued along the Atlantic coast to Rabat, the capitol of Morocco. Here we stayed at the Hilton Hotel for two nights.

"Saturday our tour was highlighted by the tower of Hassan, King's Palace, Royal Mosque and the old quarters. The afternoon was free to explore the old and narrow streets of the city.

"Sunday we continued north along the Atlantic coast and then turned inland and skirted the forest of Mamora, which was a change of scenery. Once again we crossed the straits of Gibraltar and docked at Algeciras.

"Monday we traveled the rocky coastal roads around the Bay of Cadiz to Jerez de la Frontera, where we stopped for sherry and brandy sampling and a visit to a typical bodega. Then we proceeded to Seville. After a fine dinner, we headed for the fashionable La Parilla where Flamenco dancers entertained us.

"Tuesday our sightseeing included the winding streets, wrought iron grilles, flower filled patios and arched courtyards of Seville. Then there was the Giralda Belfry, the Alcazar, the Gothic Cathedral and the ancient gypsy quarter of Santa Cruz. The afternoon was another time to relax.

"Wednesday the road led us past several quaint villages and later we crossed the border into Portugal again. We arrived in Lisbon late in the afternoon where we spent the last two nights.

"The last night we had a typical Portugal Variety party with local artists and folk lore entertainment. This also included the celebration of our 45th wedding anniversary, which was enjoyed by everyone.

"Friday morning we were all up early getting things ready for our return trip across the Atlantic to the good ole U.S.A. We arrived at Kennedy Airport at 2 p.m. Sunday and were once again through customs. After spending a week on Long Island with Elsa Hess of Hobday, we were ready to head back again to ventrude [illegible] warm weather."

DONOR—Dave Clark was one of the 74 students taking part in the FIT blood bank drive. The effort produced a large credit to students of FIT.

Scouting News

BY MARK SAWUSCH

Troop 811 of Jensen Beach returned Sunday from the Okeechobee Campsite near West Palm Beach.

A camporee is a scout outing in which many troops from a large area camp together and partake in events. Troops from Miami to Vero Beach participated in the event. The theme was environmental preservation.

Each troop participated in these events. Raise Your Leader when boys lash together a type of bridge the leader must crawl across without getting wet. Crescent, where two boys saw through a 32" log against the dock. Up and Over, boys lash logs together to form a ladder and must climb up and over it. Other events such as Orienteering and Map Symbols were also offered.

Each troop was inspected for neatness, cleanliness, behavior and participation. Troop 811 of Jensen Beach received a 1st place award.

Television cameras from Channels 12 and 5 covered the event from a helicopter.

The highlight of the camporee was the evening show. A skit about environmental preservation, singing and other presentations contributed to the show.

The scouts from Jensen Beach participating in the event were: Danny Carlock, Joe Roberts, Curtis Wilson, Alan Robinson, Tom Martin, Fred Kahl, Brian Kahl, Willie Kahl, Mike Carlock, Robert Goodoak, Peter Gilman, Jeff Clause, Mark Sawusch, and Tommy Seesen. Adult leaders participating were: Art Pitman, Max Robinson and Dan Carlock.

Each boy received a patch for participating in the three day event.

MCWA honors local writer, names officers

STUART—At its regular semimonthly meeting last week, Martin County Writers Association received an award of merit, member and chose its officers for the coming year.

MCWA offered congratulations to Wilhelmina Raisbeck of Miles Grant, who has been voted nationally for a short story she wrote and submitted to a creative writing contest sponsored by Writer's Digest. Mrs. Raisbeck's story ranked 45th among more than one thousand entered in the nationwide competition.

In other business, the local writers group named Marion Traeger and Ethel Hazel Smith of Jensen Beach president and secretary, respectively. Although there are no dues for membership in MCWA, Violet Dan of Port Salerno was chosen treasurer of a fund to be used for sending congratulatory messages to members whose works are published from time to time.

A new member, Randy Lewis of Stuart, read excerpts of her poems. Barbara Clarke of Rio discussed the properties and pleasures of preparing a variety of specialty cuisine. Chairman [illegible] of Palm City announced tentative plans for a Christmas party.

MCWA invites all writers, amateur and professional, to attend the next regular meeting of the association on Wednesday, November 6, at 10 a.m. in the community room of First National Bank of Stuart.

V.F.W. news

BY CHUCK BENDER

We at Post 10088 would like to thank the ladies of Indiantown for the wonderful time we had at the 11th District Fall roundup. District 11 Commander Ray Prentice commented this was one of the finest roundups he has seen in years. We will have pictures next week.

Our membership drive has fallen behind somewhat only 56 per cent of our men in this time last year, we were over the top. As you know the dues were raised at the last national convention. This is to go into effect the first of the year. We only have November and December to save that extra dollar, so let's not wait until the last minute.

November is going to be a busy month as usual, our meeting nights will be the first and third Thursdays (Nov. 7 and 21). The auxiliary will hold their meetings Wednesday nights (November 6 and 20).

November 8 and 9 will be Buddy Poppy Days. We need all the help we can get to sell poppies. All the money collected from this event is for needy veterans. So come and help your comrades.

On Sunday, November 9, we will travel to Ringling Brothers Circus Museum for a state wide Veterans Day celebration.

Monday, November 11, is the true and official Veterans Day. We will join other veteran groups in the national observance.

We urge all members to come and enjoy your Post. Bring a friend and let them see what a growing Post we have.

SERVICE OFFICERS REPORT

BY GEORGE M. HODGE

VA VETERANS' PENSION- IV

Public Law 93-177, which was signed into law by the President on December 6, 1973, and became effective January 1, 1974, changes Section 3010 of Title 38, United States Code, that concerns the effective date of Veterans Administration awards. The law authorizes the Veterans Administration to establish an earlier effective date for a veteran who applies for disability pension. This change would provide for payment retroactive to the date on which permanent and total disability commenced, if application is made within one year following such a date. Under the previous authority, a veteran could only be eligible for pension from the date his application was stamped into the Veterans Administration, even though he may have been totally disabled and unemployed for many months. It will be necessary for Service Officers to readjust their handling of such cases. During the interviews, it will be advisable to attempt to determine exactly when the veteran became totally disabled, and the status of his employment record at that time. This will mean the veteran should possibly obtain evidence from his doctor, showing the date that total disability started, together with a report on an employment record, plus any other supporting data that would be helpful to the VA in making a conclusion.

The new law permits the VA to pay benefits to a veteran retroactively for a maximum of one year, but not earlier than 1-1-74, the effective date of the law.

Certainly, this represents quite a drastic change from the law and regulation which has been followed heretofore. We hope that all Service Officers, and others who file such claims, will become familiar with this provision.

Organ Society meet

FORT PIERCE--The Fort Pierce Organ Society regular monthly meeting will be held on Friday November 1, 1974 at 7:30 p.m., at the Garden Center, 806 Parkway, Ft. Pierce. Light refreshment will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

THANK YOU

Tom and Nellie Cook wish to thank their many friends for their lovely anniversary congratulatory cards and tokens of love. We treasure every one of them.

STUART--Added to the Sailfish Club Summer Tournament records last week was a 16 pound-3 ounce bluefish caught by Leon Miller of West Palm Beach.

Belated congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roddenberry who were married on September 13 in Ohio. Mrs. R is the former Lydia Dulgar. They will soon move into Spanish Lakes. We wish them much happiness.

It is just wonderful to see the marvelous improvement in Bill Borseth a legs after a long recovery from surgery. Such a pleasant surprise to see him zooming along on his bike. His wife Vi is very happy for him, and she was just beaming when I spoke to them at the store one day.

* * *

A most sincere apology to Gladys Oakes for not including her name on the pot luck committee list of October 17. All four ladies set up a beautiful dinner and we are grateful.

* * *

We are happy to know that Ken Dubuque is doing so well after his eye surgery.

Received a phone call from Margaret Rosengarth telling me of the company she and Karl had this summer.

They were pleased to have Karl's sister, Laura Rosengarth from McKeesport, Pa. for ten days. Their friends Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Bares, also from McKeesport, visited for a week. Then later they enjoyed having their niece and nephew, Nancy and Jack Karh and their two children, Don and Ann, from McLennan, Alabama. I would say they had a busy summer.

I would like to hear from the rest of you who had summer company.

* * *

We are happy to say "Welcome home" to the following: Mr. Larson, Edna and Bill Eastman, Mary and Pat Scrivens, Bob and Edna Staples, Olive and Russell Allwardt.

If I missed anyone I hadn't heard you arrived.

* * *

Charlie and I want to thank you for the fine individual greetings you gave us. It makes us very happy to be back.

* * *

Lee King met her daughter Rosemary Wright in Puerto Rico last week. Lee went via Miami. Rosemary flew down from Chicago. They stayed at the Cerramar Hotel, had a fine visit together, enjoyed sightseeing-especially Morro Castle, and Rosemary did some golfing.

* * *

Our November activity sheet is out. Be sure to check it so you will not miss anything.

Cheers!

I BELIEVE

- Our County needs a strong, healthy, environment and economy.
- Conservation and development must find a way to work together.
- Our local economy depends on tourism; we must permit reasonable well controlled growth or sacrifice jobs.
- Hiring a County Planner was a step forward.
- The Hutchinson Island Plan and the St. Lucie Comp. have established workable plans for the future.

Planning alone is not enough. I support these plans.

- The County needs better arterial roads to serve the population centers.
- Overburdened roads should be improved by the County regardless of location.

Esther and Andy Gentry received a letter from Lowell Foster in which he said that Gertrude entered the hospital, as planned, on the ninth, but had to wait until the 16th for back surgery. She is getting along well. The doctor said he thought she would be able to make the trip to Florida in about a month suggesting she would be more comfortable in a plane than in an auto. They are eager to return, and Lowell said "I will start packing just as soon as I get the word go."
* * *
When Nonie and Harry Crossett were on the way down they stopped off for a short visit with Thelma Jones who told them she will soon come to spend a month or so at D & M. Thelma has many friends here who will be very glad to see her.
* * *
A big Welcome Home to Fran and Bill Gehrig and to Bill and Jennie Levingood who found Pittsburgh Pa. a little too cold and Florida just right.

Francis Waldron and his wife have opened up Rea and Walter Waldron's place prior to their arrival Monday from Massachusetts.

Lucy and "Babe" Adamson have been happy hosts for the past week of their daughter and son-in-law June and Earl Baur of Turtle Creek, Pa. who often manage to spend time here.

Howard and Emma Jarrett took the trip down from East McKeesport, Pa., in their travel trailer in easy stages, because Emma had been confined to the hospital recently. She is feeling much better now and they are both delighted to be here.

Art group see slides

STUART—Modern art, a rich period in art history, was the program subject at the October meeting of Art Associates of Martin County.

Mahlon Cline, president, showed 28 slides of paintings from a Metropolitan Museum collection. The slides were coordinated with a taped commentary by Ray Bunker, who did the research for the program.

Bunker's discussion covered impressionism, fauvism, expressionism, abstract and cubism.

Several impressionist works were shown and Bunker stressed that the artists painted scenes of middle-class life but considered subject matter unimportant. The real subject of their works, he said, was light and essentially, the brilliance and luminosity of light on water. Paintings showing this theme were discussed.

Mondrian's abstract mosaics of colored rectangles and black intersecting lines were described as geometric abstractions. His use of primary colors, area proportions and varying thickness of lines was closely related to architecture.

One of the most popular slides shown, Marcel Duchamps' "Nude Descending a Staircase," brought interested comments from members. Bunker said this work had been described as "an explosion in a shingle factory." Duchamp, he said, had succeeded in showing an object moving through space, creating sensations rather than perceptions of an abstract figure in motion.

A famous Picasso, that of a monochromatic cubist nude woman, was explained by Bunker as a search to create the effect of a fourth dimension involving time and space and movement in a distorted human figure. This slide was one of several that Cline chose to repeat as he analyzed line, movement and color for the members.

Projecting the slides onto a large drawing pad, Cline used a felt marker to rough in basic compositional lines, design repeats, area masses and movement patterns. He also commented on color subtleties used to project physical sensation, symbolism and illusion.

The group's next meeting will be November 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank and Trust Co. The program will feature "Gesture Drawing" with the demonstration by Lighthouse Gallery instructor Shari Gifford.

Guests may attend the meeting and program for a donation of one dollar.

WW1 Barracks 854 News

BY ALVA SCOTT

JENSEN BEACH—WWI Barracks 854 and the Auxiliary will hold a covered dish meeting at Langford Park on Friday, November 1.

The lunch will start at 12:30. Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish and their own beverage. Business meetings will start at 1:30. All WWI veterans are invited.

Thursday, November 14, is the date of the next dessert card party given by the auxiliary. It will take place at 12:30 p.m. in Langford Park hall. There will be table and door prizes according to Mrs. Irene Lutz, hostess. All are invited.

Real Estate course is offered

STUART—A course in Real Estate Appraisal is offered for adults at 7 p.m. Monday evenings at Stuart Middle School, 575 Cove Road, Stuart.

The twelve week course covers principles of appraising residential, multi-family and small business properties.

Cost, income and sales approach are discussed together with the principles of feasibility analysis. Some sample problem solving will provide experience for the students.

Registration fee for the course is $2. Students will be required to purchase the recommended text which cost $4.

The course should be valuable to persons involved in real estate transactions, either as sales representatives or as individuals who buy and sell properties.

BOTH DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS SUPPORT TOM JOHNSON

SENATOR TOM JOHNSON

DEMOCRATIC STATE SENATOR TOM GALLEN SAYS . . .
In this area of rising crimes and liberal supreme court rulings giving criminals loopholes, we certainly need the continued service of a dedicated hardworking legislator such as Tom Johnson.

STATE SENATOR WARREN HENDERSON SAYS . . .
Senator Tom Johnson has worked long and hard for the benefit of the people of Florida. He is one of the only two senators serving on the Select Committee of the Florida Law Revision Council as well as a member of the powerful Senate Rules Committee.

SENATOR DAVID C. LANE, SENATE MINORITY LEADER, SAYS . . .
Senator Johnson has been one of our most productive members in introducing conservative legislation. He has actively supported legislation to require able-bodied welfare recipients to work for their money.

RE-ELECT
TOM JOHNSON

Big St. Lucie turnout expected

PORT ST. LUCIE—More than 65 per cent of the St. Lucie County registered voters are expected to cast ballots in the Nov. 5 general election Supervisor of Elections James Brooks said Tuesday.

We have a lot of county-wide interest in the election, Brooks said.

Not only do we have County Commission and School Board races but we have referendum issues, he noted.

Brooks pointed out that there is a lot of interest in the hospital bond issue, millage rollback legislation and the Fort Pierce Utility Authority issue.

There are more than 25,000 registered voters in the county and Brooks expects 17,000 of that number to get to the polls between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m.

In the County Commission District 4 race incumbent Republican Ed Enos is seeking his second four-year term.

Enos is opposed by Democrat Marjorie Silver Alder, a former commissioner and an active member of ... [illegible] ... qualify the agency for state and federal revenue sharing funds.

Rep. Chuck Nergard, who presented the bill to the legislature explained all this bill does is to restore what has been general law in the state of Florida for years. According to Nergard, the law was omitted a few years back creating a loophole whereby local governments could push taxes right on up to the ten mill limit without any restrictions whatsoever.

The local millage rollback bill subject to voter approval on Nov. 5, covers the counties of Indian River, St. Lucie and Martin.

The proposed $16 million hospital bond issue is another item expected to bring the voters out next Tuesday.

For several months the Citrus public relations team for the Ft. Pierce Memorial Hospital has made every effort to educate the public on the importance of this issue. He has stressed the fact that with the passage of this bond issue the hospital will belong to the people of St. Lucie County. It will not become a political football to be bounced around by governmental officials.

The hospital would be [illegible] governing board ... [illegible] representative areas, each of the six districts in the county, one at-large from south of Midway Road and one at-large from the north to Okeechobee County line, north. The north member will automatically be the chairman.

VOTERS–The voters in Precinct 1 Jensen Beach gathered at Langford Park House early Tuesday morning to cast their ballots in the Nov. 5 general minees

Higgins-Hurchalla win election

JENSEN BEACH In a stunning upset Democrat Tom Higgins ousted incumbent Republican Ed Gluckler in the Martin County Commission District 2 race in Tuesday's election

Higgins former county Planning and Zoning Director did not get on the ballot until Oct 29 but he launched a full scale intensive campaign

Unofficial votes gave Higgins 6 999 votes to Gluckler s 6 010 votes

In the Commission District 4 race Democrat Maggy Hurchalla defeated Republican Joan Jefferson

The unofficial tally was Hurchalla 7 059 votes to Jefferson 5 813

A Democrat also captured the District 3 School Board seat with Dr David L Anderson defeating incumbent Republican Howard Way The unofficial tally was 6 885 to Way s 5 771

Way attempted to keep Dr Anderson off the ballot but just last week Judge C Pfeiffer Trowbridge refused to issue an injunction ordering the county commission to take Anderson s name off the ballot

Higgins was placed on the ballot when the court ruled that Clay Lambeth former Sewall s Point mayor was ineligible for the race Lambeth was disqualified when the court ruled he had not complied with the state s resign to run law

Gluckler had won his primary race by a wide margin and was predicted by political observers to be a shoo in for reelection

Hurchalla had defeated Democrat Commission Chairman Dr Ed Geary in the primary by a comfortable margin

Martin County voters also voted overwhelmingly for the referendum on the "millage rollback"

The unofficial vote on the referendum was 7 634 for to 1 702 against

EPISCOPAL LEADERS–Bishop Wallace E Conkling ret retired bishop of Chicago presided at a Holy Eucharist Celebration Friday Nov 1st at All Saints Episcopal Church in Jensen Beach The Rev Frank Alvarez rector and his congregation are observing the 10th anniversary of the church building s dedication

Chamber committee lists leaders

JENSEN BEACH–Except for the slate the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce Nominating Committee unanimous in its recommendations slate of officers and directors for coming year

Committee Chairman Art Hansen said since the committee could not agree on the nominee for president it decided to recommend that nominations be made from the floor at the chamber membership meeting Monday

The meeting at 7 30 p m at the chamber

The slate of officers and directors recommended by the committee includes

L D Kirkpatrick vice president owner of Man from K I R K Ginny Van Dein secretary owner of Joan s Beauty Salon Lisa Campbell treasurer business manager of The Mirror

One year directors Donald Wilkie owner of Florida Nursery John Hesburn retired Joseph Bumbera owner of Noninthe Pubes Arthur Hansen retired Joan Retsch owner of El Clare Motel Apts Jacqueline Hall secretary and treasurer of Commercial Cooling Ellers Wright president of St Lucie Chemical Supply and Joseph Mauldin assistant vice president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association

Two year directors Ernest Tooley dean of FIT Frank Mock attorney and Fred Stein president of Casa Rio Boat and Motor Sales Inc

John Dicky immediate past pres ident partner of Savannah Water Development

Under the revised constitution procedures for electing officers and directors requires that the Nominating Committee makes a verbal report at the November general meeting and then additional nominations may be made from the floor Election of contested nominees will be conducted by secret ballot

Officers and directors will be installed at the annual December general meeting and terms begin on Jan 1

Serving with Hansen on the committee were J T Mauldin and C T Hyder

Savannas Update report scheduled

JENSEN BEACH–Tonight's Wednesday audience at the Environmental Study Center Savannas Update will get its first look at the Center s new fresh water aquariums donated last summer by the Metaframe Corporation The two 75-gallon and one 20-gallon all glass tanks have been set up for the occasion by John Whitlock Center technician

The tanks are part of $1 000 in equipment donated by the aquarium manufacturing firm from East Paterson N J in response to a request from the Center They are complete with filters and stainless steel lighted hoods

They are really beautiful Center Director Jay Jarrett said The larger tanks permit us to display more and larger specimens of local sea life They have more nooks and crannies for the fish to establish territories and exist together

The program first in the year s monthly First Wednesday series will be narrated by Dr Walter Stalker who will present color slides of the unique marsh The state has recently announced its intention to purchase the area

"Savannas Update" is scheduled for 8 p m November 6 at the Center 205 South Indian River Drive Jensen Beach The aquariums will be available for inspection both before and after the program

Mirror Cooking Show is set for November 21

JENSEN BEACH–What has been termed the most exciting format used in the 10 year history of The Martin Cooking Show was announced this week by Richard Campbell editor of The Mirror The show will be November 21 at the St Lucie Hilton Convention Hall

It will be a faster pace a more entertaining show designed around the things housewives and men in the kitchen want to do as well as how they can cut corners on cooking Campbell said

Directed toward the more relative matters of cooking to conventional methods and by the new time saving micro wave ovens the cooking sessions will be short and to the point directed by Linda Shrigley and Barbara Benson home economists

The gourmet chefs will have the opportunity to see a demonstration of a special flambe receipe by Max Lang the chef of the St Lucie Hilton

Throughout it will be fashion modern of years and Peter Pan will be modeling the latest in fall fashions on the show that has taken excitement from the lure of the season with a theme of Vendice Fashions for the Holiday Season

PSES—The feature of the November artist exhibit at The Jensen Beach Mirror is this painting of gypsies by Nataly Nijinski, well known local artist. The one-man show will be on display in The Mirror lobby 19 Commercial Street, during the month.

Nataly Nijinski art exhibit at Mirror

JENSEN BEACH—Bold, bright colors typify the artistic endeavor of Nataly Nijinski, who begins a one-month art exhibit at The Mirror this week.

The exhibit is dominated by a large canvas of gypsies, seven feet tall, with a violent splash of reds and yellows erupting from a thousand hues of blue.

"As soon as I finished it, I knew that it needed two smaller panels, one on each side," Mrs. Nijinski said.

Mrs. Nijinski has no formal training, and is self-taught as she developed her artistic talent. Her paintings range the gamut, from portrait to land and seascape.

Along with the gypsy painting in her exhibit, Mrs. Nijinski features two portraits, one still life of a vase of brightly colored flowers, and one entrancing painting of a fallen tree that shows off the subtle summer hues of North Carolina forests.

VFW plans citizenship role in 'Voice' contest

JENSEN BEACH—High school students will have a chance to compete in the annual "Voice of Democracy" contest of the Veterans of Foreign Wars this year and the announcement of contest dates set a December 10 deadline this week.

The $22,500 scholarship program on a national, state and local basis, is an annual event that tries to enrich youth with a spirit of strength, unity and spirit of the nation according to VFW officials.

The contest is open to students in the ninth through twelfth grades at area high schools.

Theme of the contest this year is "My responsibility as a citizen," and the entire month of November was recently proclaimed "Veterans of Foreign Wars Voice of Democracy Month" by Governor Reubin Askew.

Contest dates have not yet been announced by the VFW.

Birthday greetings

JENSEN BEACH—Birthday greetings and congratulations are extended this week to Elsie Wenthers, and Mike Swenson, celebrating tomorrow, Nov. 7; to Cindy Howard and Jeanette Robinson, Nov. 8; Martha Spinney, Linda Tankersley, no wanton and Nancy Chagnon, Nov. 9; and to Gwen DeWitt, Julie Lemaster and Sandra Jean McMullen, Nov. 10.

Costumes winners

JENSEN BEACH—Several hundred Jensen Beach children in a variety of spooky dress paraded before the judges halloween night at Langford Park.

In several categories, judges picked winners for the funniest, best dressed and scariest costumes.

After the parade, the spooks had refreshments at the field house.

Costume winners include:

Pre-school funniest, Erick Thompson; best dressed, Lorraine Barthet; scariest, Kathleen Murphy, original, Charlotte Pennington.

Kindergarten—funniest, Angela Wilson; best dressed, Steve Wallace; scariest, Jamie Talbert.

First grade—funniest, Lee Leann; best dressed, Patty Totilis; scariest, Jason Killer.

Second grade—funniest, Wanda Myer; best dressed, Doreen Slocbower; scariest, Linda Mang.

Third grade—funniest, Sandy Talbert; best dressed, Sherie Fiemann; scariest, Paul Klett.

Fourth grade—funniest, Brandy Aycock; best dressed, Nancy Totilis; scariest, Sheri Myer.

Fifth grade—funniest, Paula Hammond; best dressed, Shelly Scott; scariest, Joe McDaniel.

HOTDOG BREAK—Enjoying hotdogs after taking part in the annual halloween costume parade at Langford Park are Pavi right, and Chad Collins. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Collins.

Dr. Stokes to address NARFE

STUART—Dr. walter Stokes, psychiatrist and environmentalist, will be guest speaker at the November meeting of the Martin County Chapter of the National Assn of Retired Federal Employees (NARFE).

The meeting is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, November 13, in the Community Room of the First National Bank and Trust Company.

Preceded by a social hour.

Philip Clark, district leader of Florida State NARFE from West Palm Beach will attend the meeting.

Evinrudes get honor

JENSEN BEACH—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evinrude of Jensen Beach have been named honorary chairmen for the 1974-75 Martin County United Fund drive, it was announced Tuesday.

At a recent board of directors meeting, campaign dates for the campaign were set. The campaign will begin Jan. 14, 1975 and continue for about 30 days.

'The Mouse That Roared'

STUART—The Playhouse Lyric proudly presents the Junior Players in "The Mouse That Roared" November 14, 15, 16 and 17, curtain time 8:30 p.m.

The Junior Players number 23 and audiences will find in them many very talented young performers.

The Mouse That Roared explores what happens when a country with a population of 6,000 declares war on the United States.

There will be a special appearance by Hall Cole playing the role of the crazy Professor Kokintz. Cole is a member of the Playhouse Lyric Senior Players and is best remembered for his performance as Garrison Hubbard in "Norman, Is That You?"

Rescue drive

JENSEN BEACH—The Animal Rescue League of Martin County started its 1974-75 drive Tuesday, Nov. 5 with a meeting of the league's board of directors at First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart.

Goal of the drive, which is headed by Mrs. Leon Baker, is $28,000.

Jean Henry, president of the league's board, said the league will not be affiliated with the United Fund of Martin County during this period.

Serving as vice chairmen with Mrs. Baker will be Mrs. Lloyd Dutcher and Mrs. Howard Graham with Lee Rasch treasurer. Mrs. Ronald McLean publicity.

C. Scott Fletcher is acting as temporary campaign consultant.

Miss Henry said that the $28,000 will be matched by the City of Stuart and Martin County.

Fletcher pointed out that the campaign was kicked off with a $2,000 contribution by Mrs. Baker and an additional pledge of $1,000. She has agreed to match the highest individual contribution over $2,000 at the close of the campaign.

PORT ST. LUCIE—Wimodausis Club of Port St. Lucie members are reminded that November 14 is the date set for a dinner meeting at the CESA Building at 6 p.m.

Members of the Masonic Club have been invited. Everyone is asked to bring a covered dish and their table service.

Skip Bafalis reports from Washington

Skip Bafalis

WASHINGTON--"The most meaningful thing which has ever happened to me" -- that was the way one 16th District high school student summed up her seven days in Washington as a member of the 1974 High School Congressional Intern Program.

Another young man wrote that the experience has prompted him to get more involved -- "involved in more activities than I ever knew existed."

That has been the typical reaction of the nearly 50 youths who have had the opportunity to visit Washington since I inaugurated the 10th Congressional District High School Congressional Intern program in 1973.

It is a program which has given me a great deal of satisfaction because of the way these young students have reacted. In fact, many show more interest in government than most adults do.

During their week in Washington, the interns -- one representative from the junior class at almost every high school in the district -- receive what amounts to a crash course in how the federal government works.

They spend hours talking to Congressmen and Senators, sitting in on committee meetings and listening to the debate on the House and Senate floors.

They spend hours talking to Congressmen and Senators, sitting in on committee meetings and listening to the debate on the House and Senate floors.

They are briefed by the State Department, talk with representatives of foreign governments, learn firsthand the functions of the White House and the executive branch, study the Supreme Court and, hopefully, end up with a better understanding of how the three branches of the federal government work.

Every effort is made to expose the students to a wide range of political philosophies and to members of both political parties.

In short, we try to give the students a well-rounded, intensive look at their government, with the hope they will return home more encouraged about the strengths and weaknesses of our governmental system and with the realization that the practice of government is a worthwhile profession.

In 1973, the first year of operation, 23 students were able to take part in the program. Last spring, the number jumped to 27.

Next spring, we'd like to see a junior from every high school in the district taking part in the week long seminars scheduled for March 18-21 and April 13-18.

But the deadline for applications is fast approaching.

Any junior wishing to take part must apply by next Friday, Nov. 15.

Applications are available through guidance counselors, government teachers or principals at every participating high school. If interested, just pick one up, fill it out and submit it.

In each school, the members of the junior class will vote among themselves to narrow the number of applicants to four. Those four will be interviewed by a local screening committee to select the interns and an alternate.

So, if you are a high school junior interested in government, please apply immediately.

I'm sure you'll find it an enjoyable and rewarding experience. It isn't all work. There is time to see the monuments, buildings and museums which have made the nation's capital a mecca for tourists for many years.

And there is a chance to experience food from a number of nations, thanks to Washington's excellent selection of restaurants.

So it is an experience you'll remember for a long time, in addition to learning a great deal about your federal government.

Any discussion of the 10th Congressional District High School Intern Program would be incomplete without a tribute to those individuals, businesses, and civic and fraternal groups whose contributions have made the program possible.

The intern program has been truly a district effort. Banks, savings and loan associations, small businesses, and large firms, Kiwanians and Rotarians, veterans, realtors, and others gave willingly so these alert, bright young people can have this rewarding experience.

I am sure the response this year will be equally as heartwarming for I know of the high regard in which the 10th Congressional District holds for its young people.

Earth Week is planned

FORT PIERCE--The Indian River Community College Ecology Club will be sponsoring a four-county Earth Week November 18 through November 22, including Martin, St. Lucie, Okeechobee, and Indian River Counties. The plans are to make this an awareness program, to make the community more conscious of the environment, and also to create esthetic, health and safety improvements.

On the campus, plans are for a contest among the 41 service organizations to decorate the campus using the Earth Week theme.

Advanced level square dancing to start

JENSEN BEACH–Advanced level square dances will be held at the Jensen Beach Elementary School on Route 723 on the following Saturday nights: Nov. 23, Dec. 28, Jan. 25, Feb. 22 and March 29, from 8 to 11 p.m.

The caller will be "Singing George Hinkel, who is known as Florida's "clear-as-a-bell caller". He and his wife Ruth retired to Melbourne from Hartford, Conn. They became interested in square dancing in 1960.

Hinkel graduated from the Pittsfield, Mass. Callers School and has been a full time caller since moving to Florida in 1962. He calls regularly for four clubs: Silver Squares of Melbourne's, Circle Eights of Vero Beach, Promenaders of Palm Beach, and Buttons and Beaus of Lakeland.

Ed and Buelah Janason will cue the rounds.

The Hinkels and Janasons say, "Come join us for an evening of good dancing. We can't guarantee to lift your fallen arches, but we can guarantee to lift your spirits!"

Dessert card party

PORT ST. LUCIE–The regular monthly dessert-card party sponsored by the St. Lucie Catholic Women will be held Wednesday, November 13, at 1 p.m. in the parish hall.

Tickets are available at the door. The public is invited.

AAUW meeting is scheduled

STUART–Stuart Branch, American Association of University Women (AAUW) will hold its regular monthly meeting Saturday, November 9, 10 a.m. at the Community Room, First National Bank.

The program will be a panel discussion on volunteer work in the community with special emphasis on the newer opportunities for service, such as FISH Council on Aging, and the volunteer teacher program at Stuart Middle School.

Florida residents free at Lion Country Safari

WEST PALM BEACH—An expanded Florida Resident's Pass policy for Lion Country Safari was announced recently by Robert L. Pendell, director of operations for the 640-acre wildlife preserve and theme-amusement park on State Road 80.

Effective immediately, any permanent Florida resident, upon presenting proper pass at a Lion Country Safari admission window will be admitted free to any special attraction provided he or she is accompanied by either one full paying adult admission or two full paying child admissions.

To obtain the new pass, valid only at Florida's Lion Country Safari, an applicant need only come to the park's administrative offices with a paid admission ticket and proof of permanent Florida residency, the marketing manager added.

HOSPITAL LIBRARY CART—Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary workers instituted their own lending library on wheels for patients Monday. The service will be in effect Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays with about 200 books available for patients. Looking over the selection, left to right, Mrs. Helen Hartman, Mrs. Hazel Orman, library chairman and assistant worker; Mrs. Marilyn Cleveland.

MARCH FOR A DAY–Mrs. Robert Edgar was crowned Monarch for a day Saturday night while she and friends were having dinner at Frances Reed's Outrigger Restaurant. The crowning was done by Allen Holley, general manager of The Outrigger.

Center seeks project

JENSEN BEACH–The Environmental Studies Center in Jensen Beach is seeking funding for two projects, center director Jay Jarrett said.

Jarrett, several suggestions, said he has two projects in mind to present to the Florida Bureau of Environmental Education for funding. Jarrett said.

He said the two projects include training teachers and develop field programs in the country and the other would be to establish an audio-visual library of locally produced materials for use by the school system.

The director pointed out that as a result of requests for color slides of local scenes, Robert Reynolds, photography instructor at Florida Institute of Technology, gave the center slides of the professional quality shots including some wildlife photos of birds at rest on and off nests.

Jarrett also noted that Ed Flaherty, WMCH announcer, provided the center with taped narrations of the middle-school-side tape shows.

In other center activities, Jarrett noted that the Martin County students visited the Indian River Drive center during the first month's activities.

He said that Ruth Anderson's continued programs for nine classes in the kindergarten grade three range

Boaz and Cook win odds & evens

PORT SEWALL–In the Boaz and Cook Women's Golf Association odds and evens tournament last Thursday at St. Lucie Country Club, Mrs. Boaz and Virginia Cook posted low scores.

Irene Herbert and Rose Hoover tied Mary Scalise and Claudia Van Hoose in second with 74 and Jane Hall was third place low with 76. Ann Sapia, Barbara and Dean Roberts, Grace Yeiser and Lydia Rathbone.

Fourth place went to Helen Cochran and Edna McDaniel with a 77. Tied for fifth with 78 were Sally Tucker and Rose Schwartz, Helen Wachtling and Grace Ewing, Cynthia Underhill and Dot Sa Tanner.

Sporting an additional two under par were Bonnie Jones, Jean Hoover and Betty Sullivan. Esther Wilson and Virgie Galbraith, Sonia Edwards and Addie Harmon.

ST SHOW–The first annual boat show sponsored through the Marine Industries Association of Martin County was an overwhelming success according to Mike Nielsen, association president. About 1200 people attended the show last weekend held on the Jensen Beach Causeway. Twenty local dealers and suppliers exhibited in the show which is already being planned again for next year.

Leilani has lights! Lights were installed this week under the entering signs so residents and their guests can now find their way into Leilani at night without going into the Jensen Beach Elementary School parking lot.

We have a request from Julie Webb, age 10. She would like to get a group of children together to do Christmast caroling around Leilani during Christmas week. Presently there are three children in the group, so if any girls or boys are interested, call Julie at 334-7219.

Belated Happy Birthdays to Jim Shaffer, October 19; Carl Justi, October 24; and Irving Wamnes, October 29.

Kerry Ann McNamara reached the ripe old age of "one" on October 28.

Family of the Week

On September 15, the DiStefanos made Leilani Heights their home. The DeStefano family consists of Bonny, John and their two young daughters, Regina and Eileen.

They are not strangers to Jensen Beach as Bonny's parents, Helen and John Gilbens, are winter residents of Riverside Village, and her aunt and uncle, Dorothy and Albert Egan, live in North River Shores.

John has been employed as a meat cutter by Harris Pride for nine years, and was recently transferred from Delray, S. J. Perry Hill in the Stuart store.

Bunny is a registered nurse and is working as one of the directors of Nursing Care Services, Inc., in Stuart, which is a new nursing service. They provide cleaning and placement for qualified medical personnel and will be available for patients from Martin and St. Lucie counties, offering around the-clock nursing care for patients who can convalesce at home under professional guidance.

Bunny and John's hobbies and interests center completely around their two girls and home life. John enjoys working around their house continually making improvements. They love to garden and especially enjoy getting out in this delightful weather.

Regina is seven years old, is in the second grade at the Jensen Beach Elementary School and is in Brownie Troop No. 365.

Eileen is eight and is in third grade at the Jensen School. She is a Brownie in Troop No. 160.

The DiStefanos originally planned to purchase a home in Fort Lauderdale, and even went so far as to place a deposit. Soon after they began to have second thoughts about that area as they started checking the school system, noticed the heavily congested shopping areas and roads, the limited access to beaches, and other problems not conducive to good family living. They decided to cancel their commitment and began their search northward, slowly and thoroughly looking over each town and the surrounding homes. They found nothing that fitted their "ideal" until they hit upon Jensen Beach and, at the suggestion of Bunny's parents, the new development of Leilani Heights.

They feel they have attained everything they want in the purchase of their home here. Their house is perfect for their needs, and they appreciate the friendly neighborhood and proximity to the best elementary school in Florida for their two pretty daughters.

Congratulations to the DiStefanos as they are celebrating two birthdays this week. Bunny's on Nov. 3 and John's on Nov. 9.

Holiday Outlines

BY RUTH BOWES
324-4946

Betty Taylor has turned the column over to me for the winter months. She will help, however, working as a much needed reporter for the south end she is on lot 56.

Greta Updike will also assist in the general section, she is on lot 12. And Marth Lewis will be gathering news for the north end from lot 433.

So everyone share your news of interest. Let's make all our news "news". I will try to keep you posted on special events.

The Welcome Back Party on Oct. 31 was very well attended. 166 people were here. Many were surprised that so many people are back in the park.

My co-workers Lillian Schrappa, Carrie Ullmann, Martha Lewis, Mabel Henrichsen, Peg Ray, Jerry Blanchette and husbands all worked 100 per cent to make the first party of the season a wonderful social affair. The food was good and abundant. Everyone seemed glad to be back home in Holiday Out.

Martha Lewis, who is in charge of tours has been very busy getting trips lined up. She furnished me this splendid list:

Disney World, 1 day, Jungle Queen Dinner Cruise 1 day, Sea World and Circus World 1 day, Busch Garden Weekie Wachie and Kapok Tree, 2 days 1 night, North Everglades and Shark Valley Tower 1 day, Florida West Coast, 2 days 1 night, Viscaya and Key Biscayne 1 day, Everglade and Flamingo 2 days 1 night, Key West, 3 days 2 nights, Passion Play, 1 day.

Now is the time to think and plan about the trips you would like to take. You can find Martha on lot 433 for full details about dates etc. Also there will be notices on the bulletin board in the rec hall. Watch for them.

Don't forget the First Aid Course now forming. The classes start Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Holiday Out recreation, conducted by Dick Clark.

Betty Taylor, Hot and Bill Blair and Red and Hazel Brumund attended the 50th anniversary celebration of Joe and Edna Vansant, along with a host of friends and family. A buffet was held at the country club in Rehobot Beach Del., hosted by their children.

* * *

Maurice and Mary Ahearne from Plymouth, Mass., are new home on lot 210.

Ruth Jacobsen of lot 184 came in with a friend, Mrs. Frances Clarke.

* * *

Grandma Pieter I am very happy to report came through her operation okay. How wonderful!

* * *

Betty Taylor's son Jim, his wife Dolly and four children are visiting in the park for a week or so, on lot 213.

* * *

We hear that Olive and Ralph Taylor said they wanted to leave the north before it turned too cold, so we expect them soon.

* * *

Returnees are: Harry and Vergual Smith, lot 176. Doc and Pinney Bennett, lot 359. Bud and V. Hocker, lot 399. Maurice and Victoria McKeever, lot 143. Austin and Mae Williams, lot 420. Robert and Robert Wall, lot 418. Minor and Jane Myers, lot 348. Lottie and Wilmute DeVore, lot 88. Ronald Distrow and his guest Ed Riley, lot 69. Walter and Marie Vallery, lot 294.

Robert Wiley, lot 83; Grace and John Madden, lot 388; William and Doris Wachner, lot 445; Theo and Grace Sjoding, lot 139; Marcia and Everett Rupert, lot 186; James Bloodgood and family, lot 463.

Robert Reitz as a guest on lot 480. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Seymour, from Ohio, are visiting on lot 385.

* * *

A birthday party was held Oct. 28 for Geet Simpson on the Simpson patio. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. M. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. D. McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bright, Mr. and Mrs. S. McCart, Mr. and Mrs. G. Walling, Ruth Bowes and, last but not least, "Poopsie." Cake, cookies and coffee were served.

* * *

Dick Clark was pleasantly surprised last Thursday with a patio party in honor of his 29th (?) birthday. Zoo and Pinney Bennett, Harry and Vergual Smith, Marvetta and Attwood Brocket bank gathered for a delicious spaghetti dinner. A good time was had by all.

The amount of 58 pounds from Carolina for a community cook out, as promised. Carolyn Allen made the hush puppies, oh so good!

Guests were the Longs, Nagys, Fusaccis, Mae and Bucky, Helen Allison and her daughter in law Connie. This was held on Friday.

On Saturday, it was barbecued ribs on the Long and Nagy compound.

Marvin Smith was hospitalized recently, but is home now feeling very well. Expects to be back in the park about the third week of November.

* * *

Betty Taylor told me that so many people have told her of meeting friends on their trips en route here or home. It finally happened to her when she met up with Johnny and Grace Carson at a restaurant and gas station on her way down.

* * *

Henry and Lucille Borecki, lot 16, are back in the park.

* * *

Our "Meet the Candidates" night, held Friday in the rec hall, was well attended. We met and listened to Marjorie Adler and incumbent Jim Enns, County Commission candidates. After a brief talk by each one, many good questions from the floor were asked and answered. D.R. Creed was the moderator.

* * *

Happy Anniversary to Greta and Upp Updike, November 4, and to Marguerite and Thomas Stieler on November 9, their 45th.

* * *

Happy Birthday wishes to Geet Long, Oct. 31, Helen Ambrogne, Nov. 4, Cathy Cahill, Nov. 8.

The Community Spirit comes to Port Salerno.

It's the grand opening of Community Federal's new office!

Port Salerno has always been a pretty spirited place to live. And suddenly, there's even more Community Spirit. Because November 12 through November 18, Community Federal is celebrating the grand opening of their new office, at U.S. 1 and St. Lucie Avenue.

Like the first five Community Federal offices, the new Port Salerno facility is designed to serve you with the greatest possible efficiency. There's free parking, drive-up windows, a night depository, and a spacious lobby. Plus, you can conduct your financial transactions at any of Community Federal's six locations - no matter where you opened your savings account or closed your loan.

During the grand opening celebration, you'll want to register for the free prize drawings. No deposit necessary, and you need not be present to win. Just register at Community Federal's Port Salerno Office, on or before November 18.

There's also a souvenir gift for everyone at Community Federal in Port Salerno.

It's a great time to get into the Community Spirit!

The Winning Spirit.

GRAND PRIZE

Panasonic Stereo Music Center, with AM/FM radio-receiver, automatic turntable, and two speakers.

5 FIRST PRIZES

A $100 savings account will be given away each day the new Port Salerno office is open, from November 12 through 18.

Enns wins; millage rollback bill passes

PORT ST. LUCIE—Incumbent Republican Ed Enns defeated Marjorie Silver Alder in a 1,000 vote lead to retain his seat as the District 4 County Commissioner during Tuesday's general election.

The unofficial tally gave 7,301 votes to Enns while Alder collected 5,803.

In the only other county race Democrat Tommy Bruhn defeated Pauline Guyer to capture the District 1 seat on the Board of Public Instruction.

Unofficial results showed Bruhn received 6,711 and Guyer received 5,712 votes.

Despite the opposition from the Port St. Lucie City Council south county voters joined the trend of St. Lucie County in support of the millage rollback referendum.

Unofficial tabulation indicated the voters supported the millage rollback by a three-to-one majority, 7,225 for and 2,641 against.

In what was probably the most heated issue in St. Lucie County, the hospital bond referendum went down to defeat for the second time in as many years.

In referendum number 9, which established the taxing district, voters opposed the issue by nearly an 800 vote margin, 5691 against and 5202 supporting.

Voters also opposed the implementation of the hospital district, 5,715 to 5,346.

...ity elections, charter bring political action

...RT ST. LUCIE—Some residents of ...ity of Port St. Lucie, citing the ...ed for a change in city government ...the city charter, are forming an ...nization to back political candi... for city office and study possible ...ges in the city charter.

...e first meeting of "Interested ...owners of Port St. Lucie", at ...e over 100 residents attended, was ...t week. Another meeting was ...Tuesday with a committee being ...ed to meet with an attorney, Wednesday (today) to begin organization.

Lolita Kernohan, secretary-treasurer of the group, admitted Tuesday that the group was seeking organization, and hesitated detailing the objectives of the group. However she did say that the city charter "permits too much" power to the city council and added that the charter adopted in 1961 needed a review since "there are people here now and the original charter was issued to the developer, General Development Corporation."

Mrs. Kernahan indicated one of the items which has aroused the concern of the citizens was the retirement or pension plan the council recently adopted.

"This plan is astronomical and they have even gone so far as making it retroactive as far back as necessary to protect every member to the fullest extent," she said.

It is the purpose of this organization to investigate the budget and to back candidates for the forthcoming March elections, she concluded.

According to Mrs. Kernohan the organization, in their first month of existence, will disband following the election.

Chairman of the organization is Art Sprague, a former Illinois senator.

The next meeting has been tentatively scheduled for Nov. 18 at the convention hall.

Porky pancakes well received

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Porky Pancake Breakfast put on last Sunday by the Friday Nite Gang was a great success from all angles, according to Gang host Cedric Benz.

Those partaking of the pancakes prepared by Lola Petrie, known to the Gang as the Champion Pancake Batter Mixer, were complimentary of the quality of the food and service received. Tabulation of receipts and expenses showed a satisfactory profit which will assure a happy Christmas for a few needy five-year-old youngsters.

The Gang extends hearty thanks to all the workers, and to the guests for coming.

Master plan promised by January

PORT ST. LUCIE—In what could be aptly described as an armchair chat, GDC officials met with members of the city council and the city's planning and zoning council to discuss various matters.

Among the items discussed during the two and a half hour workshop session were the proposed Rivergreen Condominiums, flood insurance, a sanitary landfill, paving of Westmoreland Blvd., a master plan, the extension of St. James Road into Fort Pierce, and the savannas.

From all indications, one of the more important items to come of the meeting was the promise of C.C. Crump, Sr., Vice President, GDC Homesite, to furnish a master plan of the entire city by January.

Mayor Larry Kimmel requested GDC conduct a broad brush study to furnish the city's planning council with the projected density per square mile.

"There is a dire need for a total community plan and I would like to suggest you make this study based on the maximum density figures, unrestricted and unrestrained," Kimmel said. "Upon completion of this study our planning and zoning council will know the maximum that can be expected."

The request followed an updated presentation of the Rivergreen Condominium project, proposed for Mid-Port section, situated west of U.S. 1. The total development would consist of two and four story condos totaling 660 units. The first phase of construction would include 120 units. Although GDC Planner Bill Kreidt told the group the project was currently on a "hold" status, concern was expressed by the city planning board member, Bill McChesney, for the number of proposed multi-family projects going into the area.

"When we talk of Port St. Lucie being a planned community, it is hard for me to believe. Everything I hear lately seems to be directed toward multi family living," McChesney said. "This is an unpopular plan to the citizentry of the city."

Crump pointed out that the condominium and cluster housing is a vital part of any community.

Pointing out condominium and cluster housing is a vital part of any well balanced community, A.L. Harper, GDC legal advisor said, "The entire thrust from the federal level is directed toward this type of development simply because we're running out of space. They urge a more economical use of land and stress the need for more green areas."

In what might have been considered a surprise move, Crump ordered the firm's director of engineering, Ken Miller, to get out the work releases and start the construction of the company's portion of St. James Avenue linking the city with the 25th Street extension in Fort Pierce. He indicated the GDC portion would be completed before the first of the year.

At the same time the city was assured the paving of Westmoreland Blvd. was included in the GDC budget for 1975.

Operational next season

Nine holes of Wilderness Park scheduled for January opening

PORT ST. LUCIE—The opening of the initial nine holes of the Wilderness Park golf course is scheduled for January, with the entire course being independently operational the following season, according to E. Duane Chester, assistant vice president of General Development Corp.

City officials and representatives of the news media were on hand Monday morning to hear the progress report on the third championship golf course being constructed in Port St. Lucie.

The new links, which promise to be one of the most unusual and challenging in the country, was designed by Leroy Phillips. Construction is under the management of Chester.

"With five golf courses ultimately planned for Port St. Lucie, two are already nationally known for their championship games, and the third one is well on the way to completion," Chester said.

The first five holes are sited on an island in the North Fork of the St. Lucie River.

"We are awaiting permits from the U.S.C.G. to construct the bridge spanning the Pruitt Cut to Pruitt Island where the first five hole of play will be located," Chester said.

"This is a time consuming process. The paper work has been approved through the Coast Guard in Miami and we are awaiting the clearance from the Washington office now."

According to Chester, the contract for the 60-foot span has been awarded to The Murphy Construction Company in West Palm Beach.

The pro shop, lounge area, cart building and deck will be located on the island contiguous with the first five holes of play.

A 1000-foot natural trail will lead between a virgin mangrove forest and the river to the first hole on the island.

"The strategically designed course is an environmentalist's dream. Favorable endorsement has been received from environmental and government agencies alike," Phillips said.

The nine completed holes, springed in mid-October, will be incorporated temporarily with the championship 18 hole Saints course. This will provide an extra two hours of starting time or 60 more players per day within a contiguous 27 hole complex.

Tentatively named Wilderness Park, the links lay between the Saints and Sinners courses. The par 72 champion ship course is 6,875 yards long and contains 23 acres of lakes within its perimeter. The majority of the lakes are natural formations, brimming with bass and other good-eating aquatic denizens. Bird life is abundant. A driving range will be adjacent to the scenic canal and mangrove preserve.

Phillips explained that the fertilizer which is being used to assure good grass growth will also act like vitamins and assure equally good fish growth. So far 165 tons of the fertilizer has been mixed and remixed with the course's topsoil on the first nine holes completed. The grass, 419 Tiff on fairways and 328 Tiff greens-as is being sprigged at the rate of 800 bushels to the acre.

A sizeable inventory of large earth moving equipment, together with a labor force as high as 35 men, have been used to shape the land into an undulating terrain with contoured tees, greens and bunkers accenting a landscape interlaced with trees and water areas. Small lakes are being deepened, enlarged and shaped, and will be interconnected with a piping system to provide consistent water levels. A totally automated sprinkler irrigation system will assure controlled watering throughout the course. reservoir storage will be provided by lake areas. Cluster parking at the pro shop will be among groupings of trees and plants. Sand traps, cart paths, nature trail environmental plaques and rest shelters will provide finishing touches to a golf course certain to rank among the nation's finest.

The completed complex will cost approximately $1.5 million.

Florida residents free at Lion Country Safari

WEST PALM BEACH–An expanded Florida Resident's Pass policy for Lion Country Safari was announced recently by Robert L. Pendell, director of marketing for the 640-acre wildlife preserve and theme-amusement park on State Road 80.

Effective immediately, any permanent Florida resident, upon presenting a free pass at a Lion Country Safari ticket window, will be admitted free to the attraction provided he or she is accompanied by either one full paying adult admission or two full paying child admissions.

To obtain the new pass, valid only at Florida's Lion Country Safari, an applicant need only come to the park's administrative offices with a paid admission ticket and proof of permanent Florida residency, the marketing manager added.

HOSPITAL LIBRARY CART–Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary workers instituted their own lending library on wheels for patients Monday. The service will be in effect Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, with about 200 books available for patients. Looking over the selection, left to right, Mrs. Helen Porteous, Mrs. Hazel Hyman, library chairman and auxiliary worker; Mrs. Marvin Cleveland.

New officers-directors

Hansen heads Chamber election

BY DUKE CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH–He is the man who walked in the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce office three years ago saying, I've just retired and want to do something – like stuffing envelopes or whatever I want to stay busy.

Art Hansen took over the traffic study committee and recommended many changes in Jensen Beach traffic pattern that were accepted by the Martin County Commission and put into effect by the State Department of Transportation.

He then spearheaded the in-depth study of Jensen Beach incorporation heading the committee that for the first time in twenty years, brought incorporation to a vote in the community.

Monday night Art Hansen was elected president of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce, heading up a board that contains many new faces in a movement designed to recognize the continuing growth of the town.

Only seven of the fourteen directors and officers that served last year have been retained on the board with many who have not been retained moving to committee head positions that Hansen says broadens the working ability and manpower of the Chamber.

New faces include L.D. Kirkpatrick owner of Man from KIRK vice president Joseph Bumbera owner of Somethin' Fishes Jacqueline Hall, secretary treasurer of Commercial Dredging Ellery Wright president of St. Lucie Chemical Supply. Earnest Traino dean Florida Institute of Technology in Jensen Beach Frank Mock attorney Fred Stein, president Casa Hot Boat and Motor Sales.

Retained as secretary is Ginny Van Dien owner of Jeans Beauty Salon treasurer Lisa Campbell business manager of The Mirror Don Wilkinson owner of Florida Nursery, Joan Belsch owner of El Flate Motel Apartments Joseph Mauldin assistant vice president, First Federal of Martin county, Jon Parks immediate past president, partner in Savanna Water Development.

Walker was put in charge of arrangements for the installation dinner in December.

Hansen's accomplishments the last two years include the land agreement for the swimming complex the town's first should head the Chamber the committee made up of Hansen, Clarence Bethel and Mauldin will start the president's one year spring term in their committee.

All officers and directors were elected by acclamation to the general meeting of the Chamber held in the new Chamber office building.

BLIND POPPY–Bessie Walker, "buddy poppy day" last Friday, Nov. 8 in Jensen Beach and residents of Jensen Beach made their purchase of the VFW poppies. Thus poppy is selected by Vera Murphy of Jensen Beach who is offering one of her poppies to a customer.

COLORS AND BANNERS–Martin County veterans organizations displayed their colors and flags outside the Jensen Beach Women Association clubhouse prior to the Veterans Day program Nov. 11.

Commission to re-group

JENSEN BEACH–Martin County Commissioners will hold its annual reorganization meeting next Tuesday Nov. 19 and will elect a new chairman and vice-chairman.

Current Chairman Dr. Ed Grady was defeated in the September primary by Mrs. Maggie Hurchalla who has been defeated Mrs. Dian Jefferson in the District 4 commission race.

Commissioner Ed Glueckert was defeated by Tom Higgins in the Nov. 5 general election.

Holdover commissioners include vice chairman Ross Philbrick, Elmer Powers and John Kiernan.

Democrats who argued hold a 3-2 majority Powers, Higgins and Mrs. Hurchalla.

However partisan politics will be expected to enter into the selection of new leadership according to county house and political observers.

A1A lights are okayed

JENSEN BEACH–SR A1A on Hutchinson Island may not become the great white way, but Martin County Commissioners Tuesday voted for installation of street lights along the road.

Commissioner Ross Philbrick who lives on the island recommended that street lights be installed along existing developments and the beach access strips and Park 'N Ride.

There will be 11 or 12 lights along that strip of roads Philbrick said.

Funds for the lights will come from the Road and Bridge Department.

Philbrick also recommended that a street light be installed near Baker Road.

The Jensen Beach area commissioner also asked for a title research on the North Savanna Road.

The title research will determine if a right of way survey is needed. At one point Savanna Road comes within 50 to 55 feet of Skyline Drive. Philbrick said.

County can't push away from the table

JENSEN BEACH–Martin county Commissioners Tuesday were not through the agenda of little items appearing on it after they had adjourned.

The commissioners were called into Commissioner Chairman Dr. Ed Grady's office.

Redistrict is asked

JENSEN BEACH–A study of Martin County's voting districts is being requested by county commissioners.

Commissioner [illegible] said a request was prepared by the county attorney's office and will be presented to the county commission at its next meeting.

The request will ask that the county be redistricted into five districts with one commissioner from each district.

Currently the county has three districts with two commissioners from each district.

The request will also ask that the commissioners be elected by district only.

Currently the commissioners are elected by district but must live in the district they represent

OSHA is fear?

WASHINGTON—Is fear the only way to get obedience to a law which everyone recognizes as being worth while?

That's the question being asked about the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

The OSHA act of 1971 was designed to ensure as far as possible every working man and woman in the nation safe and healthful working conditions.

The problem with OSHA is not with the goal itself.

The problem lies not in the goal, but in the way the goal is being reached.

The emphasis is on penalties not on education, training and voluntary compliance.

Nothing is more obvious from looking at a breakdown of the OSHA budget for the next three years. In fiscal 1972, the first year of OSHA operations, the agency spent 3.7 per cent of its $35 million appropriation on enforcement and only 1.3 per cent on training, education and information.

By fiscal 1974, the next succeeding years with budgets twice as large, the percentage spent on enforcement increased, but so did the percentage spent on education and training. It went to 4.1 per cent.

The increase is even more striking in actual dollars. In fiscal 1972, OSHA spent $36.1 million of its $35.8 million budget on enforcement and only $2.2 million on training and education. In fiscal 1974, the budget for enforcement was $124.6 million out of a total budget of $69.6 million while training, education and information was nearly $3.4 million.

Even more disturbing is the fact that OSHA need not offer any assistance or guidance in overcoming the violation. It's just there's the problem, this is the fine. And if it is not corrected quickly, you'll be fined again.

That's no way to bring about healthier and safer working conditions particularly in small businesses which need help in both understanding the extremely technical OSHA regulations and in correcting cited deficiencies.

It was for this reason the House voted to exempt small businesses those with fewer than 25 employees, from the law. Unfortunately, the Senate refused to accept this amendment.

So OSHA continues its policy of using fear to obtain results.

Unfortunately, it is a policy which can only be labeled self defeating.

There are millions of businesses in this nation and only 2,000 OSHA inspectors. Since it takes about eight hours to conduct the average inspection, the odds are that only three out of every 100 businesses will be inspected each year.

And if fear is made the only reason why businesses should conform to the OSHA regulations, there is no real incentive for a firm to take any affirmative action because the odds are against his being inspected.

If OSHA wants to continue this ridiculous posture of using pure fear it will need some 66,000 inspectors jumping to enforcement budget from the current 24 million level to a budget bursting $82 million.

No, if we are to achieve the goal of assuring working men and women of a safe and healthful place to work, the emphasis must be placed on voluntary compliance on helping businesses to make their operations safer and healthier.

Hopefully, Congress will soon take corrective action and get fear out of the federal campaign for safe working conditions.

News of Nettles Island

BY MAY TIFFT

So many people returning, I will just have to jot them down as I think of them and even so will miss many.

* * *

Edith and Dean Avis are back after a summer in Michigan.

* * *

Edith and Bob Johnson took a fall foliage tour of Quebec and the New England states. They said next time they would come back earlier as they hit snow.

* * *

Jessie and George Reardo rolled in Nov. 7th so we will see their big boat back at the dock soon.

* * *

The Jerry Dickinsons are also back.

* * *

Anyone wanting to help with the restoration of the beach area, please talk to Jim Erskine. He will assign you a time convenient to both you and the maintenance department.

* * *

It is now necessary for you and your guests to wear tags when in the pools or recreation area. This is for protection of boat property in the recreation area.

* * *

Theatre in the Round had a meeting Nov. 5th. Skits for after pot luck suppers are planned and also a Christmas play. We need all you hams and musicians so join us and have fun.

* * *

Arlene and Lauren Juliard returned this week also. I asked how their sea boat, Gigi was and they said they planted in April. Then there was a flood and after that a drought and then a freeze. It's September. Guess the newspapers didn't exaggerate about conditions out that way, did they?

* * *

The newly formed Woman's Club of Nettles Island met Wednesday, Nov. 6th. The officers are: Ruth Masters, president; May Tifft, vice president; Velma Clift, secretary and Ann Murphy, treasurer. The club hopes to start a library. Edith Johnson is to be in charge and already has some plans that sound real good.

The Clubs first big social project is to be a Thanksgiving dinner to serve 200 to 250 people at two sittings. More to be published about committees and other things at a future time. About 45 were present at the meeting. I think it is going to be a very worthwhile club, plus a lot of fun. Join us.

Debbie Lonergan, one of our staff members, underwent surgery Nov. 4th at Martin Memorial Hospital. By the time this is in print, cards will reach her c/o James Davis, Rt. 2, Nettles Island, Jensen Beach, Fla. 33457. Her convalescence will be 3 weeks so there is lots of time to send best wishes.

* * *

Norma Fournier is back from Bay City, Mich. and is on Lot 1064. She has her own trailer this year and plans to stay until June 1975.

* * *

Grace McKee is back and reported in to Theatre in the Round right away. She has been very ill, but is some better. We depend on her for accompaniment and choreography for our shows.

* * *

Nov. 2nd there was an information meeting for lot owners with their Board of Directors. It was a most successful one and with few exceptions everyone came away more than pleased with everything that has been accomplished since last April by the Board.

* * *

Right here I want to say that Ray and Tom Roberts, social directors, are both working so hard to keep us all happy and are doing a marvelous conscientious job.

* * *

After pot luck Wed. Nov. 6th we were entertained by a pre-school group directed by Avalon McGann. The conducting was done by a cute hand puppet protruding through the curtains. The participants were: Marie Engel 4 years, Lauren Fett 4 years, Robbie Fett 3 years, Paul McGann 5 years, Timmy McGann 2 years, Stephanie Hautmann 4 years. They sang such songs with gestures as the Hokie Pokie and He's got the whole world in his hands. They were as cute as a bunch of kittens to watch. Thank you, Avalon, for the time and patience this involved.

Sue Satti and Helen Neels today too.

They go back home for the holidays, but then will be back for the Winter. They came in yesterday. We stopped to see them on our way south at their pretty home and enjoyed it so much.

* * *

Evelyn Ganz is back home here too after visiting her daughter on the west coast. Al showed up at pot luck with a delicious tossed salad he made last week. Better hang on to a chef like that, Evelyn.

* * *

Vis and John Olson leave around the 12th of this month to visit their children and will not be back for at least two months. Can you imagine Nettles Island without them? We do wish them a safe and happy trip.

* * *

And last but not least, you will have to hear about Walter and his dog, Bobo. Sunday, Walter Beck was jumping up and down by the canal across from us yelling, Help me, Help me. Then jumped in the canal. Seems Bobo had slipped and fell in the canal and Walter jumped in after him. Bill Gosselin jumped in his boat and rescued them. Mission accomplished. The funniest thing was later from Jim Brown who witnessed it all from a distance and who remarked, tongue in cheek, I thought when I saw him jump in the canal, what a strange place to commit suicide.

Ft. Pierce Central repeats last years score 18-7

FT. PIERCE—This is an age of advanced technology, and in football there is the instant replay. But sometimes replays are slower in coming to you, as was the case with the game of last year's 18-7 Ft. Pierce Central victory over Martin County. When it finally did come into reality it was a different score, but other than that everything was the same. It was Central merely overpowering the opponent in the final quarters and pulling out the victory.

BY DONNIE WILKIE

Martin County controlled the game for all but the third quarter. From there it was Central's passing attack, coupled with superior defense, which gave the 26-16 victory out of three hats.

The Tigers' biggest problem was their inability to move the football when they reached the Central defense which held them in the triangle.

Martin County opened the scoring in the third quarter with a pass. They scored 34 yards. Robert Morris to Henry McFadden, who lateraled to the trailing back, Morgan Sprott. Sprott then ran the rest of the way for the 6-0 lead. Prior to this week the Tigers had not converted on any of their nine touchdowns. But this time they did as Sprott caught the pass from Morris for the 8-0 lead.

But the Cobras came right back as Richard Bellamy got off a 34 yard scoring pass to Gary Trice. The two point conversion was good and the Cobras had the score tied 8-8.

Martin County couldn't move the ball, so they punted to Ft. Pierce. The Cobras took the ball and marched for the go-ahead touchdown. This time Trice ran 26 yards on a reverse to give the Cobras the lead at 16-8.

But Martin County came back as their defense forced a fumble and John Watson rumbled 24 yards for the tying touchdown. The two pointer was good and the Tigers had a 16-16 tie.

But then the Cobra defense tackled Robert Morris in his own end zone for a safety. That made the score 18-16. Although Martin County tried to come back it was hopeless as Fort Pierce scored again this time on an eight yard run by Roosevelt Duncan.

This week the Tigers will meet the Glades Central team at Glades Central. The game will be played at Belle Glade Florida and will start at 8 p.m.

FIT's Jeff Goodman attempts shot on the Shelton College goalie. This shot was stopped, but others went in as FIT Jensen Beach beat visiting Shelton College 11-0, last Saturday afternoon at Stuart Middle School.

PSL Vikings clobber Jensen, 19-0

JENSEN BEACH—The Jensen Beech Razorbacks couldn't move the football at all last week against the Ft. St. Lucie Vikings at Langford Park as the Vikings beat Jensen Beech 19-0.

The first score came on a 5 yard run by Van Johnstone but the extra point run was missed. Then, in the second quarter, Johnstone added his second touchdown of the game when he dashed 21 yards for a 12-0 lead.

The final score came on a 2 yard run by Bruce Goodwin late in the fourth quarter. Ryan McMahon caught a pass for the extra point.

Bobby Bibbee and Ron Kirkpatrick were the leaders for Jensen Beach, as they turned in a fine game. Steve Poux also played well but only 12 men showed up for the game and the Razorbacks were simply outmanned.

Next week the Razorbacks will meet the Palm City Dolphins, in a game at Palm City. Get out and support your local Junior Football League team.

FIT clobbers Shelton

FIT-FIT had a field day, while scoring 11 goals and shutting out visiting Shelton College last Saturday afternoon.

FIT, whose season's plague has been missing short shots, kicked in everything but the kitchen sink.

Moshin Radi was the big scorer for FIT as he victimized the Shelton goalie 4 times, but the whole team had a piece of the action and tasted the sweet victory.

Radi opened the scoring at 8:08 when he scored from the center of the field directly in front of the goal.

Hardly giving time for the cheering to die, Roberto Riverros scored the second goal of the game. Riveros tally came at 8:15 from his position at the left of the goal. Then at 10:30, Radi scored again after out maneuvering the defenders in front of the Shelton goal.

FIT kept up the pressure, but did not connect again until Pan Kraderi scored at 29:37. His shot made the score 3-0.

The final score of the half came from offensive juru-ethouse Jorje Delgado at 39:15 into the half. Delgado, playing his first full game after being side-lined for most of the season with an injury, made up for lost time by constantly harassing the Shelton goalie from his forward position.

At just 1:40 into the second half, Riveros put in the sixth goal of the game and his second of the day. He scored after bringing the ball down the left side of the field eluding Shelton with his superb ball handling.

Barely a minute later, it was Radi scoring his third goal of the game. Radi scored from in the back of the action in front of the goal.

Delgado scored the eighth goal of the game and his second goal of the day after receiving a pass from teammate Mark Anderson.

Radi scored the ninth goal of the game and his fourth of the day at 7:30. This time Radi headed a corner shot past the Shelton goalie.

Walter Lail later scored the tenth goal of the game at 11:34 into the second half. Lail kept up the impressive performance with his relentless hustle, received a rebounding situation as he left the field.

Dave Clarke, who played perfectly in the goalie spot for most of the game and now moved to the left wing position, put the icing on the cake for FIT.

With just 26 seconds to play, Clarke ripped in a corner shot for the final goal of the game and an 11-0 FIT win.

Other offensive players who didn't score but were instrumental in the win were Carlos Xavier, Rich Squirrel, Herk Jeff Goodman, Mark Jenkins, and Bruce Taylor.

The players on defense for FIT, who were responsible for the shutout were Jon Hannen, Andy Fleischow, Terry Lamar, Mark Anderson, Blair Hough, John Kraderi, Roger Swede, and goalie Kirk Vreidenburg.

JUNIORS: Port St. Lucie did well all round Saturday night in Langford Ball Park against Jensen Beach. The senior division beat Jensen 19-0, while here in the junior division, Port St. Lucie wiped out Jensen 6-0. Above a PSL man heads down the sideline only to be stopped by Jensen.

Amateurs have fun in tourney

STUART—According to Tom Conlon, chairman of the Tournament Committee of the Stuart Sailfish Club, an amateur sail fishermen is a guy who just wants to go out and have some fun, get his feet wet in a tournament, but not have to compete against the big boys.

A professional is one who, before a given date, continually fishes in tournaments and possibly has won one of the big tournaments, including a Light Tackle Tourney of the Stuart Sailfish Club.

Many former winners of the local tourney, including Miss Eleanor Bartlett of Sewall's Point, who boated six billfish winners, Sam Ellett of Lost Tree Village last year, will be competing in the December 12-13 tourney.

But Conlon is looking for more amateurs participants from the area. Bartlett tied in last year's contest, who was the first to reach the total for an amateur division.

Last year, Thomas Greene of Port Salerno, including Miss Eleanor Bartlett of Sewall's Point, who boated six billfish winners, Sam Ellett of Lost Tree Village last year, will be competing in the December 12-13 tourney.

Spades - Harper vows exchanged

STUART—Deborah M. Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Harper, 200 Hickory Ridge Road, Jensen Beach, and Johnny Ray Spades, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Spades, 801 Madison Avenue, Stuart, were joined in marriage at St. Joseph's Catholic Church on October 11, 1974.

Father Mike Sullivan performed the double ring ceremony in a lovely setting of white mums and large candelabra. Debbie Van Tuinen provided traditional organ music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white formal gown of faille satin with the bodice and high neckline of beaded re-embroidered Alencon lace and long, fitted sleeves of Alencon lace with a slight pleated ruffle at the wrist. Small pearl buttons adorned the center front bodice. The softly flared skirt, designed in a princess panel effect, flowed into an attached chapel length train. Her cathedral length veil of English illusion was held in place with a Camelot cap of lace and seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of white roses and carnations with white streamers.

Mary Slattery served as maid of honor. Barbara Spades and Christine Burgess were bridesmaids. They wore orchid crepe long gowns with embroidered lace trim and sweetheart necklines and headpieces to match. Their nosegays were of white carnations and purple mums with purple streamers.

Ron Burgess was best man and Don Cole and Steve Lazor were ushers.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. Linda Wood served cake and Lola Lee was in charge of the Bride's Book.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Anna Ferrara, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Happeh and family, all of Lindenhurst, N. Y.; Timothy Harper and Linda Wood, of Germantown, N.Y.; and Peter Brendahan, of Miami.

Pre-nuptial affairs included a luncheon for the bridesmaids at the Holiday Inn given by fellow workers, and a rehearsal dinner hosted by the bride's parents at Rickey's Seafood Restaurant.

The couple are both Martin County High School graduates and are both employed at Gemini Inc. They are at home at 2580 Northeast Street, Stuart.

Duplicate Bridge scores

STUART-JENSEN BEACH—On Monday, Nov. 4th there were 14 tables in play with an average of 156 for both North-South and East-West.

North-South winners were Fran Wade and George Benoit 178, second Ray Blue and George Knoll 177, third Ann Mooney and Louise Ressler 174½, fourth Marion Heath and Caroline Bradshaw 169½, fifth Marge Cowen and Lee Berg 163, sixth Maxine and Ed Hudspeth 156½.

East-West winners were Lucy and Charles Drecker 216½, second Sara and Bob Jansen 183½, third Fran Titus and Tom Cassidy 181, fourth Gladys and John Michaelson 166, fifth Ruth and Bill Banat 165, sixth Lee and Bill Treverton 157.

On Friday, Nov. 1st, a Howell Movement was played and in first place was Marion Heath and Hazel Whicker, second Etta Weiser and George Heath, third Maxine and Ed Hudspeth, fourth Marjorie and Fred Billing.

Game time is 1 p.m. Mondays and Fridays in The Harry Hoke Community Room at Jensen Beach.

BANK OPENING—Directors of the Community Federal Savings and Loan Association Port Salerno branch greeted residents last Wednesday at the new location. Seated is Robert F. Cromwell, president and director. Standing left to right are Clyde S. Antoine, chairman of the board; L. D. Mullins, director and Frederick A. Teed, director and executive vice president.

Community Federal has grand opening

PORT SALERNO—The Port Salerno Branch of Community Federal Savings and Loan opened this week with grand opening ceremonies on Tuesday, Nov. 12.

Located at the intersection of U.S. 1 and St. Lucie Avenue in Port Salerno, the modular structure has a floor space of 1,500 square feet and has two drive-in windows. The facility is designed for easy expansion when more room is needed.

The bank is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and on Fridays from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

GATHERING—Residents gathered to celebrate the new branch opening of Community Federal Savings and Loan Association in Port Salerno, located at the corner of St. Lucie Blvd. and U.S. 1 last Wednesday. The association is currently planning a Jensen Beach branch to open sometime after the first of the year.

Barracks 2936 meets

PORT ST. LUCIE—Barracks 2936, Vets of World War I, will hold their monthly meeting on Thursday, Nov. 14 today, at 8 p.m. at the Marina.

The Ladies Auxiliary will be meeting on the same date.

Douglas Slockbower, Jr. and Susan White are wed

JENSEN BEACH—Susan Louise White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Oliver White, 1065 Pruitt Road, Port St. Lucie, and Douglas George Slockbower, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Slockbower, 121 Sandra Drive, Jensen Beach, were married Saturday, Nov. 9, at the Jensen Beach Community Church.

The Rev. Donald E. Johnson performed the double ring ceremony and Artemis Grace was at the organ. Baskets of white mums, daisies, and baby's breath flanked the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a long, white, full skirted, lace gown with fitted bodice and long sleeves. Her elbow length veil was held in place with white flowers. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow roses.

Ms. Victoria Baske of Stuart attended the bride and wore a long, blue and white sheer dress with matching picture hat. Her flowers were a basket of white daisies and baby's breath.

The bride's mother was attired in a long, blue sheer gown with ruffled details and a corsage of pink roses.

The groom's mother chose a long beige gown with ruffled details and wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the St. Lucie Hilton. Mrs. David White and her daughter Jane were at the bride's book table. Ushers-in-law and sons of the bride, Mrs. Hugh Engler, the bride's aunt, served the wedding cake.

Louis Slockbower served as his brother's best man. Mickey Rowell, brother-in-law of the groom, Jensen Beach, and David Scott White, brother of the bride, Clinton, N.Y., were ushers.

For their wedding trip to Duck Key, the new Mrs. Slockbower wore a printed blue and white tailored dress. They are now in residence in Tropical Acres, Jensen Beach.

The bride attended Indian River Community College and is employed at Martin Memorial Hospital as a Radiological Technologist.

The groom graduated from Martin County High School, served in the Navy for four years on USS Forrestal and is employed in his father's business, the Jensen Cabinet Shop.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. David White and their children Julie and Jeff, Clinton, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young, Belleair Bluffs, Fla. and Brielle, N.J., bride's uncle; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Engler, Bath, Ohio and Port St. Lucie, bride's aunt; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hauck and their son of Palm Beach, groom's sister and Mr. and Mrs. Deckens Wright, Tequesta, Fla.

Vivian Sutton gave a kitchen and bath shower for the bride-to-be on Nov. 2 and Victoria Raske honored her friend with a shower on Nov. 7. Mr. and Mrs. Slockbower hosted the rehearsal supper at their home on Nov. 8.

SUSAN WHITE BRIDE OF DOUGLAS SLOCKBOWER, JR.

Arlene Hawken and Freddy Driscoll, Nov. 16. Pat Sawusch and Lucille Nelson, Nov. 17. George Tuttle and Bill Weiss, Nov. 18, and to Jim Foster and Frank Wacha, Nov. 19.

D & M News Notes

MILDRED STINNETT
334-4486

Esther and Andy Gentry received a long letter from Rachel Hogue who has been hospitalized several times lately. She who is now at home and using a walker to get around. She says that Peter is doing nobly in her apartment, that they hope to get back to the coon, but since they depend on others for transportation to Florida, they must wait until things are "ship-shape" on the farm.

* * *

Lonnie Moran dropped by Thursday morning to bring me a newspaper clipping she received from Marjorie Lowell relating to the death of her husband, Bert Cowell was a former resident of Perrysville, their home town and a former Commodore of the Pleasant Hill Boat Club. The Cowells have a son, Robert G. of Perrysville, and two grandchildren.

We appreciate Verna's bringing us the news but we were sorry to hear it. We extend our sympathy to Marjorie.

And now on the brighter side, Esther Gentry played in the tournament of the Stuart Shuffleboard Club in Memorial Park Oct. 11, and was a winner in the round robin contest. Ordinarily, Andy would have been competing also, but better luck next time, Andy.

* * *

Esther transmitted news of Gertrude and Lowell Foster, for which we are always grateful. Gertrude is home after the removal of two discs in her spine, and must spend a part of each day resting in bed, but says she is getting along well. We're glad to hear this, and hope her condition will improve quickly so they can return to their home here.

* * *

The Morleys are back having made the trip in their travel-trailer, and are now settled for the winter. Grandpa Grindles took care of their place while they were away, so all is well, everything is in fine shape.

* * *

The Cochrans were due last Saturday, and the Pennells have been home for a week or two, now, so I suppose we'll be seeing them here soon.

Ethel Phillips told me that nine of the members of the Ladies Card Players spent the day with Gertrude Masters. Those included Mrs. Ann Ferrara, Mrs. Ann Happeh, Mrs. Linda Wood, Mrs. Lola Lee, Mrs. Timothy Harper, Mrs. Peter Brendahan, Mrs. Frederick Happeh, Mrs. Anna Ferrara

We had our first church service in the Pavilion by the Sea last Sunday. A good attendance met our new pastor, Rev. Clark Thompson, who is pastor of the Trinity United Methodist Church in Jensen Beach. Mrs. Vergual Smith was the organist. S. McCart and P. Stuart rendered the layman services, and M. Sumner served as usher.

Kay Stephenson and her mother Mary are back on lot 155 for a five day visit, spent mostly getting her yard back in shape. In fact, it turned out to be a community project. Welcome back Kay, from all of us.

Hartman and Irene Faucett, lot 491, left for Illinois and St. Louise, Missouri area to visit one of their sons.

Ruth Jacobsen and her friends, the Clarkes, completed their trip to the Keys where they took the Conch Train tour plus the boat trip. They enjoyed other places along the way.

+ + +

Kay Stephenson entertained some friends Friday at the Villa Capri. Guests were her mother Mary, Jean and Mac McCabe, Ruth and Earl Bowen. While they were there, two other groups from Holiday Out came in. All spent an enjoyable evening.

Congratulations to Carl and Helen Eury, who were married on Nov. 2nd. I understand it was beautiful... held at a son's home on a mountainside overlooking Asheville, N. Carolina.

We have been working hard organizing a Sunshine Club for sending birthday anniversary condolence and get well cards. Two permanent residents offered to chair the club for the first year to get it started.

The first meeting will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 27, at 2 p.m. in the rec for more discussion and planning. Our away owners can get in touch by writing Mary Schmidt, Holiday Out, or by phoning (afternoons only) 334-3362 or 334-4946. Let's all come and join up. A card is so wonderful to receive.

Betty Taylor and Jim Zito and his wife Dolly are back in the park after attending a convention in Miami. Jim is taking the children fishing every day, but so far Sugar is the only one who has caught an edible fish. Sunday was Dolly's birthday and the children had gifts and cards ready at her breakfast place.

Pennekamp revisited

BY BOB GRABEN

FIT John Pennekamp State Park was once again ventured upon by FIT divers. Twenty-three students of the Blue Water Dive Club went on a two day excursion to Pennekamp Underwater Park. Leaving at 8:30 on November 2, they arrived in time to make the first dive at 2:30 diving once again off the Infante the dive boat from the park.

The divers dove two tanks off French reef, then came back in to eat and refill tanks. After that short interlude they were off once again. This time to Molasses reef where these dives became night dives as the hours passed and another two tanks were used.

Shortly after 12 o'clock when these weary divers pulled into the dock where the park's campgrounds, they set up camp tents, and the bus.

The next day, Nov. 3, and they were off again. Aboard the Infante they sailed out to Statue reef, where the statue of Christ of The Abyss is located. The surface conditions were about the same for both days. 2-4 foot swells. Divers found the visibility was about 40 feet with average depths around 35 feet.

Excitement was added to the day's dives when the Infante was positioning herself at Elbow reef. Gun shots were fired from another boat in the vicinity toward snorkeling crew members of the Infante. Supposedly the gun shots were warnings to keep away from the area. The captain of the other vessel was conducting some salvage on a sunken boat that recently went down there.

The Coast Guard was called to the area to straighten things out, and the diving continued at Elbow reef for the remainder of the afternoon.

A shark was also sighted by Stan Hays and Bill Roche and numerous barracuda, which made for interesting diving.

The two excursion proved to be another success for the divers of the Blue Water Dive Club.

Melbourne tops Jensen soccer team

BY JAMES WRIGHT

FIT–In one of the most exciting games of the season, FIT Jensen Beach lost 3-1 to their mother school FIT Melbourne.

Action was intense from the initial play to the final whistle as both teams fought desperately to win.

FIT Melbourne scored the first of its three goals around 5 minutes into the game. It was M. Kavuani who put in a penalty from ten yards in front of the goal for the initial score.

K. Kaviani put in the second goal for Melbourne as he headed a corner shot past the Jensen Beach goalie. This score came midway through the first half.

With just seconds remaining in the first half M. Kavuani made a fantastic play. He broke from midfield evaded two defensive players, and put the ball past the Jensen Beach goalie for the score. This was his second goal of the game and Melbourne's third and final goal.

The half ended 3-0 in favor of Melbourne.

In the second half, Dave Clark was placed in goal for Jensen Beach, and it's defense tightened up to shut out Melbourne during the second half.

Although the offense tried valiantly time and time again, it could muster up only one goal in the second half.

That score came for for Jensen Beach from Richard (Squirrel) Heck on a one on three play in front of the goal mouth.

Heck with the defensive goalie in front of him and two defensive players flanking him maneuvered the ball beautifully to keep it alive long enough for an open shot.

The game ended 3-1 in favor of Melbourne.

The next game will be Saturday, Nov. 16 against Browden Community College at Stuart Middle School.

ROTC conducts training

FIT–Saturday, October 26th marked a change of pace for several of the students at Florida Institute of Technology. Eight of them including ROTC cadets Atkins, Bauer, Catron, Conricote, Kestenberg, Tirk, Wiggins and Yates traveled by bus to the Melbourne campus to attend a Ranger field training exercise sponsored by the ROTC Department as part of their Professional Development and Enrichment Program.

The exercise, purely voluntary, was attended by 53 students, 12 of which wear the black berret of the cadet Rangers. The remainder are working to gain that distinction.

The training consisted of a four mile road march followed by a day and night compass course, a field-type training building rope bridges, escape and evasion, and an overnight bivouac.

The cadets dined on a gourmet diet of Army field rations donated by the ROTC Department and seemed to enjoy the miseries of learning to live in the field.

The group was tired when the day was over and they returned to their studies. Another field training exercise is scheduled for the entire corps of cadets on Nov. 22-23 as part of the regular ROTC program.

Letters to the editor

Column is started

FIT–A newspaper is precisely what the name implies, a publication regularly printed and distributed containing information previously unknown or unknown. The sole purpose of the Messenger is to entertain, inform and help you develop and to do so with the help of your contributing information.

If we do not receive any news to inform you with, then it is apparent that we are failing to get the news from you.

A hundred and fifty students/ are enrolled at F.I.T., and from the Messenger's standpoint, this represents a hundred and fifty contributing points of interest. You do not have to be an experienced journalist to inform us of the highpoints of your recent dive trip, or the time you and your friends crashed over a sailboat on the Indian River. Hidden talent exists in all of you and it is this talent that we need to be effective all in order to accomplish the goals of your newspaper.

Beginning in this week's issue we will designate a portion of the newspaper titled "Letters to the Editor" just for your contributions. It will in essence represent the pulse of the campus and express your voices and offer an experience viewpoint, grievance question, suggestion or even photograph.

We think it is time for all sports lovers athletes adventurers, feminists and scientists to share your thoughts with us! You are the essential ingredient in the development of our institution and of our lives here.

Make your voice count, you will find that the effort is easier than you think. Just write, and drop letters off at the business office in the science building or the Jensen Beach Mirror office. You'll be proud you did.

'Student power'

BY STEVEN DAVIS

FIT–The students at FIT have proved something. They have proved that with a group effort they can have something done by the administration. Students living in the dorms have previously taken their grievances to the dorm advisor who supposedly gives them in turn to the administration. After many requests, students found out that nothing was going to be done.

The students complaints went unanswered, doors remained without handles, rooms remained without medicine cabinets, towel racks and air conditioning went unrepaired. Gradually the dorms were falling apart. The dorm directors saw this and decided that something had to be done.

After an organizational meeting, with a large turnout, things began to happen. The administration agreed to meet with the students. They agreed to everything that was small and short due to the untimely, mid term week date. Even though the meeting was not nearly as large as the first, much was accomplished. The television that students had been waiting three years for was promised to be installed within a month. The dorm advisors made a list of what was wrong with each individual room. The list goes on and on.

Now that the students have established a strong standing it is time for the student government to take action. The S.G.A. supposedly represents the students and they should be the ones to bring the student complaints to the administration.

The students have started the ball rolling and if the S.G.A. can keep it going the students should see a school with no problems and responsive administration.

Fossils: Preservation of History

BY DOUG GLANZINS

FIT–Sometimes referred to as the record of rocks, fossils are a preservation of plants and animal life of times past. There are several methods in which mother nature preserves her legacy. The most abundant of fossils are those of the hard parts of the animal body such as teeth, bones and shells. Under exceptional conditions soft organs or internal organs may be preserved.

Plants and animals are preserved in a number of different ways.

1. MOLD: when a plant or animal is compressed by surrounding sediments material. This causes exact outlines of the structure. The organism decays and the vaults left behind is filled with natural deposits.

2. IMPRESSION: the negative of compression. Material surrounding organism breaks off leaving a negative imprint. Examples of this kind are footprints and outlines of leaves. In this kind of preservation there is no cellular detail.

3. PETRIFICATION: this kind of preservation allows a study of the internal structure. The cells of the plant are replaced by an infiltrating substance which crystallizes and hardens in the cellulmens and intercellular spaces. This embeds the plant in a hard matrix.

4. AMBER: the most perfect fossils known are the insects which get tangled in pine trees resin which eventually hardens and turns into amber. The total structure is preserved because it is surrounded completely by the resin.

5. FROZEN SPECIMENS: a rare form of preservation in which flesh and bones have been preserved in an unbroken, fresh state. Such specimens are found in glaciers.

6. ASPHALT AND TAR PITS: skeletons and flesh are also found in these types of material. The organism is preserved by the action of the crude asphalts.

The fossil record is not a complete one because even if the organism does become fossilized there are limiting factors. Several important conditions must be met if a plant or animal is to become fossilized. Generally an organism must be in a region where deposition is taking place. It is not it must be transported to a region where sediments are accumulating. An exception is the preservation of bones in the tar pits and in solidified lava. Bacteria destroys and disintegrates some plants and animals have had their best chance of being preserved as fossils in the oceans. Flood plains are another area of productive source of fossils.

Index or guide fossils are used by the paleontologist. Distinctive features of an index fossil are wide geographic distribution, enough tolerance allowing for rapid evolutionary rate and distinct morphologic features. Index fossils are especially useful for interregional and intercontinental correlation.

A few of the important areas containing different types of fossils are: The White River Bad Lands of South Dakota and Nebraska; Alberta, Eden of New York; Solnhofen Limestone Deposits of Bavaria; Monterey Shale of California; Rancho La Brea asphalt pits of California; and also the recently discovered Dupont Bone Bed of California.

When a rock structure is buried beneath it may mean that plants and animals that once were at or near that surface died. Then they were buried and not preserved or they were preserved and eventually destroyed.

Fossils are very important to man. He can obtain substantial information about the earth's past by studying fossils. Fossils can be used to date sedimentary and deformation environments, geographic and organic evolution. Radio active isotopes such as carbon 14, potassium 40 and rubidium 87 are used to date fossils.

There are still many fossils to be discovered and many areas still to be searched. The study of fossils found the surface the history of the earth sometimes. There are many gaps and questions in the earth's history. Fossils are an important source of the answers to these questions.

Student unity

BY RANDY BROOKS

The need for a unified and more cooperative student body is one which should be the foremost consideration of each and every student attending FIT. The students of this campus must realize that it is our ambition and enthusiasm which determines how our future lives will be affected. We must become more involved in extra curricular activities in the expansion of our social as well as our academic lives.

We can possibly show the administration that we are interested in one particular thing. I am sure that these and other improvements will be taken under serious consideration. Also, all the students in order to be a unified body, must realize that whatever happens at this school will depend on how hard we are willing to work. We must learn to work with the administration instead of against it. This is equally burdened with student feeling must also be considered by the administration in its efforts for a better school for all. Administrators must understand that a college education must consist of social activities in correlation with our academic studies.

Furthermore, we must be willing to take the responsibility of self discipline. In order that we might be treated as the adults we are. Finally as long as our clubs continue to be a collage of separate ideas and we do not unify our desires and objectives, we will never have the kind of school that we all want and deserve.

Faculty tops Wolfpack

BY JAMES WRIGHT

FIT–The Faculty crushed the Wolfpack 16-2 to remain undefeated in football action last Wednesday night.

The score was tied 6-6 going into the 7th inning when the Faculty broke loose behind the power hitting of Larry and Ras Pivic and Pete Navaretta for an eight run inning. It was the first loss for the Wolfpack.

In the second game HTI won 19-10 over the winless Derelicts.

In Flag Football, the Leftovers pulled out a 2-6 squeaker over the No Names to remain undefeated.

Other action saw HTI lose their first game to F Troop, and the Leftovers extending their winning streak by beating F Troop.

The games went as follows:

Leftovers	7	No Names	6
F Troop	15	HTI	0
Leftovers	13	F Troop	0

Progress shows in second meet

BY STEVE DAVIS

F.I.T.–A second meeting between the administration and students was held last Thursday night with only a handful of students attending to talk with Dean Tealey. Mr. Navaretta and Mr. [illegible]

This was a continuation of last week's meeting held to go over the long list of complaints that students and Dorm Directors had formed earlier. Resident students have become upset over the condition of the dormitories and the lack of cooperation from the administration.

Dean Tealey started off the second meeting by following up on the last week's meeting. Proving that some action had been taken, the Dean advised that the library hours had been extended. The new hours are: Monday thru Thursday 8 to 11, Friday 8 to 5, Saturday 10 to 8, and Sunday 1 to 9.

The Dean displayed a long list of dorm repairs that was put together by the dorm advisors. Resident students should soon be having their rooms painted, their doors fixed, and other various repairs done. The Dean advised however that there are only four maintenance men working on the dorms and that they have much work to do. New fire extinguishers have already been installed, and the fire gongs have been replaced. The Dean added that two new extinguishers have already been stolen.

The dorm staff is in the process of recovering the stolen lounge furniture and returning it to the lounges. The Dean is having 10 televisions installed as work on the cable system has begun. Tealey also stated that brooms have been ordered and that light bulbs for the handball courts are on order also.

With the first part of the meeting over, Tealey took time to air his own complaints. His major complaint was that ripping off is continuing as well as the illegal parking. He also stated that on several occasions the pool area had been severely abused.

Mr. Navaretta took the floor next to air another complaint. He being asked about the ice machine situation which the Dean had neglected to talk about. Mr. Navaretta said that a coin operated machine would be installed with the proceeds going towards an automatic machine that would be a free service. It was found out later however that no one is willing to install the type of machine that F.I.T. needs and if they did it would be a considerable time before the machine would make enough money to pay for the automatic machine.

After a short discussion, Navaretta agreed to have outside showers and new trashcans installed. One more trashcan will be placed in each wing. The administration failed to comment on the subject of more laundry facilities.

Since more the Dean offered to have another meeting in a few weeks. Students having complaints should give them to their dorm advisor who should forward them to the administration.

Viewpoint

Where is student government?

BY DEAN TEALEY

Where is the student Government Association?

Where are the special events, movies, shows and representation of student [illegible]

Where are those dedicated individuals who are willing to give a little of their time to promote a destructive process which expresses the students viewpoint?

It is sad to say, through the lives [illegible] until it turns that we found [illegible]

It can't be apathy, other clubs and organizations are active and growing. Clubs which have banded together to fill the S.G.A. gap.

Look at SAE, Productions as an example. Look at the Weekend, Dive Club, Rugby Club, Sail Club, Gear Heads, newspaper, student sponsored and student run, all attracting support and showing healthy growth.

What is wrong? To make a large student body into a meaningful organization takes a lot of work. So, it is the force that has throughout the years and throughout campuses all over the country suppressed the interest of the students. It is a task, particularly on the part of those individuals who run for office are elected, and give their time and effort, but it is rewarding.

Why don't you ask the administration for help? The Administration is ready to listen, mediate and act, but we are hamstrung. We don't know the needs and wants of the student body.

How about a beer blast, a sports weekend, movie guys and gals from other schools and colleges, invite the community to see our school show off our teams, serve free and sell beer, live plays, music. These are just a few ideas.

You can conceive a thousand things, but let's hear YOU! Turn that squeak into a roar & let's all the way.

Music

Jesse Colin Young

BY JOHN D HINCKLEY

FIT–In 1969 a group called the Youngbloods put out a song called Get Together. Although the song was written in 1965, it was their version that became popular.

In the past couple of weeks I have been getting more and more interested in the Youngbloods music and especially that of their founder Jesse Colin Young.

After the Youngbloods split apart they still play together a lot. Jesse has put out several solo albums. They are all free flowing and sound as though they were all done in one take with all his friends getting on it. One might think that music done like this would sound pretty sloppy. On the contrary, while still sounding loose and natural, the music fits together and does not have any unsynched spots.

About half his songs are other people's done with a real neat straightforward style, songs about things that might normally be stories. The song Ridgetop Home just tells about his home a general description but you can feel just how the place is. Jesse's voice is low and gutsy to soft and mellow. Another indication of his open personality is that on one of his solo albums he gives his own postal address so many musicians these days are completely inaccessable and a lot of people take that as a real putdown.

Jesse Colin Young is a complete musician who does amazing things to any music that he gets involved in.

All Saints Episcopal Church 75th Anniversary

November, 1974

There is nothing to match the magnificence God has created for us to enjoy, and through His word, we rejoice.
Members of All Saints Episcopal Church have pioneered God's Word for 75 years in this tropical paradise
we call Jensen Beach, and for this, and what they will do in years to come, we salute them.

Parish history tells area story

JENSEN BEACH—The early days of the area and All Saints Episcopal Church in Jensen Beach are contained in the church's parish history.

The area was named Wavelandby the early settlers and it had a post office in 1901. The All Saints Episcopal Church was built in 1898 and consecrated on Feb. 19, 1899.

PARISH HISTORY

The first permanent settlers on the peninsula separating the St. Lucie and [illegible] were [illegible] William Baker [illegible] Alden and brother Ashton Marmaduke, Florida [illegible]

[illegible] Waveland. The Raeess arrived from Titusville aboard a steamboat operated by the Indian River Steamship Company and they were met by Dr. Bakker on his row boat and were received as guests in his home. The three homes in the Raeess clearing at the most beautiful tropical settings on the Indian River which they named Mount Elizabeth and today is the campus of the Florida Institute of Technology.

The earliest reference to episcopal activity in this region appears in the diary of the Rt. Rev. William Crane [illegible] Bishop of Southern Florida. [illegible] Mary Raees to be used as the site for the church and the present cemetery grounds. In 1895 funds were raised for the construction of the church building and on the following year All Saints Episcopal Church became a reality. On February 19, 1899 Bishop Gray came to Waveland and consecrated the lovely sanctuary that we enjoy to this day.

Thereafter services continued to be held once a month under the guidance of Archdeacon B. F. Brown, and the cross on the steeple of this pioneer church, built high on the hill overlooking the river became not only an outstanding landmark but a serene reminder to all travelers who passed this way that the people who had settled here were steadfast in the Faith.

These Episcopalians who made their homes in the Stuart area joined the All Saints congregation and came to church by boat. They landed at the Toussaint Dock and reached the church [illegible] Mrs. M. [illegible] Hamilton was one of those early [illegible] and she served faithfully [illegible] church organist [illegible] she was the [illegible] of many [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] was beginning [illegible] Stuart. In 1925 Martin County was created as a political unit and Stuart became its county seat. A year later the Stuart communicants established their own mission and purchased a building which was dedicated in 1932 as St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

With the creation of St. Mary's Parish began the gradual eclipse of the first phase of the life of All Saints Church. Services were held monthly up until 1946 by the priest from St. Mary's and thereafter the church was virtually [illegible] the years. As might be expected it was [illegible] the nature of its ministry change from one [illegible] which the people was long to a community [illegible] would become a [illegible] lectures and in which tourism plays a vital role. The vicissitudes in the lives and fortunes of the people north of the St. Lucie River were directly reflected in the life of the church. It was the pulse of the community quickened and communicants in the Jensen Beach area which had grown to equal Waveland in the more than five decades since the consecration of its [illegible] joined together for weekly services with a retired priest. During the following five years retired or [illegible] priests and seminary students [illegible] the pulpit. From an attendance of approximately twenty people the congregation grew. In fifty three communicants in 1958 when with the help of the Diocese a full time priest was employed and membership once again began to climb. In 1960 All Saints became self supporting and enjoyed the unique distinction at the Diocesan Convention of 1961 in Orlando of having been the oldest mission and yet the youngest parish represented at that conclave. In the summer of 1963 the church building was moved from the site where the new rectory stands to its present location and joined to the parish house by a cloister. When the cornerstone was opened its contents were found to include besides the usual religious articles copies of the World and Indian River Advocates and East Coast Chronicle newspapers which apparently served the area in that bygone day. These articles were returned to the cornerstone along with a copy of the Bible, a Book of Common Prayer, a list of the individuals then serving on the vestry and a history of the parish and its clergy.

FIRST RECTOR. The first rector of All Saints Episcopal Church was Father Alden B. Hatcher, left. He is shown with the present rector, Father Frank Alvarez.

RETIRED BISHOP. The Rt. Rev. Wallace E. Conkling, retired bishop of Chicago, was part of the 50th anniversary celebration of All Saints Episcopal Church in Jensen Beach, Nov. 1 through Nov. 16.

Assistant continues his studies

JENSEN BEACH—For the past two and a half years the Rev. Daniel Anthony Lepore has been assistant at All Saints Episcopal Church in Jensen Beach.

The Rev. Lepore was born and graduated from high school in Roselle Park, N.J.

He graduated from Mount Union college Alliance, Ohio with a Bachelor of Arts Degree. The Rev. Lepore was licensed as a Lay Reader in January of 1966 by Bishop Henry Louttit while continuing his studies for Holy Orders and was ordained a deacon by the Rt. Rev. William R. Folwell, D.D. in Holy Faith Episcopal Church, Port St. Lucie.

He is presently continuing his studies of ordination to the priesthood by attending the Lay Institute of the Diocese of Central Florida, Winter Park. The Rev. Lepore also attended the graduate school of Theology, Sewanee, Tenn.

Bishop tells of visit to area

JENSEN BEACH. [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] were [illegible] missionary bishop for the missionary district of Southern Florida.

On Feb. 2, 1891, Dr. Gray was consecrated bishop and in November of the next year the missionary bishop visited places on the Indian River.

Mosquitos at these two places, Jensen and Eden, were something fearful, he wrote about his trip.

The bishop had preached in the Eden schoolhouse and later that same day, Nov. 23, 1894, he preached a sermon in the Jensen Hotel parlor.

This event was the first Episcopal service in Jensen Beach.

On Feb. 19, 1899, the church building was consecrated by Bishop Gray, and the title is the present name of the parish church, All Saints, Jensen Beach.

From the bishop's diary of a known visit to the original All Saints congregation [illegible] on Nov. 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, and each year until his death.

Also on Monday, Feb. 26, at 10:15 a.m. Bishop Gray, then age 71, was in All Saints and confirmed seven persons.

And from Bishop Gray's journal — 1896, at 2 p.m. assisted by Dr. Moore in All Saints, Waveland, and confirmed two. Then with the congregation we marched out and encircled the cemetery, reading the 91st Psalm and singing hymns, and having completed the rounds, I finished the service of consecration at the point where we began to march around.

With that service, the old portion of All Saints Cemetery was consecrated.

The old church building has stained glass windows and has the names of the first congregation.

BISHOP The Rt. Rev. James T. Duncan, D.D. Bishop of Southeast Florida, preached the sermon Sunday, Nov. 3. The solemn Eucharist of Thanksgiving was held at Florida Institute of Technology Chapel.

windows tell story

The Ten Commandments window represents the law given to Moses at Mt. Sinai during the wandering in the wilderness. It has been given by Florence Johnson in thanksgiving.

The Communion window with symbols of the wheat and the bread of Holy Communion. This window was given by the Wardens, vestry and the people of All Saints in memory of Isabel Kline, a former member who left her estate to the parish.

The Baptismal window with the three intertwined fish represents the Blessed Trinity. It is in this name that we are baptized. This window has been given by Mrs. Doris Angus in thanksgiving.

The Ark window, placed near the entrance of the Church, represents the first covenant God made with man when he placed the bow in the sky. It has been given by Mr. and Mrs. Max Smith in memory of their son, Robert James Smith.

City approves auto purchase

PORT ST. LUCIE The city council approved a motion by the Finance Committee for the purchase of four vehicles to the tune of $12,371.

The recommendation was made to the council by Bernard Rubin, city administrator. Following a joint meeting with the finance committee and Robert L. Johns, city auditor and the law firm of Fletcher and Johns.

In an effort to tighten up on the budget, Rubin suggested the city purchase the vehicles for use by the building department.

The city has been paying excessive mileage costs on the cars being used by their employees, and we have now reached the point where we have got to find ways of cutting down, Rubin said.

The first year savings will amount to enough to purchase the vehicles according to Rubin.

He explained the purchase of gasoline would be more economical and the city would be entitled to fleet insurance coverage, another sizeable savings.

The initial cost of such a purchase including the maintenance will in no way equal what we are now paying, Rubin added.

Ralph Lee Eaton, head of the city building department, would be responsible for the use of the cars. Each man would check the vehicle out as needed for the various inspections.

Councilman Franklin Beardsley who heads the city finance committee, agreed the stated expense would be encountered the first year when the vehicles were purchased, and pointed out astronomical savings in the second and third years the vehicles were used.

The city has received tentative figures on three Datsuns totaling $8 323, and one four door sedan for $3 948.

The council unanimously agreed with the recommendation.

Cash film to be shown

PORT ST LUCIE New Johnny Cash film The Gospel Road will be shown on Sunday Nov 17 at the Port St Lucie United Baptist Church 2101 S.W. Bayshore Dr. The showing will begin at 7 pm.

The Gospel Road distributed by World Wide Pictures was conceived and produced by Johnny Cash and his wife June Carter Cash whose desire was to tell the story of Jesus Christ in a realistic and meaningful way.

You are there walking beside the Jordan and the Sea of Galilee you are there seeing Him in many human situations that establish a practical and personal rapport with every viewer. You are there being introduced to the disciples and gaining insights into their varied personalities. You are there experiencing the highly charged emotional impact of the trial before Pilate and becoming so personally involved that you feel sympathetic pain when Robert Elfstrom in an outstanding portrayal of Christ suffers the physical attack that precedes the Crucifixion.

The songs and background music of Johnny Cash and other outstanding musicians whose contemporary style is not out of keeping with the story or story that reveals that His darkest hour has become our brightest.

An invitation to the public to see the picture is extended by the pastor George A. Durham.

United Methodist Women will meet

PORT ST. LUCIE The Port St. Lucie United Methodist Church will meet Nov. 20 at 1 p.m. for their regular monthly meeting.

All the women of the church are invited to join this group which meets in the Fellowship Hall on Prima Vista Blvd.

The executive board of the UMW will meet on Nov. 18 at 1 p.m. at the home of the president, Mrs. Ada Hunt, Prima Vista Blvd.

TROPHY DONATED Mrs. Grace Kavanaugh, widow of the late Major Eugene P. Kavanaugh, donated a permanent trophy for the Kavanaugh Memorial golf tournament which ended Sunday. Septic tanks plague city council

TEMPORARY SOLUTION—A temporary solution to the overflowing septic tanks in the northwest section of the city is to remove the covers and allow the effluent to escape above ground. The effluent is within inches of overflowing in the above picture. This tank is on the property owned by Mrs. Mary Camarata, 431 Sherbrooke Drive. The tank is pumped out by Prudens Septic Tank Service almost daily, according to Mrs. Camarata. GDC pays for the service.

BY DONNIE WILKIE

y of last year's 18-7 Ft. Pierce ral victory over Martin County finally did come into reality it a different score, but other than everything was the same. It was merely an empowering the in the final quarters and pulling ay victory.

Martin County controlled the game late in the third quarter. Prior was Central's passing attack with superior defense which the 26-16 victory out of their hats. Tigers biggest problem was inability to move the football when counted as the Central defense ained them in the critical

Martin County opened the scoring the third quarter with a pass covered 34 yards. Robert Morris Jim Henry McFadden who ped to the trailing back Morgan Sprott. Sprott then ran the rest of the way for the 6-0 lead. Prior to this week the Tigers had not converted on any of their nine touchdowns. But this time they did as Sprott caught the pass from Morris for the 8-0 lead.

But the Cobras came right back as Richard Hellams got off a 34 yard scoring pass to Gary Trice. The two point conversion was good and the Cobras had the score tied 8-8.

Martin County couldn't move the ball, so they punted to Ft. Pierce. The Cobras took the ball and marched for the go-ahead touchdown. This time Trice ran 28 yards on a reverse to give the Cobras the lead at 16-8.

But Martin County came back as their defense forced a fumble and John Watson rumbled 24 yards for the tying touchdown. The two pointer was good and the Tigers had a 16-16 tie.

But then the Cobra defense tackled Robert Morris in his own end zone for a safety. That made the score 18-16. Although Martin County tried to come back it was hopeless, as Fort Pierce scored again this time on an eight yard run by Roosevelt Duncan.

This week the Tigers will meet the winless Central team at Glades Central. The game will be played at Belle Glade Florida, and will start at 8 p.m.

FIT's Jeff Goodman attempts shot on the Shelton College goalie. This shot was stopped but others went in as FIT Jensen Beach beat visiting Shelton College 11-0 last Saturday afternoon at Stuart Middle School.

PSL Vikings clobber Jensen, 19-0

JENSEN BEACH–The Jensen Beach Razorbacks couldn't move the football at all last week against the Ft. St. Lucie Vikings at Langford Park, as the Vikings beat Jensen Beach 19-0.

The first score came on a 5 yard run by Van Johnstone, but the extra point run was missed. Then, in the second quarter, Johnstone added his second touchdown of the game when he dashed 21 yards for a 12-0 lead.

The final score came on a 2 yard run by Bruce Goodwin late in the fourth quarter. Ryan McMahon caught a pass for the extra point.

Bobby Bibbee and Ron Kirkpatrick were the leaders for Jensen Beach, as they turned in a fine game. Steve Poux also played well, but only 12 men showed up for the game, and the Razorbacks were simply outmanned.

Next week the Razorbacks will meet the Palm City Dolphins in a game at Palm City. Get out and support your local Junior Football League team.

FIT clobbers Shelton

FIT FIT had a field day while scoring 11 goals and shutting out visiting Shelton College last Saturday afternoon.

FIT, whose season's plague has been missing short shots, kicked in everything but the kitchen sink.

Moshir Radi was the big scorer for FIT as he victimized the Shelton goalie 4 times, but the whole team had a piece of the action and lasted the entire 4 quarters.

Radi opened the scoring at 8:48 when he scored from the center of the field directly in front of the goal.

Hardly giving time for the cheering to die, Roberto Riveros scored the second goal of the game. Riveros tallies came at 8:57 from his position at the left of the goal. Then at 11:30 Radi scored again after out maneuvering the defenders in front of the Shelton goal.

FIT kept up the pressure, but did not connect again until Pan Eraclere scored at 26:12. His shot made the score 4-0.

The final score of the half came from offensive powerhouse Jorge Delgado at 36:36 into the half. Delgado playing his first full game after being side lined for most of the season with an injury, made a point-blank shot from 5 yards to score.

Delgado's shot came after he had taken the Shelton goalie from his forward position.

At just 1:01 into the second half, Riveros put in the sixth goal of the game and his second of the day. He scored after bringing the ball down the left side of the field eluding Shelton with his superb ball handling.

Barely a minute later, it was Radi scoring his third goal of the game. Radi scored from in the thick of the action in front of the goal.

Delgado scored the eighth goal of the game and his second goal of the day after receiving a pass from teammate Mark Anderson.

Radi scored the ninth goal of the game and his fourth of the day at 22:34. This time Radi headed a corner shot past the Shelton goalie.

Walter LaFleur scored the tenth goal of the game at 31:34 into the second half. LaFleur, who improved every game with his relentless hustle, received a rebounding position as he left the field.

Dave Clarke, who played perfectly in the goalie spot for most of the game, and now moved to the left wing position, put the icing on the cake for FIT.

With just 20 seconds to play, Clarke tipped in a corner shot for the final goal of the game and an 11-0 FIT win.

Other offensive players who didn't score, but were instrumental in the win were Eddie Austin, Rich Squirrel, Brian Jeff Goodman, Mark Thrasher, and Bruce Taylor.

The players on defense for FIT, who were responsible for the shutout were: Don Bannen, Andy Fleschner, Perry Lamar, Mark Anderson, Blair Hough, Indo Eraclere, Hope Davide, and goalie Kirk Vreedenburg.

FLASHING past the Lancers defense last week is Vikings Ryan McMahon (20) as he heads for the goal line. Vikings Bobby Bibbee (32) and Ron Kirkpatrick (26) look on as Vikings beat Jensen Beach 19-0. Amateurs have fun in tourney

STUART–According to Tom Conlon, chairman of the Tournament Committee of the Stuart Sailfish Club, an amateur sail fisherman is a guy who just wants to go out and have some fun, get his feet wet in a tournament, but not have to compete against the "big boys."

A "professional" is one who fishes a great deal, normally fishes in tournaments, and possibly has won one of the big tournaments, including a past Light Tackle Tourney of the Stuart Sailfish Club.

Many former winners of the local tourney, including Miss Eleanor Bartlett of Sewall's Point, who beat a six time winner, Sam Exert of Lost Tree Village last year, will be competing in the December 12-15 tourney.

But Conlon is looking for more amateurs, particularly from this area, than fished in last year's contest, which was the first in which the club had an amateur division.

Last year, Thomas Greene of Bear Raton, fishing from the Incentive, won the amateur division with six releases.

Application blanks may be obtained by writing to Stuart Sailfish Club, PO Box 2001, Stuart, 33494.

Anglers and skippers will meet at tournament headquarters at the Bay Harbor Club Dec. 11 at 6:30 p.m.

Philbrick is new commission chairman

JENSEN BEACH–District 1 (Jensen Beach area) Commissioner Ross Philbrick Tuesday was elected chairman of the County Commission at its regular reorganizational meeting.

Commissioner John Kiernan was elected vice chairman.

"I appreciate the trust the commission put in me," Chairman Philbrick said in accepting the chairmanship.

"The commission has the capacity and desire to move ahead in 1975 without getting bogged down in small details," he said.

Commissioners approved the reemployment of county personnel, and Chairman Philbrick said, "Staff members can feel secure in their jobs if they carry out their assignments."

Circuit Court Judge C. Pfeiffer Trowbridge gave the oath of office to the newly elected commissioners Tom Higgins and Maggy Hurchalla. Veteran Indiantown Commissioner Timer Powers continues on the board.

Wants land use plan

Philbrick is very optimistic about next two years

BY DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH–Looking forward to the new county commission working as a team, Ross Philbrick gave an optimistic picture of the next years in Martin County.

Speaking to the Jensen Beach Lions Club Monday at Rainbow Gables restaurant, Philbrick admitted that I am not too fond of the last two years. We didn't get things solved.

"So I looked forward to the next two years with two new commissioners on the board, and a new attitude on the commission that will make the county move forward.

Speaking of the planning and zoning practice of newly elected commissioner Tom Higgens, Philbrick said, "I look for great things from him. He and Chairman Maggie Hurchalla, the other new commissioner, has many years of experience on county boards that will help."

Philbrick blamed inaction for the past two years on the fact that four members of the board were new, three were elected and one appointed to replace Paul Bryant, who resigned.

"We had to learn the ground rules, depended too much on staff. We are just getting off to a running start by establishing priorities and the entire public will know what those priorities are."

Philbrick added that the first job will be to look at the budget in light of the statements, take up the tax roll, and look at the budget in light of the statements, take up the tax roll, and look at the budget again to establish a budget.

He took a jab at the school board, which set eight mills as its millage the law allowed, before the assessments were released.

"Like a body, the school board can set eight mills without knowing the need. You don't know," he said.

Philbrick received applause when he said the commission planned to develop a land use plan and set down rules in order so that property owners can know what they can do. He said that in the past the staff would bring up new projections when the developer had thought he had met requirements of the law.

The commissioner said he planned to resolve the street and drainage problems of the area as soon as possible. He did key those improvements to the services wanted by the people, and that to the finances available.

"What do the people want?" he questioned. Using the volunteer ambulance and fire department as examples, Philbrick said that a new fire engine was purchased for $25,000 by the Jensen Volunteer Fire Department.

"It will do the job, but Fire Chief Spinney says it is not a parade truck," Philbrick said, using that as an example to identify with chrome-decorated trucks that cost much more.

He also said that a rescue unit as seen on television was a good thing, but not needed in Martin County due to cost.

"We spend $50,000 for ambulance service now, but it could cost as much as $500,000. We don't need those sophisticated services."

In a question and answer session, Philbrick said that he hoped for cooperation between Martin and St. Lucie Counties to be improved, but said that the counties have different philosophies.

"We have fewer problems with Palm Beach County than we have with St. Lucie. But cooperation is the key to our salvation, especially on the island," he said.

Five people will be employed at the facility, according to Runkel.

Opening of the facility was announced in The Mirror last August when Federal Home Loan Bank Board in Washington, D.C. granted Community Federal permission to establish a branch office here.

An investment by the association for the land and building will be about $250,000.

Festive holiday menus and fashions highlight Mirror Cooking Show

PORT ST. LUCIE–The eleventh annual Mirror Cooking Show is destined to be the largest, most exciting show in history, and the show itself will be proof of the pudding, as over 1,500 are expected to attend the free show.

With two sessions at 2:00 p.m. and at 7:30 p.m. in the St. Lucie Hilton Convention Hall this Thursday, The Mirror teams with Publix Markets, Sears of Ft. Pierce and St. Lucie Hilton Inn to bring a wide array of foods, fashions and food and appliance displays to fill the convention hall according to Dick Campbell, editor of The Mirror.

Linda Shrigley and Barbara Henson, home economists, plan an exciting demonstration of holiday menu ideas that will help homemakers pretty up the tables during the Thanksgiving and Christmas season in this the first holiday related cooking show.

Demonstrations will include tips on using the new electronic ranges that are becoming more and more popular as homemakers learn how to use them.

With Clifton Goodale playing background music, both Sears and Fleur de Lis will show holiday fashions.

The Sears segment will be a unique complete show that will spotlight what the woman of the house can look forward to through a full day, and comes packaged with the holiday mood of "We're Home a Long Way Baby."

The program is directed and created by Sears fashion coordinator Polli Batista.

One of the new highlights of the show will be a colorful flaming dessert prepared by Chef Max Lang of the St. Lucie Hilton. The flambe dessert is certain to be popular with homemakers in a time that flashing color is a fitting part of any festive dinner.

Before, with the afternoon and evening programs the famed Sweet Adelines will be entertaining the early arrivals. The afternoon show will feature the Sweet Adeline Quartet in a twenty minute songfest, and the evening show will feature the entire group.

Before and after the show there will be a home show in the Duplex area with many appliance and home furnishing dealers exhibiting ideas that will make the festive and final preparation more enjoyable for the consumer.

Millage rollback effective

JENSEN BEACH–The millage rollback bill which Martin County voted for Nov. 5 by a wide margin is effective this budget year, Martin County Attorney Steve Calvert told commissioners Tuesday.

The law limits the county to an average 10 per cent increase in tax bills under normal conditions.

Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick said he expects a millage of less than 9, when he learned of Calvert's opinion.

"In my opinion this law is applicable to the current budget," Calvert said.

Chairman Philbrick noted that the temporary tentative budget was based on about a 16 per cent growth increase.

Ordinarily, the county would have completed work on its new tax roll, adopted a budget and levied taxes. However, because of a delay in preparing the tax roll, the county is operating on a tentative budget.

If the county approves a budget requiring a higher tax levy, residents must be notified by an advertisement at least a quarter page in a local newspaper.

County Tax Assessor R. E. (Butch) Schluraff said Tuesday that the tax roll is expected to be ready later this week.

If the preliminary real estate tax roll is over $94.5 million, an increase of about 45 per cent over last year.

He said that about 15 per cent of the tax roll increase results from new construction.

The other 30 per cent of the increase reflects the increase in market value of all property.

Restaurant plans are delayed

SEWALL'S POINT Plans for construction of a restaurant on SR A1A in Sewall's Point has been delayed for at least one year.

Brian Hyatt of the Brothers of Taste Restaurant in Fort Lauderdale said the long range planning is to build a restaurant at the location, but construction probably won't start until the fall of next year.

The proposed site is near the area planned for a shopping center.

Community Federal office work starts

JENSEN BEACH–Landscaping work got under way last week on the Community Federal Savings and Loan Association office, and an association official said Tuesday that a late December opening is anticipated.

"We have a good base for an office in Jensen Beach," vice president Dave Runkel said, noting that the firm has 2,400 saving accounts with a total value of $13 million of people in the Jensen Beach Port St. Lucie area.

Our facility at Savanna Road and Commercial Street, southwest corner, will be the same type we have in Port Salerno, Runkel said.

It will be a modular concept, and the facility should be opened three or four days after delivers to the site, he said.

Five people will be employed at the Erosion is a fact of life

JENSEN BEACH–Jensen Beach resident John Heyburn is concerned about beach erosion and he wants future residents of Hutchinson Island condominium apartments to be warned about the threat of erosion.

Heyburn told the Martin County Commission Tuesday that people buying condominiums should in some way be notified what chances they are taking.

"There is going to be erosion," Heyburn said.

However commissioners were warned that bulkheading would not stop erosion.

Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick noted that it wasn't up to the commission to establish bulkheads and he didn't know of any plans for bulkheading.

Recent high tides and wave action chewed up the sand dunes at one condominium development on the island.

More study on island

JENSEN BEACH–Continued study of Ordinance 33 will take place at the Nov. 26 meeting of Martin County Commission.

Approved by the commission, but never put into effect on Hutchinson Island, would have required property owners on the island to get approval from the county for construction of any project except single family dwellings on one acre or larger sites.

At the Nov. 12 meeting, Commissioner-elect Mrs. Maggy Hurchalla said that Ordinance 33 might be modified rather than repealed and Tom Higgins said he favored establishing an alternate to the ordinance.

In fact, commissioners voted to kill ordinance 33, but the move wasn't to become final until Nov. 12. Last week commissioners deferred final action until the new commissioners took office.

In other action last week commissioners voted to abolish the bonus points system of permitting growth on the island.

Under the bonus system, which was adopted June 25, developers who wished to build more than four apartments per acre on the island were required to bargain with county officials for additional units.

In the bargaining process, bonus units could be obtained for a project by contributing facilities to the public such as beach access, bicycle paths or parking space.

Commissioner Ross Philbrick, who lives on the island, called the bonus points system "immoral."

Trinity plans bazaar this Thursday

JENSEN BEACH–The Trinity United Methodist Church bazaar, bake sale and luncheon will be held Saturday, Nov. 23 in the Fellowship Hall on Arch Street, Jensen Beach.

The doors will open at 9 a.m. On sale will be Christmas gifts and decorations, plants, baked goods and a fine lot of White Elephants.

PTA on Thursday

JENSEN BEACH–The Jensen Beach Parent Teachers Association will hold their next regular meeting Nov. 21 at 7:30 p.m. at the Jensen Elementary School.

Refreshments will be served and babysitters provided for the meeting.

'Good Kids' concert

JENSEN BEACH–A rock concert was attended by 500 youngsters Saturday night at Langford Park and an observer said the good kids were there.

It was beautiful having that many young people there and have no problems, Frank Wacha said.

Wacha praised the optimist members. They did a spectacular job.

DONATION–Ocean Breeze Park donated a ceramic kiln to the Jensen Beach Elementary School. Accepting the gift is Mrs. Barbara Hendry, president of the Jensen Beach PTA and Frances DeVoe of the school. Making the presentation is Gene Howe, left, mayor of the park.

...e three day tournament, Novem... through December 1, will be free ...en to the public. Obando said ...tching rounds are planned for ...day, November 29, with the tourney ...ishing the next day at 11 a.m.

...e top seeded team is Roe Fick and ...ris Sims star Donna Garst. Miss ...ris is ranked ninth in the nation in 18 ...old girls singles, and seventh in ...en's singles in Florida, and is ...ently trying to clear a possible ...ict of duties so that she can participate. Fick is ranked 18th in Florida men's singles.

D'Tom Falkenburg, nationally ranked and eighth ranked in Florida seniors, will team with Carol Coburn a West Palm Beach pro.

Localites playing include Obando with Brenda Grossnickle and Bob Grossman with Lucia Gale.

Sally Campbell, ranked twelve in women's junior vet singles will be teamed with Gunther Eichorn. West Palm Beach, and Scott Oughterson will team with Kathy Breeden. Bill Davis and Pat Atwater of North Palm Beach are teamed.

Charlie Johnson and Irene Mendoza of Delray Beach are set as are Jamie Montiega and Celia Gomez, fifth ranked in women's junior vet in Florida.

The number two Florida ranked team of Bud and Helen Lusk will be in the tournament, as will Francisco Montana and Cynthia Bruce.

The tournament is the first in what is planned to be a regular series of tournaments sanctioned by the Florida Lawn Tennis Association and the United States Lawn Tennis Association, under the direction of Obando Hilton pro.

Vikings and T-Birds to meet

BY DONNIE WILKIE

JENSEN BEACH–The Port St. Lucie Upper Division Vikings will try to avenge an earlier defeat this Saturday night when they will take on the Indiantown Thunderbirds.

Indiantown hasn't allowed a single point all season, and the Vikings will have to change that in order to keep alive their fledging championship hopes.

The Vikings (6-1) feature the tremendous runner by the name of Rusty Sauer. Sauer can break loose for a long gain on any given situation. Meanwhile, quarterback Bruce Good win is a fine passer if the occasion arises for the pass.

Indiantown (7-0) features the best defense seen in recent years. But records are made to be broken, and the Vikings have the capabilities to break them before they're even set.

Albert Keyes, the Thunderbirds' fine receiver is questionable for Saturday night's season finale, as he has missed school this week and is ill. However, if he does play, Indiantown has one of the best passing attacks in the league. Led by George Palmer, the T-Birds can hit with a Keyes touchdown at any moment.

A key to their running game is Lawrence Drayton, and when he turns it loose, watch out. Also a key figure in the running attack is Palmer, who along with Emmitt Mitchell, form a ferocious backfield.

Get out and watch this big game. It will be the game of the year and it will start at 8:15 at Langford Park in Jensen Beach.

Nuclear benefits listed

JENSEN BEACH–Benefits of a nuclear power unit outweigh its possible hazards, an internationally recognized physicist said this week.

Dr. Karl Z. Morgan made the statement Monday at a continuing Atomic Energy Commission hearing on Florida Power and Light Company's request to build a second nuclear unit on Hutchinson Island.

The hearing was in Miami.

Dr. Morgan, who has been involved in the atomic energy program for 40 years, was the key witness for a group of residents who oppose construction of the $361 million, 890,000 kilowatt nuclear plant.

At the earlier hearing in Jensen Beach, Dr. Morgan testified that the proposed plant could be a health hazard.

He testified Monday, however, that he feels the benefits of having an adequate power supply outweighed the cost, unless there is an alternative site with adequate cooling and low population density.

"The proposed plant offers relatively cheap, relatively clean energy, compared to fossil fuel," Dr. Morgan said.

Meanwhile, at Public Service Commission hearing in West Palm Beach, FPL official noted that nuclear power isn't the answer to escalating oil prices and skyrocketing electric bills.

James Lasseter, a company vice president, told the commission that it takes about 10 years for a nuclear plant to become operational.

It was noted that to produce the same amount of power from a barrel of $12.50 oil, it cost only $1 if a nuclear resource is used.

FPL officials noted that even though the basic raw material for nuclear power is much cheaper than foreign produced oil, the finish cost is nearly twice as much as fossil oil fuel.

Parents buy Pine School

STUART–It was announced this week that parents of the Pine School have accepted a proposal to assume control and total responsibility for the school's operation.

They are seeking affiliation with the South East Diocese of the Episcopal Church as soon as possible, according to a spokesman for the group.

Evinrudes head United Fund

JENSEN BEACH—The United Fund of Martin County has announced the appointment by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evinrude, Jensen Beach, to act as campaign co-chairmen of the 1974-75 United Fund Drive.

Starting date for the drive is January 6, and it will run approximately 30 days. The goal is set for $95,000.

At a board of directors meeting held Nov. 13, the following were approved as participating agencies for this year's drive:

United Service Organizations, Palm Warden Girl Scout Council, Boy Scouts of America, Council on Aging, Langford Park, Martin County Assn. for Mental Health, Mental Health Association Center, Children's Home Society of Florida, Tri County Rehabilitation center, American Red Cross, the Martin County Assn. for Crippled Children and Adults.

Tourist coming

No shortage of gas

BY CHARLES CATES

JENSEN BEACH—A year ago Jensen motorists waited in long lines at service stations to get gasoline.

They didn't say "fill 'er up" when they finally reached the gasoline pump. Instead motorists took whatever small amounts they could get.

Jensen Beach area service station operators don't expect a repeat of long lines of cars at their stations this year.

"We have plenty of gas this year," Clarence Rydell, owner of Gold Coast Tire Center on Commercial Street said. "It's not like last year."

Prices might go up a bit, Rydell said.

We're getting 67.9 per gallon for regular and 69.9 per gallon for premium," the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce director said.

However, other service station operators are not sure of the price and amount of gasoline for the future. But they don't expect a gasoline shortage.

"I don't get any notice on the amount of gasoline I'm going to get or what the price will be," Art Riley of the Texaco Station on SR 707 said.

"Last November I got 12,000 gallons and this month I got 12,000," Riley said.

"I was short all summer," Riley said, "and this is the first month I got all I needed."

"We just had a two-cent drop in prices," Riley noted. Regular gasoline at the station is 54.9 per gallon and 58.9 per gallon for premium.

Lackey Jones of Soutnes Gulf Station on Indian River Drive also isn't sure of the price and amount for the future.

"If I get my allotment, I'll have plenty of gas," Soutnes said.

Soutnes noted that the Gulf dealer here showed Gulf officials in Atlanta last year the growth of Martin County from 1972 to '74 and the county's allotment was increased.

At the Snack Shak where Fina gasoline is sold, Johnny Crawford noted that shipments from several dealers for the company are still coming in.

"We haven't had any bad reports on the supply," Crawford said, noting that he sells regular for 53.9.

Crawford and other gasoline station operators point out that more people are coming back to Jensen Beach for the winter.

"The tourists are starting to come in," Rydell observed.

Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce leaders Ernie Baker and Al Tomas-zewski both reported Monday an increase in tourist traffic.

Many of the cars coming into Jensen Beach over the weekend had out-of-state car tags, Tomaszewski observed.

And Executive Director Mrs. Helen Richardson reported an increase in mail from people asking about places to stay for the winter season.

Employees announced by Welcome Center firm

JENSEN BEACH—Paul G. Zinter, Realtor of Welcome Center Real Estate, Inc., 26001 S. U.S. 1, Jensen Beach, announces the addition of three new members.

John Karrer has been appointed as property manager, specializing in the rental of Port St. Lucie properties. He is retired Navy Medical Service Corps commander, who retired after 30 years active service in 1973. Since his retirement he has taken the Hotel/Motel Management course from the LaSalle University Extension in Chicago, as well as qualifying himself to become a licensed Real Estate Salesman in the State of Florida. He and his wife June now reside at 1578 S.E. Sunshine Ave.

Hap Trottier, retired Navy Captain, and Howard Hickman, former New Jersey Realtor were appointed to the sales staff. Trottier spent most of his Navy time in the Submarine Force and commanded the Submarines Crevalle and Angler. He is married and has three grown daughters. He and his wife Rebel reside at 442 S. Naranja Ave.

Hickman brings his years of New Jersey Residential Sales experience to The Action Team, having been a million dollar producer five years in a succession. Howard, his wife Doris and two daughters Merry Lee and Holly reside at 1433 Sunshine Ave.

Tiny Tots program starts Friday

FORT PIERCE—Beginning November 22 and continuing through December 20, the Fort Pierce Community Center and Sr. Indian River Dr. will sponsor a Tiny Tots Program for children between the ages of 18 years old.

The program from 1-3 p.m. will consist of games, stories, educational activities and refreshments will be served.

For additional information contact the Center at 464-2248.

Friday, Nov. 29, we will have a night for Viet Nam veterans. This will be a social event, but we will have Martin County service officer, our service officer George Hodge, and 11th District officer, Julius Tucker on hand to answer veterans' questions.

The informal session is designed to help veterans with problems, who are not sure what to do. One does not have to be a member to attend, but should bring his discharge papers.

Free food and refreshments will be served. Any other veterans with questions may come.

Don't forget - this is Friday, Nov. 29 and, if you are not a V.F.W. member, bring your discharge with you.

The auxiliary will meet Wednesday, Nov. 20 at 8 p.m. All members are urged to attend. Don't forget the wreaths and articles the ladies are making for Christmas. They will used this money to make Christmas stockings for our veterans in the V.A. Hospital in Miami.

These girls are doing a fine job and deserve our support.

The V.F.W. will meet Thursday, Nov.

V.F.W. news

BY CHUCK RENDER

21. This is an important meeting as we will have nomination and election for Jr. Vice Commander. I strongly urge all members to be present.

Remember every Saturday we have a work detail. We still have a lot of work to do in order to finish our new building. Every little bit helps. Even if you can only work for an hour, it is a big help. Thank you.

Coming events: Nov. 29 - Viet Nam Vets night. Dec. 1 - 11th District Meeting in Okeechobee. Dec. 5-8 - Winter Conference in Castleberry. Dec. 13 - 11th District Dinner Dance. Dec. 21 - Children's Christmas Party. Dec. 22 - Christmas Party. Dec. 31 - New Year's Party.

Mrs. Chamblee speaks to Junior Woman's Club

STUART--Mrs. Sandra Chamblee of Belle Glade was the guest speaker at a buffet supper meeting for members and guests of the Junior Woman's Club of Stuart. She is junior district director of district 10, Florida Federation of Woman's Clubs, and gave an informative talk on the benefits of being a federated club.

Belonging to federation means extra work, but there is enormous strength in numbers, according to Mrs. Chamblee. All clubs throughout the world are joining together on projects such as mental retardation, children with learning disabilities, and the Kidney Foundation.

Stuart Juniors have been a member of the Florida Federation and the General Federation of Woman's Clubs since 1950. The program helped to give members a better understanding of the importance federation plays in local club activities.

Mrs. Betty Bair accompanied Mrs. Chamblee to Stuart. Other guests at the meeting included Karen Krantz, Vivian Parant, Lois Farley, Jeanne Choners, Kathi Monaco, Annie Mateer, Pat Kinney and Suzy Hutchensen.

The Junior Jewel award was presented to Susan Merritt and Olga Robinson for a "super job" on CIP luncheon in October.

After the program, upcoming projects were discussed. Among them is the Christmas Parade, which will be Dec. 14 at 6 p.m. The costume committee reported being up to their elbows in needles and thread making costumes of animated characters for the parade.

The Homelife Department is sponsoring a card party on Nov. 23 - 7:30 p.m. in the clubhouse.

The Juniors will wage their annual Buck a Cup campaign in February.

The public affairs department will arrange to show the film "The Friendly Stranger" to elementary school children again this year.

A sign donated and painted by Walt Neff for the Open Door Preschool was displayed and will be taken to the school this week.

Members were reminded that Christmas cards for the Martin County Association of Retarded Citizens are still on sale and may be purchased by calling Sarah Barrow at 287-5387.

Each member brought two cans of food and 75 cents for a food basket for a needy family.

Members were reminded also that the conservation department is collecting aluminum cans for recycling.

Linda Talbott adjourned the meeting, wishing everyone a happy Thanksgiving.

WW1 Auxiliary card party

JENSEN BEACH--The Auxiliary of Barracks 854 WWI Veterans held a card party on Nov. 14 with 14 tables in play. Addie Farwell and Connie Brutdoske were the main prize winners.

Door prizes went to Connie Brutdoske, Margaret Tracy, Marcella Deus, Mrs. Cunningham, Mary Hale, Minerva Decker, Henrietta Horton, Ann Riley, Julia Callahan and Evelyn Harring.

Puppet show at library

JENSEN BEACH—Martin County Public Library will hold a puppet show Tuesday, Nov 26 at 3:30 p.m. Children in kindergarten through the third grade are invited.

The show is called "granny and the big gray thing," and is adapted from a children's book.

Your Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19 - Also Aries Ascendant) - Energy is high and ability great - success crowns your efforts. Push ambitions forward. Implement projects for approval. Use your artistic talents. Intuition and inspiration are accented. Short trips are favored.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20 - Also Taurus Ascendant) - Take the long range overview now. Don't get caught up in petty trivialities or be sucked into worn-out procedures. Be open to constructive suggestions from others. Get "out and about" to cultural events.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20 - Also Gemini Ascendant) - Your past efforts come up for review. Note the strengths and weaknesses of your performance and make corrections. A helpful professional contact can be made at a social affair. Cooperation is key now at home.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22 - Also Cancer Ascendant) - Take a very realistic view of opportunities that are presented to you - there's a tendency toward unrealistic expectations. Take advice and sales pitches with a grain of salt. Use your time constructively.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22 - Also Leo Ascendant) - You are hyper charged with energy and ideas now. Put a dream to work to become a reality. Others are inspired by your leadership and enthusiasm. Some of you may receive promotions and praise be modest.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 - Also Virgo Ascendant) - Keep your nose to the grindstone and be reliable, prompt on the job. Excessive intimacy with a superior may be ill-advised. Keep your cool and avoid impulse. Move slowly and cautiously in romantic situations.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 - Also Libra Ascendant) - Work behind the scenes instead of in the spotlight. Good time to catch up loose ends on projects not completed. Let others take the lead. A business opportunity that is offered from a distance has good possibilities.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 - Also Scorpio Ascendant) - With exciting projects already launched now is the time to consider practical things such as finances. Go over budget carefully with projections into next year. Important people those in high positions can be met now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 - Also Sagittarius Ascendant) - Guard important relationships carefully. Stay at top of and be aware of keen competition around you. Maintain your position and control where important interests are involved. Romance favored.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 - Also Capricorn Ascendant) - Travel to see loved ones, family over the holiday is highly favored. Take time out to enumerate to yourself your many blessings. Affairs run smoothly and harmoniously. Entertain romantically someone special.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 - Also Aquarius Ascendant) - Home entertainment with special friends and loved ones brings much joy. Your emotions are highly stimulated and romantic quarrels a possibility. Guard against idolizing another. Beat disappointment follow.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20 - Also Pisces Ascendant) - Move now to bring plans to completion. Single Piscean could marry now. A trip may somehow benefit financial picture. Good time to hone up skills or study something new. A professional honor and publicity is possible.

Venture Out News Notes

BY "THE PINCH HITTERS"

BY BETTY DAVIS

Willard Auch has put his foot down. He positively will not write the Venture Out news until summer. If you all want the column you'll have to write or type your contributions and get them to Venice Jones Saturday morning, early. If not the column we so dearly love will die a natural death, which would be a shame.

All Venture Out people extend their thanks and appreciation to Willard Auch, who for more than two years took the responsibility of writing Venture Out News in the Mirror. Seldom was there a week of no news, and if that happened, it was with good cause. Willard says he will re-enter the writing field in the summer months. In the meantime, please bear with us who are trying to retain where angels fear to tread.

If you have wondered why Claude and Helen Duncan have not been out daily fishing it is because Dunc gouged a big gash in his right hand requiring 8 or 9 stitches. They are hoping to have their two grandchildren from Kissimmee for Thanksgiving.

* * *

Bill Nelson, boatman from away back, lost a shoe on the foredeck Sunday when he was about to tie up to the Davis dock. Overboard he went off the bow. His trick back leg and hip responded most painfully. Jensen Beach ambulance promptly answered Grace's call and X-rays proved his bones all okay, so he is recuperating on the sofa, and getting all the attention he surely deserves.

* * *

Red and Alice Fitzgerald have arrived with their two sons-in-law with a pick up full of goodies to dress up their new coach.

* * *

Bill and Mate Greulling came the same day and had to move from their Airstream into the park model.

* * *

Saturday night's Beer Bash was enjoyed by all, with Joe Freitag in charge of the grills. The hot dogs were delicious and hot which is no small project with everyone hungry at once.

* * *

Pot Luck hostesses this week included Jackie Phillips, Fran Tener, Catherine Higgings, Jeanne Reynolds, Betty Davis and Rose Curth. Everyone likes the hot meal course delivered at six. Great idea, Connie, and it tends to give more variety to the meal.

* * *

BY JACKIE PHILLIPS

Toad Bowling left after some fishing and "house cleaning" of boat and trailer. Looking forward to having him back with wife, Lucy, in January.

* * *

The Irwins and Barrets are greatly missed since their departure last week. They promised to be back after the holidays.

* * *

Marge and Bob Owen are entertaining their friends and neighbors of Grand Blanc, Michigan. Berta and Al Thompson. Al and Bob were former co-workers at Buick Motors, Flint, Michigan. Berta said "we're having a wonderful time and delight in the good life you all enjoy here." They all had a great sail on "Meo-Reo" the Owen's lovely 25 ft. sailboat.

* * *

Bob and Cory Piece of Middlesex, New Jersey, visited Kathy and Bruce Parmenter. The four took a nice ride in the Parmenter's motor boat, "Uno-Ojo" up the St. Lucie River, and watched the alligators, snakes and turtles laze away in the noon-day sun.

BY UNABELLE RAVINET

Thelma and Max Dickey have returned to the park for a two week stay. Welcome home.

* * *

Anne Van Willigen entertained a group of friends from the park at a delightful luncheon at the Flame Restaurant.

* * *

Katherine Huggins has been very busy with the St. Martin Church bazaar with a cake and boutique sale. Very successful, congratulations.

* * *

Bob Smith has returned home and is recovering very well from surgery.

* * *

Jessie Shaver is still in Martin Memorial Hospital but is coming along very well after surgery. Hope to see her home very soon.

* * *

Theo Slagle has started her duty as a good citizen by reporting for Jury Duty at Ft. Pierce. Hope she is selected for some interesting cases.

* * *

Bobby Ostertag has been busy traveling. Spent a delightful visit with her daughter Gail and son-in-law Mike Cochran in Tampa, helping with their new home, then a day with her parents to celebrate her mother's birthday.

* * *

Paul Drinkard is seen madly digging ditches in the hopes it will turn out to be a sprinkler system on their beautiful new property.

* * *

Louise Shephard has returned to the park, but has been so busy entertaining her visiting friends, we haven't seen much of her. Good to have her back and hope she is enjoying her stay.

* * *

BY RUTH BLESH

Mildred and Roger Forting were up for a few days. They are having a sea wall built behind their home in Boynton Beach, so had to get back to supervise the job.

* * *

Steve and Lucille Balowski were here but just stayed overnight. They will be back for the winter season on Nov. 30.

Chas & Marie Frederick arrived on Saturday. During the summer they travelled 7,000 miles, took in the fair in Washington, on into Canada, then as far south as Mexico. They said they had a wonderful time. They are staying for a month, then are going back to Tennessee for the holidays. Will be back in Venture Out in January for the rest of the winter.

* * *

Hal and Myrtle Abrams are due in the end of this week.

BY MARY ELLYN MEACHUM

Bill and Millie Middleton entertained Harold and Betty Rocklin and Don and Betty Baxter, formerly from Schenectady, N.Y., now of North Palm Beach, Sunday.

* * *

The Prews and the Ramseys have arranged a full dress square dance with a live caller at the rec. hall this Sunday, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. All are invited to come and observe.

* * *

Richard Evans, from Lake Tomahawk, Wisc. has arrived for the winter. He was surprised to find a green tomato on his vine that had survived the summer.

* * *

Frank and Carol and son, Brent, from Lindsay, Ontario have arrived for a two week stay. Mrs. Wilson's sister and brother-in-law, from Coburg, Ontario accompanied them.

* * *

Joe and Amy Freitag are the proud owners of a new 24 foot cabin cruiser, they will be picking it up sometime this week. Bon Voyage.

* * *

Louise and Carroll Wyatt are homeward bound for the holidays. We will look forward to their return in early January.

cherry tomatoes whole mushrooms
Idaho potatoes
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons milk
½ cup sour cream
2 tablespoons blue cheese
2 tablespoons chopped chives
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

In large bowl combine oil, vinegar Worcestershire sauce, pepper sauce garlic, salt and thyme. Add steaks Cover, marinate in refrigerator one hour. Scrub potatoes, dry and prick with a fork. Place on oven rack and bake in 425 degrees F. oven 55 to 60 minutes, or until soft. Remove from oven. Cut an X in the top, scoop out pulp into large mixing bowl. Add butter milk, sour cream, blue cheese, chives salt and pepper. Beat until smooth. Refill potato shells and keep warm. Thread 4-inch skewers with steaks tomatoes and mushrooms. Place on broiler rack. Broil kabobs three to four inches from heat for six to eight minutes. Serves four.

CHICKEN FRICASSEE WITH SESAME SEED

2½ pound chicken, cut into 8 pieces
2½ cups water
1½ teaspoons salt
½ cup sesame seed
1 tablespoon oil
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 tablespoon paprika
1 tablespoon onion powder
½ teaspoon garlic powder
¼ teaspoon sugar
One-sixteenth teaspoon ground cloves
One-sixteenth teaspoon ground cinnamon

In a large saucepan combine chicken water and salt. Cover and simmer until tender, about 30 minutes. Remove chicken from broth to platter; keep warm. Reserve one cup of the broth; set aside. In jar of electric blender grind sesame seed or crush between two sheets of waxed paper with a rolling pin. In a large skillet heat oil. Add sesame seed. Cook and stir over moderate heat until golden, about five minutes. Stir in tomato sauce, chili powder, paprika, onion powder, garlic powder, sugar, cloves and cinnamon. Cook five minutes. Stir in reserved broth. Heat until hot. Spoon over chicken. Sprinkle with additional sesame seed, if desired. Serves four.

Sweet potato souffle

2 cups boiled, mashed sweet potatoes
¾ teaspoon salt
2 cups rich milk or thin cream
½ cup honey
2 tablespoons cornstarch, dissolved in 4 tablespoons of the milk or cream
3 beaten eggs
1 cup broken pecan meats
Marshmallows

Blend all ingredients except marshmallows in order. Place in deep buttered casserole or baking dish. Bake slowly (300 degrees) 30 to 40 minutes, or until set, so that a silver knife thrust into souffle comes out clean. Cover top with marshmallows.

Continue baking until marshmallows are puffed and brown. Serve immediately.

am sessions bring back pioneer spirit

By SHIRLEY GALLINA
Copley News Service

LOS ANGELES — Bobbie Hedges has created a neighbor cooperative in Manhattan Beach reminiscent of pioneer days.

She has taught many of her neighbors how to make jam from the fruits they grow.

"If we didn't share the fruits we wouldn't make as many varieties of jam," Mrs. Hedges says.

Sometimes, a neighbor will give me a great quantity of fruit and I'll make the jam and keep half.

Other times, a neighbor will make jam from my fruit, such as peaches when I have a large crop, and then she keeps half.

Most of the time we work individually, but occasionally someone will come over and we make double batches together.

I only put up what I raise in our garden or what the neighbors share with me.

Mrs. Hedges raises black berries, strawberries, peaches, plums and grapes. She has put in an apricot tree but it's not bearing yet.

Some years I do guava jam, but my bushes didn't bear last year.

I also make kumquat marmalade when my mother's tree has a lot of fruit.

She and her husband Don have three sons ranging in age from 5 to 10.

I have found that many cookbooks and commercial canning pamphlets advise using two cups more of sugar for each recipe than I do.

"My neighbors feel the same way. The way we make jams, they aren't so terribly sweet, and they taste better than many of the commercial jams.

"It also helps with the sugar expense.

Another way Mrs. Hedges cuts expenses is to use jars that contained peanut butter, honey, mustard or mayonnaise. As you can't vacuum seal these, she uses paraffin.

"I concentrate on jam as I don't have enough fruit to put up whole.

"Except I do freeze some of my peaches for pie in the winter. That's when it's really appreciated.

She shares her recipes for three jams. Both the plum jam and the pineapple-apricot recipes make from six to eight half-pints, while the blackberry makes six half-pints.

For all recipes, after cooking, pour jam into sterilized jars and vacuum seal or use paraffin.

APRICOT-PINEAPPLE JAM

4 cups apricots, chopped
2 cups canned crushed pineapple
¼ cup lemon juice
1 box (1¾ oz.) or 2 oz. powdered pectin
6 cups sugar
½ tbsps. coutreau, optional

Wash, pit and chop apricots. Combine with pineapple and lemon juice in large pot. Add pectin and bring to full boil. Add sugar all at once and bring to full rolling boil that cannot be stirred down. Boil hard for one to two minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and skim off foam.

PLUM JAM

4 pounds (six cups cut up) Santa Rosa or other varieties plums
¼ cup water
1 box (1¾ oz.) or 2 oz. powdered pectin
6 cups sugar

Wash plums, pit and chop fine. Add water and cook five minutes. Add pectin and mix well. Bring mixture to hard boil, stirring occasionally. Add sugar all at once and stir to dissolve. Bring mixture to full, rolling boil and boil hard for one to two minutes. Remove from fire and skim off foam.

BLACKBERRY JAM

4 cups berries
1 box (1¾ oz.) or 2 oz. powdered pectin
6 cups sugar

Wash berries just before using and place in large pot. Crush berries one layer at a time to crush them all. Add pectin and bring to boil. Add sugar all at once and stir to dissolve. Boil hard, stirring constantly three to five minutes. Remove from heat and skim off foam. Recipe may be doubled, but no more.

Food career chosen over Danish wedding

ESTER RASMUSSEN
glad I chose a career

Miss Ester Rasmussen did not follow in the footsteps of most other young women in Gudbjerg, Denmark, for she chose a career rather than marriage to a young man of the village.

This career eventually led Miss Rasmussen to the United States.

"I'm glad I chose a career. I love my work and I love America," Miss Rasmussen said.

Home economics director for the Western Division, Denmark Cheese Association, Miss Rasmussen spends part of her time developing recipes at a test kitchen in Concord, near San Francisco, and the rest of the time traveling around the country promoting Danish cheese.

"When I first came to this country I was surprised at how many salads you served here," she said. "We do not serve so many salads in Denmark. But, we are beginning to serve more there."

On last time I visited my family in Denmark I noticed this.

Though she loves this country, the red-headed Dane is not sure she would consider marriage to an American.

"I say that now, but I might change my mind sometime in the future," she admitted smiling.

When she entertains Americans in her home, Miss Rasmussen says she usually serves European-type food.

But when I entertain visitors from my homeland, I try to give them foods of that country," she said.

She also directs the programs of the Karoline Girls who help promote Danish cheese in this country.

The Karoline Girls are trained in Denmark to be goodwill ambassadors for Danish cheese. they help with taste-testing programs and demonstrations in super markets and at special civic events, she explained. They are stationed all over the world.

The best known Danish cheeses in this country are Esrom (Danish Port Salut), Havarti, Danish Tilsit, Samsoe, Danbo, Tybo and Danablue (Danish Blue). Miss Rasmussen said.

Miss Rasmussen suggests that when storing cheese it should be covered and stored in a cool place. Before storing in refrigerator, wrap the cheese in foil, plastic wrap or an airtight container.

"Mold is harmless," she said. "Just scrape it off."

One of Miss Rasmussen's favorite recipes is Hamburgers with Ost (cheese), prepared the Danish way and Danablu Dip.

Hamburgers with Ost

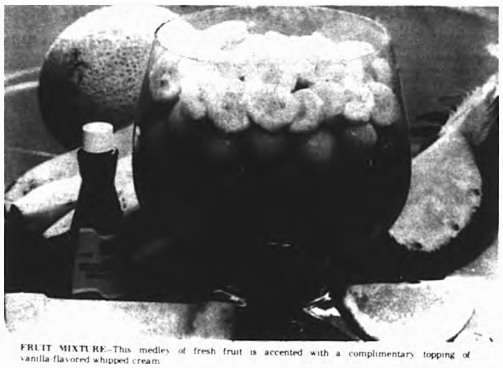
1½ pounds ground beef
Salt, to taste
Pepper
6 tbsps. butter
4 slices Danish Tybo or Samsoe cheese, ½ inch thick
¼ cup red wine
3 medium size onions, sliced in thin rings

Shape six hamburgers, 1 inch thick. Season with salt and pepper. Heat 4 tablespoons butter and fry the patties, then remove into an ovenproof dish. Cover the cheese slices with the red wine and let soak. Saute onion rings in remaining two tablespoons butter until golden brown. Cover each hamburger with a slice of cheese and top with the sauted onions, then add the remaining red wine. Place in warm oven, 440 degrees, for approximately five minutes, or until cheese starts melting.

Serve with green salad and slices of warm crisp French bread.

Danablu Dip-A-La Kobenhavn

In a small bowl crumble Danish blue cheese with fork. Slowly add whipping cream and mix until smooth and creamy. Add one tablespoon of good brandy and a few chopped walnuts.



FRUIT MIXTURE-This medley of fresh fruit is accented with a complimentary topping of vanilla flavored whipped cream.

Vanilla gives fruits, puddings a fine flavor

The fruit of a tropical orchid is one of the most popular flavoring agents in the world. The flavoring comes from the vanilla bean, a tropical climbing orchid.

Pure vanilla is a wonderful blending agent and flavor sweetener especially for fruit flavors. This culinary secret has been used by French chefs for some 300 years. They add a bit of vanilla not only to fruit compotes, fresh or cooked, but in jams, jellies and preserves.

A century ago - especially in Scandinavian countries - a traditional rice pudding was made with vanilla sugar sugar mixed with one or two chopped vanilla beans and allowed to "set a spell." Today's homemaker can get the same flavor from pure extract.

VANILLA-COFFEE TAPIOCA PUDDING

2 eggs, separated
4 cups milk, divided
One-third cup quick-cooking tapioca
Two-thirds cup sugar, divided
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon instant coffee powder
1½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract

In a mixing bowl beat egg yolks lightly. Stir in ¼ cup of the milk; set aside. Scald remaining 3½ cups milk, mix with tapioca and one-third cup of the sugar, salt and instant coffee. Cook and stir over low heat 12 to 15 minutes or until tapioca is transparent. Slowly stir in egg yolk and milk mixture; cook two to three minutes, stirring frequently. Remove from heat. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Gradually beat in the remaining one-third cup sugar and vanilla extract. Fold into the tapioca mixture. Cool and then chill until ready to serve. Yield: Six to eight portions.

ELMI'S VANILLA RICE CREAM

1 quart milk
¾ cup raw, unprocessed rice, rinsed
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons pure vanilla extract
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
(Note: Vanilla Strawberry Sauce)

In a medium-size heavy saucepan heat milk, rice and salt to boiling point. Reduce heat. Cover and simmer 20 minutes; remove cover and simmer until rice is tender, about 15 minutes, stirring frequently. Stir in sugar; let cool. Stir in vanilla extract. Fold in whipped cream. Spoon into individual dishes. Pour Vanilla Strawberry Sauce over rice. Garnish with sliced strawberries and mint leaves if desired. Yield: Eight portions.

(Note: Vanilla Strawberry Sauce: In an electric blender puree together 1 pint hulled washed strawberries with 1 tablespoon sugar and 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract.

VANILLA TANGED FRUIT COMPOTE

½ cup water
One-third cup sugar
Peelings (yellow portion only) from 1 lemon
¾ tablespoons lemon juice
3 tablespoons pure vanilla extract
2 tablespoons orange liqueur (optional)
3 quarts mixed cut-up fresh fruits such as cantaloupe, strawberries, watermelon, bananas, orange sections, peaches

In a small saucepan combine water, sugar and lemon peelings. Bring to boiling point; reduce heat and simmer for two minutes. Cool. Strain. Add lemon juice, vanilla extract and orange liqueur. In a large serving bowl place fruits in layers if desired. Pour syrup over fruit. Cover and refrigerate for 1 hour or until chilled. Serve with Vanilla Whipped Cream. (Note: Vanilla Whipped Cream: Combine ½ pint heavy cream, 1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar and 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract; whip until stiff. Yield: Two quarts fruit compote.

Bourbon Street Shrimp

¼ cup butter
8 mushrooms, sliced
1 can (10 oz.) frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup, thawed
1 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon soy sauce
¼ teaspoon black pepper
1½ pounds shrimp, cooked, shelled and deveined
Toast slices or cooked rice

Melt butter and saute mushrooms until wilted but still white. Stir in soup, sour cream, soy sauce and pepper. Cook, stirring, until sauce bubbles and becomes smooth. Fold in shrimp. Heat until bubbly. Serve spooned over toast slices or cooked rice. Can also be spooned into small casseroles; top each casserole with one-third cup grated sharp Cheddar cheese. Place under broiler and broil until bubbly and golden brown.

SERVES 4

Oriental crunchy meatballs

2 cups soft bread crumbs
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon soy sauce
½ teaspoon garlic salt
¼ teaspoon onion powder
½ pound ground beef
½ pound pork sausage
1 5-oz. can water chestnuts, drained and chopped

Combine all ingredients and shape mixture into 1-inch meatballs.

Place in shallow baking pan and bake in 350 degree F. oven for 18 to 20 minutes.

Serve with hot Chinese Sauce.

YIELD: about 60 meatballs

Maple Glazed Orange Buffet Ham

CANNED ½ POUND HAM cup pancake or maple syrup tablespoon freshly grated orange peel cup freshly squeezed orange juice teaspoon ground allspice or cloves large oranges, peeled

Remove ham from can, place on cutting board. Cut into ½ inch slices. Using clean cord or string, firmly tie ham into original shape. Place fat side up on rack in shallow pan. Follow directions on can for temperature and timing. Meanwhile, in small saucepan, combine syrup, orange peel and juice and allspice. Boil hard about 3 minutes until thick and reduced to a little more than ½ cup. About 30 minutes before ham is done, generously brush with glaze. Continue roasting, basting one more time.

Slice peeled oranges into 8 cartwheels each. Place on baking sheet or jelly roll pan that has been lined with aluminum foil. When ham is done, remove from oven and increase temperature to 450 degrees F. Spoon remaining glaze over ham slices and place in oven 3 to 5 minutes until heated. To serve, place ham on platter, remove string and surround with warm maple-glazed orange slices.

SERVINGS 10 to 12

Turkey Roast with Pineapple Pecan Sauce

Turkey Roast or Ham Roast teaspoons Cornstarch tablespoons sugar teaspoon cinnamon
cup pineapple juice teaspoons lemon juice cup chopped pecans cup chopped pineapple

Place the turkey roast on spit and secure with prongs. Cook according to manufacturer's directions. In a small saucepan, blend together cornstarch, sugar and cinnamon. Combine pineapple juice and lemon juice, and add enough water to equal one liquid cup. Measure. Pour gradually into cornstarch mixture, stirring constantly to make a smooth consistency. Cook until mixture thickens and becomes translucent. Stir in pecans and pineapple. Simmer for 5 minutes. Serve hot with turkey or ham.

Cranberry and Wine-Glazed Pork Loin

pork loin
and garlic powder can jellied cranberry sauce cup brown sugar, firmly packed cup port wine
prepared yellow mustard

With sharp knife score surface of fat into diamonds. Rub all surfaces of meat with salt and garlic powder. Place pork on rack in roasting pan and roast at 350 degrees for 2 hours. Meanwhile, combine cranberry sauce, brown sugar, port wine and prepared mustard. Simmer until glaze is hot.

Brush glaze generously over pork and roast 30 minutes more. Serve extra glaze as sauce.

SERVES 6 to 8

BLACK WALNUT CREME DELIGHT

cup margarine cup brown sugar cup commercial sour cream
cup sugar
teaspoon vanilla extract
cup finely chopped black walnuts

Cream margarine in heavy 2-quart saucepan, add brown sugar, heat and stir until melted and slightly browned. Add sour cream and sugar, stir until sugar is dissolved.

Cook slowly, without stirring, until candy thermometer reaches soft ball stage or 236 degrees F.

Remove from heat and cool without stirring to 110 degrees F. or until you can comfortably touch bottom of pan. Beat until mixture holds its shape. Add vanilla and nuts.

Spread into a greased 8-inch square pan. Cut into squares when cool.

YIELD 1½ pounds

SANTA'S COFFEE CAKE

cup butter or margarine cup plus 1 tablespoon sugar egg
cup commercial sour cream
teaspoon vanilla extract cups sifted flour teaspoon baking soda teaspoon baking powder teaspoon salt

TOPPING: cup chopped nuts
cup flaked coconut tablespoons grated orange rind
cup sugar
teaspoon cinnamon

Combine all ingredients and mix well.

Cream butter or margarine and sugar well. Beat in eggs, sour cream and vanilla.

Sift together dry ingredients and add to mixture.

Pour half of cake batter into a greased 8 or 9 inch tube pan, then add half of topping mixture. Repeat. With a knife cut through batter several times.

Bake in a preheated 350 degrees F. oven 40 to 50 minutes or until done.

YIELD 12 to 15 servings

News of Nettles Island

BY MAY TIFFT

Almost before I have a chance to tell you that Frances and Andy Aderson are here, they are returning home. But they will be back in January for a longer stay. Andy became so enthused about tennis here last year that he went home and built himself a tennis court.

+ + +

Rose and Elmer Carl returned Nov. 8 to stay the winter. Already they and the Campmans have left in their motor homes to visit Orlando and Busch Gardens at Tampa.

+ + +

If you see a lady fishing off our causeway most every day, it is Ruth Peterson from Celebrity Is. - and she catches lots of fish too!

+ + +

Kay and Ben Soskel are back for the winter as are Evelyn and Mike Miller. The Millers' son Ira was here visiting them too.

Hazel and Lou Pettisani, who run a trailer park and marina in New Jersey, came in last week and are here for the winter. They brought a bushel of beautiful apples for their neighbors to share. Very thoughtful!

+ + +

The Veterans Day dance was a lot of fun. The hall was decorated in red, white and blue and the orchestra - The Four Yachtsmen.

Interspersed with the regular dances were some group dances and tag dances for variety.

Veterans were called to the platform who were 60 years or older and given recognition. The oldest was Doc Ackert. Mind if I tell, Doc? 71 years. You may remember he was one of the "belly dancers" in the minstrel show last year.

Marg and Tony Armbruster, lot 1023, became grandparents of a darling 9½ pound girl on Oct. 28. The baby's name is Courtney Dyane, and the parents, Jerry and Sherry Black live in West Bloomfield, Mich. Grandma and Grandpa just checked in here Nov. 10.

+ + +

Helen and Lee Churchill, lot 1114, have opened their "Pup Tent" Pet Boutique and Grooming Salon next door to the post office here on the island. They are members of the Professional Groomers Assn. They formerly operated a salon in Glen Ellyn, Ill. Lee is formerly from Santa Monica, Calif. and Helen from Ft. Lauderdale. They are capable with all breeds. So don't let your dog "go to the dogs" friends.

+ + +

Mary Wilkersons, lot 52, reports that Harold Johnson is undergoing treatment in a clinic in Texas. You will remember him and Irma as ardent bicyclers, tennis players and pot luck participants. They don't know anyone where they are and I'm sure would appreciate cards or notes from you. The address is 10100 So. Main St., Houston, Texas 77025.

+ + +

Helen and Russell Petersdorf are in their trailer out on Celebrity. They are from Milwaukee, Wisc.

In talking with Mary and Peter Van Rutten over on the tennis court the other day, I learned they are leaving for home (Grand Rapids, Mich.) after just having a 15 ft. tip out trailer. They will be back in Dec. - home in Jan. - and back in Jan. I don't know whether to call them "Yo-Yo's" or "Commuters."

+ + +

The George Millers, who are permanent residents here, have asked me to report the death of their little dog, "Cherie." It is strange indeed not to see Cherie in their cart with them as she was their constant companion.

+ + +

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dodson of Baltimore, Md., have been visiting Hazel and Chuck Ludwig. And the parents of Don Howard have been visiting him.

+ + +

Sunday I attended church service here and was surprised to see so many children. They really enjoyed the singing. There were about 100 people in attendance from many states and Canada. I couldn't help thinking that, no matter what one's denomination is, the joy of worshiping away from home is increased by doing it with one's friends here.

Chuck Ludwig catches his fish the easy way. He leaves his baited fish rod on the sea wall across from where he lives.

He and Marlin Marquardt were chatting on the patio this week when Chuck made a dash for the sea wall when he saw his bobber dancing. The result was that he caught a real big granddaddy trout.

A lady came up to me in craft class and said she recognized me as one of the "Andrews Sisters" in last year's minstrel show. I was glad to find out she is JoLong, lot 721, for her husband Cecil was in charge of the electronic equipment for that show and did just a fabulous job. We'll need you again this year, Cecil, so keep in touch with Al Ganz.

+ + +

Also, I just heard Johnnie and Clettes Greene are back. They were among the first to buy here at Nettles Island. Welcome back!

+ + +

Theatre in the Round met today and members read for parts in a skit written by Cheri Fett entitled "Hair Today, Gone Tomorrow." It's real humorous and will be presented after pot luck Dec. 11th. The cast will be listed in another news item.

+ + +

George Beardo and his daughter Marcia are giving Al Ganz and Joe McDermot tough competition on the tennis courts. Regularly now they have more and more of a gallery.

+ + +

Don't forget to get your reservations in for the Thanksgiving dinner. Each table of six people will have a stuffed turkey, giblet gravy and coffee provided. You get together with the others at your table and supply the rest of your menu. You may plan your serving for 2 p.m. or 5 p.m. This is a project of the Womans Club and reservations MUST be in by Nov. 23.

+ + +

Sure nice to have Nina and Harold Leonard back. He led singing at pot luck last time.

+ + +

Do you have your identification bracelet?

+ + +

We now have golf carts for rent by the hour, day or week. I understand that some are also for sale. They are stored at the condominium office and I think rented there. Good way to save on gas and nice to go to the beach in.

Sam Neally tried his new endeavor sailing and had two dunkings from tacking when he should have been tacking. We wish him better luck on his next try.

P.S. When Sam was asked about this news item, he said: "That's not true. My first dunking was because my stern was too heavy for the boat's stern, and the second was because I held my gum in the wrong side of my mouth."

From me to you,

TASTY SNACKS--These easy-to-make ham and cheese snacks will add tasty food interest to cocktail parties.

Do-ahead foods give parties a boost

By SUSAN DELIGHT
Copley News Service

A well-balanced cocktail food menu includes both hot and cold hors d'oeuvres.

The wise hostess is one who prepares and refrigerates party food long before serving time. Then, at the last minute, she heats the hot hors d'oeuvres and removes plastic covers from the cold food.

The recipes given today are the do-ahead type.

CRESCENT HAM 'N CHEESE SNACKS

2½ cups very finely chopped ham
3-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
½ cup chopped stuffed green olives
2 tablespoons lemon juice
8-oz. can refrigerated quick rye crescent dinner rolls
3 tablespoons sesame seed

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. In medium bowl, combine first six ingredients; mix well. Separate crescent dough into four rectangles; firmly press perforations to seal. Spread each with ham mixture. Starting at shorter side, roll up each rectangle. Coat with sesame seed. Cut each roll into five slices. Place cut-side-down on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake 18 to 22 minutes until golden brown. Refrigerate any leftovers. Twenty snacks.

Tip: For use in counter top portable oven, preheat oven to 375 degrees. Prepare snacks as directed. Place 10 snacks on ungreased oven tray. Bake 22 to 28 minutes until golden brown. Repeat with remaining snacks.

PATIO PATE

1 8-ounce package small curd cottage cheese
1 4¼-ounce can liverwurst spread
½ cup grated cheddar cheese
¼ cup chopped onions
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

Combine all ingredients in a mixing bowl and blend well. Chill. Serve with crackers or crisp celery, carrot and cucumber fingers.

CHEESY CHICKEN SPREAD

2 4¼-ounce cans chicken spread
2 3-ounce packages cream cheese, softened
¼ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
¼ teaspoon red pepper sauce

Combine all ingredients in a mixing bowl and blend well. Chill. Serve as a spread on crackers or with crisp, fresh vegetables.

DEVILED DIP

2 4¼-ounce cans deviled ham
1 cup sour cream
3 tablespoons spicy brown mustard
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 teaspoons celery seed

Combine all ingredients in a mixing bowl and blend well. Chill. Serve with crisp, fresh vegetables or chips.

Festive holiday menus and fashions highlight Mirror Cooking Show

PORT ST. LUCIE--The eleventh annual Mirror Cooking Show is destined to be the largest, most exciting show in history, and the show itself will be proof of the pudding, as over 1,500 are expected to attend the free show.

With two sessions at 2:00 p.m. and at 7:30 p.m. in the St. Lucie Hilton Convention Hall this Thursday, The Mirror teams with Publix Markets, Sears of Ft. Pierce and St. Lucie Hilton Inn to bring a wide array of foods, fashions and food and appliance displays to fill the convention hall according to Dick Campbell, editor of The Mirror.

Linda Shrigley and Barbara Benson, home economists, plan an exciting demonstration of holiday menu ideas that will help homemakers pretty up the tables during the Thanksgiving and Christmas season in this the first holiday related cooking show.

Demonstrations will include tips on using the new electronic ranges that are becoming more and more popular as homemakers learn how to use them.

With Clifton Goodale playing back ground music, both Sears and Kaye d'Lea will show holidays fashions.

The Sears segment will be a unique complete show that will spotlight what the woman of the house can look forward to through a full day . . . and comes packaged with the holidays mood of "We're Home a Long Way Halls." The program is directed and created by Sears fashion coordinator Polly Baldwin.

One of the new highlights of the show will be a colorful flaming dessert prepared by Chef Max Lang of the St. Lucie Hilton. The flambe dessert is certain to be popular with homemakers in a time that flashing color is a fitting part of any festive dinner.

Before both the afternoon and evening programs the famed Sweet Adelines will be entertaining the early arrivals. The afternoon show will feature the Sweet Adeline Quartet in a twenty minute songfest and the evening show will feature the entire group.

Before and after the show there will be a home show in the display area with small appliance and home furnishing dealers exhibiting ideas that will make the home and food preparation more enjoyable for the consumer.

Presidents Council will meet Thursday

PORT ST. LUCIE--The Presidents Council, heads of all organizations in Port St. Lucie, will meet at the CESA Building on Thursday, Nov. 21 at 2:00 p.m.

Matters of importance to all will be brought up, according to council president Cedric Benz, who stated that he will appoint a nominating committee to report a list of candidates for president, vice president and secretary at the January meeting.

All group presidents are urged to attend or if this is not possible to send a representative.

PORT ST. LUCIE--Edward Becker of Miami recently enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gagg, Bevis Avenue, Port St. Lucie.

Interested Homeowners

Political group obtains charter

BY ALICE HICKEY

PORT ST. LUCIE--It was apparent the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie were gaining momentum as an estimated 150 residents of the city turned out for Monday's meeting at the St. Lucie Hilton.

Confirmation of the charter should be forthcoming from Tallahassee within days, said Art Sprague, president of the group. The necessary papers were filed by Stuart Attorney James Littman last week.

Citing the need for a change in city government and the city charter, the group was formed less than two months ago for the purpose of backing political candidates for the upcoming city elections to be held in March. City elections are held in March every other year.

The three seats up for re-election this year include those of Councilmen Dr. Harold Nottley, Frank Beardsley and Ken Thompson.

Under the council form of government, the voters elect five councilmen but the councilmen elect the mayor during the reorganizational meeting held in April.

In his report to the group, Seymour Flemming, sitting in for Chairman Larry Fiscus, referred to the councilmen's salaries, pension and insurance plan as the "All American Gold Award."

These are non-contributory by the councilmen of the council, Flemming added.

Initiating some of the items on the city's budget which prompted the organization of the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie, Inc., Mrs. Lolita Kernohan, secretary-treasurer, pointed out the fact the present council voted themselves a 300 percent raise in the spring of 1974.

Councilmen being paid by the city for performing more than one job also [illegible] expenses and who have a total expenditure of $3,750, a considerable savings over the budgeted amount, said Flemming.

Including Flemming, said there were many other areas of the city government that could bear scrutiny.

As long as the present law stays on the books, the slate of candidates mentioned, something has to be acted on, the purpose of this group is to bring responsible representation on the City Council, Flemming said.

At this point a resident of North Port, Charles Calmes, questioned Sprague if it was the intention of this group to represent only the country Club area or the entire city, which includes North Port, Mid Port and South Port.

It is the object of this group to obtain

Shufflers are in league play

PORT ST. LUCIE--Over 60 members were on the courts for the first Fun Night shuffling last Thursday evening. This will be a weekly affair and members are urged to come out and enjoy the fun and improve their game.

The Indian River League play will begin Wednesday, today with the Port St. Lucie club hosting the Whispering Creek team on its home courts, according to tournament director Judd Reading.

The Central League will also begin today with the Port St. Lucie team playing on the Whispering Creek courts.

Residents oppose road takeover

PORT ST. LUCIE--A petition is currently being circulated throughout Section 24 of Port St. Lucie in protest of the City's proposal to take over the roads and swales in that area from General Development Corporation.

The group circulating the petition refer to themselves as the "Section 24 ISL Homeowners." The organizer and chairman of the group is Frank Rose. The first meeting was called and held last Saturday evening at the Port St. Lucie Marina.

According to Rose, 98 residents appeared at the meeting to express dissatisfaction with the proposal. Invited but not attending were Mayor Larry Kimmel, Councilmen Ken Thompson and Vaughn Lewis, William Mel Bowers, chairman of the planning and zoning board, and President of the ISL Homeowners Association, Clyde Bauer. Bauer is also a member of the city's planning and zoning board.

Proof to such a takeover by the city, the land development would be obligated to bring the streets and swales up to city standards but it was not made clear just what these standards are.

Rose is hopeful the petition will be in order to present to the City Council this Friday allowing plenty of time to be included on the council's agenda for Nov. 26.

Section 24 includes that area bounded by Orlando Avenue, Florida and Lennon.

Bike paths approved

PORT ST. LUCIE--It seems a bicycle path along a portion of East Prima Vista Boulevard is now assured.

Don White, chairman of the public affairs committee of the ISL RP Homeowners Association revealed Monday county authorities advised the finalization of the project have been approved and allocated.

The county engineer has been authorized to get it on the drawing board and let the contracts, White said.

Regarding the expected completion date, White said it is unlikely the paths will be ready for use by the date set for the opening of the new Port St. Lucie Elementary School scheduled for Jan.

He noted that contract negotiations, advertising and preparatory requirements could well involve a period of eight or ten weeks, but once work has started, it is expected the project will be completed in a few weeks.

Robert Seeley, GDC vice president and general manager of Port St. Lucie, has advised the city that the Prima Vista Blvd. bridge, which will be completed by GDC, will be ready for use by the opening of the new school.

GDC will build three bicycle trails at no cost to the county, but upon completion the county has agreed to accept them for maintenance.

Tank top charge denied

PORT ST. LUCIE--Complaints by residents in the northwest section of the city before last week's city council meeting brought forth immediate response.

Jack Pruden, owner of Prudente Septic Tank Service, was vehement in his denial to the accusations of an irate homeowner.

Pruden said he was accused of instructing his resident to leave the cover off the tank to prevent backup into the home.

"Mr. Amarato (431 Sherbrooke) made the statement while pumping of the high water table and the lack of services available in the area.

"We have never instructed anyone to remove the cover from their tank," Pruden said. "We have left the dirt and sod off the cover because of the [illegible] pump outs we are making.

"Mr. Tyler, who has been making a number of calls in the area, did not."

"There was a drainage problem in the location but did not offer any solution.

"New problems were not evident to us knowledge before the heavy rains of during the summer. I have been instructed to pump out the tanks by the City Development Corporation until such time as they can move its area of the [illegible] Pruden added. "We have no authority to do anything other than that.

"According to Pruden, the Tamarato tank has been pumped out approximately 30 times since the heavy rains started in June.

Harry Snyder, superintendent of domestic development for GDC, said approximately two weeks ago he had a gradient survey in the north area to find out if anything out swales or an effort to alleviate some of the drainage problems.

"Although the work has not been completed we will not be working in that area again for several weeks to my knowledge," Snyder said. "At the present time we have the equipment working on the St. James extension and [illegible] could last until the first of the year.

Robert Seeley, GDC vice president and general manager of Port St. Lucie, has directed the firm's engineering and land development people to assess the possibilities of alleviating the drainage problems in the area.

"There is certainly something that can be done, Seeley said. "We are trying to make a determination of the [illegible] remedies which might be taken to relieve the situation there in the storm sewer system."

According to Seeley, an application for the expansion of the main sewer system in that area has been filed with the Department of Pollution Control for over six months.

Harold Schmidt, vice president of GDC, is waiting in Tallahassee to urge the approval of the expansion.

uppet will enhance book week

PORT ST. LUCIE--The Port St. Lucie [illegible] library will present the puppet show of Jim and the Beanstalk in connection with Children's Book Week.

"It is an amusing story of what can happen if a second adventurous child were to take a trip up the [illegible] to the land of the giants.

All children from ages 5 to 10 are invited to attend at 4 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 21 at the Port St. Lucie Branch Library.

The library will be closed for regular business from 4 to 4:30 to facilitate the presentation of this program.

nior Women in bazaar Saturday

PORT ST. LUCIE--The St. Lucie Junior Woman's Club will sponsor their [illegible] bazaar Saturday, Nov. 23.

The event will be conducted in front of Fields Plaza in Fort Pierce from 9 until all items are sold.

There will be many articles for the [illegible] Christmas giving, and Christmas decorations featured. Plants and [illegible] baked goods will also be available.

Seven new members were initiated into the club recently during [illegible] ceremonies conducted by Mrs. Richard Pozniak and Mrs. Gary Arnett.

New members include Mrs. Stanley Breidemeier, Mrs. Michael Foster, Mrs. Patrick W. Geller Jr., Mrs. Kim Hetfellinger, Mrs. Roy Howell, Mrs. Joseph Pavin, Mrs. Robert Post, Mrs. Douglas Roach, Mrs. Joseph Strater, Mrs. Frank Watts and Mrs. Brian Weaver.

Open bridge results

PORT ST. LUCIE--There were three tables of play at the Friday night session of the Open Bridge Club at the CESA building.

Taking top honors for the afternoon were J. Speers, A.J. Reed and Pauline Griffiths.

BEACH DEDICATION–The sixth public beach access strip on Hutchinson Island was officially dedicated the Chastain Foundation Public Beach Friday by county officials and the executive committee of the Save Our Beaches campaign.

Economic move

Twin Banyan development is withdrawn

JENSEN BEACH–Twin Banyan condominium project proposed for the east side of the savannas and north of Walton Road has withdrawn its development of regional impact application with the Regional Planning Council it was announced Tuesday.
Robert Amann of Universal Adams, developers of the planned project said the application withdrawal was "strictly an economic move on our part."
The Planning Council had scheduled a public hearing on the proposed development Monday, Dec. 2 in Miami.
Asked what was planned for the huge development in the future, Amann replied, "Can anyone tell me when the economy is going to turn around?"
He also noted that it wouldn't make too much difference if the interest rates dropped "because there isn't any money available."
We feel that it is not economically feasible to proceed at this time," Amann said.
State agencies had prepared critical reports of the proposed development which would have been presented to the Planning Council which ultimately would rule on approval of the development.
Amann said the reports did not enter into the decision to withdraw the application.
It was just an economic move on our part," he said.
We cannot approve the establishment of the dangerous precedent of development in the savannas. Roy Hopke, urban forester of the forestry service wrote in his report. "If this project is approved we may well be resigned to the piecemeal destruction of one of our most valuable remaining wetlands."
In the FCD report the water figures used by Universal Adams is questioned. Unquestionably, there is an overdraft of available water supply on site," the report states.
The FCD reports also advises that the regional agency should alert local government to our FCD regulatory responsibility in this regard and to highlight the potential problem of committing land use unsupported by resource capability.
FCD and the foresters division also are concerned about the planned access across the savannas.
It was pointed out by the FCD report that a proposed dike or berm around the west perimeter of the property will require its approval, and the report recommends against the berm which will require the digging of a perimeter ditch.
Anything that affects the movement of water through the savannas such as this road, the causeways that would cut across the savannas will have serious consequences, the forestry division stated in its report.
It was also noted in the forestry report that the proposed causeway could increase the chances of surface muck fires and, hard to handle muck fires would represent a health hazard to area residents.
The forestry service also is concerned about the possible removal of trees which act as a screen for noise in the wetland area, making it an excellent feeding site.
It was further pointed out in the forestry report.
Removal of pine trees could weaken the entire road system, leaving the remaining pines vulnerable to insect epidemic that could spread through the savannas. If the insects build up, they can kill what trees are left.
Use of chemical fertilizers to treat lawns at Twin Banyan, if the chemicals are taken into the water system, will degrade the water supply.
Because of the size of the project, more than 2,000 units is a development of regional impact, and the state agencies will make their reports at the council hearing.
Universal Adams project is north of Walton Road on the east side of the savanna and just west of Indian River Drive.

Sixth public beach dedicated

JENSEN BEACH–Official dedication ceremonies were held Friday afternoon by county officials and the executive committee of the Save Our Beaches campaign at the sixth public beach access strip on Hutchinson Island.
The beach strip, the first to extend from ocean to the river, is located south from the House of Refuge and one half mile north of Sailfish Point.
The property was purchased from St. Lucie-Jupiter Development Corporation for $220,000 with a $30,000 grant from the Robert Lee Chastain and Thomas M. Chastain Charitable Foundation with matching county and state funds.
The Chastain Foundation was established in 1964 after the death of Robert Lee Chastain. The only son, Thomas M. Chastain, directs the Foundation. He and the family still maintain cattle ranch in western Martin and Palm Beach counties. The grant was given in the name of residents in Western Martin County.
A letter confirming the $30,000 grant to the campaign stated. We do not always have the opportunity to participate financially in projects conceived with such unusual degree of thoughtful foresight so effectively carried out and bearing a clear prospect of direct benefit to the community as the Save Our Beaches campaign."
C. Scott Fletcher, executive vice-chairman and campaign director for the Save Our Beaches and Thomas M. Chastain, director of the Florida foundation were previously associated together as directors of the Community Television Foundation of South Florida.
The six-foot beach strip which stretches from the ocean to the Indian River is covered with shrubs and an abundance of trees, including groups of coconut palms.
Parking facilities are available both east and west of MacArthur Blvd. from the west area a beautiful foot trail leads through the woods to the banks of the river.
Fletcher noted the Foundation makes its grants primarily in Palm Beach and the Martin County area for those cultural, educational, medical and environmental enterprises which appear to have potential in benefiting the long term quality of living for residents.

SHOWTIME–Area residents flocked to the St. Lucie Hilton Convention Hall last Thursday to see the 11th annual Mirror Cooking Show and participate in the showing of foods and home appliances and furnishings at the appliance fair. The show was termed the smoothest ever by Mirror Editor Dick Campbell.

Redistrict is delayed

JENSEN BEACH–Martin County Commissioners Tuesday decided that redistricting was not an important issue and delayed any decision until at least 1975 or possibly 1976.
Commissioner Tom Higgins followed up on the redistricting of voting districts which was proposed by former Commissioner Chairman Lt. Ed Sears.
Commissioner Higgins suggested appointing a citizens advisory committee to look at the possibility of redistricting.
However Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick said that the staff would be up staff personnel and that the cost could run as high as $15,000.
It was pointed out by Commissioner Higgins that the commission had gone along with Lt. Sears's proposal, but Philbrick said they had not been able to research the idea.
Commissioner Elmer Powers said that the redistricting proposal was not high on the list of priorities of things to be done, noting the staff was behind on planning.
Powers suggested that the commission not consider redistricting until 1975 or 1976, after the 1980 census.
And Commissioner John Kiernan noted that all the commissioners had to run at large, and not just from their district.

Committee chairman of the sight conservation committee is Vince Vanacore.

THRIFTY SALE–Mrs. A. C. Mills of the Jensen Beach Garden Club reminds residents of the thrifty shopper sale which the club will hold Dec. 6.

Chamber to install officers in Stuart

JENSEN BEACH–The installation dinner for the 1975 officers and directors of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Elks Club in Stuart Thursday, Dec. 12.
Activities for the evening will begin at 6:30 p.m. with a social hour followed by dinner at 7:30 and dancing beginning at 8:30.
The price is $8.50, and reservations may be made either by mail with check or at the chamber office not later than Friday, Dec. 6.
Officers to be installed include Art Hansen, president; L.D. Kirkpatrick, vice president; Ginny Van Dein, secretary; and Hal Campbell, treasurer.
Directors to be installed include Don Walker, John Hexburn, Joseph Burnbera, Joan Betsch, Jacqueline Hall, Ellery Wright, Joseph Mauldin, Ernest Teales, Frank Mock and Fres Stein.

Drainage work is ok

JENSEN BEACH–A $9,500 contract was awarded Tuesday to Dickerson, Inc., Stuart, by Martin County Commissioners for drainage work on Barbara Drive in Jensen Beach.
Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick said work on the street had been done in the county some four years ago, but the work had not been completed.
Commissioners also authorized purchasing agent Paul Penrod to seek bids for a sidewalk in Jensen Beach.
The walkway will extend some 750 feet from North Savanna Road near Commercial Street intersection to Linda Drive.

Arch gets help

JENSEN BEACH–The Jensen Beach Garden Club, which did some beautification work at the Arch on SR 707 about five years ago, is going to gather information on what plans, if any, the county has for improving the landmark.
We are trying to get some information, Mrs. A. C. Mills said.
We did some landscaping at the Arch when I was president (1969-70) and it was bulldozed away," Mrs. Mills said.
She also noted that a sprinkler system was installed at the Arch.

Jinx Falkenburg playing

St. Lucie mixed doubles draws top tennis players

PORT ST LUCIE—A Virginia Slims star and a movie star are among top Florida tennis stars gathering this weekend to participate in the first annual St. Lucie Hilton Tennis Club Mixed Doubles Tournament according to Mario Obando, pro.

Jinx Falkenberg McCrary, well known movie star and consumer advocate is playing in the tournament with her son, Paddy McCrary, assistant pro at Mariner Sands.

Also Hayns Fox, junior national champion and Virginia Slims tournament player will team with Ron Fick in the tournament.

The teams will be seeded on Wednesday night but Fick and Fox are fairly certain to be seeded number one in the tournament.

While not all the hoped for entries have been received by Obando with some top Florida teams expected twenty teams have already entered. This means that the tournament has been moved back to Friday and final matches are scheduled for Friday evening at 5:30 p.m.

Among those teams sure to be considered for seed positions are Tom Falkenberg and Carol Coburn, Charlie Johnston and Nan Torry, Gunther Eichorn and Sally Campbell, Jimmy Manfiegna and Celia Gomez, Francisco Montana and Martha Bruce and Obando and Brenda Greenacre.

Saturday matches will begin at 10 a.m. and the final matches will be held on Sunday, with semi-finals at 10 a.m. and finals at 2:30 p.m. Presentation of awards will follow the finals.

Obando said that presentation of the SLHTC junior trophies will be held at the final presentation time.

The tennis players and committee will be hosted at a cocktail party at the Hilton Saturday at 7 p.m.

Ministerial Thanksgiving services

PORT ST LUCIE—The St. Lucie County Ministerial Association will hold its annual Thanksgiving Ecumenical Service at 10 o'clock Nov. 28 at St. Anastasia's School Auditorium. The school is located on south 33rd Street between Orange and Delaware.

The service will include ministers from many of the congregations throughout St. Lucie County. Rabbi Mel Hecht of Temple Beth El will deliver the sermon address.

HOSTESSES Sara Kwasnik, Magic Headresses of Martin County, are Shirley Gilman left and Beth Bergman. They are holding the most famous basket in the world. The Welcome Wagon Basket.

PSL homemakers choose new officers

PORT ST LUCIE—The Port St. Lucie Homemakers Club has nominated officers for the coming year as follows: Anna Marie Conrad president, Gatha McLaughlin vice president, Ann O'Neill secretary, Vivian Wilson treasurer.

The new officers will be installed at the Christmas Luncheon slated for 1:30 p.m. December 12 at the new Holiday Inn, North Beach.

Members are reminded to bring an exchange gift to the Christmas party and another marked for a lady or gentlemen residing at the Hill Haven Home.

The Port St. Lucie Ladies hosting the annual Christmas Tea this year. It is slated for 2:00 to 4:30 p.m. on December 5. Each member is asked to bring two dozen cookies.

A covered dish luncheon was enjoyed at the club's regular meeting on Nov. 14 at the Marina. Table decorations of fall flowers and paper turkeys provided by Kay Grattage and her committee created a Thanksgiving atmosphere.

Mrs. Shirley Kilpatine of Vero Beach demonstrated and guided members and guests in the use of Liquid Embroidery.

Last fishing class is Friday

PORT ST LUCIE—The final fishing class sponsored by the Port St. Lucie Anglers Club and conducted by Bob Pelonis of IRCC will be held this Friday, Nov. 29, at 7:30 p.m.

The class is convening one half hour earlier than usual to give Pelonis more time to review snook and surf fishing.

The next regular Anglers Club meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Dec. 3 at the Marina on Prima Vista Blvd. Charley White will present a movie entitled "On the Third Day" following the regular business session.

The Dec. 17th meeting will be Awards Night for the annual fishing contest which ends Nov. 30. Also at this meeting there will be an election of officers for the coming year.

At the Nov. 19th session Dick Schmidt talked about "Fishing with Lures." Schmidt is a former president of the club. The members also enjoyed a slide lecture by Barbara Gutwaller.

Special holiday Bingo is planned

PORT ST LUCIE—Special attention is being given the games for the Thanksgiving and Christmas bingo parties held at CESA.

According to Schuyler Sharp, chairman of the bingo committee, free turkeys will be given away in addition to the regular $25 in prizes.

The Thanksgiving game will be held Saturday, Nov. 21 at 8 p.m.

Details of the Christmas party have not yet been finalized, according to Sharp.

'Thrifty Shoppers' sale

JENSEN BEACH—The Thrifty Shoppers sale sponsored by the Jensen Beach Garden Club will be held at the Community Center on December 4 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Coordinators for the sale may be reached by Mrs. William Stephenson or Mrs. Cletus Stull co-chairmen for the event. To arrange for pickup phone 334-0467.

Barbara Lapere was the featured speaker at the club's meeting on Nov. 20.

New members the Mesdames Carl Aetzel, Evelyn Hoffman, Bacon, John Erickson and Henry Eichelsu were introduced.

Mrs. Mellon Murray discussed Christmas floral designs and activities.

Guests attending the meeting were Mesdames Whitson, Strandholt, Schrat, Keiser, Taylor, Hemberger, Martin and Mrs. Hendales.

Refreshments were served by Hostesses of the day Mrs. Cletus Stull and Mrs. Ralph Hall.

Soroptimist International celebrates 20th birthday

STUART–The Soroptimist International of Stuart celebrated their 20th birthday last week with a gala dinner party at the Bay Harbor Club.

Rosaleen Murray was Mistress of Ceremonies for the affair. She introduced President Betty Abbott who welcomed the guests. The welcome address was given by Janet Overstreet of Soroptimist International of the Palm Beaches. Grace was given by Eloise Moegen.

Esther Armstrong, first president of the local club, cut the birthday cake assisted by nine past presidents.

Claire Fulton presented a talk about "Are you a Good Soroptimist?" which was followed by induction of new members.

Etta Peck, Registrar at Martin County High School and Elaine Oram, owner of Hawaiian Paradise were elected by Mrs. Gladys Smith immediate past president of the Fort Pierce Soroptimist International.

Janet Lavery was named Woman of the Year and perfect attendance awards were received by Juanita Edwards (10 years); Betty Abbott, Louise Miller, Eloise Moegen and Rosaleen Murray. A special appreciation award was given to Leonard and Juanita Edwards for their work in the community and club.

Since the club's inception, the dedicated community minded members have accomplished much including saving the House of Refuge and spearheading a drive for its new roof. They have participated in Christmas Parades, Save the Beaches, Martin County Library expansion.

They originated the Community Pool Fund had the sum they raised added to the new pool fund and helped raise the $100,000 needed. They have helped in numerous ways with the Pioneer Occupational Center and have given parties at the nursing home.

They placed anchors north and south of town in the median strip on U.S. 1 furnished a room at Martin Memorial Hospital, gave needed items for the women in the Martin County Jail.

The club sponsors the "S" Club for high school girls and gives scholarships each year to three high school seniors.

The "My Fair Lady" contest, which takes place every year at the Martin County Fair is sponsored by the club.

Happy Birthday.

MINISTER OF EDUCATION. Rev. and Mrs. H. Farrell Bill Kincaid were officially welcomed by the congregation of the Jensen Beach Community Church last Sunday when he assumed his duties as Minister of Education. The Kincaids come to Jensen Beach from Ill. where he served as pastor of two churches in Oblam and Dellville. Mrs. Kincaid, Tami, is a junior high school teacher.

Winter festival at church

STUART–The second annual Winter Festival will be held at St. Joseph's Church Stuart on Saturday, December 7th from 1 to 9 p.m. The Home and School Association is sponsoring this event and the proceeds will go to benefit St. Joseph's School.

Among the many activities to keep all ages busy and amused will be games and super rides, a country store with very unique items, a garden shop with many varieties of plants and terrarium, a bake sale which will include the best homemade goodies and of course refreshments for all.

Mini-Fair is set for December 7

JENSEN BEACH–The Jensen Beach Community Church Mini Fair will open at 11 a.m. December 7, serving coffee goodies and a varied luncheon menu.

Among a large assortment of items on sale will be baked goods, greeting cards, plants and flowers, handmade gift items, jewelry, trash and treasures and a boutique table.

The Youth Group will be in the parking lot to give cars a good wash while their owners are at the fair.

The day will end with a pancake supper presented by the Men's Brotherhood. Members of the Brotherhood have tickets available.

It all takes place at the Fellowship Hall of the Jensen Beach Community Church located on Skyline Drive. The public is cordially invited.

St. Joseph's Guild Christmas party

STUART–The St. Joseph's Guild Christmas party slated for next Monday, Dec. 2 at 12 o'clock noon, will begin with reception of the Hussars and Benediction at St. Joseph's Church.

A luncheon and tour of the Tri-County Rehabilitation Center will follow. Mrs. Richard Woodruff is chairman for the affair.

Members are requested to bring gifts for the Christmas party at Stuart Convalescent Center which will take place on Dec. 9th.

Auxiliary to meet

JENSEN BEACH–The next meeting of the Jensen Beach Fire Department Auxiliary will be on Dec. 2 8 p.m. at the Fire House.

It is planned to spend the evening making Christmas decorations and favors for the party for firemen and auxiliary to be held on December 14.

Five years ago in The Mirror

The November 27, 1969 issue of the Jensen Beach Mirror was a mail away edition.

Pictures showed Jensen Beach before the fire and the Jensen Beach of 69 with the Elliott Museum, House of Refuge, Holiday Out and Lake Manor and a crowd at a Saturday night turtle watch and many other area attractions.

Smiling Fred and Helen Silvers were pictured in the Jensen Trailer Sales Inc. ad.

A large large crowd turned out for dedications of the shuffleboard courts at the Marina Port St. Lucie.

Horace Donley was Bowler of the Week. He rolled a 647 series 173 pins over his average.

* * *

Harold Salzler, officer in charge at the Jensen Beach Post Office, was pictured mailing Christmas cards as he urged to everyone to "Mail early."

Plans were being made for the First Annual Martin County Women's Bowling Association tournament.

Earth Week

FORT PIERCE— The Ecology Club of Indian River Community College is observing Earth Week Nov. 18 - 25 with a number of special activities.
Besides the campus decoration contest among all clubs on campus. Each club will be assigned areas and materials to decorate must be either natural or permanent improvements. Prizes will be awarded.
A newspaper drive is another Earth Week project. Pickups in Fort Pierce and Okeechobee will be made on Nov. 22 and Monday, Nov. 25 at Fort Pierce and at Okeechobee.
Work will be in Vero Beach in the area just off the Miracle Mile shopping center from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 23. Papers will be picked up in front of the Winn Dixie in the Stuart Shopping Plaza on Monday, Nov. 25 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Clean up in the four county area has been planned. All civic clubs, church organizations and other groups have been invited to become involved.
The purpose of Earth Week according to an Ecology Club spokesman is to make the people in the community more aware of their surroundings to take note of how they have abused and polluted the area, has been and to arouse their interest in doing something about it.

D & M News Notes

BY MILDRED STINNETT
334-4486

I was introduced to a charming lady last week at a meeting of the Hobby Group. Mima Traill, of Clyde Bank, Scotland, who is spending six weeks here with her sister and brother-in-law, Esther and George Grindley.

+ + +

Ethel Phillips brought Don home from the hospital Thursday morning and although he must rest a great deal, he is on the road to recovery.

+ + +

Mr. and Mrs. William Reynolds of Youngstown, Ohio, have been with the Ritenours for the past two weeks, fishing, touring Cypress Gardens, shopping in West Palm, etc. Mrs. Reynolds is Hershel Ritenour's niece.

+ + +

Have you noticed how spruced up the Recreation Hall and laundry area are lately? Herman Painaude is doing a splendid job on them, and we like the new look very much.

+ + +

The D & M Mobile Home Owners Assn. held a meeting on Nov. 18 at which President Alan Fowler presided. Approximately 30 people attended, and among other things, discussed the resumption of our popular Pot Luck Suppers, and the annual Thanksgiving Dinner. A nominating committee was appointed and will report at the December meeting.

+ + +

The annual Thanksgiving Dinner is off to a good start, with Fran Gehres, Esther Gentry, Olive Binns and Nettie Keefer doing the honors, planning the menu, and contacting everybody who will be there so that all may share in the festivities. As usual, the management will donate the turkeys.

Vi Cabral, the new Arts and Crafts instructor, brought some fascinating examples of her talent to the Hobby Group meeting Tuesday, Nov. 19, so we could look over some delightful things to make for the holidays as decorations and as gifts. We all signed up for at least one project, and Vi started us working on them, pronto.

Grace Steiner and her daughter, Alice Reeder, were hostesses for the meeting and served delicious goodies at a tastefully decorated table.

The exercise group did not attract a sufficient number of women to really form a class, but we are looking forward to seeing more of them attend. We meet on Tuesday and Friday mornings at 9 a.m. in the recreational hall.

Marvie and Don Wininger have returned from a very successful hunting trip way up in Indiana. They were after quail, and bagged plenty. They also brought their father and his wife back with them to spend the winter in Dennis Wininger's double-wide.

+ + +

Still more residents have arrived. Helen Cook from Stewart, Ohio, and Jay and Wanda Burton from Orleans, Indiana, all of whom are glad to be back.

Fran Gehres just stopped by, working on the Thanksgiving Dinner, and told me her mother is improving far better and faster than they expected.

Rose and Chet Randall have had a house guest - Rupert T. Burks, of Chattanooga, and of course Chet, our most ardent fisherman, has seen to it that he gets plenty of fishing done.

Esther Kaiser sent holiday greetings to all her friends in D & M, and her card has been placed on the bulletin board in the recreation hall. She has had a busy summer - visiting her son and his family in Hampton, Virginia, and entertaining her brother and his wife from New York. Esther added that our temperatures of 70 and 80 make her long to return - let's hope she can, very soon.

Optimist Club basketball registration Saturday

JENSEN BEACH–The Jensen Beach Junior Basketball program gets underway in December and registration is now being held for both boys and girls.

Registration will be held this week at Langford Park at the fieldhouse which is next to the basketball courts. Youngsters wishing to participate in either the lower ages 10-12 or the upper ages 13-15 divisions must come down to the park between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday morning-afternoon and must be accompanied by a parent. Also required is a five dollar registration fee to cover insurance and proper equipment for the league and proof of age birth certificate.

Last Saturday some 20 youngsters showed up to register for the program including three girls. The games will be played on Saturday afternoons starting in December.

The program will be sponsored by the Optimist Club of Jensen Beach.

Vikings win, force playoff

PORT ST. LUCIE–Local football fans enjoyed two football treats Saturday. In the afternoon they witnessed the squeaker between Ohio State and Michigan and Saturday night a thrilling game was played between the Port St. Lucie Vikings and the Indiantown Firebirds with the championship of the senior circuit of the Martin County Football League on the line.

The Vikings needed the win to force a playoff with Indiantown which was the only team who had previously beaten them. Sheer determination brought home a 14 to 8 victory for the Vikings.

The final score of the junior contest was Indiantown 26, Vikings 0.

The playoff game for the senior circuit will be played on the Port St. Lucie Optimist Field. Game date will be announced later.

Lady golfers tie three ways for second

MCWA explores various publishing techniques

STUART—How to achieve publication of novels, short stories, feature articles, dramas and poetry was the principal topic of the recent workshop of Martin County Writers Association held Nov. 20 at the First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart.

Lucy Casselman, a new member of Sewall's Point, described the methods she utilized in researching and writing three novels and a travel article.

Wilhelmina Rainbeck of Miles Grant, a prize-winning short story writer, discussed the preparation and selling of radio/television scripts and humorous pieces.

Among the ranks of member poets, Rusti Lewis of Stuart has a new work being published in a national scholastic journal and Don Mills, also of Stuart, was asked to read two of his recently completed pieces.

Two artist members also participated in the meeting. Phyllis Artis, well known Stuart painter, uses oil as the medium for her floral compositions. Janet Wise, noted sculptor, specializes in portraiture and writes poetry for children.

Secretary Ethel Hurst of Jensen Beach read a letter from the association's founder, Kathy Stahlberg, who now lives in Texas.

Ann Gallaway, of Palm City Farms, announced that the Christmas party for members and their spouses will be held December 18 at her home. Mrs. Gallaway will furnish additional details at the December 4 meeting.

President Marion Gauger of Jensen Beach invites everyone in Martin County who is interested in any form of writing as a pastime or a profession to attend the next meeting on December 4 at 10 a.m. in the community room of the First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart. Additional details may be obtained by telephoning Mrs. Gauger at the office.

PORT ST. LUCIE—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Croushore of Adrian Blvd., Port St. Lucie, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Burt Swanson and Gary Wright of Shillgarf, Germany, for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Croushore, a former Home Economist, attended the Jensen Beach Methodist Women last week and won the prize of a $50 Hoop Skirt contributed by the "Purple Birthday Cake."

While there in Miami to indulge the Saddened in putting on a food show in Chicago, Mrs. Swanson the local show and "delighted" with the fact that "Burt" could eat anything below.

Soroptimists sponsor 'TAP'

STUART—The Soroptimist International of Stuart is sponsoring a Training Awards Program, "TAP," again this year.

The TAP award is designed to help a citizen upgrade their job level and is to be used for the purpose of on-the-job training, to further careers and for advancement.

Soroptimist International of Stuart President Doris Arbuckle said that regional awards of $1,000 each will be given. Application must be in by January 1, and may be obtained from Martha Scanlon at the Chamber of Commerce, 1650 S.E. 17th St., or by calling Mrs. Scanlon at 287-1088.

Chairmen Peg and Al Ray want to thank the committee members and friends who helped them make the Thanksgiving dance such a wonderful success. Everyone had a wonderful time. So, don't miss the dances.

The next dance will be the Christmas dance on Thursday, Dec. 5th. The hosts are the Foots and the Guthrils. Bill Reerichsen with the Fred Rodes Trio will furnish the toe-tapping music. Be sure to not miss this one.

+ + +

Ballroom dance lessons have started in the rec hall on Mondays and Wednesdays, 1 2 p.m. for elementary, and 3 for advanced. I might add that some grey hair young men are having a lot of fun.

+ + +

Join the square dance class with Jack Heaton as caller on Tuesday nights 8 p.m.

Swimming and water safety classes begin this Friday, Nov. 29 at 1 p.m. Come out and find out what you're doing wrong.

+ + +

Join in the Hymn Sing on Sunday evenings from 7:30 to 8:45 in the rec hall. Dot Blair will welcome you.

+ + +

Art classes, under the able tutelage of Madeleine Rehetser are underway now on Fridays from 2 5 p.m. in the rec hall. Here's your chance if you always felt you wanted to try it.

+ + +

Mae Williams reports the Tupperware Party was a huge success, and wants you all to know that you can pick up all your purchases at the rec hall this Saturday, Nov. 30 at 10 a.m. Door prize of Tupperware was won by Martha Lewis. Lucky Ethel Pinkiewicz received a prize for having the most recent anniversary. Sorry I don't have the names of other winners. There will be another party either the last of January or the first of February. Please watch the bulletin board in the rec for all dates.

+ + +

The Spanish Class has started, seems to be very popular. I am told to report beginners also are always welcome. So do come if you are interested.

+ + +

We are now featuring a guest caller every week for bingo. Last week, Tom Stiefel did a fine job. Next week will be Gene Gray. Come and enjoy bingo every Saturday nite at 8 p.m. Adults only, sorry to all teenagers. It's state law.

+ + +

Preston Amerman, our vice president resigned as of this month due to not living in the park. He was of the opinion that a director should be in the park more. We are sorry to see him go. The board named Andre Aubin to fill the vacancy till February. Mr. Aubin accepted.

+ + +

Erma and Gordon St. Louis finally arrived to spend the winter on lot 46 after touring the southwest and Mexico. Welcome to them both.

+ + +

Al and Peg Ray, lot 175, left early in the week to spend Thanksgiving with friends at Merritt Island. They expect to return Friday, Nov. 29.

Ruth and Bob Stewart are celebrating the birth of a new 4½ pound granddaughter, born on Nov. 20.

Congratulations to Bill and Petrea Chaisson, proud grandparents of a new granddaughter born Nov. 2, weighing in at 6 pounds 7 ounces. Her name is Suzanne.

+ + +

And congratulations to Mary and Bill Ackerman, proud grandparents of a new granddaughter born Oct. 26. Her name is Kelly and she weighed in at 7 pounds 4 ounces.

+ + +

Palma and John Smaniotto's young son Richard and his wife Gaye had their first baby, a boy. Named Richard Jr., of course. Grandmother Palma waited for the arrival in Michigan before returning to the park. Congratulations to you all. And welcome back Palma.

Tom Murphy has been visiting for a few days in the park, hosted by the Webbs and O'Donnells.

The Pool Loungers of Holiday Out, eleven ladies strong, went to the Outrigger for lunch Wednesday, Nov. 20.

Bea and Oscar Lupke of lot 48 celebrated their 52nd wedding anniversary Wednesday, Nov. 20. Plans by friends for a "shivaree" were washed out by the downpour that night.

+ + +

Osa and Horace Taylor are in from Michigan and glad to be away from the cold weather. They are once again staying on lot 59 for the season.

+ + +

Betty and Art Nagy are redecorating their home in Hollywood and have not been able to come up to the park for the past two weeks. They are greatly missed by all their friends.

+ + +

Charles Ullman's brother, Lee and wife Cathy are back again for the season. They are guests on lot 292. Good to have them back. They spent last season with us too.

+ + +

Richard and June Groves are back on lot 115 after a summer long tour of Europe, which was very enjoyable. Seem glad to be back on Holiday Out.

+ + +

Kathryn and Bill Smith arrived last Wednesday to spend the winter on their lot 48. Just as they came into Fort Pierce Bill's car trunk caught fire. All ended well, but it just seems they have a crisis every year as they get here.

+ + +

Mary and Charley Walters have gone home to spend the holidays with their children.

Sunday's potluck menu at Gert and Bob Long's lot 226 was headed by hot dogs and home made chili. Carlynn Allen made the chili. Jim Allen showed the lovely jewelry he is making. Bob Long has been working extra time lately and has only been able to come to the park on Sundays for the past three weeks.

+ + +

Alice and Russell Hussy staying on lot 267 had dinner at the Outrigger Saturday evening.

+ + +

Bea and Oscar Lupke and Betty Taylor went to Poor Bob's for dinner last Tuesday evening. While there, they met Osa and Horace Taylor.

Valuable services available from insurance office commissioner

STUART—State Treasurer and Insurance Commissioner Thomas D. O'Malley announced today that his local service office located in Fort Pierce which provides service for Martin County, assisted in the recovery of $16,818.44, which was returned to policyholders. The refund resulted from questions being asked by individual citizens who took the time to contact the Commissioner's representative who visits Martin County Courthouse on the first and third Tuesday of each month.

Did you know that by simply calling or writing the Commissioner's service office located in Fort Pierce, Fla. 1405 Orange Ave., telephone 305-461-4950, and making an appointment to meet his representative during his visit to Stuart, the following valuable services are available to you:

1. Assistance in receiving payment of valid claims.
2. Answers to questions relating to all lines of insurance.
3. Assistance in complying with compulsory Automobile Insurance Law and Financial Responsibility Law.
4. Answers to questions relating to insurance agents and insurance companies sales activities.

So the next time you or any of your friends have a question relating to insurance, we suggest that you use the services provided by Commissioner O'Malley. You may find it both educational and monetarily rewarding.

Trinity United anniversary

JENSEN BEACH-Trinity United Methodist Church of Jensen Beach will celebrate their 14th Anniversary as a church next Wednesday, December 4.

Gang greets returnees

PORT ST. LUCIE–At last week's session of the Friday Nite Gang, quite a few regulars were greeted after a long summer's absence.

The Snooper reported only one visitor. Mrs. Caroline Rodier of South Hampton, L.I., N.Y. with her grandchildren, the Schaefer girls, and returning from long vacations Mr. and Mrs. William Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. John Meurer and Norma DeArruda.

Several bags of grapefruit, donated by George Petrie, were given away, along with a special prize of a dozen demitasse spoons, which were won by Norman Kaiser.

A two-way tie for the merchandise certificate was broken on the toss. Celia Kirby took home the certificate and Emma Urban was presented with a consolation prize.

The Host stressed important December dates. Christmas Toy Night on Friday, Dec. 13, when the toys for the five-year old youngsters at Head Start will be on display with Santa present. Dec. 20, the Gang's Christmas Party with exchange of gifts by all who attend.

In the matter of the Christmas toy drive, Bess reported that, so far, contributions have been received from the All States Club, the Directors of CESA, the local Barracks of Veterans of WW; and some personal donations.

Mary Fondell wins turkey

PORT ST. LUCIE–Mary Fondell, a Friday Nite Gang regular, had lots of luck with her last Friday night and took home the main prize, a nice Butterball Turkey.

A special prize, a loaf of home made bread baked by Philomena Lopefido, was won by Ann Foy and the shipping box of citrus fruit, donated by George Petrie, was won by Evelyn Schade.

The Snooper came up with three "first-timers", all from Chicago – Willord and Eileen Radcliff and Vic Korlowski.

Claire Levy's thirty-ninth birthday was the only birthday reported. She was rewarded with a song by a Male Sextette.

Refreshments consisting of cupcakes and cookies, supplied in her behalf by Kay Campbell and Betty Bell, were enjoyed by the Gang during intermission.

The Host reported that the toy project was progressing satisfactorily. All toys are to be brought to the Marina on Friday, Dec. 13, when they will be picked up by Head Start Santa will be present.

Any person in Port St. Lucie desiring to participate with the Gang by supplying a toy for a five year old youngster may do so by contacting Cedric Benz or any member of the Gang or by bringing a toy to the Marina anytime before 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 13.

Economic move

Twin Banyan development is withdrawn

PALM BEACH–Twin Banyan condominium project proposed for the north side of the savannas and north of Prima Vista Blvd. has withdrawn its development of regional impact application with the Regional Planning Council, it was announced Tuesday.

Robert Amann of Universal Atlantic, developers of the planned project said the application withdrawal was made as an economic move on our part.

The Planning Council had scheduled a public hearing on the proposed development Monday, Dec. 2 in Miami to hear what was planned for the huge development in the future. Atlantic Federal can anyone tell me when the county is going to turn around."

It also noted that it wouldn't make much difference if the interest rates dropped because there isn't any money available.

It was felt that it is not economically feasible to proceed at this time with the project.

Representatives had prepared critical reports on the proposed development which would have been presented to the Planning Council which ultimately would have to pass on approval of the development.

Amann said the reports did not enter into the decision to withdraw the project.

"We are not an economic move on our part," he said.

He added approve the established policy of the dangerous precedent of development in the savannas. Roy Hall, chief forester of the forestry service wrote in his report. "If this project is approved we may well be subject to the piecemeal destruction of our most valuable remaining wetlands."

The FCD report, the water figures and Universal Atlantic is questioned.

Hitching Cove annexation

PORT ST. LUCIE–The City Council has put their final stamp of approval on the annexation and zoning of the Hitching Cove property. The 76 acre tract lying west of Selvitz Road in the site of a proposed multiple development which will be two and three story buildings not to exceed 36 feet in height. Only 30 acres are designated as multi-family and six are single family. The project will include 168 two bedroom units and the developer will approach the second home on the market.

Water and sewage facilities will be provided within the development until such services are available through the city.

Although the property has been annexed and rezoned, it was made clear to Port St. Lucie Mayor Larry Kimmel that construction could not get underway until such time as the plans are approved by the city.

The developer was to appear before the Planning and Zoning committee Monday afternoon.

Mayor Larry Kimmel cautioned the developer to provide a permit from the Department of Pollution Control regarding the water system and he must show the city's density requirements, according to the traffic survey. It has been determined 1,000 trips per day will be generated by such a development. This will necessitate the widening of Pruitt Road from 16 to 24 feet. All these things must be resolved before the start of any construction, Mayor warned.

The developer was to appear before the Planning and Zoning committee Monday afternoon.

COOKBOOK PURCHASE–CESA's Plain-N-Fancy Cookbook went on sale last Friday morning at the CESA building. Hot off the press there are 500 books available. Above Mrs. Ann Guzick purchases her new book from Mrs. Leone Hett during a meeting of the Rio Lindo Garden Club on Monday.

911 system December 8

PORT ST. LUCIE–On December 8 St. Lucie County will have the distinct honor of being the first in the United States to fully implement the three digit telephone emergency system county wide.

Community leaders were told in detail of the 911 emergency system by Phil Thibedeau, the county's civil defense director during last Thursday's meeting of the Presidents Council.

This new system opens a tremendous amount of doors in the area of public safety, which were not available before. Thibedeau told the group. We have come a long way down the road and all because the people of St. Lucie County supported our program," he added.

In explaining the 911 system Thibedeau pointed out residents will no longer call for a specific such as an ambulance police, fire, rescue or even forestry services.

As of Dec. 8 you will simply dial 911, explain the emergency giving the location and your name. The operator at the center will evaluate the services needed and immediately dispatch the unit or units to the scene," he said.

The call could bring a fire truck, a rescue unit, a policeman and an ambulance to the scene if the occassion calls for it," Thibedeau added.

Emphasizing that 911 was an emergency number Thibedeau urged the public to consult their telephone directories when making administrative calls to the various departments.

For example if you are calling the police department for information, or the hospital regarding a bulling, do not use the 911 number.

Thibedeau's pride in a system he was instrumental in obtaining was obvious to all as he explained the system in detail.

One extremely sophisticated piece of equipment in the system allows the central operators at the center to pick an incoming call while two other systems guarantee backup service.

In explaining this Thibedeau told council members, that if by chance a caller panics or forgets to give the address of the emergency or a victim collapses before giving all the necessary information the operator can look on the screen to the call is simply pressing a button. Within a matter of seconds the can get a print out on the exact location of the telephone which is being used and dispatch assistance.

This also appies to prisoner calls," he added.

One of the many things agreed to by the council members at the meeting was the installation of monitoring equipment in the county rescue units somewhere in the future.

CHANGE OVER–There was a quick change over of the County Fire seat on Port St. Lucie's City Council when William Mc Chesney was appointed to fill the unexpired term following the resignation of veteran councilman Dr. Harold Nottley last Tuesday morning. The swearing in ceremonies were handled by Herbert Hubel, city administrator. Dr. Nottley, a staff surgeon at the Fire Control Center, submitted his resignation in March. His resignation was on the advice of his physician. Pictured above, left to right, William Mc Chesney, Mayor Larry Kimmel, Mrs. McChesney and Dr. Harold Nottley.

Homeowners debate charter

PORT ST. LUCIE–The boundaries of a charter was one of the items discussed when the board members of the Port St. Lucie Homeowners Association met Thursday evening.

Plans for the charter shared was unanimously appointed to research the charter possibilities and report the advantages and disadvantages to such a move.

It was further pointed out in the forestry report.

Homestead type trees could weaken the entire root system leaving the remaining trees vulnerable to another epidemic that could spread through the savannas if the trees to build up they will without trees are left.

For all intents as fertilizers to these areas of Twin Banyan if the chemicals are drawn into the water system which degrades the water supply.

The east of the project must clear the subdivision development of regional impact and the state agencies will make their reports at the meeting.

Universal Atlantic project is next to Walton Road on the west side of the Savannas and just south of Indian River Drive.

Dr. Nottley resigns council seat

PORT ST. LUCIE–It was with deep regret the City Council Tuesday accepted the resignation of veteran councilman Dr. Harold Nottley.

As a token of the Council's appreciation Mayor Larry Kimmel presented him with a framed plaque in recognition of his years of service.

The Council joins me in wishing you the best of luck and I am indeed hopeful we will continue to see you here at our meetings as a model public citizen," Kimmel said.

Dr. Nottley submitted his resignation on the advice of his personal physician.

Vice Mayor Frank Brandtner referred to Nottley as being a devoted council member during his eight years of service.

Dr. Nottley has served during these years as City Council, Homestead, chairman of the finance committee and vice mayor. We have always had an open door policy and you have been a dedicated councilman," Brandtner concluded.

As members of Port St. Lucie Fire Control, Nottley attended the early council meetings when it was made up of Savannah Development Corporation employees. That council presented him with a gold wrist watch in behalf of his fellow employees.

That charter group later turned over the private council, said, was presented to Dr. Nottley by Mayor Kimmel Tuesday.

Nottley's position does not mean council will be leaving the area, he intends to remain in the area where he participated throughout the three year tenure.

The heat is on

PORT ST. LUCIE–The heat is on at North Port St. Lucie. At least that is the word received from Bunny Loperfido regarding the swimming pool at the marina.

Following a five week period of work the pool heater was turned on again last Monday.

I would like to thank all the residents of the area for their patience during this time and welcome all members to enjoy the heated swimming facilities," Loperfido said.

McChesney appointed to council

PORT ST. LUCIE–The commissioner William Mc Chesney to fill the vacated council seat was accepted by a unanimous vote of the City Council last Tuesday.

Mc Chesney will fill the group five council seat vacated the same day by the resignation of veteran Councilman Dr. Harold Nottley.

In making the nomination Vice Mayor Frank Brandtner said, "Mr. Chesney has been a resident of Port St. Lucie for over five years. He is a man who has been plagued with drainage problems for quite some time."

Kimmel explained these roads and drainage system would not be taken over tomorrow.

"I don't know how long it will take GDC to bring this area up to city standards, but it is agreed the city will then have a year of observance before the actual takeover," Kimmel said.

During that year General Development will keep a log of maintenance costs in that area.

That log will be submitted to the city at the end of the observance year, and at that time the city will either accept or reject the project.

A petition was presented during the meeting which was signed by 51 homeowners of the area protesting such a takeover.

The Section 24 Port St. Lucie Homeowners presented the petition under the direction of Frank Bono. Bono has maintained the city proposed setting up a special taxing district in that area to provide for the maintenance following the takeover.

This is not so," Kimmel said.

I don't believe this council can set up a taxing district. Tax districts are set up by the people who live in these districts," he explained. First the people must request a tax district then, if the majority vote in the district is on favor it is set up. If they vote it down, then that is the end of the matter."

This provided the Mayor with the opportunity to set forth a few facts relative to rumors he has heard recently.

Someone asked me how the maintenance cost on these streets and drainage system would be paid for and my answer was this," Kimmel said.

First we have to determine the cost. It will cost less to maintain a system of paved roads and drainage ditches after they have been brought up to city standards than it will as they are now.

He continued. At this point we don't know the cost if even a fraction of a mill there will be no need to do anything about it. However, the residents in the area want the streets brought up to city standards, high standards and will be glad to pay for them, then can them set up a tax district.

In saying the City was not anxious to take over streets, Kimmel dispelled an erroneous statement regarding the Maintenance figures.

We have taken over one percent of the total streets within the city in the past ten years. At that rate we won't take them all over within ten years in that the maintenance on the few miles approximately five, we have taken over has been under $200 per mile per year," he said.

Granted, I doubt if we can carry on at such a low rate, but when we are talking about that kind of cost, we are certainly not talking about a taxing district to maintain them," he added.

Section 24 includes that area bounded by Verada, Galleon, Floresta and Calmoso.

Council agrees to street, drainage takeover

PORT ST. LUCIE–The City Council Tuesday agreed to move ahead on the street and drainage takeover in Section 24 when they accepted General Development Corporation's proposal.

Following the recommendation of the City's own planning and zoning committee, the council unanimously agreed to allow GDC to proceed with the work of bringing the streets and drainage up to city standards.

We are not making this move blindfolded," Mayor Larry Kimmel said. We are trying to help the people in the area who have been plagued with drainage problems for quite some time."

Kimmel explained these roads and drainage system would not be taken over tomorrow.

I don't know how long it will take GDC to bring this area up to city standards, but it is agreed the city will then have a year of observance before the actual takeover," Kimmel said.

320 attend pancake fry

NSEN BEACH Jensen Beach Club pancake fry is known far wide for its breakfast of hot kes and sausage and each year it es more popular with residents.

Sunday at Langford Park ouse Lions Club members ed 320 persons pancakes and ge with hot coffee.

Wilson, chairman of the event, ld pounds of sausage were used during the day and 100 pounds of pancake mix.

Proceeds from the pancake fry will go toward the club's sight conservation project and other civic projects, Wilson said.

Tickets to the breakfast were $1.50. In the past year, the club has donated more than $2,000 to the eye cause.

Wilson said the next pancake fry, slated for March will be the 10th annual.

ommittee to meet with COG

NSEN BEACH The Intergovern- Committee of Martin County mission will work with all levels ernment, including the Council of ernments (COG), the commission- said Tuesday.

missioner Chairman Ross Phil- said he was going to contact Dr. Mc- ain, St. Lucie County mission chairman, about the Indian River Co. to get something going between the two counties, Philbrick said.

COG was established several months ago with representatives of the governments in the two counties but the past couple of months have gone by without a meeting.

Dr. Ed Gears, who was defeated in his bid for re-election to the Martin County Commission was the initial COG chairman.

Philbrick said the Intergovernment Committee, a three-man committee composed of Commissioners Tom Higgins and John Kiernan with Philbrick chairman will be concerned with liaison with cities in Martin County and contacts with the legislature.

It was also noted by the commission chairman that the number of committees of the commission have been reduced from about 20 to 11.

.S. 1 resolution passed

NSEN BEACH—Martin County ission Tuesday passed a resolution ing for a 200 foot right-of-way north of Stuart.

missioners also asked the ning department to get a map of ght-of-way along the stretch of as the county can tell how property it will have to purchase. mission Chairman Ross Phil- said that some sections of the as under 145 feet wide.

commissioners want a zoning change to require a setback of 50 feet. Philbrick said this would allow parking for each building.

The commission chairman also noted that a side was service road on each side of the highway was to be considered at a future date.

While the commission moved ahead with improving traffic flow on U.S. 1, Philbrick noted that purchase of right-of-way for East Ocean Boulevard — Stuart to the bridge would take priority over the U.S. 1 project.

Philbrick said that the U.S. 1 project is expected to be five to 10 years away.

The service road along north U.S. 1 has been protested by property owners at previous hearings.

Under a recommendation by the planning board, commercial growth along the three-mile stretch of U.S. 1 north of Stuart would be managed with a new commercial planning unit development.

st Office will be n Saturdays

NSEN BEACH The Jensen Beach Office will be open from 8 a.m. to the next two Saturdays, Dec. 7 and 14, in an effort to handle heavy mail expected during the Christmas season, it was announced by Postmaster the Saturday hours.

16 per cent rollback predicted

Up 65 per cent

JENSEN BEACH—The 1974 Martin County tax roll, some three months late, was released Tuesday by Tax Assessor E.F. (Dutch) Schnarbusch.

The tax roll of $949,628,995 is an increase of more than 65 per cent over last year's tax roll, according to Schnarbusch.

The County Commission held us up three months before we got the go ahead for reassessment of property, Schnarbusch said.

"All the county's 38,000 parcels of land were reassessed," the tax assessor said.

When told of the big tax roll increase, Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick said he expects a millage rollback of about 16 per cent.

Because of the large number of complaints from residents more than 200 over the new and increased tax roll assessments, Philbrick said that it will be after the County Board of Adjustment meeting before the millage is set.

"We expect the millage to be under five," Philbrick said.

Last year's millage was 6.6.

Philbrick, who represents the Jensen Beach area and has Taxing District A in his jurisdiction, said he was going to take a "real hard look" at the possibility of a rollback of millage in the district.

He set the same millage for the district—1.2—as last year with a district budget of $111,000 up from $98,000 last year.

While there are a large number of complaints to be heard by the tax board, Philbrick said that if the evaluation is not too high, no big parcels of land, the tax roll might not be affected.

However, he pointed out, if there is several thousands of dollars taken off the roll, the rollback of millage will not be so great.

The taxing adjustment board is expected to hold its hearings this month according to Philbrick and the tax bills will be out in January.

Of the county tax roll, real estate represents the biggest part: $992,966,850 with personal property $61,982,000 and railroad and telephone another $4,680,136.

Other taxing authority totals include $1,830,588 for Ocean Breeze Park, and $33,352,418 for Sewall's Point.

Last year's roll was more than $507,957,000.

$6,500 budget

Jensen ambulance operates on donations

JENSEN BEACH—A volunteer ambulance service is operated by the Jensen Area Ambulance Samaritans Inc., and its president says, "we are in pretty good shape financially."

We average about one call a day, Walter Redit said.

He said that the service does not require payment for its calls, but people make donations.

The association operates its two ambulances, one a standby Cadillac on donations and a fund drive.

We will have a fund drive about March and we'll need about $6,500, Redit said.

It was pointed out by Redit that cost of operations has increased over the years since the ambulances have more equipment and supplies and the gasoline has increased.

But he noted with a laugh: "The only thing that hasn't increased is wages."

The association has withdrawn from the United Fund and will conduct its own fund raising drive.

Redit noted that last year United Fund didn't reach its goal and all the agencies had to take budget cuts.

While pointing out that the association needs more drivers during day time hours, the group presently has about 20 emergency medical technicians (EMT) and we have five more in training.

All drivers and attendants must be certified by the state, Redit said.

With our ambulance and backup (Caddy), we are in pretty good shape, Redit said, but we will need another ambulance next year when the Caddy will not meet state requirements.

He said federal funds may be available for a new ambulance.

The Samaritans cover the Jensen Beach, Rio, Sewall's Point and the part of Hutchinson Island including the developments in St. Lucie County Venture Out, Holiday Out and Outdoor Resorts.

We get good financial support from the island, Redit said.

While the Samaritans cover a big area of Martin County and part of St. Lucie County, on an anticipated $6,500 budget, the unincorporated area served by Stuart ambulance service is costing the taxpayers about $50,000 a year.

What started out as a $10,000 addition to the Stuart Police Department has become a 13 member, $130,000-a-year operation.

The share of the annual cost for the areas outside Stuart for next year has been estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000.

And because of the rise in cost some Martin County commissioners are taking a look at volunteer service for districts outside the city.

Santa is coming to the Chamber

JENSEN BEACH—Santa Claus is coming to Jensen Beach Saturday, Dec. 21, and will visit with children at the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce from noon to 3 p.m.

Mrs. Mary Kuller, chairman of the chamber committee planning for Santa's visit, said that Santa will have cards for all the children.

Mrs. Kuller urges parents to bring their cameras so they can take a picture of their children with the visitor from the North Pole.

'Christmas in pictures'

The Mirror will again have a special feature at Christmas, the eleventh annual Christmas edition in pictures.

Anyone planning a Christmas party is invited to call The Mirror office at least 24 days in advance of the event at 334-3161.

When calling The Mirror please leave the date, time, location and phone number. The photographer will call back confirming the date.

Please no pictures after 4 p.m. and arrange a time that the photographer can come in and get the picture without delay.

Evert seeks fishing title

STUART—Sam Evert of Lost Tree Village, Fla., and Bloomsburg, Pa., will attempt to regain his title as top sailfisherman in the 21st Annual Light Tackle Sailfish Tournament of the Stuart Sailfish Club.

Evert won the title here in 1966, 1969, 1970, 1971 and 1972, but lost it last year to Eleanor Bartlett Sewall's Point resident who also will be fishing in the pro category this year.

Staff Sgt. Donald E. Reid of the USAF, whose home is in Plymouth, Mass., who won in 1965, will be back for another try in the tourney, which will be held December 12, 13, 14 and 15.

Reid and Miss Bartlett will soon be married, on a weekend when there's no tournament and no football game on television, said Miss Bartlett recently.

Another former winner will also compete. Dr. Rudy Steinhauser, Jr. of Tequesta. Dr. Steinhauser won in 1964.

Entries in the "pro" and "amateur" divisions have been coming in an equal rate and exceed those on hand at similar pre-tourney dates of former years.

The condition of St. Lucie Inlet may have something to do with this early confidence. The inlet was thoroughly dredged in a project that cost in excess of $400,000 in September and October and it is in great shape for the December tourney.

Tom Conlon, chairman of the tournament committee pointed out today that amateurs who want to get their feet wet in big-time competition may fish from their own craft, fish from charter boats with or without professional skippers in either event.

God-Country day is planned

JENSEN BEACH—The first annual God and Country Day sponsored by All Saints Episcopal Church and American Legion Post 126 of Jensen Beach will be held Sunday, Feb. 16.

The first annual event is scheduled for 3 p.m. in the chapel of Florida Institute of Technology.

The committee planning for the special day includes:

All Saints Church, The Rev. Frank Alvarez, Rex Fulton, Jr., Gerald Williamson, Mrs. J. Ray Stewart.

Post 126, Edward Douglas, Richard Seeson and Virgil Rathbone.

Plans for the observance include obtaining national personality as the main speaker.

Shirley Evinrude exhibit is December art at Mirror

JENSEN BEACH—A soft art that is designed to please the eye with a touch of abstract, and startling reality is the December art exhibit in The Mirror Lobby.

Shirley Evinrude, a native Stuartite who is a Parker Jr. and daughter of the well known pioneer Chase family of Stuart, is the artist. She paints "whatever I feel I should paint" and has a delicate touch that shows sensitivity and deep feeling for animals, plant life and basic scenics.

Her exhibit ranges from an almost Abercrombie pair of deer jumping through snow, to a street scene in San Juan and a sitting lobster shack to a sheep in a farmer's field.

She is a busy mother and housewife with three pre-teen children Dianne, Vernie and Tommie and lives with her husband, Tom Evinrude, on Sewall's Point.

Never satisfied with her art, Shirley says she feels like "putting my fist through everything I paint before I finish it." However, her paintings of animals are most challenging.

She started painting in 1966 and studied watercolors under the famed European and Latin American artist Sureda.

She paints about four hours a week, and finds the interpretation of pilings and houses easy with application of the brush and pallet knife. The composition of animals which must dwell in the bone and muscle structure she finds more difficult.

Titles of paintings on exhibit include "Running Scared," "Lobster Shack," "Frog on a Lily Pad," "Step Street in Old San Juan," "Robins on a Rainy Day" and "Harbor Sloop." She plans to include a series of miniature paintings in the exhibit, which will be held throughout the month of December.

RUNNING SCARED—Deer jumping through snow are the highlight of the exhibit of Shirley Evinrude in The Mirror lobby this month.

Boy lands big one on thanksgiving

JENSEN BEACH–Mike Brown, age 10, landed a 6 ft 10 in sailfish while fishing on the "Hardee" on Thanksgiving Day. He also brought in two dolphin. Nice going, Mike.

There were blues in the surf. Jessie Nash had 18 blues; George and Ollie Schrode, 8 blues and a weakfie; Ralph Souder and his daughter and son-in-law, Juanita and Wayne Carmichel had 26 blues in a couple of outings.

Joe and Irene Pinder had 25 blues; E. Arthur Shuman, Jr., 24 blues; Rene Maurice, 18 blues; Tony Cutrona, 7 blues; and Duck White reported catching 2 blues along with 5 pompano and 24 trout.

Stan Gardner had 8 pompano on Monday; Ernest Poroti, 25 croakers; Giles Hall, 2 snook; Clarence Wilkinson, 5 channel bass, a sheepshead and some bottom fish; and John Colberg, a 6½ pound red.

Trout fishermen did pretty well over the week. Trout catches recorded were: Ed Wagner and Jerry Woods 19; Bob Carruthers and Clars Cartright 14; Ed Wagner and Pat Paterson 21; Roy Greenwald 2; Ed Wagner and Chas Arent 20; and Paul Gainer 3 trout, weighing in at 8 lb 6 oz.

Fred Dushanek and Ed Wagner had 6 trout; Paul Albert 2 trout, 2 spanish mackerel; Sandy Adair 14 trout; Pete Peterson 22 trout and a channel bass; and John Wilbert had 4 trout and 2 snook.

Charles Arent had 24 trout, 1 snook and a red in a couple of outings; Charles Ressler caught 4 trout, 3 snook released 6, and 8 snapper.

Jes Fisher, who is out in his boat almost every early morning, had 57 trout for the week.

Mini-grants are okayed

JENSEN BEACH–Approval of two mini grants submitted by the Environmental Studies Center has been announced in a letter received from Woodrow J. Darden, Director of Elementary and Secondary Education of the Department of Education. The two were among nearly 200 submitted for funding by school systems and individual schools under a program sponsored by the Bureau of Environmental Education.

Both grants were funded for approximately half the amount requested. We'll have to cut back on the anticipated activities, center director Jay Jarrett said, but the amount granted will be enough to get most programs underway and illustrate their value.

One program centered around the establishment of an audio visual lending library of environmental topics was funded for $1,500. The library will be developed and administered by John Whitecar of the center staff. The center anticipates producing local slide shows and film strips with accompanying taped narrations.

The second grant for $1,200 funds the development of curriculum materials relating to several ecosystems in Martin County. It is expected that three teams of three teachers each will investigate three natural areas and develop interdisciplinary teaching materials for use throughout the school system. Audio-visual materials to augment these materials will be produced through the first grant.

The participating teachers will be chosen from among the Center's cadre of contact teachers in each of the Martin County schools.

We hope by this to get varied materials dealing with math, language arts and social studies as well as environmental science, Jarrett said.

The programs will be instituted as soon as funds are received.

Taxpayer aid is urged

JACKSONVILLE–With nearly 2.3 million Florida taxpayers expecting refunds totaling more than three-quarters of a billion dollars, the Internal Revenue Service urge employees, banks and savings and loan institutions to aid taxpayers in receiving earlier refunds for this year.

Charles D. DeWitt, IRS District director for Florida said that employers can help their employees file returns earlier and obtain refunds faster by issuing W-2 forms well before the January 31, 1975 deadline.

Taxpayers who file returns in January can expect to receive their refunds in just two weeks after filing, DeWitt explained.

On the other hand, the district director said, the taxpayer who postpones return after January 31 will encounter peak periods that may delay his refund up to eight weeks.

Turning basin plans on list

JENSEN BEACH–A proposed turning basin in the Okeechobee Waterway at Stuart is among 350 projects in the nation that was on the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers list for deauthorization.

Maj. Gen. W.C. Gribble Jr., the chief of the Corps of Engineers acting under authority of the Water Resources Development Act of 1974, announced the list of water resources projects proposed for deauthorization.

The turning basin was planned in the south Fork of the St. Lucie River between the Stuart Municipal Dock and the channel of the Okeechobee Waterway.

The project was to be eight feet deep, six feet wide and 400 feet long. The plans have been inactive for several years, a corps spokesman said.

Your right to know

WASHINGTON--When Congress passed the Freedom of Information Act in 1966 it was hailed as a major step toward keeping the public fully informed about the operations of their government.

Unfortunately, however, it didn't work that way. Instead, the bureaucracy found ways to stifle the public's right to know. They remained rigid and unyielding, convinced the bureaucrats knew best about what the public should know.

So for three years the House Committee on Government Operations conducted a bipartisan study into ways to strengthen the public's right to know. Resulting in legislation passed by both the House and Senate earlier this year that the proposed amendments had wide support was shown by the final vote for passage--349 to 2 in the House.

Under the new act, every Federal agency must respond to a request for information within 10 days. This provides agencies from delaying and refusing in hopes the person who made the request will just give up.

And it gives the public the right to go to Federal court any agency or individual arbitrarily denying access to information. But more important, if the courts find evidence of arbitrary or capricious withholding of information, the Civil Service Commission can take disciplinary action against the person responsible.

Perhaps the most significant changes are in the area of classified information. The new act will require the Executive Branch to publish the criteria and guidelines to be used in classifying material which requires a higher level of security in the interests of national defense or foreign policy.

This provision will in no way endanger the government's need for security or jeopardize our national defense. Neither the Defense Department, the CIA, the State Department, nor any other Federal agency will be required to reveal the contents of sensitive material. They will merely be required to identify the criteria used in making the classification determination.

While the most obvious beneficiary of the new law will be the public, the changes will also assist the Congress. All too often the Congress itself has been stymied in its efforts to obtain information needed to legislate correctly.

So there is little doubt in my mind that the Freedom of Information Act of 1966 has been changed for the better changed so it will live up to its name.

But adoption of the beefed-up Freedom of Information Act Amendments hasn't been the only victory for the public since Congress reconvened.

Both the House and Senate have passed bills to insure the public's right to privacy.

As government data banks grow larger and larger, it becomes more and more necessary for individuals to have some access to the information maintained about them and to make any necessary corrections.

That was accomplished by the passage of a right to privacy bill by both the House and Senate, although the two versions are somewhat different and therefore will have to go to a conference committee.

But the bills do more than just allow errors to be corrected. It also sets up standards for the collection, maintenance and dissemination of personally identifiable records maintained by all Federal agencies.

The end result is that Americans can feel a bit more secure in the knowledge that there are limits on the files which can be compiled, and in the knowledge that they can correct any errors which crop up in those files.

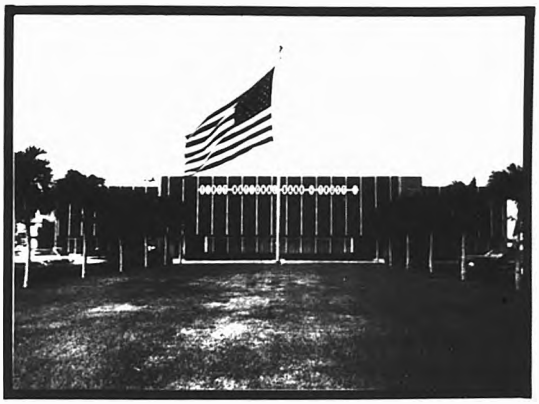
PEOPLE THINK WE'RE THE OLDEST AND LARGEST BANK IN MARTIN COUNTY.



THEY'RE RIGHT!

Back in 1933, when First National got started, we were the only bank in Martin County. We offered the community the essential financial services needed to promote a healthy local economy. But the services we offered then, as compared to those available today, were pretty primitive. First National has always been the banking leader in Martin County, especially when introducing new and innovative services for our customers. And, our customers locally, is why we're the largest bank in Martin County. Stop by the bank that grew up with Martin County soon and see what people are talking about. First National, a truly complete, quick and convenient place to handle all your bank affairs.

BY HELEN M. GITHENS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thal of Jacksonville called on the Knuth's Sunday. Mrs. Thal is Millie's cousin. Millie and Walter had as dinner guests on Sunday their granddaughter Lauren Drake and friend Frank Hocavar of Ft. Lauderdale. Lauren will join her parents Lawrence and LaVerne Drake of Benton Harbor, Mich. for a family reunion over Thanksgiving Holidays.

Don't forget the Christmas Bazaar and Rummage Sale to be held in the clubhouse Monday, Dec. 9th. Come and pick up that hard to find gift here. Stocking stuffers too, along with refreshments.

Toby and Elsie DeVliegher had a surprise visit this past week from Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Miller of Mishawaka, Indiana.

Helen Wilson arrived in the park this past week, she is Carl and Lena McClintock and Bert and Edith Bowen.

Elsie and Toby DeVliegher, Fray and Hank Johnson gave a little surprise for the Lou Shapiros who recently celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary.

A record crowd of 58 residents attended bingo on Tuesday. Lena McClintock won the jackpot.

Ray and Muriel Freebury had a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Austin Nellis from Pontiac, Mich. this week.

Sixty two residents and guests attended the annual Thanksgiving dinner held at the club house. Al Hrynilsen gave the blessing, followed by group singing of the Doxology.

Star class sailboats compete at Hilton

PORT ST. LUCIE--The sails of Star Class will blossom on the St. Lucie River here Dec. 6 and 7 as skippers from the U.S. and Bahamas meet for the 1974 running of the Southern Star Championship.

This marks the fifth year the regatta has been held at the St. Lucie Hilton Country Club Resort, and is the second leg of Florida's "Triple Crown" of Star Boat sailing. The other events on the circuit are the Ryder and Bacardi Cup races in Miami.

Resort manager Harry Teetz announced that General Development Corporation will again sponsor the event. The weekend regatta will be open to spectators without charge.

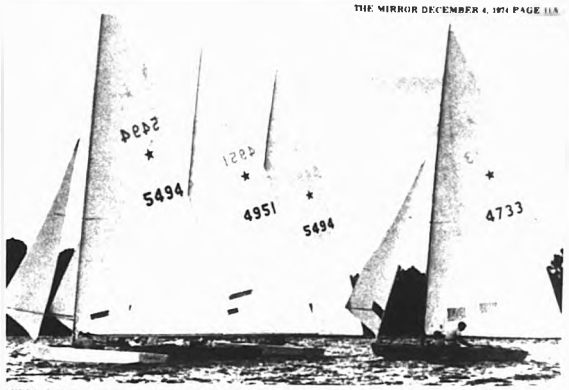
The Star Class race is one of sailing's most exciting events, featuring two-man boats, 23 feet long with a 36-foot mast. The championship will be decided in a series of races over a triangular course on the St. Lucie River opposite the resort.

Entries in the championship include Miamian James "Ding" Schoonmaker, defending 1973 Southern Star Champion and former Bacardi Cup champion, European champion and South American champion.

Also registered for the race are former World's Champion and olympic challenger Dick Stearns, of Northfield, Illinois, and Miamian Frank Zagarino, 1971 Southern Star Champion and former Bacardi Cup Champion.

Headquarters for the race committee will be the St. Lucie Hilton Inn.

Regatta officials have announced there are still a few positions open in the competition. Sailors planning to enter the Southern Star Championship should contact Corporate Communications, General Development, 1111 South Bayshore Drive, Miami, Fla.



HERE--Star Class racers slice through the St. Lucie River on a challenging three mile triangular course in the second leg of the "Triple Crown" of sailing, set for this weekend at the St. Lucie Hilton Resort.

Top seeds win mixed-doubles tourney

PORT ST. LUCIE--Ron Fick and Raynie Fox proved the ranking experts correct as the top seeded team defeated second seed Tom Falkenburg and Carol Coburn to win the first Thanksgiving mixed doubles tennis tournament at the St. Lucie Hilton last weekend.

In a rain and wind plagued two day event, Fick, highly ranked in Florida, and Virginia Slims player Raynie Fox, defeated Falkenberg and Coburn 6-3, 6-4 as spectators huddled in blankets and heavy coats on the sidelines.

The tournament had just begun Saturday when rain halted all play. Only one match was completed as the rains poured throughout the day, the forerunner to Sunday's bone-chilling weather.

To reach the top run and win, Fick and Fox defeated Bill Davis and Pat Atwater, 6-1, 6-2. Helen and Bud Lusk, 6-0, 6-1, and Grieco and Grieco, 6-1, 6-2.

Falkenberg and Coburn defeated Silvero and Blundui, 6-1, 6-0. Obando and Johnstone and Torres, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4 before falling to the winners.

Matches began early Sunday and the finals were played as the sun dipped below the horizon.

The tournament was sanctioned by the Florida Lawn Tennis Association and the U.S.L.T.A.

WINNERS--Ron Fick and Raynie Fox, right, won top honors in the St. Lucie Hilton Mixed Doubles tennis tournament Sunday. At left are runners up Tom Falkenberg and Carol Coburn. The presentation was made by Tennis Pro Mario Obando and his assistant, Diana McDougal.

The registration will be held from 7:30 p m to 9:30 p m Thursday evening during the volley ball program and Saturday morning and afternoon from 10 a m to 1 p m At 1 p m all people who have signed up thus far will be asked to come to Langford Park At that time they shall be placed on teams Also the Martin County High School Coaching Staff will be present to give instruction

Faculty-Wolf win in softball

BY JAMES WRIGHT

FT. Lu. Wednesday night softball action the faculty retained its league lead by beating HTI 18-11 and in the second game the Wolfpack squeezed by the Derelicts in a 11-10 thriller

In the first game HTI hung close to the faculty for most of the game with the score being 11-10 in favor of the Faculty after five innings of play

But the faculty broke loose with 4 runs in the sixth and 3 runs in the seventh, while HTI could scrape only one answering run

In the second game the Wolfpack came from behind in the last inning to beat the Derelicts by one run

In flag football the undefeated Leftovers beat F Troop 19-0 The No Names and F Troop each won a game by forfeit

East-west winners were Ida Zimmerman and Dr. M. Stapleton with 191. Second went to Grant Shaffer and Ted Wallich, 171. Steve Stanton and Ernest White were third with 168. There was a fourth and fifth place tie between Bea and Bill Snelling and Thelma Ritchey and Ed Gates with 166½. Sixth place went to Gladys and Elmer Nordstrom with 162½.

On Friday, Nov. 22, a Howell movement was played. Marge and Fred Billing were in first place; second, Ed Schweiger and Elmer Spickard; third and fourth place tie between Bea and Bill Snelling and G. Gilbert and Helen Tokash; fifth, Anne McQuarry and Hazel Whicker; and sixth, Thelma Ritchey and Ed Gates.

Game time is 1 p.m. Mondays and Fridays in the Harry Hoke Community Room (Commercial Street, Jensen Beach). All players are welcome and a partner is always available, according to George H. Heath, director.

COUNT DRACULA–Come watch the bat fly, hear the wolves howl and see Dracula disappear right before your eyes in The Barn Theatre's next production "Count Dracula" opening Dec. 6. Curtain time for this shivery scary play is 8:30 p.m. and tickets are $3. The actors that keep you on the edge of your seat above are: Mina (Bette Ann Howanitz), Dr. Van Helsing (Richard Carr), Dr. Seward (Roger Conant) and Count Dracula himself (Hank Langbehn).

Martin County seniors plan yuletide party

JENSEN BEACH–The Martin County Senior Activities Club will have their annual Christmas party on Wednesday, Dec. 11 at 1 p.m. in the Community Hall at the Jensen Beach Community Church.

A short business meeting will be followed by a social afternoon of entertainment by former professionals in this field.

"Many of you will remember our party last year," said Joseph D. Forsberg, president of the club, "when Connie Betsch, our pianist, brought some very good talent from Spanish Lakes. Well, we are in for another treat, so be there."

There will be a Grab Bag, so each member is expected to bring a gift, the cost to be no less than a dollar. Ladies' gifts are to be wrapped in colored paper, men's in white. Refreshments will be served.

The group meets every Wednesday at the Community Church in Jensen Beach. All area Seniors are cordially invited.

Club sponsors rummage sale and luncheon

RIO–The Rio Civic Club is sponsoring a rummage sale and luncheon this Saturday, Dec. 7, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the clubhouse on SR 707.

This is an annual activity of the club, the proceeds going for many charitable purposes in the community, including the Boy and Girl Scouts, Langford Park, Little League, the United Fund, Halloween and Christmas parties for the youngsters.

For further information, call Mary Grant at 334-6384.

Will you ever finish moving in?

You might not think so when the living room's still jammed with packing crates. But you will—and I can help. As your WELCOME WAGON Hostess I can save you time and money in

And brighten up your family with my basket of gifts. Take a break and call me.

Lake Manor News Notes

BY SYLVIA SIMAN

A most happy Thanksgiving was enjoyed by 36 at a delicious dinner of turkey and all the trimmings. Two turkeys were roasted by Gerry Stuart and Sylvia Siman, with all other foods brought in by the guests. Even Stan Rice's daughter sent along a very tasty pound cake from the north. There was so much turkey left, 20 came back in the evening.

Carl Roman wrote a beautiful poem of prayer for the occasion which he asked Sylvia to read. Vern Stoddard gave the blessing of thanks. Indeed, we all felt so grateful for our blessings and for the fellowship we had with each other. Friendships grow from such things, and we are forming so fine lasting ones.

Many thanks to the fine committee who volunteered to help me. Gerry Stuart, Alice Stoddard, Evie Neyhart and Alex Bell. Gerry Stuart will plan the Christmas dinner.

It has been my pleasure to have planned these dinners for several years now, my motive being to get people together who would otherwise be alone on holidays. It has grown in number and all because so many have made it all so very pleasant. For this, I am most grateful to all and humbly accept expressions of thanks from so many of you.

* * *

Welcome back to Elizabeth and Karl Duffield and to Stanley Cobb, who made it back in time for Thanksgiving.

* * *

Helen and Paul Christen had overnight visitors – their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Mras, from Binghampton, N.Y., who were vacationing in Florida.

* * *

Dot and Bob McCourt were pleased to have their son Gordon, from Cherry Hill, N.J., and his friend Mary Ann Tillison, from Buffalo, N.Y., visiting them for a week. They all were together at the McCourt's daughter's home in Coral Springs. Sandra and Robert Siegman and their children Robert and Constance, who recently moved South from Hopeville, N.J.

Dot was really on cloud nine, having their daughter so close and spending Thanksgiving with all of them.

Marion Burke was pleased to have her daughter Mary June Owens from Hampton, Virginia, and her two daughters, Louise and Becky, visit with her for a week. Son-in-law Bill Owens and those two boys, Mike and Dale, were also here but stayed at Nettles Island, where they did a lot of good fishing. They were all together for meals and for Thanksgiving Day at Marion's.

* * *

Three game shuffleboard winners, out of four courts, were Edna Eastman and Karl Rosengarth.

A very happy birthday to the following:

Carl Roman, Dec. 4; Jenny Bollenbacher, Dec. 5; Herbert Burmeister, Dec. 6; Bob McCourt, Dec. 12; and Margaret Rosengarth, Dec. 22.

* * *

Gaiety reigneth with much laughter at Jen Robertson's and Dot Beamer's, with Evie Neyhart and Sylvia Siman helping Jen to remember to discard in learning to play pinochle.

* * *

Come out to Hymn Sing Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. We will be practicing for Christmas caroling.

Venture Out News Notes

BY THE PINCH HITTERS

BY CONNIE JONES

We had a fabulous Thanksgiving for two sittings, one at 3 p.m. and another at 5, catered for us by Colonel Fried Chicken. Delicious! Thanks to Bill and Millie Middleton and their helpers for decorating the room so professionally and to Ruth Eiler and her committee for the lunch at silk sitting at 3 o'clock and Janet Reynolds and her committee at 5 o'clock. Yours truly played Hawaiian music.

+ + +

Sorry to learn of Amy Freitag's accident on her bike. So cute to listen to Amy explain in that Scottish accent how the cement truck came around that corner and she got so excited that her feet just went down.

+ + +

Don't forget to mention that Betty Ward painted the clubhouse that beautiful center piece for the dining table and that yours truly is the resort manager stood on that same cement floor for nine hours to get the pictures Mr. Cook took in the national magazine. Your Rec Director will be sending them to you.

+ + +

Dates and coming events for the month of December are as follows:

Mrs. Alfred Rodes trio will provide the music.

Dec. 2-Personal Improvement hiring from 9 a.m., back to WORK at 5 p.m.

Dec. 25-Charlie Bloom and the Safe Deposiers, funny clowns.

Dec. 31-Bahama Night, food flown over from Nassau and 3½ hours of entertainment, starting at 5 p.m. Then at 9 p.m., the Four Coins.

Can't forget the bowling scores. Joe Freitag turned in:

Happy to report we had a top TV star visit with us last Thursday. Archie Campbell himself from Hee Haw. Homer, Jack Raymond, Bob and Celia had many a good laugh over Archie remembering how poor he used to be. Then Homer reported he used to buy a box of crackers for a nickel, and the other day he went to the store to purchase a box of crackers, and they were 33 cents. Homer refused to pay that price.

+ + +

Square dancing is off to a good start. Johnny Walker is a beautiful caller and with Lou and Bud Press backing him up, how can it go wrong? Lessons will be available after the first of the year.

+ + +

The Saturday night BYOB and special entertainment was a big success and, since we got that beautiful piano fixed, we can have some sing alongs.

+ + +

My brother is down from S.C. See if you can spot him!!!

BY FRAN TENER

Hilda and Larry Atkie were happy to have Betty and Arthur Mannheimer visiting for a few days over Thanksgiving. The Mannheimers and Atkins were friends for many years in Yonkers, N.Y. and they enjoyed getting together again, and resuming their bridge playing just as if several years had not intervened since their last game. The Mannheimers stayed in the Atkin's motor home, a new experience for Betty and Arthur and they really enjoyed it.

+ + +

Bernice and Al Ambrosh of Philadelphia, Pa. were houseguests of Ida and Harry Hausman. They all enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner together.

+ + +

Edith and Dick Painter enjoyed the visit of Marjorie and Terry Rickey, their daughter and son-in-law. Their darling blonde girls, Dawn and Lee, really had a ball going out on the boat, swimming, playing, having a mad, carefree time. They will be able to tell all their little friends about it when they get back home to Jacksonville. And we'll all certainly remember how pretty they looked in their new pink outfits on Thanksgiving Day.

+ + +

Catherine and Hank Higgins were off on a four-day jaunt over the weekend to the east coast of Florida and Sanibel. Since he has been working full time and she has been so busy with bazaars, cake sales and church boutique work, they really deserved a vacation.

+ + +

Catherine Higgins gave Dick Tener a marvelous birthday present which came as a complete surprise. His favorite, her famous lemon meringue pie.

Betty and Al Jones entertained guests for Thanksgiving dinner, including friends from Venture Out and the Cookes, who are now based at Port St. Lucie when they are in Florida.

Hene Frederickson had a house guest over the holidays. Her friend from Boca Raton, originally was from Alma, Michigan, area too. She comes up to visit here periodically and was amazed at the growth of the area in the past.

She was also amazed, as we all are, by the beautiful Hagaman hibiscus tree Hank Higgins planted between the two mobile homes. The flowers change to three colors, and the growth of the tree is unbelievable.

Louise Shepard has been on the go, off visiting friends at Okeechobee, and lots of plans for travel in the near future. She played her first game of shuffleboard last week, and shows great promise for a beginner.

BY THEO SLAGLE

We are most happy to have Jessie Shaver back home to recuperate from her operation, and we do wish her a speedy recovery. Lester is a very busy person taking care of his wife and doing everything possible to make her comfortable. Come on, Lester, spoil her a little.

+ + +

Betty and Paul Brinkard returned from spending a delightful Thanksgiving with her parents. Have you all noticed how Paul has been so busy landscaping his corner? It is so beautiful and we almost here enjoy and appreciate all the hard work he has put into this project, and did you notice the large flag pole and flag he is displaying?

+ + +

Robbie Gutierrez was most happy to have her daughter Gail and husband Mike, also her parents for Thanksgiving. Do hope the young couple were able to get at least one swim in the ocean before returning to Tampa.

Sam Tucker spent the holiday with his brother-in-law Col. Stevens up at Melrose, Fla., and reported he had a delightful visit. Ha, too, has been busy sprucing up his place outside.

+ + +

Rita and Walter Autenrieth spent Thanksgiving day with their dear friends, Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Mirtsch of Spanish Lakes. They had a marvelous goose dinner with all the trimmings.

+ + +

Helen and Roy Williams are on the go spending time in their condominium at Pierpont as well as their home here on the Lagoon. We are always glad to have them with us.

+ + +

Jean and Gil Van Willigan returned a couple of weeks ago after a month of traveling in Europe and a most pleasant visit with their daughter and her family in Tierreria, Italy. Highlights of the trip included visits to Pisa, Florence, Venice, Trieste (on the Yugoslavian border) and the ancient hilltop towns of Asassi and Sienna. The warmth and sunshine of Florida were welcome after unseasonable cool weather and the cold marble floors of Italy.

BY BETTY DAVIS

The rain seemed and the wind blew and there was no heat in the pool. Happy Day for the grandparents who had thought the pool might be the best built-in baby sitter.

Duncan's Crazy and Jeffy scarcely got aboard the boat. Our two, Megan and Travis Johnson of Atlanta, swam every day despite the cold water and wind and fished Saturday in the rain. Success is landing the fish - even if you have to throw it back. Son Tom mostly fished with relative success.

The Saturday night affair was festive with various good fellows presenting their favorite renditions after the music left. Our rec director should know this is the sort of fun we like - possibly even more than dancing. Oh my age must be showing.

Our excellent exercise in the pool director Laura Harding is doing a fabulous job. Class increased from 2 to 14 in 3 sessions. Even had a male, in the form of Bill Nickau, to liven it up. He claims the therapy is great. How about joining them, Bill? Laura is majoring in recreational resource management and me thinks has a brilliant future.

+ + +

This column needs crutches to survive. Although several of us volunteered to cover the news, we must have cooperation. How much effort can it take to drop in and leave a few lines at any of the regulars' homes? We can't just dream it up & it's to be based on fact, at all. Thanks, Louise, Ginny

Letter from Betty and Harry Sessoms says they'll be here for January and February. We are all glad, for they give both good sports, ready for anything. Seems the folks who participate have so much more fun than those who prefer privacy and the hoob tube.

+ + +

David and Dorothy Zantz have spent a couple of long weekends with us, and we hope they'll make a habit of it. Their home in Lake Worth is so near they have no excuse.

+ + +

As ever, the Lions Club sponsored pancake breakfast at Langford Park was a big success. We thought Venture Out residents were conspicuous by their absence. Perhaps we were there too early.

BY ALICE NICKAU

The Nickau's New Jersey friends arrived after shivering through their many layers of long johns for 12 days running around many times and bending a prop and shaft on their 33 foot boat. Looking forward to the warm Florida sunshine, they arrived Saturday afternoon in the cold, dreary rain. Dinner at Chumley's revived their spirits!

The Duncans and the Campbells have left us to spend the holidays with their families.

Three 'R's' at Academy

HOWEY-IN-THE-HILLS- Teaching the three 'R's' is a must if formal education is to meet the social, business, and technological demands of today," said William Branyon, Headmaster of Howey Academy, a co-educational college preparatory school here.

The reason is obvious, according to many college officials and employers, today's average high school graduate is deficient in spelling, writing and fundamental math.

Branyon said, "Howey's academic program is geared toward meeting these basic needs through both the classroom and the curriculum. Small class sizes enable teachers to work more closely with individual students. Teachers are also available for special help sessions after class."

He added, "Howey's basic course requirements far exceed those required by the State Department of Education."

Howey's curriculum requirements provide solid backgrounds in English skills, reading and study habits, and computation skills. A course in English is required each year for grades 7-12 and as incentive to improve spelling proficiency, Howey will return to the old fashioned spelling bee this year, challenging students in area schools.

Heavy emphasis on mathematics begins at the junior high level with the development of computation skills, followed by two or more years of advanced math to meet graduation requirements, said Branyon.

Mayor promises action

Red tape, zip delay post office hopes

PORT ST. LUCIE—Don't believe ...ere has ever been any dispute over ...le the mills of the U.S. Post Office ...partment grind slowly, but it is ...lained the residents of Port St. ...cie realize how slowly.

A plan A postal facility located ...ghin the city is at least three years ...y according to Phil Ferrari, district ...architect for the U.S. Post Office Department.

The current stumbling block is the need for a zip code.

As of yet we do not have a zip for that area and although one has been submitted by the Fort Pierce Post Office it has not been approved by the district, Ferrari said.

We are now in the process of investigating what would be needed in the way of zip code changes to accomodate the Port St. Lucie area, he added.

When a zip code package is developed, it will be forwarded to the regional headquarters in Memphis for approval.

Once the zip is approved and the request submitted for a new post office or a different location there are 6 months to a year before the building will be completed, according to Ferrari.

He agreed there was a need for the postal facility in the area, but said that just like everything else with the government it takes time to cut through the red tape and get approvals.

We are working on it. We realize there's a problem up there and it hurts our delivery time when we have to deliver out of the Fort Pierce office, he said.

It is his opinion a post office facility in Port St. Lucie in at least three years, if anyone can find a building suitable for our purpose eliminating the need for construction. But that is only one improvement the department wants moving toward, doing their own construction rather than trying to lease a building, he concluded.

Mayor Larry Kimmel obviously not pleased with the information, commented on the situation.

We had been given the understanding over a year ago the new zip code in Port St. Lucie was specifically for the new post office. At that time the postal real estate branch was moving ahead to locate an appropriate site for the facility, the mayor said.

Although we have not inquired into this lately, we have set the wheels in motion to start such an inquiry beginning with Fort Pierre and going right up the ladder to Washington.

If something has happened to stop these wheels, it is our intention to get them started again, he said.

The mayor has said if it becomes necessary to shake the congressional tree to get some action, this will be done and more.

Once before we had to go beyond this point and the paths are still open for us to do the same thing again should that be what it takes to get a first class postal facility in this area, he concluded.

Santa arrives at Marina on Sunday

PORT ST. LUCIE—The St. Lucie Junior Women's Club announced this week that Santa Claus will be arriving at the Marina on a yacht on Sunday, Dec. 8, at 4 p.m.

Each and every child is invited to the Marina to welcome Santa, sit on his lap, and tell it whatever it is little ones tell Santa.

Barracks 2936 sets meeting

PORT ST. LUCIE—The regular monthly meeting of Barracks 2936, World War I Vets, will be held on Thursday, Dec. 12, at 8 p.m. at the Marina.

POSED—Several members of the Port St. Lucie Bank staff took time out of their busy schedule Tuesday to pose for a picture in front of the new bank facility. A two-day open house celebration will be conducted Sunday, from 2 to 5 p.m. and Monday from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Pictured above, left to right, clockwise, are Jeanette A. Kimmel defends policy at homeowners meeting

PORT ST. LUCIE—Mayor Larry Kimmel and Robert Seeley, GDC vice president and general manager of Port St. Lucie, were guest speakers before a group of St. Lucie Country Club Homeowners Monday night.

The informal meeting of the St. Lucie Country Club Homeowners was called by its president, Clement A. Brantley, Jr. for the sole purpose of listening to the two community leaders. An estimated one hundred members attended the meeting held at the CESA building.

GUEST SPEAKER—Mayor Larry Kimmel was one of the guest speakers appearing before an informal meeting of the St. Lucie Country Club Homeowners Monday night. Over one hundred attended the session held at the CESA building and heard the mayor explain in detail various actions of the city council.

The first speaker of the evening was Mayor Kimmel who took the opportunity not only to enlighten the group on the future plans of the city but to answer some of the rumored accusations regarding past actions of the city council.

These charges do not upset me, Kimmel said. They are indicative of the people in the community taking an interest in city government. Our residents are realizing that the city government is our government and not their.

This is a good move.

Such interest should and will bring out a good selection of challenging candidates during the forthcoming elections to be held on March, he added.

Kimmel told of the contributing efforts on the part of the present city council to bring residents into a more active role in working with the city council.

Within the past year it became apparent the five councilmen could not cover the entire waterfront, he said. The need for a city hall and the council to set up its first committee of residents.

A request was sent out publicly and to both homeowner groups for recommendations. From those a committee of five, Bill McSweeney, Vaughn Lewis, Norm Kreske, Howard Chase and Clyde Blunt, were selected by the council.

Hence, the city's first Planning and Zoning committee was formed.

They have worked hard, Kimmel said. They have since set up two sub-committees, pollution control for a sanitary landfill located within the area, and a second to plan for the hospital and medical building needs of the community.

In answering another charge, Kimmel pointed out the city was operating on approximately one half of the average number of employees of all the various cities on the state.

To emphasize this point he used the city building department as an example.

The city, before the crash of two months ago was issuing approximately 100 building permits per month, necessitating a minimum of 800 inspections.

To expand our building department we hired two students from IRCC who wanted to work while continuing their education and one other employee. Aside from the instruction and training, these men were turned loose with books and the midnight oil, Kimmel said.

All three now carry a card of certification as qualified building inspectors and today the city has one of the finest building departments you could find anywhere, Kimmel added.

Under the provisions of the state's Homerule Act, the city had to provide employees with a pension plan.

The mayor noted so far only one person qualified for that pension, the late Mayor Kavanaugh.

If he had lived one more year, he would have been eligible to receive $261 per month. At the time of death he was 40 percent qualified and his widow received $104 per month, Kimmel said, adding there were standard options available, monthly, quarterly, or lump sum benefits.

The mayor was somewhat critical of persons making false accusations and cited the hospitalization situation as being one example of this.

I have been hearing numerous coverage could have been purchased for half the cost, he said. This was not so for both and the cheapest and best was chosen. I have yet to have the person who can purchase it for half the premium to step up and tell us where so we too can save the money.

One other point the mayor chose to clarify was his qualifications as an engineer.

I hold and have held for the past 25 years a card from one of the outstanding engineering societies in the country. I have a grade second only to the highest, he said.

The highest grade is reserved for Nobel Prize winners and I just don't believe I'll make that here in Port St. Lucie, he concluded.

As for the future of the city, the need for a charter became a high on the mayor's list of priorities.

I am so hopeful that we will be able to get the qualified, competent people in our area to assist with the revision of the charter. Instead of the five population groups we now have, I can visualize the need for seven to nine such groups, he said, adding that is only one subject the charter revision committee should look into.

Robert Seeley's desired look of the future for the city included improved shopping facilities associated with the Mid Port multi-family development.

If the market demands for housing improve during the coming year and GDC can get the necessary approval I would expect to see some multi-family construction underway, he said.

He did point out that in terms of overall density of the city the multi-family housing would still represent a very, very small percentage of the total housing.

Another hopeful mentioned by Seeley included a hospital and professional building.

GDC has established June 1975 as the target completion date for the construction of rental space for professional activities in the area.

Other items included the extension of 25th Street which GDC is constructing, the involvement of GDC in providing all the roads for the new Port St. Lucie Elementary School, the three acres donated by the company to CESA and also the third championship golf course now under construction.

Another accomplishment of GDC was the interconnecting water systems with 16 inch mains between north and south port. This, according to Seeley, will provide better pressure during the coming year.

Vikings battle Firebirds

PORT ST. LUCIE—Residents and football enthusiasts will have the opportunity to watch a championship game this Saturday, the first game to be played on the hometown gridiron.

The Port St. Lucie Optimist Vikings will meet the Indiantown Firebirds at Sportsman's Park to decide which of the two teams will be the champs of the senior division. Game time is 2 p.m.

Ironically each squad's one defeat was at the hands of the other, that's right, the Vikings beat the Firebirds and vice versa for the only loss recorded by either team.

Both teams want the championship, both rivalry should spark action galore.

Head Coach Joe Jennings says the Vikings are in good shape for the play off and fired up for a win, adding that the boys are deserving of hometown support.

The Optimist Club, assisted by members of the football team, erected the fence last weekend in preparation for Saturdays game.

FIRST PSL TWINS—Mark and Kyle Elliott of 355 S.E. Verada were a little more than somewhat put out by erroneously being overlooked as the first set of twins to be born into the community of Port St. Lucie. Just to set the record straight, let it be know Mark and Kyle were the first identical twins and Christopher and Christina Evans, previously pictured in Mirror were the first fraternal twins born into the community of Port St. Lucie. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Hamp Elliott.

Star class sailboats compete at Hilton

PORT ST. LUCIE--The sails of Star Class will blossom on the St. Lucie River here Dec. 6 and 7 as skippers from the U.S. and Bahamas meet for the 1974 running of the Southern Star Championship.

This marks the fifth year the regatta has been held at the St. Lucie Hilton Country Club Resort, and is the second leg of Florida's "Triple Crown" of Star Boat sailing. The other events on the circuit are the Ryder and Bacardi Cup races in Miami.

Resort manager Harry Teetz announced that General Development Corporation will again sponsor the event. The weekend regatta will be open to spectators without charge.

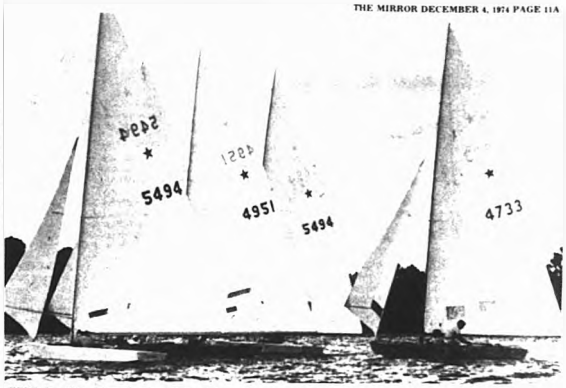
The Star Class race is one of sailing's most exciting events, featuring two-man boats, 23 feet long with a 36-foot mast. The championship will be decided in a series of races over a triangular course on the St. Lucie River opposite the resort.

Entries in the championship include Miamian James "Ding" Schoonmaker, defending 1973 Southern Star Champion and former Bacardi Cup champion, European champion and South American champion.

Also registered for the race are former World's Champion and olympic challenger Dick Stearns, of Northfield, Illinois, and Miamian Frank Zagarino, 1971 Southern Star Champion and former Bacardi Cup Champion.

Headquarters for the race committee will be the St. Lucie Hilton Inn.

Regatta officials have announced there are still a few positions open in the competition. Sailors planning to enter the Southern Star Championship should contact Corporate Communications, General Development, 1111 South Bayshore Drive, Miami, Fla.



HERE--Star Class racers slice through the St. Lucie River on a challenging three-mile triangular course in the second leg of the "Triple Crown" of sailing, set for this weekend at the St. Lucie Hilton Resort.

Top seeds win mixed-doubles tourney

PORT ST. LUCIE--Ron Fick and Raynie Fox proved the ranking experts correct as the top seeded team defeated second seed Tom Falkenburg and Carol Coburn to win the first Thanksgiving mixed doubles tennis tournament at the St. Lucie Hilton last weekend.

In a rain and wind plagued two day event, Fick, highly ranked in Florida, and Virginia Slims player Raynie Fox, defeated Falkenberg and Coburn 6-3, 6-4 as spectators huddled in blankets and heavy coats on the sidelines.

The tournament had just begun Saturday when rain halted all play. Only one match was completed as the rains poured throughout the day, the forerunner to Sunday's bone-chilling weather.

To reach the top run and win, Fick and Fox defeated Bill Davis and Pat Atwater, 6-1, 6-2, Helen and Bud Lusk, 6-0, 6-1 and Grieco and Grieco, 6-1, 6-2.

Falkenberg and Coburn defeated Silvero and Blunduo, 6-1, 6-0. Obando and Simmonds, 6-2, 4-6, 6-1, and Johnstone and Torrey, 6-1, 1-6, 6-4 before falling to the winners.

All the semi-finals Sunday and the finals were played as the sun dipped below the horizon.

The tournament was run by the Florida Lawn Tennis Association and the U.S.L.T.A.

Matching money

Federal money is on the way

JENSEN BEACH—A federal government matching fund check this month will complete the "open space" improvements projects, Martin County Purchasing Agent Paul Penrod said Monday.

The county has been notified that the government has approved payment of $116,999.68.

Penrod said the check is expected to be received later this month.

With the payment of the government's share this month, the outdoor recreation improvements needed in the county over the past two years will be completed, Penrod said.

The $263,999 improvement projects included work at Langford Park in Jensen Beach, work at the Jensen and Stuart public beaches and a park at Port Salerno.

Penrod said that previously the county had received $150,000 from the federal government toward the $300,000 purchase of a seven-acre playground and park in Port Salerno.

Work at Langford Park included tennis courts, lights and fencing for a new ball field, according to Penrod.

Beach improvements include stairways over the dunes, parking improvements, sidewalks, landscaping and shower showers.

Penrod said the "open space" program by the Housing and Urban Development has been discontinued, but a new program is expected.

It is called the Housing and Community Act, Penrod said. "I have been in touch with Tallahassee about the program.

We might be interested in further expansion of our parks program under this new act," Penrod said.

Wacha to install Chamber officers

JENSEN BEACH—Former Martin County Commissioner Frank Wacha will be the installing officer at the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce dinner Thursday night at the Stuart Elks Club.

Tickets for the dinner dance are $8.50 and can be purchased at the door, the chamber announced.

A total of 82 reservations had been made by Tuesday, the chamber announced.

The social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m. followed by the dinner at 7:30.

Officers to be installed include Art Ranger, president; L.D. Kirkpatrick, vice president; Ginny VanBrett, secretary; and Ona Campbell, treasurer.

New directors are Jim Walker, John Heyburn, Joseph Humbert, Joan Botsch, Jacqueline Hall, Ellers Wright, Joseph Mauldin, Ernest Teates, Frank Mock and Fred Stein.

Driveways

JENSEN BEACH—Replacing seven driveways on Harbara Drive in Jensen Beach was approved Tuesday by Martin County Commission Tuesday.

Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick who represents the Jensen Beach area, said money for replacing the driveways would come from Taxing District A.

Philbrick said the driveways had to be removed for the drainage pipes along the street. He estimated replacing cost at about $1,800.

Commissioners approved a $9,500 contract for the project last month. County wide funds will be used for the drainage work according to Philbrick.

'Doodling' on arch by Engel

Editor's Note

JENSEN BEACH Ocean Breeze Park artist Carl B. Engel says the Jensen Beach Arch is not the Arc de Triomphe and sent his "doodling card" to The Mirror on how a restored arch sign should read.

Santa at Chamber December 21

JENSEN BEACH—Santa Claus will greet Jensen Beach area children at the Chamber of Commerce Sunday, Dec. 21, from noon to 3 p.m.

Mrs. Mary Keller, chairman of the Santa committee, planning for the event, said there would be candy for the children.

She said that the VFW Auxiliary is assisting with the program, as has donated $50 toward purchase of gifts.

Mrs. Keller reminded parents to bring their cameras so they can take pictures of the children with Santa. Also there will be coffee for the parents.

Monday night's chamber meeting the possibility of Jensen Beach having a Christmas parade was discussed. Also the possibility of continuing the Jensen Beach parade to Stuart's parade was suggested.

READING PROGRAM—The first books in the "right to read" program arrived last week at Jensen Beach Elementary School. Monies for the books were purchased by the PTA's annual carnival and auction. Dale Clark, school principal and Mrs. Barbara Hendry, PTA president, are shown with students Tina Chiechanowski and Frank Zuravski.

District cut is expected

JENSEN BEACH—Taxing District A, which Jensen Beach area budget will be affected, Martin County Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick said Monday.

Philbrick, who represents the Jensen Beach area, said the district millage probably will not be cut, but he expects the district budget to be trimmed.

"I can't be able to make a decision on the millage or budget before I see the final tax roll," Philbrick said.

"I don't believe this will be the year for any new projects," Philbrick added, citing the gloomy economic outlook.

But he added, "This doesn't mean that we won't get the bike path or street lights," pointing out that these projects will come from county wide funds.

Philbrick said the Board of Tax Adjustment will begin hearings the afternoon of Jan. 15 and continue for the rest of the month.

"We have about 300 complaints to be heard," he said.

He noted, however, that the tax hearings will not hold up sending out the tax bills. The tax bills are expected to be mailed on January according to Philbrick.

While the state has announced a slash in the revenue sharing fund, about $90,000 from the anticipated $363,884, Philbrick noted that it was just about 1 per cent of the total budget.

Part of the revenue sharing usually goes to the Sheriff's Department, he said, but that budget is finalized.

Budget cuts will have to be made elsewhere, he said. "But they all won't be from the same pegs to.

County gets $39,764 check

JENSEN BEACH—Martin County Commission Tuesday received a $39,764.87 check from the Department of Interior.

Clyde Lee of the department made the presentation to Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick.

The money is paid to the county in lieu of taxes, and the money is presented annually.

Philbrick noted that part of the money will go to the school board.

In other action, commissioners approved a maintenance dredging permit for Sailfish Point, and passed a resolution requesting the Department of Natural Resources to review the coastal construction setback line.

Step back saves man

JENSEN BEACH—If Harper Quinn had not stepped back in his doorway as he heard a crashing noise Monday afternoon, he would have been run over by a car.

Mrs. William Friars, New Jersey, lost control of her compact car when its accelerator pedal stuck in a parking lot on Ocean Blvd.

The car jumped through a fence separating Quinn's property and finally stopped smack in front of his door just as he was about to step out of it.

Luckily enough, the woman was able to steer the car missing a truck, telephone pole and garbage container, in the crowded parking lot behind a row of busy stores.

The woman and her husband were uninjured and had just been to an auto repair dealer about the accelerator. The mechanic told the couple that their particular make auto always idles high.

ACCIDENT—Mrs. William Friars explains to Martin County Sheriff's Deputies how the accident occurred Monday when her accelerator pedal stuck. Harper Quinn was just about to walk out his door, as the incident happened.

Nergard committes

JENSEN BEACH—State Rep. Chuck Nergard, who represents the Jensen Beach area, has been appointed to two House committees by House Speaker Donald Tucker (D-Tallahassee).

Nergard has been named to the education and government operations committees. He is the senior Republican on the Education Committee.

"I have been a member of the Education committee since I've been in the legislature," the Port St. Lucie resident said.

He is beginning his fifth term.

Tucker indicated the addition of House committees.

His Tucker feeling was that legislators should work in selected areas instead of a large number of committees, Nergard said.

"I asked for four committee assignments and got two of the four I requested," Nergard said.

"I'm pleased with my assignments," he added.

He said that Tucker distributed committee assignments on the basis first of the preference of individual legislators and second of experience.

Jack Pearlman, who represents the other areas of Martin County, was appointed to the elections and regulated industries and licensing committees.

Savings, satisfaction guaranteed at Jetson

PORT ST. LUCIE–Stumped for Christmas ideas?

Stop in at Jetson Appliance Center for treasure count's biggest appliance and television showrooms, located just five miles north of Port St. Lucie on U.S. 1.

Jetson carries a complete line of appliances and televisions, including such top brands as Hotpoint, GE, Whirlpool, Kitchenaide, Corning.

Service, savings and satisfaction is guaranteed by Jetson.

"Enjoy your product while you shop around for it," Jetson president John F. Jetson Jr. says stating "If you can find the item you purchased from me for less money within 30 days, we will refund the difference to you."

"We don't give away turkeys, this fall, but you'll have enough shopping left-over to buy one of your own."

Other guarantees written into every one of the stall has been received including weekends. The service department on the premises is capably headed by Doug DeBosse.

DeBosse was formerly with GE of New York and brings with him seven years experience.

Joseph Handy, an FAU graduate in the store manager and Juanita Houghton, bookkeeper, carefully guards the dollars and cents of the operation.

Jetson is owned by John F. Thofner Jr. alias Johnny Jetson and his brother Scott.

John was formerly with Kenneth A. Cohen of West Palm Beach for three years, which according to him is equivalent to 20 years with anyone else.

Scott handles the logistics of a profitable delivering and servicing.

Jetson is aware that the purchase of a major appliance is an investment. All of their personnel are trained to help you match your need to the proper appliance. They are open till 8 weeknights and till 6 on Saturday and Sunday.

Jetson has instant credit available and prompt, free delivery. You can run in today and use it tonight.

In Jetson's nine months of operation every customer has received a written guarantee on every item purchased and Jetson stands behind that guarantee.

Your one stop at Jetson with confidence and at your leisure. Shop in comfortable surroundings.

MICRO-WAVE FOR CHRISTMAS–John Thofner, Jr. proudly displays one of the many micro-wave ovens available for purchase at Jetson's Appliance. A complete line of all major appliances are on display in the spacious showrooms of Jetson's located just 4 miles north of Port St. Lucie on U.S. 1. Brothers John and Scott Thofner are the owners of the business.

Vikings bow to Fire

PORT ST. LUCIE–The Port St. Lucie Vikings bowed to the Indialantic Firebirds in a squeaker last Saturday. The score was 14 to 12.

The Vikings scored first with a touchdown by K.J. Johnson in the first quarter. The extra point was missed.

Later in the same quarter, Firebird Kenneth Mitchell intercepted a forward pass and ran 48 yards for the touchdown. The extra point was converted on a pass from Wayne Perkins to Ken Wright.

A defensive struggle kept the third quarter scoreless.

Starting off the last quarter, Viking Rusty Saunt intercepted a Firebird pass and ran 35 yards for the touchdown. The extra point was missed.

Late in the latter quarter, Indialantic was backed up on their own one yard line. But the Vikings suffered a 15 yard penalty, putting the Firebirds out of serious trouble. They were able to move onto the ball for the final seconds, thereby coming out ahead 14 to 12.

An Awards Night dinner is slated for 6 p.m. Sunday at the Elks Club in Fort Pierce.

U.S. snail service keeps costing more

WASHINGTON--The U.S. Postal Service is bragging about its increased productivity, saying it is now handling some 300 million pieces of mail a day but with 5 per cent fewer employees than three years ago.

Unfortunately, it doesn't appear to be handling the mail any better.

Hardly a day goes by that I don't receive at least one letter complaining about poor mail delivery, whether it be across town or across the nation.

And yet, the Postmaster General, E.T. Klassen, now says the Postal Service is going to have to raise its rates next year.

"There is no question, we'll need a rate increase," he told an audience in Detroit last week, pointing to soaring fuel, material and labor costs as the reason.

And, he indicated the price of delivering a first class letter will probably go up from the already high 10 cents to either 12 or 13 cents, with a corresponding increase in the cost of all mail service.

Ridiculous. Absolutely ridiculous.

We aren't getting 10 cents worth for our stamps now. And I see no guarantee that we'll get anything close to 12 or 13 cents worth next year.

If the increase is granted - and the Postal Service doesn't plan to make formal application until March - it will be the third since the old Post Office Department was abolished and the new quasi-independent Postal Service was formed.

When the service was created in 1971, mail cost you and I just six cents to mail a letter, a price which had been effect for eight years.

By the Postal Service raised it to eight cents. And last year it went up again, to 10 cents for the first class and 13 cents for Air Mail.

Despite the higher rates Klassen says the Postal Service will operate at a $288 million deficit this fiscal year, just about double the $438 million deficit it incurred in the last fiscal year on revenues of $10.9 billion.

Part of the doubled deficit, of course, can be blamed on inflation, particularly in the higher cost of gasoline for mail trucks.

But inflation can't be blamed for all of the increased deficit.

A great deal of it, I am afraid, must be charged to poor management, to developing systems which work all right in big cities but fail miserably in rural areas and small towns, to ignoring the human aspects of operating a multi billion dollar operation and destroying employee morale.

These mistakes were pointed out by a lengthy study by the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee earlier this year. And the study mandated that the Postal Service change its ways, that it put a premium on getting mail delivered as fast as humanly possible.

While there have been some changes and some improvements, it hasn't been enough to warrant a 20 or 30 per cent hike in postal rates.

Fortunately for the people of this nation, postal rates won't go up just because the Postmaster General wants them to.

Under the Postal Reorganization Act of 1971, requests for higher rates must be approved by the independent Postal Rate Commission and the Postal Service Board of Governors.

And if their review boards fail to take the hard look at the request needed to make a rational judgment, their decision can be appealed to the U.S. Court of Appeals.

All of which will serve to focus the public's attention on the Postal Service its managers, employees and operational practices.

And that could mean an improvement.

So, Postmaster General Klassen's request for higher postage rates may prove to be the key to give the American people what they deserve - an efficient, low cost postal service.

Let us hope so.

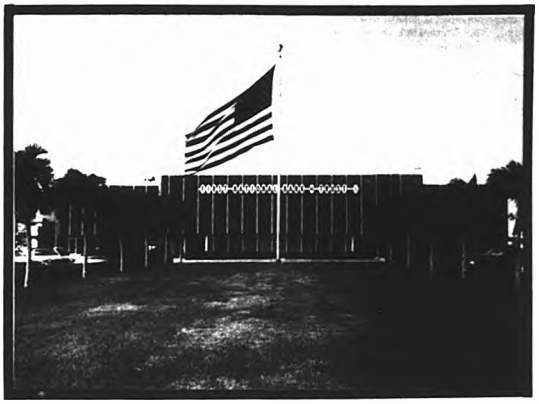
PEOPLE THINK WE'RE THE OLDEST AND LARGEST BANK IN MARTIN COUNTY.



THEY'RE RIGHT!

Back in 1933, when First National got started, we were the only bank in Martin County. We offered the community the essential financial services needed to promote a healthy local economy. But the services we offered then, as compared to those available today, were pretty primitive. First National has always been the banking leader in Martin County, especially when introducing new and innovative services for our customers. And, our customers loyalty is why we're the largest bank in Martin County. Stop by the bank that grew up with Martin County soon and see what people are talking about. First National, a truly complete, quick and convenient place to handle all your bank affairs.

Auxilians honored

STUART–Mrs. Kathleen Spencer, Mrs. Celestia England and Mrs. Doris Hoxie were honored by the Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary in appreciation for the many hours and years of dedicated service to the auxiliary.

Mrs. Marge Bishop, auxiliary president, presented them with pins and life memberships in the auxiliary at the group's Christmas party last week.

A program of Christmas music was presented by the Indian River Community College Chorale, under the direction of Dr. L. L. Maser.

Mrs. Merele Phillips reported that the volunteers worked a total of 5,835 hours in the month of November. She presented several awards including the 5,000 hour service pins to Florence Maser, Ruth Suydam, Charlotte Wagner and Joan West.

Following the meeting, the members and guests were served Christmas tea by hostesses Regina Just, Lois Artons, Vera Andreasen, Vera Ellis and Eileen Widmar.

RIPPLES–Giant malaleuca trees called paper trees line the canal that is known as the Rim Ditch, near Clewiston, reflecting in the slight ripple caused by a gentle breeze.

NEAR SUNSET–The calm of Lake Okeechobee offers a vista of beauty as Rick Campbell pilots the Miss Mirror toward Clewiston. Only the series markers guide the way on the vast lake.

MIRROR

Waterways like glass

HURRICANE GATE–The entrance to Clewiston Marina is protected by hurricane gates that can be closed in the event of a storm.

A world of differences lie in Okeechobee cruise

BY DICK CAMPBELL
PHOTOS BY DENNIS DOYLE AND DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH–The fantasies of bright, sun-washed skies on murmured waters and of trees filtering moonlight into a thousand dancing shadows were just a part of the three-day adventure of a cruise on the waterways of the St. Lucie Canal and Lake Okeechobee.

It was to be a cruising fishing trip with three seventeen-year-olds, Rick Campbell, Chris Slater and Charlie Schommer led by Photo Editor Dennis Doyle aboard the Miss Mirror. Their plan was to overnight at Clewiston aboard the 34-foot houseboat after a leisurely cruise through the waterways and across the lake.

The sun was high as the boat pulled away from the dock at Roads's overlooking into the Cross State Waterway and winding through a wilderness shoreline that hid subdivisions and condominiums from the beauty of nature.

A light wind created ripples that were soon destroyed by the wash of the 14-foot fishing boat driven by Rick Campbell, jumping the slight wake of the Miss Mirror, slashing back and forth as the lightness of the moment began to capture the minds and imaginations of the young people aboard.

Once a few miles up the St. Lucie even the ravages of man didn't show along the riverside winding and lush with mangrove and scrub palm.

Then the straight banked sides of the St. Lucie Canal appeared, banks tumbling into the water, trees leaning as if to fall any day down the sides of the cutbank.

Fishermen stared dispassionately and with boredom as the Miss Mirror approached the St. Lucie Canal locks.

The two massive gates swung slightly open, allowing the loss of water to lower on the lock. Water swirled and whirlpools dipped and moved as the water crashed, seeking a level.

Soon its interior the level of the lower waterway, the lock gates swung open and the Miss Mirror eased into the cavern. The gates swung closed, and the western gates were opened after the lockmaster lowered ropes to the two boats.

Again the waters swirled, filling the lock, raising the boat and soon the Miss Mirror was on the level with the upper reaches of the St. Lucie Canal.

The gates opened, and the two boats began their cruise entering a new kind of Florida scenery.

Groves of oranges and lemons heavy on trees a month from harvest were intermingled with ranches and pastures. Small drainage canals with an occasional cane pole fisherman at their mouth dribbled into the waterways.

The high level bridge at Indiantown interrupted the pastoral scenes, as did the railroad bridge there, and the approached the vertical railroad bridge at Port Mayaca.

The lock at Port Mayaca is building a lock at the west end of the St. Lucie Canal and locks make the passage through the narrow channel difficult and dangerous.

But the area from the confining canals into the massive Lake Okeechobee is a sight to behold.

It looks like an ocean with only water on the horizon. The afternoon sunlight bounced from the water that stretched toward the boat, almost blinding in its glitter.

Rim Ditch is the wide, deep canal that skirts the edge of Lake Okeechobee. Its depth, created by the fill needed to build the giant mound of dirt that forms the dike that holds the lake water level to 17 feet above sea level.

It is a different kind of beauty. Seagulls dart and dip, hover and then in the moving water in the hyacinths selecting the choicest bits of baitfish attracted by the water movement.

The Ramrod Marker's island, tall and stark with nail-filled boards affixed atop its discourage the landings of the birds.

The small boat harbors at Canal Point, Pahokee and Belle Glade drift by, and fishermen from their breakwater pilings look inquisitively as the Miss Mirror loaded a mile.

The light had gone as the boat slipped quietly through the darkened channel, red and green cruising lights warning of the vague markers out for a night of fishing.

The moonlight played tricks on the shoreline, giant Malaleuca trees on one side, great banyans and palms on the other, as the moon led the way to Clewiston harbor.

Saturday was a fishing day, with little

REFLECTIONS–Lily pads are mirrored in the water as a bobber waits for the strike of a bream. Cane pole fishing is one of the most popular methods of catching the darting pan fish.

MISTY MORNING–The Rim Ditch was almost like glass in the morning, with the mist softening the sounds of fishermen driving outboards to their favorite fishing holes.

VOYAGERS–Rick Campbell, Dennis Doyle, Chris Slater and Charlie Schommer took the waterway trip to Clewiston recently aboard the Miss Mirror. In the background, the St. Lucie Canal stretches in the distance, a long slash through east Florida to the Atlantic Ocean.

News of Nettles Island

BY MAY TIFFT

John Hallengee from W Va on lot 1388, are just won the top award of the year for Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company. Congratulations! And it would take this assume he and Mayme will be enjoying Nettles Island again this year.

The Nov 30th dance was nice as usual. The ladies were really dressed up for this one, which was the opening of the winter season. The men? They always look wonderful to us!

Alice and Norm Kellam returned Dec 1st What a nice surprise as they were expected a month from now. Alice is one of my favorite beach and shelling companions.

* * *

Dec 3rd was the first bible study class in the downstairs lounge. How pleasant on a cold Florida night, to find that Tom Roberts had started a cozy fire in the big fireplace for us.

* * *

Shuffleboard practice has started. There will be a ladder tournament. Contact Tom Roberts 334-5111 if you wish to sign up or do so at the rec hall.

You may also sign as a substitute.

Edith Avise tells me that Audrey Strickland was picking up cigarette candy and gum wrappers in front of the laundromat. Her comment was "If everyone would throw their wrappers in the rubbish can, we wouldn't have this. Edith's comment: "If we had more picker-uppers like Audrey our place would be spotless."

* * *

Cindy and Teddy Cook returned earlier than expected. They said it was so pretty here that they hated to miss any of it.

* * *

Fishing class is very popular here. The instructor is quite a scientist also and has a lot of helpful ideas.

* * *

Van and Mary Ann VanDerVeste of Kalamazoo, Mich. are back on lot 63 for 2 months.

* * *

And Vern and Velma Clift spent the Thanksgiving holidays with their son and family in New Orleans, La.

There was a beautiful party given Dec 3rd for Doris Renn. She was really surprised. It was her birthday and it was given by Elizabeth Miller, Mary Wilkerson and Ann Murphy. About 50 friends were present. They were served lots of goodies with their choice of beverage and, of course, the traditional birthday cake and ice cream. Evan Renn, Doris' husband, remarked he had caught the biggest (110 lb.) snook in Fla. Upon questioning, we found Doris' maiden name was "Snook." Someone asked if she had stripes down the sides and she replied "You will never know."

An informal adult tennis tournament was held last weekend. Sixteen people participated. In the first 14 matches all but two tied and had to be decided by sudden death tie breaker. The finals were played by Ken Orr and Marcia Mushing against Coleman Dee and Chet Dunmire in a bowling gale with up to 20 mile gusts. Dee and Dunmire finally won. The winners cup, a bottle of sherry, was shared by all. (Ha! thanks to Bob Tifft for arranging the tournament.

Don't forget the Flea Market on Dec 14th from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. A chance to buy hand crafted Christmas gifts. There will be a special table of baked goods. Plan to have coffee and donuts with us or lunch. There will be a table of delicious grapefruit and oranges. Also, lots of other goodies. The Women's Club is sponsoring this and credits for all the hard work will be in the next copy of the Jensen Beach Mirror.

The Nettles Islanders bowling league is in regular action now with six teams bowling on Friday night at Jensen Lanes. Teams are captained by Jim Davis, John Mantor, Val Leger, Bob Bedell, Helen Gainer and Ruth Mantor. Jim Davis and John Mantor are top bowlers with 173 averages and the competition between the two is fun to watch. Helen Gainer with 151 average and Ruth Mantor with a 148 average lead the women bowlers. It's reported the exercise is great and the fellowship most worthwhile. Anyone interested in subbing call Ruth Mantor at 334-4371. New teams will probably be starting in January so if you are available every Friday night sign up now.

Received our first Christmas card Dec 4th. Guess it would behoove all of us to get busy and get ours in the mail to assure delivery before Dec 25th.

John and I had a wonderful surprise awaiting our return from Church on Sunday. A visit from our daughter-in-law Marie, the mother of eight of our grandchildren. It was a early Christmas present from her eldest daughter Mary Ann McCurry. They flew down to Disney World from Sommerdale, N.J. and Mary Ann was trying to cram all she could in four days. They rented a car and drove to Jensen Beach to visit us. What impressed Marie most was the Rhemess of the ocean here and how white and clean all the buildings looked. This was Marie's first vacation in 24 years. So happy she could get to see us.

Thurston paintings at Mayfair

STUART Doris Thurston, local artist is exhibiting several paintings at the Mayfair Theater through Jan. 31st, including a portrait of Warner in Triton, Jensen Beach friends.

The portrait is from Mrs. Thurston's series of oil paintings of people who have made major contributions to Martin County. Also on view is the collection of portraits of Frank Clark, Sr., Harrison Parker Elliott and James Hutchinson.

A one-woman show of Mrs. Thurston's works will be held in January starting January 2.

V.F.W. news

BY CHUCK BENDER

Post 10086 will host the 11th District dinner dance this Friday. We will need a lot of help. If you can help, we sure can use you. This will be the first big event in our new building. Let's show the 11th District what a great post we have. Saturday we will need a clean up crew.

Saturday, Dec. 21, we will have a Christmas party for the children of our members. There will be games and goodies for the kids.

Sunday, Dec. 22, we will have our Christmas party. Come down and enjoy yourselves with your fellow members. There will be live music.

The Auxiliary will have a party instead of their regular meeting on Wednesday, Dec. 18. The ladies are asked to bring a gift for exchanging. Joyce would like to see all of the ladies attend.

Keep in mind our gala New Year's Eve party. We have a package deal! $13.50 per person ... this includes everything for the whole evening's fun. Dancing will start at 9 p.m. til ... Food will be served.

Also keep in mind on January 25 we will have a joint meeting to make our plans for the upcoming year. More on this later.

The time is getting shorter to get your dues in. Remember, Jan. 1st the dues will go up $1.00. Get you 75 dues in beforehand. Remind your fellow members. Let's have 100 percent by the first of the year.

SERVICE OFFICERS REPORT
BY GEORGE M. HODGE
CHAPTER 35 TRAINING FOR CHILDREN

Educational assistance is available to certain children of veterans. For eligibility to exist, a living veteran must be rated permanently and totally disabled because of service-connected conditions. The question of whether the disabilities were incurred in wartime, or peacetime, is of no consequence. Entitlement also is available to the children of a person whose death occurs in line of duty, while in military service, and to the children of a veteran who dies of a service-connected disability.

Under the provisions of Section 1712, Title 38, U.S. Code, a child is generally eligible for VA educational assistance between the ages of 18 and 26 years, but there are some exceptions. One exception allows a child to commence training when under age 18 under some conditions. If a child under age 18 has either completed his secondary schooling or is above the compulsory school age in his state, the VA can approve Chapter 35 training. If a child is physically or mentally disabled, and it is shown that special restorative training would help such training under Chapter 35 may be authorized, provided the child is fourteen years of age or older, but less than 18.

Where eligibility is established by total disability or death of a parent, and a child is over 18 years of age, but less than 26, such child has a period of five years to use Chapter 35 entitlement. This period of entitlement will end five years after one of the following dates, whichever is later:

1. The date on which permanent and total disability was determined by VA; or

2. The date of death of parent from whom eligibility is derived.

If a child serves in the Armed Forces after his or her 18th birthday, but before his 26th birthday, the Chapter 35 period will end five years after the first discharge or release from service. Current laws prohibit any Chapter 35 training for any child beyond the 31st birthday. The law is specific in stating that a child is eligible for Chapter 35 benefits only if his or her period of military service terminated honorably.

A child is entitled to 36 months of full-time training benefits under the current laws. This maximum could possibly exceed 36 months, however, under the following circumstances:

a. If entitlement is exhausted during the last half of a semester or other school period, benefits will continue to end of such period; or

b. If a person was eligible for VA training assistance under any other law, then the Chap. 35 entitlement, when added to the other benefit used, may not exceed 48 months.

The rule shown in (b) is not for application, unless the person actually used entitlement under a previous law.

Peggy Sommer was pleased to have her long time friends Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Forman, from Waterbury, Conn. stop to visit her on their way to Pompano where they will spend the winter.

The same day, while waiting for the above friends, other friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Usik, from Fort Lauderdale, also stopped in visit.

They all had lunch at the Outrigger and then drove around to look over Jensen Beach. It was a very enjoyable day for all.

+ + +

Mr. and Mrs. Laban Smith spent the Thanksgiving holiday with Glenn and Gladys Oakes.

Dot Beamer was the only three game winner out of four shuffleboard courts last week.

We are happy to welcome back Madeleine and Fred Balfanz and Fern and Ed Hill.

Men's coffee on the 7th was hosted by Herb Burmeister and Andy Bulloch with a very good turnout, some enjoying games.

+ + +

It grieves us all when our friends are ill, so we send our very best wishes for comfort and better health soon to Marion Burke, Willard Morgan, and Mary Scriven. Also, we are happy that the Balfanz's are doing well.

+ + +

The community meeting held on the 5th was conducted by Bob McCourt. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Liz Krakaur and all chairmen gave reports.

+ + +

This is the time of the year to be forgiving, loving and peaceful. Cheers!

Jensen Garden Club Christmas luncheon is December 18

JENSEN BEACH—A mini-flower show "Christmas at Home" will be held Wednesday, December 18 at 1:30 p.m. when the Jensen Beach Garden Club meets at Fellowship Hall, Community Church, for their Christmas Buffet Luncheon.

Exhibitors are reminded that their entries must be in place by 10:30 a.m. Entries will be accepted from 9:30 to 10:30. Anyone who has not signed up and wishes to enter, please phone Mrs. A.C. Mills, Jr. 334-3650.

Mrs. William Stephenson reported that almost $200 was raised by the Thrifty Shoppers Sale for the benefit of the Civic Beautification projects. A card party to be held February 26 will be the next fund raising event. Please make note of the date.

Members attending the luncheon meeting are requested to bring their own table service.

Rainbow Wheel luncheon Tuesday

JENSEN BEACH—The Rainbow Wheel Club of the Martin and St. Lucie County Welcome Wagon will hold their Christmas luncheon at the Crow's Nest on Tuesday, Dec. 17.

Social hour starts at 11:30 a.m. with luncheon served at noon.

There will be a Gift Grab Bag and those who intend to participate are asked to bring a $1 item.

Health care course

FORT PIERCE—Since there is a growing demand in this area for a better understanding of the long-term care individual, both persons being attended to at home and those in care centers, Indian River Community College is offering a course on Long-Term Health Care. Through this course, an insight will be given to the physical, psychological, and emotional needs of the Stuart Convalescent Center where actual observation and demonstration of techniques will be taught, along with the classroom sessions.

Persons interested in learning more about this program can contact the instructor, Mrs. Judy Farmer, at 878-1829. Ms. Frances Hammett, Health Education Division Director at IRCC 464-2000, Ext. 299, or Mrs. Jane Humphreys at Stuart Convalescent Center 283-5887.

The first session is scheduled to begin on January 6, 1975. Registration should be completed by January 3, 1975. This course is open to men and women of all ages. A certificate of completion will be awarded to those persons satisfactorily completing the course.

IN APPRECIATION

The family of John J. Gentile wishes to express their deep appreciation for the many kindnesses shown them at the loss of a beloved husband, devoted father, and dear grandfather. We wish to thank Father Sullivan for his consolation, the members of Barracks 854 World War I Veterans and Auxiliary for their final service, and the many friends, relatives and kind neighbors for their thoughtfulness in our sorrow. This will remain for all of us a very precious memory.

D & M News Notes

BY MILDRED STINNETT
334-4188

The first Pot Luck Supper of the season was well attended, and the abundance of delicious eatables, plus the fellowship enjoyed by all, was a harbinger of future gatherings. Mrs. Willoughby and Mrs. Stetser served as hostesses, and because of the fine job they did on the preliminary work, everything went smoothly.

We enjoy being able to report that Arthur Surrency is home now and in danger of being spoiled. Agnes showers him with Tender Loving Care, and her brothers Robert and David McBrier and David's wife Kilene never miss an opportunity to be helpful. When I visited Art the other day, he was smoking his pipe and regretting his inability to work outdoors yet, but if he continues to improve as rapidly as he does now, he'll soon be out there beautifying his grounds.

Nettie Keefer, who succumbed to a nasty virus, is rapidly returning to her usual robust health, and she attributes her recovery to the excellent care and concern of her good neighbors.

Don Phillips is doing well, and when I stopped by to see him and Ethel a few days ago, they proudly displayed a gorgeous purple orchid from one of their plants.

Marie and Harold Johnson have returned and of course their handsome poodle came with them. The Hagues are back also. Ethel Meacham is expected momentarily, so very soon our population will be at full strength.

Dorothy Morley caught my attention last week to show me a very beautiful Christmas angel she had made for a table decoration. Some of the other members of the Hobby Group are also making these, and Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, for the same purpose. Vi Cabral, the instructor from IRCC who is teaching us how to create these delightful items, is a real inspiration, and examples of her art will be seen in many of our homes during the holidays season.

And speaking of Hobby, Mona Wendt, who is President this year, tells me the members voted for a beautification program on which they have already gotten a head start. We will all watch out for the results.

The Christmas Party for members of the Hobby Group will occur on December 17, and don't forget, there will be a gift exchange.

The Winngers never seem to run out of brothers. Now Leon is here for a visit, staying with the elder Winngers, and going fishing with Marvin in Doc Priskie's boat. I hear that Leon realized the dream of a lifetime last Thursday when, with Marvin, Doc Priskie and Doc's nephew, Ralph Miller, he latched on to and brought in a 6 ft. 8 in. sailfish weighing 69½ pounds, after a tussle lasting 90 minutes. Naturally, Leon is having it mounted so he can take it back to Indianapolis as proof of his luck.

Doc and Kate Priskie have been entertaining Doc's brother Lyle and his wife Kay, in addition to his nephew, all of whom are from Milwaukee.

Celia and Ray Barr celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary, November 18th, one week before Jack and I celebrated our 30th.

Sheri Whitney also an instructor from IRCC, got all the artists in our Park enthused about painting again when she started classes last Wednesday morning. We brought samples of our work done under the guidance of Juanita Brouillette, so she could see how much we had already learned and could plan future lessons. We are really eager to continue under her tutelage.

Marvin Wininger has tremendous recuperative powers. he had surgery on four toes last week, but in two days he was up around and out fishing.

Remember Charlie and Dot Katz who spent several winters with us? Jane received a Christmas card from them from their home in Arizona. They sent greetings to all their friends in K. M. and enclosed a picture of their grandchildren.

THE PORT ST. LUCIE
MIRROR

VOL. 5 NO. 50 DECEMBER 11, 1974 10¢

HO HO: There is little doubt that 14 month old Trey Thofner was not pleased being cuddled by Santa Claus. The visit was short lived when Trey's mother Joni Thofner came to her rescue. Santa arrived at the Port St. Lucie Marina [illegible] to the children last Sunday afternoon.

Mayor requests volunteers

Charter revision committee is being organized

PORT ST. LUCIE—In a continuing effort to establish a closer relationship between the residents and their city government, a plea has been issued by the mayor for volunteers to serve on a charter revision committee.

The need for such a revision in the charter has been widely discussed within the past few months throughout the community.

In the past we have asked for volunteers to assist the city and we have had a very good response. May Larry Kimmel said at Tuesday's council meeting.

In making his plea for volunteers, Kimmel said, the entire council has accepted the assignment of soliciting qualified people and I feel the average citizen will consider it their duty and obligation to step forward."

The words were no sooner spoken when the first volunteer responded to the call.

I will be happy to assist the council in anyway possible in selecting such a committee," said Lee Johnson a resident of South Port.

If we can come up with the names of the people who qualify then I will be happy to convince them they should raise their hand to volunteer" Johnson added.

The Mayor did point out however, the committee would not be composed entirely of volunteers.

There will be some drafted members serving on the committee" he added.

It will be a big and time consuming job. We will appreciate any help we can get. Kimmel said, adding " occasionally we get help that doesn't help but then I think the council will be able to analyze that situation.

Announcing the need for the Charter Revision Bernard Rubin, city administrator said, "This committee should be appointed as soon as possible so they could start meeting in January 1975.

According to City Attorney Rupert Smith it is not necessary to have the Legislature approve the changes, but a referendum will have to be held on those changes.

After the Charter is re-written public hearings should be held in different parts of the City to explain the changes to the citizens.

Following these meetings a referendum election will be held at the time when a majority of the citizens can be expected to go to the polls." Rubin said.

It is the opinion of both the city administrator and the city attorney the committee should consist of eleven to thirteen members. In this was an article by article revision can take place with all members familiar with each change.

It has been suggested membership should be from as broad a spectrum as possible and include women as well as citizens of the community in the 25 to 45 year age range.

The city charter was originally written in 1961 and amended in 1963.

CONGRATULATIONS: Mayor Larry Kimmel extended his congratulations to President Clement A. Hramlets, Jr. on the opening of the new Port St. Lucie Bank. The bank opened the doors of the permanent facility last Sunday for the open house celebration. The bank official opened for business Monday morning at 9 a.m. following the ribbon cutting ceremonies.

Garbage is beautiful

PORT ST. LUCIE—Two additional appointments were made Tuesday to serve on sub-sections of the Zoning and Planning boards of the city.

Mayor Larry Kimmel announced the appointment of Vernon Farrar, 126 Thunderbird Terrace to the commercial and Recreation subsections of the planning and zoning committee.

The second appointment was that of Jack Nash, life a sanitary engineer who will serve on the sub-committee headed by Robert Jensen.

After the Mayor asked for the name of the sub-committee, Jensen furnished the words of waste management, landfill and health said. For the time being, Mayor, the word garbage is beautiful.

When the laughter subsided, everyone agreed a proper name would be forthcoming in the near future.

UMW to install

PORT ST. LUCIE—The United Methodist Women of the Port St. Lucie United Methodist Church will meet on Wednesday, Dec. 18 at 7 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall on Peima Vista Boulevard.

Officers for the coming year will be installed and there will be a Christmas program.

The executive board will meet in the Fellowship Hall at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 16. All officers elect are asked to attend and meet with the installed officers.

Hospital proposal is outlined for Council

PORT ST. LUCIE—Those residents of [illegible] interested in becoming [illegible] of the Port Pierce Hospital [illegible] will have the opportunity [illegible] Wednesday, tonight, according [illegible] Vaughn Lewis.

Lewis, chairman of the Hospital Association will be here tonight at 7:30 p.m. on the [illegible] Junior High School. According to [illegible] all you have to do to become a [illegible] is pay $5 at the door and sign [illegible].

Lewis gave a detailed report of the [illegible] and it's problems before the council meeting.

According to Lewis, the Hospital Corporation of America will present a [illegible] to the association during the [illegible] meeting.

Outlining the proposal Lewis said [illegible] will raise the present hospital [illegible] Memorial upon completion of the new unit and they have stated the completion date of such [illegible] as being within three [illegible].

[illegible] will build a 200 bed hospital [illegible] the beds as a possibility [illegible].

[illegible] will employ all staff [illegible] the present hospital after [illegible] the new building.

[illegible] continue the present [illegible] plan as far as the [illegible] concerned to protect their [illegible].

[illegible] will continue the present [illegible] fund subsidy that is used to [illegible] local service.

[illegible] budget patient subsidy [illegible] county commission will also [illegible] which Lewis believes [illegible] $40,000 per month.

[illegible] organize a local advisory [illegible] to Lewis report the [illegible] will be allowed to [illegible] percent cover medicare [illegible] hospital has had to operate [illegible] percent of medicare cost.

[illegible] corporation of America [illegible] also agreed to lease or purchase the [illegible] equipment in the present hospital.

The estimated cost of the 200 bed unit is $12 million.

The current certificate of need provides for 200 beds in St. Lucie county, said Lewis.

This Lewis said, is where the [illegible] comes in terms of anything which happens in this county. They already have 200 beds and they are all filled as well as the beds on both Martin and Indian River Counties.

This certificate applies to all of St. Lucie County and has been reviewed for [illegible] days. Lewis added, admitting he did not know when that 30 days had started.

At this point Councilman William McCluney said the planning and rezoning committee has received a Hill Burton report in which Pierce estimated a need for a 176 bed per 1,000 population.

This would indicate a need in St. Lucie County, with the current population figures of 88 beds, he said.

As zoning and planning committee are currently working with two groups who are interested in building a hospital as well as professional building space, McCluney said.

At this point I am not at liberty to elaborate on it too much, except that they do have the money and are currently working on the certificate of need, by State a definite need for a hospital in our area," he added, pointing out that when he spoke of hospital needs for the area he was referring to the area from White City south including the Jensen Beach and Hutchinson Island area.

According to McCluney, these groups are interested in 100 to 150 beds and professional building space of approximately 30,000 sq. ft. Both of these units would be constructed in such a way that they would be expandable.

This is the type of facilities we need, and we will certainly encourage both of these groups to push forward on this," McCluney concluded.

Yule program at PSL Methodist

PORT ST. LUCIE—Sunday Dec. 22, has been chosen as the date for the annual Christmas program of the chancel choir of the Port St. Lucie United Methodist Church in their new sanctuary.

Born a King" a Christmas cantata by John W. Peterson will be the featured number in the program. Soloists are Mrs. Ruth Gregg, soprano Mrs. Robert Ward alto Harlan Thorne tenor and Robert Ward, baritone.

Mrs. Gregg is the choir director in the local church and Mr. Thorne directs the choir in the PSL First Baptist Church. Mr. and Mrs. Ward are former choir members returning for this presentation.

Accompaniment will feature Mrs. O. H. Ensinger at the organ and Mrs. Elsie Kruse with the piano. Narration by Rev. P. Dean Brown will help the choir tell the story of the events taking place around the birth of Jesus. The impressive music in the cantata bears the usual professional touch of all John Peterson's productions.

The program is scheduled for 4 p.m. on Dec. 22 and a cordial invitation is extended to members, both of the local church and visitors from other congregations to attend and enjoy the happiest event in Christendom together.

MAIN SPEAKER: Frank Ryan, former Cleveland Browns quarterback and current Director for the Federal Energy Information Systems in Washington, D.C. addressed a State Government Seminar on data processing at the St. Lucie Hilton last week.

Second year

Schoonmaker clinches Star Championship

PORT ST. LUCIE—Miamian Sammy Schoonmaker, pilot of the local Bowl Yacht Club regatta's three (3) entries in the hotly contested Southern Star Championship on Star class sailboats held at the Club on the Lake Hilton Resort last weekend.

Schoonmaker, several times world, national, regional Star Racing titlist, piloted his Star Racing Attained to points enough to be the opening race and first in the second and final race.

The third race covered a triangular course almost ten miles long and almost ended in a dead heat but Schoonmaker edged out another Miamian, Frank Zagarino to win by a few inches.

The win gave Schoonmaker a third win on the five events since General Develop ment's organization created the event in 1970.

The Lucie were run on the picturesque north fork of the St. Lucie River opposite the resort.

Placing second in overall competition was Frank Zagarino former Southern Star and Bacardi Cup winner and his crewman Frank Eggers (also a resident of Bowl Yacht Club).

The Miamians gained 21 points placing consistently in second place in all three races.

Finishing up the competition was the third place winner Dave Oberg of Westmont, New Jersey and his crewman Dave Torok of Mt. Jean, Virginia with 38 points.

Oberg was the decisive winner in the first race but slipped to fourth in both the second and third races.

The Southern Star Championship is the second leg of South Florida's famed Triple Crown of Star Class Sail Boat Racing. The other events on the circuit are the Ryder and Bacardi Cup races held in Miami.

Former Executive world champion Larry Lee architect of Miami served as chairman of the race committee.

In addition to the excellent sailing and boating facilities, the St. Lucie Hilton Resort is the home of national and state events including the LPG, Women's Golf Classic and the Mixed Doubles Tennis Invitational.

Roberts, Woods lead lady golfers

PORT ST. LUCIE—The coldest day of the year did not prevent sixty two ladies golfers from competing in last weeks low gross and low net in Flights play.

Scoring top honors in the Port St. Lucie Ladies Golf Association on Dec. 3 were Pearl Roberts, low gross 89 and Ruth Wood with a low net of 75.

Other winners were as follows:

Seventh Flight: Vereen Kelly and Suzanne Lyng for low gross with Angelo LaBrutton with a 76.

Eighth Flight: Mary Kuhn low gross of 107 and Marion Cole with a low net of 82.

Ninth Flight: Arlene Spicka low gross and Betty Pink with low net of 79.

Tenth Flight: Mimi Lamond and Tanner tied for low gross with low net in this flight.

Eleventh Flight: Doris Harvey low gross and Gladys Van Hulle with low net of 78.

Seventh Flight: Fannie Brodie had low for low gross and Sara Laufer a 78 for low net.

Eighth Flight: Helen Woll low gross of 107 and Bea Jahr low net of 79.

Ninth Flight: Grace VanNostrand low gross of 115 and a tie between Inez Bowman and Flora Kimmel for low net with 80.

Tenth Flight: Violet Remington low gross of 111 and Rose Soetje with low net of 78.

Involve members

CHAMBER PRESIDENT–Art Hansen, left, was installed as president of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce. Frank Wacha was the installing officer.

Working chamber is new president's goal

JENSEN BEACH–Newly elected Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce president wants to involve chamber members in community activities in 1975.

"I feel very strongly about chamber members being involved in chamber projects, committee work and community activities," Art Hansen said.

The previous board made a lot of progress," Hansen said, "and we can build on this progress."

Hansen noted some of the activities of the past year and mentioned some chamber workers that were leaders in the projects.

Al Tomaszewski did a great job with the turtle watch and Ernie Baker headed the very successful art show, and Mary Killer did an outstanding job on the Christmas program," Hansen said.

"This is an example of people working to serve the community. There were a lot more people involved in activities.

"We want to carry this type of activity forward in the new year."

Some projects for 1975 were outlined by the chamber president who was installed at the annual dinner meeting last week.

"One of the main things we have to do is increase our membership to include all businessmen and individuals."

Hansen said that director Mrs. Jacqueline Hall will be the chairman of the Membership Committee.

"And we must give early attention to preparation for the Sysentennial celebration," Hansen said.

"This is an area in which we should involve all organizations and many individuals to make this a real celebration."

"In my opinion, the chamber is not a governmental organization, but should let the people of the community know what is happening in government."

The commissioner has indicated that he would like to have the chamber give him information on what the people are thinking.

Noting that Florida Institute of Technology is the largest employer in the area, Hansen said that Dean Ernest Tealey would head a committee which would pursue the goal of creating the college community image in the area.

"The college with an enrollment of 600 students, means a great deal to the community," the new president said.

PTA membership reaches 100 percent

JENSEN BEACH–The community [illegible] PTA of Jensen Beach [illegible] School has received more [illegible] for its outstanding work.

PTA President Mrs. Barbara Hendry has been notified that the organization has achieved 100 per cent membership.

In a letter from the Florida Congress of Parents and Teachers, Inc., Joanne [illegible], PTA membership chairman [illegible] Mrs. Hendry.

"May I offer my sincere congratulations on this outstanding achievement," the letter said. "Your membership chairman, Carol Stoddard, officers, principal, board members, faculty and all your members has successfully proven what mutual goals and cooperation can do to achieve success.

"Your 100 per cent membership is the first one I have received for District 13."

The membership certificate has been mailed to Leo Schwack, district president of West Palm Beach.

Principal Dale Clark said the school received tremendous support from the PTA and the entire community.

The girls' PTA are pleased, and I'm pleased with the honor," Clark said.

Tax question is answered

STUART–Martin countians cannot take income tax deductions for their 1974 property taxes, according to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

IRS notified the County Commission Tuesday that the law permits real estate taxes for cash basis taxpayer to be deducted only in the year in which they are paid.

Martin County tax bills won't be mailed until 1975 because of delays in completing the tax roll.

The Mirror out on Christmas

JENSEN BEACH–The Mirror will be released on newsstands and in those stores that are open on Wednesday and be delivered in mails Thursday morning for the Christmas and New Year editions.

Holiday schedule

JENSEN BEACH–The holiday schedule for all Martin County offices were announced by administrator Jack Sobel.

All county offices will be closed Christmas and New Year's day and will be closed half day on Tuesday, Dec. 24 and Tuesday, Dec. 31.

Seek maximum

County schools lose a million

BY DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH–Over a million dollars would be lost in the Martin County School System in the coming year by one of the recently passed millage rollback bill, according to Ros[illegible] District one school board member and Charlie Helmer, school district finance officer.

Speaking recently to the Jensen Beach Kiwanis Club, Becky outlined the problems faced by the schools and opened the meeting over to Helmer for an explanation of financing.

The financing left Kiwanians shaking their heads in confusion for according to Helmer, there is no simple way to tell this story.

In the long and involved explanation of computations by intricate formulae Helmer said that the school system even using the maximum fifteen percent increase allowed by the millage rollback bill would lose over a million dollars.

The loss was based on the fact that while county revenue is based on a contemplated 6.335 mill levy, the state figures are based upon eight mills. Thus, from a gross figure of income of $[illegible] under eight mills only $6,[illegible] would be available under the projected 6.3[illegible] mills that would be required under law.

Becky said that the school board did not feel it could challenge the constitutionality of the millage rollback law due to unfavorable publicity, but added. The Martin County School System is in for difficult times."

He added that the loss would probably be felt in the new million dollar center county elementary school and in air-conditioning for some schools that need it.

Becky said that the schools faced increased costs through a ten percent increase of teacher salaries, adding "we are handling out more and more dollars due to greater costs."

Helmer's figures were based on the proposed budget approved last summer before the new assessment figures were released and before the millage rollback bill was passed. He did not mention areas of possible cuts in administration figures, but rather said that the loss in funds would be made up from funds earmarked previously for capital expenditures.

WINNAWARD–Al Palmer, right, of Jensen Beach was awarded the Coastal Club's citizen of the year plaque. Presenting the award at last week's club meeting is Dwight Geiger, club president.

Wacha demands millage rollback

JENSEN BEACH–Refusal of the Martin County Commission and the Martin County School Board to cut back expenditures to meet the requirements of the millage rollback bill was hit this week by Frank Wacha, former Jensen Beach County Commissioner.

Continuing to attack the proposed increases of both boards for the year, Wacha sent a letter to Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick in which he expressed disappointment in not hearing a loud, definative voice saying, "Yes, voters, we heard your mandate on November 5, 1974, and we intend to cut our budget."

Wacha, who is a certified public accountant, computed the decrease in the budget and copied the commission and school board with the information in letters.

Wacha also hit at "pet projects" of the commission, such as "handing money for the St. Lucie Inlet project," while not providing for ambulance service.

The former commission chairman said he was also critical of the county and school board for continuing to try to operate under proposed budgets without cutting programs.

The school board hasn't cut a thing but is trying to use money that is needed for and set aside for another elementary school rather than cut back as demanded by the people in voting for the millage rollback bill," Wacha told The Mirror Tuesday.

"I believe that the people have mandated less spending not taking the money from elsewhere and then the next year saying to the people 'See we told you that we were in trouble'."

Wacha said that no one spoke against the millage rollback bill from either the county or school board, feeling that it was not politically expedient. He added that the school board's tentative budget was set based upon last years assessments, yet all comparisons this year are based on the new and higher assessments.

Under Wacha's computations, the county commission would have to reduce its budget by $615,000 to keep in line with the millage rollback bill, and the school board would have to reduce by over a million dollars.

Al Palmer is honored as 'Citizen of the Year'

[illegible] (the chairman of the Martin County chapter of the American Red Cross was named the 1974 citizen of the year by the Coastal Club of Hobe Sound.

Al Palmer of Jensen Beach was presented the award at the club's Thursday meeting at Hobe Sound restaurant.

Awards chairman Dr. James Harrell presented the award to Palmer. County Judge Dwight Geiger is club president.

Former Martin County Judge Marion Johnson introduced former recipients of the award, including Harvey Peterson and Capt. Francis Adams.

Each club gives the award annually to a Martin County resident, who by his contribution to the community has shown himself to be an outstanding citizen.

Palmer has been with the Red Cross [illegible] years.

Trinity United Methodist Church celebrates 14th

JENSEN BEACH–On [illegible] December 1 Trinity United Methodist Church in Jensen Beach was 14 years old. The church marked the occasion with a church wide family fellowship supper. Ninety-eight were in attendance.

The annual birthday of such an occasion were observed with everyone bringing a covered dish of food and sharing with each other their dietary specialties. After the supper there was a moment of recognition of all the charter members who were present. This was accomplished by a cutting of the anniversary cake by Mrs. Elizabeth Holme and Mrs. Ruth Tomasek.

The program following supper included songs by the children's choir conducted by Mrs. Martha Thompson, a solo recitation by Mrs. Myrtle Peters and Mrs. Nellie Peterson and a poem by Mrs. Nellie Peterson celebrating the fact that at 81 she can still stand up and wash the dishes.

The evening event was crowned a slide program with musical soundtrack accompaniment entitled, "I Believe." This was prepared and presented by Don Wright of Orlando, Florida.

The closing prayer and benediction were led by the minister, Rev. Jr. Clark Thompson.

Jensen Beach Christmas service

JENSEN BEACH–Carols, candles, Worship in Motion will highlight the special Christmas Eve service at the Jensen Beach Community Church.

The program will start at 7:15 p.m. with Averett Grace at the console playing carols. At 7:30 the church's three pastors, Donald Johnson, Norman Kehrli and William Kincaid will join together on "What Shall We Give to Each Other."

Don Carpp will sing "Ave Maria."

Worship in Motion will feature Dora Thurston, Tamara Kincaid and Ralph Clark interpreting two original songs written and choreographed by Miss Thurston. "Come See the Child" and "Love Around and See."

The church's three choirs will be on hand to lead the congregation in carol singing.

Everyone is cordially invited. The Jensen Beach Community Church is located on Skyline Drive.

Trinity services

JENSEN BEACH–Trinity United Methodist Church, 140 Arch Street in Jensen Beach, will observe two special services to mark the Christmas season. First on Christmas Sunday at 7:30 p.m. there will be a candle-lighting service. This will include the children's program.

Then on Christmas Eve at 7:30 p.m. there will be an observance of the Lord's Supper or Holy Communion. Everyone is invited to share in these times as a part of their personal or family celebration of Christmas.

Post Office seeks mailer

JENSEN BEACH–Someone didn't put an address label on a package too well, and the Jensen Beach Post Office is looking for that person.

An insured package mailed in the Jensen Post Office on November 27 was returned for an address after the address label fell off in transit.

The box is a carton that once carried Westinghouse light bulbs, tied with a white string and sealed with brown tape. The box is 20 by 10 by six inches. It was insured for $25, and the insurance number is 52979.

Postmaster Harold Sattler would like to find the person who mailed.

Sheraton Inn to reopen Friday

JENSEN BEACH–Foreclosure proceedings have been filed against Sheraton Inn on Hutchinson Island, and the resort inn will be opened under receivership Friday, it was announced Tuesday.

Paul Hennings, president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Martin County, said his firm holds first mortgage on the property.

Hennings explained that since First Federal holds first mortgage and the payments were not made on the mortgage foreclosure proceedings were filed in court.

Hennings said that Ernest Albert would manage the hotel under his direction as receiver.

House and Garden Tour' date is set

ST. ART—At the December meeting of the Garden Club of Stuart, Mrs. James Saxton announced the "House and Garden Tour" will be held on Sunday, Feb. 23, from 1 to 5 p.m. Mrs. W. Graham and Mrs. Harold C. Hoch are co-chairmen for the event.

Eight new members were welcomed into the club by Mrs. Edward Neail, second vice-president. They are the Mesdames William Adamak, R. J. Coppell, W. F. Fahnstock, Howard B. Finch, John R. Murdock, John E. Partridge, Ivy Jean Rosaini and Neal Wise.

Mrs. Robert Cumming of Fort Pierce was guest speaker, introduced by Mrs. Paul Kopejzna, publicity chairman. well-known in garden club circles, Mrs. Cumming's topic was "Christmas Wonder Through the House."

She had on display eighteen arrangements, including two front door swags and appropriate arrangements for every room in the house. She explained what materials were used and how the arrangements were made.

Mrs. Saxton presented Mrs. Cumming with the book "500 Plants of South Florida" in appreciation for the timely and interesting program.

Tea hostesses were the Mesdames Roy Friel, chairman, Anthony Gaita, Charles Jaap, Frederick Lord, Roger Schneider, and John Upstill. Welcoming hostesses were Mrs. Fred Orman and Mrs. Edward Rogers.

President Saxton informed the members that the Club won the $50 attendance prize at the 1974 Mirrow Cooking Show. The Jensen Mirror presents the award annually to the organization having the greatest number of members registered at the show.

Center expansion

ST. ART—The Tri-County Occupational Center (formerly the Pioneer Occupational Center) on U.S. 1 south of Stuart was reorganized last May, and plans for developing its physical plant and services in the near future.

Showing an architect's drawing of future building plans, and touring the property, business manager James Fox noted that the center could become 50 per cent self-supporting in the future.

There is grant money available, but we haven't been able to raise local matching funds," he said.

There are five basic areas of training by a professional staff at the center, including hotel-motel, food service, horticulture, ceramics and driving classes.

Expanded horticulture work could bring in additional revenue, he explained.

The center serves the mentally and physically handicapped in Martin, St. Lucie and Indian River Counties.

Getting funds for the center occupies some of the time by the staff, including acting executive director K. Van Lawyer.

While the center gets about 22 per cent of its $196,374 budget from the state, the business manager notes that compared to the state's Sunland Center for retarded, it gets less than 60 cents per trainee per day. Sunland gets about $30 a year for each trainee, he said.

"Our big problem is that we are not getting funds from the Division of Rehabilitation," Fox said.

While a majority of the trainees are from Martin County, 15 are from St. Lucie County and 11 are from Indian River County, the business manager noted.

Martin and Indian River counties contribute to the center, but Fox said that St. Lucie County doesn't contribute any money. "St. Lucie County is known for not helping institutions outside the county," he said.

The number of trainees is now 47, and it was pointed out that the number is expected to double by next July.

CENTER WORK—Tri-County Occupational Center business manager James Fox shows some of the work being done by the trainees at the center.

WBA tourney coming up

JENSEN BEACH—Martin County Woman's Bowling Association announced last week that the 6th Annual Championship Tournament will be held February 22 and 23. Teams and March 1 and 2. Doubles and Singles.

Deadline for entering the tournament is January 20. Early entries get preference on dates and times, so signing up immediately is suggested.

Any five members of the WCWBA can get together and form a team to enter. members need not be confined to the league in which the girls bowl. Bowlers may enter the team event two times but only once in the doubles and singles. The entry fee for team events if $4.25 per bowler. Doubles and singles fee per bowler is $8.50. All events is optional with $1.00 fee for scratch and $1.00 for handicap.

Kitty Axton, tournament secretary, said, "We had 40 teams in last year's tournament. let's have a good representation from all the leagues this year and make it 60 teams. That would give us a full house for all three squad times for teams.

All league secretaries have entry forms and Mrs. Axton is at the lanes on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Bafalis bumps-grinds into ways and means

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Rep. L.A. "Skip" Bafalis, R-Fla., a recognized leader in the effort to bring federal spending under control, won tentative appointment to the powerful tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

Bafalis was appointment to the committee on Committees (the body which decides which GOP Congressmen will sit on what committees). However, the appointment won't become official until January when the full committee on Committees meets to organize after the start of the 94th Congress.

Scouts support house drive

STUART—Dean Roy, representing Boy Scout Troop 815, presented a check for $26 to Paul G. Hennings, president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Martin County as Troop 815's contribution to the Save the House of Refuge Fund.

Troop 815 was the only scout troop to participate in the First Annual Martin County Home Show last month. The scouts sold tickets for a car wash at the Home Show and washed cars November 16th thus earning the money to be presented to the Save the House of Refuge Fund. Dean Roy was selected to make the presentation to Mr. Hennings.

Sponsored by the First United Presbyterian Church, the troop is headquartered in North River Shores where most of the scouts live. Troopmaster is Ron Snowden and Senior Patrol Leader is David Onufrey.

The Save the House of Refuge Fund was inaugurated by First of Martin County earlier this year in an effort to raise funds to restore Martin County's only recognized historical landmark. The House of Refuge is 99 years old and it is anticipated that the restoration will be complete next year in time for its 100th anniversary.

Total cost of the restoration of the House of Refuge is estimated at $100,000. Approximately $25,000 has been raised in cash and services which will be matched by Federal funds. The donation by Troop 815 therefore represents double the actual amount contributed.

All other persons wishing to make a tax deductible donation to the Save the House of Refuge Fund may do so by making them to Fund Office Box 389 Stuart, Florida 33494.

Rio kids Christmas party is Saturday

RIO—Children living in Rio up to 12 years of age are invited to the Rio Civic Club's Christmas party on Saturday, Dec. 21, at 2 p.m.

At the Club's meeting on December 12 the following officers were elected and installed by Past President Alexander Wilson.

John Jacobs, vice president; Mrs. Kathleen Spencer, treasurer and corresponding secretary; Mrs. Marjorie Hunting, recording secretary; Mrs. Val Manwaring, Mrs. Hazel Morris and Mrs. Bess Hunter directors.

Joseph Forsberg was installed as president by proxy due to his illness.

Vice president John Jacobs conducted the meeting in the absence of Forsberg. Two deaths were reported, Prescott Brown and Mrs. Lillie Walker. Mrs. Walker was a charter member of the club. She helped to organize it and helped in building the clubhouse.

Fire Department elects officers

RIO—The Rio Volunteer Fire Department held its annual election of officers on Wednesday, Dec. 11.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: William Gross Fire Chief, Kenneth Klager, Asst. Fire Chief, John Kovarik, Captain, Robert Hopping, Lieutenant, Richard Franks, Secretary, Harold Ott, Treasurer.

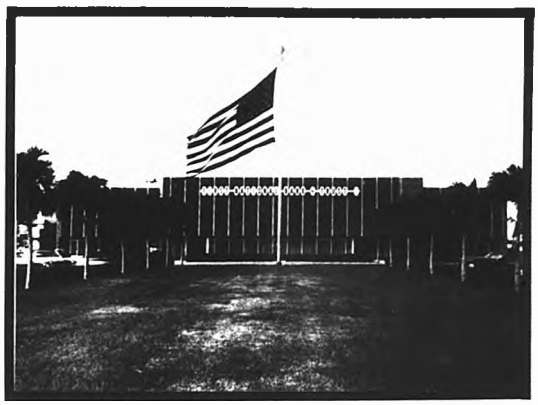
PEOPLE THINK WE'RE THE OLDEST AND LARGEST BANK IN MARTIN COUNTY.



THEY'RE RIGHT!

Back in 1933, when First National got started, we were the only bank in Martin County. We offered the community the essential financial services needed to promote a healthy, local economy. But the services we offered then, as compared to those available today, were pretty primitive. First National has always been the banking leader in Martin County, especially when introducing new and innovative services for our customers. And, our customers loyalty is why we're the largest bank in Martin County. Stop by the bank that grew up with Martin County, soon and see what people are talking about. First National, a truly complete, quick and convenient place to handle all your bank affairs.

Fishing tourney is under way

FORT PIERCE—The sixth annual Fort Pierce Fishing Tournament is underway and runs through April 15. The tournament is sponsored each year by the Chamber of Commerce for the enjoyment of winter visitors for the purpose of publicizing Fort Pierce's great sportfishing.

This tournament is expected to be the finest ever according to chairman Edward Enns. As in the past, there will be three top awards of trophies, which will go for the outstanding overall catch, the largest sailfish and the outstanding catch by a youth 12 years or younger. Handsome wall plaques will go for the top catches among 27 species of fish.

Colorful embroidered shoulder patches will be awarded for every catch above the citation weight for each specie. A citation patch will also be presented as a special sportsmanship award for each sailfish release. And every entry, regardless of size, receives an attractive certificate suitable for framing.

Anyone can enter the tournament, including local anglers, according to Enns. There is no entry fee or pre-registration required. All the angler has to do is take his catch to one of the 12 official weighing stations located in and around Fort Pierce. Entries must be caught within St. Lucie County or from a boat sailing from Fort Pierce and returning the same day.

Official weighing stations are: Al's Tackle Shop, Bill Parker's Bait & Tackle Shop Fort Pierce City Marina, Miss Fort Pierce Party Boat, North Bridge Fish Camp, Pelican Yacht Club, Savanna Recreation Area, Seaway Bait and Tackle, St. Lucie Country Club Marina, Sportsman Center, Summerlin's Baywood Fishery and White's Tackle Shop.

The tournament committee is particularly interested in having out of town visitors enter their catches. Enns said. He urged all accomodations owners and managers and others who come in contact with winter visitors to encourage them to enter the tournament. The Chamber sends news releases and photos to the hometown news media of out of town visitors who enter their catches.

Obituaries

CARLE McCLINTIC

JENSEN BEACH—Carle McClintic, 62, of 113 First Street, Jensen Beach, died Sunday, December 15, at the Stuart Convalescent Center. A native of Hope, Indiana, he moved to this area several months ago.

Mr. McClintic is survived by his daughter, Miss Nancy McClintic of Stuart.

Arrangements are under the direction of the Adcock Funeral Home in Stuart.

ARTHUR A. TRINKA

JENSEN BEACH—Arthur A. Trinka, 68, of 128 Sandra Drive, Jensen Beach, died Sunday, December 15, at the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Md.

A native of New York City, he had been a resident of this area for five years coming from Rye, Port N.Y. Prior to his retirement he was with the York Corporation as a refrigeration engineer for 40 years. He was a member of Steam Fitters Local 638, Suwassett Chapter 190 A.M. and the Clement Hunt Lodge No. 838 F&AM, all in New York.

He is survived by his widow Dorothy, Jensen Beach; one sister, Mrs. Bennett Tribben, Roslyn, N.Y. and one nephew.

Services were held Tuesday at the Adcock Funeral Home Chapel, Jensen Beach, with the Reverend Donald E. Johnson, pastor of the Jensen Beach Community Church, officiating. Interment was in All Saint's Cemetery.

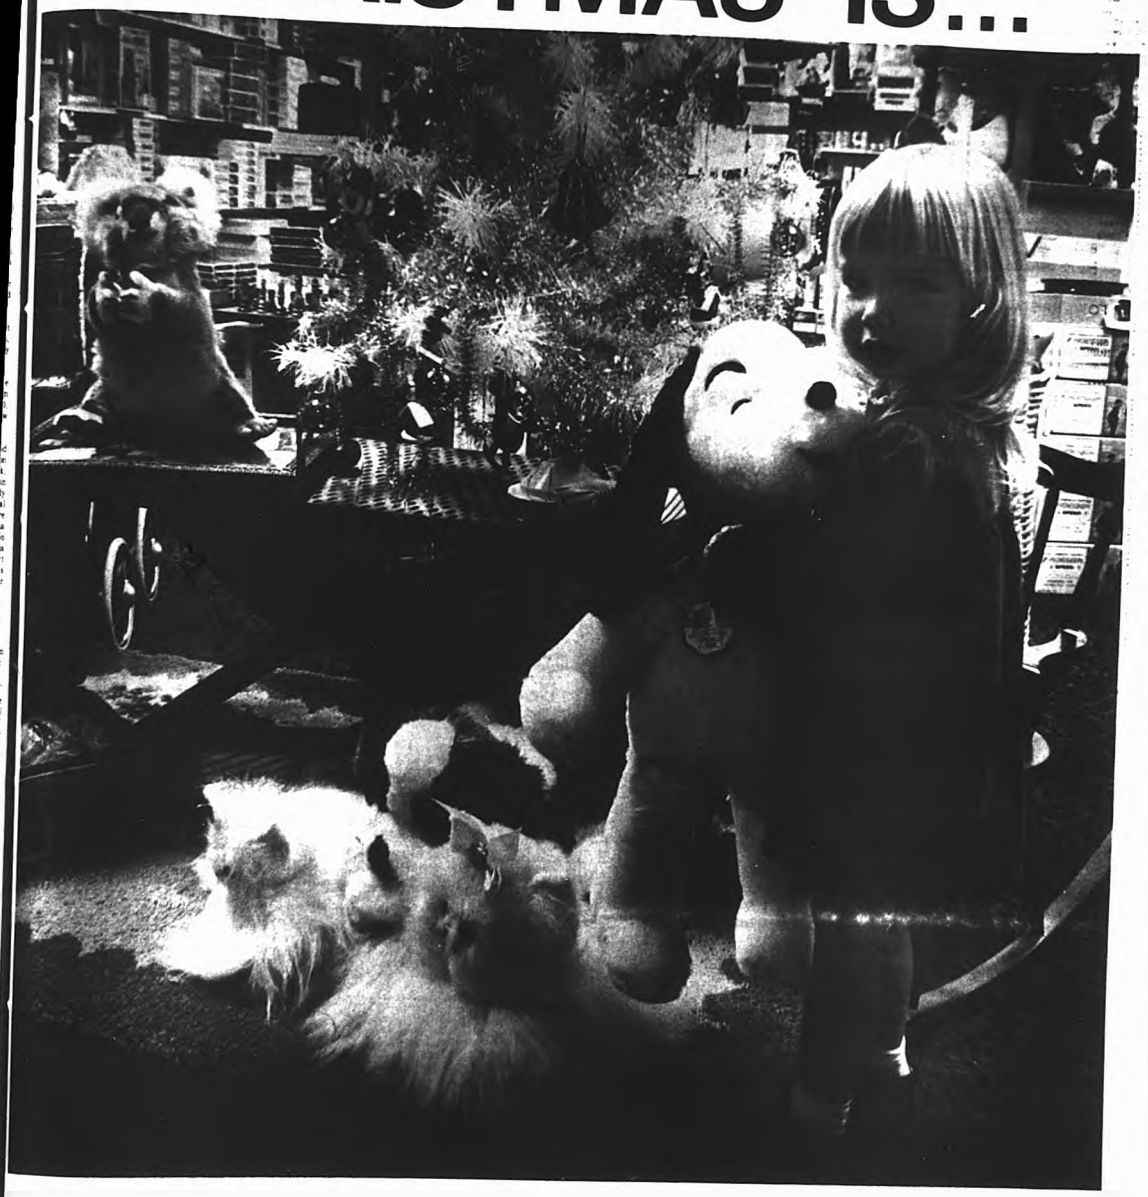
WILLIAM T. DOWNEY

JENSEN BEACH—William T. Downey, 76, formerly of Ocean Breeze Park, died December 10 in Largo, Florida. He had been a resident of Ocean Breeze since 1965, coming from Glen Spey, New York.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Wheeling of Largo, Mrs. Helen Rafferty, Wakefield, Mass., and Mrs. Mildred White, Stoneham, Mass., nine grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Marie Rhoades of Ocean Breeze.

Services were held last Friday at Yates Jensen Beach Chapel with Reverend Milton Fronnoe Sr., of the Jensen Beach Christian Church, officiating. Burial was in All Saint's Cemetery.

CHRISTMAS IS...



JOY!

Christmas is supposed to be a time of joy, for adults as well as children. But, too often, the hectic hulabaloo known as "Christmas Shopping" takes all the jolity out of the season.

The hustle and bustle, traffic, scarcity of parking, shortage of clerks to wait on you, shortage of temper in those who do wait on you, the standing in line for wrapping — all add up to a dismal scene, worthy only of Ebenezer Scrooge.

As this holiday season rapidly nears its climax, we have a suggestion and a wish for you. We suggest that you put the Ocean East Mall at the head of your shopping list. There's plenty of parking, (except, perhaps, Christmas Eve day when even our huge parking lot has been taxed to its limits) a variety of stores (30 under one roof) in which you are sure to find something for everyone on your list.

Most of all you'll find helpful, friendly people throughout the Mall — on both sides of the counters. People you know, and who want to make your shopping easy and enjoyable. Owners, managers and employees who wish you a very merry Christmas.

OCEAN EAST

IT'S MORE THAN A MALL.

EAST OCEAN BLVD. STUART, FLORIDA

Surprise golden anniversary for William James'

Friends gathered in happy anticipation, waiting to say "Surprise" and "Happy Anniversary" to Mr. and Mrs. William James.

And it really was a surprise, according to Mrs. John Middleton. "You should have seen their faces!", she said as she described the surprise party she and her husband gave last Saturday in honor of the James' Golden Wedding Anniversary.

SURPRISE PARTY—Mr. and Mrs. William James, Jensen Beach, were married December 24, 1924, in Camden, New Jersey. They were honored at a surprise party last Saturday, given by their friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Middleton of Rio.

The James' were wed on Christmas Eve, 1924, in Camden and moved to Jensen Beach two years ago from Pennshawken, New Jersey. They have a son, a daughter, and four grandchildren, all of whom live in Pennshawken.

Before his retirement, James was a Merchant Marine Captain with the Army Corps of Engineers.

Guests at the festive occasion included:

Mr. and Mrs. John Middleton, Jr. and children John III and Patty of Juno Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rincon and son Todd of North Palm Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nield and children Mark, Tommy and Leighann of Sewall's Point.

Miss Agnes Maloney of Chestnut Hill, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGrath of Stuart.

Miss Violet Pohlsen and Mrs. Mabel West of Jensen Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kessler and Mr. and Mrs. John Stevens of Rio.

Sailfish Squares dance

JENSEN BEACH—The Sailfish Squares will have an open club-level Christmas Party Dance on Friday, Dec. 20, at Tropical Acres Mobile Home Park on Route 723.

Jack Hosken will call, with Ed and Beula Janason on the rounds. The square dancing begins at 8 p.m.

Hostesses for the party are Anne Neinnion and Betty Hosken.

Another open dance is planned for Friday, Dec. 27, at Tropical Acres. All visiting square dancers in the area are welcome to attend.

Parade trophy winners announced

STUART—Girl Scout Troop No. 184 won the trophy for the float best depicting the theme "Christmas around the world" in the 14th annual Junior Woman's Club Christmas parade.

The first place grand trophy for the best overall float went to St. Joseph's School, second to Port Salerno Elementary school, and third to Montessori School of Stuart.

Jensen Beach Elementary gymnastics took first place honors for the marching drill unit.

Cub Scout Pack No. 801 won the trophy "to keep Christ in Christmas" theme.

Trophies were donated by the area banks.

Work program for prisoners

STUART—Martin County commissioners were asked Tuesday to consider using prisoners to clean up the beaches and roadways.

John Heyburn of Jensen Beach asked the commissioners to consider the proposal at their next work shop.

Heyburn said he believed some jail prisoners would rather be working than just sitting in their cells.

THIS WEEKEND—The last performances of The Barn Theatre mystery thriller "Count Dracula" will be this Friday and Saturday night with curtain time at 8:30 p.m. For ticket information and reservations call 287-0678. Above in Act I are left to right: Jonathan (Jim Wheelus), Mina (Bette Ann Hosmanitz), Dr. Seward (Roger Conant) and Sybil (Carolyn Fitzgerald).

Fire safety tips listed by chief

JENSEN BEACH--Jensen Beach Fire Department Chief Randolph Spinney urges careful attention to fire safety during the holiday season.

Chief Spinney recommends fire safety tips for Christmas trees, lighting decorations, etc. His recommendations include:

TREE--Select a firm, fresh one and place it at once in a cool location with its base in water.

Before setting it up, cut about an inch off the base at an angle to help the tree absorb water, then place the tree in a sturdy stand containing water. Check the water level daily to be sure the cut is immersed.

Place tree away from exits and heat, especially doors, fireplaces and open flames.

Take down as soon as possible. The more the tree dries out, the more of a fire hazard it becomes.

LIGHTING--Never use lighted candles on a tree or near any evergreen decorations.

Candles used in any manner should never be left unattended.

-If electric light sets are used, check closely for worn insulation, broken plugs, loose bulb sockets. Insulation may break down or become frayed or brittle due to age or extremes in temperature where lights are stored in attics or outside buildings. Use only sets with the UL or CSA (Canadian Standards Association) label.

-Use extension cords sparingly. Don't overload outlets or circuits.

-Avoid shock hazards. Never hang lights on metallic artifical trees.

-Turn off all indoor tree and decorative lights when leaving home or retiring for the night.

-Outdoor lights should have special wiring.

DECORATIONS--Use flame-retardant or non-combustible materials such as glass and asbestos.

Keep natural evergreens and polystyrene foam away from candles, fireplaces and other open flames.

Be sure costumes and masks such as Santa suits and whiskers and children's pageant outfits are flame-proofed. Although a permanent or commercial treatment to make fabrics flame retardant is more desirable, it is possible to flameproof cotton fabrics particularly costumes for children with a temporary solution. Fabics should be saturated with a solution consisting of 8 ounces of borax, 5 ounces of boric acid and 2 quarts of water and then allowed to dry. If the garments are dampened by rain or washed, the fire retardancy is lost.

WRAPPINGS--When opening gifts, place wrappings in covered trash containers. Never burn wrappings, cartons, et. in the fireplace because of flash flare-ups and noxious odors from toxic plastics.

GIFTS--Electric toys or gifts should carry a UL or CSA label.

Jim Hutchison donates to Animal Rescue drive

JENSEN BEACH--One more donation was added to the Animal Rescue League Fund Raising Drive Tuesday, when Sewall's Point artist Jim Hutchinson presented a check to Mrs. Northam Warren, area chairman for the Sewall's Point High Point Division.

Hutchinson is the country's foremost painter of the Seminole Indians and over the years the owner of three dogs adopted from the shelter.

"I feel that the work the Animal Rescue League is doing is very important in our county. Like everyone else, I am certainly aware of the high cost of living but I am sure that the people of Martin County will dig deeper to help the league reach their goal," the artist said.

He is currently at work on a series of paintings depicting the Seminole's life and culture for the Lowe Museum at the University of Miami. In addition Hutchinson is illustrating a book on the successful "Save Our Beaches" campaign.

Tuesday's presentation was made at the Hutchinson home on Sewall's Point Road.

Pose pretty, Gretchen...

PAWS BEST FRIEND--For the presentation of a check to the Animal Rescue League, Gretchen posed dutifully and her master Jim Hutchinson of Sewall's Point Road, made the serious presentation to Mrs. Northam Warren, area chairman. But, that's where it ended.

down, girl...DOWN!

THANKS, MASTER--And once the check was presented, Gretchen couldn't contain herself, and gave her master a kiss.

Inlet support

JENSEN BEACH--Continuation of the St. Lucie Inlet tax levy is urged by the Martin County Conservation Alliance.

Alliance member John McQuigg pointed out that the inlet generates $19 million worth of business annually in the county.

He said that the annual business results from $6.4 million in sales to 2,000 pleasure boat owners, $2 million in sales to 50 commercial fishermen and fish processors, $37,000 in sales to charter boats, $4.2 million in sales to charter boat customers, and $6.2 million in sales to the one third of the tourists who come to the county because of its ocean access.

McQuigg noted that the commission is looking for ways to cut the budget, but the inlet fund is not one place to cut it.

Sailfish tourney winners

JENSEN BEACH--The last entry in the Stuart Sailfish Club's 21st annual Light Tackle Sailfish Tournament took first place in the professional division.

Floyd Wideman of Rumson N.J. said 13 releases for the tournament to edge Sam Ebert of Lost Tree Village by one catch.

Ebert ties with the tournament six times.

Tournament director Ed Gluckler said Wideman was the last person to enter the tournament and the first to leave Sunday.

Wideman was fishing from his Frisky Lady, captained by Ben Degutis. Ebert made his catches from the Sandra Dee with Ben Collins, captain.

Robert J. Miller of Port Salerno took third place with nine releases from the Lady Margaret, with Captain Carl Williams.

R. L. Wentz of North Palm Beach won the amateur tournament with six releases from the Growler. Bud Eppinger captain. Mrs. Jesse Sharp of Boca Raton and Deanna Brown of Port St. Lucie had five releases each.

Twenty eight sails were released Sunday after a record setting total of 71 was caught Saturday.

The professionals released 14 sails in the tournament, and the amateurs 45. Only nine of the 69 boats entered in the tournament failed to catch a sailfish.

Presbyterians hold cornerstone ceremony

JENSEN BEACH--The congregation of the First Presbyterian Church held a cornerstone ceremony on Sunday, Dec. 8.

Estimated completion date for the church in North River Shores is Palm Sunday, 1975.

Articles and documents placed in the stone included a new English Bible, the Dec. 8 bulletin containing the order of service, the 1974-75 church directory, the 1973 stewardship brochure, containing photographs of staff and programs, and other items.

Heading the list in the building program is a new sanctuary which will seat 500. In addition, there will be an administration annex, housing two offices, choir room and restrooms.

There will be a new fellowship hall--the former sanctuary an enlarged and refitted kitchen, combined library and conference room, senior high class room. All buildings will be connected by covered walkways.

First Presbyterian Church was founded in 1926 and met for many years at the Women's Club, using a cottage on Osceola Street as a chapel.

The first sanctuary was built on Osceola Avenue at Illinois Street in 1948. It is now occupied by the Southern Methodist Church.

First Presbyterian Church moved to North River Shores in 1961 where it now occupies five and a half acres of land.

The club voted to pay CARE $60 for the period from July through December and voted $50 to assist the Optimist Club in forming a new basketball Little League.

News of Nettles Island

BY MAY TIFFT

Almost Christmas. And all indications are that it will be a merry one here at Nettles Island.

+ + +

Church was arranged for 8:30 a.m. on Sunday, Dec. 15th so that there could be a social hour with coffee before church service. It was thought that it would be nice to have people personally meet the Pastor L. C. Campbell. He always has to hurry away immediately after the 9 o'clock service to get to his own church at Stuart.

+ + +

Mabel and Doc Ackert left Dec. 4th for California to spend the holidays with their son and family. They are going by way of the Panama Canal, etc. Had a card from them this week and they say the boat and the trip so far surpasses their expectations. They were in the Bahamas at the time. They also sent word to the dieters here that it is no place for that.

+ + +

Ronald Gimmi and Beat Roost of Zond Switzerland arrived for a brief visit with their aunt, Mrs. Marianne Drive of lot 15. The young men have been on a trip around the world for 2½ years and have visited 41 countries. After traveling through the U.S. for two months they are spending some time in Florida before flying home from the Bahamas on Dec. 23rd. It was nice they could meet Esther and Herman Bender here who are also Swiss.

+ + +

Several ladies have had to return home because of illness of their Mothers. Two are Etta Creighton and Audrey Davis.

At our last dance, we had two nice surprises. Pierre and Marcelle Bissonette did a solo dance for us and Roy Anderson from Ft. Pierce and a friend o the band sang for us.

Both Don Stewart and Ed Stewart of Nettles Island Security Police have been in the Stuart Memorial Hospital.

+ + +

Theater in the Round held a meeting Dec. 10th. On Dec. 11th they presented their first efforts after pot luck dinner. It was anticipated and appreciated to the fullest by those present. The humorous skit was written by Cheri Ferti, president and entitled "Hair Today - Gone Tomorrow." The balding hero was played by Harold Leonard and his wife was Mildred Coyle. The barber was Carl Walter. When he got out the electric lawn clippers to cut one of his client's "Matt Vogel" hair, it was hysterical! Marlin Marquardt was the other client who livened up things with his remarks. The lines were funny and received the laughs intended because the actors and the actresses played their parts so well.

Wendell, Thelma and their Daughter Deanna Davis are here from Decatur, Ill. until sometime in April. They are on lot 81. Many of you have seen Deanna on her bike every day with her little dog getting regular exercise, which her parents say helps her a lot.

+ + +

Armond and Yvonne Burgue have returned from their home in New Hampshire. They arrived a few hours before the Saturday night dance which, of course, they attended and won the prize of the evening. Wish some of that luck would rub off on me.

Had a note from Dot Brown. She wrote that all the dear hearts and gentle people at Nettles Island had made an effort to comfort her and she does appreciate it. She plans to be coming down after the first of the year.

+ + +

George and Lillian Webster have been visiting the Mendels.

Phyllis and Don Vogel were recent guests of Matt and Lenora Vogel.

+ + +

Dec. 18th is the next Women's Club meeting. There will be a Christmas tree and each person is asked to bring a hand made decoration. We have seventy members now so it should be a beautiful tree. The husbands are invited and there are to be refreshments and Christmas carols. At the last meeting, Edith Avase arranged to have a "Show and Tell." The ladies brought their craft work and some antiques and told about them. At the present writing it cannot be reported about the Sat. Flea Market as my deadline date makes it impossible. However I will write about it later to whet your appetite as we plan another the first part of March. These are sponsored by the Women's Club.

Ruth Wicksey from Canada is back for another winter. With her are her son Wray and daughter Francie Holst and granddaughter Tammy Holst.

Harold and Ann Greenburg just arrived also. They said it was unbelievable how much it seemed like coming home to see so many friends.

Two new residents here (although they have owned their lot for a year) are Marni and Prentice Sanger from New England. They are already getting involved in activities which is nice for them and for us too.

Men's Club appears to be going great guns. They meet every week and the attendance is good. Seeing that I can't attend their meetings, I plan to ask one of the men to let us know what is going on of interest. They do sponsor a lot of the activities here and give generously of their time and proceeds.

+ + +

Quite a few members of the Women's Club went together to the Holiday Inn Fashion luncheon on Dec. 12th and enjoyed it.

Someone was telling me the other day about the youngest McGann boy seeing a man walking three dogs on a leash. The boy who is about 3 or 4 years old asked the man if all the dogs belonged to him. The reply was affirmative, whereupon the child cocked his head on one side, looked up and said, "That's too much dogs."

+ + +

This last week Pat Dee and Pat Kitchen assisted the Good Work Council of St. Martin's Church of Jensen Beach bring cheer to the residents of the Springlake Nursing Home. Hobe Sound. A Christmas party, complete with carol singing, gifts and refreshments were enjoyed. Both Pats said that they received more joy in doing it than what they gave. Isn't that one of the things that Christmas is all about?

+ + +

A grandson was born Dec. 11th to Mr. and Mrs. Burton Jones of lot 901. The new father is stationed at Patrick Air Force Base. The baby was born on the grandfather's birthday. How does one arrange things like that?

Saw that banjo pickin' Jim Frary today. He said that they had just arrived and that Etta is fine. He should know how many people here have been awaiting his arrival, especially Walter Avard — right Walter?

+ + +

It would be nice if all the Nettles Island owners who are not here could see the decorations around the trailers and in the rec hall, see the activity sheet and just be with us. Many returned to be with their families and some couldn't make it until after the first of the year. We miss them all.

+ + +

Christmas is the spirit of love, giving and sharing. May the spirit of Christmas be with you always.

Venture Out News Notes

BY THE PINCH HITTERS!

BY FRAN TENER

Janie and Lee Shaver have had visitors visiting first, their son Charles from Tennessee for two days and then granddaughter, Sharon Branch of Vero for a few days. They were able to see for themselves the improvement Lee has made since her recent stay.

+ + +

Speaking of visitors, have you seen the big white heron walking our seawall recently? For quite some time it perched at the very top of Smythe's Australian bush. Shades of a "heron in a pear tree" Seemed to be enjoying the view of our lawns from its vantage point.

Buck Painter has some tickets left for the New Year's Eve Bahama party so call him for yours. Hurry, hurry, hurry. Don't be left out of the festivities.

Betty Jones has been busy sewing. To the proof of it us in a glamorous new dress she has made for the season. We all want to learn to sew like that so have seen Betty's results.

Katherine and Hank Higgins celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary last week. Daughter Ann and her husband Mr. FitzHenry of Jensen Beach staged a surprise party for them at the Flame Restaurant of Holiday Inn. It was a surprise when the Higgins arrived and found family and friends gathered. Their granddaughter, Cathy, had attended with Michael Tranowski and with the arrangements to insure that the secret was well kept.

After dinner, a large delicious cake beautifully decorated was served. Hostess family gave her a huge corsage white orchid which looked beautiful against the pink print of her dress. Hank looked jaunty with his red carnation boutonniere. They joined the Anniversary Waltz while the family and friends applauded and it was a night for them to remember.

Claire and Helen Duncan eased out of the slip at 9 o'clock Thursday, for "Dune" had a feeling that this was the day. About five hours later, they returned with 70 fish, primarily trout caught just east of the Stuart Bridge. Nice going, Duncans. Friday, they only got 50.

Herb and Lou Clark, Corn Lee and Ward Irwin a kinfolk, arrived Thursday for a holiday in the Irwin home. Welcome aboard, neighbors.

+ + +

The communications gap between rec staff and lot owners could be eased by putting weekly programs in our mail boxes, which I am sure we each frequent daily.

The Christmas dress at the rec hall is lovely. How many of us exclaim: "How lovely with little or no thought or thanks to those who dressmed it up and did the work.

Our sickness & segment and thanks to Hazel and Walt Ramsey, Jean and Floyd Reynolds, Bernice and Clint Muschlit, Rose and Harry Corteh, Millie and Bill Middleton, Connie Jones, George Sterling, Bill Thompson, Thornton Cook, George and Emma Carpenter, and Myrtle Abrams.

Even cool winds would never keep the steadies out of our lovely pool if the water was warm.

+ + +

Bob and Ethel Stem and a sampling of children will arrive from Stroudsburg Pa. before Christmas. They are fine neighbors, so we are all delighted.

+ + +

Doris and Dan Day are expecting their daughter and son-in-law, and a newly adopted Korean grandchild on the 22nd. They'll hang their hats at Irwin's Holiday Inn Airstream, but Doris will be with Dan.

+ + +

Alice and Bill Sichau will be flying out of West Palm on the 19th to spend the holidays with daughter Valerie, her husband and two granddaughters at Oak Harbor, Washington.

Selma and Pal Brower left Indian River with their Airstream for Eustis to spend the holidays. May return soon, as they think V.O. is pretty special. We all agree they are also.

Christmas dinner reservations closed Dec. 22. Is your name down?

BY ROSE CURTH

This is the first time I am attempting to write a column like this, so please be patient with me. I am trying.

+ + +

If you had come along our street this week, you would have seen some very busy fellows digging dirt and pouring cement. There was Thurson Cook, George Sterling, Harry Curth, Andy Wilston and George Carpenter all enlarging their patios and driveways. Although Andy and George live in a different section, everybody was helping everybody else.

+ + +

A warm welcome back to Bill and Helen Van Der Beck.

Sorry to find out that one of our reporters, Ruth Balash, has been laid up for some time. She pulled or broke a cartilage in her left foot and will be on crutches for some time. We hope she'll be around soon again.

+ + +

Doctor and Marian Aaline left for Ft. Lauderdale the beginning of the week to be with her mother who had a stroke. Best wishes to her mother and we hope they will be back for Christmas.

+ + +

Another casualty. Chet Mushlit, lot 834, was trimming his palm tree out front and a splinter up and hit him in the eye. He had to go to emergency. He told me he can see out of two eyes again, but he promised he'll wear his motorcycle helmet next time he goes near that tree.

+ + +

John and Dot Barry, lot 833, will be going to Cape Coral to visit their daughter. Happy holiday to them.

+ + +

P.S. Just as I am finishing this I see Doctor and Marian Aaline arriving back, hopefully with good news about her mother.

+ + +

Last Thursday we were shown some beautiful movies in the rec hall. Too bad so few people came to see them.

JENSEN BEACH. More than 100 art works were exhibited in the December outdoor art show at the Elliott Museum under the sponsorship of the Jensen Beach Art League.

The event was open to all artists and drew many out of town exhibitors as well as local artists.

Mrs. Cathie Kelly won the best of show ribbon and $25 for her mixed media "Woodland Myth."

First place ribbons and $15 were awarded to Lizzie Kluger on "House of Refuge" and Dorthe Driscoll, watercolor, "Ano Latis, Greece."

Second place ribbons and $10 were awarded to Al Termini, oil, "Sea Refuge" and Trude Burns, graphic, "Five Rooms."

Third place ribbons went to Lois Savage, oil, "Red Clay Country" and Claudina Jenkins, watercolor, "Small Blooms."

Fourth place ribbons went to Eileen Hunter, oil, "Jupiter Light" and Trude Burns, graphic, "Pairs."

The winners received their awards and congratulations from Art League vice-president Stella Kenney.

Judges were Tom Prestopnik, art teacher at Murray Middle School and Tom Wetzl, art and drafting teacher at Martin County High School.

Homerule application questioned by attorney

PORT ST. LUCIE—An estimated 200 residents of the city were on hand Monday night at the CESA building to hear Attorney James Littman give his views and advice on the actions of the Port St. Lucie City Council.

Littman, who has been retained by the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie Inc., spoke at length on the broad application of the city charter, particularly the homerule section, as used by the council.

"I do feel this group is right in organizing to obtain corrective action from the council. It is the only way corrective measures will be taken when things have gone as far as they have," Littman said.

"You must apply pressure to get action and this cannot be done on an individual basis," he continued.

Pointing out there were other alternatives which could be pursued to obtain the desired changes in city government, Littman said the logical procedure would be through representation to see whether or not the City Council is willing to make such corrections voluntarily.

Should the council decline to take such action voluntarily, then there are other legal steps which can be taken, he said.

Littman did say the present charter was basically a good instrument and attributed most of the problems to the broad application of the homerule section.

Some of these problems have been brought about through unprecedented and uncontrolled growth on the part of the council. By that I mean it is still following a plan in trying to keep a tight knit organization on a businesslike basis," Littman said.

When they started out with only a hand full of homes in Port St. Lucie they could govern very loosely and the problems as when the city grew the rules were never tightened. It stayed loose and the city government grew like Topsy with very little direction and control.

Littman referred to the audit reports as an example of this.

"In the beginning there were no mileage reports, no trip sheets or anything else with regards to vehicles used for municipal purposes. The people using these vehicles were being compensated for this use at seventeen cents per mile.

The city following the recommendation of the auditor has recently purchased their own vehicles.

"There has been very little record keeping. It has been a sloppy operation to some extent and it is something that just seemed to happen. I don't think it was done on purpose by the city council, they just for several years rode along with what had been and was never tightened up," Littman said.

Some of the items which Littman had been questioned about included the salary raises of the councilmen, the pension plan, and the appointment of one or more councilmen.

"In my reviews of the charter it would appear there have been some questionable items carried out by those who represent all of the citizens of Port St. Lucie," Littman said.

"Whether or not they are correct remains to be seen but it would appear there are some problem areas," he continued.

With reference to a member of the council holding more than one job and receiving compensation for both, Littman said, "This could not be spelled out more clearly in the charter."

The charter reads, according to Littman, the city council shall by resolution appoint one of its members to be mayor, one to be vice mayor and also has the power to appoint a city treasurer, tax assessor, tax collector and a city clerk. All will serve at the pleasure of the council and any council member may hold one or more of such offices.

"This does not include a city engineer," he said.

According to Littman's interpretation of the homerule act, this would not be allowed.

"All sections of this act were passed by to same legislature at the same session and although it grants very broad powers certain sections can not be used to the exclusion of the amendment or ordinance requirements set forth in the same chapter," he emphasized.

Regarding the salary increases Littman read the following excerpt from the charter. "The compensation of an elected officer which has been so fixed shall not be increased during his term of office."

Again, "I don't know how much clearer this can be," he said. "I question this could be accomplished with an ordinance and more probably it would require a charter amendment," he added.

A charter amendment requires the vote of the people.

Another point covered by Littman was the appointment of a councilman to fill a vacancy. According to the charter it would appear that any councilman appointed by the council to fill a vacancy and served beyond the next general election would be not legally holding office.

It has been reported by the City attorney this is permitted under the homerule provisions and perhaps this is so but is necessary to follow all the homerule statutes not just part of it.

Although Littman found the pension plan set forth by the city to be perfectly legal, he did think it was a most expensive plan.

He suggested the residents of the city take time to read this plan and determine whether or not they thought it a fair plan for all concerned including the taxpayers.

"You must determine the fairness of such plans and then make your findings heard to the council. The best way to accomplish this is through the representatives of this group," he said.

GUEST SPEAKER Stuart Attorney James Littman was the guest speaker Monday night when the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie Inc. met at the CESA Building. Littman has been retained by the group to review the city charter. An estimated 200 residents attended the meeting.

CESA asks help

PORT ST. LUCIE—Schuyler Sharpe publicity director of CESA has been requested by the local Red Cross group to see if CESA its volunteers and all the people of the community would help them in obtaining old sheets. The sheets are used for making bandages, which are very much needed at this time.

"This is a vital program that all in the community should help continue," Sharpe said.

Anyone in the community who has old sheets is asked to bring them to CESA. The Red Cross would appreciate any small contribution.

The Mirror out on Christmas

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Mirror will be released on newsstands and in those stores that are open on Wednesday and be delivered in mails Thursday morning for the Christmas and New Year editions it was announced by Richard E. Campbell, editor.

The Mirror office on Commercial Street will be closed on December 25 and January 1.

Anglers plan to install in January

PORT ST. LUCIE—The first meeting of the Port St. Lucie Anglers Club in the new year will be an installation dinner on Jan. 7 at a local restaurant. Tickets for members and guests are available now. Contact George Lindberg, 878-1928 or Bob Reardon 878-0804 for reservations.

Officers for the coming year were elected at Tuesday night's session which convened at 7:30 p.m. at the Marina. Following the election of officers awards were presented for the fishing contest which began June first and ended Nov. 30.

Mrs. Helback heads Homemakers Club

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Beautiful Waters Homemakers Club met for a joint installation of officers and Christmas party last Thursday at the CESA Building.

Mrs. Margaret Brock of the Home Extension Service installed the officers for 1975 as follows:

Mrs. Mathias Helback, president; Mrs. George Smith, vice president; Mrs. R.J. Downey, secretary; Mrs. Anthony Jarosewicz, treasurer.

Mrs. Herbert Howard, outgoing president was serenaded by all with a special song expressing the thanks of the members for her fine leadership.

Mural and Aids Anderson endeared themselves again with the 70 members and guests present according to a spokesman for the group.

Gang Christmas party

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Friday Nite Gang will hold its annual Christmas party at the Marina this Friday, Dec. 20 at 7:30 p.m.

Last week's session was the Gang's annual Christmas toy night when toys were brought to the Marina by members to supplement those purchased with donations from the All States Club, the Shuffleboard Club, Barracks 339 Veterans of WWI, the directors of CESA, individual contributions and the proceeds from the pancake breakfast of last month.

Santa was there in the person of Carl Christopher Captain, Ft. Pierce Fire Department. Bruce Ridge executive director of Community Action was there on behalf of Head Start to accept the toys. He thanked the Gang for its efforts not only this year but for the past eight years stating that many Head Start children would have a joyous Christmas if it were not for the Gang's efforts.

The Gang snooper registered the following visitors at the session: Mr. and Mrs. John B. Orlandi from North Providence, R.I. visiting the Fred Olivellis and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dias visiting the Rochas.

The most welcomed back some regulars who had been absent for months including Warner and Helvie Birkhala, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rocha, Mrs. Elizabeth Kisner, David Kalbaer and Mrs. Thelma Campbell.

A number of bags of grapefruit donated by George Petrie were given away during the night's play.

A special prize of a box of citrus ready for shipping also donated by Petrie was won by Eva Sessa.

Yacht celebrates New Year at marina

PORT ST. LUCIE—A midnight buffet and dancing to tapes will highlight a New Year's Eve party of the Port St. Lucie Yacht Club, with all tickets reported sold for the event.

The next meeting of the club will be Thursday, Dec. 26, and candidates for election will be presented at that time.

Frank and Darlene Gaskill reported a successful Christmas party at the Stuart Elks Lodge on Dec. 6. Assistants included Flora and Ed Tumasz, Trina and Hugh McMillen, Bob and Mid Wichell and Mary Jane Buckwalter.

Special helpers were Ethel Nickerson, Shirley Hawersaat, Marion Thurston, Anna Dill and Larry Comstock.

Indian River Federal opens

FORT PIERCE—Monday heralded the official opening of the Indian River Federal Savings and Loan Association's newest branch office.

Indicative of the rapid and stable growth of the Association, the Fort Pierce facility is the tenth location in a predominantly area serving IRF customers.

Local leaders of Fort Pierce and St. Lucie County joined with banking officials for the open house celebration held at the new branch located in the Fields Shopping Plaza.

Doubling in brass, Taylor B. "Tate" Simpson, IRF's vice president of personnel and marketing, was the master of ceremonies for the affair.

Officials taking part in the ribbon-cutting ceremonies included Willie McCain, chairman of the St. Lucie County Commission, Fort Pierce City Commissioner David Douglas, IRF Manager Bill Lewis, Weldon Lewis, county administrator Grover Leslie, city commissioner, and IRF Directors Adger Smith and Robert Drake.

Charles W. Lewis, an Indian River Federal veteran of many years, has been named manager of the local facility.

The Indian River Federal Savings and Loan Association, the home office of which is in Vero Beach, was founded by J.J. Schumann and Ralph Sedgwick and chartered in 1933.

Since that time the home office of IRF has been expanded three times. The latest expansion was completed in Nov. 1974, adding a spacious new loan department.

Ben Thompson is president of the IRF Home Office, and J.R. "Rip" Graves is chairman of the Board of Directors.

Through the years Indian River Federal has become one of the area's largest financial institutions with assets exceeding $198,000,000.

The newly completed IRF branch offers the most modern banking facilities and equipment available.

Hall heads Masons

PORT ST. LUCIE—James Hall was elected president of the Port St. Lucie Masonic Club when the club met on Dec. 6 at the Marina.

Other officers elected include George Petrie, vice president; Larry Strobel, secretary; Dick Lieberth, treasurer; Henry Schwartz, chaplain and Bob Gordon, auditor.

Directors chosen for 1975 were Henry Heyman, Richard Downey, Earl Vivian, and Evert Stabler.

Pancake 'n' Porkey is January 5th

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Friday Nite Gang will hold another Pancake and Porky Breakfast at the Marina on Sunday, Jan. 5.

Pancakes will be served from 7 a.m. until 2 p.m. Tickets are available from any Gang member.

The proceeds of the breakfast are earmarked for the Canopy Fund of the PSL Shuffleboard Club. Because of their construction, the canopies over the shuffleboard courts are not insurable against windstorm damage. The club, therefore, is insuring themselves by accumulating a fund and putting it in a savings account in case it should be needed for this purpose.

TRAFFIC SIGNALS INSTALLED—The long awaited traffic signals have now been installed at the intersection of Prima Vista and Floresta Drives in North Port St. Lucie. The installation followed months of complaining about the dangerous intersection by local residents.

Benjamin is named Hilton sales director

PORT ST. LUCIE—Kenneth A. Benjamin has been appointed sales and marketing director of General Development Corporation's St. Lucie Hilton Country Club Resort. The announcement was made by Harry Tietz, Hilton general manager.

The St. Lucie Hilton is a tremendous resort facility that deserves to be ranked among the top resorts in the nation," Benjamin said. "It is unique and we intend to promote its uniqueness in local, state and national levels."

Benjamin, 37, was formerly the director of marketing for the World of Palm Aire, a Pompano Beach resort condominium development. Benjamin has also been general sales manager for Associated Resort Hotels, Eastern regional sales manager for Hyatt House Hotels, executive sales manager for the Americana of San Juan, and assistant to the director of sales for the Americana of New York.

He is a member of the Hotel Sales Management Association and Sales and Marketing Executives International.

Surprise golden anniversary for William James'

RIO–Friends gathered in happy anticipation, waiting to say "Surprise!" and "Happy Anniversary" to Mr. and Mrs. William James and it really was a surprise according to Mrs. John Middleton. "You should have seen their faces!" she said as she described the surprise party she and her husband gave last Saturday in honor of the James' Golden Wedding Anniversary.

SURPRISE PARTY–Mr. and Mrs. William James, Jensen Beach, were married December 24, 1924, in Camden, New Jersey. They were honored at a surprise party last Saturday, given by their friends. Mr. and Mrs. John Middleton of Rio.

The James' were wed on Christmas Eve, 1924, in Camden and moved to Jensen Beach two years ago from Pennsylvania, New Jersey. They have a son, a daughter, and four grandchildren, all of whom live in Pennsylvania.

Before his retirement, James was a Merchant Marine Captain with the Army Corps of Engineers.

Guests at the festive occasion included:

Mr. and Mrs. John Middleton, Jr. and children John III and Patty of Juno Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rincon and son Todd of North Palm Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nield and children Mark, Tommy and Leighann of Sewall's Point.

Miss Agnes Maloney of Chestnut Hill, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGrath of Stuart.

Sailfish Squares dance

JENSEN BEACH–The Sailfish Squares will have an open club-level Christmas Party Dance on Friday, Dec. 20 at Tropical Acres Mobile Home Park on Route 723.

Jack Hosken will call, with Ed and Beula Jamison on the rounds. The square dancing begins at 8 p.m.

Hostesses for the party are Anne Nennion and Betty Hosken.

Another open dance is planned for Friday, Dec. 27 at Tropical Acres. All visiting square dancers in the area are welcome to attend.

Parade trophy winners announced

STUART–Girl Scout Troop No. 184 won the trophy for the float best depicting the theme, Christmas around the world, in the 14th annual Junior Woman's Club Christmas parade.

The first place grand trophy for the best overall float went to St. Joseph's School, second to Port Salerno Elementary school, and third to Montessori School of Stuart.

Jensen Beach Elementary gymnastics took first place honors for the marching drill unit.

Cub Scout Pack No. 801 won the trophy "to keep Christ in Christmas" theme.

Trophies were donated by the area banks.

Work program for prisoners

STUART–Martin County commissioners were asked Tuesday to consider using prisoners to clean up the beaches and roadways.

John Heyburn of Jensen Beach asked the commissioners to consider the proposal at their next work shop.

Heyburn said he believed some jail prisoners would rather be working than just sitting in their cells.

HAPPY GIRL–After telling Santa Claus what she wants for Christmas, Tonia Woodberry is a happy little girl. Santa's gift of a candy stick made her even happier. The five year-old daughter of Jim and Linda Woodberry of Jensen Heights, Jensen Beach, was one of more than 60 children who visited Santa at the Chamber of Commerce last Saturday

Ho-Ho-Ho Christmas...

OOH–OOH—The multi-purpose room at Jensen Beach Elementary School Friday heard a lot of OOh's, AAh's and plenty of laughter when first and second graders got a special treat seeing a puppet show. Later another special guest arrived named Santa Claus. Each youngster was personally handed a candy cane from Santa himself

SANTA–Eight year old Gary Humble looks up to Santa Claus during his visit to the Jensen Beach Elementary School last Friday. Santa was the special guest as the first and second graders watched a puppet show

HAPPY VISIT–A talk with Santa Claus is a happy occasion for a little girl. Chatting with Santa during his annual visit to the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce is Robbie Motley, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald W. Motley of Jensen Beach

Dear Santa Claus,
I've been good.
I would like to have a sleeping bag. A little dolle and a bed and a Little dog.
Gwen Thompson

ENJOYING PUNCH–Martin County Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick and his wife Lois, enjoy a cup of punch at the annual Christmas party of the Jensen Beach Ambulance Association

SECOND ANNIVERSARY–Members of the Sailfish Squares enjoyed a second anniversary holiday affair on December 6 at the Stuart Holiday Inn. Dressed in full costumes, the group enjoyed square dancing after dinner

No complaints

Jensen merchants say business is 'good'

JENSEN BEACH–Because of the recession and inflation, there may be gloom in the land during this holiday season, but Jensen Beach merchants are not singing the blues.

When asked how their business has been in December, most replied "good."

"Business is better than last year and last year was good," Carol Pitman of Capricorn Candle & Gift Shop said.

"I cannot understand why everybody is crying the blues," Mrs. Pitman said.

She admitted, however, that November business was down from last year.

Mary Killer of the Shell Shop and George Duso of Jensen 5 & 10 joined with Mrs. Pitman in describing the Christmas season business as "good."

Martha Moore of Lord and Lady was more enthusiastic in her description of business this season.

"Marvelous," Mrs. Moore replied when asked how the season's business has been. "Couldn't be any better," she continued. "Better than last year."

Mrs. Killer said that she didn't believe as many area people are going to West Palm Beach to shop.

"We have enough shops and variety of goods in Jensen Beach and Stuart that people don't have to go to Palm Beach to shop," Mrs. Killer said.

The enthusiastic business reports were given by established downtown Commercial Street merchants.

While the merchants at the two shopping centers–Jensen Plaza and Savanna–didn't give gloomy reports, they were not as enthusiastic as the downtown merchants.

"Business is good considering the nation's economy," L.D. Kirkpatrick of the Man from K I R K said.

"My business is good compared to reports I get from other men's stores and other business," Kirkpatrick said.

"People who have money to spend are scared," Kirkpatrick continued. "Business is good but not as good as last year."

Fellow businessman in the Plaza, Steve Barber of The Lamplighter said, "Business is a heck of a lot better than I expected."

"Business is pretty good, and I cannot complain," Barber continued.

Western Auto in the Savanna Center has been open for a few weeks, and owner-manager Bud Bresee noted that the toy sales are a little slower than he expected.

"Business is about what I expected," Bresee observed. "People are being conservative in their buying."

"People are being more selective in their buying," Don Wilkie of Florida Nursery said.

"Compared to last year, business is a little off."

Christmas Eve open house held at museum

JENSEN BEACH–The first Christmas Eve non-denominational church service was held last night during the Martin County Historical Society's Elliott Museum Christmas Eve open house.

The Rev. Calvin Warden, Pastor of the Stuart Christian Church, which meets each Sunday morning in the Elliott Art Gallery, presided and a special musical program was prepared for the occasion for those who wanted to sing their favorite carols in good fellowship.

Punch, coffee and cookies were served to everyone, courtesy of the Society's Board of Trustees.

"Nine Christmases ago, in 1965, eight wonderful people came to the first Christmas Eve open house at the Elliott Museum. Five of the eight later became members of the Historical Society, they were so pleased with the idea," said Mrs. Janet Hutchinson, director of the museum and the House of Refuge, who inaugurated the Christmas Eve open house shortly after she was engaged for the post.

"I was a stranger here myself," she recalled, "a bit lonesome, and remembering other Christmases, other places. I figured that I was not the only one in the same situation, so I decided to put on a pot of coffee, set out a plate of cookies, and keep the lights on and the front door open."

"I had wound red paper around the center pillars at the entrance as high as I could reach, to make them look like candy canes. They weren't very impressive because I'm an even five feet tall and the Society has only six foot ladders. We do much better now," she said, with 6'4" Richard Carr from the House of Refuge on top of our 12 foot ladder."

This year visitors saw the ivory colored evening coat worn by Mrs. William Clark Shepard at the inaugural ball when General Eisenhower became President of the United States. They saw and heard the 125-year-old German music box tree-holder which revolves while it plays a Christmas carol.

The red Russian sleigh was out again, piled high with gaily wrapped packages. Toys from 1880 to 1900 were around and under the lobby tree, adding a few new ones annually.

County studies borrowing money

JENSEN BEACH–Martin County Commission Chairman Russ Philbrick said Monday that the county will have to borrow money to pay its bills.

"Because the tax roll is late," Philbrick said, "we may have to borrow money."

Philbrick, who represents the Jensen Beach area, estimated the amount that may have to be borrowed at $300,000.

Because of delays in completing the tax roll, property tax bills have not been mailed on schedule.

The county Tax Adjustment Board has scheduled hearings on tax complaints beginning Jan. 15.

Philbrick estimates that 600 complaints will be heard by the board, and would further delay mailing of tax bills.

"I don't know when the tax bills will go out," Philbrick said.

We are going to have a complete review of the budget and millage rollback law next week," Philbrick said.

County Finance Officer Vivian Andrews met with commissioners last week and will report back to the commission next week according to the chairman.

Mrs. Andrews told commissioners that the budget they adopted in September calls for a tax levy larger than the one permitted by a new law.

Under a law ratified by Martin County voters in a referendum Nov. 5, the county must limit its property tax increase to 10 per cent for most taxpayers under normal conditions.

A general increase of 15 per cent would be permitted if the county could demonstrate a critical need for the additional increase.

Center seeks grant

JENSEN BEACH–The Environmental Studies Center on Jensen Beach will apply for a Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) minigrant in January, center director Jay Jarrett said.

Jarrett said the minigrant (under $10,000) would be for holding a workshop in conjunction with Martin County Conservation Alliance, and to construct a course of study for community education project.

Funds would be used also to provide appropriate resource materials, the director pointed out.

The course would include lectures and field investigations of local environment to determine ecologically delicate areas and their structure, Jarrett said.

The course also will include political considerations of local environmental issues with guest lectures including marine and terrestrial biologists, Jarrett continued.

And if financially feasible, Ian McHarg or a member of his staff would present the systematic approach to community planning inherent in the book "Design with Nature," he explained.

Jarrett also announced that the center's first Wednesday lecture series will be the second Wednesday in January.

He said the postponement is necessary because the first Wednesday in January is New Year's Day.

The public is invited to the 8 p.m. meeting at the center's museum.

Ambulance location is questioned

JENSEN BEACH–Martin Memorial Hospital directors are cool to the idea of accepting responsibility for an ambulance on the hospital property.

Board members discussed the possibility of an ambulance being stationed at the hospital.

Directors questioned the hospital's liability in the program and said they wanted legal assurance before any authorization is provided.

The volunteer ambulance is one of two units proposed by the county to serve unincorporated areas around Stuart.

One commissioner said that if the hospital is not used, then the Civil Defense headquarters or some similar central location should be found.

HOLIDAY SONGS–Tommy Thebold, fifth grade student at Jensen Beach Elementary School, center, and his teacher Cliff Buckosh sang their songs following the Christmas play Dec. 18. Holding the microphone is Todd Lyob.

SURPRISE–First and second graders at Jensen Beach Elementary School were taken back last Friday when Santa Claus made a surprise visit. The youngesters were having cookies and soft drinks distributed by the P.T.A. after seeing a puppet show.

ANCHORMAN GIVES BLOOD–Lloyd Smith, new Anchorman of the Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, is the first Anchorman to donate a pint of blood to the Auxiliary Blood Bank account. All Auxilians are urged to donate so that blood will be available at all times for Auxiliary members and their spouses. Sara Timon, R.N., chairman of the Martin County branch of the Palm Beach Blood Bank Association, is pictured ministering to Smith.

Hospital hikes room rate

STUART–Room rate increases at Martin Memorial Hospital will go into effect Jan. 6.

The hospital board last week gave final approval of the new rate schedule.

Private rooms will cost patients $70-$80 a day, including nursing care and food, with the price variation based on the room location.

This is an increase of about $22 a day for the hospital's 35 private rooms.

All 96 semi-private rooms will go up to $65 a day from $55.

Charges for the hospital's 16 pediatrics bed will range from $55-$60 a day, an increase of $7 to $17 a day, depending on the location and age of the patient.

The hospital's 10 acute care beds will go up from $75 to $90 a day. And the six rooms in the intensive care unit will go up to $130 from $110.

WELCOME–Larry Timon, S.P.S. president, greeted Mr. and Mrs. Bob Durbin at the Stuart Paint and Supply annual Christmas party December 14 in the Jensen Beach Women's Association Club House. The affair was attended by more than 150 guests, employees and family.

Santa visits children at Chamber

JENSEN BEACH–Santa Claus visited the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce Saturday, Dec. 21, and listened to children telling of what they wanted him to bring for Christmas.

More than 60 children chatted with the jolly fat man from the North Pole from noon to 3 p.m.

After telling Santa what they wanted in their stocking Christmas morning, he gave them a big candy stick.

Some children left letters to Santa which included their gift list.

Santa arrived on a Jensen Beach Fire truck and toured the area, tossing candy to waving children along the way.

While the children talked to Santa, their proud parents took pictures, and then enjoyed coffee and cookies provided by the chamber.

The VFW Auxiliary donated $10 for the candy Santa tossed to children during his ride around the community, and the chamber provided the stick candy.

Mrs. Mary Killer was chairman of the Christmas program planning for Santa's visit.

CHRISTMAS PARTY–Stuart Paint and Supply held its annual Christmas party December 14 at the Jensen Beach Women's Association Club House. Well over 150 guests and employees attended. Above, S.P.S. president talks with Dr. and Mrs. James Mauck.

PY TIMES–Enjoying a good time at the Jensen Beach Christmas Party December 12th at the St. Lucie Hilton are Mr. & Mrs. Howard Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barker.

Most valuable student scholarship

JENSEN BEACH–Jack Sullivan, Youth Activities Chairman for the Stuart-Jensen BPOE 1626, announced this week that applications are available from the Guidance Department of Martin County High School for the Most Valuable Student Scholarships given annually by the Elks.

State and national awards totaling $6,000 will be presented to 50 winners plus $100 bonds to the boy and girl county winners.

Students of the graduating class of MCHS are eligible.

Deadline for applications is February 10, 1975.

Scholarship citizenship, personality, leadership, perseverance, resourcefulness, patriotism, general worthiness and financial need are the criteria by which applicants will be judged. Only students of outstanding merit, who show an appreciation of the value of an education and who are willing to struggle to achieve success, have a chance to win the awards.

BANKERS–S.P.S. secretary Gay Gross stops and jokes with Jim Brown from American Security Bank, and to the left is Jack Davis of Jensen Beach Bank.

AS PARTY–Employees and spouses enjoyed a en Beach Bank Christmas party dinner on December 12th at the St. Lucie Hilton. Pictured above are Mr. and Mrs D. L. White and Mr. and Mrs. Al Pangrazzi.

God and Country is planned

JENSEN BEACH–American Legion Post 126 of Jensen Beach and All Saints Episcopal Church will sponsor an annual county-wide non-sectarian event to be known as "God and Country Day."

The first annual celebration will be held February 16 at 3 p.m. at the F.I.T. Chapel.

The main speaker will be Commander Murray H. Voth, Chief Chaplain of the United States Naval Academy.

The Naval Band from Orlando is expected to participate.

CAMERA CLUB NEWS
BY DOT BECK

Jack and Olga Comer showed their slides entitled The Land of the Mid night Sun at last Thursday s Camera Club meeting

The hall was filled with members who wanted to see this presentation and they were well rewarded for attending The slides were excellent clear interesting and of unusual scenes

Olga s comments were clear and to the point she made us feel that we were along on the trip with them strolling thru gardens taking a boat ride seeing a beautiful view or freezing along with them on a carriage trip For those of us who will not be fortunate enough to ever see the midnight sun it was a real thrill to see daylight at three o clock in the morning and a wedding party going on with dancing and feasting These are the things that our members see and do and bring back so we can share with them

That really is the point of Camera Club and the ones who attend weekly are well rewarded

We all thank the Comers for the work they put into this show

As for next week the day after Christmas December 26 it was decided by a showing of hands to have a meeting on that night

This will not be a personal show, rather two sets of slides or perhaps movies that were sent to us on request

One is "The Invitation" Are we doing something that gives a robber the idea that we are asking him to steal from us? This movie, from the animation studios of TV s Hanna-Barbera Studios, should be excellent Come and see what to do and what not to do Just don't holler Help if you are being robbed on the street It could happen to you it has happened to other so come to this movie and perhaps you will learn what the word as that I should have known when I was being mugged This is an important movie for every one of us perhaps some time it will be the means of saving your belongings or your life either on the street or in your own home

The second film will run about 15 minutes and is called "Oil Art and Minting You know those beautiful medallions that are advertised in magazines" The Franklin Mint in Pennsylvania makes them, and this will show the work that goes into designing and engraving a medallion

The inspirations come from many countries The work is done in spotless laboratories by people wearing white coats When you see this showing, you will know why each medallion costs so much

Let s fill the hall again on December 26 at 2 p m sharp

23 complete F.I.T. course

JENSEN BEACH—Dean Ernest Tealey of the Jensen Beach campus Florida Institute of Technology announced that 23 local men have completed the first quarter courses in the newly established evening degree program leading to the Master of Business Administration degree

Although a graduate program leading to the Master of Science in Systems Management has been offered on the local campus since spring, costly moderate interest was shown by the introduction of the business administration curriculum where emphasis primarily in the added stress upon the human aspects of management in lieu of the more quantitative approach in the Systems Management program The new curriculum provides for the early introduction to fundamental courses such as economics accounting and finance The latter part of the program permits the student to integrate this body of knowledge into meaningful decision processes offering the opportunity to address business problems with full consideration of the numerous constraints placed upon the manager

These graduate programs are one of the offerings by the Graduate Science department of the Florida Institute of Technology s School of Engineering at Melbourne Other Management Science department programs are also offered at extension centers at Patrick Air Force Base Florida Fort Eustis Virginia and Langley Air Force Base Virginia and Rockville Maryland

The program is administered locally by Colonel Woodrow Johnson assistant to the Dean, Jensen Beach campus

During the Winter Quarter which starts the week of January 6 1975 courses in Managerial Accounting and Organization and Management and Marketing will be offered Graduate students already accepted in the Graduate School may register for these courses at any time prior to the first class meeting Other interested persons should contact Colonel Johnson at 334 4200 for admission information

Audubon lecture series starts January 17

STUART The Audubon lecture film series starts on January 17 running through four alternate Fridays with the last one to show February 28

This is the sixteenth season of the Martin County Audubon series of films on wildlife The compelling films and lectures are offered to help spread knowledge and compassion for our shrinking forms of wildlife which occupy the hazardous and beautiful areas of the world

Robert Wagner chairman of the series explains it this way We are doing something in Audubon Films which needs to be done We are reaching both the adults and the schools with literate and exciting people who have committed themselves in a direct for life preservation By doing this we are not only giving fine films and first hand stories by the men who made them we are also fighting a battle to educate more people as to the necessity of understanding the relationships between wild life and its habitat We are trying to prevent the disappearance of the wilderness trying to prevent these surviving wild animals from following the mournful trail of the American Indian into decimation and legend

The way Martin County Audubon does this is by using all proceeds not directly needed to pay expenses to give free lecture films in area schools

Last year the society added F I T to the list of schools to which they donate the lecture films so that they now reach thousands of young people

It is some problem s scramble admits Mr Wagner to pay for the lecturers and films and provide for the free school showing at the low Audubon Society charges but it is worth it he says

We are probably the only Audubon county organization which has done as much in the way of promoting school shows Wagner said The course we have chosen is not always the easiest but it is most important for unless we do educate the young people the wilderness and the wildlife still roaming it will cease to exist, save in fragmented and sad little areas museum pieces, if you will

Tickets may be purchased at Valentine s Book Store The Showcase Stuart Photo and the Craft Corner 417 W Commercial St Jensen Beach

Wagner welcomes any inquiries at his home at 2177 N E Lake Ave Jensen Beach 334-5 For those too busy to write his telephone is 334-6696

Garden Club will celebrate 25th anniversary

JENSEN BEACH–The Jensen Beach Garden Club is 25 years old, and will celebrate its anniversary next month.

Captain R. B. Ing will be the guest speaker, and his topic "Growing Orchids" should be of interest to every member.

Mrs. Harold Lartaud, president, welcomed the 47 members and 17 guests attending the club's Christmas luncheon and flower show held at the Jensen Beach Community Church Fellowship Hall on Wednesday, Dec. 18.

Guests attending included Mesdames Gladish, Wolcott, Thomas, Rogers, Cotter, Oliver, Martin, Anderson, Whitson, Frey, Jones, Barry, Hinsdale, Bradley and Bruning.

The mini flower show "Christmas at Home" with the luncheon tables decorated with exhibits, lent a festive air to the day.

Winners in Class 1A for Novices Holiday Cheery were: Mrs. Richard Kupp, first; Mrs. Leon Zdanewic, second.

In the class for Blue Ribbon Winners, awards went to Mrs. Fred Morris, first; Mrs. William Wess, second; Mrs. William Stephenson, third; and Mrs. A.C. Mills, honorable mention.

In Class 2 Welcome Home, a swag or wreath suitable for a door decoration, the blue ribbon in the Novice class was won by Mrs. August Burmester. In the Blue Ribbon division, awards went to Mrs. Harold Lartaud, first; Mrs. Clifford Greenland, second; Mrs. William Stephenson, third; and Mrs. A.C. Mills, honorable mention.

In the Horticulture Classes, Flowering Potted Plants, blues were awarded to Mrs. Leon Zdanewic, Mrs. Fred Morris and Mrs. George Sommer; red to Mrs. A.C. Mills, and yellow to Mrs. Freda Peterkin.

Three blues were earned in the Foliage Plant section: Mrs. George Sommer, Mrs. William A. Stephenson and Mrs. A.C. Mills. Reds went to Mrs. Harold Lartaud and Mrs. Fred Morris.

The club expressed their appreciation to Mrs. Robert Fenton and Mrs. Arnold Gessner for hedging the exhibits.

Ways and Means Chairman Mrs. William Stephenson reminded the members that a bridge party, the club's next fund raising event, is to be held February 26. She announced that tickets are now available.

Hostesses for the luncheon under the chairmanship of Mrs. Carl Wheelock were: Mrs. Jack Binns, Mrs. B.F. Watkins, Mrs. Jack Best and Mrs. George Yost.

THANK YOU

I wish to thank all my friends, neighbors, Rev. Clark Thompson and Rev. Neil Gunsalus for their lovely cards, flowers and kind expressions of sympathy to me at the loss of my dear mother, Emily D. Ewing.

Adult drawing class at school

JENSEN BEACH–Adults who have a serious interest in learning to draw the human head and body are invited to join a portraiture class at Jensen Elementary Evening School, Thursday evenings at 7 p.m.

The class members instructed by Mrs. Connie Wright draw from a live model learning how to proportion head and body. Bone and muscle structure are studied.

Some background is given on 15th, 16th & 17th century artists, using slides and discussion for comparison of drawing and colors.

Instruction is also given in stretching a canvas, application of oil colors on a portrait and other details needed to complete a portrait.

Mrs. Wright is a graduate of Morehead State University with a degree in Art. An accomplished artist in her own right, Mrs. Wright has instructed adults in portraiture for the Adult Education Department, Martin County Public Schools for the past five years.

Registration fee for the course is $2. Students must furnish their own materials and should come to the first session with sketching pad, a soft pencil and or charcoal, a kneaded eraser and a notebook.

To enroll, adults should visit the Jensen Elementary School, 3 Savanna Road, Jensen at 6:45, Thursday evenings. Information may be had by calling 287-8400 weekdays between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Bazaar huge success

STUART–Mrs. Marti Bryant, fund raising chairman for the Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary reported that the Auxiliary Bazaar held December 14th was a huge success, netting over $2500.

The funds will be used toward the 1974-75 pledge to Martin Memorial Hospital.

Christmas Prayer

Lord, give our hearts their youth at Christmastide
Let us believe, as did the three who went
To lay their gifts, their honor and their pride
Before a Child. We who have richly spent
The coin of years need now replenished store
Of simple faith and hearts that seek the light
We, too, would stand beside an open door
To see the glow that circled earth's deep night
Lord, help us find again the long lost way
That led to wonder in the welcome glow
From friendly windows, something of the day
Comradely spirit we used to know
The star shines on for those with eyes to see
A finite gleam toward all infinity

Building height limit discussion

JENSEN BEACH—Martin County commissioners will consider a building height limit at its Jan. 28 meeting.

A proposed new ordinance would restrict residential buildings to four stories.

Under present regulations no restrictions have been given to buildings of more than four stories of living area.

Some buildings have been permitted with a parking garage below. The four stories of living space. Under the new ordinance this still would be permitted behind the demarcation line where the parking garages are located below the dune line.

First workshop is January 7

PORT ST. LUCIE—Activities of the Wildfish Waters Homemakers Club of Port St. Lucie will be suspended until Tuesday morning, January 7, the first workshop of the new season.

The regular meeting is to be held on Thursday, Jan. 9, at the CESA Building at 1 p.m. Members are urged to bring in items which can be made for the coming March 8 Spring Festival and Bazaar for the benefit of the CESA Building Fund.

Hostesses for this meeting will be the new officers so they can become more acquainted with the many new and old members of the busy group. Mrs. George H. Smith, Mrs. H. J. Bowden and Mrs. Anthony Jarosewicz.

Guests are always welcome.

Delegation meeting set for January 31

JENSEN BEACH—Martin County legislative delegation will be at the courthouse Jan. 31 to receive requests for legislation to be passed and to hear other requests.

The delegation will meet at 9:30 a.m.

State Rep. Jack Pourbaugh said the delegation follows the usual policy of refusing to consider such matters if the local government has adequate powers to deal with them.

Other members of the delegation include Rep. Chuck Sergard, Sen. Phil Lewis, Sen. Harry Johnston and Sen. Dave Hudson.

Garbage rate hike is okayed

JENSEN BEACH—A garbage collection increase was granted last week by Martin County Commission for All County Sanitation and Surface Inc. starting Jan. 1.

The two firms collect garbage for most of the households in unincorporated areas of the county.

Residents will have to pay $1 or $1.50 more for garbage service. Curbside pick up service was raised from $3.50 to $4.50 a month, with the rate for backdoor collection up from $5.50 to $7 a month.

Lloyd Brown, manager of Nichols said it has cost $4.65 a month per household to collect garbage but he expects this to drop to $4.05 a month next year because of cutbacks being made in operations.

Brown said the firm's loss on residential garbage service this year was offset by a profit from commercial service.

The county does not regulate rates for commercial garbage collection.

FP&L franchise

PORT ST. LUCIE—Tuesday's meeting of the City Council was a brief but profitable session according to the city administrator Bernard Rubin.

The city today received the FP&L franchise payment in the amount of $41,760, or about $14,000 over what we had budgeted, Rubin said.

Last year the city collected approximately $26,000 and on that basis had budgeted $27,000 for the current year.

XMAS DINNER—Members, friends and families of the Jensen Beach American Legion Post No. 126 celebrated the holidas spirit December 9th with a Happy hour and dinner at the Post home on Savanna Road.

'Back Country' to be featured

FORT PIERCE—Paintings of Florida Back Country—the land of streams hammocks, swamp and ranches that lies away from the shoreline will be on view at the Fort Pierce Art Gallery through January 9th.

Mr. A.E. Beame Backus one of the directors of the Gallery chose twelve regional artists for show their interpretations of Florida landscape. They are:

Andrew Zimmerman and Susan Campbell of Miami; Robert Butler of Okeechobee.

And from Fort Pierce:

A.E. Backus, Albert Black, Don Brown, John Durham, Margaret Zierer Smith, Therese Knowles, Herbert Newburger, Earl Smith and youngest of the group, sixteen year old Michael Evans.

Gallery hours are 12 noon to 5 p.m. daily except Friday.

Admission is free and the public is urged to attend.

New ambulance units planned

JENSEN BEACH—A new volunteer ambulance service to cover portions of Palm City and Port Salerno is expected to be operational in two months.

Last week County Commissioners voted to pay the costs of a new volunteer ambulance organization forming under the direction of Civil Defense director Hugh Treffry.

Under tentative plans, one ambulance would operate out of the Martin Memorial Hospital emergency room during the day, and the other out of the Palm City Fire Station.

Some of the money for the two units will come from the two county special taxing districts that serve the Palm City and Port Salerno areas, and some of the funds may come from the county general fund.

However, the general fund money has not been approved.

Treffry said cost of the service the first year will run $50,000.

The service will take in the areas presently served by the Red Cross of Stuart. The county has been paying the city to serve unincorporated areas which now will be served by the new organization.

YETS PARTY—The annual Christmas party of Jensen Beach Veterans of World War I Barracks 454 was held Wednesday. Dec. 18 at the Ladybird Park Fieldhouse. Members and their guests enjoyed a roast luncheon.

Fishing Report

JENSEN BEACH—Fishermen were out in force last week recording some good catches at the Sewall Point Jetty. Wilbert had 7 trout and 3 snook for the week and he along with Jim Lord and Eddie Ford, had 10 trout. Ed Wagner had 94 trout and with Pat Patterson 14 more.

Dick White had a total of 40 trout, 3 pompano for the week. Irv Fisher 30 trout. Sands Adair 7 trout, Ted Bloom 10 trout, Jay Keith 11 trout and Oscar Dunkman had 15 trout.

Other catches recorded:

Eddie Jones 2 cobia and 25 Spanish mackerel. Art Ryan, 3 blues, Bill Herring, 6 trout. Martin Kartcher 4 blue, Brent B. Miller, 6 trout. Jim Schmidt and Al Jones 17 weakfish and Lari Justice and George Waltersdorf had 18 kings, 1 dolphin and a barracuda fishing off shore.

Chester Wheelock 11 trout and a snook. Jamie Seeder a 7 lb. trout. B.E. Armstrong 14, Hugo Alice and Frederick Johnson 3 sheepshead apiece. Dusty and Lavone LaBelle fishing with Russ Bolton, 4 snook and 3 reds. Fred and R. Wright and Randy McMillan, 3 bass averaging 3 lbs. Al Krull, 4 blues. Frank Hillyer and Dick Blake 30 mackerel and Kenneth Snow, a 6 lb. 8 inch bass outside on the Bailey Hole.

Dave and Sandy Nixon had 10 sheepshead yesterday fishing the South Fork and Russell Egbert had a 16 lb. sea trout and a snook.

Timms Salon, nine years old, landed 2 blues in a couple of outings.

Shuffleboard News

PORT ST. LUCIE—In Indian River League play on Wednesday, Dec. 18 on the Port St. Lucie courts, the score was Port St. Lucie 4, Ocean Breeze 6.

PSL winning teams were Rus Gilbert and Larry Hett, Dom Bergamini and Bob Cousino, Guyn Haydon and Ward White, Judd Reading and Al McDonnell.

On the same day at Ocean Breeze, Central League play scores were: Port St. Lucie 3, Ocean Breeze 1.

PSL winning teams were Les Troutman and Milt Ruzicka, Harold Hazell and Ralph Conley, Robert Dobler and Weaver Rinehart.

Any Port St. Lucie players interested in entering the Sandy Shoes "Any Doubles" tournament should contact Al McDonnell at 324 Holly Avenue, or call him at 878-3137. Deadline for signing up is January 6. The tournament will be played at Fort Pierce, Jan. 10 and 11.

Tournament director Judd Reading reported 31 came out for "Fun Afternoon" play and that the next session will be at 1:30 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 9.

Numbers are drawn for positions on the courts in the fun sessions. Losers pay $10 to winners, and fun is had by all.

YOUNGEST VISITOR—Probably one of Santa's youngest visitor in Port St. Lucie was Scott Pecor, one month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pecor. Obviously unimpressed with the jolly old fellow, Scott is comforted by his older brother Steven. Steven is 2 years old. Santa was a recent visitor at the marina.

SECOND CUP—Merle Oliver serves punch to Jensen Beach Fire Department Chief Randolph Spinney. It was the annual party of the Ambulance Association at the Woman's Club building.

News of Nettles Island

BY MAY TIFFT

All that we hear on the radio is "I'm dreaming for a white Christmas". Maybe up north where I come from, but down here we are wishing for warm weather for Christmas. Today was just lovely and it is sure to be better the rest of the month.

So many residents have returned home to their families for the holidays, but then too, so many children and grandchildren have come to visit, that it about levels things off.

+ + +

John Avise is one of them. He flew in from Davis, California to spend the holiday season with his parents, Dean and Edith. John says this is a great place for one of the family hobbies--bird watching. He was here last year also. Together they hope to see and identify over 100 species of birds while he is here.

+ + +

Another visitor is Paul Flemma, son of John and Liz. He flew in from snow country up near Utica, New York. He is active in a theater group up there doing acting, directing and singing. Too bad he won't be here for our minstrel show.

+ + +

Rose and Elmer Carl are entertaining their children and grandchildren. Are they ever busy. The little ones are as delightful as a lot of kittens to watch.

+ + +

Carl C. Peterson of East Gary, Ind. and a longtime friend of Al and Evelynn Ganz left Dec. 17th to return home after a visit. He was riding with Clark & Ethel Johnson. (There go our beautiful dancers). They too are neighbors of the Ganz and returning home for Christmas.

+ + +

Emily and George Carbone of Wading River, N.Y. are back for the winter.

+ + +

Another card from Doc and Mabel Ackert while they were going through the Panama Canal. Weather is gorgeous and they are enjoying it all.

+ + +

The kind of story we like to hear anytime of the year, but especially now, occured this last week. A few weeks ago Raymond Nenning of Bedford, Va. who is a renter here had a heart attack. He is expected home this week from the hospital. His wife was concerned as they were so near the rec hall and thought a quieter area better for his recovery. Bob Campman heard of this and not only hunted up a lot for them but made the phone calls to be assured that it would be available for the duration of their stay. On moving day, he helped the men and Mrs. Nenning move and level the trailer, etc. Mrs. Nenning said it meant so much to her and she was so grateful to him. A true Christmas story.

+ + +

The flea market that was sponsored by the Women's Club was a big success. Working under Ruth Masters, president, were the following committee chairmen: Food--Lucile Wieker & Betty Maxwell, and their helpers were Helen Hagen, Lillian Wisnoski and Hannah Bentley. The lunch was delicious. Bake Sale--Ann Murphy and Velma Cliff. Fruit--Mr. and Mrs. Harold Leonard. The oranges and grapefruit were real good and came from O'Dell's of route A1A just this side of Ft. Pierce. The silent auction was conducted under the chairmanship of Pat Kichten and Sue Sutfin. This was a new venture and a fun one. There were lots of things to buy and everyone seemed to have a good time.

Afterwards at five o'clock, there was a beer and hot dog party in the rec hall put on by the rec staff. Bobbie Lord sang for us and Susan Dalhaus and her guitar entertained with some dances to show us what we could expect to learn in the upcoming dance classes. The evening ended with dancing to an orchestra made up of musicians from Nettles Island. There was Walter Avard, Bernie Murphy, Jim Frary, Pat Conway, and the piano player just appeared out of nowhere and was real good. Wish that I knew his name.

+ + +

Dec. 18th potluck dinner was Italian food. Who can resist spaghetti, lasagna, etc. Naturally it was a success.

+ + +

The Men's Club held a special meeting Dec. 18th and have planned to have another Las Vegas night on Jan. 4th. Everyone seems to enjoy these. A lot of work but worth it.

+ + +

The Women's Club held a meeting also on the 18th. After the meeting a Christmas tree was erected and members of the club decorated it with homemade ornaments. They are so colorful and original and the tree is nice in the lounge area of the rec hall. Afterwards, punch made by Jim and Kaye Brown was served with homemade cookies and cake. There was also coffee served. This was under the chairmanship of Pat Kitchen.

+ + +

They had a good turn out for square dancing on Sunday night. This is under the calling of Ken Orr, one of our weekend residents.

Nettles Island is in the process of forming a Garden Club. Quite a number have already signed up. I think that we are all hoping to learn how to garden in this doubtern area which is so different than our northern one. We have Italian pole beans planted. They are only about 18 inches high and the beans are almost ready to pick. Up north they are five feet before they are ready for picking. I am sure the quality will not be as good and there must be a better way to do it or perhaps they are not suited to this climate. So join us at the garden club. Reservations close in January.

+ + +

We are glad to see Isobel and "Teacup" Reed back. Ray has been ill and lost a lot of weight but looks younger than ever.

+ + +

Del and Gene Richter from Franklin Hill Farm in Pennsylvania have returned to their lot 144 in section 2. They have a new fifth wheel this year.

+ + +

Mr. and Mrs. P.W. Byrne (lot 79 section 2) and son Michael recently celebrated his 18th birthday. Their other son, Tim, also has one year old twin boys who put a candle on their cake also.

+ + +

I would so much appreciate it if you have any news item that would be of interest in the paper, to put it in the box provided for it at the post office or rec hall. It is almost impossible in such a large place to keep track of all the interesting things that are happening.

+ + +

Guess everyone is looking forward to a gala evening of music and dancing here on New Year's eve. There will even be a breakfast served from one to three a.m. There will necessarily be a limited ticket sale for the dance, so plan to get yours early.

+ + +

You have probably all had a good Christmas by now. My wishes are extended to all of you for a happy, healthy New Year and "may God hold you in the palm of His hand."

Finally got the Amy-Joe in her da vits, Saturday. That beautiful bubbly stuff the Freitags' served was second only to Amy's cookies and short bread. Never knew you had to be Scotch to make it perfect.

+ + +

Welcome back to Venture Out, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Gsencsics of Upper French St. in Erie, Pa. They'll be here for the season on 773.

Floyd and Jean Reynolds couldn't find their way home one night so they installed a pole light and a beautiful palm tree which really dresses up their lot.

+ + +

Edna Willston had a note from the Campbells who now won't be back till Jan. 3rd or 4th.

+ + +

The Robert Sterns arrived on schedule Friday with daughter, Linda, who graduated from Penn State Nov. 30th, with a major in Socieal Service. Son, Bob, and daughter, Nancy, arrived Sunday after hours of bumper to bumper traffic.

+ + +

Did you ever know it takes a good Irishman to serve up a great Italian Meal? Red Fitzgerald is his name and Alice claims he does it all. Enjoyed reunion there with our old friend, Pip Reau and his lovely wife. He's in great health and his twinkling eyes bespeak his new found happiness.

BY RUTH BALASH

Steve and Lucille Balowski have returned to Michigan for the holidays. Lucille's Dad, who lives with them, remained here. He doesn't want any part of that cold weather up North.

+ + +

Joe and Millie Capra are now settled in their new trailer. Joe is sporting a new 24 ft. Skipjack boat for deep sea fishing, plus a little auxiliary boat named "Bubbles". The Capras sold their Red Lantern Inn in California and expect to enjoy loafing from now on.

+ + +

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller returned on the 17th. During the summer they took a trip to Utah and Arizona with the Avion Travel Club. They are glad to get back to Venture Out.

+ + +

Fred and Mary Gilbert arrived for the holidays. Fred, Mary and their lovely children seem to be having a wonderful time.

+ + +

There will be a lot owner's meeting for the Indian River section on Jan. 8th, at 3 o'clock in the rec hall. Letters have gone out and we hope to have a good attendance. Please try to be there.

I hope I get off these crutches soon and can become active in all the wonderful activities going on in the park.

Christmas tree lights going up on our street, more each day as Christmas Day comes closer. Some residents decorations all complimentary, also have bright shiny halos 'round their heads! Others scurrying around, cleaning, baking, shopping, writing cards, are in a last minute tizzy.

+ + +

There has also been a flurry of activity, taking people to the airport, collecting others there, and preparations to enjoy the holiday season to the fullest.

+ + +

Have a gay time over the holiday season. All the neighbors join me in saying "Merry Christmas and a healthy, happy New Year."

Lydia Circle met December 18th

The Lydia Circle of the Jensen Beach Christian Church met Wednesday, Dec. 18th, with President Zylpha Salyards in charge of the meeting.

The devotionals were by Mrs. Elsie Fronsoe, and a special Christmas reading was given by Mrs. Salyards.

Over 100 favors to be used on the trays at Martin Memorial for Christmas were made by members of the circle.

Mrs. Thelma Bennett reported that she was able to send $200 to the Christian Childrens Home in Atlanta.

Mrs. Irma Walters was not able to present personally, but sent each member a lovely angel ornament.

Two baskets were filled to be given to two needy families to help brighten their days.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mary Lou Abbey, Ione Steininger, Dorothy Geeben and Mrs. Salyards.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 15, at 2 p.m.

Venture Out News Notes

BY (THE PINCH HITTERS)

BY JACKIE PHILLIPS

Grace and Gil Hicks, with son, Lee, arrived in their spacious fifth wheel last week. They hail from Hyde Park, N.Y. Grace said they are looking forward to staying through March. It's good to have them back on Lot 689.

+ + +

A van, literally as big as a house, pulled into the first finger this week. We all thought it was a different way of delivering a "Park Model"--but, would you believe, out came two bicycles. The Paynters, Marmie and Kurt of Lot 691, will be looking around Venture Out as soon as the weather clears up.

+ + +

Mate & Bill Greuling of Lot 700 left for Michigan Sunday for a surprise visit to their daughter, Edker. Mate & Bill grew homesick for their new granddaughter. It will be the first time in seven years that they have spent Christmas with their grandchildren. I asked Bill where they lived in Michigan, he said, "Lupton. Famous for trout fishing." We're happy that this nice couple will be back in time for the New Year's Eve Party.

+ + +

Kathy and Bruce Parmenter are happy to report that their good friends, Millie and Joe Capra of California, finally arrived here. The Capras expect to stay at least five months on their beautiful Indian River Lot 872.

+ + +

The "playful Parmenters" have purchased Lot 901 and expect to move on it by Christmas. They just had to have more room for all of Bruce's playthings. It is Indian River's gain and St. Lucie's loss, for it is hard to put into words how much they will be missed from our finger.

+ + +

Ah, youth! When the severe thunderstorm hit last week, Lee Hicks of Lot 689 was playing basketball. Just as he was looking for shelter he saw a sailboat break loose from the V.O. Marina. Without hesitation Lee jumped into the water, shoes, clothing and all. He grabbed the boat and retied it. Some lucky owner owes a debt of gratitude to a thoughtful teenager. Thank goodness there were no "devil fish" around.

+ + +

Dr. Robert Shane and his large and interesting family have arrived to spend the holidays in their two trailers on Lots 694 and 695. Dr. Shane is Staff Scientist with the National Materials Advisory Board in Washington, D.D. The Shanes make their home in Virginia.

+ + +

The James Grahams, with their four children (one is a daughter 2 months old) have arrived from Columbus, Ohio to spend some time on their Lot 709. We welcome them to V.O. and know they will experience good times, good friendships, and hopefully, beautiful weather.

+ + +

Buzzzz-buzzzz--Bob Owen of Lot 747 is at it again! He's making storage steps for his new Nomad trailer. Between him and Al Phillips of Lot 752 they have more tools and equipment than the local High-Rise developers.

+ + +

The Christmas Spirit abounds in the park--especially evident at night. So many lovely decorations--for those of us spending our first Christmas here, it helps dispel a little homesickness.

+ + +

The Harvey Johnsons of Lot 711, a prime example of lovely decorations--a beautiful tree on their patio--and palm trees bedecked with twinkle lights. Their two young children are looking forward to Santa's visit.

+ + +

One of the "Pinch Hitters" that doesn't have her name listed is Selma Valaro of the Mobile Home section. She deserves recognition above everyone for she not only types the news but delivers it to The Mirror for us. A sincere thanks, Selma.

+ + +

To one and all--MAY YOUR CHRISTMAS BE JOYOUS AND YOUR NEW YEAR HAPPY AND BRIGHT.

BY BETTY DAVIS

Another Merry Christmas to you all. If we survive we'll hope for a Happy New Year, too.

MERRY CHRISTMAS — HAPPY NEW YEAR

NICHOLS SANITATION, INC.

Dance-worship service is held

JENSEN BEACH–"Performance of Love ... for Life", a dance-worship [illegible], was choreographed and performed by professional dancer Doris Thurston of Stuart, on Christmas Eve at the Jensen Beach Community Church.

Tamara Kincaid, wife of the Reverend Kincaid, who is minister of Education at the church, also was featured dancer along with Ralph Clark Stuart dance instructor.

The Tuesday service was unusual in that Miss Thurston wrote the words and music for three musical numbers, especially for the occasion. "Come See the Child" was performed by the trio. "Look Around and See" by Miss Thurston and Mrs. Kincaid with a flute solo by Mrs. Kincaid; and "Winter of My Life" sung by Miss Thurston.

Miss Thurston's previous religious dance contributions to the community include "The Jazz Mass" with Ralph Clark for the Redeemer Lutheran Church of Stuart, "Four Spirituals on the Birth of Christ" performed with students from Pine School for the annual Jensen Beach Christmas on the Causeway in 1972 and "The Christmas Story" performed in Stuart Park with thirty young people from nine denominations.

A religious special "Worship Through the Arts" for "Point of View" on WOR TV New York City was presented by the Archdiocese of New York. The film is on permanent record as religious dance research at the Lincoln Center Dance Film Library in New York City.

DANCE-WORSHIP AT CHURCH–Doris Thurston, kneeling, and Tamara Kincaid performed a dance-worship service at Jensen Beach Community Church Christmas Eve.

Lake Manor News Notes

BY STEVE STEIMAN

We are sorry for the omission of last week's paper. Ethel Eastman painted at our home in Paris on Wednesday, the 11th.

* * *

A very fine Christmas pot luck dinner on Thursday night the 19th was enjoyed by eighty-four. A large selection of delicious foods was served with a festive flair.

Grace was said by Lee Tucker.

Our hall was beautifully decorated with palms and bells and red ribbon bows. Also three gorgeous chandeliers hung in the center, which were made and loaned by Doris Tucker and Margaret Hosengarth, one gold in the center, and two deep red on each side, made of satin balls.

Singing of carols completed a lovely evening with Doris Tucker at the piano.

Many thanks to the committee: Gerry Stuart, Doris Tucker, Olive Allward and Mary Ensminger.

Shuffling three game winners on the 16th were Jim Williams, Fred Ballard and Bill Eastman.

* * *

Bingo had a fair group with Harry Heatley calling and Gene Kramer assisting.

* * *

Merry coffee was served on the 21st to around 25 by Russell Allward and Paul Cornelius. Games were enjoyed also.

* * *

We are all so happy to see that Willard Morgan is better and mingling again.

* * *

Marie Wilhelm has been in the hospital for eye surgery. Best wishes to her.

* * *

A note here cashed for dollars was a needed item and we're grateful to the Eastmans for arranging to get it and have it installed.

* * *

A beautification committee has been formed and is already busy at work putting up our flower pots we have all missed for some time.

Glenn Hakes, the chairman has as his committee: Alex Bell, Olive Allward, Liz Krakauer, Doris Tucker, Mildred Mullen and Gerry Stuart. Some petunias were planted by Hughes Hakes and I saw some men at work also.

Each one will have a special territory to work on. It's a great idea, a park as lovely as ours will be improved with more flowers.

We miss Ralph Kramer who did a fine job on the flowers.

Clubhouse activities will be resumed after January 1st.

* * *

We are glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Prescott at the former Mitchell mobile. May they enjoy a long, happy stay here.

* * *

Remember our New Year's Eve party at 8:00 p.m. each to bring a dish of snacks and your good humor.

* * *

We have very fine folks in this park, and so we have had a fine year together.

* * *

Now is the time to make new resolutions and have the patience to keep them.

* * *

A most Happy and Healthy New Year to all.

Cheerio!

THE PORT ST. LUCIE
MIRROR

VOL. 5 NO. 52 DECEMBER 25, 1974

CHRISTMAS CHERUB--This bright-eyed Cherub is David Watts, 8½ month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watts, Port St. Lucie. Finished with telling Santa Wade Sanders what he can, he's ratin' to go and discover more of the wonder and shine and joy of a little boy's first Christmas.

CHRISTMAS PARTY--Members of the President's Council were hosted last Thursday at their annual Christmas party by General Development Corporation. Robert Seeley, GDC vice president and general manager of Port St. Lucie, (right hand man Mel Broom) were on hand to see all was merry. Serving as guests was very capably handled by Ms. Naomi Radcliff, Broom's secretary.

PLEDGE--What could be a more appropriate time to turn over a $150 Building fund pledge to CESA than at a Christmas Party. Pictured above, Cedric Benz made such a presentation to Tom Hillegas, CESA treasurer at the GDC hosted Christmas Party for the Presidents Council held last Thursday. Benz presented the check on behalf of the Friday Nite Gang.

Santa visits lady golfers

PORT ST. LUCIE--Santa arrived at the St. Lucie Hilton in a snow laden golf cart to give out gifts to all who attended the Port St. Lucie Ladies Golf Association Christmas party on Tuesday.

The tables were beautifully decorated with green trees and candy canes, the head table graced with two large topiary trees fashioned of green net and Christmas trimmings.

Six carolers entertained with Christmas songs. They were Mrs. Julian Penn, accompanist, Mrs. Marvin Waldhelm, Mrs. Richard Werges, Mrs. Arthur McDaniels, Mrs. William Jahn and Mrs. Seymour Flemming.

After the music, door prizes were presented and the large topiary trees raffled off.

Ladies introduced their mothers and other guests.

Mrs. Robert Jensen, Santa Claus, was chairman for the affair, assisted by Mesdames Tom Chapman, Wes Latour, Iowaanth Rosette, Charles Collins and Marvin Waldhelm.

Four team up

PORT ST. LUCIE--In Best Ball of Four play last week by the Port St. Lucie Ladies Golf Association, Buttrys Eichbourne, Virginia Lueberth, Mary Jane Thompson and Bea Jahn teamed up to win with 60.

Two teams came in with 61. Irene Heitner, Dorina Tanner, Cindy Lutenbon and Jane Radcliffe made up one team. Angela LoBrutto, Nell Ortlepp, Gladys Van Hulle and Flora Kimmel the other.

Kay Scott, Alice Rozette, Lavonia Williams and Rose Schearer were tied with 62.

SEASON KICKOFF--Lions and their wives gathered together to kick off the holiday season with a Christmas Party last Wednesday. Pictured above, clockwise around the table, Jerry King, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Matula, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Matula, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Newswanger, Ms. June Andrews and Mrs. Rose Carvelli.

NEW OFFICERS--There was a striking resemblance between the new and the old officers elected Tuesday night by members of the Port St. Lucie Anglers Club. The only newcomer to the group was George Lindberg, a director. A banquet has been planned for January 21 at which new officers will be installed. Pictured above, right, are Bob Gordon, treasurer; Nelson Young, president; President Bob Brunton; Mrs. Gordon, secretary; and George Lindberg, director.

HOSTESS--A secretary of GDC's office manager Mel Broom finds her duties to be widely varied. Last Thursday was no exception when Ms. Naomi Radcliff was the hostess at the GDC sponsored Christmas party for the Presidents Council. Pictured above, left to right, Don White, Ms. Radcliff, Mel Broom and Bob Brunton.

Adult drawing class at school

JENSEN BEACH–Adults who have a serious interest in learning to draw the human head and body are invited to join a portraiture class at Jensen Elementary Evening School, Thursday evenings at 7 p.m.

The class members instructed by Mrs. Connie Wright, draw from a live model, learning how to proportion head and body. Bone and muscle structure are studied.

Some background is given on 15th, 16th, & 17th century artists, using slides and discussion for comparison of drawing and colors.

Instruction is also given in stretching a canvas, application of oil colors on a portrait, and other details needed to complete a portrait.

Mrs. Wright is a graduate of Morehead State University with a degree in Art. An accomplished artist in her own right, Mrs. Wright has instructed adults in portraiture for the Adult Education Department, Martin County Public Schools, for the past five years.

Registration fee for the course is $2. Students must furnish their own materials, and should come to the first session with sketching pad, a soft pencil and/or charcoal, a kneaded eraser, and a notebook.

To enroll, adults should visit the Jensen Elementary School, S. Savanna Road, Jensen at 6:45 Thursday evenings. Information may be had by calling 287-6400 weekdays between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Bazaar huge success

STUART–Mrs. Marti Bryant, fund raising chairman for the Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, reported that the Auxiliary Bazaar held December 14th was a "huge success" netting over $2500.

The funds will be used toward the 1974-75 pledge to Martin Memorial Hospital.
